History To Repeat ...

Marines Active In Korea; Bitter Fighting Ceases

"Han River forts, near Seoul, Korea, have surrendered to American Naval landing forces following vigorous attacks led by United States Marines.

"Landing parties from Rear Admiral John Rodgers' Asiatic Fleet stormed and captured three forts fiercely defended by several thousand screaming, fanatical Koreans.

"A total of 236 cannon and 47 standards were taken in the attacks."

Newspapers of June, 1879, bore a marked similarity to those of today when stories like the one above appeared throughout the nation, headlining fighting along the same Han river line that is the scene of action this week between North and South Korean forces.

Readers of 1879 had watched—just as their grandchildren have in recent weeks—the growing "critical situation" in the "Korean incident" with intense interest.

American ships had been wrecked, burned, and their crews massacred. French nationals had been murdered or driven from the country. A French expeditionary force had attempted to land and storm Korean defenses, but had been defeated.

President Grant had dispatched a mission, headed by A. A. Low, our minister to China, to Korea to "attempt to adjust difficulties and obtain assurance for the protection of Americans."

Escorted by Admiral Rodgers in his flagship, U.S.S. Colorado, with the U.S.S. Alaska and three smaller vessels, Mr. Low reached the west coast of Korea on May 19, where the squadron anchored off the mouth of the Han river. Representatives were sent upriver toward Seoul in an attempt to contact responsible Korean officials. The attempts

Blind Ex-Marine Gets A.B. Degree At Stanford Univ.

Palo Alto, Calif.—When William Linderfelt, 30-year-old blind student, walked onto the stage at Stanford University to receive his A. B. degree recently, his mind recalled the stumbling he did as a Marine in the infamous Death March out of Bataan.

His appearance on stage with his seeing-eye dog, Nip, brought spontaneous applause from a crowd of 12,000. It was recognition for the perseverance of Linderfelt who lost his eyesight through malnutrition in a Japanese prison camp. It was applause, too, because he is the first blind student ever admitted to the Stanford Law School.

Not only did Linderfelt maintain a good academic record, but his classroom notes were the envy of

Col. Good Promoted To BrigGen; Relieved By Col. Cresswell

The Second Marine Division had a new Chief of Staff Monday as Colonel L. B. Cresswell relieved Brigadier General G. F. Good, Jr., in the Division's top staff post.

This is the first tour of duty with the Second Marine Division for Col. Cresswell, who relieved General Good, Chief of Staff since June 14, 1948.

Colonel Cresswell, who won a Navy Cross at Guadalcanal with the First Marine Division, came to his new post from the Naval War College at Newport, R. I., where he recently completed the Senior Course.

In addition to the Navy Cross that he won at the Battle of the Tenaru, Col. Cresswell has been decorated with the Order of Orange-Nassau by Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands. The Dutch decoration was awarded for his services in training Netherlands Marines during World War II.

The new Chief of Staff was born at Lexington, Miss., on July 18, 1901, and received his education at the Tulane Military Institute and Mississippi State College. His military career began on June 21, 1924, when he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

From July to December, 1924, the colonel was a student at the Basic School, Marine Barracks, Philadelphia, Pa. His was the first class held there after the removal of the school from Quantico, Va., to Philadelphia.

Upon his graduation from the Basic School, Col. Cresswell was ordered to the 5th Marines at Quantico and served as a platoon leader and company commander before he was detached to Marine Barracks, Naval Operating Base, Hampton Roads, Va., in June, 1925.

After a year there as a detachment officer, the colonel was ordered to sea duty with the Marine Detachment of the USS Pennsylvania. Two years later he returned to shore duty at Quantico, this time as Commanding Officer, Barracks Detachment, and Provost Marshal.

In August, 1929, the colonel joined the Fourth Marines and served successively as a platoon leader, company commander, and Plans and Training Officer on the regimental staff of the famous China-side regiment.

Before returning to the United States in July, 1932, Col. Cresswell participated in the defense of the International Settlement when the Japanese attacked Shanghai that year.

From August, 1932, until June, 1933, the colonel was stationed with the Marine Detachment, Receiving Ship, Navy Yard, N. Y. He was next ordered to Quantico as a student at the equivalent of the present Junior Course, Amphibious Warfare School.

It was not until May, 1936, that he completed the course, however, Fulgencio Batista launched his famous "Sergeants' Revolt" in Cuba in 1933 and it appeared that Marines might be landed to protect American lives and property as disorder spread.

Colonel Cresswell's studies were interrupted from September, 1933, (See NEW CofS Page 2)

Enlisted To Commission

Until that day, Bailey was a master sergeant and Division supply chief. Receiving one of the first Limited Duty Only commissions in the supply field, he now becomes assistant to the Division Supply Officer.

