2D AND 6TH REACTIVATED

At a formal ceremony held on Monday afternoon, October 17, the 2d and 6th Regiments were officially reactivated. The two units will be an integral part of the Second Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic. Held before several hundred spectators with three massed battalions participating, the proceedings were highlighted by the presentation of regimental colors to the two regimental commanders by Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of the Second Marine Division and Camp Lejeune. Col. Homer L. Litzenberg Jr., will be in command of the 6th, while Col. Randall M. Victory will command the 2d. At the left, the two colonels, with color guards, are shown just after receiving their colors.

Colonel Litzenberg is on the left, Colonel Victory on the right. Center picture is a portrait shot of the late Lt. Gen. John A. Lejeune, former Commandant of the Marine Corps and the man for whom Camp Lejeune is named. General Lejeune once commanded both the 2d and the 6th Regiments during different periods of their former activation. The right-hand picture shows General Hart in the act of tendering his regimental colors to Colonel Litzenberg. An interesting sidelight is the fact that General Hart at one time was Commanding Officer of the old 6th Regiment. (Photos by Sgt. H. D. Rider and Pfc. J. R. Powers, Camp Photo Lab).

Parade And Review Opens New Era For Old Regiments

Fourragere, Once Badge Of Shame, Now High Award

By Cpl. ALLEN G. MAINARD

Both Organizations Improved With Long And Valiant Histories Garnered During Two Global Conflicts; Personnel Entitled To Wear Fourragere of the two, it being formed in 1911 in Philadelphia for duty in Guantanamo, Cuba, to protect American lives and property threatened by the Negro Rebellion which followed the withdrawal of our Army of Occupation. In November, 1913, this regiment, under the command of Col. John A. Lejeune, became part of the Advance Base Brigade, and in maneuvers at Culebra, the 2d won praise for its tactical efficiency.

"In supporting the foreign policy of the United States and enforcing respect for the American flag, elements of the regiment were the first troops to land at Vera Cruz, Mexico, in April, 1914. Three days' fighting followed and by November 23 order was restored under a stable government.

"Under command of Col. Eli K. Cole, the 2d Regiment proceeded to Haiti in 1915. The regiment became part of the Marine Brigade sent to that island and for the next 19 years units of the regiment were kept busy maintaining order and fought innumerable small unit actions suppressing Cacos uprisings. An important function of the Marines during this period was the molding of the 'Garde de Haiti' into an efficient military and police force.

"On August 15, 1934, the 2d Regiment evacuated the Republic of Haiti and was disbanded on its return to the United States. The regiment was cited by military historians for its consistent record in successfully executing difficult missions.

"This regiment was not reactivated until 1941 when it was reformed under Col. Joseph C. Fegan in the expansion of the Second Marine Brigade into the Second Division. In July of 1942, this regiment left the division and sailed for overseas to join the First Division for the landings in the Tulagi-Guadalcanal area. In this operation, the 2d Regiment was the first U. S. unit to land on enemy held soil in World War II. This regiment continued to operate with the First Division in this area until the Second Division arrived there.

"The 6th Regiment was activated by Presidential order on August 4, 1917. By early March of the next year, it had moved to France and had received its baptism of fire in the Toulon Sector. This was quickly followed by participation in the fighting at Chateau Thierry, where they were instrumental in stopping the German drive on Paris. A few days later, the 6th Marines, as part of the Fourth Marine Brigade, Second U. S. Division, won the French Croix de Guerre with Palm for their brilliant courage in the capture of Belleau Wood. The next month saw them in the counter-attack in the Villers-Cotterets Forest which won them another citation in French orders and a gilt star for the Croix de Guerre.

"During the fall of 1918, the 6th—still part of the Second U. S. Division which was then commanded by Gen. John A. Lejeune, United States Marine Corps—took part in the Champagne Offensive and cracked the hitherto impregnable German defenses in the Blanc Mont area, for which they were awarded a second palm.

"After only a few days rest, they were committed in the final phases of the Meuse-Argonne Battle where they battered down the strong Krimhilde Line and forced a crossing of the Meuse River in this final fight of World War I.

"After a year of occupation duty in defeated Germany, the regiment returned to the United States where, until 1939, it performed various peacetime duties. It was disbanded several times and reactivated for expeditionary duty in Shanghai, China, to protect American lives and property; first during the upheavals in 1927 and again in 1937 when the Sino-Japanese War engulfed Shanghai.

"Returning to the United States in 1939, it returned to an inactive status until 1940 when it was reformed as the infantry element of the Second Marine Brigade. During the early days of this reorganization, Major General Hart, present Commanding General of the Second Division and Camp Lejeune, was the regiment's commanding officer.

"In February, 1941, the Second Marine Brigade was expanded into the Second Marine Division and it was at this time that the 2d Regiment was reactivated.

"The division had been organized only a matter of months when the 6th Regiment was incorporated into the First Provisional Marine Brigade and dispatched to Iceland to secure it against Axis encroachments. Ten months later, with the United States now fully involved in the war, the 6th returned to rejoin the division at San Diego.

"In the fall of 1942, the division, less the 2d Regiment, left for overseas and in early 1943 it landed on Guadalcanal, was rejoined by the 2d Regiment, and it finished the job so well begun by the First Division. It was here that the 6th Regiment received its baptism of fire in World War II.

"After Guadalcanal, in November 1943, the 2d and 6th Regiments, as part of the division, participated in the first assault

Over 200 years ago, a troop of Flemish infantry retreated from battle, and thereby brought into existence one of the Marine Corps' most cherished decorations, the French Fourragere.

Begun as a mark of shame to be worn by that troop of cowardly Flemish soldiers, it has evolved through the years into the highest military decoration France can bestow upon units of her own or allied services.

The Duke of Alva, a Spanish General of the 19th century, is credited with originating the award. Upon his orders, the troops which quit battle without orders were recommitment with these words, "Any further misconduct on the part of these troops shall be punished by hanging, regardless of rank or grade."

