First Reservists Leave Camp Under Release Program

By BOB VAN ATTA

The homeward trek has begun.

Three reservists—one each from Marine Barracks, Force Troops, and Second Marine Division—initiated Camp Lejeune's reserve release program Monday. Others are following almost daily.

Between now and the end of this month, about 500 men from the division, Marine Barracks and Force Troops in the top priority will be returned to inactive status. Approximately 280 division men, 145 from Marine Barracks and 100 from Force Troops are eligible. Some are signing for extended tours of active duty.

The first three to leave were World War II veterans called to active duty in July, 1950, within days after the Korean outbreak precipitated reserve mobilization.

Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, commanding general, wished the "pioneers" well in their return to civilian life. All have definite plans for their return home.

M.Sgt. Robert F. Siebert, chief investigator for Second Division Military Police, is returning to his former job as a policeman with the Washington, D. C., Metropolitan Police.

A member of Washington's 5th Infantry Battalion, he was recalled July 24 with other members of that organized reserve unit. Siebert's previous tour of active duty was from January, 1940, until September, 1945, much of which was spent on sea duty aboard the USS Erie.

Tech. Sgt. Elmer Dotson, enlisted detail clerk at Force Troops Headquarters, Tent Camp, hoped his return would enable him to inject some life into the contracting business he owns in Lynn, Mass.

He has been away from it since his organized reserve unit, Lynn's 15th Engineer Company, was activated, July 21, 1950. Dotson served on active duty from July, 1938, until December, 1945, including sea duty aboard the USS Wasp and the Okinawa campaign with the Sixth Marine Division.

The first of the three to be called shouldn't have much trouble in shifting from his Marine Corps job to civilian chores. A cable splicer for Camp Communications, Staff Sgt. Albert L. Trachsel is going back to cable splicing for Cincinnati Bell Telephone.

He reported to Lejeune July 10 as a member of Cincinnati's 15th Signal Company.

Control dates for future reserve return to inactive duty will be announced periodically in the form of Almars from Headquarters, Marine Corps.

Mother Finds Son At Camp Lejeune; Parted 18 Years

Pfc William Hollocker, of the Second Division's Second Amphibious Truck Battalion, was reunited with his mother after 18 years of separation because another Marine with the same name was killed in combat.

The 21-year-old Lejeune Leatherneck flew to Seattle, Wash., Tuesday to meet the mother he thought was dead. He was taken from her in a 1933 divorce settlement in Washington, D. C.

The strange chain of circumstances started last week when a friend of Mrs. Anne DeLand's in Washington, D. C., noticed the Hollocker name in a Marine Corps list of casualties from Korea. The friend knew that Mrs. DeLand had been attempting to trace her son for more than 18 years and relayed the information.

Mrs. DeLand immediately wrote the Marine Corps Commandant in Washington. She learned that there had been two Hollockers in the Marines with the same first initials. One had been killed in Korea. The other was stationed at Camp Lejeune.

The joyful mother told reporters, "So I called North Carolina and it was him—my boy. He told me that now he had found his Mom he was really happy for the first time."

Second Division officers quickly arranged a 12 days' emergency leave for Private Hollocker to visit his mother. Mrs. DeLand knew of one way to prepare for a happy reunion—she fixed a chicken dinner with all the trimmings for her grown son.

Draft-UMST Bill Passed By House; Sent To Truman

WASHINGTON, June 9 — The use of Representatives this week passed and sent to the White House the draft-UMST bill that has been under consideration in Congress for several months. The measure now awaits the President's signature to make it law.

Under the legislation, the draft would be extended until July 1, 1955; all men between the ages of 18 and 26 must register; the minimum draft age would be dropped to 18½ years, and the required period of service for draftees between 21 and 24 months.

In addition, the proposed law reduces the physical standards for military service to those in effect January, 1945; reduces mental standards three points on the scoring system now in use; makes all draft-age aliens admitted to this country for permanent residence liable for service, and sets the Armed Forces' strength at not more than 5,000,000 until July 1, 1954.

The UMST provision of the bill provides that a National Security Training Commission be appointed to study a UMST program and make recommendations to Congress for the enactment of a specific UMST law.

No Bus Loading During Rush Hours

Effective Tuesday, commercial buses are not permitted to pick up passengers between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the pick up station across from building 1, according to Camp Memorandum 222-1951.

This order was effected to stop the dangerous traffic condition caused by buses stopping at this spot, the memo stated.

Passengers for Jacksonville are requested to board buses at the bus station.

Free Mailing Proposed

A Senate Post Office Subcommittee is considering extension of free mailing privileges to all members of the Armed Forces, Navy News reported.

Present postal regulations extend the privilege only to troops in the Korean combat zone.

The first reserves to be returned to inactive duty were wished well by the commanding general, Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Monday. The general is shown shaking hands with Tech. Sgt. Elmer Dotson as M.Sgt. Robert Siebert looks on in the top picture. Staff Sgt. Albert Trachsel tells the general his civilian plans in the lower picture.

Congressmen Hear Appeals For Adequate Housing Here

WASHINGTON, June 8 — Another appeal for attention to inadequate housing at and near Camp Lejeune was tendered here yesterday. This time, by Raymond Foley, Administrator of the Housing and Home Financing Agency.

Foley said that the Camp Lejeune area direly needs Congress to authorize an additional $1,500,000,000 for insurance of housing mortgages to encourage the construction of housing facilities.

The Senate has passed a bill for that purpose. The House has not acted on it.

In a letter to Senator Maybank (D-SC), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, Foley said:

"A study has just been made of the housing problem created by the expansion of the Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune. The substantial increase of military and civilian personnel at this base has created a need for 8,300 units of permanent housing.

