Camp Lejeune Deluged With New Enlistments Under New ALMAR 8

A new personnel expansion program was heralded here last week with the receipt of ALMAR Eight, which authorized the immediate discharge and reenlistment of regular Marines with less than one year of obligated

Women Marines To Be Assigned Duty At Lejeune

One hundred and ninety women Marines will soon report to Marine Barracks and the Marine Corps Supply Depot here, Marine Corps Headquarters announced in a recent ALMARCON dispatch.

An advance detail of one woman officer and two enlisted women will arrive here on Jul. 25 to make preliminary arrangements for billeting and messing.

The 190 women reservists will be selected for extended active duty from veteran Marine Corps Women Reservists who volunteer for the assignment, together will present members of Organized Women's Reserve Platoons. The first women so selected will report here for assignment on Jul. 25.

They will be assigned to units now in commission and will assist in regularly organized messes. At present, no separate administrative unit is contemplated to handle their organization.

Women reservists will replace male Marines in 16 functional fields, including administration, printing and reproduction, fire control instrument repair, operations communications, supply administration, accounting and stock control, supply procurement, warehousing and disbursing, motor transport, machine accounting, post exchange, public information, photography, training aids, special services and two aviation specialties.

service remaining on their current enlistment or extension.

At the same time, Marine veterans were asked to volunteer for extended active duty, and the first reservist reported to Marine Barracks less than 12 hours after the arrival of the ALMAR.

Across the nation, recruiting stations were galvanized into new life as enlistment quotas were removed, with "the sky's the limit" becoming word of the day.

Veteran Marines have been asked to "fill the gap" while new recruits undergo basic training and combat seasoning.

Meanwhile, plans are underway at Marine Corps headquarters to select male Marine reservists of the top three grades and veteran women Marines for active-duty assignments.

Presently, Marine Corps reservists with the rank of sergeant and below can volunteer for extended active duty in grade. Master sergeants and technical sergeants who did not join the reserve on discharge may now reenlist in the respective grades of sergeant and corporal. In the event of reserve mobilization, their former ranks will be restored.

Coincident with the recruiting drive, was the relaxation of re- (See ALMAR Page 3)

Charter Presented To Enlisted Toastmaster Club Of Lejeune

The first charter issued to an East Coast enlisted club was presented to Camp Lejeune's Staff NCO Toastmasters Club at ceremonies held in Swansboro, N. C., last Friday evening.

Major General Ray A. Robinson, Commanding General of the Second Marine Division and Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune, made the formal presentation of the "Toastmasters International" charter at a dinner held in the Riviera Club. It was accepted by Chief Hospital Man J. F. Livengood, president of the Staff NCO Toastmasters Club.

Forty members and distinguished guests were on hand to see the charter receive its charter, the second issued in the United States to a military enlisted club. Camp Lejeune's Staff NCO Toastmasters Club was the first to be chartered by the "Toastmasters International" organization.

Chief Livengood, a former active member of the El Toro Club, stated to organize the local club with 12 members in March of this year. At present the club has 30 members and has requested to increase its strength to 100 members.

The evening affair was run on the basis of a regular meeting with Toastmaster F. Kulakowski acting as Toastmaster of the evening. He called on Toastmaster J. L. Richardson to introduce the honorees and then called on Sgt. Arthur, Toastmaster V. Olesno to introduce the charter members and their guests.

Toastmaster Burton was the speaker to be called on and spoke on the problems of speaking for an NCO. He stressed the importance of preparing your speech before you deliver it. As an example he related a story about a Staff NCO who gave a one hour lecture on the subject of "Marking Clothes" and still had his audience sitting on the edge of their chairs.

The second speaker of the evening was Toastmaster C. D. Bartlett (See TOASTMASTER Page 5)

6 Reserve Units To Arrive Here Over The Weekend

Six more Organized Reserve units will arrive at Camp Lejeune over the weekend to undergo two weeks of intensive active duty training under the guidance of Second Marine Division elements, bringing to 22 the number of organizations that will have traveled to this—the world's most complete amphibious training—camp. Three units arrived here Sunday and are currently going through the training schedule.

Units that will arrive this weekend are:

- The 14th Signal Company of Brooklyn, N. Y.; The 21st Engineer Company of Rock Island, Ill.; The 15th Engineer Company of Lynn, Mass.; First 155mm. Battalion from Dearborn, Mich.; Howitzer Battalion of Philadelphia, Pa.; 17th Infantry Battalion of Detroit, Mich.

Units that arrived Sunday and have been spending the first of the week at the rifle range include Headquarters, A, B and C Companies of the First 90mm AAA Gun Battalion of Chicago, D Company of the same battalion of Augusta, Me., and the First 40mm Gun Battery of Lexington, Ky. The Chicago battalion arrived with 27 Marine and two Navy officers, 156 enlisted Marines and three Navy corpsmen. D Company brought four officers, 91 enlisted Marines and two Navy corpsmen.

The Lexington Reserves have four officers and 45 enlisted men, all Marines, and this is the unit's first period at camp. Activated in January of this year, the Kentucky battery is composed mostly of "boots," only the officers and a few of the non-coms having seen service during World War II.

On the other hand, the 21st Engineer Company of Rock Island, which was also activated in January of this year, is composed chiefly of war veterans. It will arrive with approximately 100 officers and men, commanded by Major A. E.

Plans Announced For 1st Division Annual Reunion

Plans have been completed for the Third Annual Convention of the First Marine Division Association, to be held in Washington, D. C., over the weekend of 4, 5 and 6 August.

Headquarters will be at Hotel Statler. Special events on Friday, 4 August, will include reunions of sub-units, parade and supper at the Marine Barracks, and a moonlight cruise on the Potomac with music and dancing. The division itself will parade on Constitution Avenue Saturday morning, with a sightseeing tour scheduled in the afternoon, topped off by a cocktail party and banquet with entertainment that evening. A memorial service for those who did not return will be held at Arlington National Cemetery on Sunday morning. Necessary transportation for these several events has been arranged.

All members of the wartime First Marine Division and units operationally attached are eligible to attend. For those reserving in advance, registration fee has been set at $2.00. Reservations are being accepted by the Reunion Treasurer: Lieutenant Colonel George F. Gober, Headquarters U. S. Marine Corps, Washington 25, D. C.

Marines Parade In French Bastille Day Celebration

American Marines and sailors of the Sixth Fleet joined troops of the French Army in a colorful parade highlighting Bastille Day celebrations at Nice, France, on July 14.

A crowd estimated to exceed more than 100,000 persons lined the streets of the sunny French Riviera city to witness the two-hour ceremony.

After an inspection by Vice Admiral John J. Ballentine, USN, commander of the Sixth Fleet, and M. Haag, Prefect of the Province of Alpes Maritimes, the parading units passed in review to the stirring music of the Sixth Fleet band and the regimental band of France's famed Chasseurs Alpins.

The celebration of the French national holiday was climaxed by the laying of wreaths on the monuments to the war dead and the French resistance movement of World War II by Vice Admiral Ballentine and M. Haag.

American units marching in the parade were drawn from the USS Salem, flagship of the Sixth Fleet. They were commanded by Capt. William R. Earney of the 3rd Battalion, 6th Marines.