Back into battle the discredited men plunged, and fought so gallantly that they continued to wear the badge of shame as a mark of courage; the loop of rope, a hangman's noose—the spike to pierce the heart of any man who would leave the field of battle before ordered to do so.

Napoleon I brought the decoration to France. It was revived in World War I by the French High Command to be awarded to units ranging from sections to brigades.

Thoughtful Common Sense

What do these three words mean? Consulting the dictionary, we find that they mean ordinary, considerate good judgment. Or, to express it another way—using our natural understanding and mental perception to be solicitous for the welfare of others.

A driver and a pedestrian represent two entirely different modes of movement. The first speeds along in a high-powered, swiftly-moving machine while the latter trudges, slow-moving, along afoot. However, these two have one thing in common—they both share our highways. This is as it should be, but all too frequently their paths cross—alas, collide!—along the edges of these highways.

"What is the connection?", you ask. It is simply this. By both parties exercising the three words defined above, they will be contributing not only to the welfare of others, but to their own as well. They will be helping to reduce those tragic crossings of their respective paths, and helping to alleviate some of the suffering that arises therefrom.

THE PEDESTRIAN should ALWAYS observe certain rules. ALWAYS walk on the left side of the road, facing oncoming traffic. ALWAYS, when in groups, walk in single file. ALWAYS be on the alert, keeping your eyes on approaching vehicles so that you can step—or leap—off the improved surface of the highway when good judgment dictates. Remember, we are now wearing greens and it is particularly difficult for drivers to see you in this uniform. Two Marines have already been struck and injured while walking on the right-hand side of the highway, with their backs to approaching traffic.

THE DRIVER should ALWAYS dim his lights at least 500 feet from a car coming towards him. Headlight glare—night blindness—is an ever-present hazard. DON'T be the cause of another driver—or yourself—striking a pedestrian because YOU didn't dim your lights.

This Week's Winner

Winning the Mess Efficiency Award this week was Mess Hall No. 107 of the 8th Marines, recently returned from the Mediterranean. Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of the Second Marine and Camp Lejeune, is shown presenting the pennant to MSgt. R. A. Butler, Mess Sergeant. On the extreme left is Capt. D. H. McDonnell, Mess Officer, and standing to the left of Master Sergeant Butler is MSgt. H. D. Beak, Assistant Mess Sergeant. Winning against tough competition after being back in camp but two weeks showed remarkable proficiency on the part of the entire staff of 107. After congratulating the assembled staff, General Hart was conducted on a tour of the mess hall. (Photo by Sgt. Henry D. Rider, Camp Photo Lab).

AMUSEMENT

The mind needs relaxation and the body recreation. It is a mistake to begrudge any recreation to ourselves or to others; provided we pay attention to time, place, and degree.

Walking, games, music, sports, etc., are both lawful and laudable, if we exercise our discretion when participating in them. But an excess of time and energy, or even interest, changes recreation into an occupation and does injury instead of refreshing mind or body. If stakes are too high in a game of cards, over-anxiety ensues. Too much care and thought are spent on things not worth it.

However lawful some amusements may be, it is wrong to let them absorb the mind and heart too much. This does not mean that you may not enjoy them, but simply that you should not let yourself be too engrossed in them. Balls and dances are, or may be, innocent in themselves, but the circumstances generally accompanying them so often tend to evil that they become sources of temptation and danger. They take place at night. This in itself, by reason of darkness and obscurity, adds to the dangers of amusements already susceptible of evil. Besides this, on account of the loss of the night's rest, the following day is often spent in bed and thus the service of God may even be neglected.

It is a senseless thing to turn day into night, light into darkness, and to waste time in idle follies instead of in good works. Moderation, dignity, and a good intention should be the aim of those who attend these affairs. They will avoid quarrels and envy, distractions, and other temptations found in such a bles.

Amusement of all kinds must be considered as recreation, not occupation. The time spent on should always be limited. It should be measured according to needs or the good of others. Prudence, and discretion should ever be your guide. Many have joined in games out of desecration for others. Their amusement thus became an act of ch We must always remember great opportunities of serving come very seldom. Little ones stand out.

Our Lord said, "He that is full in that which is least, is full also in that which is great (Luke 16:10). If you do every in the name of God, you will it well, whether it is an honor or a mental duty. When you this, you act wisely and meritorily in God's sight, doing every according to His will.

THE CHEERING SECTION

Although this writer had erroneous information concerning the "girl" cheerleaders from Campbell College, I will give you the straight scoop on six hits and six misses reporting the Camp Lejeune High School at their gridiron stunts.

They are Mary Conneely, Dot Raney, Shirley Littlefield, Vera Saunders, Marlene Johnson, and Mary Hinson. All at-

and the Lejeune institution of knowledge and are proud members of the cheerleading aggregation.

Their past is unknown to this writer and so is their future, so we won't dwell on that subject. A word to the wise is sufficient though. "Breathe there a man with soul so dead who has never turned his head and said,—'Hmm, hubba, hubba'?"

A&I ANNOUNCED

The annual A&I Inspection will be held November 7, 8, 9, according to the grapevine around the area. Be sure to square away your gear prior to the inspection. Mark all clothing and clean that gun . . . er, rifle.

FIELD HOUSE GROWS

The $700,000 Field House being erected for the athletic Camp Lejeune Marine is well under way. When you are attending the varsity football games, you have probably noticed the foundation which will eventually be built to the necessities of athletic teams at Camp Lejeune.

BERMUDA BOUND

Like to spend the week in Bermuda? Who wouldn't? Both basketball and boxing squads will travel to the "Isle of Paradise" on November 10 for scheduled games with service teams based there. Good luck, fellows.

FLICKER FLASH

Moans and groans were heard in the Camp Theater last Monday at the matinee when The Midnight Kiss appeared on the screen instead of East Of Java. We do not hold claim to that glaring error. According to the schedule we go by, East of Java was the picture showing Sunday when last week's Globe went to press. The schedule was unavoidably changed after publication. Who can say that they don't like Kathryn Grayson, though?