MSgt. Jack Bailey Former 2nd Division Given Promotion; Commander Retires LDO Appointment

Among the first Limited Duty Only (LDO) officers appointed directly from enlisted rank was Second Lt. Jack F. Bailey, former Master Sergeant and ex-Division Supply Chief. In the past, most LDO appointments were tendered temporary commissioned officers, warrant and commissioned warrant officers.

Lieutenant Col. F. T. Egan, Division Supply Officer, administered the oath of office to Lieutenant Bailey in the Colonel's office on July 1. Bailey, commissioned in the Supply field, remains on duty at the Division Supply Office.

With over twelve years' Marine Corps service, Lieutenant Bailey participated in fighting at Bataan and Corregidor, where he was once wounded. However, he holds two Purple Hearts, as he was the only man in the service during World War II to receive a Purple Heart Citation for gallant action without wounds. He received the decoration for halting the spread of a fire in a Philippine ammunition dump in April, 1942. After two years in the Philippines as a prisoner of war, he was evacuated to Japan where he remained until liberated in 1945.

The Hoosier-state Leatherneck came to the Second Marine Division from the Naval Ordnance Plant, Detroit, Mich. While here, Bailey instituted a new and simplified system of company and battery supply records, now in use throughout the division. He also consolidated and cross-indexed all supply directives into one understandable source pamphlet. For these tasks, he received a letter of commendation from Maj. General Franklin A. Hart, former Division Commander.

Lieutenant Bailey is married to the former Miss Evelyn E. Henderson, Utica, Mich. They now live at 3203 Lee Ave., Midway Park.

President Orders Air - Sea Forces To South Korea

(Editors Note: The following announcement was made by the President of the United States.)

"In Korea the government forces, which were armed to prevent boarder raids and to preserve internal security, were attacked by invading forces from North Korea. The Security Council of the United Nations called upon the invading troops to cease hostilities and to withdraw to the 38th parallel.

"This they have not done, but on the contrary have pressed the attack. The Security Council called upon all members of the United Nations to render every assistance to the United Nations in the execution of this resolution. In these circumstances I have ordered United States air and sea forces to give the Korean government troops cover and support.

"The attack upon Korea makes it plain beyond all doubt that communism has passed beyond the use of subversion to conquer independent nations and will now use armed invasion and war. It has defied the orders of the Security Council of the United Nations issued to preserve international peace and security. In these circumstances, the occupation of Formosa by Communist forces would be a direct threat to the security of the Pacific area and to United States forces performing their lawful and necessary functions in that area.

"Accordingly I have ordered the 7th Fleet to prevent any attack on Formosa. As a corollary of this action I am calling upon the Chinese government of Formosa to cease all air and sea operations against the mainland. The 7th Fleet will see that this is done. The determination of the future status of Formosa must await the restoration of security in the Pacific, a peace settlement with Japan, or consideration by the United Nations.

"I have also directed that United States forces in the Philippines be strengthened and that military assistance to the Philippine government be accelerated. "I have similarly directed acceleration in the furnishing of military assistance to the forces of France and the Association States in Indo-China and the dispatch of military mission to provide close working relations with those forces.

"I know that all members of the United Nations will consider carefully the consequences of this latest aggression in Korea in defiance of the charter of the United Nations. A return to the rule of force in international affairs would have far reaching effects. The United until August, 1935, while he was a company commander and soon leader in the infant Fleet Marine Force. No landing was during this period, however the colonel resumed his education in September, 1935. From Quantico, Col. Cresswell went to the Basic School at Delphi for a three-year duty as an instructor. In May he was ordered to sea duty this time as Commanding of the Marine Detachment Maryland.

In May, 1941, Col. Cresswell joined the First Marine Division. He served as Division Adjutant until January, 1942, when he assumed command of the 1st Battalion, 1st Marines.

He was still in command of the battalion when he won the Cross two weeks after the landing on Guadalcanal, but over to the 5th Marines as Executive Officer in January, 1943.

Ordered back to the States in the fall of 1943, Cresswell was placed in command of the Reserve Officers School, Quantico. In that capacity, responsible for training most young officers who entered the Marine Corps during the war.

Colonel Cresswell returned to the Pacific in April, 1945, to assume command of the 23rd Marines, a regiment of the 4th Marine Division. Japanese surrender came and he saw action with this unit.

In September, 1945, the was ordered to duty on the island of Commander, Marianas Navy command embracing the Pacific islands west of the Philippines. As Deputy Chief of Staff, Planning, Col. Cresswell organized the evacuation and repatriation of 175,000 Japanese civilians military personnel from the Philippines.

Colonel Cresswell returned to the United States in June, 1946, and commanded Marine Bases Eight and "I" sts., Washington, D. C., for two years before joining the Naval War College in 1949.

In addition to his personal decorations, Col. Cresswell is the Presidential Unit Citation with star; Marine Corps Expeditionary Medal; Yangtze River Medal; American Defense Medal with star; Asiatic-Pacific Area Campaign Medal with two stars; American Area Campaign Medal; and the World War II Victory Medal.

