Our Generals at New Duty Assignments

WASHINGTON, March 16 — Gen. William J. Whaling, assistant Commander of the Second Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, is to relieve Brig. Gen. Lewis "Chester" Puller as second in command of the First Division in Korea, it was announced yesterday. General Whaling will assume his command on or before May 20. Our Marine Corps generals are being returned from duty in Korea under the new rotation system to bring their combat knowledge back to the Marine Corps training centers and planning councils," it was stated. Brig. Gen. Gregon A. Liams, former chief of staff of the First Division in Korea, is to take command of the Fleet Marine Force at Camp Lejeune. Maj. Gen. Gerald C. Thomas, deputy director of the Marine Land Force Development Center at Camp Lejeune, has been named as new commander of the First Marine Division. Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Smith, First Division commander and acting commander of the Ninth Corps, which the First is a part of, will give a West Coast assignment upon his return. A post at Marine Corps Headquarters will be filled by Maj. Gen. Edward A. Craig, who led the First Marine Provisional Brigade to combat last August and later became commander of the First Division. A new Marine Corps regimental combat team, recently approved by the Department of Defense, will be formed under the leadership of Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Puller.

Lejeune Nine Shuts Out VMI, 16-0, As Ingalls, Agganis, Bullard Star

BY BILL BERGER
Camp Lejeune's baseball team opened its 1951 season here last night by defeating Virginia Military Institute, 16-0. Star performer undoubtedly was Lejeune's pitcher, Jack Ingalls, who twirled a masterful two-hit shut-out. Ingalls struck out 16 Cadets and retired the side on strikeouts in the fourth inning. Standout slugger was Lejeune first-baseman Harry Agganis, who collected two triples and a double in five official times at bat. He walked in the eighth inning. The two longest drives came off the bat of Lejeune shortstop George Bullard, who smashed two balls to deep left-center field. One drive, which carried nearly 400 feet, hit the top of the wall and bounced back into the playing field for a double. If the ball had been four inches higher, it would have cleared the fence for a homerun. Lejeune drew first blood in the second inning on a two-base hit by centerfielder Jack Dempsey, a single by third-baseman Jerry Brezen and another double by left-fielder

Rent Control May Prove Aid To Marine Families

An adequately staffed full-time rental control office, requested by Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General of Camp Lejeune, will be set up in Jacksonville next week announced Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods at Washington recently.

The announcement followed a personal call on Mr. Woods by Brig. Gen. John T. Selden, Deputy Camp Commander, bearing a letter from General Robinson, which contained an "earnest request" for the following:

1. To establish a full-time rent control office in Jacksonville.
2. To establish fair rental ceilings for specific dwellings.
3. To authorize the Jacksonville office to act in near-by areas "where practices similar to those in Jacksonville are currently prevalent."

Inactive Officers Urged to Broaden Military Abilities

WASHINGTON, March 17 — Officers of the Volunteer Reserve who have not been mobilized are encouraged by Marine Corps Headquarters to perform "associate duty" with units of other civilian components for the purpose of enhancing the individual's military qualifications in the event they are ordered to active duty. Armed Force announced this week.

Duty with Organized Naval Reserve units may not be performed, since such units specialize in enlisted rate training and offer little or no officer specialty training. Requests for this type of duty must be forwarded to the Commandant via of the C.O. of the unit with which the Reservist desires to associate.

The letter followed an investigation by two members of the housing expediter's office in and around Jacksonville, and presentation of their findings to the Commanding General.

General Robinson's letter, in part, read:

"It was brought to my attention that certain members of your office were conducting a survey of rents in the Raleigh—New Bern—Jacksonville—Wilmington areas of North Carolina. Further they retained

Son Enlists When Dad in Korea Says 'Sure, Come on in'

RALEIGH, N. C., March 15 — The Corps has a new recruit today, but it took the permission of a fighting Marine captain in Korea to swing the deal.

Robert L. Brazke was sworn in as a private last week after receiving permission to enlist from his father, Capt. H. A. Brazke, now serving with the First Marine Division in Korea.

Young Brazke attempted to enlist at the newly opened Marine Recruiting station at Wilmington last January, reported at that time in the Globe. Since he was only 17 years old, Tech. Sgt. William A. Mitchell, recruiter there, informed Brazke that he must obtain his father's consent before he could be accepted.

A veteran of more than 22 years' service, Captain Brazke answered his son's request with, "Sure come on in." The oath was administered to the new Marine by First Lt. Robert G. Parrish, assistant director of Marine recruiting for the state of North Carolina at headquarters in Raleigh.

'Bud' Fisher and Wife Buried in Arlington

FORT MYER, Va., March 17 — Double rites were held here yesterday, followed by interment in Arlington National Cemetery, for an old-time Marine and his wife, who died within a few hours of each other.

Frank "Bud" Fisher succumbed to a heart attack at the Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Tuesday afternoon. His wife, Frances, followed her husband in death on the following day. No cause of death was reported, but it is presumed that it was induced by shock.