The Bastille Day ceremonies at Nice followed by 10 days a similar joint celebration held in the French city on July 4 to honor America's Independence Day.

Regatta

The Boat Regatta and Concert, cancelled last Sunday due to inclement weather, will be held this Sunday, 22 July, weather conditions permitting. The schedule of events remains the same.

Guided MCI Class Start September

Joint Memorandum Number 24 is set forth here for the benefit of all personnel who are interested in increasing their knowledge of English and mathematics.

A voluntary off-duty study group in basic education subjects will commence in September of 1950. Classes will be held in the Supply School Battalion classrooms in buildings Number 51 and 53. Each study group consisting of twenty-five (25) students will meet twice weekly for a scheduled fifty (50) minute period between the hours 1800-2100 on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, holidays excepted. Students will be enrolled individually in the Marine Corps Institute. Applications and weekly lesson papers will be sent in by study groups to MCI for grading.

A complete description of each course is contained in the Marine Corps Institute Handbook. The following courses are available:

- High School English—Living English, Correct English Composition, Effective English Expression, Literature I, II, III, IV.
- Mathematics—General Mathematics, Elementary and Advanced Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, Plane Trigonometry, and a Mathematics Refresher Course.

Poliomyelitis

(Editors Note—This is one of a series of articles on timely health subjects which will appear at intervals in the Globe. They are prepared by the Camp Medical Officer.)

Because this is the season during which we (and practically every other community in the world) might expect some cases of poliomyelitis, it is believed that an informative article on the disease might be helpful. If it serves no other purpose, it may, at least, prevent some of the foolish mass hysteria which usually occurs with the appearance of the first case in a community.

The common name for this disease, "infantile paralysis", is an unfortunate one because the disease is by no means limited to infants and because only an extremely small percentage of those infected ever have any paralysis.

It occurs in all parts of the world, although it is more prevalent in the temperate zones. It occurs both as an endemic and epidemic disease, attacks rich and poor alike, and may occur at any age although children below 16 are involved more often than adults. Although the disease is probably a very ancient one, and although a great deal of research work has been done, there are still many important details that remain a mystery. While it is known to be caused by a specific virus, the method by which this virus is transmitted and the way the virus enters the body are not entirely clear. Consequently, one can readily see what a tough job the health authorities have in combating the disease. To make their job still tougher, there is much evidence to indicate that an overwhelming majority of cases of polio have the disease in such a mild form that it is not even recognized.

Among the few definite facts that are known about poliomyelitis are that the virus has been found in the nose and throat discharges and in the feces of infected persons and that, during an epidemic, the virus has been isolated from sewage, flies, and fly-contaminated food. Consequently, it appears likely that the disease can be transmitted either by direct contact, by "droplet" infection from a cough or sneeze, or by flies. It is also known that a person once infected with the virus either in the mild or severe form, has a long lasting immunity against the disease. Second attacks are extremely rare.

It is now generally believed that in an epidemic, polio goes thru a community in a sort of wave in which a fair percentage of those not immunized by a previous attack become infected. The big majority of these appear to have nothing more serious than a common cold and after a short period of feeling "out of sorts", completely recover. In a small minority, the disease extends into the tissues of the nervous system, and evidence of paralysis appears. This may be mild or severe, and may involve the muscles of an extremity or other groups of muscles. In a relatively few cases, the process extends till death occurs. Not so many years ago, death followed involvement of the muscles of respiration, but now such cases are kept alive by a respirator, or "iron-lung" until the respiratory muscles can resume their function.

There has been much theorizing as to why the disease should be so mild in the great majority of people, while in a certain few, it progresses on to the paralytic phase.

There is some evidence to support the belief that the nervous tissue of some familial strains lacks a certain resistance or has an inherent susceptibility or weakness which permits the disease to invade more readily. And yet, against this theory, it is the fact that, in an epidemic, it is unusual to have more than one member of a family affected.

The early symptoms of poliomyelitis may be any one of, or combination of, the following: fever, generalized aching, sore throat, fatigue, headache, vomiting, and stiffness of the neck. One can readily see that, except in the presence of an epidemic, any of the above symptoms lasting for only a few days would not be recognized as an abortive attack of polio and it is only when occasional cases of paralysis begin to appear that the health authorities realize that polio is present.

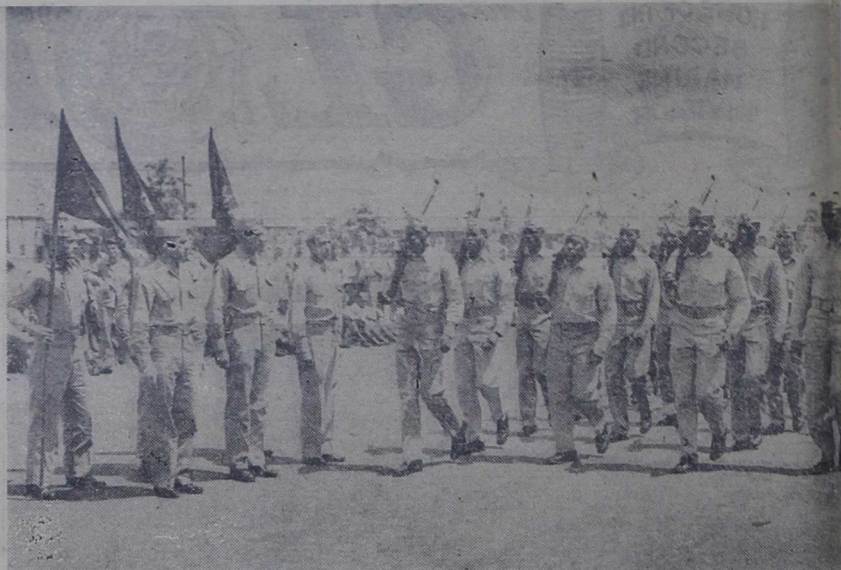

Although it is definitely known that the great majority of our adult population, particularly in our cities, have immune bodies against polio in their blood, (and hence are presumed to have had the disease at some time) science has as yet failed to produce any effective serum or vaccine which will create this immunity artificially and hence protect those who have not yet been exposed. Nor has science as yet developed any specific treatment.

As to effective preventive measures, there are wide differences of opinion. However, when the disease is known to be present, it is wise to do the following, particularly with children:

1. Avoid over-exertion and fatigue.
2. Wash hands before eating.
3. Eliminate flies from living quarters.
4. Avoid crowds, particularly in enclosed areas.
5. Get plenty of rest.
6. Avoid travel and visiting.
7. Go to bed and get complete rest for several days for anything which ordinarily would be considered just a mild illness.
8. Seek medical aid when necessary.

If an epidemic of poliomyelitis should hit this camp in the future, it is hoped that our people will maintain an intelligent attitude toward the disease and cooperate with those responsible for the health of the camp in handling the situation. Polio is by no means a laughing matter but it is not one of our important "killer" or crippling diseases and nature usually handles the situation very well by building up a good resistance against it. It is true that a crippling paralysis and even death may occasionally occur in this disease and this fact undoubtedly is behind the hysteria of parents when the disease is present. A little sober thought will show how strikingly inconsistent we are in this. We well know that the modern automobile destroys and maims at an appalling rate day after day, but this fact is just taken for granted and does not in the least deter us from taking our children for a ride on a busy, highway where every approaching car presents a far greater hazard to our children than the virus of poliomyelitis.