States will continue to uphold rule of law.

"I have instructed Ambassador (Warren R.) Austin, as the representative of the United States to the Security Council, to take these steps to the Council."

In The Spotlight

The spotlight of international affairs centers on the Far East. This map shows trouble spots mentioned by President Truman in his historical dictum on U. S. foreign policy. In Korea (1) our ground forces and Air Force are hammering away at the north communist invaders while in Formosa (2) the U. S. Seventh Fleet is prepared to halt any attempt at invasion. In the Philippines (3) military aid has been speeded up and assistance to French Indo-China (4) has been assured.

What's Your MOS?

There has been some difficulty experienced in locating Marines who have additional qualifications for assignment to duty as Rifle Marksmanship Instructors and Drill Instructors. The MOS's which identify such specialties must be assigned as additional MOS's, since being in category "B" they cannot be assigned as primary. However, it is apparent that in many commands, the additional qualifications are not being identified by assignment of additional MOS's in accordance with paragraph 6104, Marine Corps Manual. To enable the filling of requirements for Marines with certain qualifications, additional MOS's must be assigned in all instances where appropriate, entered in the records and reported accordingly, via Machine Accounting Procedures. (See Part B, paragraph 293, pages 27 and 28, General Order Number 47.)

In a recent check of the status of classification of enlisted Marines, it has been found that classification of military skills by primary MOS's has been very good. However, there are several points on which errors still are being made. These are the following:

Marines with MOS's below their pay grades. (Example: A Staff Sergeant with MOS 0143. This is an MOS suitable for a Corporal and Sergeant only. A Private First Class may have the MOS in accordance with paragraph 6102-2, Marine Corps Manual.)

Marines with MOS's above their pay grades. (Example: Corporal with MOS 0316. The rank spread for MOS 0316 is Staff Sergeant and Technical Sergeant. A Sergeant may have the MOS in accordance with paragraph 6102-3, Marine Corps Manual.)

Privates with MOS's other than basic. (Example: Private with MOS 0311. A Private First Class may have an MOS at the Corporal level. This precludes a Private having an MOS other than basic. Privates undergoing recruit training of course have MOS 9900.)

Marines with code numbers assigned which are not contained in the MOS Manual.

While the combined number of such errors applies to only 3% of the Marine Corps, it must still be remembered that the Marines who are misclassified cannot be considered for promotion, cannot be selected for reassignment, and cannot be properly replaced. The problem caused by such errors can be eliminated only by correction of the classification of the Marines concerned. The MOS's of all enlisted Marines on the rolls of each organization should be reviewed and, where errors in assignment of MOS's as stated above are found, corrective action should be taken.

Don't Worry

Wars and rumors of wars have a lot of us biting our fingernails down to the elbows these days. But a thinking person will admit that the international situation is beyond Joe Blow's control. Yet even when we know we can do nothing about it, we still worry.

An American Army officer who worked with Arab troops during the fighting in North Africa said that he couldn't ask for better soldiers. It was enough to turn a man's hair white to watch them walk through a mine field, tho'. They were no more worried than a bunch of kids playing hop-scotch. Let the mines explode where they may, what will happen will happen.

There is a story which is as old as the memory of any man. It tells of a king who lived let us say—in Basorah. This wheel had a faithful servant. One time the servant asked the king if he might have leave to go to his home in Podunk. The ruler asked for a reason. The slave said that Death was in the room and was staring at him.

"O.K.," said the king, "shove off." After the servant had gone, the king looked around, and sure enough, there was Death. "Why were you staring at my servant, Death?" asked the king.

"I was surprised to see him here," said Death,—"I have an appointment with him in Podunk!"

Futile worrying can bring you grey hairs and ulcers. When it is possible to come to grips with a problem, then thinking of the best way to cope with it is fine. Sitting and stewing never did anybody any good. Careful consideration and planning are not the same as worrying. When a man worries, he is losing control of himself. All of us have worried at one time or another. And none of us ever accomplished anything by it. Don't worry—play it cool!

ONE THING LEADS TO ANOTHER

A man in prison, according to an ancient legend, made his escape in a very unusual way. This man was locked in a high tower, so high that no one could reach it. In order to escape he decided he would pull two hairs out of his head every day and tie them together. After a while he was able to make a thread out of them. He let this thread out the window of his cell and a friend waiting below tied a silk thread to it. He was able to pull up the silk thread. To the end of that was tied a length of string. To the end of the string was tied a thin rope, and to the thin rope a thick one. Down this last rope the man made his escape.

