

Lecture On Amphibious Operations

By TONY SCALZA

Orientation of more than 50 division officers on the concept of beach support and area development during an amphibious operation was given last Thursday night by Col. F. P. Hager, Jr., Division Shore Party Officer.

Colonel Hager, who is also Commanding Officer of the Second Shore Party Bn., spoke for more than two-and-a-half hours on this subject at the Shore Party CP. He covered each step of a Marine division executing an amphibious landing and how landing spots are designated and shore installations set-up.

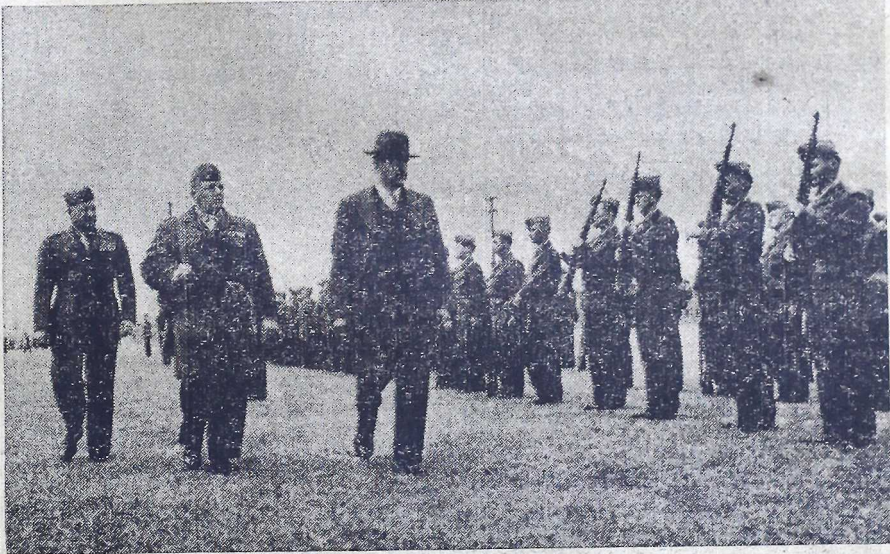

While the lecture was in progress, members of the Second Battalion, Eighth Regiment, were at the end of a week-long maneuvering exercise executed in the Amphibious Problem Staging Area.

According to Lt. Col. W. S. Vertsen, Executive Officer of the Second Shore Party Bn., his unit would support Marines of the Second Battalion in a shore-to-shore operation the following day by taking them across French Creek to Hickory Point, thus bringing to a close a five-day advance which started at the combined arms range.

Each week, a new outfit goes through the same procedure with the Shore Party assisting in shore-to-shore operations.

In his lecture, Colonel Hager used charts illustrating the taking of what was termed a "Divisional Objective." Then, with the aid of a large chart, broke down the function of a Shore Party Battalion working in conjunction with other division units to increase the efficiency of an amphibious landing.

Before the lecture started, Colonel Hager explained that in addition to Shore Party officers, officers attached to various units of the Second Marine Division would be present as part of the over-all training.

Camp Lejeune Marines Hosts To North Carolina General Assembly

The North Carolina General Assembly and the state's chief executive, the Honorable W. Kerr Scott, were afforded a close-up view of Marine combat techniques during their visit to Camp Lejeune March 7 at the invitation of Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General.

A 19-gun salute greeted the Governor and his party upon their arrival during the noon hour. The crowd of more than 700, composed of the legislators and their wives, were served the camp's regularly scheduled meal of steak, mashed potatoes, butter beans and apple pie before witnessing a realistic battle demonstration staged by 200 Marines, supported by tanks and jet planes.

Ground troops participating in the attack stormed an "enemy-held" hillside with bazookas, flamethrowers, grenades and rifles. As the assault started, planted explosives burst in simulation of shelling from off-shore support ships. In the midst of the battle, a helicopter descended to evacuate a "critically wounded" Marine.

Following the demonstration, the guests toured points of interest on the base. Included in their inspection tour were visits to the Frank Goette Memorial Field House and the Protestant Chapel. While in the chapel, the guests heard Cmdr. Abbot Peterson, Jr., Base Chaplain, and Lt. Cmdr. Lynde E. May, III, Assistant Chaplain, explain the building's stained-glass windows depicting Marine Corps history.

The group then assembled on the camp parade ground where tanks and several thousand Marines of the 6th Regiment passed in review before General Robinson and Governor Scott. Furnishing aerial cover for the review were planes of the Second Marine Air Wing.

Also watching the parade pass to the strains of martial music was Maj. Gen. J. Van B. Metts, Commanding General of the North Carolina National Guard.

As a close of the day's activities, an honor guard and the Second Marine Division Band saluted the distinguished visitors prior to their departure for Goldsboro, N. C., where they were to be guests of the city at a barbecue supper honoring Frank Taylor, House Speaker.

Army School Honors Lejeune Sergeant

Sgt. Joseph J. Bogus, a mechanic attached to the 2d Amphibious Truck Battalion at Tent Camp, drew top honors when he finished first in a class of 26 at the Ordinance Automotive School in Atlanta, Georgia recently.

The eight-week automotive body repair course was given to Army, Air Force and Marine personnel.

