

77 Years Of Victory Keynote Birthday Pageant

Camp-Wide Celebration Honors Corps' Founding

"For 177 years, whenever the call has sounded, young men of the United States Marine Corps have carried our flag valiantly and victoriously..." These words marked the keynote of the colorful pageant presented Monday night at Goettge Memorial Fieldhouse, climaxing a Camp-wide celebration of the Marine Corps' 177th birthday here this week. In messhalls throughout Camp Lejeune cakes were cut and Marine Corps history was read as a prelude to holiday meals consisting of Virginia baked ham and all the trimmings with civilian guests of Marines adding to the air of festivity.

At 7:30 p.m. Marines in dress blues and winter greens crowded the huge fieldhouse and witnessed an hour-long review of highlights in the dramatic and tradition-laden history of the Corps.

In the pageant, scenes were re-enacted from the Battle of Bonker Hill ("Don't shoot 'till you see the whites of their eyes"), the adoption of the American flag, and the Korean war.

Following the spectacle, the crowd dispersed to various dances to round out the festivities.

At Marston Pavilion, Shep Fields and his orchestra played to a celebrating crowd, while Bubbles Becker and his combo performed at the Staff NCO Club.

The Second Marine Division Band furnished music for a birthday dance at the Officers' mess at Paradise Point.

Marines Assault Of Onslow Beach TRAX II On MC's 177 Birthday

The 8th Marine Regiment with reinforcing units marked the 177th anniversary here last Monday by wading ashore at Onslow Beach in a landing that climaxed TRAX II.

After a six weeks training period on the Puerto Rican island of Vieques, nearly 8000 came ashore by landing craft from four assault transports of Amphibious Group Four. Two hundred fifty men of the Second Battalion, 8th Marines landed from seven helicopter waves to establish roadblocks inland. A similar group from the same battalion were helicopter-borne from the light aircraft carrier, USS Palau, on the second day of the operation. Air support was furnished by pilots of a Marine Air Group that had conducted its training during Phase One of the operation at Roosevelt Roads P. R.

On the beaches and inland the landing forces met resistance from "Aggressor" troops in battalion strength.

Mission of the group, under the command of Col. John H. Masters, was to dislodge and destroy an "enemy" aggressor force that had established a guided missile launching site in the Camp Lejeune area. Operation concepts assumed the "foe" was bombarding industrial areas of the United States from this site. The Onslow Beach landing was planned to eliminate the "enemy's" capacity to use this weapon to oppose a larger assault by U. S. 3rd Amphibious Corps Marines, theoretically planned for execution at Morehead City, N. C. on November 13.

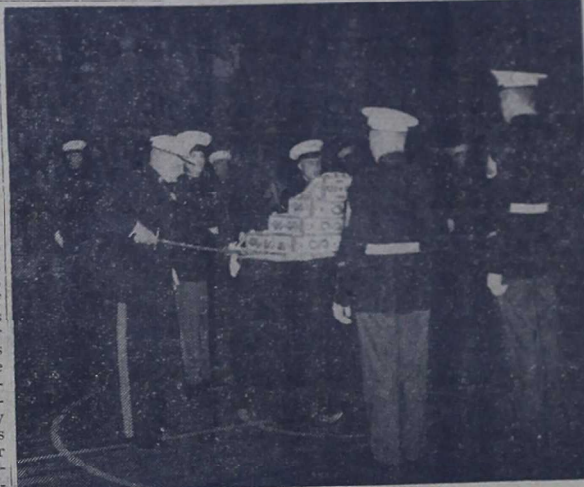

Landing in battalion column with the 3rd Battalion in the leading waves, the 2nd Division Leathernecks moved rapidly to the inland waterway. Advancing through the Third's lines, the 1st Battalion, 8th Marines, crossed the waterway to link with helicopter borne troops of the Eighth's 2nd Battalion.

High-ranking officers observing the exercise were Maj. Gen. R. McC. Pate, CG 2nd Division and Maj. Gen. H. D. Linscott, CG Marine Barracks.

New Theater Opens At Geiger Tonight

A new theater will open at Camp Geiger tonight in the Special Services building in the Second Area. There will be shows given alternately with the theater now in use.

It is hoped that the new movie house will take up some of the overflow crowds now packing Camp Geiger Theater.

Did Your Candidate Win The Election? If So Why? If Not Why Not?

PFC RICHARD PEDDLING, MVY. EQUIP. SCH. COURTHOUSE BAY

—Yep, he sure did, and by a landslide too. I don't know why the civilians voted for Ike but I'm sure that the servicemen voted for him because he knows what the scoop is. He's been over there. And I think he'll make a darn good president too!

SSGT. GEORGE BRUNK, HQ. CO., II & S BN., MB—Well, I didn't

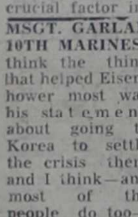

vote but if I had it would have been for Eisenhower. He was my choice. The main reason for his winning, in my opinion, is that the people definitely wanted a change, and another point to his favor is this Korean conflict going on now. Any war is bad for the party in power.