It is often said "one thing leads to another". It is in just this manner that our lower natures and passions break loose. We keep them imprisoned, these tendencies all men have, that can break loose and destroy a man's character. For some it is the tendency to "blow up" in anger when crossed, for some it is matters of impurity, for some it is arrogance, for some it is selfishness, and so forth. Whatever it is, it is seldom the work of an instant. It is the steady accumulation of incidents, the progressive building of a bad habit by repeated acts. An alcoholic didn't become that way by getting drunk once; it was the result of repeated intoxications. A man that is known to be "sex-happy" didn't get that way by one immoral act; it was the result of repeated acts of impurity, first filthy language, then dirty books, and then the actual sin of impurity. A man who is habitually ill-tempered didn't get that way all of a sudden. It means previously having given way to anger when irritable, "barking" at a bewildered Pfc. perhaps, "jumpy" because the C. loose a blast at someone, and so on.

Habits are formed by repeated acts. A fighter is seldom kayoed by one punch, but by a series "softening" him up. Like the hairs that became a thread that became a string that became a rope, one thing leads to another. A good habit is acquired by many good acts, and a bad habit by many bad ones. The latter can and will destroy whatever there is of nobility and goodness in us.

There are only 63 recorded cases of quintuplets in all history (as of 1947). Any of these multiple births may be fraternal or identical. (The Dionnes are identical). At the last tally there were approximately 3,000,000 twins in the United States of which roughly one-fourth are identical. Twins are twice as much work!

Midway Park

Scouts Billy King and Mark Raney of Troop Number 90 have returned to their homes. They are literally bursting with news of ex- periences from their recent trip to Boy Scout Jamboree which was held at Valley Forge, Pa. The story will be broadcast on Thursday evening July 13th from WJNC at 9 p.m., DST.

The Junior Womans Club of Midway Park was compelled to postpone the Benefit Bingo Party scheduled for last Friday evening. This program will be carried out this Friday evening July 14th at 8 p.m., DST, in the Community Building.

The Senior Teen Age Club held a dance contest last Friday at the Community Building despite the inclement weather.

John Bowersox and Mary Hinson were the two recipients of first prize. There will be a dance prize contest held each month. So come in teen agers and compete and have a good time.

This Friday, July 14th, the Teen Age Club will have an outdoor weiner roast.

We are proud indeed of our Soap Box Derby contestants. The preliminary race was run list Wednes- day at Kinston, N. C. Our 5 boys, Benn Maynard Jr., Cyrus Huney- cutt; James Cunningham; Glen Baily and James Clark, all passed for driver and car and the judging was not easy. Every detail of the car was considered and Midway Park came thru 100%.

If any of our 5 boys win in the contest to be run on Wednesday July 12th at Kinston, they will be eligible to enter the National Race at Akron, Ohio, on August 13th.

We would like to have some moral support so come on to Kinston on July 12th at 3 p.m., EST, and help root for our boys.

Midway Park might well be proud of them.

6thMar Officers Honor Departing CO At Breakfast

On the morning of his last day as Commanding Officer of the Sixth Marines, Col. H. L. Litzen- berg, Jr., was the guest of honor at a breakfast given by the officers of the regiment.

More than 30 officers of the famous regiment were present in the Chinese Room of the Civilian Cafeteria on Friday morning to honor their departing chief. The only regimental unit not represent- ed was the 3rd Battalion, now serving in the Mediterranean with the Sixth Fleet.

"Although I leave you," Col. Litzenberg told them, "I would like to be considered still a mem- ber of the regiment."

In a short review of the regim- ent's history, the colonel cited the "very special spirit" of the Sixth Marines and noted that General Clifton B. Cates, Com- mandant of the Marine Corps, always inquires about the Sixth when he visits Camp Lejeune.

Although the 3rd Battalion was not represented at the breakfast, the colonel had a message from members of the unit embarked in the USS Salem, flagship of the Sixth Fleet, stating that they missed his leadership and wish- ing him "good luck".

Obviously deeply moved, the colonel read the message aloud to the assembled officers and ex- pressed his pride in the sentiments it contained.

In the course of his remarks, Col. Litzenberg conceded the necessity for disciplinary action at times but urged his listeners to be generous in rewarding good work.

"It doesn't take much," he point- ed out, "a few words of praise—a 'well done'."

Observing that "an instructor learns more than the men he in- structs", Col. Litzenberg thanked the officers of the Sixth for what he termed "the lessons you have taught me concerning leadership."

Colonel Litzenberg turned over his command to Col. R. N. Jordahl on Friday afternoon and assumed his new post of Division Inspector the following day.

He had commanded the Sixth Mar- ines since receiving its battle- streamered colors from Major General Franklin A. Hart at a reactivation of . . . 17,

Lt.Col King-Ensign Repasky Nuptial

The Catholic Chapel at Camp Lejeune was the scene of one of the most brilliant weddings of the season when Ensign Ruth Ann Repasky, USNH, Camp Lejeune and Lieutenant Colonel Howard E. King of the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point were married with full military and religious ceremony. The handsome couple treated more than two hundred of their friends to a mag- nificent reception at the Officers' Mess in Paradise Point after the rites. (Photo by Cpl. A. B. Smith.)