Sergeant Bogus was presented a diploma from Maj. Walter R. O'Quinn, Commanding Officer of the 2d Amphibious Truck Battalion during an informal ceremony, Tuesday morning. A certificate of achievement, it was explained, is forthcoming from the Army depot where the course is given.

The 26-year-old Leatherneck enlisted in the Corps on June 28, 1940. He was subsequently stationed aboard the USS Erie, and the USS W. P. Richardson during World War II.

Marines Hit Reeling Reds In Korea

TOKYO, March 13 — Weakened by more than 39,000 casualties in a week, the Chinese and North Koreans were reported falling back to a new line along Hongchong River, 22 miles south of the old border. For the moment, the reports from the front were all the same—the Reds were on the run. United Press Correspondent William Burson reported from the east-central front that resistance collapsed and the Reds were in headlong flight.

"They have turned tail and are hitting the roads for the 38th parallel as fast as they can," was the word.

Field reports said the enemy was abandoning Seoul in a general retreat to their new defense line behind the Hongchong.

Marines advancing from the south were within five miles of Hongchong today, and patrolling to the hills overlooking the town. Marine elements scaled Oom Mountain, just below the village.

As they took the final mountain passes before Hongchong, the Marines "pondered the sudden disappearance of Chinese resistance," United Press Correspondent William Chapman reported.

Last Thursday, following their earlier gains, the Marines flushed the Communists off four hill positions astride the Hoengsong-Hongchon road.

On the following day, they knifed out of Hoengsong within 10 miles of Hongchong. They drove ahead cautiously over the mountainous terrain to present a solid front.

One Marine patrol speared ahead of the main U. N. line to a point five miles northeast of Hoengsong but returned by dusk.

The Leathernecks came up with new tactics to combat the Communist strategy of infiltration, Associated Press Correspondent John Randolph said. Frontline Marines continued to advance while others

The new program for outpatient care is an effort to improve existing arrangements for medical care of the unusually large number of dependents and is being accomplished through the cooperative efforts of the U. S. Naval Hospital, medical components of the Second Marine Division and the Camp Infirmary.

Schedule to be maintained is as follows:

REGULAR CLINIC HOURS

Monday through Friday—9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday—8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. During these hours a full staff of doctors including pediatricians and other specialists, and nurses will be in attendance. Tank Flash Fire Fatal To Marine

An 18-year-old Marine was burned to death last Thursday beneath a tank under which he was working at the Butler Maintenance Bldg. in Tank Park. No cause for the blaze has been determined, pending further investigation.

Pfc Thomas P. Hanratty, of the Bronx, New York City, died when rescue efforts failed after the tank caught fire while undergoing torch cutting for clutch and checkup repairs. Several men suffered slight burns trying to pull the deceased to safety, and Cpl. Benjamin C. Bominquez, mechanic who was in the engine compartment at the time of the blaze, now is in the Naval Hospital with severe burns. A third Marine was painting in the tank, which had its engine removed, but the man's burns were slight and he returned to duty shortly after the mishap.

Hanratty, who was ordered to active duty last summer with the First Infantry Bn., USMCR, was a tank crewman here with D Co., 2d Tank Bn. Bominquez is from the 2d Ordnance Bn.

The body of the deceased was accompanied to New York Friday by a company mate, Sgt. Alfred A. Abuso. More than 200 attended mass for the deceased that same day in the Catholic Chapel. Members of the 2d Tank Bn. contributed more than $400 for funeral flowers.

Hypnotist Completes Show Tour of Lejeune

A near capacity crowd jammed the Main Camp Theater Thursday night to see Professor Daniel Schmidt, entertainer, perform demonstrations of the power of hypnotism with volunteer subjects from the audience.

Starting his act with an explanation of hypnotism, the Professor told the assembly that no person could be forced to sleep against his will. He stressed that no embarrassment would befall any of the subjects.

Approximately 25 men were seated on the stage, the lights dimmed, and the Professor's insistent voice started droning the word "sleep." In a few minutes most of the subjects were sleeping.

Then began a series of hilarious mugging scenes including a horse race, stealing gold nuggets and nearly being caught by the police, holding a lighted match to one of the subject's hands and a funny face contest. The performance ended with thunderous applause for the participants and Professor Schmidt.

The professor's tour of Lejeune theaters ended Sunday with shows at the Main Theater and the Officers' Club. He also appeared at the following: March 6, Area 5 Theater; March 7, Tent Camp Theater; March 8, Main Camp Theater; March 9, Naval Hospital and Courthouse Bay Theater; March 10, Marston Pavilion and Staff NCO Club. The show has been presented more than 120 times before Marine audiences.

Red Cross Aids Marine Solve Personal Problems

By JIM GRIFFITH

A huge Red Cross task, but one that seldom meets the eye at Camp Lejeune, because of its confidential nature is that of counseling and providing financial aid to Marines with pressing personal problems, who cannot take care of their problems themselves.

During the last fiscal year, chapter workers handled an average of 138,300 such cases a month. Almost three million dollars was given in financial assistance to aid servicemen's dependents.

At Camp Lejeune, aid to Marines' dependents is a major program. A typical case confronting the Red Cross here, day after day, is that of a Marine who came to the local chapter several weeks ago, direly in need of help for his family.