The deceased, known as "Bud" Fisher throughout the Marine Corps, had served in headquarters in Washington since 1914. Upon completion of 30 years' service he was retired as a sergeant major. Subsequently, as a civil service employee, he had charge of the mail and files section, and later transferred to supply section.

The couple is survived by four children, Mrs. Leona L. Gilger, Mrs. Caroline Pearson, and Albert and Mabel Fisher.

Marines Complete Virginia Training

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., March 17 — Some 5,000 Second Division Marines stormed ashore at Camp Pendleton, near here, today to complete their amphibious training operations before moving on to Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The simulated assault was complete with barbed wire entanglements, mines, and pillbox emplacements. Pfc. William L. Sorralo, of Gainesville, Ga., was the only casualty of the operation with a fractured leg.

The landing operation lasted about three hours. Afterward, the Marine troops re-embarked for Morehead City, N. C., and Camp Lejeune.

Gen. MacArthur Visits Marines In Battle Lines

TOKYO, March 20 — Earlier dispatches from Korea, reporting that the Chinese had abandoned the big base of Chunchon, were followed by others indicating that Red troops still occupied the town. Subsequent reports stated that the Communists were throwing up defenses in a commanding mountain pass just south of there for what may be their last stand on the central front.

Frontline correspondents said a censorship blackout had been thrown abruptly over Allied operations, restricting the identification of units smaller than the 8th Army. As a result, activities of the Marine Division received little mention.

An Associated Press dispatch reported that U. S. Marines seized Hongchon last Thursday after American First Cavalry troops had outflanked the former Red bastion on the west. Only five civilians were reported on hand to greet the Americans. Last week the city, normally of 15,000 population, held 40,000 Red troops.

On Friday it was reported that the First Marine Division hit the line east of Hongchon. On the following day General MacArthur drove within 22 miles of the 38th

Reserve NCO's Called

WASHINGTON — Volunteer Reserve staff NCO's in 29 of the 35 occupational fields will be affected by active duty orders that went in to the mails in February, according to the March issue of The Reserve Marine.

Nearly all the 2,600 staff noncoms that were not ordered to active duty late last year are included in the recent order. The earlier call schedule listed military occupational specialties within occupational fields and all staff noncoms were not mobilized.

Choir, Band, Sunrise Service Highlight Holy Week Here

Climaxing the observance of Holy Week at Camp Lejeune will be a sunrise service in the natural amphitheater in back of Bldg. 2, Easter Sunday, at 6 a.m. A choir of 80 voices and the Second Marine Division Band, under CWO R. A. Slattery, will participate.

Tonight at 8:30, a special Maundy Thursday communion will be held in the Protestant Chapel. A three-hour devotional period centering upon the seven last words of Christ from the Cross is to be held tomorrow, Good Friday, from noon to 3 p.m.

The Catholic Chapel has scheduled a Holy Hour at 7 p.m. today and a Perpetual Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament all day and night. On Easter Sunday, mass will be held at 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30 a.m. A high mass is set for 10:30 a.m.

Korean Casualties Now Total 54,649

WASHINGTON, March 15 — The Defense Department reported a Korean War casualty total of 54,649 yesterday, an increase of 2,201 casualties since a week ago. This is the largest increase since mid-January.

Included are 8101 killed in action, 36,108 wounded in action and 10,440 missing — covering only casualties whose next of kin have been notified through last Friday.

Killed in action, 6700, Army; 75, Navy; 1185 Marine Corps, and 141 Air Force; wounded in action, 28,989 Army; 462, Navy; 6625 Marine Corps, and 32 Air Force; missing in action, 9861, Army; 69, Navy; 259, Marine Corps, and 251, Air Force.

parallel "for a quick, cheerful visit to the U. S. Marine front in Korea."

"It was just a routine trip to see my old friends, the Marines," the General told reporters. "I found them in splendid shape, as fine as they always are. Everything at the front is going well."

Sunday's frontline dispatch reported heavy fighting in the central sector around Hongchon. Richard Applegate, correspondent for the U.P., said one tank patrol which had forced its way across the Hongchon river ran into heavy Communist fire and had to withdraw.

On the same day William C.

Intelligence Officer Questions Prisoners He Once Helped Train

BETHESDA, Md. — Col. Bankson T. Holcomb III, of the First Marine Division, has been returned to the states as a result of injuries received in the Korean war, and is now in the Naval Hospital here.

During the withdrawal of the Marines from North Korea in December, Colonel Holcomb, as First Marine Division Intelligence Officer, interrogated a number of Chinese prisoners whom he knew personally and had helped train when they were members of the Nationalist Forces during World War II.

A veteran of many years in the Orient, Colonel Holcomb is the son of the late Mayor and Mrs. Bankson T. Holcomb of New Castle. He enlisted in the Marine Corps from Shanghai where his family was living in 1925 and subsequently won an appointment to the Naval Academy, being graduated in 1931. Most of his time has been spent in the Orient since.

Hospital Life Made Easier By Red Cross Activities

By DOLORES GENRE

With the increase in size of the U.S. Naval Hospital in recent months, the Red Cross building has become extremely busy. A walk down the corridor and a glimpse into rooms reveals some of the activities of the office.

