CO's To Distribute Forms For NSLI Dividends

(SEA)—Naval personnel who will share in a $2,800,000 special National Service Life Insurance dividend will be able to get application blanks from their commanding officers probably sometime in August or shortly thereafter. Arrangements have been completed between the Navy and Veterans Administration for distribution of the forms to all naval district and river command commanders, and major fleet commands for further distribution to ships and stations throughout the world.

Suitable announcement will be made when the application forms are ready. Naval personnel on active duty in continental U. S., like naval and marine Reservists on inactive duty and veterans, may also get the applications from any post office, veterans' organizations or VA office.

UP TO INDIVIDUAL

Once eligible personnel have received the three-fold card, the rest is up to the individual. The form, expected to be distributed next month, contains blanks for policy or ex-policy holders to fill in his full name, service number, insurance policy numbers and address.

One third of the card, which contains instructions, will be retained by the serviceman with the other two portions being mailed to the VA. The VA in turn will return the acknowledgement portion of the card to the serviceman to inform him that VA has received the application.

Letters should NOT be written regarding the dividend payments. See INSURANCE On Page 3

Commandant Administers Oath And Pins Star On New 2d Mar. Div ADC

By MSGT. A. STANKATIS
An informal ceremony was held on Saturday evening, July 2, at Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart's beach house at Onslow Beach, Camp Lejeune, honoring the promotion of Colonel William J. Whaling to Brigadier General.

Highlighting the occasion was General Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps, who administered the oath and pinned the first star on Brigadier General Whaling.

The newly-made Brigadier recently reported here for duty and, as a Colonel, was assigned as Chief of Staff, Marine Barracks. With his recent promotion, which was effective July 1, he has been assigned new duties as Assistant Commanding General, Second Marine Division.

A native of Grand Rapids, Minn., Brigadier General Whaling enlisted in the Marine Corps in May, 1917. He was commissioned in France during World War I and served with the 6th Regiment of Marines, participating in action at Belleau Woods, St. Mihiel, Soissons, Blanc Mont, and the Meuse-Argonne.

General Whaling was coach and a firing member of the Marine Corps National Pistol Team which won the National Team Championship in 1920, 1921, and 1922. At this time, he was acclaimed as the first commissioned officer in the Marine Corps to be distinguished with both the rifle and the pistol.

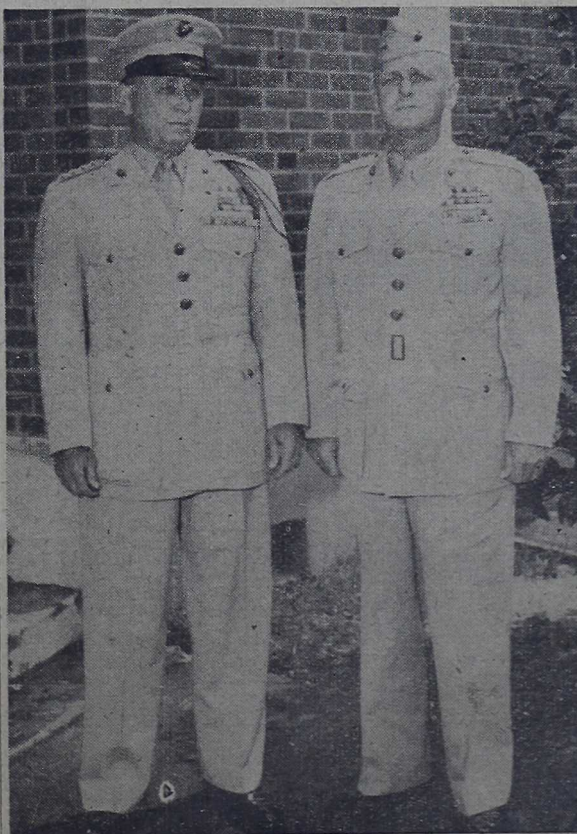

During the years in which he has coached and fired in Marine Corps competition, he has turned in some outstanding scores. In 1924, the General placed first in the United States Olympic pistol matches at Rheims, France.