His wife and youngest of two children, who were living with his parents, required hospital care. There was none available. With Red Cross verification of the circumstances, military authorities granted the Marine a leave and the Red Cross loaned him the expenses of transferring his family to his wife's parents, where the necessary medical care was available. Shortly afterward, his young child contracted pneumonia, the Red Cross came to the rescue again, rendering financial assistance and helping to procure emergency leave.

Trouble seemed to follow the Marine, and not long after his child's recovery, it was necessary for his family to find new quarters because of crowded conditions in his wife's parents' home.

The Marine found a place for his family in Jacksonville and his wife to come here, before leaving that his outfit was slated for training at Little Creek, Va., covering that he was to go to Virginia, he immediately tried to contact his family, but they were ready on their way.

When his wife and two children arrived here, he was on his way to Little Creek. The Red Cross stepped in again, and found a place for the family to live. Then they wrote to the Marine's parents to learn there was room for the family there.

Finding that there were accommodations with his parents, the Red Cross had the baby, who had recently recovered from pneumonia, X-rayed at the Naval Hospital to assure it was able to travel, and granted the family expense money for its transportation. The family is now secure with the Marine's parents.

This is not an uncommon story. It has been, and will be repeated time and again. Wherever a serviceman may be stationed, a Red Cross man is not far away, to lend a hand in time of emergency, affecting any serviceman and his family back home.

The policy of expansion is keeping with the increase of personnel at Camp Lejeune. Officers of the post, announce that the American Legion quarters are open to all members from any post in the country, and each man may bring a guest, Monday through Saturday.

This is the Mystery Band that may bring luck to someone. The Staff NCO Club will sponsor a contest to name the band commencing Saturday. The person selecting the best name will receive a $25 merchandise certificate.

USMCR Release After 21-Month Tour Of Duty Depends On 'Situation'

An article in the March 2 issue of the El Toro Flight Jacket said that Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps, had informed all Marine General and Commanding Officers that reserves will be released at the end of a 21-month tour of duty unless the international situation worsens. The article, in full: "All Reserves who so desire will be released at the end of a 21-month tour of duty unless the international situation worsens, according to Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps. "General Cates announced this policy in a letter to all Marine Corps General and Commanding officers. "The Commandant's letter stated that Reservists were mobilized under the assumption they would serve for a 21-month period. "However, under terms of the Naval Reserve and National Security acts, the Secretary of the Navy has authority to extend this period of duty for the duration of the emergency. "General Cates' letter said that if the international situation worsens, this authority would probably be invoked. It most certainly would be in the event of a declaration of war. At the present time, however, the Marine Corps does plan to release its Reserves to inactive duty, according to the Commandant."

Cherry Point Plane Rushes Blood Donors To Save Baby's Life

WILMINGTON, N. C. —Through the efforts of five Marines and the American Red Cross, a baby's chances to live were made better last week.

Mrs. Robert Siemieniecwiz, of near New Bern, whose Marine husband is on maneuvers, appealed to the Red Cross chapter at New Bern for blood donations to save the life of her infant son, hospitalized at Wrightsville Sound.

Contact was made with the ARC representative at Cherry Point, who quickly collected five volunteers with the A-RH positive blood type required. A plane from the base was dispatched to Blumenthal airport with the donors. Upon landing they were met by a member of the Motor Corps and rushed to the hospital.

The entire mission was completed within two hours. Following the blood donations the Marines —First Lt. Robert H. Emswiler, Second Lt. Leonard C. Taft, Sgt. Sanford M. Levy, Sgt. Leo M. Dingen and Cpl. John G. Rieley—were returned to their base at Cherry Point.

Earlier in the winter another group of Marines, based at Camp Lejeune, donated blood in order to save the life of a baby of a fellow Corps member.

Fireman Breaks Ankle At Staff NCO Blaze

Ignition of material within the wall by a welding torch has been set as the cause of a fire which broke out in the Staff NCO club March 6. Copper piping was being connected in the club in preparation for installation of a barber shop at the time of the blaze.

According to the Provost Marshal, the fire caused approximately $2000-$3000 damage. No one was reported to be injured seriously, although G. H. Fick, captain of Fire Station No. 3, suffered a fractured ankle when a workman's ladder broke under him.

Commanding General Removes Restriction On Vehicle Washing

The restriction on vehicle washing in the Hadnot Point, Paradise Point, and Midway Park areas has been lifted by the Commanding General. In a camp memorandum dated March 8, Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson commended all hands for their cooperation in the water conservation program and expressed hope that all will continue to be conservation conscious.

Letter of Commendation Awarded For 'Outstanding Leadership'

For "outstanding qualities of leadership" during a two-week NCO Leader course conducted here, Sgt. Robert F. Glancy was presented with a letter of commendation last Friday morning.

The letter, from Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General of Camp Lejeune, was presented to the 23-year-old Leatherneck by Col. J. M. Masters, Commanding Officer of the Eighth Marines. Sergeant Glancy is attached to this outfit as section leader of a 75 Recoilless Rifle platoon.

The letter reads in part: "During the two weeks course of instruction you evidenced outstanding qualities of leadership and outstanding ability as a military instructor. Your interest in your profession as demonstrated by your attainments in the course of instruction is gratifying to me and reflects a distinct and deserved credit upon you.

