Lejeune Marines Advantage Low Rentals

Hundred and fifty $33-per-week two-bedroom housing units at Camp Lejeune were snapped up by hungry Marine families with a half of being listed in the Rental Housing Office. The office, continuing to act as a clearing place for in- on quarters available to personnel, has aided 300 in their search for homes being established a month ago and apartments in the town, Wrightsville and Carolina Beach areas have constituted the majority of rentals made through this office, and, at present, the office has listings representing a proportion of the units available for rent.

The problem of transportation from these outlying areas remains to be licked, the Housing Office is taking steps to determine the number of men, now living in these areas, who would take advantage through bus service if it were made available. A Camp Lejeune RENTALS Page 3)

Medical Officer Recommended By CO

The 2d Medical Battalion was recently when one of its officers, Lt. Adolphus W. Dunn, USN, received a Letter of Commendation from the Commanding Officer of the US Naval Hospital, Quantico, for his outstanding service while stationed at the hospital during 1949 and '50. The text of the commendation is as follows:

The Commanding Officer Adolphus W. Dunn, MC, commanding General, Second Marine Division, F.M.F., Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. Commendation: The Commanding Officer of the hospital takes pleasure in commending you for outstanding performance of duty from 1 April 1949 to 3 August 1950. Your professional skill and unfailing dependability, judgment, loyalty and devotion to duty as a medical officer of the highest quality. Your services played a substantial part in the efficient operation of this hospital during a trying period.

A copy of this letter is being forwarded to the Department of the Navy for incorporation in your official record.

J. T. O'Connell, Lieutenant Dunn reported to Camp Lejeune for duty on August 1, 1949, and was attached to the 2d Medical Battalion as Company Commander. At the present time he is temporary Attached Duty to the 2d Medical School, Montford.

Officers Cited Commandant

WASHINGTON—Gen. Clifton B. Ketchum, Commandant of the Marine Corps, November 1 presented the Cross to Second Lt. William H. Day, and the Letter of Commendation with ribbon and pen- cils to CWO Aloysius C. Gidlewski for his heroic deed in the re- capture of Guam.

Completes Thirty Years Of Service

Warrant Officer Joseph S. Pekarich climaxes thirty years of service to the Marine Corps as he is congratulated by Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General of Camp Lejeune, at retirement ceremonies on the Rifle Range parade grounds. Looking on is Lt. Col. H. R. Migneault, Commanding Officer of the Rifle Range.

Colorful Rifle Range Officer Retires After 30 Years Service

By Cpl. Seymour Katz

A career of more than 30 years honorable service to the Marine Corps came to a close on the Rifle Range parade grounds on October 30 as Warrant Officer Joseph S. Pekarich was officially retired by Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General of Camp Lejeune. Before the full Range Detachment and the Second Division Band, General Robinson summed up the Gunner's hard and tough service by saying:

"Like most Marines after 30 years of service he is not a rich man—in wealth. But he is rich in memories, some good, some bad, some awful. He will never be without these memories for he has had a rich life and he has made the most of it."

Personnel Policy Board Seeking Combat Duty Pay

WASHINGTON — The Department of Defense Personnel Policy Board has been given the task of studying proposals for possible legislation seeking combat or hazard duty pay for ground forces, the Army-Navy-Airforce Journal reported this week.

It is known that a number of Congressmen have advocated adoption of extra pay benefits for ground troops in view of the overwhelming percentage of Army and Marine Corps casualties in Korea. The latest summary of U. S. casualties in the Korean fighting, released this week and covering all notifications of next-of-kin through October 27 reveals that of the total 27,610 casualties, 23,987 are Army and 3,142 are Marine Corps.

Of the 4,403 total deaths, 3,718 are Army and 575 are Marine Corps.

It is believed that even if the (See COMBAT PAY Page 3)

"I wish to express my best regards to him from every man in Camp Lejeune and I know that they, in turn, wish him luck for the entire Marine Corps."

The men of the Range Detachment, with which Mr. Pekarich has served for the last two years, also heard a special commendation from Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Marine Corps Commandant, who wished him success and congratulated him on his devotion to duty.