POINT OF VIEW

Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps, and Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, USMC (Retired), former Commandant of the Marine Corps, spoke before the House Armed Services Committee last Monday in the current discussion regarding the nation's defense planning organizations. As we go to press, the text of the speeches are not available but we will try and have some definite information on the subject next week.

Marine Corps Institute Clarifies Enrollment Policy

Involuntarily Disenrolled Students May Re-enroll At Any Time

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12—A special bulletin released by the Marine Corps Institute on October 5, 1949, stated that Marines are eligible for MCI courses at any time of year while stationed at any location serviced by the United States Postal System.

Recent misunderstandings have made it necessary for the institute to clarify its policy governing enrollment because some Marines have been informed that they were ineligible for MCI courses if they had been disenrolled previously.

This was emphatically denied in the bulletin. A Marine may enroll again with the Marine Corps Institute and may, in fact, enroll in the course that he was pursuing when disenrolled. In all cases of involuntary disenrollment, the student is directed to return his books because he has not submitted a required assignment within a reasonable period but, when a student takes a more conscientious attitude toward his educational pursuits, the Institute is glad to return his name to the active roster.

It was also explained that no reports are made to Headquarters Marine Corps if a student is disenrolled or fails to achieve a satisfactory grade on a final examination. This does not apply to an officer who is required to complete the Post Exchange Accounting Course.

The bulletin further pointed out that no report on lesson submission or unsatisfactory examinations are made to the student's commanding officer. When a student satisfactorily completes a course, an entry is made in his service record book and a certificate evidencing satisfactory completion of the course is forwarded to the student via his commanding officer. The commanding officer receives no report on the progress of MCI students.

Enrollment in the MCI may be made through Special Services Officers or by writing directly to the Marine Corps Institute.

3rd MarDiv Association Seeks New Members

All Personnel Who Served In 3rd MarDiv Eligible For Membership; Applications Available At Globe Office

The Third Marine Division Association was formed at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., on June 8, 1949, with Maj. Gen. G. B. Erskine, USMC, as President and 1st Lt. F. B. Van Brunt, USMCR, as secretary-treasurer. The aim of the association is to reunite members of the division and to keep them more closely together in the years ahead.

Bound together by the trials of combat in the past, the association feels that all former members of the Third Marine Division should be held closely together for the rest of their lives by sharing in common the indomitable and courageous spirit of that Marine division.

The newly-formed association is going through the trials and tribulations of organization. Starting from scratch, it is encountering the usual difficulties of any new movement. The assistance of all hands, especially Third Division men, is urgently needed to get the ball rolling.

Lack of funds precludes the contacting of all members of the division by mail in regards to membership. At present, all personnel who served in the Third Marine Division and who are still in the service, or were honorably separated therefrom, are eligible for membership. All those desiring to join the association should send their application blank and membership fee, which is $1.00 per year, to the Secretary-Treasurer, Third Marine Association, Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif. For the convenience of those interested, application blanks are available at the GLOBE Office in Building No. 1005.

It is planned to hold the initial convention some time in 1950 in a yet-to-be-selected city of the United States. Space is provided on the application blank for your vote, indicating in which city you desire the convention to be held.

Pistol Team Adds Quantico Victory To Accomplishments

First Team Takes First Place, Defeating U. S. Army Entry

By TSgt. EDWARD M. GREEN

After taking the team trophy in the Pennsylvania State Pistol Matches held at Harrisburg, Pa., the previous week-end, Camp Lejeune's Pistol Team moved on to Quantico last week, where it again competed against some of the best shots in the country, both military and civilian.

In the Quantico matches, the first team took first place in the Expert Class, Center Fire, and fourth place in the Master Class, .45 caliber, with scores of 1,087 and 1,054 respectively.

The second team, not be outdone by their mates, took second place in the Expert Class, .45 caliber.

An interesting sidelight on the match was the fact that the first team defeated the U. S. Army entry, headed by TSgt. Heulitt Benner, twice U. S. Pistol Champ, in all three matches.

INDIVIDUAL ACHIEVEMENTS

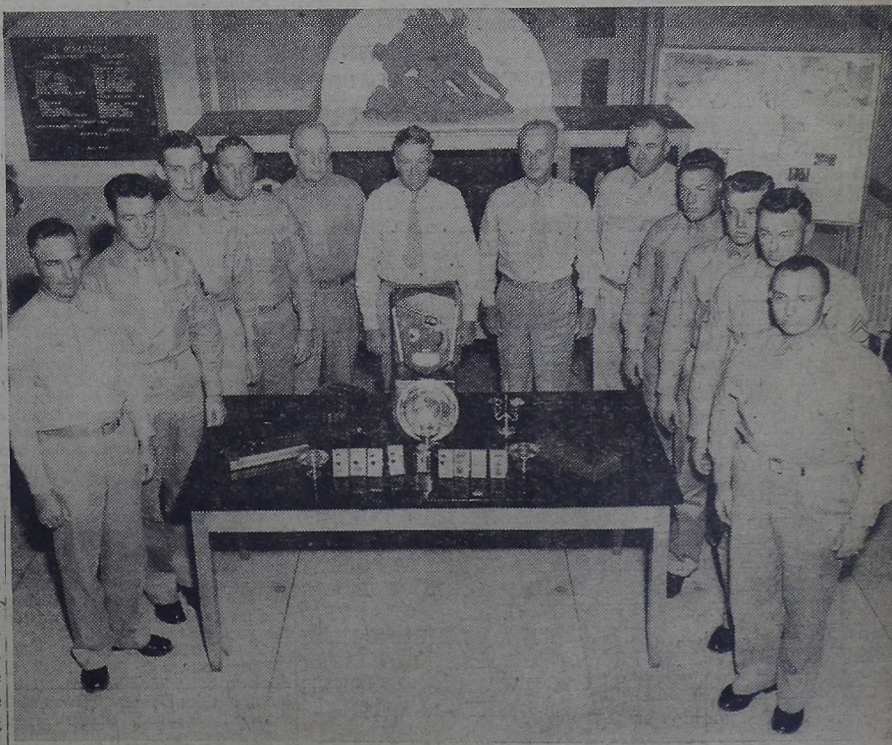

In the individual field, Commissioned Warrant Officer Cleghorne fired First Sharpshooter in the .22 caliber Time Fire and Third Sharpshooter in the .22 caliber National Match Course.