The General has seen many varied duty stations during his thirty-two years of service. In addition to his World War I service in France, he has been stationed at Peiping, China; Nicaragua; Haiti; aboard the USS Cleveland; and aboard the USS Maryland. At the outbreak of World War II, he was at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked. Later, he participated in the landings on Guadalcanal, the first United States offensive action of the war. As Commanding Officer of the 1st Marine Regiment, he led the successful assault and capture of the air field at Cape Gloucester. In the final action of the war, he was Commanding Officer of the 29th Regiment during the Okinawa campaign. For his outstanding performance of duty during this action, he was awarded the Navy

2d Division Association Meets

Many distinguished officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps will be present, as members or speakers or both, at the three-day reunion of the Second Division Association at the Hotel New Yorker in New York City, starting 7 July.

Honorary chairmen for the reunion are General Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps; Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, combat commander of the Second Division in World War II and now Deputy Commanding General, Sixth Army; and Maj. Gen. Roscoe B. Woodruff, Deputy Commander, First Army. Lt. Gen. Raymond McLean, Chief of Information, and Brig. Gen. Wendell Westover, Executive for Reserve and ROTC Affairs, will be among the speakers on the reunion program.

Among the highlights of the reunion will be the memorial service at the Eternal Light at Madison Square on the afternoon of 9 July and the informal banquet at the New Yorker on the evening of the same day. A notable feature of the banquet will be the return to the Veterans of Belleau Wood, U. S. Marine Brigade, Second Division, of the colors which this organization presented to USS Belleau Wood. Rear Admiral A. N. Pride, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, will represent the Navy in this ceremony.

Stoenner's Band Play At Pavilion

Divisionaires' Montford

Enthusiasts around Camp Lejeune will have the opportunity to "sing and sway" to the rhythmic music of Royce Stoenner and his orchestra at the Marston Pavilion.

At Montford Point, personnel will enjoy the music of the popular "Divisionaires."

Royce Stoenner has been playing throughout the country for several years and features the style of music popular with the younger generation.

"Divisionaires" have played at dances at Camp Lejeune and always scored a hit with their large audience.

There's a "wallflower," the theatre offers the "Last of the Pompeii," starring Preston Foster and Basil Rathbone. But, for a better cut, follow the crowd to the Pavilion and hear Royce Stoenner and his fine ensemble of musicians "sound off" with the type of music you enjoy.

How To Get A Girl

There are many approved ways, of course—flowers . . . candy . . . perfumes . . . sweet nothings whispered in her ear in the moonlight.

But, there's one way that's sure to make a hit. Show her that you're thinking of her future—that you've got her future security all planned and provided for . . . and you just can't miss.

Tell her you've signed up to buy U. S. Savings Bonds regularly through the convenient plan the Marine Corps offers you. That'll show her right off that you've got a head on your shoulders. Chances are, if she's a working girl, she's buying bonds herself the Payroll Savings Plan way. If not, you can bet she's got a dad or a brother or a sister who's a Payroll Savings "regular."

She knows that Savings Bonds bought the Payroll Way are the world's safest and surest investment. Ten years from now, they'll pay you back $100 for every $75 invested today.

So why not join Payroll Savings today? Then—you can tell her about it . . . tonight.

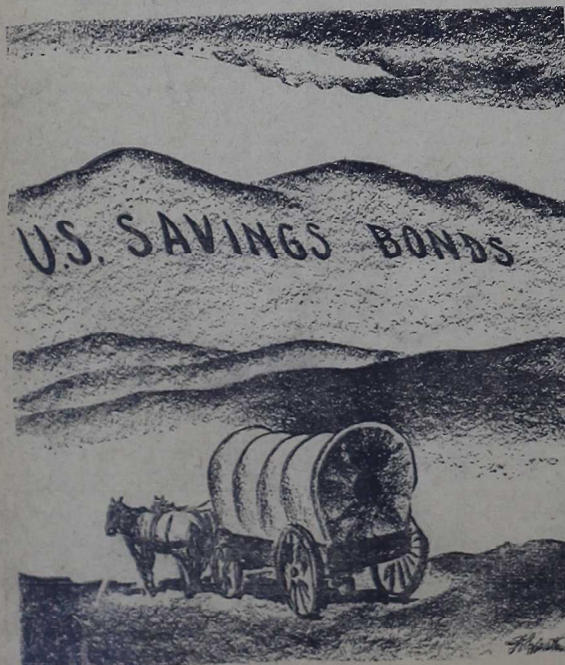

COLLEGE AT 12!