Enlisting in the Marine Corps on July 24, 1945, he was discharged the following year. As a member of the Marine Corps reserve, Glancy took the Platoon Leaders Course at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., in 1948 and 1949. He was recalled to active duty by the Corps on December 5, last year.

'Copter Crash-Landed' After Motor Conks

Five Marines escaped serious injury when a helicopter in which they were flying crash-landed on a street at Paradise Point, March 7.

Participating in a demonstration for the North Carolina state legislature, the 'copter was flying a few blocks from the Officers' Mess where the visitors were being entertained.

Lt. Col. J. H. King, pilot of the HMX-1, Quantico, blamed the crash on a sudden loss of power. After ripping several utility wires down, the ship fell, crushing its nose on the pavement near quarters 2700. Maj. Matt E. Ober, copilot, sustained minor head cuts in the accident but four others aboard escaped unscathed.

Also passengers in the craft were Lt. Col. O. A. Chambers, M.Sgt. L. S. Kelley and M.Sgt. Kendrick. Mr. W. Kerr Scott, North Carolina's governor, had been given a ride in the helicopter approximately two hours before the crash.

Land, sea, air—and in the classroom, the Marine Corps can hold its own, as attested by the performance of three Second Division Sergeants who grabbed all the class prizes in an Army training school recently.

Among some 100 regular Army National Guard students, Sgt. James A. Spencer, 2d Armored Infantry Trac Bn.; Tech. Sgt. Howard Peterson, 2d Combat Service Battalion; and Sgt. James F. Blaine, Tank Bn., rated first, second and third, respectively at the latest graduation of students from the Ordnance and Track Vehicle Maintenance School, Fort Knox, Ky. Cherry Point Marines Fight by League

Marines from the Chicago area are being canvassed in by the Chicago Unit No. 1 Marine Corps League Auxiliary to boost the membership of that organization. In a recent letter to the Commanding General requesting a list of Chicago area Marines, Frank Ruth McCool, Unit Historian, explained that "The terrific Korean casualty lists have put a tremendous strain on our faithful members and sadly depleted our treasury as well. Thus we hope to be able to do more work to serve our Hospital, Relief, and Welfare Work Projects." Desiring to cooperate, but unable to furnish the requested list, Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General of Camp Lejeune, urges all interested Marines to communicate with the Unit Historian at: 11220 S. Drake Avenue, Chicago 43, Ill.

Explaining the purpose of the league, the historian wrote, "We call it the Marine League, and if possible enroll the Marine in the League, and the ladies are eligible in the auxiliary."

Medical Group Visits Lejeune

The Panel on Military and Field Medicine, of the Committee on Medical Science, a division of the Department of Defense, reached Camp Lejeune Thursday for a brief visit.

This group, whose mission is to supervise and control medical research and methods at military posts, as well as to insure the correct carrying-out of all programs, without unnecessary duplication, consulted with the leading doctors and Medical Service officers of the Navy Field Medical Research Laboratory.

Consisting of 21 leading experts in important aspects of military and field medicine, and a secretary of one high-ranking officer from each branch of the service, the Panel was met at Petterfield Point by Capt. C. B. Galloway, commanding officer of the Medical Research Laboratory.

in the rear dealt with bypassed Reds and infiltrators. Total Marine gains of two miles were hacked out on a front where the heights tower 2000 feet above the valley floor.

Some of the ridges contained large caves. Those that didn't were dotted with Chinese log bunkers and pillboxes.

Saturday the First Marine Division pumped 120 high-explosive shells into the village of Odun, six miles north of Hoengsong on the central front. Odun is believed to be the center of Chinese preparations for the defense of Hongchon, eight miles to the north. Marine ground activity was limited to extensive patrolling.

Sunday the Leathernecks pushed to within about eight miles southeast of Hongchon. The Marines advanced slowly against an enemy well entrenched amid mountain ridges 3,000 feet high. Artillery and air attacks were taking a heavy toll of the Communists.

Monday saw the advance continue, and the Marines poked their way three miles closer to Hongchon. They captured hills overlooking another road looking northwest into that vital Communist supply area.

The Marine advance met only light to moderate resistance, AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from the front. He said apparently the Chinese were not yet ready to start an all-out fight for Hongchon in that sector. However, the area directly ahead was "loaded with Communists," advance troops reported.

Fighter Squadron Boasts Clean Slate

CHERRY POINT, March 10 —Men of the 2d Marine Air Wing's Fighter Squadron 223 completed 1,953 approaches in field carrier landing practice without a single accident during two weeks of training operations in Florida recently.

Flying the F9F Grumman Panther jet, pilots of VMF 223 averaged seven landings in every 10 tries while engaged in preliminary phases of air-craft carrier operations. Successful landings totaled 1,416.

Field carrier landings are simulated practice for carrier operations, employing a landing signal officer and a section of the runway the size of a carrier deck.

Joe Foss, Corps Ace, Wins Air Forces Blue

SIoux FALLS, S. D., March 14 —(UP)—Joe Foss, Marine Corps air ace who shot down 26 Japanese planes in World War II and won the Congressional Medal of Honor, got ordered back to active duty today.

Foss, a Colonel, will report Friday to headquarters of the central air defense force of the air defense command at Kansas City.