Technical Sergeant Fowler again stood out individually by registering

CAMP LEE DELUGED 81-

By PFC. HORACE MYERS

LOUIE'S LEAPS NET THREE

When we finally got hold of an adding machine Saturday afternoon after the game and found out the final score, Louie Darnell had piled up 18 points for his two quarters of play. He caught one in the end zone, one for 40, and the last one for 52. Darnell came to Lejeune from Pearl Harbor, where he made quite a record for himself. He had three years on the Pearl Harbor team. In 1948 he was a member of the Hawaiian All-Stars, the Pacific Fleet All-Stars, and the FMF Pac All-Stars. Last year he played in the Semi-Final All-Navy Playoffs and also in the Mexico City Silver Bowl. With All-Navy Ernie Hargett on one end and Louie on the other, it looks like the flanker positions on the offensive part of the platoon system are going to be hard to beat.

SHORTS

The Boxing Smoker last night really packed the house. It's something Lejeune should have more often . . . Word has been received that Nick Hart, son of General F. A. Hart, has made the football team up at the prep school he is attending at Pottstown, Pa. . . The Cherry Point football game, originally scheduled for next Thursday afternoon, has been moved to Saturday, October 29 . . . Little Russell Alberts, mascot of the football team, thinks that Parris Island will be our roughest game.

Pigskin Pickin's

PIGSKIN PICKIN'S came out of the nose dive we have been in for the past two weeks and came up with 20 WINNERS, 1 TIE, and 3 LOSERS. We stuck with Notre Dame, despite Mr. Williams, the expert, who picked an upset. Frankly, we wouldn't bet against Notre Dame if they were playing two teams on the same day. Judging from Notre Dame's romp of Tulane, we think that the game of the week would be Notre Dame's first string against the second. Probably it would be the game of the year!

Camp Lee Completely

Outclassed; Two Platoon System Pays Off For Team

By Pfc. DAVE X. SHARPE
Returning to their home base after suffering their first loss of the current season to the Troopers of Fort Bragg, the Lejeune Marines overwhelmed a completely outclassed Camp Lee eleven last Saturday, 81-0.

EVERYBODY PLAYED

Using the two-team stratagem for offensive-defensive play, the locals shoved the Travellers from goal to goal with the greatest of ease to amass the towering total at the final gun. The Marines rolled up 48 points before the intermission, and pushed 33 more across in the second half, despite Coach Andruska's bench-clearing tactics.

DARNELL LOOKS LIKE DIMAGGIO

Practically all who took the field against the out-classed Travellers played like established stars, but the brightest of them all was Louie Darnell, right end, who caught 'em like DiMaggio and ran like a halfback to hit pay dirt three times. The half-back team of Leo Moody and Frank Maksin; Ernie Hargett and his booming blocks; and the backfield play of Dick Stein and Tex Serres were all in a class by themselves. Stein tied 15 points, while Serres gathered 16.

500 YARDS GAINED

Camp Lee's fullback, John Perry, turned in a fine performance, as did his backfield mate Al Gethers, but neither could get any steam up under the pressing Lejeune line play. The Marines grabbed the first score within five minutes of play, and continued the lop-sided scoring the rest of the way. Lee never got going, getting only two first downs, both on penalties, and gaining only 33 yards through the air and on the ground while the Leathernecks were racking up over 500.

FIRST QUARTER

Branch kicked off to Moody on the 20, and he returned to the Lejeune 35. On the first play of the game, Moody ripped 10 yards off tackle for a first down, and the rout was under way. Two line plays gained only a yard, but a pass from Minihan to Hargett brought 14 yards and a first down on the Lee 41. Stein bucked to the 36, and Frank Maksin shot around the end to the six. The play was called back, and Lejeune was penalized 15 yards to their own 49. Moody got 11, but a pass was no good, and Stein punted to Brown on the Lee three. He took five steps, and Hargett pulled him down on the Lee six. Two plays gained only four yards, and Robinson dropped Gethers for a seven-yard loss. Blakney punted out to Canzona on the 15 and the Lejeune guard was hit down in his tracks. On the next play, Leo Moody tore through a hole a mile wide and danced over for the score. Stein's conversion was no good, and Lejeune was on the way. LEJEUNE 6; LEE 0.

SECOND TD

Perry returned the kickoff on the own 33, where he was hit by Stein, but the Lee offense was nonexistent. Blakney punted, and Klinepeter took it on a handoff. See CAMP LEE On Page 5

Lejeune High Slips By Wilmington J-V's 19-12 In Tight Game

Richland High Here For Contest This Afternoon At 1500

The "Devil Pups" of Camp Lejeune High hopped back aboard the on-serging victory train last Friday night as they edged the Wilmington J-V's, on a wet and muddy field, 19-12, at the Legion Stadium in Wilmington. Only a few hundred fans were on hand to watch Lejeune pile up all of their points in the first two quarters and coast for the second half to their second win in three starts.

Joe "Bull-dozer" Barringer started the ball rolling for Lejeune early in the initial period as he romped around his right end for 60 yards for the first score of the ball game. Smith's attempt for conversion was wide and Lejeune led 6-0.

Lejeune started another touch-down drive early in the second quarter. Starting on his own 40-yard line, Barringer hit King with a pass good for 10 yards. Barringer picked up three going through center. He added five more to the cause around right end, but Lejeune lost five on the next play due to a penalty. Greer hit the center for five yards, just short of a first down. Wilmington took over on their 11-yard line and promptly punted out of bounds on the 40-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Bull-dozer Barringer tore through the line and out raced the secondary for 40 yards to score. Harmon Simpson slipped through the right tackle for the conversion.