Lancelot is not a bit brighter than you or your youngster. But . . . could be his father is a lot smarter than you.

You see, way back in 1942, when the Payroll Savings Plan was just beginning to roll, Lancelot's dad signed up to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. He wasn't making too much money—but he knew one thing, for sure. Lancelot was going to have the chance to go to college.

Ever since those 1942 College Bonds have been growing—right along with Lancelot. And this fall he'll be ready to start off for school. You can bet Lancelot thinks the old man's pretty doggone wonderful. Don't you . . . ?

REPUTATION

By praise we strive to lead men to appreciate the excellence of someone else; by honor we express our own esteem for them; and glory is the combination of both praise and honor from many persons. Humility prevents us from striving to be preferred to others; to be praised, honored or glorified; but it allows us to preserve a good name. A good reputation does not imply any particular excellence but general straightforward integrity, which we may recognize in ourselves and even desire to be known by others without ceasing to be humble. Were it not for charity we might despise our reputation. But a good reputation is the foundation of society and without it one is useless and even harmful to public welfare; therefore, the love we owe our neighbor demands it, and humility permits us to strive for and maintain a good name. However, reputation is but a signboard showing where virtue dwells. Virtue itself is always preferable to a good name. A virtuous man can afford to be called a coward because he forgives insult. We are justified in preserving our good name but we should not idolize it. The essence of reputation is virtue and probity; these, if they remain, will ever cause honor to be given anew.

Whatever tarnishes our reputation must be given up; idle conversation, useless habits, frivolous friendships, because it is worth more than all of these. If, on the contrary, you are blamed or rebuked because of your pious prayer or your determination to save soul, let your critics have way just as you would let bark at the moon. Keep you on Christ crucified, and be d to His service with confident prudence. He will take care of reputation. If He permits it lost, it will be to give you some better, or to train you in hu of which a single ounce is than a ton of honor. If we are ed unjustly, let us oppose tr calumny; if that does not s let us humble ourselves a more, leaving our reputatio soul in the hands of God, o protector. Of course, certai are so infamous that no one endure a false accusation of especially if the edification ners depends on him. In th is correct calmly to seek som ration. However, silence and ference to insult and slander more effectual than resem anger or vengeance. Slande beneath contempt, but indig half acknowledges its truth.

Promotion Of Enlisted Personnel

New Directive Unifies Procedures For Enlisted Promotions

Marine Corps Memorandum number 47-49 has been released with a view towards consolidating current enlisted promotion procedures; to continue these procedures in effect until new procedures based upon the revised Manual of Occupational Specialties and the revised Marine Corps Manual are promulgated; and to adjust service-in-grade requirements for promotion.

The enlisted promotion system of the Marine Corps will function as follows:

Semi-annually, Headquarters Marine Corps will distribute authorizations for promotion to all grades except the sixth.

Commanding officers may effect promotion of privates to privates first class when the individuals are considered qualified and meet the following requirements:

- (1) Male Recruits—have completed recruit training without offense.
- (2) Women Recruits—have completed ten weeks' active duty, including recruit training without offense.
- (3) Or have completed four months' service without offense.

Authorization for promotion will be distributed as follows:

- (1) To the first three pay grades—by name.
- (2) To the fourth and fifth pay grades—by name for certain groups of specialists and by quotas for all others.

Requirements for promotion above the rank of privates first class will be as follows:

- (1) Have minimum service in grade:

For Promotion To	In-Grade Requirements
Corporal	1 Year
Sergeant	1 Year
Staff Sgt.	18 Months
Tech. Sgt.	2 Years
MSgt.	2 Years

Computation of service-in-grade will be based on date of rank as distinguished from date of promotion. Service-in-grade in present or higher rank satisfactorily acquired during previous service in the regular Marine Corps or Marine Corps Reserve, if on extended duty, will be included for one promotion only.

Present rank must be below the terminal rank for the individual's primary specification number as established by Letter of Instruction No. 1472.

Letters of recommendation for promotion are not required. An affirmative answer to item 15 of the non-commissioned officer fitness report will be constructed as recommendation for promotion. Commanding officers may withhold promotion of any non-commissioned officer whom he does not recommend.

For promotion to each rank above corporal, have a passing score on the General Military Subject Test.