Crack Drill Team

Displaying the style that won them the "Challenge Plaque", the drill team from 1st Platoon Truck Company, Second Combat Service Group, swing by the judges to the cadence of Sgt. W. Slade, extreme right. Judges for the first competition were, left to right, 1stLt. G. Torbett, Major W. L. Flake, and CWO J. E. Kelly.

Truck Co., 2ndCom SerGroup Boasts Crack Drill Team

At 1100, Friday, 14 July, 1950, a competitive close order drill contest was held between Depot Platoon, Support Company, and the First Platoon, Truck Company, both of Second Combat Service Group.

The two highly drilled platoons were in competition for the "Challenge Plaque" originated by the Commanding Officer of the Second Combat Service Group, LtCol. W. E. Barnes.

The drill competition stems from the old Second Combat Service Group Depot Company. While at Tent Camp, the individual platoons of Depot Company engaged in friendly rivalry to see which of the platoons could execute the best close order drill. With the reduction of Depot Company, many members were transferred to Truck Company. Though transferred, the rivalry still existed.

In recognition of this great interest in close order drill, the competitive "Challenge Plaque" was instituted by the Commanding Officer of the Group.

The challenge was issued and time and place was set for the competition. It is worthy to note that no regular working hours were used in preparation for the contest. Each unit drilled whenever a few minutes were available. Formations were held early to afford a few minutes practice, meal times were cut short to allow the drill teams to get in the much needed practice.

Then on Friday the drill competition was held. In an area surrounded by the entire Second Combat Service Group, a coin was tossed between the Commanding Officers of Support Company and Truck Company. Support Company won the toss and under Sgt. JOE B. SMITH, the Depot Platoon Drill marched smartly on the field. After the prescribed time, the Depot Platoon was followed on the field by the drill team representing Truck Company. Moving his men smartly on the field, Sgt. W. A. SLADE moved 1st Platoon, Truck Company through their paces.

After both units had finished, the Judges, under Major W. L. FLAKE, announced the winner of the plaque, 1st Platoon, Truck Company. After a brief note of congratulations in which Major Flake made note of the fact that both units had taken their own time to practice, all members of the Second combat Service Group returned to their barracks, secure in knowing that in the 1st Platoon, Truck Company, they had one of the finest drill teams in Camp Lejeune. Major Flake also mentioned that since we had the best drill team in Camp Lejeune, the Group would welcome challenges from other units in Camp to prove this point.

Sing While You Drive

Dear Marine:

You know it's almost as much fun to sing while you drive as it is in the bathroom with no lock on the door. Just to be certain you are up to date and singing the proper song to fit your speed, we outline some suggestions below:

| If You Are Traveling | Suggested Song  |
|----------------------|---|
| 45 Miles per Hour    | "Highways Are Happy Ways"                             |
| 55 Miles per Hour    | "I'm But a Stranger HereHeaven Is My Home"        |
| 65 Miles per Hour    | "Nearer, My God, To Thee"                             |
| 75 Miles per Hour    | "When The Roll Is CalledUp Yonder, I'll Be There" |
| 85 Miles per Hour    | "Lord, I'm Coming Home."                              |

To date careless driving and excessive speed has cost the lives of ten persons from this camp this year.

Reserve Program Half Completed; Chicago And Lexington Bns Here

Marking the half-way period in the Organized Reserve training program at Camp Lejeune this year, the 90mm AAA Gun Battalion and the 1st 40mm Gun Battalion arrived in camp this week.

The 90mm unit brought Headquarters, "A", "B", and Batteries from Chicago, Ill. Battery, a separately administered unit with headquarters in Vista, Me., journeyed from the Free State and joined the organization for the duration of the training period.

The 40mm Battery proudly hails Lexington, Ky., as its home city. The units arrived by special Pullman trains at the Industrial Area Station.

At the conclusion of their period of active training, the Reserves will depart from Camp Lejeune by rail and will be back to their headquarters cities by July 29th.

The Chicago's First 90mm Anti-Aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, marked its birthday 11 July in preparation for its initial summer camp at Camp Lejeune, 15-29 July.

Commanded by Major Kenneth Dunkle, USMCR, of 6213 N. La, Chicago, Ill., the Chicago is the first heavy anti-aircraft reserve unit to be formed within the Marine Corps Reserve.

The Chicago unit celebrated its first anniversary by forming a color guard for the raising of the national colors at the All-Mar Baseball game in Chicago, July, at the invitation of the American League. While outstanding players of the National American League teams were in attendance, a picked squad of color bearers from the 1st Marine Regiment marched to the flag pole in the center field, at Comiskey Park, home of the White Sox.

Attending summer camp at Lejeune are 29 officers and 200 enlisted men. Accompanying the Chicago Reserve Battalion is Lieutenant Colonel C. W. May, of 915 Wood Ave., Bellwood, Ill., IC, Inspector-Instructor.

While the unit is at Lejeune, modeling will continue at the Training Center, 500 W. 36th St., on Chicago's near South Side. Under construction in the new tank turret assembly plant is a huge drill floor, basketball, tennis and volley ball courts, a target, .22 rifle range, classrooms, offices and locker rooms, showers.

Members of Chicago's 1st 90 Gun Battalion include Master Sergeant Joseph Lenert, of 2144 West Roosevelt Rd., Chicago, Ill., commandant of the Illinois Dept. of the Marine Corps League; First Lieutenant in Quirk, of 7212 Constance St., Chicago, Ill., twice awarded Purple Heart Medal and winner of the Navy Cross for outstanding heroism at Boughville, and Sergeant Joseph Zarlega, of 1428 Ridgeway Ave., Chicago, Ill., a survivor of the heroic defense of Iwo Jima, who spent nearly four years in Japanese prison camps.

Honorman

Corporal Robert J. King of H&S 2nd Battalion, 6th Marines, took high honors in the last Division Supply School course which ended in the usual formality last day at Bldg. 301.

Lieutenant Colonel F. T. Eagan, Division Supply School Officer, extended his appreciation and gratification to the class.

...to the class of 22 men. After a brief talk by the Colonel, the graduation certificates were issued. Corporal King, leading the class

June Safe Drivers Receive Awards

The monthly presentation of safe drivers awards was made in the officers and civilian categories. Mrs. H. E. LeMay, wife of Chaplain LeMay of the U. S. Naval Hospital, received the award in the officer division. Mr. E. W. Williams, of the Electric Shop of Camp Maintenance received the civilian award.

Recipients for the safe drivers awards are chosen each month by members of the Safety Council who observe Camp Lejeune drivers. The winners of the driving awards receive a letter from the Commanding General and an automobile disc which denotes their ability to keep our highways safe.

restrictions barring color blindness and certain dental deficiencies as cause of rejection for enlistment.

First Marine to be discharged and reenlisted under the new ALMAR was Master Sergeant Gerald P. "Mickey" Finn, First Sergeant of Service Battery, Tenth Marines. Finn, who recently reported to the Second Marine Division, was formerly with the Third Marine Corps Reserve District in New York. He first enlisted in the Corps in 1937, and his exploits from Boston to Shanghai have become almost legendary in the Corps. Finn isn't the only Marine in his quarters at 3138 Lee Ave., Midway Park, as his wife is the former Technical Sgt. Marguerite Heavey, ex-sergeant-major of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve Squadron, Marine Corps Air Station, Mojave, Calif.