It is possible through relaxation of credit controls to stimulate the construction of 800 additional permanent units. Under present legal authority, the need cannot be satisfied.

In the absence of authority to cope with this problem, 8,500 families, requiring shelter during the mobilization period, will be forced to continue to live in shacks and garages, commute long distances daily, or be separated from the family head while he is stationed at the camp."

Another effort to alleviate the critical housing condition was made by Rep. Carlyle (D-NC), who has asked the government to declare the area in and around Jacksonville and Wilmington a critical defense housing area because of Camp Lejeune's needs.

The inter-agency critical area committee is to consider his suggestion at a meeting later this week.

Kiwanis Club Grateful To Hospitable Marines

Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson this week received a letter of gratitude from the Kiwanis Club of Raleigh in appreciation of the entertainment provided the Kiwanis-sponsored orphans' visit to Camp Lejeune Saturday, June 2.

Kiwanis President George E. London wrote, in part, "In respect we have always held for the Marines' fighting ability is now only exceeded by the respect we have for their unusual hospitality."

Lejeune Amphibious Units Stage Re-enactment Of Historic Battle

Two details of men from Camp Lejeune amphibious units participated in a reconstruction of the historic battle between the Monitor and the Merrimack at Norfolk recently as part of the last annual convention of veterans of the Civil War.

The Federal vessel, Monitor, fought the Confederate ship Merrimack, also an ironclad, on March 9, 1862, at Hampton Roads, Va.

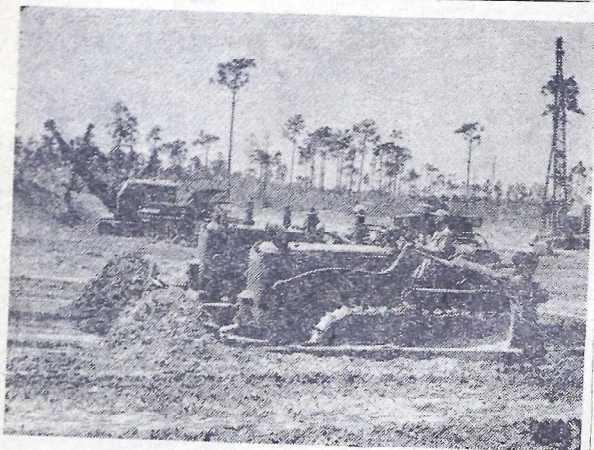

An LVTA from the Second Amphibious Tractor Battalion and an LVT from the Second Armored Amphibian Battalion, with false superstructures added to simulate the appearance of the old fighters, tossed blank charges at each other from muzzles-loading 75 pound cannon.

Sponsored by the Daughters of the Confederacy, the naval battle came as a climax of the celebration that was attended by three of the 12 surviving veterans.

Tech. Sgt. William W. Cherry, in charge of the LVTA-5, returned from the combat with a confederate flag which was presented to Lt. Col. J. T. O'Neal, CO of the Second Amphibious Tractor Battalion. As he handed over the flag, Sergeant Cherry received a promotion to technical sergeant which had been awaiting his return.

Engineers 'Strut Their Stuff' For Division, Force Troop Units

"Lift that 4000-pound hammer, Sergeant, and drive that telephone pole seven feet into the ground."

The sergeant, no larger than the average Marine, flicked his hand—and it was done.

This and other apparently impossible feats were commonplace as the 2d Engineer Battalion staged a heavy equipment demonstration last week. The sergeant's pile driver was only part of the show.

More than 250 officers and men from the Second Marine Division and Force units saw the demonstration at the Engineer Stockade on June 6.

After a short introduction by Lt. Col. James M. Joyner, Commanding Officer of the Engineer Battalion, the first section of the demonstration rolled into position.

Captain Daniel M. Thornton, Commanding Officer of the Engineer Equipment Platoon, explained and pointed out the highlights of each piece of equipment as it passed in review and then demonstrated.

The demonstration was divided into four sections, tractors—with bulldozer equipment; road machinery—which included motorized graders, tow graders, tandem rollers, and pressure distributors.

The Marines, highly skilled in heavy equipment operation, showed the use of truck and tractor-type cranes, with clam shell and drag line attachments as the crane and shovel section went on display.

Known as utility group equipment, the stationary equipment section, including air compressors with pneumatic tool attachments, concrete mixers, rock grinders, and earth augers, sawed logs, smashed concrete, pulverized granite to pebbles, in their part of the equipment show.

At the conclusion of the Engineer's equipment show, Captain Thornton pointed out that the mission of the Engineer Equipment Platoon was the close support to all units of the Division. It was estimated that 75 flat and 25 box cars would be needed to move the heavy equipment.

Here's one of the lovely dancers who appeared here with "Red, Hot and Beautiful." Looks good, huh?

Expression of Thanks

Mrs. Margaret P. Law, widow of Staff Sgt. James R. Law, Second Marine Division bandsman, has asked that her thanks be given to her friends and neighbors for their kindness, sympathy and help at the time of her husband's death. She also commented on the sincere help given her by the Red Cross and Navy Relief units at Camp Lejeune.

Fourth Straight Flag For Mess Hall 1209

Personnel of Mess Hall No. 1209 have now won the mess pennant for the fourth consecutive time. It was presented them last week by Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson.

This pennant is awarded monthly to the best of 26 mess halls, which has exemplified itself in quality of food, cleanliness, management, and efficiency.

Mess Sergeant T. E. Crenshaw credits cooperation and hard work as the reason the men of No. 1209 have won this award 13 times. The pennant has been flying in front of their mess hall for six out of the last eight months.