PVT. ALICE DELAY, WM CO., II & S BN., MB—No, my candidate didn't win the election, and I think his loss could be attributed to the fact that the people in the smaller cities and communities wanted a change of parties in power. The huge turnout was undoubtedly the crucial factor in Stevenson's loss.

MSGT. GARLAND M. WATKINS, 10TH MARINES—Yes, he won. I think the thing that helped Eisenhower most was his statement about going to Korea to settle the crisis there and I think—and most of the people do too—that he could stop further losses on our part in Korea and keep us from another world war.

PVT. BETTY ALLEN, WM CO., II & S BN., MB—Yes, my candidate

did win. I think Eisenhower triumphed mainly because the people wanted a change of administration, and because of that he was a big hero. Most of us are hoping he will make as good a president as he did a general—and that's going some.

Raleigh Area Offers Top Week-End

College sports, big-city atmosphere, museums, theaters and historical places make the Raleigh-Chapel Hill-Durham area of Piedmont North Carolina an outstanding liberty spot for weekending Lejeune Marines.

The best way to get there is to follow route 258 to Kinston, picking up 70 there and follow it all the way into Raleigh.

Major bus, rail and air lines converge on the area, which is about 160 miles from Camp Lejeune.

Varied Entertainment
Raleigh, the political capital of the state, affords varied forms of entertainment for the weekend visitor.

On the State College campus is the 12,000 capacity William Neal Reynolds Coliseum with all the floor space and equipment of Madison Square Garden.

Here, ice-shows, hockey games and big-time basketball predominate, with public skating featured almost year-round.

Sightseeing servicemen in Raleigh find a warm welcome at the information desk in the Capitol building.

There are three State museums within a block of the Capitol: History museum and the State Art Gallery in the Education Building and the Natural History museum in the Agriculture building.

Educational Center
In addition to being the political capital of North Carolina, Raleigh may well lay claim to the title of educational center, with three women's colleges, State College and two major Negro universities.

The downtown shopping district is one of the finest in the State and there are many movie theaters, skating rinks and bowling alleys.

Just 30 miles west of Raleigh is the oldest state university in the country, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

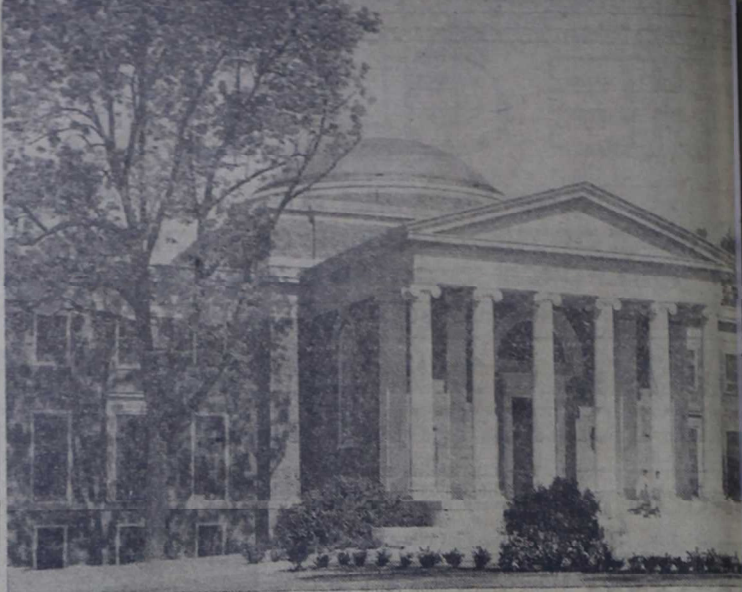

Unusually good restaurants, hotel accommodations and campus entertainments make this university town a fine spot for the weekend.

Twelve miles north of Chapel Hill, only 20 miles from Raleigh, lies Durham, home of Duke University and two of the largest cigarette factories in the country.

Durham is a city of about 80,000 population, having a comparably large shopping and entertainment district.

The huge tobacco factories in Durham welcome visitors and sponsor guided tours through the intricate maze of automatic machinery. On the average of 4,000 rubber-necks make the rounds in these plants every month.

Everywhere Marines go in this section, they will find a friendly "hello" and a "come back often" goodbye at the end of their stay.

"BY ROCKET TO MARS" is the current presentation of the Morehead Planetarium of the University of North Carolina, Chapel, N. C. Shows are presented nightly a times Saturday and Sunday (North Carolina News Bureau Photo).

MARINES ARE WELCOME at the information desk of the State Capitol building in Raleigh, and nearby are three outstanding State museums: History, Art and Natural History (North Carolina News Bureau Photo).

Danish Leader's Son, Dies In Korea Battle

Cpl. Niels Iver Qvistgaard, 27, only son of the chief of Danish defenses, Admiral Erhard J. C. Qvistgaard, was killed in action while serving with the 1st Marine Division in Korea Oct. 26.