Ensign Repasky LtCol H. E. King Wed On Saturday

Ruth Ann Repasky, Ensign USN, (N.C.), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Repasky of Pittsburg, Pa., was married to Lieutenant Colonel Howard E. King, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. King of Medford, Oregon. The wedding was held on 8 July in the Catholic Chapel at Camp Lejeune. Father A. L. Gen- dron, Catholic Chaplain, married the couple and Captain J. F. Hook- er, USN, gave the bride away.

Ensign Veronica Smith was Miss Repasky's maid of honor. Miss Smith is also from Pitts- burg, Pa., and she and the bride had gone through high school and Nurses Training together. Subsequent to their training they served in Texas and in Camp Le- jeune. Colonel King chose Major Fred Gilhooly, a brother officer from Cherry Point, to be his best man. Many staff and several general officers were among the guests at the ceremonies.

Before the wedding there was an interlude of organ music. Candles and clusters of ribbons decorated the pews and the bride and groom walked from the altar on a white aisle cloth. The altar itself was spread with a gold cloth and held candles, ferns, and white gladiolae.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed in Chantilly lace and seed pearls with a long train. Her veil was of the illusion variety, fastened to a Juliet cap, also of Chantilly lace. As a bouquet she carried a pearl rosary filagree in silver on a white satin cushion topped with orchids, ending in a shower of white ribbons and Baby's Breath.

Miss Smith was dressed in a powder blue taffeta gown with net, edged with pink. Her picture hat was a creation of pink lace. A pink satin fan trimmed with Chan- tilly lace and a cluster of pale pink roses made up her bouquet.

Colonel King, Major Gilhooly, as well as other Marine and Naval officers in uniform wore dress whites. After the service, guests ran quickly to their cars as the rain poured down without cessa- tion.

The wedding reception was held in the Officers' Mess at Paradise Point. The Division- aires, directed by TSgt. Warren, made music for the party. Wanda Deane sang solo numbers with the combo. After all the guests had passed through the receiving line a fanfare sounded and Major Gilhooly proposed a toast to the bride. Everyone raised a glass and wished the newly weds well. Next came the cakecutting cere- monies. The bride and groom cut the three tier white cake with Colonel King's sabre. Following the cake-cutting ceremonies, an excellent cold buffet supper was served.

Going away Mrs. King wore an ice blue satin dress topped by a net redingote. Her accessories were black and she carried an orchid corsage.

Staff NCO Club Activities

Every year about this time we are fortunate in having with us, for two weeks, an orchestra which courteously consents to play for us at the Staff Club. Each year, those of us who are fortunate enough to be here and hear Jerry Gladden and his orchestra, think that he's reached the peak of his ability to entertain, but that ain't so! This year, he and his twelve piece orchestra have added new skits to their "Music in the Glad- den manner," a floor show that can and will furnish you with laughs until you can clap no more. We proudly present MSgt. Jerry Glad- den, 11th Engineer Battalion of Baltimore, Maryland, Friday evening July 14th from 9 to 1 and Thursday July 20th from 8 to —? Nothing short of knots on your head should prevent you from being present.

Bingo! Yes it happens every Monday. A winner in each and every game. Clean wholesome en- tertainment with the ever present possibility that you'll be the one to walk away with the prize.

Merchandise winner for the evening, MSgt. William F. Hewer. The Jackpot (How lucky can some people get?) Mrs. George Skowran.

Throughout Camp Lejeune there are 130 miles of paved roads, over 500 miles of unpaved roads, and 90 miles of sidewalks. With steam and Diesel electric generating plants, there are 145 miles of elec- tric distribution lines. A total of 175 miles of telephone lines con- nect three dial and three manual telephone exchanges.

The Globe Sports

Sports At A Glance.....

By Pfc. Horace Myers

ALL-STAR GAME UP TO YOU.....

A call has gone out for you, the sports fan, to select the American and National League Intramural All-Star teams. If this game is going to be a success, you will make it one. Camp Special Services have gone all out to make the game one of the top events of the year at Lejeune.

The contest, will put the "little" ballplayers under the spotlight, and it's up to you to select those who are best in both leagues.

POSSIBLE ALL-NAVY CHAMP.

If you've watched him in action, you will agree that the recent winner of the Sixth Naval District, Homer Richards, stands a good chance of reaching the finals for the All-Navy Tennis Championship starting Sunday at Annapolis, Maryland.

At this writing, the South Central Group Tournament eliminations are still in progress and the winner will not be named until Thursday, but the Pensacola star is sure to figure in the final playoffs.

He made quite a debut here last week. In his first match against TSgt. Edelin from the Second Air Wing, the number two man on the Pensacola tennis team made the "Point's best" look out of class with his cannonball serves and tight net play. Richards defeated Edelin in two straight sets, 6-love, 6-1. Taking only a 15-minute break, Richards came back to eliminate Mr. Hamblen from Key West in another straight two sets, 6-1, 6-love, thereby dropping only two single games out of 26.