Marines May Apply For FBI Positions

Marines who are among those to be released from active duty in the near future might be eligible for a position with the Federal Bureau of Investigation under newly relaxed qualification requirements.

A degree in law or accounting is no longer required for the position of Special Agent. Men must now possess an accredited college degree, be 25 years of age, and in top physical condition in order to be eligible for screening. Local FBI offices can furnish interested men with complete details.

Division Lieutenants To Enter Basic School

Forty-three division first and second lieutenants, all reserve officers, will be members of the Seventh Basic School class when it convenes at Quantico June 23.

The course, which lasts five months, was made available to those who did not take it during World War II or the post-war period.

Board OKs Promotions For 3,800 Staff NCOs

WASHINGTON, June 9 — More than 3,800 staff non-commissioned officers, both regular and reserve, have been selected for promotion. Marine Corps Headquarters announced yesterday.

"This is a new record in the number of such promotions authorized at one time by a selection board," a Corps spokesman said. Representing all occupational fields, 2,216 staff sergeants and 1,633 technical sergeants, regular and reserve, will be advanced to the next higher rank.

Marine Commandant Visits Cherry Point

General Clifton B. Cates, Marine Commandant, visited Cherry Point yesterday to decorate three aviation units for their records in World War II.

Cherry Point, home base of the Second Marine Air Wing, honored the General with a 17-gun salute, a parade and review.

Approximately 3,000 station and Air Wing troops, plus the Wing Band, participated during the Commandant's visit.

The Motor Vehicles Operators School graduated its first Sailor last week in the person of Hospitalman Therman E. Welch, Jr., of Headquarters Company, 2d Engineer Battalion. This makes the third service school that Welch has completed since enlisting in the Navy in February 1948. He has previously attended the Hospital Corps School at San Diego, Calif., and the Field Medical Service School here.

The Corpsman arrived at this camp for duty a short time ago from the Chincoteague Naval Air Station in Virginia (Official USMC Photo).

Fire Losses Held To Minimum By Vigilance And Know-How

By BEN WILLIAMS

The second largest fire department in North Carolina has a fire loss record that is just one-sixteenth that of the national average—a record seldom approached by departments of any size in the United States.

With a national average loss of eight cents for each $10,000 valuation, Camp Lejeune's Marine and civilian fire fighters have held the local figure to one-half cent.

To do this, they have to maintain constant vigilance over 4,000 buildings valued at $100,000,000 and scattered over 111,155 acres of land. The contents of these structures are worth more hundreds of millions of dollars but are almost priceless in terms of America's defense efforts.

Toastmaster's Picnic Planned For Saturday

The Staff NCO Toastmasters' Club will hold a picnic at Hospital Point, near the Naval Hospital, at 7 p.m. Saturday night. Refreshments of all kinds and plenty of entertainment are scheduled.

Tickets, at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, may be obtained by calling M. Sgt. Erhardt at 5534.

Tent Camp Laundry Has Daily Service

Laundry service, alterations, cleaning and pressing services have been made available for personnel at Tent Camp at the Barber Shop, Building 420.

Service hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays and from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday.

New Air-Ground School

WASHINGTON, June 9 — The Air Force announced this week the one-year lease of the Highland Pines Inn, Southern Pines, N. C., to be used for training 125 Air Force, Army, Navy and Marine officers in doctrines of coordinated air and ground operations.

One problem with which a civilian fire department has to cope is the constant brush fires touched off by lightning with all types of ammunition. Added to this ever-present threat present the huge stock-piles of oil, flame-thrower fluid, shells, and other high explosives.

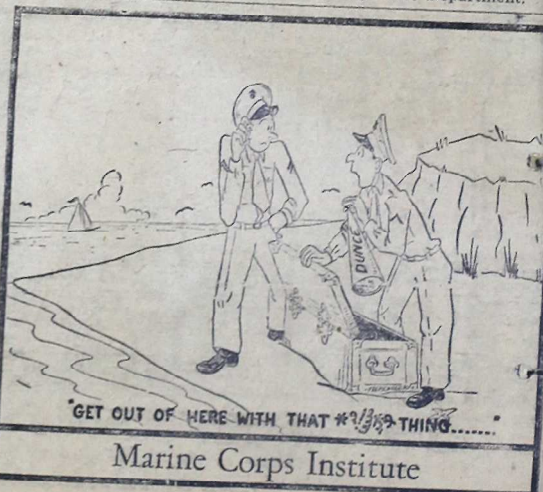

To protect the world's most complete amphibious training crew of 111 Marines and 600 sailors are divided among 13 pumpers, one ladder truck, one brush fire truck, one rescue truck, and a fleet of radio jeeps and trucks.

On a base the size of Camp Lejeune, prompt and accurate communication is vital to the fighters. The 10 stations are connected to Central Alarm quarters by telephone and the department's radio is also tied in with the Marine Police radio patrol jeeps.

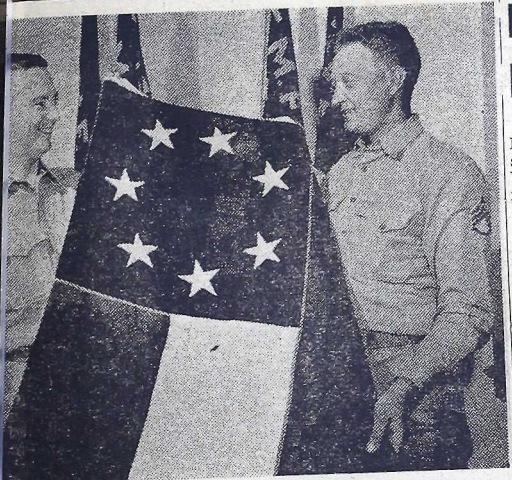

Even this set-up has left which might cause delay in fighting a fire and a new $49 Gamewell Box Alarm System now being installed to supplement the other methods of service alarms.