Through one door a Red Cross worker may be seen sending telegrams concerning patients or their families. These messages usually concern patients' problems resulting from illness or loneliness from being so far away from their homes and families. The telegrams sometimes relay reassurances to a son's mother that his condition is improving or that he isn't as sick as she feared.

In another room one of the social workers conducts a serious interview with a patient and in still another, recreation workers may be planning for the entertainment of both ambulatory and bed patients. At the corridor's end patients gather to hear records, write letters, play cards and read. Next comes the game room where patients play billiards and ping pong or the piano.

Leading from the game room is the hobby shop where patients engage in creative activity, from ceramics to weaving. One patient recently found odd shaped pieces of drift wood from which he is making a pair of lamps. Gray Ladies and Recreation Workers are at hand to teach new crafts to interested persons.

Corps to Move Troops From Philadelphia Pier

PHILADELPHIA, March 19 — The fight by the city of Philadelphia to restrain the Marine Corps from using newly-constructed Pier 90 on the city's port waterfront has unearthed a new reason as to why the Leathernecks want the pier.

Brig. Gen. Leonard E. Rea, Depot Quartermaster of the Corps' Depot of Supplies here, said he was authorized to state the Corps had immediate need for the pier and intended to use all its facilities as needed as a shipping point and for "embarkation and debarkation of troops."

General Rea denied he said the Marines needed the 526,000 square-foot pier for storage space as he had been quoted by local papers. Philadelphia officials expect the $5,000,000 pier to substantially boost the city's ocean freight business.

The United States district judge in the case has been asked to countermand his order permitting the use by the Marines. The Marines say the government's power of eminent domain gives them right. The city says eminent domain does not invoke in this case.

The Red Cross facility is the scene of many parties and coffee hours where time may be whiled away during the convalescent period. Each Wednesday morning hundreds of persons are entertained during the coffee hour by the Divisionaires, a musical group of the Second Marine Division. Many attend in wheel chairs or on litters.

A phase of Red Cross work considered the most important is the attention and service given individuals confined to the hospital. A medically approved recreation and social work program is established to help the patient adjust to his hospitalization and aid his recovery. The recuperative powers of the individual are helped by a contented, unworried frame of mind, it is believed by medical authorities. Both social and recreation work are performed with this in mind.

Many of the social worker's hours are spent at bedside trying to alleviate worries about family and the anxieties a patient may have concerning himself. A recent incident involving one of the men at the hospital helps illustrate the assistance the Red Cross offers. A patient has just returned from surgery and was given a telegram from his wife stating that their child was sick. The Red Cross investigated and learned that the child's mother had become alarmed when the baby caught a bad cold and frantically sent the message. The patient's mental anxiety was relieved when he found out the true circumstances.

The Red Cross claims to have pioneered in the field of hospital recreation. Movies, parties and individual recreation are regularly scheduled at the Naval Hospital. Long hours in bed are made less tiresome to a patient by having someone to teach him how to make a wallet, play canasta or cribbage, build a model airplane or just chat.

Gray Ladies, who are Red Cross volunteers, are a familiar sight in the wards. They serve in any capacity where they are needed in both recreation and social service. No matter how small a service may seem, they appreciate what it means to a bedridden man to have these things done for him. One case is known where a Gray Lady gave a disinterested patient a ride on a sunshiny day and caused him to take a new interest in life. Through her thoughtfulness the man was helped to regain the mental and physical stability to withstand a surgical operation.

The Red Cross in the hospital has a unique function in that it serves as official host and coordinator for community groups that sponsor shows and events for the patients.

'Icelandia' Scheduled To Show Next Month

The Hollywood ice show "Icelandia," will be presented on April 13, 14 and 15, at the Goettge Memorial Field House for Camp Lejeune military personnel and their dependents. Admission for the event is $1 per person, taxes included.

Matinees will be staged on the last two days at 2:15 p.m., with the evening shows beginning at 8:15 p.m. Consisting of two parts, the program features skating stars that have appeared with such ice shows as the Sonja Henie Hollywood Revue, the Ice Follies and Ice Capades. A total of 22 acts will make up the 1951 edition of the ice revue.

The troupe carries a portable rink that will be set up, flooded with water and frozen above the Field House floor.

Former National Ladies' Runner-up figure skating champion, Shirley Lander, stars in the production, 'Icelandia,' to be shown at Camp Lejeune soon.

Colonel Preacher will represent MCROA for the Ninth Reserve District, replacing Lt. James A. Butterworth, who has been called to active duty. Major Hayes will represent the 13th District, succeeding Col. Joseph P. Adams, who now is a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

ported to a member of my command that conditions in Jacksonville were 'atrocious, illegal and beyond reason.' As a matter of fact, your representatives were so concerned over the situation that they communicated with your office and set forth in part their findings in that community.

"Members of the command occupy such housing as may be available within a radius of 75 miles, and a conservative estimate indicates that not less than 12,000 additional dwellings are required now for dependents of personnel presently attached.

"I set forth the above data to bring to your attention sharply the fact that demand far overwhelms the supply in this geographical area. Hence, landlords and property owners are not adverse to charging enormous rentals for dwellings that in some cases are little more than shacks with dirt floors."