In the closing minutes of the first half, Barringer peeled off 27 yards and a first down on Wilmington's 20-yard line. Propst, on a hand-off, took the ball for 18 yards down to the two, where Barringer again plowed over for the final tally for Lejeune.

Wilmington came back in the second half, determined to get back into the ball game. Led by Hart and Tart, they drove down to Lejeune's two, from where Tart See LEJEUNE HIGH On Page 5

All-Navy Red D Leads Candidates Out For 1949 Varsity Boxing Team

McClendon, Mahoney, Shiro, and Otero Leading Expected Boost Teams Chances

With the first boxing smoker of the way, and Coach C.W. Brandt having looked over the list of his boys in local competition, it is wished to go out on a limb and say that this year's squad has every possibility of surpassing last year's leatherpushers.

As the season got underway there was a fine turnout of the 85 men from whom coach Brandt has selected the nucleus team.

Back from a great year last year were All-Navy flyweight champion "Red" Davis, Pete Shiro, and the Ribnickys, Lee Damon, Tom Otero, Willie McClendon, Mike nelli, and Albert Lowry. See the outstanding contenders in the squad among the newcomers are Joe Mahoney, heavyweight, who was with the squad in '47 and '48, Don Veburst, light-heavy, Charles Ironshell, welter, and Frank Mahoney, middleweight.

Others who have shown promise are Jones, Rice, Signal, Allen, and Keyes.

In workouts last week, Joe Mahoney showed the talent that was so lacking in the heavyweights of last year. Joe fought with the squad here in '47 and '48 and wiped up just about everything in his class. Among his honors are Charlotte Golden Gloves championship, '47; Carolina State Champ, '48; Atlantic Fleet Camp, '47; and Semi-finalist All-Navy '47. Joe has all the ring savvy to give us a top contender in the heavyweight department.

McClendon, light-heavy, who went to the quarterfinals in the All-Navy last year, looked his usual sharp self in the ring, and with added experience in this year's campaign should go all the way.

Don Veburst, a newcomer to the same weight, should develop into another light-heavy who can stand in there and swap punches with the best of them.

Then there is Mike Pinelli, runner-up in last year's Charlotte Golden Gloves, a lightweight who spent 32nd Airborne's Joe Perez's return bout last year that with talk of the season.

His stablemate, Tommy (see who numbers among his own the bantamweight titles at Charleston Golden Gloves, the AAU Championship at Greenville, S. C., the AAU title of Nebraska State and the sportsmanship trophies at both Charleston and Chicago. Golden Gloves bouts is hitting just as hard and should go all the way this year.

Cannoneers Devastate Trojans In Grudge Battle 41-6

Steals Show Brilliant 70-Yd. Beall Leads Team To Fifth Straight Victory

The Marines chalked up a 4-0 record, by winning the win column as they stomped the Second Combat Battalion to the tune of 41-6 in the bitterest grudge battle in the Intramural League.

The Cannoneers, going into the 4-0 record, by winning at least a tie for the title, while the Trojans dropped to third place in the Intramural League. A week will be played Saturday afternoon will bring together the undefeated teams left, the Cannoneers and Provisional Reg-

Mid-first quarter, Beall, the Cannoneers QB, taking a punt off 12 yards, put on the mid-field mark. He picked up four going right, but Neighbors was incomplete and Neighbors punt, killing the short ball went out of bounds. The Trojans 15-yard line. Al in center, hit the center Schoener picked up two sweep, and Alberts lost to buck the center on. Krieky punted to the 45 where Beall took it and to the Trojans 45. He picked up five going right, and Tierney hit the left line and took it down 9-yard marker. Settimio his way over a few plays in the two for the second all holding for the Cannoneers Newberry attempting, came back to Beall, Newberry the boot, and Beall around right end with the touch.

Beall taking a hand-off to Beall being watched closely all the way through right end 23 yards to score, climaxed starting on the 37-yard line in the final of the first half. Newberry his second straight conversion the Cannoneers led at the 0.

got off one of the best the afternoon as he punted in his own 47 out of bounds. Trojans two-yard line. Krei Trojans halfback, punted the 22. Beall carried down 0, but fumbled and the Tro recovered. Meniffee, coming center, fumbled on the next the Cannoneers recovered, the ball in the same place down to the five-yard line. At the right side of the line o the goal line, and Hobson over on the next play for with TD.

Newberry kicked off for the Cannoneers. Alberts receiving, hit it back to the Trojans end line. Schoener, on the play from scrimmage, find hole in the line big enough to give a semi through, slipped before the secondary and men could see what was happening. Newberry raced 70 yards to score one touchdown for the Tro. After exchanging punts of the third quarter, Rit house broke through and blocked Reser's punt, ON FOURTH DOWN, and the Cannoneers took over on the Trojans seven-yard line. Hobson, on an end sweep, took it over into pay dirt.

The final Cannoneers tally came at the end of the fourth quarter as Evans, passing and running, sparked his team on a 55-yard drive and passed to Thorpe for 12 yards in the end zone. McCamie's attempt for conversion was good and the ball game ended with the final score Cannoneers 41—Trojans 6.

Beall with his expert quarterbacking and Evans with his passing and running sparked the Cannoneers. Little Manifee of the Trojans played a bang-up game at offense and defense, racing in time and time again to bring down Cannoneer backs who broke through the Trojan line.

The famed Second Marine Division band split in half and entertained the crowd with music. The 10&16th Marines half of the band pleased the fans with several "Be-bop" tunes while the Trojans half stuck to the more standard style of marches. It was perfect weather for football, cloudy and a little chilly, and the largest crowd to witness an Intramural game this season was certainly rewarded with a top-notch game.

carried it over. Coming right back, Lejeune drove from their own 25-yard line down to Wilmington's 15, but had to surrender the ball on downs.

The trickiest play of the game came midway in the last quarter as Simpson, taking a double hand-off, skirted around end all the way from Wilmington's 40-yard line down to the 10, where he was run out of bounds. But Wilmington's line held and Lejeune was unable to score. Lee, Wilmington's halfback, drove over from the two-yard line, climaxed an 80-yard drive, in the last play of the game to add the final tally of the contest.