Fire Chief Frank J. Schlarp, formerly a member of the Pittsburgh, Pa., department, keeps a sharp eye on the training of all his men to insure their knowledge of latest methods in combating every type of blaze. Chief Schlarp, widely known among firemen, he has served as an instructor at the Pennsylvania State School for 10 years and acted the same capacity last month at the North Carolina Fire College at Charlotte.

Division Landing Teams Start Summer Training At Little Creek

LITTLE CREEK, Va., June 11—Amphibious summer training started today when the first of two on Landing Teams of the Marine Division arrived for weeks of amphibious basic training. Training will be conducted by instructors of the Troop Training Center commanded by Brig. Gen. Good, Jr., USMC. The first unit to undergo training is the 3rd Battalion, Second Regiment, which will receive one of ashore indoctrination before embarking in vessels for the first phase of the training.

Family Allotments May Be Increased

WASHINGTON, June 9—Legislation to raise the allotments of Armed Forces dependents introduced in the Senate this week, according to the Army-Navy-Force Journal. Senator Hubert Humphrey (D-Mn.), sponsor of the bill, told the use Armed Services Committee passage is necessary "in the interest of preserving and extending the morale of our soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines and for the sake of common sense and human dignity." The Humphrey Bill seeks to increase the following government allowances by pay grades: E-7 and E-8, $67.50 for one or two dependents, plus $30 for each additional dependent; E-5 and E-4, $67.50 for one dependent, $75 for two dependents, plus $30 for each additional dependent; pay grades E-3, E-2 and E-1 will receive $55 for one dependent, $95 for two, plus $30 for each additional dependent. The individual enlisted man's contribution to the allotment will remain the same as at present if the bill becomes law.

CWO Rupe, Bandsman, Retires On Thirty

SAN DIEGO, June 1—CWO Edward G. Rupe, bandmaster of the Second Division band at Camp Lejeune from 1946 to 1949, retired here yesterday to climax 30 years of service with the Marine Corps. Mr. Rupe enlisted in 1917. He had two periods of broken service, but since 1925 had been on continuous active duty. Serving his entire 30 years as a bandsman, Mr. Rupe played with every band in the Marine Corps, with the exception of the "president's own" in Washington. During those years he rose through every rank from private to first lieutenant. At his own request he retired to CWO in 1950. Future plans in civilian life call for a considerable amount of sight-seeing. As the bandmaster put it: "Like all Marines, I've been in many foreign ports, but never got around to seeing the United States."

Reserve Program Report Prepared

WASHINGTON, June 9—The Marine Corps Reserve Policy Board started its 1951 session this week at USMC Headquarters to consider recommendations concerning the Corps' reserve program. The Board will meet until tomorrow, after which its findings will be presented to the Secretary of the Navy for possible action. Three committees of the Board will study procurement, training, administration, classification, discharge, retirement, pay, promotions and various matters pertaining to Marine reserves. A majority of the Board members are reserve officers, as required by the Marine Corps Manual. The membership this year consists of the following reserves: Col. Horace W. Card, Lt. Col. Benjamin D. Knapp, Lt. Col. Roland F. Smith, Lt. Col. Remsen J. Cole, Lt. Col. Thomas R. Wert, Lt. Col. Henry D. Strunk, Maj. William P. McCall, Maj. George C. Weitz, Maj. Leslie C. Reed, and Capt. Mildred D. Cannon. Regular USMC Board members are: Brig. Gen. Harry B. Livermore, Director of Marine Corps Reserve and President of the group; Col. Robert O. Bowen, and Lt. Colonels Walter F. Cornnell and Roy J. Batterton.

Camp Doctors Plan Monthly Discussion

The monthly meeting of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology of the U. S. Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune, will be held June 18 in the Medical Library of the Main Hospital Building. The subject to be discussed is, "The cardiac patient and pregnancy." During the session, Capt. G. C. Kenney, MC, USN, acting Executive Officer and Chief of Medicine, will present viewpoints of internist, and CMDR W. F. Baker Jr., MC, USN, Chief of Dependents' Services will present the point of view of the obstetrician. Discussion will be led by CMDR Richard Lawrence, MC, USN, Force Troops Surgeon, and Dr. James B. Lounsbury of Wilmington. Following the professional meeting, the group will adjourn to the Naval Hospital Bachelor Officers' Quarters for refreshments. All military and civilian doctors are cordially invited to attend.

Diploma Awarded Sergeant Major

M.Sgt. Frank M. Soltys, serving as sergeant major of the Second Engineer Battalion, was commended last Thursday morning for successfully completing the Officers' Basic Extension Course at Quantico, Va., May 28. Lt. Col. James M. Joyner, Commanding Officer of the Second Engineers Battalion here, presented Soltys with a diploma during an informal ceremony. The extension course is prescribed by the Commandant of the Marine Corps. Sergeant Soltys has served continuously in the Marines since his enlistment April 16, 1934. During World War II, he served with the Eleventh Defense Battalion during the Guadalcanal and New Georgia campaigns, and with the Eighth 155 mm Gun Battalion on Pelelieu and Okinawa. He holds the Bronze Star medal.