The first reservist assigned extended active duty was Private First Class Donald G. Tobin, 23, of Maspeth, L. I., New York. He served in the Navy from 1944 until 1946, and enlisted in the Marine Corps on Apr. 14, 1947 for a three-year hitch. Upon discharge, he joined the Volunteer Reserve. A graduate of Cook's and Bakers School here, Tobin will be a cook at Marine Barracks.

Reports on the number of men accepting discharge and reenlistment under provisions of the new ALMAR are yet incomplete. At Monday noon, the Sixth Marines led with 61 men being processed. Headquarters and Service Battalion followed with 56, with the Tenth Marines shipping over 35 men. Division Headquarters Company will process 33 men and Reconnaissance Company, 6. Other units have not yet consolidated reports.

read, a place to write, or just to sit and be at home.

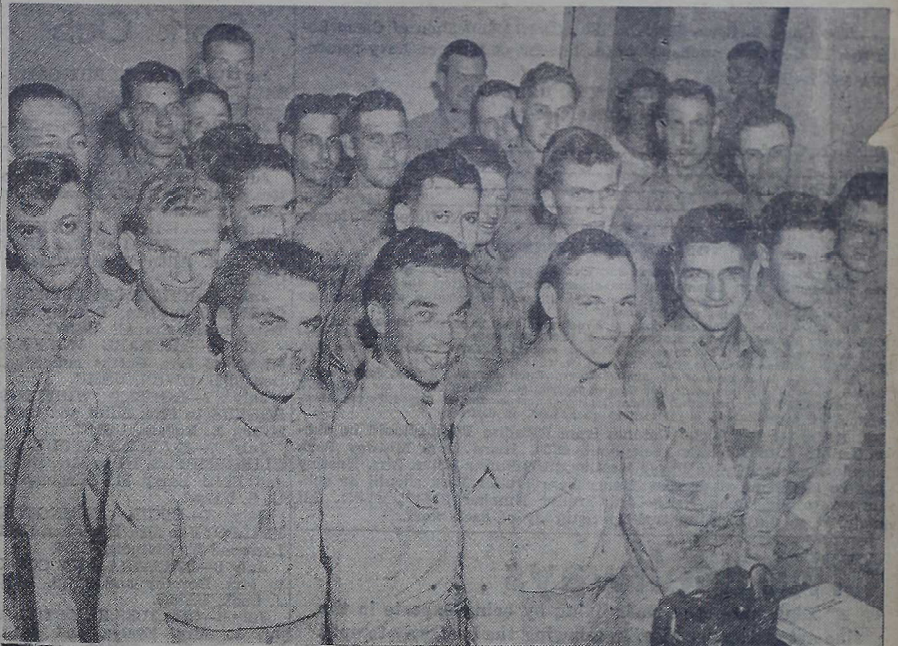

When you are on the streets of Jacksonville in the evenings, you will probably see Rev. Carl B. Craig, Presbyterian pastor, who may stop you and give you a little card of invitation to the Presbyterian Recreation Center. Do not throw it away. Put it in your pocket, or pass it on to some other serviceman.

We cordially invite you to Presbyterian Recreation Center. Thousands of Marines, Navy men, and Coastguardsmen have liked our Center and felt at home there. We hope you will. Come to our OPEN HOUSE Friday night, July 20, and every other night that you will.

Reserve

Saunders. Captain Justin B. Johnson is the Inspector-Instructor.

One of the "veteran" Organized Reserve units to be at Camp Lejeune will be the 17th Infantry Battalion from Dearborn, Mich. Headquarters, A and C Companies will be from Detroit and B Company will be from Dearborn. Some 400 officers and men will come from the Motor City and its suburbs, commanded by Lieut. Col. F. R. Smith.

The First 155mm Howitzer Battalion of Philadelphia, another of the Organized Reserve units to arrive over the weekend, was also activated in the fall of 1946 and will bring approximately 30 officers and 320 enlisted men to Camp Lejeune. It will be commanded by Lieut. Col. George B. Wilson Jr.

The 15th Engineer Company from Lynn, Mass., will be under the command of Major Robert F. Dole, 10 Sherman Terrace, and will have 170 officers and men. The unit was activated in August 1947, trained at Lejeune the following summer and went to Little Creek, Va., last year for specialized amphibious training. It is well known for its excellent drill attendance, placing second nationally in 1948 and fifth in 1949. Its recent attendance has merited an "Outstanding" from Headquarters, Marine Corps.

A few months ago the Lynn Marine Engineers received national news coverage for the dawn-to-dusk construction on volunteer time of a community skating rink and wading pool at Beverly, Mass. Starting in the morning, the Marine Engineers cleared a 40,000-square foot area, constructed a log and concrete dam and finished off the day with a 25-foot vehicle bridge.

One of the outstanding Reserve Signal Companies in the Marine Corps Reserve is the 14th from Brooklyn, N. Y., another unit that will arrive over the weekend. It will be commanded by Major Herbert H. Hawkins and will consist chiefly of telephone and telegraph

Lejeune Reserve First To Reenlist Under New ALMAR

The first Marine Reservist walked into Headquarters and Service Battalion, Marine Barracks, last Thursday morning and took advantage of the ALMAR 8, stipulating that a member of the Reserves may enlist in the Marine Corps for one year active service with regular benefits attached.

He was Private First Class Donald G. Tobin, 23 years old of Long Island, N. Y. Tobin apparently knew what he wanted when he first heard of the new ALMAR. He has served with the Navy and with the Marine Corps in the past six years. In 1944 he enlisted in the Navy, serving aboard the USS Montauk (Landing Ship Vehicles), operating in and around Okinawan waters. When he was discharged in 1946 he took a short breather and decided to try his hand in the Marines.

In April of 1947, Tobin enlisted in the Corps, shortly to find himself in a Marine Garrison Force at Pearl Harbor. Later he was transferred to the FMF on Guam. His last duty station while in the Regulars was at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, from where he was discharged.

While he was stationed here at Camp Lejeune, he attended the Cooks and Bakers School. Ever since then his duties have been in that position, and take it from Pfc. Tobin, there are no gripes. At this moment you'll probably find him in Mess Hall 9, preparing a tasty dish for the hungry troops.

company technicians from New York City and Brooklyn. The 14th has a strength of around 225 officers and men and has a radio section in its organization.

The Halfways . . .

Diplomats earn their living by being experts in the fine art of compromise. In knowing the best way to split the difference they are able to avoid wars, and to reach agreements.

Some of us live lives of compromise. All things are relative, it is said. Using this premise, conclusions of a strange sort are reached: "Stealing from a poor man is evil, because he needs the little he has so badly. Stealing from a rich man is forgivable; he has more than I, and he won't miss it anyhow."

If all things are relative, perhaps the above statements are true. They are not. Stealing is absolutely wrong. If a man steals $10,000 he is a thief. If he steals 5 cigarettes from a sleeping comrade, he is a thief. In the same way, one cannot be half clean. Either a man is clean, or he is dirty.