The General went on to cite several cases of outlandish rents for modest dwellings in Jacksonville. Pointing out that no real effort has been made to locate others.

Korea

Barnard, an A.P. correspondent, on a neighboring sector of the west-central front, said the only Communist action was a single mortar shell fired against advancing troops.

On Monday the Allied offensive was grinding closer to Chunchon. To the east, in the Changong area, Communist aircraft made their biggest bombing run of the war. Some 15 bombs, four of them 500-pounders, were dropped on Allied positions.

Although the reports were generally optimistic, it was reported that the Chinese have large forces intact. Latest estimates of Red strength place four Chinese armies (corps) ranging from 120,000 to 160,000 on the front line, and four more of equal strength in immediate reserve.

Marine Pilots Complete Carrier Qualifications

CHERRY POINT, March 15 — Marine Fighter Squadrons—VMF-122 and VMF-224—have just completed daylight qualification maneuvers aboard the aircraft carrier, USS Coral Sea.

Operations off the East Coast of the United States these units of the Second Marine Air Wing conducted flights which offered pilots the first opportunity to land the F2H-2 McDonnell Banshee jet fighter on the flight deck of a carrier at sea.

Lt. Col. David E. Marshall's VMF-122 boarded the Coral Sea during the latter part of February and along with VMF-224, commanded by Lt. Col. Richard M. Baker, went through their paces on the choppy Atlantic ocean.

Men from VMF-122 flew to the Naval Auxiliary Air station, Cecil Field, Florida, after finishing their training aboard the carrier, for an additional two weeks of field carrier practice landings.

Personnel from VMF-224 returned to the home base, Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point.

Big Bill Dips Into Till, Marines Get $5 Thrill

PHILADELPHIA, March 20 — Who was it that said money makes money?

Two Marines, just returned from Korea, stopped in at Big Bill's, a top-flight local night club-restaurant. When they were handed their check, as a gag they offered some U. S. printed Korean money to pay the bill.

Big Bill, who has the reputation of being able to go along with a gag, nonchalantly dropped the souvenirs in the till. He rang up the register, and with a polite "Thank you, call again," gave the Marines their change—each a five-buck bill in regular United States spending money.

Marines To Take Part In Wilmington Festival

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 17 — Ten military units, including bands and Marines from Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point, have accepted invitations to participate in the fourth annual Wilmington Azalea Festival which will begin Saturday, March 31.

The event is dedicated to U.S. servicemen this year and will be highlighted by 350 marching Marines and the Second Marine Division Band of Camp Lejeune, and the U. S. Marine Corps Band from the Cherry Point Air Station. A marching unit and band from Fort Bragg will also be present.

Other features of the celebration are floats, the appearance of state and national celebrities and the Azalea queen from Hollywood, attended by her court of college queens.

Stated to start at 11 a.m., the procession will begin at Front and Castle Streets, according to Lt. Col. W. S. Rehder, parade marshal. The parade will move down Front Street to Red Cross Street before turning east to Third. From Third Street it pass in front of the reviewing stands at the city hall and proceed to Market Street where it will disband.

In addition to the Marines the following military groups are scheduled to take part in the Festival parade: The North Carolina National Guard, local unit, with arm vehicles displaying mounted guns and radar equipment; the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps band; the Shrine Drum and Bugle Corps band; the Elizabeth City high school band and 12 floats. On Saturday morning the Air Force band from Walter Robbins Field, Georgia, will arrive by plane to join the grand march.

Local, state and national dignitaries will take part in the procession in automobiles. Other groups will join the parade if transportation can be arranged, the parade marshal announced. They are the North Carolina National Guard band of Raleigh, and a drill unit from the Citadel at Charleston. The Raleigh band has won the Eisenhower trophy for three consecutive years as the best National Guard band in southeast United States.

Graduation Discloses Girl Marine is Niece Of Corps' Top Lady

PARRIS ISLAND, March 14. — The niece of the Director of Women Marines completed her "boot" training here last week and much to the amazement of her classmates and many of her superiors, her aunt announced their kinship.

At the end of her graduation address, Col. Katherine A. Towle, the top-ranking woman in the Marine Corps, commented that she had a personal interest in the graduating class.

"My niece is graduating with you today," the Colonel added. "It was Pvt. Clare Bullitt's wish, and mine, that our relationship remain unknown until the last possible moment."

Only top officers in the Women's Recruit Training Battalion here knew who the young Lady Leatherneck was. Even her platoon leader or drill instructor, Pfc. V. K. Eaton, gasped when she heard the news.

1000-Foot Channel in French Creek Dredged by Engineers in 72 Hours

A 1000-foot channel in French Creek to expedite amphibious maneuvers, was cut in a 72-hour dredging operation, and completed day afternoon.

The channel has a width of 90 feet and a depth of eleven feet. The work was done by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Last Friday at 4 p.m., the powerful 220-hp dredging Diesel engine started its last cubic foot of sand, ending the operation which got underway three days earlier.