Chinese 'No Like' Marine Toughness

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA (AFPS)—A captured North Korean captain paid tribute to the stamina and courage of the Marines. Only he didn't realize it at the time. Questioned by an interpreter, the captain said he did not like the men with "covered helmets and canvas leggings"—the Marines. "Why?" asked the interpreter. The haggard Korean officer shook his head sadly and said: "They no sleep, no eat. They just fight all the time. I no like."

Dr. Paul Gross, Duke University vice president and graduate school dean, smiles a reply to a query from Major General Ray A. Robinson at a luncheon in his honor here Friday. The distinguished educator headed a delegation of Duke scientists on an inspection tour of Camp Lejeune's Naval Field Medical Research Center.

Naval Research, Duke Scientists May Merge For Research Work

By TOM KAY

Long a mecca for students of the art of amphibious warfare, Camp Lejeune may soon become a headquarters for fighters of entirely different types of battles. Plans now are being advanced for establishment of a program of cooperative research between Lejeune's extensive Naval Field Medical Research Center and Duke University. Under the proposed arrangement, research experts and students from each investigation center will combine talents on mutual problems in such fields as medicine, engineering, weather and other allied fields. As an initial step in inauguration of the cooperative agreement, a group of Duke scientists headed by Dr. Paul Gross, university vice president and graduate school dean, were conducted on a tour of the Naval Field Medical Research Center facilities here last Friday. The educators appeared enthusiastic at the end of their inspection trip and optimistic of the advantages offered each scientific center by the planned merger.

Captain Calvin B. Galloway, USN, commanding officer of the Naval Field Medical Research Center and one of the originators of the plan, expressed hope that development of the pact would include an opportunity for Duke graduate students to do field work toward their degrees at the camp center. Likewise, Naval personnel attached to laboratories here could earn credit toward Duke degrees.

Major General Ray A. Robinson, who has endorsed the idea of a mutually beneficial research program, was host to the Duke contingent at luncheon in the Officers' Mess during their visit.

Wa' Hoppen?

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA—When the enemy attacked one night, Marine Pfc James W. Flett pulled a sleeper.

A yelling mob of Chinese Communists burst out of the 3 a.m. darkness toward a Marine position. Artillery roared, machine guns rattled, grenades flashed, automatic rifles chattered.

Snug in his foxhole, Private Flett slept.

For three hours the Reds blasted away, and the Marines blasted back. Within 100 yards of his foxhole, a fierce hand-to-hand struggle swayed.

Private Flett, whose home is Hollywood, Calif., slept serenely through it all. Next morning he awoke, gazed with astonishment upon a counted heap of 112 enemy bodies.

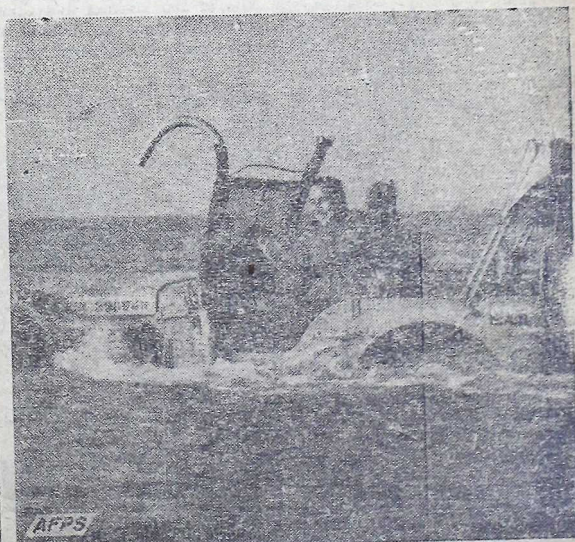

"It's embarrassing," he gulped, "to have to ask your buddies what happened."

Marine Credited With Saving Life Of Girl Swimmer

Marine Corporal Arthur Frangedakis, of C Company, Second Shore Party Battalion, was credited with saving the life of a woman swimmer at Atlantic Beach Sunday.

Heavy surf and a strong undertow combined to carry Mrs. Sue Woodruff away from the beach. Corporal Frangedakis swam to her rescue and administered artificial respiration after carrying her to the beach. He was assisted by Sgt. Victor Carpenter, also of the Shore Party unit.

Mrs. Woodruff was able to return to her home after resting at one of the beach hotels.

Utilities Extended For Housing Site

Erection of 500 apartment units in Jacksonville was made possible when the Town Board of Commissioners voted unanimously after a two and a half hour discussion to extend water and sewer facilities to the Cates and Cavanaugh tract lying between the New Bern and Camp Lejeune highways.

Off-site construction will get underway immediately, and the vast project will be fully underway within two weeks with first units scheduled for completion and ready for occupancy in three to six months, depending upon the speed with which the town can make water and sewer service available to the outside line of the development.

Eventually the project calls for the erection of 731 housing units and a nine-store shopping center in the area at a total cost of $6,000,000.

The project, in the discussion stage for several months, will be constructed by the New River

Home Talent Variety Show's Success May Lead to Regular Productions

BOB VAN ATTA

There's no place like home—for talent.

This was proved—to the pleasant surprise of many skeptics—when Camp Lejeune talent presented a double-barreled show June 6 at the Camp Theater. Navy Relief sponsored the extravaganza as a gesture of thanks for the overwhelming response to their fund drive.

An 11-act variety show and a performance of the three-act comedy, "Junior Miss," were treats for a sizeable, but somewhat short-of-capacity crowd.

Pfc Ed Brown and WM Cpl. Annette Cooper started the variety show on a fast pace with a seven-stunt roller skating act. Lt. (jg) G. M. Sharp rendered two clarinet solos, including the fast-moving "Wang-Wang Blues."