Insurance

it has been emphasized. Any letter writing would only serve to delay processing the applications. AVERAGE PAYMENT $175

About 16,000,000 World War II veterans and active service men and women will be eligible to receive the dividend. Amounts individual veterans will receive are not yet known as individual calculations have not been completed, but it is believed the average payment will be approximately $175.

Carl R. Gray Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs, said that he "hoped distribution of the checks could be started sometime in January 1950, and be substantially completed during the first half of 1950."

Generally, every serviceman or veteran who took out NSLI and kept it in force for three months or more will be eligible for the dividend. In cases where policyholders have died, the beneficiary of the policy (if the policy was in force) or those shown to be entitled in case the insurance was lapsed, will receive the payment.

BASIS FOR PAYMENT

What each policy holder and former policyholder wants to know is how much he is going to receive. Answering this query, a VA spokesman explains:

"The amount of dividend which each insured will receive depends upon the proportion contributed by his premiums to the gains and savings under the insurance. Dividends will be based upon the insured's age, the amount and type of insurance, and the length of time the policy was kept in force."

Thus older policy holders whose premiums are higher (depending also on the type of policy) will receive a larger proportionate dividend than those whose premiums are less and contributed for a briefer period of time.

"CUT OFF" DATE

Before checks are mailed, a dividend scale will be published. Even persons whose policies have lapsed—and there are roughly about 12,600,000 of them—will share in the dividends in proportion to the monthly premiums they have paid.

Payment will be made to all NSLI policyholders who paid premiums on their insurance for at least three months prior to the anniversary in 1948—the "cut off" date. This means that premiums must have been paid for three months before the policy has been in effect for one year, the "anniversary date" being in 1948. The special dividend will not be paid on policies issued after 1 Jan. 1949, though such policies may participate in some later dividend distribution, according to the VA.

"KITTY" EXCESS PREMIUMS

Therefore, a person must have taken out NSLI no later than 31 Dec. 1947 and paid premiums for at least three months to participate in the surplus.

The surplus from which dividends will be paid represents a "kitty" of excess premiums paid by servicemen and veterans themselves. It will not cost the taxpayer any additional funds aside from interest paid on government bonds in which the surplus funds are invested.

Hold That Line

1949 Football Squad To Boast Strong Eleven

The Camp Lejeune Marines, with more personnel to choose from than in '48, are expected to field a well-rounded, power-packed team. Such seasoned stalwarts as All-Marine end Tom Dawson and wild running Claude "Big" Hipps will be missed. But the new coach, Major B. J. Audruska, has a wealth of promising rookies to fill the vacancies left by veterans long since transferred or separated from the service and there are several able bodied men left from last year's squad who are well known to those who had the opportunity of playing against them last year. It appears as if Camp Lejeune will not be short on power or speed. It will have a team to be reckoned with and will command a lot of respect in service football this fall.

Probable king of the candidates to return will be Dick Stein, turf-tearing fullback from Atwood, California. Stein was the regular offensive fullback in Lejeune's two-team system last year and will be a constant threat to opponents of the Marine machine throughout the entire Lejeune schedule.

1st Lt. Stone Quillian, hard-charging guard of last year's aggregation, will also return. Quillian packs plenty of football savvy, which can easily be seen by a glance at the pigskin record. The 5'9", 180 pound lineman from San Antonio, Texas, played three years of high school ball in the Texas town, then moved on to Rice Institute at Houston, where he lettered all four years in the rugged Southwest Athletic Conference.

At the other guard position will probably be Henry Lay, of Webb, Miss., who also packs a neat 180 lbs. on his 5'9" frame. Last year was Lay's initial try at the service game. This experience should make him a better lineman this year.

Leo Moody, crazy-legged halfback from Dillon, S. C., will be back to bolster the backfield. Moody, a great punter, is something of a speed merchant when it comes to dividing the running chores. A rookie in '48, he is another Lejeuneer who comes back bigger and better for the '49 season.

Another veteran to return is Frank Maksin, from McKees Rock, Pennsylvania. This will be season number three for Maksin, a line-chewing runner who will work from a halfback slot.