Another commendation on the Gunner's ability came from Lt. Col. H. R. Migneault, Range Commanding Officer, who stood beside General Robinson and the Warrant Officer during the parade.

The Gunner's career has been the typical, salty rugged life of the regular Marine. It includes over 17 years overseas, three-and-one-half years as Corregidor-captured prisoner of war, dozens of duty ports, and numerous hair-raising adventures.

As Mr. Pekarich summed it, "It was good, more good than bad; except for being a POW I wouldn't hesitate to do it over."

He was born in 1898 in Brno, Austria, a fact which accounts for the WO's thick, German accent. In 1913 the Gunner came to America and settled in New York City. At the outbreak of World War I he began his military career by joining the Army and spent

Buses Available For Football Game At Quantico Friday

Charter buses will run from Camp Lejeune to Quantico for the Camp Lejeune-Quantico football game on November 10. The buses will leave from the bus station at Camp Lejeune at 0500 Friday. After the game the buses will continue on to Washington, D. C., and will leave there at 1800 on Sunday November 12 to return to Camp Lejeune.

The total price per man will be $9.60 for the round trip. Tickets for the trip may be purchased at the Camp Lejeune bus station any time prior to 1630 November 9.

Special Service Officers of such outlying districts as Tent Camp, Courthouse Bay, Rifle Range Detachment and Montford Point, should collect the money for their units, purchase the tickets for their units at the bus station at Hadnot Point and arrange at that time with the person in charge of the bus sta-

Division Sergeant Sets New Lejeune M-1 Range Record

Had an officer been in the B Range butts a new Camp Lejeune M1 firing mark of 242 would have been set on Tuesday, October 31.

The official Lejeune record of 240 was bested by Sgt. Joel Washington, a weather expert with the Second AAA Battalion who was firing the course as part of a coaches school at the Range.

But because the shooting was not for record Washington's marksmanship is unofficial and will not count.

Washington, who fired expert last time up for record in 1949, summed up the loss by saying, "If it was for money like it used to be I'd really be sore!"

Early Returns For MC Birthday Gift Excellent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Early reports indicate that Marines throughout the U. S. are doing an excellent job in piling up birthday presents for the Corps—the names of prospective recruits. That's the word from Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps.

In a special statement issued this week, General Cates said, "Early indications are that Marines stationed within the continental limits of the United States are doing an excellent job of providing the names and addresses of prospective Marines as their part in the Marine Corps Birthday Recruiting Campaign. The Recruiting Service reports that they are already receiving quantities of the prospect cards that play such an important part in this recruiting campaign."

"But the job is far from over. We won't consider this birthday campaign a total success until every Marine has provided the Recruiting Service with the name and address of at least one prospect."

"One important phase of the campaign thus far," the Commandant added, "has been the co-operation of the Marine Corps League and its auxiliary, the Marine Corps Reserve Officers Association and Marine veterans throughout the country. They have responded to the call for assistance with excellent support."

"I view the results of the campaign thus far with satisfaction, and with the feeling of assurance that before the campaign is over, every Marine will have done his bit to make this recruiting project a complete success."

Col. Reisweber, Air Veteran Retires At Ceremonies

GLENVIEW, Ill. — Col. Benjamin Reisweber, USMCR, one of the Marine Corps' most noted veteran airmen, has been retired after 23 years of active duty with the Marine air arm, HQ, MARTC, announced this week.

He received special messages of praise from Gen.

Clifton B. Cates, Commandant Marine Corps. Added to his decorations was the Marine Corps Reserve Ribbon with Bronze Star for his years of service. The Marines stationed at U. S. Naval Air Station, Glenview, Ill., where Colonel Reisweber has been on duty since 1946 as inspector on the staff of the Commanding General, Marine Air Reserve Training Command, passed in formal review behind the Great Lakes Naval Training Center Band as a farewell salute.

Rated one of the nation's outstanding flyers and flight instructors, Colonel Reisweber served through two World Wars with the flying Marines. Following World War I he gained international renown as a daredevil stunt pilot and, in 1914 with the Curtis Aeroplane Company. He received his wings as a Naval Aviator and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant of Marines, September 7, 1918, and was assigned to duty with the then infant Marine air arm.