Pfc Jim Schneider and Pfc Charles Winborn, two exaggeratedly salty Gyrenes, generated laughter with a military maneuver comedy act. A sultry, torch-singing touch was furnished by WM Pfc Rita Jacques.

Cutlery scythed and knived the air during Pfc Al Estes' juggling act, but the performer kept things under control—except for a carefully-planned drop of his trousers.

Superlative was the change-of-pace that brought Staff Sgt. Ed Finaldi to the stage. A violin soloist, Ed rendered "Ave Maria" in beautiful form, then followed with comedy. A comedy song act was the contribution of the duality-minded Woolf twins, Pfc Larry and Pfc Lenny.

Pfc Charley Anderson's part was a fire-eating act by the former Cole Bros. Circus performer. The Fox Four, a vocal quartet, was in fine harmony despite the absence of one hospitalized member. Pfc Lindy Keeler, Cpl. Fred White, and Cpl. Rick Rulan carried on.

Cpl. Dick Hanchette's tap dancing preceded a rousing finale. Pfc Don Johnson's accordion and songs.

Musical backgrounds were provided by the Serenaders, from the Second Combat Service Group. Staff Sgt. Morton Siegel emceed the show, produced by Tech. Sgt. Ben Oman, Tech Sgt. Andy Peterson was stage manager.

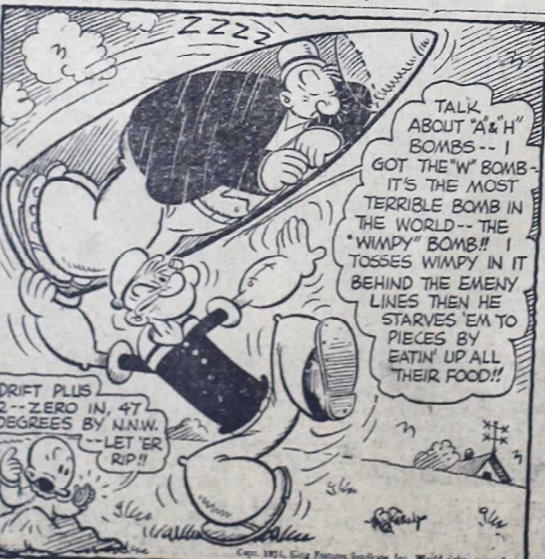

The success of the show, coupled with future prospects, has resulted in a request that performers interested in future shows contact the Public Information Radio Section, phone 3155.

The variety show was but one part of the full evening's fun. The Camp Lejeune Players, encored their "Junior Miss," previously presented twice at the camp school for Navy Relief.

Col. C. E. Shepard, Jr., the producer, director Joyce Morgan and the cast deserve real praise for their smash success.

Locals Drop Two Games To Pl, 9-5, 6-4; Down Mitchel Field, 6-2, Norfolk, 9-3

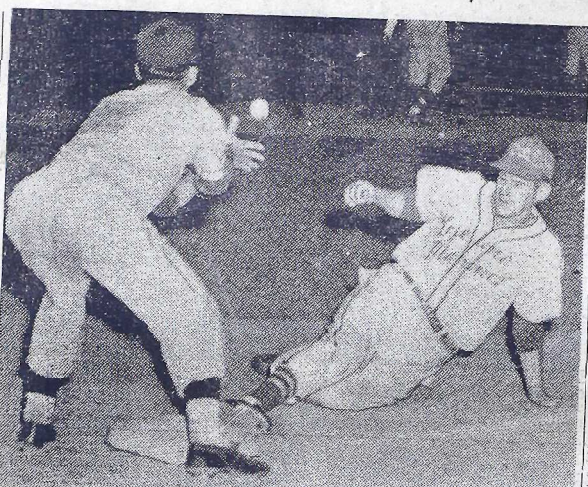

Pfc Lowe Is High In First Quarter Of Fish Tourne

By BILL BERGER
Camp Lejeune dropped both ends of a double-header to Parris Island here Thursday night, 9-5 and 6-4, before a capacity turnout.

In the first game left-hander Gene Christensen, P.I., set Lejeune down with six hits while his mates were collecting eight safeties and 13 walks off four Lejeune hurlers.

Lejeune's Bob Penner started the game, his first since pulling a shoulder muscle May 9th against Mitchel Air Force in New York, and was charged with the loss.

He gave up two runs on two hits and three free passes in the first inning and then appeared to settle down. In the fourth, he walked the first two men to face him but managed to retire the next three batters.

The roof fell in the fifth, however as three Lejeune pitchers tried to stem the tide. After getting the first P.I. batter on an easy grounder, Penner walked Elmer Roberts and Glen Varner, and was replaced by Zeke Murrell.

Murrell walked Spirko, the first man to face him; gave up a single to Casey; got Crouch on a foul fly; hit Stuchko, walked Christensen, gave up a single to Dixon, and then headed for the showers.

Al Dreizler relieved him and after walking Peters, got Roberts on a pop fly to Halsall to end the inning.

Dreizler held P.I. scoreless in the sixth, although lead-off man Varner tripped to centerfield.

Marty Saban pitched the last inning for Lejeune and gave up two runs on a single and two walks.

Lejeune broke the ice in the third inning when Halsall was safe on an error, went to third on an infield out and scored when first-baseman Harry Agganis sacrificed down the first base line.

They added two more in the fourth on a single by Don Server, walks to Brezen and Bortz and a single by Halsall.

Their final two runs came in the fifth on a double by Dempsey a single by Server, a passed ball, a walk to Brezen and a single by Bortz.

In the second game, Bob Nankerville and Dick Tomanek teamed up in a good pitcher's duel. Going into the seventh inning the score stood at 2-1 in favor of Lejeune.