"Be true to yourself." This is an excellent, if difficult, code by which to live. When a man tries to compromise absolutes, he is being untrue to himself. The job is not "good enough." It is either well done or sloppy. All of us believe that a Marine should dress sharply and according to regulations. The unshaven jerk with the sea-bag press believes it too—but what the heck, he was just going to the movies on the post; who's going to see him?

There is a phrase which is popular among the Peer Gynts, the compromisers: "Just this once." One drinking bout doesn't make a drunkard, a few rude words do not mean he is a boor, a friend betrayed, just once, does not make him a Judas. But just once leads to "Just once more," and so on, until a man sells out everything worthwhile within him.

This way of life is dangerous. Not only because a man gradually loses his integrity, but because he must constantly deceive himself. Then one dark night our Peer Gynt will lie alone in a room. This time there will be no radio to lull his senses, no movies to distract him, no friends to jolly him along. And suddenly, as if a veil were torn away, he will see himself as he has become.

Some things are absolutely true. We know what they are. These things are hard, unbending, and ever present. By avoiding them we run the risk of self-destruction. "Just this once," and "Good enough," are treacherous. We must be true to ourselves.

Chaplain's Corner

"Eyes Right" shouted the sergeant to his group of colored recruits as he was training them in the snafu at military commands. He went through the motions perfectly but one little colored boy didn't move. The sergeant fumed and grinding his teeth came to the "boot" and belched at him. "I told you eyes right!" The colored boy with a timid grin on his face said, "Yo sho is, boss."

Amazing, how one individual cannot do anything without actions reflecting on a whole group. Same as a pimple on the nose of a beautiful girl will mar all her features, one loud-mouth will affect the morale of a whole team; one gripping choice word will spoil the meal of a dozen around him; a few out-of-line in a parade will spoil the whole parade; a little dirt in one spot will make the entire parade unsightly; one slightly inebriated on liberty will cause onlookers to say, "They're all alike."

Couldn't something stop us from forgetting how important our friends are to our buddies, our friends, and the whole corps.

A. L. GENDRON
Catholic Chaplain

Did you know that since Camp Lejeune's inception, every endeavor has been made to preserve the natural beauty of this historic region. Trees have been left standing wherever possible; over 200,000 azalea plants bloom yearly; 1,200 maple, live oak, cherry and holly trees have been planted?

Women's Golf News

The Women's Golf Committee of the Officers Wives Club met on Friday, July 8, for a formal business meeting. Mrs. Ray A. Robinson was present for an informal introduction to the golf playing group.

Mrs. Carl K. Youngkin was elected to the office of Chairman to replace Mrs. George L. Cermak, who is leaving Camp Lejeune. Mrs.
 Cermak was presented with a beautiful silver tray in appreciation of her work as former chairman of the committee.

Also elected to office was Mrs.
 R. E. Lorigan as Secretary, and Mrs. W. M. Dierker as Treasurer.
 Mrs. R. M. Fawell and Mrs. R. F.
 Gotko were appointed as a committee for publicity. Mrs. W. R.
 O'Quinn and Mrs. W. M. Dierker committee for tournaments, and Mrs. J. F. Keenan in charge of handicaps.

There will be two tournaments held during the month of July.
 The first to be the Criers Tournament on the 19th, and the Low Score One-Half Handicap Tournament on the 26th. These tournaments will be played on the second nine of the No. 2 course with tee off time being at 0900 and 1300.

Prize awards for the June tournaments were made to Mrs. W.
 R. O'Quinn, Mrs. W. M. Dierker,
 Mrs. R. M. Fawell, Mrs. C. K.
 Youngkin, Mrs. R. F. Gotko, Mrs.
 R. Miller, Mrs. R. E. Lorigan and Mrs. R. Taylor.

The August business meeting will be held at Onslow Beach at 2 p.m., Wednesday, August 2.
 Starting time on that date will be at 9 a.m.

There will be swimming and an informal Dutch Luncheon at the beach. Members are privileged to bring their children for this outing.
 Anyone needing transportation may contact Mrs. R. M. Fawell or Mrs.
 Bosshard, telephones 6361 or 6462.

All members of the Officers Wives Club interested in playing golf are requested to call Mrs.
 Youngkin, telephone 6234 for details.

Women (CONT. FROM PAGE D)

190 women will be similar to pro-ceedure outlined in ALMAR Eight for the active-duty assignment of male reservists.

Women who did not enlist in the Volunteer Reserve upon discharge will be appointed to ranks similar to male reservists as outlined in ALMAR Eight.

All of Camp Lejeune's women Marines will be recruited from states East of the Mississippi.

Midway Park

By Recreational Director

With Fall not far distant, plans are now being made to carry on our Scout program but the plans of Mice and Men are for-naught if we do not have sufficient help. This is a call to all women interested in doing work that proves most gratifying. We need Girl Scout leaders. If you have never done this work do not let that interfere as we will help you.
 If you like children and are community minded that is all that is required. Call Mrs. Shaw 2676 or Mrs. Heavey 2316.

The Woman's Club of Midway
 Park will meet on Monday evening
 July 24th at 8 p.m. at the Community Building.

Each Sunday morning the Fellowship Bible Class meets in the Community Building at 10 a.m.
 This is a group of men and women who meet to worship and to learn more about the Bible. Mrs. Smith instructs this group. You are cordially invited to come in and become a member of this class.

The Cub Scout meeting on Monday evening July 17th was not well attended. We realize that weather and vacation time had a great deal to do with the poor turn out. There will be NO Scout meeting the month of August. The meeting in September will work in coordination with a membership drive for all Scouts.

 we can settle down to the routine procedure of enjoying ourselves.
 The new house committee is planning a long range entertainment program that has all the ear marks of being both pleasant and enjoyable. Surprises are in order so you nice people don't wander so far away that you might miss the call.
 This week, namely Wednesday Evening the club will present The Boston Bagpipers. This promises to be different from the usual presentations. Come see and enjoy the music of kings. Thursday 20 July, we have a return engagement with Gerry Gladdan, dance music sans the floor show.

Did you notice that all the lover boys are receiving their due share of publicity on the back page of the Globe. We're glad to see the spirit that makes this possible and whole heartedly encourage its continuance.

Bingo Monday nite for all its distance from payday was not a total loss. The play was not heavy but the spirit was obviously present. Winner of the merchandise for the evening was MSGT David H. Murray. The coveted Jackpot, the big one that puts them in the aisles went to none other than Mrs.
 A. J. Ross. The wife of our new President Derby Ross. Keep coming and we'll do our best to show you the evening that you anticipate.

Staff NCO Wives Club News

By Peggy Keatley

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Staff Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club was held last Thursday, July 13, with the new President, Mrs. Ina Moore wielding the gavel.

The Chairman of the standing committees introduced themselves and their Committee members, and plans for the present six-month period were discussed.

The Nursery Project was the important business of the meeting.
 Mrs. Moore gave the report for Mrs. A. Cothran, Chairman of the Nursery Committee, in her absence. Building No. 307 has been assigned to the club for the Nursery, and twenty-five beds and two cribs, sheets, and rubber sheets have been obtained. Announcement of the opening date of this Nursery will come at an early date. Meanwhile, the temporary nursery operating in Midway Park is open on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. This nursery is for your use, and the attendants are competent, so don't hesitate to take advantage of it. Reservations may be made at 2759, Mrs. Stephenson.

The hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Alice Paige, Virginia Novack, Bernice Stickle, Mildred Zvirblis, and Margaret Martin. Their color scheme was red, white and blue for the 4th of July holiday. Spring garden flowers decorated the speakers table, and on the refreshment table a large red, white and blue drum filled with cookies was predominant. Small sandwiches, lime and orange sherbet punch was also served.

Band Concerts

The Second Marine Division
 Marine Band will give concerts on the 1st. Tuesday of each month from 1900 until 2000 in front of the Camp Hostess House.
 On the 3rd Wednesday of each month, band concerts will be presented from 1900 until 2000
 at the Officer's Mess Open Air Theater.

Sports At A Glance.....

By Corporal David X. Sharpe

PLEASED TA MEET'CHA. ....

Well, they've given me a column to bang away at now and this week I'm due to make my initial little noises. Some of these things might be all right, and I'm pretty sure some of them won't make you walk around in a trance because of some literary "message" they've conveyed to you. But... I'll be trying. All you have to do is "be reading" once in awhile, and I'll be a happy guy. Thanks. But, we've got a lot of space to fill, so let's get on about our business. . . .

I know it's pretty bad ethics, going right into a literary crusade of my own on my first trip to the wars, but for some uncharitable reason, I rather feel that what I am about to say should have been said a few moons back.

We don't want to get maudlin over the affair. We'll just try to get something across here. It might be possible.

WE'RE OFF. ....

One of the world's numerous wrinkled and wise philosophers was having his nickel beer down at the corner saloon one day, and he came up with some sage utterance or other that happened to stick. It must have stuck for quite awhile, because if you read the right books, it's not too hard to find.

Getting specific, that guy was Victor Hugo. He said, and I humbly quote, "I would rather be hissed for a good line than applauded for a bad one." Don't get me wrong now, Mac. Above all, I don't want to be hissed at. It's just the idea. I think these next couple lines are pretty good ones, myself. At least what they try to say is good.

You know, when I was a little shaver, I oftimes used to grab the old, scuffed-up, sixty-cent ball glove out of the closet after supper, and galloped off down to the corner to play a little "catch." There were a lot of little guys like me around that corner, and once in a while we'd get some semblance of a game going.

And whenever those sandlot games were underway, the best part of the contest was the crowd, when, and if, they gathered.

Yup, that crowd's the best part of it all.

And it's a funny thing. That crowd's the best part of it all to any ball player, be he Boston's fabulous Ted Williams, or Joe DiMaggio, the million-dollar Yankee Clipper. To all of 'em, that crowd is always the best part of it all.

Well, like I said I would, I've rambled on for half a column here, and maybe I haven't said much of anything, and maybe I have. What I wanted to say could have been much shorter. You see, Mac, that crowd isn't the best part of it all here.

There isn't any. But maybe I shouldn't have taken up your time. Maybe you're one of those who's out there at Varsity Field every game. If you are, please excuse me, and let's get onto other topics.

THE EXCEPTIONAL ATLANTAN
Now a definite fixture in Lejeune's center garden, Chuggin' Charley Beall cemented himself even more firmly in that position with his unbelievably brilliant performance during the Quantico series.

One of a pair of Georgia's gifts to Lejeune's diamond denizens (other being coach Moe Zorn), Beall bashed into the centerfield wall of Quantico's Hall of Swat to make a catch that is still tearing hair on the Quantico squad. Although the stands were far from packed, due to the late inning and the one-sidedness of the score, the ovation given Beall was thunderous, and was still very much in evidence when Charley walked to the plate for his last turn at bat.

Stan Sidloski came to bat in the eighth, leading off the frame. Now Stanley, if you've been wondering, is Quantico's number one ball-basher—home run king, in terms of the laymen. He poked a two-two pitch, and it was labeled "Four Bases, Mac" from the crack of the bat. But Mrs. Beall's boy, you will recall, was in centerfield.

Beall turned his back towards home plate and took off. The ball

Two Lts. Share Athletic Reins

With the transfer of Capt. James A. Gallo to MCS, Quantico, the Camp Lejeune Athletic Office has set up a new system. There are now two distinct departments, with 1st Lt. Edmond Durning acting as head of all varsity athletic programs, and 1st Lt. Joseph M. Vosmik in charge of intramural functionings.

Lt. Durning, who will handle the varsity schedules, arrangements, etc., for Lejeune, originally hails from Chicago, Ill. Lt. Vosmik, well-known to close followers of service sport for his football days at Quantico in '47 and '48, is from Cleveland, Ohio.

Both men have recently returned from the Special Services School at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Lt. Vosmik is also the former coach of the 10th Marines baseball team. He was formerly Executive Officer of "H" Battery, 10th Marines.

Lt. Durning is the former Commanding Officer of Casual Company, Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune.

and he converged immediately over the center field barrier. Beall—from the hips up—went over the wall with the ball. His legs dangled, and a split-second later, Beall snapped upright again, ball held high in his gloved hand.

The stands, to a man, shot to their feet, roaring in acclamation. And applauding as vehemently as any was Major General F. A. Hart, now commandant of MCS there.

An indication of the catch's brilliance—Beall was forced to tip his cap four times before the din finally agreed to subside a bit.

Even though we're back at Camp Lejeune now, our hats still go off to Charley Beall, centerfielder superb.

Opening Of Grid Sessions Set Up

According to an announcement by head coach, Major Bruno J. Andruska, Camp Lejeune's 1950 football squad will stage their initial practice on 7 August, at 1:30 p.m. Two weeks later the varsity will move into all-day sessions, thence into the regular season's schedule.

With 23 lettermen returning from the power-laden 1949 edition which was runner-up for the East Coast All-Navy crown, a widely heralded keenness of competition is expected. But a wealth of new talent is needed to fill numerous gaps left by departing Leathernecks, and even the little experienced are invited out for trials.

Noted for its miniature Maginot Line in '49, Lejeune needs fresh talent to maintain that formidable forward wall. Coach Andruska molded last year's line from a majority of men with very little actual grid experience, and is expected by all observers to pull a repeat performance for the '50 schedule.

In the backfield, the loss of Dick Stein, the late Frank Maksin, and Tex Serres, has hit very hard, and there are numerous openings available to men trying out for backfield berths.

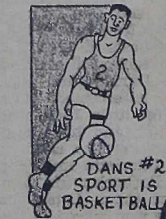

A schedule even more attractive than that of 1949 is being prepared for the coming season, and will be released in the near future.

Locals Whip MCI To Get 22nd Win

With George Chambers returning to a starting role in fine style, the Camp Lejeune Marines once again broke even on the road as they whipped the Marine Corps Institute in the current tour's finale, 10-5.

Getting back on the winning side of the ledger after their twin defeat at Quantico, the locals smashed 11 hits in winning their 22nd game of the season. Ever-optimistic Lejeune bats, silent in awe against Quantico hurling, came alive once again in the MCI contest, with Nels Hoerner and Fritz Becker each getting two hits to lead the revamped line-up.