C. C. Dawson, tackle, Joe Ward, tackle, Steve Zakula, fullback, and a host of others return from last year's squad, assuring football fans at Camp Lejeune of a sure All-

Navy contender. The rookie aspirants for starting berths are good and plentiful, but the shining light of them all thus far has been Don Davidson, a fast-coming end from Pontiac, Michigan. Davidson, a 6'1", 205 pounder played basketball for the Lejeune Marines, and finished in a tie for second place in the All-Marine high matches held at Quantico early this past summer. He has shown more hustle than a volunteer fireman in the Chicago blaze of the 1800's, and is expected to fill the cleated shoes of Tom Dawson.

The Lejeuneers will face practically the same schedule they rumbled through in '48, with the season starting off against Campbell College. Their first service tilt, scheduled for October first, will be against the "Red Devils" of Fort Jackson, S. C.

USMCR Gunners Fire New Record

QUANTICO, Va., June 24—(Delayed)—Marines of Kansas City's 5th 105mm Howitzer Battalion, now in active training here, returned to the role of Leathernecks today—as riflemen. Firing the course under a hot Virginia sun, more than 98 per cent of the men qualified as marksmen with the .30 caliber carbine.

Top scorer was William R. Hamilton (Independence, Mo.), closely followed by Raymond E. Heck (Kansas City, Kan.) and Gerald L. Rhodes (Weiborn, Kan.), who tied for second place. Richard J. Randolph (Kansas City, Mo.) was third.

Marine artillerymen are now equipped with the short-barreled carbine for their personal weapon. The men of the 5th 105mm Howitzer Battalion chalked up a new course record for Reserve units of the Marine Corps taking summer training.

Bucky Walters and Johnny Vander Meer are the only remaining members of the 1940 World Champion Cincinnati Reds.

Lejeune Nine Travels North For 6th N. D.

By PFC. DAVE SHARPE

The Lejeune Marine Baseballers, a greatly improved squad over the nine that started the season, are now pointing for the Sixth Naval District Play-offs. The double-elimination tourney, which will commence at Cherry Point on the 28th day of this month, might be the second sweep for a Camp Lejeune aggregation, the basketball team doing it last winter.

Many of the performers, both old and new, have been galloping around like two-year-old thoroughbreds during the past weeks workouts. One of the more notable of these is Eddie Gallagher, once a regular outfielder, who was taught the finer points in the game by Joltin' Joe DiMaggio himself. It seems that the Yankee Clipper's return to the diamond has also been an inspiration to Eddie, for his current form could only have been brought about by some sort of bonfire being built under him.

Another greatly improved player, probably the most outstanding on the squad, is Frank Frezza. The burly first-baseman, who was doing well to get a base blow per contest a month ago, is now clouting the ball for at least two hits a contest and one of them is usually for extra bases. He has advanced to July Fourth was also "Independence Day" at the Wallace Creek Boathouse for the participants spectators at the monthly regatta which featured events ranging from the humorous episodes of the canoe tipping to the exciting final races in the Sailboat race.

Taking first place honors in Lightning Class "A" Sailboat was W. J. Lawrey, who man-steered craft capable of leaving other contestants in his wake.

Second place was won by Lt. H. Granger and third place by W. E. Crehan.

The rowboat singles event won by Pfc. H. F. Copley. Second place honors in the rowboat went to W. J. Lawrey.

In the canoe doubles, first was captured by Pfc. A. T. W. and second place by Pfc. J. Grills.

W. J. Lawrey took first place honors in the canoe singles. Cpl. C. F. Woodard and Pfc. Krenieck tied for second place.

Private First Class Flanagan, the most exciting part of the regatta, took top honors in the canoe tipping after putting up a struggle to overcome all other tenders.

Warmin' The Bench

By Armed Forces Press Service
"The world will little note nor long remember what we write here, but it can never forget what they did there..."

The International Boxing Club tried to promote a fight between Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott to establish a world's heavy-weight champion, but the contenders just wouldn't contend.

In spite of the way they successfully ignored each other, the title vacated by Joe Louis some months ago was given to Charles. It would be hard to say, however, on the basis of this match that Charles was a better fighter than Walcott since neither man really fought.

The fifteen frame farce staged in Chicago did succeed in opening the mouths of the 25,932 patrons-of-punch present—first to yawn, then to boo, and finally to enable them to breathe without offending their sense of smell.