In World War II, Foss wore the green of the Marine Corps. This time it will be the Air Forces' blue. "That stuff gets you," he said. "Once you're a Marine you never quite get over being one. But I've got a lot of friends in the Air Force and I'm happy to serve anywhere."

Erin Go Bragh! Green Be Their Names

In the Young Irish Disorders, in Ireland, 1848, the following nine men were captured, tried, and convicted of treason against Her Majesty, the Queen:

- John Mitchell
- Thomas McGee
- Richard O'Gorman
- Morris Lyenne
- Charles Duffy
- Terence McManus
- Patrick Donahue
- Thomas Meagher
- and Michael Ireland, and

WERE SENTENCED TO DEATH!
Before passing sentence, the judge asked if there was anything that they wished to say. Meagher, speaking for all said:

"My Lord, this is our first offense but not our last! If you will be easy with us this once, we promise, on our word as gentlemen, to try and do better next time! And next time—sure, we won't be fools enough to get caught!"

Thereupon the indignant Judge sentenced them all to be hanged by the neck until dead, and drawn and quartered in the approved fashion.

Passionate protests from all over the world forced Queen Victoria to commute the sentences to transportation for life to far, wild Australia.

In 1874, word reached the astounded Queen Victoria that the Sir Charles Duffy, who had just been elected Prime Minister of Australia, was the same Charles Duffy who had been transported 26 years before. On the Queen's demand, the records of the rest of the transported men were revealed, and this is what was uncovered!

- Thomas Francis Meagher, Governor of Montana
- Terence McManus, Brigadier General, U.S. Army
- Richard O'Gorman, Governor of Newfoundland
- Morris Lyenne, Attorney General of Australia, in which Michael Ireland succeeded him
- Thomas D'Arcy McGee, Member of Parliament, Montreal, Minister of Agriculture and President of Council, Dominion of Canada
- John Mitchell, prominent New York politician. This was the father of Mayor John Purroy Mitchell.

GIVE!

Whole blood shipments to Japan and Korea for wounded fighting men have been carried on regularly by the American Red Cross since last August, thanks to blood donations by the public through the organization's regional blood centers. Reserve stocks of blood plasma supplied earlier through the Red Cross also have been used extensively, particularly during the early days of the war.

Chaplain's Corner

WHY ARE YOU AT LEJEUNE?
Do you wonder why you are military service? One main reason is in your pocket. Take out your coin. The answer is there: "In God We Trust." Don't stop now, your peace of mind needs to be that answer.

At this moment young America are uprooted from the normal establishment of home and vocation. Many of you are impatient, disgusted, and lonely. Yet this is the occasional plight of all "freemen in every age. We are insecure and that insecurity is the atmosphere in which we find our way. "In God We Trust." There lies our security as Americans. Unfortunately you will find some Americans today acting like impetuous children. They impatiently want to go about their own business and are willing to ask the government to take over the responsibility handed to them as Americans. This is like the security one remembers as a child protected by his parents. That is just what the enemies of freedom want and they use every trick to make you impatient, homesick, disgusted. They work 24 hours a day to drive you to say, "Give me security and I'll be obedient to the government. Tragically we see what happens when our present foes do take over a nation giving-in like that. The security they offer drains off even the last vestige of a man's freedom and individuality.

But your security, though demanding a constant responsible participation gives security through individual initiative.

America's trust in God has an extra driving-force unknown to the authoritarian type of government. It is "faith in God." This is a forward drive for self-determination. Not fear or panic. It knows that the price of success is hard continuous work. But with God as partner the road is freedom and mutual progress, certain of its destiny.

So we find most practicing God-fearing men would rather die or their feet as God's children than on their knees as wards of the state.

Your part is to help establish this kind of security through individual initiative, otherwise to regress to formerly conquered slavery. We may have to battle to re-establish freedom. So you are here, because, freely, "In God We Trust."

BY HAL FREEMAN

We've got the Sixth Naval District title in the bag and now we're in quest of the All-Marine East Coast basketball diadem. Let's talk about our accomplishments and let what we want to happen, happen.

In the regular season, we split with Parris Island. They beat us there, we whipped them here. In the district play, the chips were down—there was a title at stake. So, what do our CHAMPIONS do? They beat PI twice. Okay, so in the final game we squeeze by, 66-64. We still beat 'em, dintwe?

No raps against Parris Island. They have a well-balanced club, a fine coach and a great bunch of sportsmen. But, they also have three players who were established stars at Philadelphia's LaSalle College—Fran McMenamin, Dick Adair and Walt Colman. Our team was molded from a bunch of Marines—no standouts.

For this reason, it's a double hats off to Lejeune's champions, coach Phil Cohen, basketball officer Lowell Keagy and managers Cliff Wheeler and Stan Landes. Oh, migosh, I almost forgot the Docs! Incidentally, here's congratulations to newly-promoted CAPTAIN Cohen.

Here's some facts on Lejeune's 1951 baseball team which opens its season Monday night here against Virginia Military Institute at 7:30 p.m.

Our squad has representatives from farm systems of eight major league clubs. We have a host of bonus "babies," headed by shortstop George Bullard, whom Detroit snatched handsomely to sign.