Parris Island scored first in the fourth inning on a double by Varner and a single by George Dingler.

Lejeune got the run right back, the same inning on successive singles by Dempsey, Agganis and Brezen. They went ahead in the sixth on a single by Brezen, who was sacrificed to second by Bortz, and a single by Dick Leiber, pinch hitting for Payne.

P.I. took the lead in the seventh inning, collecting three runs on three hits and one error, and added two more runs in the eighth on three hits and two walks.

Lejeune rallied for two runs in the eighth on singles by Bortz and Andy Andersen and a walk to Sweeney, pinchhitting for Nankerville.

No Hit Game Pitched By Cannoneer Hurler

Red Raymond, Tenth Marines, pitched what is believed to be the first perfect game in the camp intramural baseball league June 6, to stop the Second Motor Transport Bn. 2-0.

Not one opposing player reached first base as the league-leading Cannoneers racked up their seventh straight win.

Camp Lejeune Marines took their second game of the season from Norfolk Naval Receiving Station Friday night, 9-3, behind the four-hit hurling of Marty Saban.

Saban breezed along in an easy manner to win his second game of the season, aided by an 11-hit Marine attack on three Navy pitchers.

Norfolk scored in the second inning on an error by third-baseman Jerry Brezen, a sacrifice and a base hit by third-baseman Carl Lawing.

They got two other runs in the seventh inning on an error by first-baseman Harry Agganis, and two base hits.

Lejeune scored three runs in the fourth inning on a triple by lead-off man Andy Andersen, another by Bo Dempsey, a double by Agganis and an error by Norfolk catcher Art Seig.

The Marines added three more in the fifth inning on a double by lead-off man Saban, a base on balls to Andersen, a double by Dempsey, and a long triple by Agganis.

In the sixth inning, shortstop Don Server led off with a double. Catcher Bob Bortz followed with a single, scoring Server, then Brezen and Andersen followed with successive singles to add two more runs.

Emil Spillman, 20-year-old rookie pitcher hurled the ninth inning for Lejeune and looked impressive in setting the side down on strikeouts.

WR Pitcher Fans 18 Pitching 8-3 Win

The Camp Lejeune WR softball team romped to an 8-3 victory over Sport Center Tuesday night at Wilmington's Robert Strange Park behind the three-hit pitching of their strike-out star, West.

While giving up three hits and three walks, West fanned 18 of the Sport Center girls. Losing pitcher Collins allowed the Lejeune girls 12 hits during the Woman's Softball League tilt.

Bids At Lejeune

Three calls for bids for construction and additional facilities at Camp Lejeune went out to contractors this week from the Public Works Office.

On June 22 bids will be opened for construction of six buildings and fuel facilities, loading ramps and grease racks, and for installing a public address system at the rifle range. On June 23 bids will be opened for installation of steam tables in 17 mess halls.

Camp Lejeune Marines made it four straight over the fliers from Mitchel Air Force, L. I., N. Y., this week, as they trimmed the airmen 6-2 Monday night and came back to trounce them 13-2 Tuesday.

The wins were Lejeune's 37th and 38th triumphs of the season, against nine losses, and their 22nd and 23rd against four defeats against service competition.

In Monday's game, left-hander Al Dreizler racked up his 6th win of the year against one loss as he set the fliers down with three hits.

In the sixth inning, however, Dreizler hurt his knee sliding back into first base and had to leave the game. Right-hander Josh Dorsey, with Quantico last year, pitched the last three innings for Dreizler and set Mitchel down without a hit.

Lejeune scored all of their runs in the sixth inning. The first three batters, Dempsey, Andersen and Gallagher walked and catcher Bob Bortz slammed a 402-foot, inside the park home run to plate four runs.

Brezen then walked, went to second on an error and scored on Server's single to center. Server stole second, went to third on an error and scored when Agganis singled to center.

In Tuesday's game, left-hander Bill Bower made his first start for Lejeune and immediately ran into trouble. He walked lead-off man Linardi, saw Minda safe on Halsall's error and gave up a single to Mulholland to score Linardi.

At this point, Emil Spillman came in for Lejeune to pitch to clean-up man Ed Fish.

Fish promptly smashed the first pitch to Server, who threw to Halsall doubling Minda off second and Halsall's throw to Agganis got Mulholland at first for the Marines' first triple play of the season.

Thereafter Spillman, although giving up seven hits, pitched a tight game and was never in trouble as he notched his first win of the year.

The Marines sewed up the game in the first inning with five big runs. Lead-off man Andy Andersen walked. Frank Seastrand slashed a single through short, Dempsey walked, Agganis was safe on a fielder's choice when Andersen was thrown out at the plate, Halsall singled, Server walked, Bortz was safe on an error and Brezen singled to score the fourth and fifth runs.

They didn't score again until the seventh inning, when they sent nine men to the plate.

Andersen led off with a single, Seastrand was safe on an error, Agganis singled, Halsall singled and Server and Brezen walked.

They added four more in the eighth with nine men again going to the plate. Agganis and Brezen singled between three bases on balls and two Mitchel errors, one with the bases loaded and two men out.

Junior League Baseball Plays Host to Marines

Marines will be admitted free to the Tabor City-American Legion Jr. baseball game next Wednesday evening, Wilmington Post No. 10 announced this week.

The game will begin at 7:45 p.m. at the Legion Stadium in Sunset Park, Wilmington.

Home games scheduled for the season follow: June 27—Whiteville; July 5—Fair Bluff; July 6—Laurinburg; July 12—Tabor City; July 16—Tabor City.