Lejeune's backfield displayed poignant power throughout the entire game. Barringer and Propst stood out in the backfield while Marshall and the Frucci brothers took the lime-light in the line. Hart and Tart paced the Wilmington team.

from Zakula on the 23 and ran it back to the Marine 42. Maksin got seven, but two more plays lost three, and Stein punted to Gorman on the 17, who ran around for awhile, then was submerged by the Lejeune line on his own 10. Again Lee had to punt, this time to Robinson, who ran it back to the 26. Minihan faded, and threw. Louie Darnell reached out and grabbed it in the end zone, and it was 12-0. Stein hit for the P. A. T., and it was LEJEUNE 13; LEE 0.

MOODY SCORES

Stein's kickoff was taken by Belton on the 25, but after getting back three yards he was hit too hard to hold the ball, and Big Joe Ward recovered on the 28. Lejeune, who had fumbled away a game against Bragg, saw the tables turned and took immediate advantage. Maksin picked up 12 over tackle to the 13, and Moody went around left end on a reverse for the touchdown. Stein's conversion try was wide, and it was LEJEUNE 19; LEE 0.

Lee couldn't do a thing with the kickoff, losing six yards in three plays, with Canzona, Davidson, and Williams breaking through to bring the backs down. Blakney punted, and Klinepeter brought it back to the Lejeune 47. Maksin, grabbing at least 10 yards every try, picked up 13 over guard to the Lee 42, and it was another first down. The quarter whistle sounded, but it was only delaying the inevitable.

SECOND QUARTER

Maksin went around left end behind Hargett's beautiful block, and got to the 27 before he was stopped. A pass to Moody in the end zone was incomplete, but Lejeune scored seconds later on the outstanding play of the game. Minihan faded, was in trouble, but got away a pass to Darnell in the flat, who reached for it with one hand, batted it to his body, squirted right out of the hands of a Lee tackler, and slid around three more men to go over standing up for touchdown number four. Stein made the conversion and it stood at LEJEUNE 26; LEE 0.

HENNELLY CHARGES

Lee brought the kickoff to their own 23, but on the second play from scrimmage, the whole Lejeune line chased Sams into his own end zone, and Hennelly dropped him for a safety, making it LEJEUNE 28; LEE 0.

Lee kicked off to Lejeune, but a 15-yard penalty set them back and the two teams traded punts. The next drive started when Steve Zakula intercepted the first of two passes. Starting on the Lee 49, Maksin got a first down on the 34. Stein got another on the 23, and Maksin, on a great broken-field run, made it first and goal to go on the four. Minihan called Stein's number, and the crushing Californian carried four defenders over

Lipacynski Scores In Last Stanza; Howard Stands Out For Medics

By PFC. DAVID X. SHARPE

The Marine eleven of Headquarters and Service Battalion, Second Marine Division, and the charges of Second Medical Battalion fought toe to toe for three-fourths of a football game last week before the H&S contingent plowed into the end zone, early in the final stanza, for the solitary score of the contest.

CLOSE GAME

H&S, with Dick Lipacynski and Tim Dalton slashing the center of the line and Willie Black slipping around the ends, sent Lipacynski over from the one-foot line to climax a 60 yard sustained drive just after the start of the fourth quarter. That drive, as it turned out at game's end, was the only one to hit pay dirt as one of the most hotly contested games of the Intramural league went to the men from H&S.

LINES HOLD

The first half saw both teams slap the line for two or three tries, then punt and wait for the inevitable break to show up. Howard of the Medics, who played despite an injured leg, was the standout for the losers, but couldn't get past the H&S line in the first frame. At the intermission, neither club had penetrated beyond the other's 30-yard marker.

with him for the score. He kicked the extra point, and Lejeune was leading Lee, 35-0.

Touchdown number six came on another great pass play, again going from Billy Minihan to Louie Darnell. The right end caught the ball in the flat on the Lee 40, shifted, side-stepped, and scooted down the sideline to go all the way. Tex Serres' PAT try split the goal and the game got hopeless, 42-0.

THREE OUT OF FOUR

Kickoff wound up the afternoon's point-getting with less than two minutes left to play in the ball game when he intercepted John Perry's pass on the Lee

DALTON LEADS THE WAY

The first serious march of the game started early in the third period when Smith recovered a Medico fumble on the Med Battalion 21. Black scooted to the 15, with the bull-like Dalton leading the interference. Dalton splattered the center to the 12, and Black made it first and goal to go on the nine. Dalton hit a seven-man line and drove to the five, but a 15-yard penalty broke it all up. Dalton chewed out 14 yards in three tries through the center, but Black was stopped at the line of scrimmage and the Meds took over.

H&S SCORE

The H&S score came minutes later when two pass plays brought them to the Med eight. The second aerial, which was pulled out of the air by Zelenak, covered 35 yards. Lipacynski blasted to the three, and Spivey went to the one-foot line. Lipacynski skirted around right end for the tally. The try for extra point was no good, and the scoring was over.

Med fullback Russ Howard passed for 35 yards to the H&S 23, for the only bona fide Medico threat of the game, but the Marine team held. H&S really caught on fire then, as Lipacynski, in an amazing display of broken field running, carried twice for 53 yards. Spivey, sub fullback, added a 21-yard jaunt of his own to the parade, but time ran out on the bid for a second score and the ball game ended with H&S on the Med three-yard line.

15 and decided to break into the scoring ledger himself, taking it into the end zone. Serres again made the conversion good, and minutes later the gun sounded, the game was over, the Marines of Camp Lejeune had made it three out of four, and had left no room whatsoever for doubt of their ability to come back after defeat.

Casey Stengel, present New York Yankee manager, was with the Giants in 1923 and his two home runs won the only game the Giants captured in the World Series against the Yanks.