Lejeune expects to play approximately 110 games against college, semi-pro, service and professional teams. Here's the background on the probable infield starters: First baseman Harry Agganis, only infielder without pro experience, is better known for his footballing. Walt "Mouse" Halsall, second baseman, has spent four years in the New York Yankee's chain. Bullard was with Detroit's Class A Williamsport club for several seasons.

Baseball Schedule

Here is a tentative schedule for the 1951 Camp Lejeune baseball team. The Special Services Office has announced no official schedule will be printed for two or three weeks because it has been necessary to re-schedule many games.

Games scheduled with Army teams were canceled at the request of the Army, with the announcement that Army athletics henceforth will be confined to the regimental level.

- March 19, 20, 21 — Virginia Military Institute
 - March 24, 25 — University of Virginia
 - March 26, 27 — Wilson Teacher's College
 - March 28, 29 — University of Connecticut
 - April 3, 4 — Western Reserve University
 - April 6, 7 — Campbell College
 - April 9, 10 — At Parris Island
 - April 12, 13 — Boston Braves Farm Team
 - April 19, 20 — Jacksonville NAS
 - April 30, May 1 — Bolling Air Force Base
 - May 2 through 10 — At New York
 - May 11 — Little Creek Amphibious Base
 - May 15, 16 — At Fort Myer, Va.
 - May 18 — At Norfolk Naval Receiving Sta.
 - May 19, 20 — At Norfolk NAS
 - May 22, 23 — At Campbell College
 - May 27, 28 — Fort Myer
 - May 30, 31 — At Quantico MCS
- The June, July and August schedule will be published in the Globe next week.

Much is expected of Jerry Brezen, 24-year-old third sacker, who belongs to the Chicago White Sox.

Among the outfielders, Johnny Dempsey and Francis Seastrand are long-ball hitters. Dempsey played with the Atlanta Crackers in the Southern Association, and Seastrand is property of the Boston Braves.

Best prospects among the pitchers are Bob Penner, Mert Plume, Jack Ingalls, Joe Steffen and Frank Wall. Wall won 24 of 26 games with Quantico last year and was chosen the outstanding pitcher in the National Semi-Pro tourney at Wichita, Kans.

The double-elimination series for the Intramural Basketball League championships got under way Monday with the Eighth Marines defeating Anglico. Entrants are: Anglico, Tent Camp titlists; Eighth Marines, American League crown winners, and 2d Combat Service Group, National League kingpins.

Speaking of the American League, the major league baseball organization of that name has voted to admit servicemen free to all games of the 1951 season (World Series and All-Star games excepted, of course). The National League is expected to follow suit.

Lejeune's wrestlers and boxers have golden opportunities. Our five grapplers who gained final berths in the Carolinas tourney have a chance to compete in the National AAU tournament. An eight-man boxing team from Lejeune has been invited to participate in the 63d annual Senior Championships in Boston Garden, April 9-11. Winners in each division there will compete in the International Association of Athletic Federations tournament in Europe in June.

There's talk of an East Coast Intramural Championship tourney in basketball being held here next month. Competitors tentatively are Lejeune, Quantico and Cherry Point.

The Second Division Bowling Team will be the first athletic organization from Lejeune to compete in the 1951 Atlantic Fleet Championships. The keglers enter competition at Norfolk Monday. Squads from other sports will represent the division in title tests through the coming months.

When Parris Island's basketball team won the Class AAA Jaycee Tourney at St. George, S. C., two weeks ago, PI's 6:05 Dick Adair equalled the performance of 6:07 Jim Slaughter, the nation's fifth leading scorer from the University of South Carolina. Both men had 18 points along with PI's Sid Meyerson, but Adair walked off with the "best defensive player" trophy. Observers thought Adair matched Slaughter in rebounds and backboard play.

San Diego's Recruit Depot baseball team plucked a plum last week when Ralph Buckingham enlisted in the Marine Corps there. A $6000 bonus lured him to a Detroit contract several months ago and he was to play with Williamsport this season.

Capt. Larry Kindred, who played with Norfolk in the Piedmont League before entering the Corps in '42, has been named baseball coach at Quantico succeeding Capt. Bill Kohler.

Lady Marines Trounce Ft. Bragg WAC's, 36-27

FORT BRAGG, N. C., Mar. 11—Lejeune's Woman Marines basketball team trounced Fort Bragg's WACs, 36-27, here today for its ninth victory in 15 games. Fort Bragg's Metcalf was high scorer with 19 points. Virginia Johnson with 13 and Jane Young with 10 were high for the WM's.

Lejeune Wins All-East Start; Cherry Pt. Out

Camp Lejeune's basketball team stopped Cherry Point, 67-49, Monday at Goettge Memorial Field House for a chance at Parris Island yesterday in the All-East Marine Corps basketball tournament.

Before more than 800, including Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Lejeune led all the way. Lejeune's Chuck Weunsch was high scorer with 14 points, and Joe Teufel of the Flyers followed with 12.

In the first contest of the series, Parris Island beat Quantico, 66-57, Monday, with Jack Nichols, Quantico, scoring 27 points. Ted Richter, P.I., had 20. The Islanders came from behind twice in the first half to lead, 32-30, at halftime.

In the second round of the tournament, Quantico trounced Cherry Point, 56-46, and Parris Island downed the Marine Corps Institute, 78-59, Tuesday. The Flyers' loss eliminated them from the series under double-elimination rules.