George Chambers struck out 10 MCI batters in posting his third win of the year, and allowed but three earned runs in going the route.

The Marine Corps Institute nine jumped to a first-inning, 3-0 lead, but Lejeune power progressed as the game wore on, and came to a head in the sixth, seventh and eighth as the locals collected nine of their ten runs.

Larry Muska, Lejeune shortstop, scored the first Lejeune run of the day in the third, when he came home on Nels Hoerner's single to center field. Muska's tally made it a 3-1 ball game.

Neither side scored again until the sixth, when Lejeune collected two runs on Becker's hit and two MCI bobbles. In the seventh, Zorn was safe at first on a fielder's choice, putting one on and one way. Then came four successive singles by Rice, Hoerner, Peiritsch and Dunbury, accounting for four big Lejeune runs, and making it a 7-3 scoreboard, with Lejeune on top.

The MCI crew scored twice in the bottom of the seventh, but Camp Lejeune came back for three more in the eighth to put the game on ice.

First Division Reunion

The final meeting of former members of the First Marine Division to discuss business in connection with the Third Annual Reunion, will be held at the Camp Theater at 1600, 1 August.

as the Devildogs from the River Base smashed the Frank Masso from the first inning of play and 14 runs in the first 11.

Morris came on in relief quite effective against the crew, but the damage done.

Frank Wall, Quantico held the locals to this addition to putting on greatest shows of games in many moons. Wall went tenth game of the year left hand in a cast, p broken finger. He b only one arm, but slay single and got an RBI official trips. Larry M Hoerner and Pete Peiritsch the three Lejeune themselves evenly.

The single Lejeune in the seventh inning, saw Lejeune's three-hit shape. Muska led off with and Beall walked. Hoer but Muska was cut off by Iitich's throw. Beall to second, however, seconds later on Peirits into center field.

The second set-to was better, as Lejeune Virginians, nine to eight, not bunch those base hit a big inning in any fra Quantico grouped five a fifth frame spurge robbed of a sure homer Beall's miraculous stab 325 foot mark at the wall in the first game. 17th round-tripper of highlight that inning, bagger came with aboard.

The Camp Lejeune in the eighth, when peter's line single to cen Beall across.

Leading Lejeune's m tack were Dick Spaeth singles in three trips, Peiritsch, with two for, also one-base blows.

Ted McCollum, who w Chambers relieved hi eighth, lost his seventh year, against six Chambers caused no sternation in Quantico his relief role, striking batters who faced hi eighth.

Did you know that at Lejeune, the Home of the ond Marine Division the giant swimming pools? They are 110 feet long and 60 and are used for teaching combat methods in wat as being used for recrea poses.

Wild Bill Gennetts In Action

Tankers Pull Upset Of Season In Knocking Off League Leaders

Number "13" proved to be the nemesis of the Second Marines baseball team, as their 13 game winning streak was broken on the 13th of July by the Second Tank Battalion by the score of 10 to 4.

It was the first defeat of the season for the Second Marines as the indignant Tank Battalion, exploded the growing belief that the Second Marines were infallible and could not be stopped by the American League Teams.

Triple Play Fails To Halt Trojans In 5-3 Victory

A triple play, the first in Intramural league competition, failed to stop the Trojans of the Second Combat Service Group last week as they pounded out a 5-3 win over the Sixth Marines.

With two men on base, a sharp ball was hit to the infield. Quickly scooping up the ball a double play was made on the batter and man on first. Menifee, Trojan speedster, trying to come home on the hit was tossed out. When the dust had settled, all hands suddenly realized that a baseball rarity had been accomplished, a triple play.

The triple play did little to phase the last years Camp Intramural champs. Coming from behind in the late innings, the Group Trojans pushed across more than enough runs to win the game. Murphy was on the mound for the Trojans and proved himself master of all situations that arose.

With this win, coupled with the previous wins, the Group Trojans are still on the way toward adding another trophy to their growing list.

From the opening frame, the Tankers proceeded to roll over the opposition, gathering 1 in the first, 7 in the second, 2 in the third, and 1 in the fifth, for a total of ten big runs.

The Second Marines used three pitchers, to no avail, as the Tankers provided excellent support for their hurler "Wild Bill" Bolton who handcuffed the "Slugging Second" until the last frame when the Second Marines scored 3 of their 4 runs.

In the first inning the Second Marines loaded the bases with only one out. It was then that the Tankers uncovered their fierce determination to break the streak of the second, by producing a fast double play . . . Magden to Grivas to Visnic . . . second to short to first.

Mickey Grivas, Tanker shortstop, led the hitting attack with 3 for 4. Visnic, first baseman, garnered 2 for 4, and Hendricks, left fielder, got 2 for 3 trips to the plate. Maloney, the backstop for the Tankers, played an outstanding game, throwing out several runners attempting to steal.

The Second Marines fought all the way till the final frame, but were unable to overcome the tremendous lead of the Tankers. Holmes, right fielder for the Second, made two very nice catches to rob the Tankers of

INTRODUCTION. . . .

I've got a new job. . . . From now on the Inter-Battalion sports are going to occupy one full page of the GLOBE. Besides having one of the largest programs in the service, Camp Lejeune's Inter-Battalion sports have reached their height in the past two seasons.

Morale Runs High On Second Marine Baseball Squad

Suffering their first defeat last Thursday afternoon against the Tankers, the Second Marine Intramural Baseball nine still stands as a "top team" for the American League pennant.

After racking up 13 consecutive victories in this season's Intramural league, the defeat came as a surprise to the Second Marine Team with a score of 10-4. The Second recently lost a half-dozen players due to expiration of enlistments, and several were lost via the varsity. However, with the loss of these players along with last Thursday's defeat, the Second Marines morale is still high.

Following Thursday's game, the Second Marines met Headquarters Battalion on Friday and defeated them by the score of 9-2. Several homers were scored in the sixth frame, one by Hall and another by Holmes. This win put the Second Marines back on schedule.

There is no doubt but that the Second Marines will stay in the limelight with Capt. Frank Tatum, coach, and Chaplain Glynn Jones, asst. coach. With such coaching, it is definite that the Second is in to stay, this is a proven factor by their past effort to place their team first.

The Second Marines will meet Ordnance Battalion tomorrow afternoon at 1500 on Field No. 76.

two long hits.

Though their outfield gave them very good support, the Second Marine pitchers could not halt the onrushing Tankers, who, under the leadership of their Coach, Lieutenant T. D. Brown, took the greatest of pleasure in placing a large numeral 1 in the loss column of the Second Marines.

This department is going to bring to you Battalion sports fans, the complete game coverage and short stories about the guys in your outfit, the "little sportsmen" of the base.

FAN WRITES IN. . . .

In Monday mornings' mail, we received a letter from an ardent Inter-Battalion baseball fan. He dropped us a line in regards to the forthcoming All-Star game next month. . . . "In view of the fact that I was never graced with any amount of athletic powers I am forced to get a thrill out of sports by watching them. I am a regular reader of your column and happen to read in your last one that there are plans for an All-Star game next month. Can't say as I approve of the proposed method for selecting the players. The method has plenty of loopholes. First of all, the larger organizations will no doubt place the most players—mainly because they have more potential votes—in that particular organization. Second, the players themselves could obtain more copies of the GLOBE and stuff the ballot box with their own names and those of their buddies. Third, there aren't many fans who know the names of any players besides those on the team of their own organization, thus giving the largest organization the most votes. I think that it would be much better if the coaches and managers of the squads were to select the All-Star players."