On Wednesday evening, October 26, the Midway Park Radio Program will be resumed over station WJNC from 9:00 to 9:30 p.m. Listen in for news of Midway and a most interesting program in general.

Our Girl Scout program is showing marked progress and we are happy to announce that a Brownie Troop is now in the process of organizing under the able direction of Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Adelman of Paradise Point. This addition to our already well-organized Brownie Troops is a boon due to the solving of the problem of transportation for children from Paradise Point to Midway Park, which has hampered us in the past.

Keep Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29, open for a date at the Scout Carnival Friday evening and the Masquerade Dance on Saturday night. You will be glad you did not miss either of these events. For more details, tune in the Midway Park Radio Program on October 26 and read this column in the October 27 issue.

Mrs. V. B. Heavey, Recreational Director of Midway Park, has been designated by the New Bern-Craven County Council of New Bern, N. C., as Organizational Chairman for Onslow County. This automatically makes her a member of the Council Organization and is a most important post in the Girl Scouts of the United States of America.

Congratulations to Scout Harold Regan on his qualifying for Star Scout in Troop 90 of Camp Lejeune.

P-TA Notes

P-TA will have its first Radio Forum on Wednesday, October 26, from 9:00 to 9:30 p.m. over station WJNC. Mrs. A. S. Christian, Second Vice-President of P-TA, will be chairman. First Lieutenant W. T. Zamojc will act as moderator. Mrs. George Gont will represent the home and parents' responsibility, Mr. B. A. Barringer the school, and Mrs. A. B. Anderson safety and community responsibility.

Christmas Items Making Appearance This Week

TOYS

This year your Camp Exchange will carry a very fine, but very limited, quantity of children's toys. The selection will be great, but there will be very few of each type article. Because of the isolated position of this base, it was found last year that reorders on toys placed after November 15 did not arrive in time to do our customers any good. Therefore, in most cases, toys will not be reordered with the hope of receiving more in time for Christmas. Many items which were purchased before Exchange Regulations went into effect will not be replaced. All of this means do your Christmas toy shopping as early as possible in order that you may avail yourself of the best possible selection.

Toys this year will be located in Building No. 67 diagonally across from Central Camp Exchange. You will find new and fascinating items on display here beginning this week.

CENTRAL ANNEX

Your Exchange has a good supply of cool weather clothing for both boys and girls from infant's age to size 6X, and a few items left for older children.

Central Annex is a shopping paradise where, in every day necessities, many handsome items themselves especially giving. Such things as night gowns, slippers, there in great profusion.

A meeting of the Opportunity Shop Committee was held recently at the home of Maj. W. C. Ward, Chairman. Old and new business was discussed. It was voted to turn over $100 each to the two sponsoring organizations of the shop, the P-TA and the Navy Relief. This has been done.

Those present at the meeting were Maj. W. C. Ward, Maj. A. H. Patterson, Mrs. W. A. Reeyes, Mrs. James Hooker, Mrs. James Rudasch, Miss Lucy Pane, and Mrs. Peter C. Killen.

Mrs. Ward served refreshments to the committee following the meeting.

By D. J. YOUNT

Who says unification won't work? The following letter, sent to the Globe last week, gives the program a fair sized plug, not to miss mention of a well-earned bouquet to the patients and staff of the U. S. Naval Hospital.

Jacksonville, N. C., October 3, 1949.

The Camp Lejeune Globe, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Dear Sirs:

I have heard numerous people always ready to say something against hospitals. I feel compelled to differ with them as I had the misfortune to have my leg broken and spend a little time at the U. S. Naval Hospital. So from experience, I can truly say that no one could have been treated any better. . . . Dr. Heffernan, the nurses, corpsman, and even the other patients, everyone was great. I have always thought and heard that Sailors and Marines couldn't get along. Here at the hospital, this is not so. Their motto seemed to be: "One for all and all for one." So to all those in Ward 8 and wherever else I came in contact with, I just want to thank them all and say I really appreciate the treatment I received. I only hope you can find a little corner in your paper for this.

Yours Respectfully, JAMES C. ROBSON.

Camp Lejeune Carpenter Shop
Thank you, Mr. Robson! We are truly proud of the U. S. Naval Hospital and appreciate your sentiments. It's great to hear from a non-gripper.

PATIENT OF THE WEEK

PFC. JOSEPH EARL RISSE

This week, we've a guest in the house—Pfc. Joseph Earl Risser. Joe comes to the U. S. Naval Hospital from Cherry Point Naval Air Station and has been such a model "house guest" that he's been chosen the Patient of the Week.

Recuperating from the after effects of a burst appendix operation, Joe minds his own business and bothers no one. To quote him, "I just want to stay in my own corner and get better fast."

Joe, a 19-year-old from Boston, Mass., is interested in anything aeronautical and when his enlistment is up, he will enter Parks Air College, St. Louis, Mo.

HOSPITAL HI-LITES

Time to get in the groove and prepare to celebrate Navy Day with the second in a series of the Hospital Hi-Lites Radio shows. October 27 is the date, WJNC the station, and 9:00 p.m. the time.

Tryouts are now being held among patients and corpsmen to pick an MC for the show and Vera Kirst is really digging to uncover a local talent band. There are many other surprises—but what's the fun of telling you now? Wait a week!

Two fellows from Baton Rouge, La., were guests of the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, October 11. An interesting note about the boys, Pfc. Lynn Mack and Pfc. Steve Spalino, is that they didn't know each other until they came to the hospital as patients. Steve, if you will remember, is a long-term patient and Tuesday was his first liberty in many months. Believe me, he enjoyed it!

During the period October 11-14, two supervisors of the South Eastern Area Office, Atlanta, Ga., observed the activities of the Hospital Red Cross staff.

Miss Mary Mack, Assistant Director of Hospital, and Miss Lillian Summers, Recreation Consultant, were most pleasantly surprised at all that has been done and is being done by Red Cross at the Naval Hospital. They commended most highly the entire hospital Red Cross staff, both paid and volunteer services.