During World War II, Colonel Reisweber served as Commanding Officer of Marine air units based at Seattle and Pasco, Washington, before going overseas for service in the Second Defense Area with Headquarters in Samoa.

Of all his experiences along the skyways of the world, the one Colonel Reisweber remembers most vividly occurred above the prosaic setting of the Pennsylvania Railroad yards at Canton, Ohio, on November 4, 1919, when the two-seater biplane he was flying went into a tailspin and completely out of control. Putting some of his stunt flying tricks to good advantage, he managed to whip the plane into a side slip and pancake it neatly atop a freight car loaded with scrap iron. Colonel Reisweber and his passenger climbed out without a scratch and the plane was only slightly damaged.

In the early 1920's he helped pioneer the development of military and commercial aviation in South America. He is credited with training some of the most famous Navy and Marine aviators, many of whom are among the highest ranking flag officers in their respective services today.

Colonel Reisweber broke into avia-

Wounded White House Guard Is Former Marine

WASHINGTON — Joseph H. Downs, 44, one of the White House police officers wounded during the exchange of gunfire in the attempted assassination of President Truman last week, is reported still on the serious list by hospital officials. Downs was felled by three slugs.

The wounded officer is a former Marine. He was discharged as a corporal at the barracks here in 1930.

During a skirmish in Nicaragua in the mid-twenties, a bandit bullet struck the stock of Downs' rifle, carried away the butt-plate and drove it into his side, inflicting a painful wound.

First Lt. Robert R. Horner (left), is congratulated by Lt. Col. William D. Morgan, Commanding Officer of the Second Signal Battalion, on his promotion to first lieutenant. The appointment was delayed more than a year because of revision of sections of the Marine Corps Manual.

Signal Battalion Officer Promoted

Lt. Robert R. Horner, Jr., of the Second Signal Battalion recently received a first lieutenant appointment informing him that he has technically held that rank for the past 17 months.

Lieutenant Horner, Naval Gunfire Spotting Officer for the battalion's Air-Naval Gunfire Liaison Company, was presented the appointment October 16 by Lt. Col. William D. Morgan, battalion commander.

But the appointment was dated June 5 1949, the date it would have been awarded except for a delay caused by revision of the Marine Corps Manual.

Lieutenant Horner was graduated from the US Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., on June 5, 1946. He served on active duty with the Marine Corps for three years, then joined the Organized Reserve.

His promotion was due at the end of his active duty period, but sections of the Manual were being rewritten and promotions were held up.

Meanwhile, Lieutenant Horner returned to active duty when his Reserve unit, the First 105 mm Howitzer Battalion of Richmond, Va., was called to duty.

During his last tour of duty, he served with the first Marine guard detachment to be sent to Palestine following the Jewish-Arab fighting.

The president had a hard time getting past the twins, but he did read the citation, did the Medal of Honor around Col. Justice M. "Jumping Joe" Chambers' neck and did retire before he could snatch the handkerchief from the presidential breast pocket. (Official USMC Photo.)

Entertainers At Hospital

A delegation of entertainers and conversationalists visited the patients at our U. S. Naval Hospital, Sunday in what one Army patient from Korea termed "Operation Cheer."

The group of approximately 40 persons came from Wilmington and Carolina Beach with songs, dances, skits, apples, magazine, guitars and just plain conversation to liven the afternoon.

The first show was presented in the Red Cross Recreation Room. After this performance the group went to the various wards to entertain the patients who couldn't see the first show.

Mrs. Cliff Lewis of Wilmington was in charge of the group and entertained the men with choice songs.

Other entertainers were Miss Iris Lynam, vocalist and comedienne (She was Miss Wilmington of 1949); Miss Mary Findberg, vocalist, Raymond Bishop, tap dancer; Nancy Ruth Adams, tap dancer; and Mr. W. Adams, guitarist.

Mrs. Hana Block acted as mistress of ceremonies and accompanied the entertainers as pianist.

The group returned to Wilmington late in the afternoon.

CWO F. H. Rentfrow New Globe Officer

Editorial reins of the Camp Lejeune Globe changed hands yesterday with the appointment of CWO Frank H. Rentfrow to that duty. Mr. Rentfrow relieves First Lt. Robert Rea, who has been temporarily in charge of the paper since CWO William Kohl was transferred to Quantico in September. Lieutenant Rea will resume his duties as Camp Public Relations Officer.