As the two men continued to wait away the 45 minutes scheduled for action by shadow boxing and swinging from a safe distance, we began to think of a plan offered recently by Jack Dempsey to advance and develop boxing.

The Manassa Mauler suggested that the big boxing promoters should get wise and set up a system throughout the country to bring up and develop young boxers, with the better of them advancing to the big time. It would be a farm system patterned after baseball's system.

Expenses for setting up such a program would not be too great, as boxing already is conducted all over the United States. A little money spent by the big magnates like the IBC and the Madison Square Garden syndicate would return great dividends in just a few years.

Young fighters would be matched evenly and as they improved, like baseball players, would be moved up to double A and then triple A matches. Those who proved to be the best would graduate to the big leagues and fill the top spots in the big rings across the country.

Boxing could become the greatest year-around sport, or it can continue to destroy itself with its present vile, falacious mismanagement, and disregard for future planning. It is up to the big men holding the reins today whether they want to steal the last few dollars from a dying man, or spend a few to make him well so he can earn them a lot in the future.

The promotion of a farm system in boxing now, would aid in the promotion of championship fights in the future.

number three in team batting, behind only Ralph Nofsinger's .338 and Lev Spencer's .313.

Spencer, incidentally, is about to try his skill at hurling. With easily one of the best right wings in service baseball, he has speed to burn and just might develop into a top-notch moundsman. The Rocky Hill outfielder is not inexperienced at the throwing slot either. He has several games with Quebec in the Class C Canadian-American League to his credit.

Coach Cronk, too, should legally grab an orchid. The fiery first lieutenant has taken a lethargic group of ball players in the middle of a season and molded them, adding new ingredients along the way, to form a hurrying, hustling squad that is getting harder to beat with every skirmish. He has finally found the right combination and is leaving it at that, which will be better than good enough. The club has been demolishing the ball at the plate and the addition of Spencer and Osiel, a southpaw, to the pitching staff gives the club some much-needed balance. Right now Ted McCollum, Johnny Noble, Sonny Washington, Ken Snyder, and Dallas Huddle are sharing the burden on the hill. An additional day or so of rest will make them that much harder to beat on their next excursion to the mound.

Last, but definitely far from least it just has to be Tommy Hubany, Lejeune backstop, who has been poetry in motion behind home plate for the past two years, is leaving. The bass-voiced boy from New York City was discharged July 5th and his presence will surely be missed. He'll be missed, that's for sure and that is putting it mildly.

Civilian Personnel Guide

3 Job Opportunities Open In Civil Service Field

THE TIME IS NOW

There is growing evidence of a slackening of safety habits throughout the Naval Shore Establishment. This let-down is widespread and is most noticeable in those installations which normally are among the leaders of the Navy's Safety Program.

The human suffering that is the natural result of the lowering of safety precautions must be stopped. We must realize and we must convince our fellow workers that accidents do not always happen to the other fellow. We must immediately get over our newly developed habit of not recalling the safe procedures of our jobs, of not looking where we are stepping, or where we are dropping tools and equipment.

We must remember that there is no such thing as an unimportant job. There is no such thing as a job that can be performed without thought. We must remain constantly alert, not only to protect ourselves but to protect our fellow workers.

The majority of our accidents come under the category of carelessness — just plain carelessness. This carelessness to ourselves, carelessness to our associates, and carelessness to our tools and equipment must stop. Let us all do something about stopping them NOW. (Safety Review).

Religious Films Sunday Evenings, Protestant Chapel

The Sunday Evening Vesper Service at the Protestant Chapel will feature an outstanding 16mm religious film on July 10 and 17.

This Sunday, the film presented will be "Daybreak." This is the story of the actual experiences of a young refugee who escaped to Austria after release from a prisoner of war camp. It is the drama of life among the world's dispossessed and is therefore of timely significance to all who are concerned with the social problems which beset Europe and the world at large today. "Daybreak" was filmed in Austria by the International Film Association and is made available through Church World Service.

On Sunday evening, July 17, the picture will be "God Of The Atom," an outstanding production of Moody Bible Institute.

The Protestant Chapel Sunday Evening Vesper Service is held at 1900 and is conducted by Chaplain J. B. McPherson. All are cordially invited.

The Yale football team will play two visiting games during 1949—with Columbia and Princeton.