High scorer for Quantico was Nichols with 19 points. Teammate Bob Winkler followed with 15. Quantico led, 24-13, at the half.

Tom Phillips, MCI, was high man in the second contest with 16 points. Al Didriksen, P.I., followed with 14.

Lejeune Faces VMI In Opening Game Monday

By BILL BERGER

Camp Lejeune's baseball team opens its season here Monday at 7:30 p.m. against Virginia Military Institute. This will be the first of a three-game series, all night contests.

Shea hasn't decided on his opening-game pitcher, but indicated it probably would be either Bob Penner or Jack Ingalls.

The Lejeune manager expressed optimism concerning the team's prospects for the season, but said he would like to have a stronger pitching staff and stronger reserves.

"This infield," he said, "is as good as any I've seen in the minor leagues. The outfield looks pretty good, although we could use another power hitter."

With regard to the pitching, Lt. Shea added, "You never can tell how strong your pitching is until you see your men in action. Right now, that's our big question mark, especially since we are starting a new team from the bottom up."

Last year's team played only about a month before it was disbanded and most of the players were shipped to Korea.

Lejeune Cops Sixth Naval Crown Edging P. I., 66-64, in Finals

By PETE CLAPPER

Camp Lejeune's basketball team edged out Parris Island, 66-64, Sunday night to win the Sixth Naval District championship before more than 600 at Goettge Memorial Field House. It was Lejeune's 34th victory in 39 starts.

Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General, Second Marine Division and Camp Lejeune, presented the Championship trophy to Lejeune coach First Lt. Phil Cohen.

High scorer was Dick Adair of Parris Island with 18. Lejeune's Jim Smith followed with 16 and teammate Larry scored 13.

The lead changed six times. Lejeune's Frank Sebrin had the winning baskets with 10 seconds left. At the half Parris led, 32-31.

The Islanders reached content by downing Pens 68, Sunday afternoon, qualified for the match being held at Pensacola, 66-54, at Parris Island, 63-56, Saturday.

High scorer in the Lejeune tilt was Ralph V. Lejeune with 12 points; Chuck Weunsch with 11 apiece.

In Lejeune's first contest at Parris Island, Dick Adair had 17 points, with Lejeune's Phil Cohen and Larry Killick making each.

In the Northern Section playoff, Lejeune beat the Point Flyers, 61-54. Chuck Weunsch was high man with 17.

Wrestlers Take Runner-Up Title

DAVIDSON, N. C., March 10—Appalachian State Teachers College compiled 48 points to retain its Carolinas AAU wrestling championship today, but Camp Lejeune took most other honors.

The Marines finished runner-up with 42 markers, won three class titles and two trophies and had two other finalists.

Cherry Point trailed Lejeune in team standing with 31 points, ahead of Davidson College (23), Western Carolina Teachers (9), and High Point YMCA (4). Appalachian beat Lejeune twice during the regular season when the Marines compiled a 5-3 record.

Bill Norris, Lejeune's unbeaten heavyweight who scored six pins in eight matches this campaign, gained a trophy for the fastest fall in this two-day tourney with a 16.3 seconds pin in a preliminary match. Norris took the heavyweight championship with a 6-2 decision over Davidson's Bill Neely.

Hal Hampson, Lejeune 136-pounder, won the "outstanding wrestler" trophy and his class title. He beat Dick Glueck, Cherry Point, 1-0, in the finals. Charles Barnhart was Lejeune's other finalist. He won the 115-pound diadem by pinning Jerry Daniel, High Point, in 1:33. Ned Hartman, 145 pounds, and Martin Sabin, 175, were other Lejeune finalists. They and Norris, Hampson and Barnhart are eligible for the National AAU tourney at Iowa State College, April 5-6.

Lejeune Skeet Team Sweeps Two Matches

By GENE GRODEN

Camp Lejeune's skeet team swept to a double victory March 7 at the skeet range by taking both ends of a 100-bird match from Cherry Point's A and B squads.

Lejeune's high shooter was M. Sgt. Roy Musgrove of Camp Communications. The topkick fired 96 to lead the Lejeune "A" team to a 463-421 triumph. Jack Kanavel, HMC, Camp Infirmary, the Lejeune captain, was runner-up with 94. M.Sgt. Ed Wingard, an "old pro" among Marine skeet shooters, led Cherry Point with 94.

In the B match, Lejeune duplicated the varsity's feat with a 435-394 victory.

Lejeune Skeet Team Outshoot Norfolk

Camp Lejeune's skeet team scored Norfolk NAS, 470-460, Sunday for the locals' third consecutive victory. A cold wind the range made shooting difficult.

Lejeune scores: M.Sgt. Hartfiel, 98; CWO George, 96; HMC Jack Kanavel, 94; Roy Musgrove, 93, and F. Sgt. Joe Vosmik, 89.

Lejeune tentatively is entering a match at Norfolk NAS Saturday that will bring together teams from Fort Belvoir, Quantico, host base and several other clubs.