Two hundred and eighty dollars was awarded lucky anglers competing in Lejeune's Prize Fishing tournament as the first quarter of contest ended May 31. Prize included best catches for May for the entire quarter; May through May.

The quarterly summary showed Pfc R. L. Lowe, Second Motor Transport Bn., holding "best angler of the tournament" honors with a total of five prize-winning catches. Lowe has netted $125 in prize money, for prize winning bass perch in April, and bass, perch, pike in May. His bass winner in April and pike and perch cat in May took quarterly, as well as monthly prizes.

A 40 pound, eight ounce drum, caught by First Lt. G. O'Dare, MCSD, is the biggest taken in the tournament so far. The catch won April's prize for the species and took quarterly honors. Winners of $10 prizes for best catches during May, as announced by Maj. Robert M. Richards, chairman of the Fishing Sub-committee are as follows:

Bass—7 lb. 12 oz.—Pfc R. I. Lowe

Pike—4 lb. 3 oz.—Pfc R. I. Lowe

Perch—2 lb. 2 oz.—Pfc R. I. Lowe

For golfers who hate to walk, for serious players who need action and for everyone who like to hit the little white ball, the Camp Driving Range is open for business (Official USMC Photo).

Lazy Golfers Joyous; Driving Range Opens

Boys that like their golf game ... but not the long walk ... have made to order situation awaiting them at camp golf course. The new driving range, which opened last Thursday, offers a fine opportunity for lead-foots to smash their long drives without worrying about chasing the balls.

Located directly behind the officers' club house in the middle of course 1, the range affords swingers a chance to improve their game in the cool of the evening. Floodlights installed along the rim of the driving area provide illumination for night play.

The range house is open for business from 5 p.m. until 11 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Saturdays it opens at 8 a.m. until 11 p.m., and Sundays from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. The range house will not open Mondays.

Civilian Pro Ralph Tilley announced that clubs and bags of 40 golf balls are available on the range for a 25 cent fee. As with the two camp courses, the driving range is open to all service personnel and their guests.

BY BILL BERGER

Following their fifth road trip of the season, the Camp Lejeune Marines returned home for a month-long stand. The last trip included a pair of wins over Quantico and a 4-3 win over Boston College in a game played at Fenway Park, Boston.

The Lejeune season record now stands at 36 wins and nine losses. In service competition they have a record of 21 wins and four losses.

They have been able, however, to avenge all four of those defeats. Their record is now two and two against both Fort Myer and Parris Island, only service teams to beat them.

Otherwise, the Marines have more than lived up to claims that they are the most powerful team in the nation, having rolled up a total of 360 runs to 199 for their combined opponents.

That gives the Marines an 800 percentage and when one considers that the amazing Chicago White Sox are only playing .702 ball, the Lejeune record is even more impressive.

The powerful run-making ability can be directly traced to five men in the regular lineup who are hitting above .300 and two others who are crowding the magical mark.

They have slammed a total of 30 home runs, 35 triples and 61 doubles off opposing pitchers.

Big John Dempsey continues to pace the team at bat with 54 hits in 145 times at bat for a .372 average, while first-baseman Harry Agganis raps second with 54 hits in 148 times at bat for a .364 average.

Jack Ingalls is still the team's top pitcher with 10 wins and two defeats, while Bob Nankerville has an 8-3 record and Bob Penner, 6-1.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week, Lejeune played host to Mitchell Air Force Base, of New York, and on the 16th and 17th, the soldiers from Fort Lee come in for two games.

On June 18 and 19, MacDill Air Force moves in for a pair of games, and then on June 19th and 20th, the Quantico Marines move in for what may be the most crucial single series of the season for the Lejeunemen.

At the present time, Lejeune is leading the East-Coast Marine Corps league with four wins, two over Parris Island, and two over Quantico, as against two defeats to Parris Island.

Quantico, Parris Island and

Cherry Point have each lost three games in Marine Corps competition.

Therefore, to qualify for the East Coast championship, Lejeune must take two more games from Quantico and win all four from Cherry Point. If they cannot do this, and if the other three teams continue to win, the team with the best season record will be selected to play the West Coast Marine winner at a neutral East Coast field.

Otherwise, a play-off for the East Coast title might be necessary. However, Lejeune's chances against Cherry Point are considered excellent, by virtue of a much stronger team, so all Lejeune must do is take two more from Quantico, and they can be reasonably certain of East Coast honors.

Quantico and Parris Island have to play each other twice, and if they should split, Lejeune will have things pretty well sewed up.

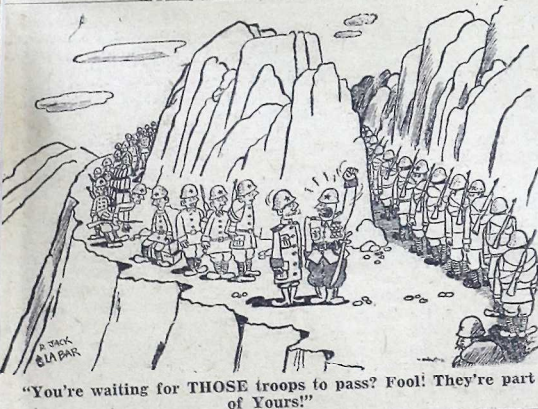

Quantico comes in to Camp Lejeune for their last two games on the defensive, since they have two losses to make up.

Following the all-Marine Corps playoffs between East and West coast champions, the winner will represent the Marine Corps at the National Semi-pro tournament to be held at Wichita, Kansas in August.

Lejeune coach Lt. Bill Shea and twenty-six men on his team expect to be that representative.