Cpl. Qvistgaard received a waiver on citizenship from the Secretary of the Navy in December 1950 in order to enlist in the Marine Corps for three years. His family was living in Washington D. C. at the time.

Upon completion of his basic training at Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif., the Danish Marine was sent to Camp Lejeune and the 2nd Amphibious Reconnaissance Battalion. He was sent overseas last July.

Bronze Star Winner Seeks More Action

A Navy lieutenant, winner of the Bronze Star, Letter of Commendation and Air Medals in Korean action is back there voluntarily after extending his service for another year.

Lt. Donald D. Hillan of Wentworth, S. D., after serving 11 months as flight surgeon with the 1st Marine Air Wing, is back at the front, doing his old job of flying in helicopters to the front lines and administering to wounded awaiting evacuation.

Lt. Hillan returned to the United States in late summer with several months to serve, but, as he put it, "Things seemed rather dead in the States, so I extended until June, 1953, and volunteered to the battlefield. No one argued, and I'm back."

Marine Strongmen Use Tree Slingshot

A grenade slingshot, worthy of "Superman," has been added to the many weapons used by Marines in Korea.

Manned by eight men, a thick inner tube is stretched between the forks of a tree. A grenade is placed inside the band, aimed, and fired into the Communist lines.

The slingshot was formerly used to hurl C-rations into forward posts but was discontinued when one of the men was hit on the noggin. "We have enough trouble from enemy mortars," quoted a

A former aide to two Commandants of the Marine Corps, Lt. Col. Robert Harry Thomas, 35, has been killed in an accident in Korea. Colonel Thomas, who was serving as senior advisor to a Korean Marine regiment, was struck by the rear rotor of a helicopter.

Before going to Korea he was an aide to the Commandant of the Marine Corps from May 1948 until July 1952.

Gibson carts the offender off to the dog pound he maintains, and starts a dogged process of canine re-education.

After a plentiful meal of Marine Corps chow, and a night in the doghouse, the chances are pretty good that fido's owner will note his absence, call the MP's, hurry over to the pound, and gratefully hustle the erring animal back home again—on a leash.

Dogcatcher Gibson likes his job, and spends a great deal of time caring for his many bredred brood. When no one claims the animal, he tries to find suitable owners for his "boys and girls" as he calls them.

But supply and demand always seem to be out of kilter at the dog pound, he sadly relates, since "most folks want boy puppies, and I seem to be pullin' in more girls lately." Unable to explain this, he philosophically accepts the situation.

He gets a special pleasure out of placing one of his strays with Marine owners who have a real love for dogs and who will take good care of them. He invites anyone who might be in the market for a dog of dubious parentage to give him a call at the Main Gate MP shack. The telephone number is 2104.

At the end of the day, he goes to his Trailer Park home and his wife, Mary Elizabeth—and their pet cat—glad to be helping Lejeune's stray animals, and dog-tired after his day's work.

Organized Reserve Units Totalling 190

With the activation of six more ground units of the Marine Corps Organized Reserve, Reserve units now number 190.

The Reserve build-up program, which started a year ago, still continues at a rapid pace and more units are expected to be activated in months to come.

Units just activated are: Woman Marine Administration Platoon, Dallas, Texas; 8th Automatic Weapons Battery, Bakersfield, Calif.; 2d 155-mm Gun Battalion, Miami, Fla.; Woman Marine Administration Platoon, Minneapolis, Minn.; 1st Ordnance Field Maintenance Co., Columbus, Ohio; and 58th Special Infantry Co., Billings, Mont.

Hadnot Staff Club Gets New Manager

MSgt. Raymond F. Tracy, recently returned from Korea, was appointed manager of the Hadnot Point Staff Club Monday. He took the position formerly held by MSgt. Bruce K. McAllister.

Tracy went to Korea after finishing Post Exchange Bookkeeping and Accounting School at Washington, D. C. In Korea he acted as steward of the 1st Division Headquarters exchange.

A veteran of 11 1/2 years Marine service, Tracy has been a steward at the Quantico, Va., exchange, and during World War II served aboard the USS Montpelier.

Work Starts Soon On J'sonville USO

Present plans call for work on the new USO Club in Jacksonville to begin in about two weeks, but a completion date has not been determined.

The Popular Street USO Club, as it will be known, will provide a sizeable social hall, a reading and writing room, music room, check room, kitchen, rest rooms and office space.

According to director Harold Taylor, the increased space will make possible a full program of activities and services for all Negro military personnel in this area.

'Navy Times' Runs Feature On Camp

A three-page feature story on Camp Lejeune with full illustrations will appear in the November 22 issue of the "Navy Times."

Surgeon Wins 4th Legion Of Merit For Korea Service

A gold star in lieu of a fourth Legion of Merit was presented to Capt. Eugene R. Hering, MC, USN, commanding officer of the Field Medical Service School at Montford Point, Thursday by Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp command ing general. Captain Hering won the award for conduct in the performance of outstanding services to the government of the United States while serving with a Marine division in Korea from November 3, 1950, to January 25, 1951.