Mr. Rentfrow, who has been editor and officer-in-charge of the Quantico Sentry for the past five years, previously served on the staff of the Leatherneck Magazine for eleven years, and was the only enlisted man ever to be appointed editor of the Leatherneck.

MSgt. Frank Dollins, captain of the "Longshots", 1949 League Champions of the Staff NCO Bowling League, is highly confident that his team will ride to an easy victory again this year.

Receives Nation's Highest Award

Col. Chambers Presented Nation's Highest Award

The President last week bestowed the nation's highest award, the Congressional Medal of Honor, on Justice Marion Chambers, USMCR (Ret'd), for exceptional gallantry which helped assure the victory at Iwo. It was the 200th Medal of Honor for a Marine; the first for Marine heroism in World War II.

Lejeune Players Begin Rehearsals On Stage Comedy

The Lejeune Players announce that rehearsals for "Three Men On A Horse" have begun. This famous racetrack comedy, by George Abbott and John Holm, was produced with great success on Broadway and has also been filmed. Production dates have been set for some time in December. A bloc of tickets will be turned over to Special Services for distribution to enlisted men in uniform, and other tickets will go on sale the last week of November. The play will be presented in area theatre No. 201.

The play is being directed by Capt. William L. Gallagher, in command of Headquarters Company, 2d Signal Battalion. He has had extensive experience in radio and television, as well as Little Theatre. Mrs. W. D. Morgan, who was responsible for the success of "A Woman's Privilege" presented November 3 at the Officers' Mess, will assist Captain Gallagher in direction. Col. Russell Jordahl, Division Inspector, is acting as producer; Lt. Cmdr. Leon P. Elman, of the Medical Research Laboratory is handling the scenery; Lt. Jack B. Phillips, Adjutant of the 2d Engineer Battalion, lighting; Mrs. Russell Jordahl is properties chairman; Mrs. Leon P. Elman, Mrs. David F. Condon, Jr., and Lt. Col. R. M. Fawell, commanding the 2d Tank Battalion, are doing the publicity; Capt. Alexis A. Jedenoff, Camp Photographic Officer, has agreed to assist with the programs; Mrs. J. E. King, will do makeup; Mrs. George Saussy, Jr. is in charge of costumes, and Mrs. W. A. Reeves will do the promoting.

In 1873, it was necessary to make six goals to win a football game, but if a game was called, the team with two or more goals was declared the winner.

Colonel Chambers has been an advisor for the Senate Armed Services Committee for the past 10 years. He is a product of Iwo Jima's Fifth Battalion of Marines Reserves which has "graced" numerous outstanding official presentations of the Medal of Honor was made at the White House.

Colonel Chambers had been evacuated from Iwo Jima in 1945. He had received the Purple Heart, which was awarded upon the re-examination of his original recommendation, with final evidence.

He commanded the 3d Battalion, 25th Marine Regiment, Iwo Jima landing on Feb. 19, 1945. His sector was a high ground from which enemy fire raked the whole beach.

"Capture of the high ground was essential to the success of D-Day operations. It is a fact that had it not been done, it would have constituted the most serious threat to the successful operations of the 5th Marines."

The 3d Battalion lost nearly half its enlisted strength on Iwo. But by "fearless disregard of his own life"—and leading his battalion "by example rather than command" Colonel Chambers won the key heights and secured the right flank of the Marines.

On the fourth day, direct Marine's first rocket barrage exposed to the enemy's resistance, Colonel Chambers fell under enemy machine gun fire. His wounds were so serious he was medically retired on Jan. 1946, and, because he was commended for performance in combat, he was promoted to full colonel.

Colonel Chambers joined the Marine Reserve in 1923, served years, then joined the Marine Reserve as a private. He was (See CHAMBERS Page 1)

Anniversary Message

The Globe presents herewith as its editorial the statement from the Marine Corps Manual which is read to Marines everywhere on the tenth of November each year:

On November 10, 1775, a Corps of Marines was created by a resolution of the Continental Congress. Since that date many thousand men have borne the name Marine. In memory of them it is fitting that we who are Marines should commemorate the birthday of our Corps by calling to mind the glories of its long and illustrious history.