First Lt. George W. Snider, Shore Party Battalion, Engineering Officer, supervised the operation, assisted by M.Sgt. Henry J. Enning, Battalion Engineer Chief. "The width of the channel," Sergeant Kenning explained, "will narrow to about 75 feet by the time the walls become hard packed." The sand which was removed was deposited approximately 150 feet to the right of the channel, he added.

During past amphibious maneuvers, troops had to be taken by barge to a point 350 yards from the French Creek shoreline in order to overcome the sand blocking the channel entrance. From there they were loaded onto LSU's and taken to Hickory Point to complete the shore-to-shore operation.

Plans for the construction of pyramidal tents to house 500 men in the area bordering the creek have been prepared and are pending approval. Lieutenant Snider said he hoped to get started on the project early next month.

This job the Engineers did at Lejeune brings to mind a bit of verse lauding the Corps, which was originally published in a Chicago newspaper some twenty-five years ago.

THE U. S. ENGINEERS

The rest may weave their laurel wreaths

From dawn 'till the setting sun;

But without peers are the Engineers,

They are heroes, every one. They seek the strength of a hostile camp,

They mine and they sap and they dig.

There is never a job too small for them;

Nor ever a task too big.

They are rushed to strengthen a shattered line,

They are sent on a midnight raid,

Then their smoking guns are laid aside

For a pick-axe or a spade. Like slaves they toil on a shell-torn road

Where the high-explosives crash;

Or they blaze their way to the foeman's trench

In the white-hot shrapnel splash.

They spanned the tarnished Meuse one day

In the face of a leaden rain

That mowed them down like the reaper's scythe

Mows down the ripened grain.

Their captain stood, as a graven god

And ever anon would roar:

"We're going to get that bridge across

If it takes the whole damn Corps!"

They bury their dead, then go their way

With never an empty boast.

Come! Fill your glass with blood-red wine

And pledge a long-due toast.

A toast to the man of the fighting clan

Who scorns all thought of fear.

A toast to the best that has stood the test.

The U. S. Engineer!—F.H.R.

Marines Plan Formation Of Combat Team

WASHINGTON, March 17 — The Washington Post reported yesterday that formation of a new Marine Corps brigade has been approved by the Department of Defense to bring the Leathernecks to a strength of approximately two and one-half divisions.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller, colorful assistant commander of the First Marine Division in Korea and four-time winner of the Navy Cross, will command the new unit, the Post said.

Puller's assignment and the expansion became known as a reshuffling of Marine generals was announced.

Earlier this week, the Chevron, publication of the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, reported the Corps plans to organize immediately a 5000-man regimental combat team at Camp Pendleton. It is assumed this team and the brigade okayed in Washington are the same unit.

The Chevron said Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Marine commandant, told Washington reporters the combat team may be used as the nucleus for a third Marine division if Congress authorizes Corps expansion. Otherwise, the team will be a complete combat unit and will be available for assignment abroad.

Philly Marines Win Promotion, Awards

A promotion and two award presentations for three Philadelphia Marines attached to the 2d Amphibious Truck Bn., were made during an informal ceremony at Tent Camp March 13.

Capt. Louis F. Verna was presented his commission from Maj. Walter R. O'Quinn, Commanding Officer of the 2d Amphibious Truck Bn. Captain Verna is maintenance officer for this outfit.

Major O'Quinn had his hands full for the next few minutes when he presented two other Philadelphia Marines with awards. Sgt. Louis F. Olsen, a platoon sergeant, was presented with a Letter of Commendation bearing the signature of Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson Commanding General of Camp Lejeune, for being among the top eleven men of 79 who took a recent NCO Leaders course here.

Captain Verna and Sergeant Olsen attended the same Philadelphia high school.

The final presentation made by Major O'Quinn was a certificate of proficiency to Sgt. Joseph J. Bogus, a mechanic who earned top honors by finishing first in a class of 26 mixed Army, Air Force and Marine personnel attending the Ordnance Automotive School at Atlanta, Ga., recently.

Hospital Hi-Lites

Hospital Hi-Lites, which is usually broadcast at 9 p.m., will be presented at 8 p.m., March 28, from the hospital auditorium.

Tribute Paid To Flyer Who Died In Plane Crash

RALEIGH, N. C., March 16 — Both houses of the North Carolina General Assembly adjourned yesterday in memory of the Cherry Point Marine fighter pilot who crashed to his death Wednesday as the legislators watched.

A resolution expressing regret over the fatal accident passed both houses quickly, and members of the lower chamber made plans to send a floral design for the funeral of the Marine lieutenant.

The pilot, Second Lt. Lawrence J. Mason of Tacoma, Wash., died instantly when his Banshee jet fighter disintegrated and crashed in flames during an air demonstration staged for the General Assembly and other state officials. His plane was traveling around 600 miles an hour when the left wing broke loose and the craft went into a fatal spin.

Rep. Lamar Gudger of Buncombe offered the resolution. It stated that Lieutenant Mason "died in the line of duty and in his death demonstrated the highest and best traditions of the United States Marine Corps."