"Serving as division surgeon," the citation read, "Capt. Hering so skillfully organized and trained his medical units that no wounded were abandoned (in the Chosin Reservoir action) and many lives were saved by the prompt care rendered by medical personnel."

The citation authorized the Combat "V" to be worn with the medal.

Lejeune Radio Show Increases Air Time

The Camp Lejeune Marine's own radio program, "Hostess House Party," will be broadcast five mornings a week, commencing this week, according to Lester Gould, owner-manager of Station WJNC, Jacksonville, N. C.

Formerly a three-a-week show, the programming had been extended in response to the great interest in the Camp Lejeune feature. Time of broadcast is 9:45 to 7:30 a. m. Monday through Friday.

Reinforced Third Battalion Mocks Sardinian Evacuation

In their first action since they left the port of Algiers, the reinforced Third Battalion, 2nd Marine Regiment, successfully completed a mock evacuation of American nationals from the island of Sardinia recently.

Landing near Portofino, Sardinia, the Second Marines secured a 1,050-foot Mt. Lapanu with speed and precision, watched by Italian Navy and Army officers.

Unit problems were carried out the first of the day and night, after the mountain had been secured, and the evacuation took place during the afternoon.

Algiers Ceremony Before the Sardinian operation, the Second Marines, under the command of Lt. Col. John E. Decker, relieved the reinforced 3rd Battalion, 8th Marines commanded by Lt. Col. W. N. Wilks, in a shipboard ceremony in Algiers, Algeria.

While in Algiers, the Leathernecks took full advantage of four days liberty.

They trooped the narrow alleys and steep steps of the Casbah in large groups and were bewildered by the maze of shops, roofs and veils.

The Marines not only looked at scenery, but bought and bought. Some say that enough rugs were taken aboard to carpet every ship in the fleet from stern to stern.

Snapshot Fans The wanderers also took pictures by the roll, but found that Algerian women were not very cooperative subjects.

An edict prohibits these women from walking abroad with their faces uncovered, and to make doubly sure that they were not photographed, they turned their veiled heads whenever a camera was aimed in their direction.

All was not veiled women and narrow alleys, however, and the Leathernecks found wide, modern boulevards and large stores which contained all the merchandise to be found in similar stores stateside.

The next port-of-call for the reinforced Third Battalion will be Augusta Bay, Sicily. Here new supplies will be taken aboard after depletion since operations with NATO in Northern Europe.

Letter To A General

The following letter was received by Brigadier General Gregon A. Williams, commanding general, Force Troops, FMF Atlantic.

It is quoted below in its entirety, so that all personnel will have the opportunity of examining the authentic history of a Marine who made a serious mistake. He tells about it himself, and will have to pay for it the rest of his life.

"Brigadier General Williams
Force Troops Atlantic, F.M.F.
Camp Geiger, Camp Lejeune, N. C.
Dear Sir:

I'm _____, a Marine who was discharged from that base in 1945, which is my reason for writing to you.

I have tried everything in my power to make up for the mistakes I made, but it all goes back to six years ago when I was discharged from Camp Lejeune, N. C. on a Bad Conduct Discharge, which was given me on a Summary Court Martial. It has hurt me in many good ways and also my wife and family because I can't keep a good job on its account. I'm working on a farm now for twenty five dollars a week, and I have a wife and five children to support and I can't make it on my wages. I'm qualified for a better job and I have proved it but my discharge interferes.

I have written other people concerning this but they don't seem to care about the little man when he's down they try to walk on him harder. Believe me, I've really had it hard for the past six years and I believe I rate a break.

I went to the V.F.W. and they told me to get in touch with someone from where I was discharged and maybe I could find some of my Officers that could help me. I'm not asking for pity, I'm just asking you to see me and try and help me get on the right foot again. I would even re-enlist for a period of time to get myself straightened out.

If it is at all possible, I would appreciate it very much if you would see me sometime in the month of _____ I could be there on the _____ if that day is suitable with you and I sincerely believe you could help me if we could talk this matter out.

Sincerely,

Bandits, Dive Bombers, Native Police Sparked CL Marine's 25 Corps Years

Five colorful rows of campaign ribbons are mute evidence of the adventurous, quarter-century long career of Commissioned Warrant Officer Henry B. Reed.

The 16 ribbons worn by the "Gunner" represent highlights in a thrilling story—chasing bandits through steaming jungles of Central America, drifting alone on the icy, wind-swept North Atlantic, and organizing and training a native police force to enforce law and order over a vast Pacific expanse of three million square miles.

Gunner Reed was a member of the Coco River Patrol on the Honduras-Nicaragua border when the infamous bandit chief, Sandino, tried to run communist-supplied guns and ammunition into Nicaragua. This patrol, sometimes called "Edson's Forty Thieves", skirmished with the revolution-inspiring gun-runners in more than 50 separate engagements.