The record of our Corps is one which will bear comparison with that of the most fabulous military organizations in the world's history. During the greater part of its existence the Marine Corps has been in action against the nation's foes. Since the Battle of Trenton, Marines have won foremost honors in war, and in the long eras of tranquility at home generation after generation of Marines have grown gray in war, on both hemispheres, and in every corner of the seven seas that our country and its citizens might enjoy peace and security.

In every battle and skirmish since the birth of our Corps Marines have acquitted themselves with the greatest distinction, winning new honors on each occasion until the term "Marine" has come to signify all that is highest in military efficiency and soldierly virtue.

This high name of distinction and soldierly repute we who are Marines today have received from those who preceded us in the Corps. With it we also receive from them the eternal spirit which has animated our Corps from generation to generation and has been the distinguishing mark of the Marines in every age. So long as that spirit continues to flourish Marines will be found equal to every emergency in the future as they have in the past, and the men of our nation will regard us as worthy successors to the long line of illustrious men who have served as "Soldiers of the Sea" since the founding of the Corps.

THE BOOK OF BOOKS

If you should ever be a part in a radio quiz program faced with a $64.00 question in any one of the following ways, would you be able to answer it?

What book has had the greatest sale and distribution for centuries and still is today the largest throughout the world?

The knowledge of the content of what book is essential to a full understanding of the meaning of practically every work of every writer from Shakespeare to the present day detective story, due to quotations and references from it?

The English translation of what book is the 17th century of what book is still the literary standard and perfect example of the use of the English language and is read by all students of literature in every university?

What book contains what covers the most fascinating of the evolution of ethical standards of an entire race from the prehistoric to the present?

What book contains examples of history, drama, poetry, the story, novel, biography and autobiography, which are still standards unsurpassed in the two thousand years?

What book contains the answer to all these questions? The answer to all these questions is, of course, the Book of Deity from that of the primitive idolatry and superstition to that of a God substantiated by modern science and metaphysics?

What book contains the amount of inspiration, reason and comfort concerning the existence of man's existence, past and destiny of any book in the world?

The answer to all these questions is, of course, the Book of Deity from that of the primitive idolatry and superstition to that of a God substantiated by modern science and metaphysics?

O'Wives Club Activities

The Fine and Applied Arts Hobby show, sponsored by the Supply Group of the Officers' Wives Club of Camp Lejeune will be held in the Commissioned Officers' Mess at 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday, November 15.

You mean you didn't know? Well, let's just blame it on the confusion. If you have been in the vicinity of the Officers' Mess lately you'll know what we mean. The men are working like fury trying to get the place fixed up for the Marine Corps Birthday Ball. The women are running around trying to get the place set for the Hobby Show. For a while we thought we had things pretty well lined up, only to find that somehow the Knitting display had suddenly turned into a battle scene of Tarawa and the center piece on the main table had become a miniature replica of the flag raising on Iwo Jima. We might have overlooked these, but when the Millinery display cropped up with a Small Arms Exhibit—that was too much!

We decided to go home and wait until the men were out from underfoot. So, if you don't see anything around the club for the next few days that resembles a Fine and Applied Arts Hobby Show with a touch of femininity, don't be discouraged. The time and the place remain the same so go ahead making plans to attend. And don't worry about loaded BAR's.

Remember the show is 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday, November 15, at the Officers' Mess. Don't forget your membership card for admission.

The wives of the Second Marine Regiment met Wednesday, November 1, for tea and their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. C. Shafner. The group plans to meet on the first Wednesday of every month in the Officers' Mess.

The American Homes Department of the Midway Park Women's club extends a cordial invitation to all members of the Officers' Wives Club to attend a cooking demonstration to be held in the Community Building at Midway Park on Monday, November 20 at 7:30 p. m. The admission fee of 25 cents will go towards assisting a very charitable project. Many valuable electrical appliances will be given away as door prizes.

Sports At A Glance . . .

By Sgt. Dick Murphy

The varsity football team's 27-13 win over the infantrymen of Fort Jackson was not unexpected though it was by a larger score than some fans predicted, especially this correspondent. The 24-7 prediction was not too far wrong but no one took into account the passing of the Red Devils' coach Hal Littleford, former Tennessee backfield star.