EASTER: PEACE FORMULA

It is only fitting that at this time we turn our thoughts to the Christian Easter. In the old days of pagan Rome, the Feast of Easter was a special season dedicated to the observance of the coming of spring, the reawakening of nature from the long wintry slumber, the stepping forward of a sluggish nature into a new and brisk stride toward a fresh life. The poets vied with each other to paint in their own style of a word-genius the sweeping beauty of spring. New songs and hymns were composed. In later centuries all this was thumb-nailed-sketched in Shakespeare's words: "In spring a young man's fancy turns to love."

In the present days, after Easter received its religious significance from the Risen Lord, one must look forward to reawakening of the spirit of the world to a new life, a life as set forth by that Risen Lord.

Today, when so much is at stake, when the very peace treaties seem to be tottering over, when there is still much talk about wars, hatred, greed, world disgrunting, world dominations, when most of the world is living with their fingers crossed, hoping everything goes well, one must stop to think for awhile, and ask himself: "Well, what about the peace promised by the Risen Lord?"

That peace will come, but only through our own doing. Just like the pilot who follows the charts prepared for him by the navigator, arrives safely to his station, so too will the world receive peace if it follows the chart prepared by the Risen Lord... the chart of love, of sacrifice, of faith.

—Chaplain Charles A. Czesznsny

The contest is over on April 7, and the winner will be announced a week later, on the 14th.

By the way, in the regularly scheduled bowling matches with Wilmington, the "A" team won by 200 pins. . . . right on the button! The "B" team lost by 14 pins and the gals lost by 8. Tech. Sgt. Stewart was high man with 521 in the series and Tech. Sgt. Virginia Moore came through with 419.

Marine Music-Makers Kinston-Bound Again

An orchestra from Camp Lejeune will play at Kinston Saturday night for the regular Chamber of Commerce-sponsored dance for Marines, at that organization's invitation. Special Services announced today.

Having played for this affair February 17, the orchestra was asked to appear again this week, in a letter to the Camp Special Services Officer which stated:

"On February 17, we were privileged to have a ten-piece orchestra provide music for our Saturday night party, and our hostesses were especially delighted with this added feature as were the servicemen in attendance."

"If convenient and feasible, we would like very much to have this orchestra back with us on Saturday night, March 24, to furnish music for our dance."

The letter also invited members of the orchestra to be the dinner guests of the Chamber of Commerce, and to spend the night in Kinston as special guests in private homes.

All Marines are invited to attend the dance at the Jaycee Youth Welfare Building on Nelson Street from 8:30 to 11:30.

Modeling an Easter suit and contrasting "shortie" coat at the Officers' Wives' style show is Mrs. P. A. McDonald. # Officers' Wives' Club Style Show Features Easter Fashion Parade

Officers' Wives' Club members and their guests were treated to a preview of Spring and Summer styles last Wednesday at the "Easter Fashion Parade" held in the Dining Room of the Commissioned Officers' Mess.

The style show, sponsored by Division Headquarters, 2d Medical Battalion, VMO and MGCIS was made possible through the cooperation of two Wilmington shops, a Dress Salon and a Bootery, as well as a local Jacksonville children's shop. The Fashion Parade, based on a day in the life of a Lejeune wife, included costumes to cover commissary trips, active sports life, afternoon bridge and club meetings, along with cocktail parties and formal evening affairs.

The styles reflected the latest trends in fashion design, with particular emphasis on the wide use of lace as a trim as well as a complete costume; the revival of tunics and peplums; new skirt silhouettes, and the high fashion use of "separates," which are rapidly becoming the most popular items in milady's wardrobe.

Numerous active sports costumes were shown, ranging from Designer Award golf dresses to sleek bathing suits and denim peddlepushers. Not to mention a Square Dance outfit complete with pantaloons! The accessories were exceptionally "fashion-wise"—beautiful handbags, stunning costume jewelry and flippant ruffled parasols, along with well-matched shoe styles. The footwear display in the Rumpus Room was particularly attractive and included good-looking play and casual styles as well as the more formal models.

With no intention of detracting from the charming adult models, the children, modeling their own smart little fashions, almost stole the show. The styles selected for showing were all outstanding. They included picture dresses and lovely coats for the "little ladies" with features such as lace collars, add-a-year hems, matching hats and bags and sun-styles just like Mother's. The "young men" were so many in good-looking suits, some complete with man-tailored shirts and bow ties, and all types of play toggery.

With the aid of Mrs. H. D. Hansen, they approached the stage and modeled their outfits like veteran mannequins and most of them showed remarkable restraint in not rushing to claim the Easter Eggs hidden for them at the edges of the stage.

The stage, centered in the Dining Room, was fashioned after a colorful Easter basket, with a flower-covered trellis as the handle and greens and Easter flowers surrounding the edges. Large colored Easter eggs of cardboard were scattered around and lined the steps leading to the stage. The programs were made in attractively colored Easter bunny shapes and as each guest entered, she received a vial of well-known perfume for her Easter wear. Two door prizes were presented to lucky winners, one a Navy calf handbag, and the other a parasol. Exceptionally striking was the finale of the show—an Easter Parade of eight models showing specially selected suits and topcoats for the big day.