High Recognition
In recognition of Reed's ceaseless efforts to thwart the bandits' border activities, the Nicaraguan government awarded him one of their highest honors, the Medal of Merit.

During World War II, while on OSS duty in the North Atlantic, the Gunner was bombed for days by the screaming scourge of the skies, German Stukka dive-bombers. When his ship was torpedoed, he drifted for 12 hours, four of them alone, in icy Atlantic waters before being picked up by a Canadian Corvette.

Peleliu—Silver Star
At Peleliu, one of the bloodiest battles in Marine Corps history, Reed lost several forward observer teams, and in one instance was, himself, a lone survivor. Although wounded, he stayed at his post and continued to call down fire on Japanese positions. The Silver Star Medal was awarded him for this action.

Later, at the close of the war, he accompanied the Second Marine Division to Japan where he served as Provost Marshal in Nagasaki and Sasebo, and was assigned to duty as Chief of Criminal Investigation for all of Kyushu, Japan.

When the Second Division returned to the States in 1946 he was billeted as Assistant Division Inspector at Camp Lejeune. He also served as Post Legal Officer at Parris Island, S. C., for two and a half years.

Trains Native Police
Perhaps the greatest distinction and vote of confidence in his ability was afforded Mr. Reed in January, 1951, when, as a result of a by-name request from Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Chief of Naval Operations, he was ordered to the Pacific to reorganize and train a native police force for the Trust Territories of the Pacific.

No small task, the jurisdiction of this native police force encompassed an area of three million square miles of ocean, liberally sprinkled with islands.

Establishing District Headquarters on the island of Truk, former bastion of Jap naval might, Reed reconverted the semi-military police force into an efficient civil unit to enforce law and order as promulgated under Article 76 of the UN Charter.
Setting up a school and a six-week training schedule, he supervised teaching of modern U. S. practices of police work and detection. The most serious hurdle which he had to overcome was that of the language barrier and often it was necessary to translate lectures into as many as eight different languages for the student constables.

Subjects taught at the school included: prison discipline, study of finger-prints, psychology of the criminal, making arrests, investigation, judo, and English.

Upon graduation, the constables were returned to their home islands for duty under the jurisdiction of a native chief of police.

In addition to his duties of commanding and training the Insular Constabulary, the Gunner also functioned as District Attorney and Special Prosecutor for the Territorial General.

When Mr. Reed was relieved of his duties by a civilian in January, 1952, the constabulary boasted 175 native policemen.

CWO Reed — Marine
Currently serving as Legal Officer of the Second Battalion, Second Marines, here at Camp Lejeune, CWO Reed is an inspiring example of why "We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines."

Before an altar banked with autumn flowers, the wedding of Pfc. Marie Bradley, police and property sergeant, Bks 60, and Sgt. Francis Polonko, 2nd Combat Service Group, was solemnized Saturday afternoon.

Lt. Cmdr. Michael D. O'Brien officiated at the double ring ceremony held in the Catholic Chapel. The bride was given in marriage by her father, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bradley, of Altoona, Pa., being here for the wedding.

3 Pairs Make Full House In WM Company

Three pairs of sisters—one set twins—with four of the girls from the same town and same "boot" training platoon, should make some sort of "believe it or not" series. And they're all Pfc's.

Mary Lou and Margaret Gibson, the twins, work in Ordnance Supply, Supply Depot, Margaret and Virginia Gardner, standing by for Motor Transport School; Cecelia LaFreniere, main PX, and her sister Mary, standing by for Motor Transport School, all come from Peabody, Mass.

The girls were friends before entering the Marine Corps and it was by mutual agreement that they went to the recruiting office in Boston to sign up.

They think they are fortunate to have received orders to Camp Lejeune together, but do not expect the luck to continue. They realize personal feelings are secondary in any branch of service.

Supply Depot WM Marries Former SSgt. From Tenth Regiment

The wedding of Sgt. Helen Darlene Walsh and James L. Butler, a former Staff Sergeant with the 10th Marines, was solemnized in the Catholic Chapel Saturday morning. Lt. Cmdr. G. J. Reilly officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Walsh, of Springfield, Mo., the bride was given in marriage by Capt. W. H. Willmon, officer in charge of Freight Transportation, Supply Depot, where she works.

Dressed in white satin, with fitted embroidered bodice, and wearing a shoulder length veil, the bride carried a bouquet of white roses mounted on a matching prayer book.

Sgt. Jean E. Chambers, maid of honor, was dressed in a ballerina gown of dusty rose and grey net over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and chrysanthemums.

SSgt. Burton Brand, the best man, Captain Willmon, and the groom wore morning suits. Following the ceremony a reception was held in Richlands, N. C.

No Adult Escorts Needed For Kids At Sat. Matinees

Children will now be admitted without adult escort to the Saturday afternoon shows at which children's movies are shown, according to a recent modification of Camp General Order No. 349. Heretofore, all children under 12-years of age had to be accompanied by an adult who would be responsible for their conduct. The latter order will remain in effect for regular week-day and evening shows.