Coach Andruska and his Camp Lejeune eleven are anticipating a tough Friday afternoon on the Quantico field on November 10 for the Marine Corps Birthday classic. The Lejeune Marines' Coach sat back in his office in the Field House and commented on the coming Lejeune-Quantico tussle by saying, "As far as I'm concerned, Quantico is about a 40-to-50 point favorite over our boys."

He went on to say that Eddie LeBaron is probably one of the best backs in the country. Coach Opp put in "And that includes professional semi-pro or college ball."

The Lejeune coaching staff has no illusions about the tremendous depth enjoyed by the Quantico squad. According to Major Opp, they have three good offensive backfields and they will be able to keep fresh backs in the game at all times. "And as for their coaching staff," Major Opp continued, "they really know their football. I know because I played with all five of them at the Naval Academy from '38 through '41."

In a typically careful statement to the press, Major Andruska, in answer to a question regarding our chances Friday, said, "Well, we may have a little more chance of beating Quantico than we would Notre Dame but not much. It's tough to figure a good defense for Quantico," said the tall, former University of Iowa star, "because Quantico can run very well outside or inside and pass with the best."

PHOGNOSTICATION

This will be a tough one to predict. We feel that it is going to be a high scoring contest all the way and that Lejeune will come out on the short end by two to three touchdowns. Our score: Quantico 41-Lejeune 38. This is one prediction we hope is all wet—in our favor.

CORRECTION

Last week's Globe carried mention of the Tampa University record for 1950. Tampa has won four games and lost two. They won from Wofford in addition to beating Lejeune. Last Saturday, Tampa beat Livingston State, 41-39.

New NCAA Rules Announced For 1950-51 Season

When Camp Lejeune's quintet takes to the hardwood on November 30 against Eastern Carolina Teacher's College they will be playing under the recently revised NCAA rules for the 1950-51 season. Eight major rule changes have been made during the past few months. The most important are as follows:

Rule 1, Section 7—6x4 transparent backboard when available.

Rule 2, Section 9—When a foul occurs, an officials shall signal the timer to stop his watch and if it is a personal foul, the official will designate the offender to the scorers and indicate with his fingers the number of free throws.

Rule 3, Section 3—A substitute can enter the game only when the ball is dead, and only when one of the officials beckons him to do so. The scorer shall blow his horn to let the official know that the substitute is waiting to go into the game.

Rule 7—If a defensive man while standing outside the boundary line touches or bats the ball from an offensive man's hands the ball is a jump ball between the two men at the nearest circle.

Rule 16, Section 4—A technical foul will be called on any player who refuses to raise his arm after committing a personal foul.

Devilpups Take Wilmington For Second Time 18-0

For the second time this season the Camp School Devilpups knocked down the junior varsity squad of New Hanover High School, Wilmington, by a score of 18-0 last Thursday. The game, played under the lights at Wilmington's Legion Stadium, was a sequel to the 24-12 victory over the JV's, October 19. The Devilpups rushed themselves to an early score in the first period, pushing down to the Wilmington 25-yard line. Floyd Propst then threw a short pass to another Floyd, Burkhardt, in the right flat which the rangy, converted end took over the TD. Ron Hodge's kick was blocked and the score stood Lejeune, 6—Wilmington, 0.

In the second quarter, the Camp School took over the ball on their own 45-yard line and started another touchdown drive. It was Propst and power coupled together to drive to the opponents' 29-yard line. The Camp School's star quarterback then shifted the attack to the air and tossed one to Dwaine Simpson good for 10. On three successive power plays, Propst had bulldozed the pigskin down to the eight and a first down. After a pass attempt failed, Propst took off on an end sweep that settled the ball on the Wilmington one-yard line. On two plays, Propst was over for the score. A pass conversion attempt from Propst to Bob Laver failed and the Devilpups led the junior Wildcats, 12-0. Early in the second half, Wilmington put forth a burst of power that carried them to within 11 yards of a touchdown, but the hard-charging Devilpups' defensive line held the big white team for downs.