In the finals, Richards had to play his best against his teammate, Nicky Norris. Another top tennis player, Norris came close to upsetting the former Redlands University star, but as Norris put it, "Every time I play Homer, he runs me to death." The game little Norris couldn't combat a bad cough he had and Richards.

Richards was quite a tennis star back in college. He played four seasons with Redlands University on the California coast, and was the 1948 Inter-collegiate Pacific-Southwest Singles Champion. The temperamental tennis star has only played on the Pensacola squad for one season, but in that season he has moved up to the number two position which is tops in the Sunshine State where tennis is played on a yearly basis.

With a record of past performances and the impression that he left here at Lejeune, Richards will stand a good chance and will surely be a favorite for the All-Navy title.

STILL STANDS.....

In last week's column, an article asking for an All-Star game brought lots of talk. Some people kicked about the build-up we gave the Second Marines, but still they remain on top with a clean slate. If the Second Marines are defeated by a league team, you can bet this column will be the first to admit our misjudgment.

The central heating plant at Camp Lejeune is the largest structure on the reservation and is considered the most efficient heating plant of its type in the entire Naval service. This is another example of the outstanding construction record achieved at Camp Lejeune during World War II.

Lejeune All-Stars Entry In All-Navy Softball Tourney

A handpicked Intramural All-Star team will be Lejeune's entry in the forthcoming 1950 All-Navy Softball Championship.

The team is now being picked and Capt. Dick Kern, who was mentor for last season All-Stars, has been renamed to handle the squad.

Members of the squad will be selected from the American and National League Intramural Softball teams now in action. After the team's roster has been completed, coach Kern hopes to schedule games with local civilian and Intramural squads.

The Sixth Naval District Softball Championship will be held at the U. S. Naval Receiving Station, Naval Base, Charleston, S. C., starting on August 20th.

Due to the excessive distances between activities and in order to reduce travel, the Sixth Naval District will be divided into three areas. Competition in the subject championship will be limited to the area champions. Activities in North and South Carolina, with the exception of Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, will compete in the "Northern" area playoff. Parris Island will compete with activities in the "Southern" area playoff. The "Southern" area will be composed of activities in Georgia and Florida, less the activities under the Chief of Naval Air Training. The "Western" area will be composed of activities under Chief of Naval Air Training.

The "Northern" area eliminations will be held here at Camp Lejeune commencing August 13th.

The Commandant of the Sixth Naval District will provide suitable individual awards to the winners and the runner-ups of the District Championship only, and a team trophy to the Sixth Naval District Championship Softball team.

Lejeune Nine Wins On Ninth Inning Homer By Hoerner

A homer by backstop Nels Hoerner in the ninth inning gave the Lejeune varsity nine a slim 8-6 decision over the Roxboro Semi-Pros at Roxboro last Saturday night.

Frankie Masso went the limit for Lejeune giving up 9 hits. Hoerner also paced the team at the plate with three singles plus his game-winning homer. Lejeune's second-base sacker, Sid Klinepeter, added power to the local cause with three hits for five trips to the plate.

Lejeune moved on from Roxboro to Quantico, Va., where they are scheduled to meet the powerful Marine Corps School nine in a two-game series.

July Leatherneck Features Locals

In the recent July copy of LEATHERNECK, a new section has been added entitled, "Sports Album".

The section includes pictures of outstanding Marine Corps athlete's and sporting events occurring during the month.

This month's edition includes picture's of Harry Bare, outstanding Lejeune shot-put artist, and Don Davidson, All-Marine Corps high-jump title holder.

Bare has been a member of the varsity track squad for two years and in 1949 captured the All-Marine shot-put title.

An all-around athlete, Davidson recently set an unofficial track record at Maryland University with a high jump of 6'4". He recently also added the All-Marine title to his collection.

chest cold, couldn't keep up the fast pace set by the lanky Pacific-Southwest 1948 Inter-Collegiate singles champion. Playing with this handicap, Norris tossed a scare at Richards in the first set taking it 6-4, but had to take brief rest periods from then on. Richards' pounding serves and returns kept Norris on defense for the last two sets. Norris made his final bid for the title in the last set, when he pushed the former Redlands University tennis star for the first four games. Richards, however, regained control of the situation and the title.

Lejeune's lone entry in the doubles finals, Martin and Miles, were completely outclassed by the Pensacola twosome of Cox and Norris, losing 6-1 and 6-2.

Tenth Marines Win Fifth Straight In Downing MCSD

The Tenth Marines entry in the Intramural National Baseball League proved the slogan, "you can't keep a good man down", may also be applied to a good team.