The writer went on to make his selections for the game, and concluded with a short P.S., "That All-Star game is a swell idea. We need something like that on this base."

Now that's what this column wants to hear, what you think of the All-Star game.

A LITTLE TOO LATE . . .

Just when the Second Marine nine looked unbeatable, the Tankers restored hope for the American League teams last week by pulling off the "upset of the season" in downing the strong Second, 10-4. But it seems the loss for the Second came a little too late. With only three games left for the Second to play before closing out their season, they are now three full games in the lead of the American League.

SAME PICTURE IN NATIONAL

Over in the National league, it looks the same. The "Trojans" from the Combat Service Group are on the verge of capturing their second straight league title. The Trojans are also leading their league by three full games.

SOFTBALL. . . .

While the baseball leagues are about to close shop, the Inter-Battalion Softball leagues are still in the middle stage of their season. Play in the softball leagues will not be completed until the middle of August.

BATTALION BITS. . . .

Votes are still coming in slow for the All-Star game. Clip this week's ballot out of the GLOBE and make your selection.

Did you know that Camp Lejeune was named in honor of Lieutenant General John Archer Lejeune, former Commandant of the Marine Corps and Commanding General of the renowned Second Army Division during the First World War?

Golf Notice

The tournament committee has announced that there will be a Point for Par tournament played this weekend.

All Golf will be played on No. 2 course for approximately two weeks due to the amount of rain the past month.

This is the official All-Star ballot from which the American and National League All-Star teams will be named. You should clip this ballot out, fill in your selection, and deposit the ballot in the ALL-STAR BALLOT BOX LOCATED IN THE CAMP THEATER.

Patient Of The Week

Kenneth Baerga, Pfc., U.S. Marine Corps, who proudly hails from Bronx, where he was born on May, 1932, is a little past 18 years of age, but he is somewhat confused about things.

"I graduated from the Theodore Roosevelt High School in the Bronx," said Kenneth. "I thought I wanted to be a newspaper writer, so I did what I guess you call 'specialized' in journalism. Now, I don't know whether that's what I want or not."

Now, because of Kenneth's enthusiasm about picture-making, maybe we are getting the cart before the horse, so to speak. Let's retract a little.

Kenneth's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Baerga, of New York City, "the Bronx, you know." That's where this Marine was born, and they played in the streets what he calls "switch baseball, using a broom."

Movie Review As It Appears This Week

Melodrama—Crandall, ex-World War flyer, gets into a scrape in a Sidney cafe, which leads to murder. He escapes by plane and is forced down in Samoa when a hurricane comes up.

Western—Against tremendously impressive mountainous backdrops filmed in spanning Cinecolor, Randolph Scott, George "Gabby" Hayes, Bill Williams, Karin Booth and Victor Jory head a large cast assembled by producer Nat Holt in bringing to the screen the hitherto untold story of British Columbia's Cariboo country after the gold rush which occurred between the California and Klondike strikes.

Drama of the Southwest—"The Furies" was a gigantic cattle ranch in the southwest owned by Walter Huston before the turn of the century, according to the story, but this picture can by no stretch of the imagination be described as an action Western.

No information available. Emyln Williams and Eve Arden are the featured players.

Adventure—This is the story of six people who set out to climb the steepest mountain in the world. The loves and hates within this group are brought into intense focus as each strives with all of his being to find the summit and his own destiny.

Musical—Another excellent vaudeville show, but don't look for a plot. The line-up boasts Fred Astaire with Vera-Ellen doing some mighty fine song and dance routines; and Red Skelton who is much less boisterous than usual—thank heaven! Luah Ariene Dahl wanders around, and she needs no explanation. This movie is like a lot that went before, none the less it is a fine evening's entertainment.

he wants to get out and go to College—and he has picked Fordham University as his choice. Very good.

"But I don't know whether I will change my mind or not after three years," he said. "The way things are now none of us know what may happen. I may re-enlist, but I'm not saying so definitely. It all depends on how things are a couple of years from now. But still, I want to go to Fordham!"

After his boot training, Baerga was assigned to AES No. 46 at Cherry Point. That's Aircraft Engineering Squadron for the uninformed—like myself!

On 1 April, while on duty, Kenneth's trousers caught fire, and as a result he suffered severe burns. On 20 May he was sent to the Naval Hospital for further treatment and skin-grafting, and he has no idea when he will be released, although he is doing very well, and is getting about on crutches and in a wheel chair.

In Theodore Roosevelt High Kenneth was a star halfback on the football team. It's name? "The Rough Riders," which was just what "Teddy" Roosevelt would have liked had he been around to see some of the games the school team played.

He also likes to play baseball and basketball and another hobby of his right now is ship building—model ships, that is—five of which he has put together and presented to the Hospital Red Cross staff since he has been here. They are all mightily good models, too, and he is not the only one who is proud of them.

"You might also say that one of his best hobbies is giving candy to the nurse's on duty in Ward 15," broke in Nurse Atkinson with that fascinating smile of hers.

There's nothing whatever wrong with that, Kenneth. Don't let it worry you a bit. We have even been known to pass out chewing-gum to the nurses in the hospital, and we haven't yet been shipped down for it!

Congratulations, Kenneth, and whether you wind up your career as a journalist or a newspaper photographer or what—you will be a credit to the profession. Of that we are sure. With your personality, good looks, and cold black hair—you are likely to wind up in Hollywood!

Reserve Ground Control Intercept Squadron

Marine Reserve Capt. Wade W. Larkin, left, commanding officer of Marine Ground Control Intercept Squadron-16, Minneapolis, Minn., discusses details of the Marine Corps Reserve Air Warning Net with Capt. John F. Lumbert, reserve commanding officer of MGCIS-25, whose home base is at NAS, Columbus, Ohio.

El Toro's Transport 353 airlifted Squadron into Cherry Point, they were driven here.

The squadron is part of its fourth summer training and is up to full strength. Almost 75% of personnel are at Camp Lejeune.

At its home station works in conjunction with Fighter Squadrons 21 and 24, both of the Marine Corps Training Command.

Marine Ground Control Intercept Squadron-25 is based at Air Station, Columbus, Ohio, commanded by Capt. John F. Lumbert, it was flown to Peterfield Point by the planes of Squadron 153.

Although this squadron formed until October, lack of equipment kept it from being completely up to date. Early delivery of electronic equipment is anticipated, and ment of untrained personnel. At present, squadrons are mainly from now working in the field.

Eighty percent of Squadron personnel are now at Peterfield Point, according to the unit officer.

The majority of members of the squadrons are associated with radio and electronics. They are all technical professionals, veterans of all fighting fronts, large number of squadrons are college or technical school graduates.

Neither squadron is working equipment with are using the facilities of the unit, MGCIS-7, permanent at Peterfield Point.

The first week of the feature planned for the second week will be held by a round-the-clock net, manned by the two at Peterfield Point, to four similar reserve squadrons training at Cherry Point.

At the conclusion of both squadrons will return home stations in Marine Corps planes.