In order to ease the load imposed on Propst because of the injury of Allen Frucci, blocking and running back, Coach Ed Bethard shifted Burkhardt into the backfield. Burkhardt and Propst then proceeded to run the defense ragged and pushed down to the JV's goal line, where Wilmington tightened their defense and held.

It was on the five-yard line that Bob Laver scooped up a Wilmington fumble and charged across for six points. The conversion attempt failed and at the final gun the score stood Camp Lejeune, 18—Wilmington JV's, 0.

TSgt. Alton E. Greer, NCOIC of the Golf Course, won the Club Championship 1 a.s.t. Saturday by beating runner-up SSgt. J. D. Spencer 3 and 2 in 36 holes. Sgt. Greer was presented with a $70 PX chit and will have his name added to the club loving cup of champions. . . CWO Karlage, who is heading up the intra-mural boxing program, reports that last Monday's meeting of Special Services personnel was both instructive and informative. The boxing program is set to run a series of team matches from which will be chosen top boxers to participate in the camp-wide smokers to take place at least once a month in the Field House. . . Background on our newly scheduled game with the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Va., reveals that Lejeune beat the Sailors, 21-0 on three touchdowns and a field goal in 1949. . . There will be a basketball clinic for all officials and coaches of the intra-mural program held November 13, 14, and 15, at 1300 in the Field House. The clinic will be conducted by the Camp Athletic Office and Cpl. Stan Landes. . . Two former Lejeune Marine boxers have reported in recently with the Reserves. Both All-Navy Champions, they are, Pfc. Dorsey "Chulky" Fears, Bantamweight; and Cpl. Mervie "Red" Davis, Flyweight. . . Jack Dempsey, top defensive lineman of the varsity football squad, is still sidelined with a leg injury sustained in the Turner game. Jack will not be in shape for the Quantico game but hopes to see action against Parris Island. . . Did anyone catch the snappy crew of majorettes at the Camp High School-New Bern football game? Fifteen lovely girls were decked out in attractive red sweaters and white shorts. They were led by Head Majorette Sandy Adair. The group is coached by Pfc. Betty Rice of the Waman Marines. . . Some civilians on the base are not showing the proper respect to the National Anthem when it is played just prior to football games on Saturdays. There was a group of about 15 spied by this reporter last week. Let's all show respect for the Anthem and Colors. The MP's report to me that this has happened more than once during morning Colors. . . Bowling Team cuts took place yesterday. Ten men remain on the team, seven regulars and three alternates. . .

Reserve's Lament

(To the tune of the Marine's Hymn)
By Pfc. W. E. S.
From the joys of my civilian job
To the bounds of Camp Lejeune,
I was sent without a chance to squawk
To the land of the harvest moon.
Yes, they called it active duty
In excess of thirty days.
So here I am, a real Gismo,
A chagrined Reserve Marine.

There is one consolation
To my homesick fevered brow,
I'm not the only one they called
There's WR's here right now.
And if you stop to think a bit
With a clear untroubled mind,
You will find that things are not so bad
Be happy, Reserve Marine!

Take a look around your camp today
And see what you can see,
There's Onslow Beach and Courthouse Bay
And the land of the clubs and tee.
There are also many other things,
Such as movies, books, and sports,
I guess after all, I'm proud to be An active Reserve Marine.

Movie Review As It Appears This Week

BLANCHE FURY
Drama—This British picture stars Stewart Granger and Valerie Bon. It is a morbid story of murder and intrigue, but can hardly be called a thriller. The moral of the story is that it does not pay to come too attached to a house and the ground that surrounds it. Adult . . . Two Bells.

THE GAY LADY
Musical Variety—Another show on which there is no information. The cast is headed by Mary Beth Hughes and David Street Family . . . Two Bells.

STATE SECRET
Drama—A British release on which there is no information. show stars Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Glynis Johns and did provide good adult entertainment . . . Four Bells.

MR. MUSIC
Musical—"Mr. Music" himself, Bing Crosby, is the star of show. It's a pleasant story about a Broadway composer who soft and sour until events, including love, put him back in the groove. Nancy Olson is Bing's "girl Friday" and is one of the major draws of the attraction. The whole family will enjoy this one . . . Bells.