Said the other Marine: "There's always the ten percent that doesn't get the word."

Yellow Jackets Next Stop After Flyer Mass

B-W Gridders Meet Lejeune Here Saturday

Lejeune's last home game of the season takes place Saturday when the Marines tangle with the Baldwin-Wallace College Yellow Jackets, with the kickoff slated for 2 p. m.

The Yellow Jackets are known for their razzle-dazzle type of offense, based on a wide-open, air-minded type of attack.

Leading the air game is left-handed passer Frank Roppolo, the first lefty flinger Lejeune has come in contact with this year. Roppolo gained 1,080 yards through the air and tossed seven TD passes in 1951. Chief aerial targets are halfback Chet Grob and end Bill Lindsay, who grabbed 30 passes between them last year.

Rough Duo

downs and rushed 460 yards in 1951, while Riley gained 329 yards as a frosh. Regular fullback Jerry Fouts and lettermen Geroge Campbell and Dick Miller give B-W experience in the backfield. The Yellow Jackets will use both the T and short punt formations.

Lejeune, in seeking its eighth win of the season against one defeat, will field the same starting eleven that led off against Cherry Point. Charley Rapp and Frank Stapar will be at the end positions, Don Owens and John Maultsby at the tackles, and Carl Plantholt and Tom Reeves at the guard slots.

Elal Brinson will center the ball for Bill Weeks at the quarterback spot, with Frank Nastro, Jesse Kru-lock, and Phil Delpierre rounding out the backfield.

Baldwin-Wallace will be seeking to mar a perfect Marine record over college elevens this year. Lejeune has scored victories over Catawba, Xavier, and Dayton.

Charley Rapp, Lejeune's right end, played no high school football, and went to Duquesne on a basketball scholarship. But he wound up as Duquesne's starting fullback for three years.

AW, 10th Marines Take Grid Crowns

Cannoneers Defeat Weaponsmen Infantrymen To Cop Cop Win For Championship Title League Title

The 10th Marines, intramural football giants of 2nd Division competition, racked up their sixth victory in an undefeated, untied season over the 2d Marines 19-0, Friday to clinch the Division title.

No matter what the outcome of tomorrow's game with Headquarters Battalion, the Cannoneers will tie with Force Troops' intramural champion for the All-Camp crown.

It was the same standby act all over again as quarterback J. Rugieri fired to end M. K. Holmes for the first TD midway in the first period to put the Cannoneers ahead, 6-0.

Second Tally

Minutes later defensive tackle H. E. Waller dove on a 2d Marine fumble at the 15. Lightning Lou Dally flashed across the double stripe on the next play. The attempted conversion failed and the score stood, 12-0.

With the final week of Force Troops football now in progress, Automatic Weapons already has clinched the league title. The Weaponsmen took the big one Thursday when they displayed a second half burst of offensive power to swamp Amphibious Tractor Bn., 37-7, after having held a very slender 7-0 first-half lead at Camp Geiger field.

The loss was a disastrous one for the Tractormen as it shattered any chance of their tying for the title.

Amtrac early demonstrated that it was "up" for the game as it rolled to the Automatic Weapon's 20-yard stripe shortly after the opening of the first quarter. With Amtrac backs Iavagnilio and Sensoll doing some bullish running and receiving fine protection from the Tractor forward wall, it appeared Automatic Weapons would be in for a rough afternoon.

Different Story

But the A/W line held in the pinch and the command of the game switched hands. As the first period ended, the Weaponsmen were on the move and, shortly after the opening of the second 15 minutes, A/W's T-Man Orr completed an aerial to speedy halfback "Kayo" Class in the Amtrac end zone for the game's first score, the play covered 10 yards.

Reggie Lee, seeing regular action for the first time in three weeks, then kicked his first of five conversions.

A "sleeper" play paid off for A/W at the outset of the second half. On the first play after the kick-off, Automatic Weapons completely bluffed its opponent when, from midfield, Orr hit his "sleeping" end Johnson with a short pass and the husky blond receiver carried the ball to within the Amtrac ten-yard line.

Ft. Bragg Cancels CL Boxing Match

Camp Lejeune had its third scheduled inter-service match washed out when Fort Bragg canceled its appointment for November 21, and the club has been forced into another period of inactivity.

Now, with the boxing room at the Field House undergoing a face-lifting, the Lejeune sluggers are limiting their training to road work and shadow boxing on the gymnasium floor.

A new ring is being installed for the fighters. Smaller in size, it will afford more floor space for the boxers in their now cramped quarters.

A string of 12 straight victories will be put on the line December 5 when Fort Eustis invades Lejeune for a match starting at 7:30 p. m.

Hardwood Referee Clinic Starts Today

In an attempt to provide better officiating for the many intramural, high school, WM, and varsity basketball games this season, a referees' clinic starts this morning under the direction of TSG William Yost and Pfc. P. D. Gibbs, Camp Special Services.