IMPORTANT PAY NOTICE

The Disbursing Officers of Division and Camp anticipate and desire to include the increase in pay for all enlisted personnel in the pay to be paid on November 7.

Eighth Marines Saga Of Mediterranean T As Fleet Marine Force Of Sixth Task Fl

Unit Covered 21,000

Miles In Five-Month Period; Visited Many Historical Spots And Saw The Work Of Rehabilitation Being Accomplished By U. S.

By 1stLt. DAVID G. JONES

After five months and 21,000 miles of travel, the 8th Marines (Reinf.) returned to Camp Lejeune late last month from their tour of duty as the Fleet Marine Force of Vice Admiral Forrest Sherman's Sixth Task Fleet in the Mediterranean area. "Travel, Adventure, Education"—as the recruiting posters read—would seem to be a fitting title for the true story of their cruise.

Leaving Camp Lejeune on April 29, 1949, units of the battalion proceeded to the ports of Norfolk, Philadelphia, and Morehead City, N. C., to embark in the ships of the fleet. Initially, units went aboard the aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea, the cruiser USS Juneau, the attack cargo ship USS Marquette, and the LST 980. The fleet left the States several days later in company with assigned destroyers, and arrived within the shadow of the famous Rock of Gibraltar about the middle of May. Here all units officially became a part of the Sixth Task Fleet and the tour really began.

The next stop on the itinerary was the island of Sicily, where the ships put into the liberty ports of Augusta and Palermo. At Augusta, the first of many organized tours for the personnel of the fleet was conducted to the ruins of the ancient city of Syracuse. This was an opportunity for those interested to actually stand on one of the sites of the "Cradle of our civilization." All was not to be one large liberty, however.

Following the pause in Sicily, the fleet conducted exercises in the Malta area, with the 8th Marines taking an active part. Since the Sixth Task Fleet is assigned to the Mediterranean in support of the foreign policy of the United States, it was necessary throughout the cruise to conduct exercises in order to maintain the fleet in a constant state of operational readiness so that it could carry out this mission.

The 8th Marines next enjoyed a 10-day stay in the harbor of Naples. Here tours were offered to the reconstructed city of Pompeii, buried in the year 67 A.D. by the burning ashes from the volcano Vesuvius; to the Isle of Capri; to the famous town of Sorrento; and to the capital city of Italy, Rome, which included an audience with Pope Pius XII. Many of the personnel of the fleet took advantage of these tours. On the trip from the Malta area to Naples, the fleet passed through the famous straits of Messina, between Italy and Sicily, the scene of one of the hardest-fought battles of World War II, and passed by the island of Stromboli, whose active volcano could be seen smoking a few miles away.

After the stay at Naples, the fleet once again operated in the Malta area and then headed for ports in the north of Italy. Most important of these were Rapallo, Genoa, Leghorn, and La Spezia. One unit of the 8th Marines made the trip up the Adriatic Sea to Venice and Trieste.

Next on the itinerary for the fleet was various ports of call along the French Riviera from Marseilles to Monte Carlo. The Coral Sea, with her escorting destroyers, dropped her anchor in the blue waters off Cannes, France, while the other larger units of the fleet were in the Nice-Villefranche area. This was one of the highlights of the cruise. The bathing beaches and other recreational facilities of the famous French resorts offered many relaxing hours for all hands. Here on the Riviera, tours were conducted to Grasse, and other points of interest in the maritime provinces. Many parties and dances were held for the Marines and sailors while the ships were in these ports.

Leaving Southern France behind, the ships of the fleet headed for the island of Crete where a full-scale amphibious landing was conducted with the 8th Marines (Reinforced) comprising the assault-landing force. Following a short stay in the mid-summer heat of Suda Bay, Crete, the 8th next set foot on the rugged shores of Greece as the fleet came to anchor at Athens. The short stay here enabled the Marines to visit the Parthenon, the Acropolis, and other remains of the "Glory of ancient Greece" and to observe the great work being accomplished by the United States in its aid to the people of Greece.

Heading further eastward from Greece, the fleet next traveled to Istanbul, Turkey, the mystic city and "gateway to Asia." This stop gave the 8th the distinction of being the first battalion from the Second Marine Division to visit a port in Turkey. While underway for Istanbul, the ships passed many of the Greek islands in the Aegean Sea and, prior to entering the Dardanelles, they sailed close inshore to the plain of Gallipoli where from the deck the Marines and sailors could see the monument to the British troops who lost their lives in the fateful amphibious assault attempted there during World War I. For many years prior to the development of amphibious tactics as we know them today and the advent of the Fleet Marine Force, Gallipoli was cited as an example of the folly of amphibious warfare. In traversing the straits of the Dardanelles, the waterway was so narrow that at times the fleet wondered whether it was still afloat or whether it was actually travelling on land.

Istanbul marked the end of the eastward sailing of the fleet. After an enjoyable stay in this very modern city, the ships once again set sail for the island of Crete. Here, at Suda Bay, the Sixth Task Fleet conducted another full-scale landing exercise culminating with the 8th Marines (Reinforced) storming ashore to seize the beachhead.

Returning from Crete, the Marines and sailors once again were afforded the opportunity to enjoy the liberty ports of Naples and the French Riviera before arriving at Gibraltar, where they were relieved by other units and completed their tour of the Mediterranean. About the middle of September, all the ships in which the 8th Marines were embarked headed westward across the Atlantic to Norfolk and home.

The Mediterranean cruise is some of the best duty available to members of the Second Marine Division today. In addition to all the liberty ports visited by the Marines, they are afforded an opportunity of service on a variety of Naval vessels, enabling them to take an active part in the operations of the Naval service. Greater than all, the Marines can learn how much it actually means to be an American and what a magnificent task has been accomplished by our nation in aiding our less fortunate European brothers to once again take their places in the world. As usual, many compliments have been received on the conduct of our "good will ambassadors" during their cruise to the Mediterranean area. These reflect nothing but the highest credit upon the American people at Task Fleet. The Marine personnel assigned have carried high the banner, "Semper Paratus."