A short intermission after the show allowed spectators to view more closely, in the River Room, and the Rumpus Room, the dresses and shoes which had been modeled, as well as many additional styles on display. The tea in the Dining Room then followed, and the tea tables were a perfect tribute to Spring and Easter—lavender swags held with nosegays on pink table clothes, and lavender candles and mixed spring flowers as centerpieces.

Mrs. P. M. Carbiener, chairman of the sponsoring group, opened the festivities with a welcome to the guests. She introduced Mrs. R. A. Robinson, President of the Officers' Wives' Club, who presented the Commentator of the show, Mrs. Marion Lavoy. Mrs. Lavoy did an excellent job of describing the various costumes and accessories. These three ladies and Mrs. H. D. Hansen were presented with lovely corsages donated by a local Jacksonville florist.

With the cooperation of the participating stores, the florist, and local Camp activities, the "Easter Fashion Parade" was a tremendous success and was received with appreciation and pleasure by all present. Much tribute must be paid to those Club members who planned and staged the entire affair. Everyone came away with numerous ideas for their own Spring and Summer wardrobes.

A dying gasp at the basketball season — the most successful in Camp Lejeune's history!

We compiled a worthy 28-5 record, then won the Sixth Naval District title by beating a good Parris Island team twice.

Last week, however, we were defeated twice and eliminated in the finals from the All-Marine East Coast tourney by the same good Parris Island team. The islanders beat us by playing better basketball. The defeats were well administered. Lejeune has no alibis.

Lejeune can salvage one bit of glory from the tourney, however. Our victory over Quantico on Bob Coyle's one-hander with three seconds left will be remembered a long time. Most observers, including this one, think Lejeune went further this season than our power showed on paper. Just proves what perseverance, spirit and plain guts will do.

This reporter figures Parris Island will have an easy time defeating the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego for the All-Marine championship.

The Marine East Coast Intramural basketball championships mentioned in this column last week will be held here today, tomorrow and Saturday. Our Eighth Marines and teams from Cherry Point and Quantico are the contestants.

Intramural bowling is in full swing. We hope to have some standings by the next issue or two.

Our track team has a radio operator from Anglico working out who competes in an event that won't be held in our meets this year.

Lejeune's Golfers Beat Wilmington

Capt. R. H. Stark and Cpl. C. H. Raich paced the Camp Lejeune golfers to an 83-79 victory over the Wilmington Municipal golf team here Sunday with a blistering best ball of 89, three below par for the course, and an 8-1 triumph over Tom Huiet and Lee King.

The win marked Camp Lejeune's first in four meetings with the Municipal team this season.

In another match, Camp Lejeune's pro, Ralph Tilley and Staff Sgt. J. D. Spencer teamed to fire a best ball of 70, downing pro Dave Creighton and Ed Cooke, Wilmington, 5 1/2 to 3 1/2.

Track and Field Men Training For Opening Meet With N.C.S., March 31

By TOM KAY

Chilly weather and stiff breezes coupled to hamper conditioning process of Camp Lejeune's track team the past two weeks, but coach Capt. Bob Green has good reason for looking forward to a successful season.

Thirty men, from an opening day turnout of more than 100, have earned team berths and promise the cinder squad even quotas of strength and balance. Coach Green stressed, however, that openings still exist for capable men.

Less than two weeks remain for the speedsters in preparation for their season's first meet with North Carolina State. The contest will be held on Lejeune's field, March 31, and promises to be a severe initial test for the Leathernecks. State's Wolfpack threatens as a power in Southern Conference track this year.

Coach Green listed the men who will carry Lejeune's track colors this year as:

RUNNERS and HURDLERS: Sterling Gordon, James G. Graham, Edward H. Johnson, Eugene H. Kelly, Edward S. Pawlowski, Elmer Tolbert, Kaye W. Vinson, Clyde Adams, James L. Engfer, Frank P. Costello, Robert Fowle, William J. Harris, Chuck Irby, Bob

Pfc Peter Coulouras is a walker, one of those individuals who wriggles himself around the track in quest of medals. Coulouras' record is impressive. He was first in the Caledonia Games in Boston, 1948; second in the Scottish Highland Meet in Boston, 1948, and 14th in the 40,000 Kilo Marathon in Baltimore in 1949.

Capt. Elmer (Moe) Zorn, wounded twice with the Seventh Marines in Korea, is back to his old love. The Marine officer is at the helm of the Camp Pendleton baseball team, his fourth diamond tutoring post since he's been in the Corps. At Parris Island, Captain Zorn's teams won the Sixth Naval District crown. His Pendleton nine is crammed with players who've performed in Class B and C pro leagues.

Eighth Marines Take Camp Title, Top ComSerGrp

The Eighth Marines, champions of the American League, ousted the Second Combat Service Group, National League titlists, and Anglico, Tent Camp champion, to win the camp Intramural Basketball Championship last week in a double-elimination tourney at Goettge Memorial Field House.

A 62-44 triumph over Combat Service Group in the finale clinched the crown for the Eighth Marines. The infantry regiment dropped its second start in the tourney and thus came from behind to gain the title.