Three TKO's Highlight Bouts As Lejeune Boxers Blank Sailors, 8-0

By HAL FREEMAN

Camp Lejeune's boxing team breezed to an 8-0 victory over Green Cove Springs (Fla.) Naval Station here March 7, the Marines gaining two points via flyweight and heavyweight forfeits. Coach Joe Karlage's Leathernecks scored three technical knockouts. The Sailors actually won a bout, but it was a non-team light-heavyweight scrap. The swiftest triumph was gained by middleweight Jim Bond, who TKO'd Bill Sibley in 1:45 after three knockdowns. Bond sent Sibley down for nine twice in the opening seconds with a left hook, then floored the Texan with a double hook followed by a right cross that caused referee John Henry to call it quits.

Bill Mickelucky showed a punishing left jab in TKOing Chuck Green at 1:02 of the second round of their featherweight match. The bout was halted when Mickey opened a large gash on the side of his fellow-Wisconsinite's left eye. Eppie Alonzo, Lejeune's classy middleweight, TKO'd bull-shoudered Larry Moore at 2:52 of the second. Stalker Alonzo had Moore down for nine just before the bout ended when the latter began to stagger and bleed from inside pupils. Don Logan decisioned Rip Collins in a close lightweight fight and Al Hood gained the nod over light-heavy Milt Washington. Logan won by throwing more punches than Collins. Hood triumphed because he threw harder wallops. The closest bout was the opener in which Lejeune's Dorsey Fears, All-Navy bantamweight titlist, decisioned Jim Seiple. Fears knocked Seiple down in the first round, and the second frame appeared even. However, in the third, Seiple outsmarted his opponent and the Sailor's aggressiveness easily gained him the round. Many thought Seiple's comeback rated the decision. Lusty boos echoed this sentiment when Fears was declared the victor — after a close check of the judges' cards. In the non-team bout, Sailor Toby Hurt outpointed Joe Brown in a battle of punchers. Hurt hit "right on the button" on Brown's chin several times, and Brown was effective with a left hook. Hurt punched a bit more often and harder than his opponent. The Sailor's tactic of suddenly stopping action and walking around, a la Jersey Joe Walcott, was crowd-pleasing.

Devilpups Capture State Cage Crown

DURHAM, N. C., March 10 — Camp Lejeune High School won the Class A State basketball title by defeating Hasty, 62-55, tonight in Duke's Indoor Stadium before 500. The victory actually was a crown retention for Lejeune, for the Devilpups were champions last year of the Class B section that was upped to Class A this season. Lejeune had a 26-24 edge at the half and led 47-42 at three quarters. Dwaine Simpson, who tallied from close in and far out, topped Lejeune's scorers with 21 points. Mates Floyd Propst and Roland Hodges followed with 17 each. Lejeune lost its ace, Propst, on fouls after two minutes of the fourth quarter. Propst's loss changed Lejeune's tactics from the fast break to slow, deliberate play. Hasty, which led only at 8-6, played its regulars without substitution until two and a half minutes before the end. Lejeune used only two reserves, both for Propst.

Scene Around Little C

By LEO HAMEL

Norfolk, perennial nemesis of Navy men, has, to the startled eyes of Lejeune Marines, all the qualifications for an earthly Valhalla. They never had it so good for liberty.

Second Division Marines, TAD to Headquarters Detachment at Little Creek, have run up against a baffling problem. Since they are leading a life only somewhat less desirable than that of a Hollywood leading man, and since their barracks is equipped with many of the finer things of life, they have developed "Television eyes." Standard complaint: "If they don't adjust that 17-inch screen better, by George, I'm going to spend all my liberties ashore."

College Grid Coaches To Instruct Marines

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Headquarters, Marine Corps, has announced coaches Paul Bryant, Kentucky, and Stu Holcomb, Purdue, will head the second annual Leatherneck football clinics in July. Bryant and his staff will conduct the week-long session beginning July 9 at Quantico for East Coast Marine coaches. Holcomb and aides will direct the Western clinic beginning July 16 probably at Camp Pendleton. Holcomb participated in the program last year.

Last season, Kentucky won 11 games before losing 7-0 to Tennessee in the finale. However, Kentucky snapped Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak with a 13-7 Sugar Bowl triumph.

Holcomb, former assistant to Col. Red Blaik at West Point, gained recognition when Purdue beat Notre Dame, 28-14, last fall to end the Irish's four-year unbeaten streak.

WJNC to Broadcast Nat-Yankee Opener

A complete schedule of Major League Baseball broadcasts will be carried over Radio Station WJNC this season, announced Lester Gould, station owner, recently.

Beginning April 16, official opening day for Major League play, games will be broadcast daily, subject to change due to rained out or canceled games, according to Mr. Gould.

The announcement started that alternate broadcast crews will be set up so that whenever possible, WJNC will have "live" broadcasts originating at the home ball parks, as handled by Al Helfer and Dick Bingham over the Mutual Broadcasting System.

A schedule will be announced later.

No "Welcome Home" — Railroad Brings Death

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 12—The sign on the door of a home in nearby Millvale said "Welcome home, Pete."

While Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Cerina and their family waited expectantly for their son, Pfc Peter Cerina, 20-year-old Marine, to return from Korea, a knock sounded.

Instead of Peter, the Cerinas found grim-faced Police Chief George Young. He said:

"I have bad news. Your son was killed by a train in Nebraska Saturday." The Marine's mangled body was found beside the Union Pacific tracks at Central City, Nebr.