The clinic, which Yost expects will draw 50 candidates, will run until Saturday morning. The morning class will be in the Goettge Memorial Field House and the afternoon session at the Camp Theater.

A final test will be given the candidates Saturday morning at the Camp Theater and successful students will be handed assignments during the season.

'Consequences' Happy Ending For Sergeant

MSgt. William C. Rogan, MCAS, El Toro, Calif., is still enjoying the "consequences" as a result of his appearing on Ralph Edwards' Truth or Consequences radio show recently.

The "culprits" in the act were the sponsors of the show, who flew his wife, Rosalie, and his one month old daughter, Mary Elizabeth, from Bangor, Me., to the show.

Sergeant Rogan was hand-picked from the audience by Edwards and quizzed about his family status.

The Plot Thickens

Rogan told Edwards that he was a recent father and had never seen his daughter. That set the stage for the next act.

He was then handed his daughter, who was being held by the woman seated next to him, and told to start practicing lullabies.

Sergeant Rogan went through the vocal exercises as prescribed.

Surprise

The climax came when Rogan was told to hand the baby back to the mother. The look of consternation on his face when he tried to hand the baby back to the woman seated next to him was nothing compared to the look of surprise he displayed when his wife walked in and gave him the scoop.

To further "punish" Sergeant Rogan the sponsors arranged for a week's stay at a Los Angeles hotel with all expenses paid and arranged for a leave from his organization.

Hour Show Given Here By Film Stars

Movie stars Chill Wills, Rod Cameron, and Alice Kelly arrived at the Camp Theater Tuesday night after a 12-hour automobile trip. Their flight into Wilmington canceled by bad weather, the actors made the trip by automobile in order to keep their date with the Marines.

Part of a "Movietime USA" program designed to let leading cinema stars meet their public, the threesome performed an hour for nearly 2000 Marines and made a radio broadcast for Hostess House Party.

Chill Wills, complete with cowboy hat, boots and western humor emceed the show, and staged a mock fist fight with 6-foot-five-inch Rod Cameron who he succeeded in knocking down-and-out with one punch during the sham fight.

Cowboy Hero

Rod Cameron, hard riding hero of a score of western dramas, told Marines that the Corps was nothing new to him. He said that he has held a Marine rank from private to colonel in Hollywood versions of the Leathernecks in such shows as "Gung Ho".

Lovely 19-year-old starlet, Alice Kelly, a distant relative of Winston Churchill, who recently starred in "Against All Flags" and "Francis Goes to West Point," gave a Hollywood version of a love scene with Pfc. Charles K. Gray, H&S Co., 1st Bn, 6th Marines.

Miss Kelly said after the scene, "Wow! Hollywood was never like that. These Marines sure understand aggressive tactics."

Gung-Ho Writer

Accompanying the actors was Robert Hardy Andrews, author of over 57 movies, including such greats as "Bataan." Andrews confessed to the Marines attending the show that as a result of his movie "Salute to the Marines," he was responsible for 30,000 enlistments.

Following the show, the actors were mobbed at the stage door of the Camp Theater by Marines, gave autographs and told jokes before leaving at about 11 p.m. for New Bern.

Forest Fire

All-Out Effort

All available Military Police were on traffic control duty, and cleared the jam of liberty-bound Marines by 7:30 p.m.

Smoke, especially heavy in Tarawa Terrace and vicinity, brought an early dusk to that area, forcing motorists to use parking lights in the afternoon.

The burned area, known as Hoffmann Forest, is owned by the North Carolina Pulp Co. According to Bill Flanner, district forest ranger, the destroyed timber was one of the best stands in North Carolina.

Flanner directed the fire fighters, with Lt. Col. F. H. Vogel, camp provost marshal, and CWO Orville S. Bowers, assistant camp fire marshal, in charge of Camp Lejeune personnel and equipment.

Pups Dumped Again

A listless and complacent Camp High School team lost its seventh game of the season here Friday when Wallace High humbled the Devilpups, 34-13.

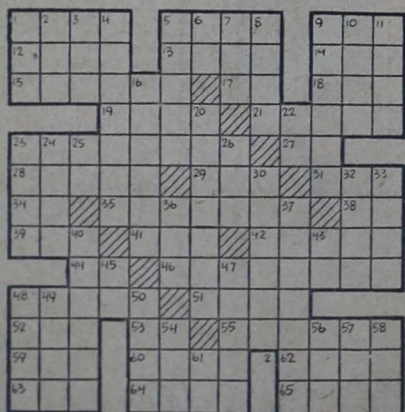

The Wallace Bulldogs cashed in on a Lejeune fumble to score their first TD and led, 20-0, at halftime. They ended their scoring with two tallies in the second half.

John Mugford, who played brilliantly in defeat for the Devilpups, passed to Bill Hemingway for the first Lejeune score and ran a punt back from the Wallace 40-yard line for the final tally.