After an unimpressive 1-3 start in league competition, the Cannoniers have come back with eight wins in their last nine starts and have won five straight games after a loss to Signal Bn., giving them a season's record of 9-4. They notched their eighth and ninth games last Wednesday and Thursday as they defeated a much-improved Anglico nine 4-1 and swamped MCSD 15-0.

In both of their last games the artillerymen received excellent pitching and timely hitting—two of the factors responsible for their fine record to date. On Wednesday it was curve-ball artist Kenny Wahl who notched the 4-1 victory over Anglico. The young right-hander from Belleville, Ill., who has been the mainstay of the pitching staff, literally had the Angels "breaking their backs" reaching for his wide-breaking curves and was assisted by the hitting of Radcliff, manager Novak, Cox and Archambault.

Thursday's win over MCSD not only gave the Tenth's nine their fifth straight victory but also gave them another starting hurler in Walachek. The young southpaw, brother of the Tenth's varsity catcher, set the Depotmen down with three hits and helped his cause with a triple. Radcliff, Novak and Archambault once again supplied the power at the plate with Radcliff getting 3-4.

will be played on the varsity diamond, and is expected to be one of the most colorful sporting events of the year at Lejeune.

Baseball fans in camp will have the task of selecting the All-Stars who will participate in the contest. They will be called upon to fill out the ballot appearing in this week's GLOBE and deposit it in the ballot-box located in the Camp Theater lobby.

Selections will be named for the outfield and infield positions, leaving the pitchers for the contest to be selected by the manager of the squads.

The managers for the All-Star game will be determined by the Intramural team leading their league on 1 August. By that time, it is hoped that all balloting will be completed and the All-Star teams can be named.

The date for the contest was not announced, but it is expected to be staged in the first week of August.

Each week until the final selections have been made, the GLOBE will carry weekly results of the balloting.

Did you know that in September of 1941, First Division Marines landed at Tent City? A few Leathernecks had come earlier and occupied an old structure at Paradise Point to act as a fire guard, and a number of Marines, sailors and soldiers had been on temporary duty off Onslow Beach during summer maneuvers.

BEAUTY QUEEN of Mather Air Force Base, Calif., (they saw her first), is Shirley Hughes. She triumphed over 14 other entrants in all four phases of a contest, which included judging in physical beauty, appearance in street clothing, voice and speaking ability and poise. She reigned as queen at Mather's three-day Fun and Welfare Carnival.

Current developments in the Korean War, plus documented background, will be heard in the fourth of Mutual's "The Pursuit Of Peace" documentary broadcasts. This program, another in the series presented in cooperation with United Nations Radio, will be heard on Sunday, July 16, from 9 to 9:45 p.m., EDT.

Three over-all aspects of the Korean emergency will be comprehensively covered, via documentary radio reports, during this special program. Firstly, the operation and actions of the U. N. Security Council, both before and after the South Korean invasion and during sessions attended by the Russian delegates, will be highlighted by excerpts from actual meetings at Lake Success, L. I. Secondly, the program will feature radio pick-ups directly from the Korean theater of operations. This will include direct reports from units of the various national forces engaged there, on land, on sea and in the air. And thirdly, this broadcast will present authoritative statements from members of the U. N. Commission on Korea, who are now in Japan and Korea. This phase of the program will be coordinated by the U. N.'s Korean correspondent, George Movshon, of the Union of South Africa.

Leonard Cottrell, one of the foremost producers of documentary broadcasts for the B.B.C., has specially come to this country to prepare this MBS "The Pursuit Of Peace" broadcast. It will be produced by Mavor Moore.

SHORT SHORTS

An indication of the great interest of the American people in the Korean crisis is demonstrated by the mail pouring into the Washington office of MBS commentator Frank Edwards (Week-days, 10 to 10:15 p.m., EDT). Last week Mr. Edwards made an announcement on one of his programs, an offer to listeners of a map of Korea. He was deluged with post-card and letter requests—one of which came from an Army educational center which asked for six maps for use in their orientation and educational courses for G.I.'s.

The story of the last six years of Robert Louis Stevenson's life will be dramatically told when the story of "The Triumphant Exile" is presented by Mutual's "The Family Theater" on Wednesday, July 12 (9:30 to 10 p.m., EDT). In ill health since birth, the British novelist and essayist travelled throughout the world in search of a healthful climate. And it was in April, 1888, that he boarded the schooner, "Casco," in San Francisco, for a voyage into exile at Tahiti and Samoa. He died in Samoa and was buried at the summit of the steep peak of Vaea, with the Pacific, the ocean he had learned to love, at his feet.

Patient Of The Week

William Ralph Cavenah, Jr., Gunner's Mate, 3/c, USN, has been in the Navy slightly over five years and already has made up his mind that he will serve a thirty-year period.

Although he refers to St. Louis, Mo., as his home, where his parents reside, Cavenah was born on Sept. 24, 1927 at Philadelphia, Pa. Before he enlisted in the Navy on 3 April, 1945 at St. Louis, the young man was a second mate for the Central Barge Lines, a tug service operating out of Chicago to Peoria, Ill.