In the series' first game, the Eighth Marines beat Anglico, 66-43. Ernie Fleschner paced the victors with 20 points, and the Eighth's height advantage proved disastrous. In a scramble, Anglico's Ed Develder suffered a broken hand.

Combat Service Group rebounded with a 64-62 victory over the Eighth Marines the next day. The support group team, paced by Jim Hill's 25 points, overcame a 14-point halftime deficit and won in the last 40 seconds. CSG got a break when the Eighth's Wally Fleschner, Fred Smith and Lolly Williams on fouls.

Combat Service Group eliminated Anglico, 73-59, to take a temporary lead in the tourney, but the Eighth Marines beat CSG, 84-56, a day later. The Eighth Marines displayed uncanny set shooting in this game, and Fleschner's 27 points was the tourney's one-game individual high.

In the title test, the infantrymen held the upper hand throughout while gaining the 62-44 victory.

Three Forfeits Prove Lejeune Win-Margin In Cherry Point Ring

CHERRY POINT, March 15 — Camp Lejeune's boxing team defeated Cherry Point, 5-3, last night although the ground forces' team won only two bouts against three for the Flyers.

Lejeune gained forfeit victories in the flyweight, middleweight and heavyweight classes.

Bantamweight Dorsey Fears and welterweight Eppie Alonzo were Lejeune's match winners. Fears won a unanimous decision over George Vicknair. Alonzo had J. F. Smith bleeding so badly from so many places the latter couldn't answer the bell for the third round. Smith's right eye was nearly closed.

Cherry Point's R. H. Ehredt dethroned Bill Mickelucky in the most-applauded bout of the evening. Ehredt's longer reach enabled him to land a few more punches than Mickelucky in their featherweight tussle.

Tom Ocera, Cherry Point, dethroned lightweight Don Logan, the latter being floored twice. The Flyers' Don Spencer TKO'd Frank Soave at 1:30 of the second round of their light-heavyweight tilt.

MarCorps League Head Visits Camp Lejeune

Maurice J. Fagan, Commandant of the Marine Corps League, made this base one of 13 cross country stops March 14, informing various league detachments of what is happening to a bill pending congressional approval, which would increase the strength of the Marine Corps by two divisions.

Arriving in the afternoon, Mr. Fagan went directly to the office of the Commanding General of Camp Lejeune, Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson. Capt. Belmont Forsythe, Judge Advocate of the New River League Detachment, was host to Mr. Fagan during his stay.

Following his visit with General Robinson, Mr. Fagan said he felt the New River detachment is "one of the outstanding detachments of the Marine Corps League, which at present is competing for second place in the entire League in membership."

The Tun Tavern Detachment, Philadelphia, leads the league with over 600 members.

The National Commandant continued his tour after leaving here, and will end it in Los Angeles, following a conference with Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas, March 27.

Cleaners are Dyeing to Help You

Most people take for granted, Post Exchange officers point out, that their clothes will return from the dry cleaner as "good as new," with little thought to the complications and chemistry involved. Don't just send any kind of soiled garment to him without explanation and expect miracles, they advise.

Remember, the cleaner didn't make the laws of chemistry. Using research findings of his trade, he fights a running battle with all the new fabrics and plastics. He can't always win. He inspects before cleaning for spots, stains, prior damage, faulty weaving, tricky buttons or trimmings that won't stand chemicals or heat. Help him out with information: After all, it's your clothing.

Tell him about stains on your garments, food, liquids and the like. Some stains don't show up until heat hits them. Then it is too late. Certain liquids will react on rayon under heat and cause the material to disintegrate. Always get the garment to your cleaner at once after spillage.

NUMEROUS HEADACHES
Sometimes sizing, applied to fabrics to give them shape and body, will withstand several cleanings. Then it loses strength. Possibly the garment was stretched or distorted in manufacture and with the sizing gone it appears to shrink. This is only one of the cleaner's headaches.

The cleaner must also watch for the following: Sometimes moths leave a hollow skeleton of textile fiber apparently intact; then the cleaning process shows up their work. A group of dyes called "fugitive dyes" may run or rub off in even the most careful processes. Some of the most beautiful of the new plastic buttons become shapeless lumps or fade into the fabric at even moderate pressing temperatures.

Almost any dye is faded and fabrics weakened by prolonged exposure to the sun. "Fume fading," caused by many kinds of gas fumes, coal smoke, and other agents including perspiration, won't always show up until the garment is subjected to the moderately high temperatures used in drying and pressing.

Give your cleaner an even break. He wants your continued patronage and it hurts his business when he returns a garment to you in an unsatisfactorily condition. — Excerpts from a bulletin published by The Better Business Bureau.

Wake Island Defender Approves Troop Plan

Wrightsville Renters Hope Situation Eases

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, March 16—Several landlords, businessmen and rental agents met with members of the Marine Corps association tonight in an attempt to establish what they termed a reasonable year-round rental rate.

Sgt. Frederick Jarvis, association president, said no decision was made at the meeting, but added there is a new outlook to the housing situation.