Lejeune plays its final game of the season tomorrow night, meeting powerful Jacksonville High in Jacksonville.

This Week's Movie Review

(4 Bells: EXCELLENT; 3 Bells: VERY GOOD; 2 Bells: GOOD; 1 Bell: FAIR)

THE LUSTY MEN (2 Bells)
Susan Hayward, Robert Mitchum, and Arthur Kennedy star in this unusual Western, with no gun fights or Indians. Instead, it is the grim tale of a man's fight for money on the rodeo circuit.

BATTLE ZONE
John Hodiak, U. S. Marine cameraman, is sent to Korea, where he meets wartime buddy Stephen McNally and ex-girlfriend and Red Cross worker Linda Christian. Hodiak's abilities with a camera are instrumental in the success of a big drive, but never succeed in winning back Miss Christian.

PONY SOLDIER
Indians on the warpath. Canadian Indians cross the Montana border and wage war on U. S. whites and Indians alike. Canadian Mounted Police constable Tyrone Power is successful in persuading the Indians to go back to their reservation, but not before a series of desperate battles.

DALLAS (2 Bells)
"Dallas," starring Gary Cooper and Ruth Roman, is a he-man Western, beautifully photographed in Technicolor, with plenty of action, sparked by Cooper. The story line is neither the strongest nor the most original, but this is compensated for by the basic ingredients of shooting, fighting, hard riding, gallant gentlemen and ruthless villains—all in the best tradition of what a Western should be.

CROSSWINDS (2 Bells)
Modern-day pirates, buried bullion, and savage headhunters all add to quicken the pace of this south sea thriller. John Payne and Rhonda Fleming head a fine cast, in this tall Technicolor tale of love and adventure in the lush jungles of New Guinea.

PLYMOUTH ADVENTURE (4 Bells)
An interesting, and sometimes thrilling, story of the voyage of the Mayflower to Plymouth rock. The cast includes Spencer Tracy, Gene Tierney, Van Johnson, and Leo Genn.

MONTANA BELLE (2 Bells)
Two legendary figures of outlawry, Belle Starr, played by Jane Russell, and Bob Dalton, played by Scott Brady. Together they fight their way through this Technicolor production of robbery and romance in frontier Montana.

KING KONG
Starring Fay Wray and Bruce Cabot. Need we say more.

NO HOLDS BARRED
Starring Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall. No further information available.

THE STEEL TRAP
Suspenseful. That justifies the title. Starring John Payne, and Teresa Wright of a million dollar theft ending.

ISLAND OF DESIRE
A Marine corporal and a shipwrecked on a lush tropical island. The key-note of this story starring Linda Darnell, a beautiful young girl.

IT GROWS ON
Starring Irene Dunne. No further information available.

SKY FULL OF
A young fool and his partner in this comedy starring Sterling and Carlton Caves of a Las Vegas change of who helps Carpenter get into a rodeo, then proceeds to lose the money.

BLOODHOUNDS OF BROOKLYN
The Broadway world of Romyon, with its assortment of actors comes to vibrant life in this Technicolor production starring Mitz Gaynor and Charles Coburn.

THE FOURPOSTERS
A two-character drama, the close of the last act in a room. Rex Harrison, cast in a role, over the years many years later when he was rewarded.

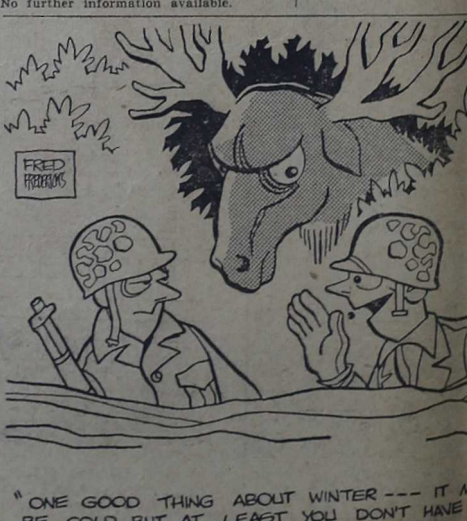

LADIES OF THE
Starring Marilyn Monroe and Charles Brooks. No further information available.

ALCATRAZ
Starring Humphrey Bogart and Charles Bronson. No further information available.

THE WILL ROGERS
Starring Will Rogers Jr. and Charles Bronson. No further information available.

THUNDER IN THE EAST
Romance and adventure, gun running, highlight the sent-day India. Starring John Payne and Charles Bronson.

ADAM'S RIB (4)
This is undoubtedly one of the cleverest and best acted comedies out of any studio in some minutes the camera focuses day to the fadeout involving and Katharine Hepburn, the sequence of laughs and fun times on slapstick and wit somewhat on the risque side with subtlety and sophistication.

"ONE GOOD THING ABOUT WINTER --- IT MAY BE COLD BUT AT LEAST YOU DON'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT SNAKES AND INSECTS."