Cavenah received his boot training at the Great Lakes Naval Station, and was confined to the hospital there for two weeks before he went on to Camp Shoemaker, Calif., a relocation center, where after ten days he was assigned to the U.S.S. Copahue, a carrier vessel escort. He went on to Pearl Harbor, Guam, and many other places aboard the Copahue and was still aboard when she came back to the states in 1946 and was decommissioned at Takoma, Wash. He remained here for almost a year attached to the Pacific Reserve Fleet, and later transferred to Terminal Island, Cal., naval operations base where after another week he boarded the U.S.S. Iowa on Thanksgiving Day 1947, this cruise carrying him to Honolulu, Seattle, San Diego, and the Bremerton Navy Yard. In Sept., 1948 he was discharged at Treasure Island, took a 10-day leave and reenlisted at Seattle for another three years.

Since his reenlistment the sailor has been to Norfolk, Va., where he went aboard the U.S.S. Newport News, a heavy cruiser, for about six months. He attended the Gunner's Mate School in Washington for three months training. "And believe me boy, that was swell liberty," he remarked. We are sure that his buddies understand what he means!

On Dec. 28, 1949 he was assigned to the U.S.S. Strong at Norfolk, and was aboard this ship until April 17, 1950. He received leave and was in an automobile collision and was hospitalized at Concord, N. C., and was brought to the U. S. Naval Hospital on 22 April with a broken pelvis, and is a patient in Ward No. 8.

Requalifying High Shooters

Tops at the Rifle Range last week were (left to right) Urban L. Carstensen, High Coach, who earned this title by a nationally fine work with inexperienced Reserve Shooters; Philip S. Clark, High BAR man, who scored 217x250; High C shooter, Pfc. H. M. Allen—he shot 262x275; High Rifleman I D. Hammond—this man scored 227x250 points; and the Pistol Shot, Capt. Fred C. Houser, an aviator with Signal Station, who fired 383x400—the range record is 384, a score the Captain was able to tie last year.

Marines Active

were unsuccessful, and on May 30 the Americans were fired on from a fort which "appeared to be manned by a thousand men and flying a flag which indicated the command of a general."

Low and Rodgers then waited until June 10 for an official apology for the hostile act, and receiving none, promptly sent a force of nearly seven hundred Marines and sailors against the forts.

Fighting their way across the marshy approaches to the Korean defenses, the Leathernecks and sailors systematically reduced the first two forts. When the third and largest fort, the Citadel—was reached enemy resistance stiffened. Desperate hand-to-hand fighting on the parapets followed before the Citadel was captured. At this crucial period, Corporal Charles Brown and Private Hugh Purvis of the Marines fought their way to the huge flag the Americans had first sighted two weeks earlier, which seemed to be a rallying point for the Koreans. Under intense fire the two loosed the balyards of the banner and tore it down. Organized resistance ceased soon afterward.

Did you know that Marine Barrack's headquarters was officially opened here on September 15, 1941? The colors were raised over it for the first time on September 20th.

"Yes, I like the Navy and I intend to stay in for thirty years and then when I get out I hope to open up a fishing house in the Ozarks or perhaps the state of Washington. There's good money in it, too."

Movie Review As It Appears This Week

MYSTERY STREET

Mystery—There is no information available on this picture except that the cast consists of Ricardo Montalban and Sally Forrest. . . . Two Bells.

WHERE THE SIDEWALK ENDS

Police Mystery Drama—Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney are the marquee names in this story, centered about a New York City police detective who made more effective use of his fist than his brain. . . . Two Bells.

ONCE A THIEF

A Girl's Past—A rather grim story with romantic overtones here has been turned into a satisfactory production with definite box office possibilities. Cesar Romero and June Havoc, who head the cast, make their parts believable as the heel with a preference for working girls, and a former shoplifter trying to live down her past. . . . Two Bells.

IN A LONELY PLACE

Drama—He's back again. Humphrey Bogart wanted to star in a new and different picture. He certainly got his wish in this Santana Production. The Bogart-Gloria Grahame combination on the marquee as well as on the screen has considerable appeal and supporting players are competent. . . . Three Bells.

INTRUDER IN THE DUST

Murder Mystery—This story of the South, taken from William Faulkner's best selling novel, has performances by David Brian and Claude Jarman. . . . Two Bells.

FLAME AND THE ARROW

Drama—Fresh out of Hollywood and no information available. Burt Lancaster and Virginia Mayo starred. Also, the latest news on the "Battle for Korea". . . . Four Bells.

BROKEN ARROW

Western—This is the Western they're going to talk about for a long time to come. Featured in the starring cast is James Stewart, in one of his best, and Jeff Chandler. In this picture you see how the "Red Men" are fighting for their existence in the world. . . . Four Bells.
