North Carolina General Assembly Commends Camp Lejeune Marines

Major General Franklin A. Hart, his staff, and the personnel under his command in Camp Lejeune, were commended last week by the General Assembly of the Senate and of Representatives of North Carolina for the hospitality accorded them during their visit here last February. A special document accompanied the commendation.

Resolution for the commendation introduced by Senators D. of New Bern and John D. Jr., of Trenton and by Representative Carl V. Venters of Hillsboro, was ratified by the General Assembly April 22, 1949.

Letter to General Hart, Representative Venters said that the Camp Lejeune was one of the highlights of the General Assembly and was thoroughly enjoyed by members who made the trip. Venters was high in his praise of the courtesies and hospitality extended by Camp Lejeune's staff toward the members of the North Carolina State Congress. He expressed his thanks in glowing terms to all who contributed to making their trip such an enjoyable and lasting experience. Long Career In Marine Corps Ends

Col. Richard H. Jeschke, Chief of Staff, Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune, will retire tomorrow as a Brigadier General, after more than 31 years of service as an officer in the United States Marine Corps.

At 0900 today, the 8th Marines, 2nd Provisional Regiment, 2nd Marine Division, FMF, will hold a ceremonial parade on the Parade Ground. Music will be furnished by the 2nd Marine Division Band. A letter of commendation to Col. Jeschke from the Commanding General, Major General Franklin A. Hart, reads:

For thirty-two years your service in the Marine Corps has been outstanding, highlighted by many instances of difficult assignments, all of which you have performed with credit to yourself and to the Marine Corps. Your service in this command has contributed greatly to its efficiency as a whole and also to the high morale of the officers and men thereof.

Your retirement will terminate your active participation in Marine Corps affairs. However, we are sure that it will not terminate your interest in the Corps. See COL. JESCHKE On Page 3

Examinations For Promotions Begin

Male officer and enlisted candidates for promotion in the Regular Marine Corps will be professionally examined in 1949 to determine qualifications for advancement, the first time since the war.

About 1200 Officers, eligible for promotion to grades through colonel, will be examined beginning 25 April, at major Marine Corps stations. The officer examinations are a major element of a new Marine evaluation program, which like the pre-war program, is designed to improve continually the standards of professional skill in the Corps.

Enlisted personnel who are eligible, will take appropriate, standardized General Military Subjects. See EXAMINATION On Page 8

May Day

Next Sunday is May Day, and although Camp Lejeune plans no particular celebration of the event, for many Marines the day may bring fleeting remembrances of May Day tales twice-told by their parents. Many others will think of their younger days when they took part in the action around the Maypole. Some may even be planning to attend one of the May Day parties still held in various sections of the country, which, to some extent, carry on the traditions of old.

The first of May has been a festival of merrymaking, dancing, and flowers from earliest times among many peoples. In all probability the observance grew out of the natural joy that spring had arrived after a dreary winter. Folklore has preserved accounts of the dramatic contests between winter and summer enacted by the peasants of Sweden, Czechoslovakia, and other European countries, for it has always been a favorite peasant festival.

Some authorities carry its origin back to the Druids; others believe that it goes back to the old Roman flower festival, where it fell within the period which was sacred to Flora, goddess of flowers when flower dances and processions were common. It would seem inevitable that its origin is as ancient as the time when man first became aware that cold and darkness had disappeared and warmth and light had come.

Union Bus Station Opened In Lejeune

By mutual agreement between the Marine Corps authorities and the three Commercial bus lines operating into this base, a Union Bus Station was opened on 1 April, replacing the separate offices of the individual bus companies.

The Station is located in the Camp Terminal Building No. 235 and serves Carolina Trailways, Queen City Trailways and Seashore Transportation Company and is equipped to dispense general bus information and sell bus tickets to all points over all lines, and is under the management of Mr. L. Y. Perry.

The Union station is set up to improve the services of the Commercial bus lines to the military personnel, and it is pointed out by Mr. Perry that there is now through bus service from this station to Norfolk, Richmond, Washington, Fayetteville, Charlotte, Asheville and Knoxville, as well as to most local points.

The management requests that when any military unit releases 20 or more men at any one time for furloughs, this information be passed on to the local ticket office by phoning 5541 or 5687. This will insure that adequate transportation equipment will be made available, also much time and inconvenience.

Lejeune Baseball Nine Plays First Home Games Sat.

The Camp Lejeune Team meet their first opponents on their home diamond this coming Saturday and Sunday, the 30th of April and the 1st of May.

The first home game of the current season will be played on the Varsity diamond behind the Hostess House with the Headquarters Battalion, Headquarters Marine Corps nine from Washington, D. C. Coach Sandy DeJohn's nine will travel to Cherry Point tomorrow to meet the Point's nine and then will return to Lejeune to prepare for the games with the Washington Marines this coming weekend.

Coach DeJohn, 1949 Baseball mentor of the Lejeune nine, will play against some of his teammates of last year's Henderson Hall Marines. He has proven himself a capable ballplayer and will be respected by Washington pitchers as he batted a powerful .356 with the Henderson Hall Marines last year.

Camp Lejeune's diamond aces will give all spectators a grand game of baseball and will be trying to set the D. C. Marines on their heels. It promises to be a very good exhibition of competitive baseball.

All spectators are reminded the game will commence at 1700 on the Camp diamond behind the Hostess House this coming Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Car Speeds

Along about 1630 every day, Monday thru Friday the dash of vehicles toward the camp gates begins. From every section of the camp there are drivers who rush to their cars, and before the motors have a chance to let out a good roar, they're off. It would seem several drivers are either keeping score on how many times they can be in the vanguard through a certain exit, or they have set themselves a time limit for reaching one of the gates.

Along Holcomb Boulevard, they coyly jockey for position, shooting ahead in spurts when they spot an opening. However, for the most part, speed limits are observed. Could this be because this boulevard is so well patrolled by the M.P.'s?

On the back roads toward Courthouse Bay and Sneads Ferry all is not so well. There are times when an observer might well be taken back to Memorial Day at Indianapolis. It seems that during rush hours as well as at all hours of the night, the call of the open road becomes irresistible, and drivers get careless. Recently three bridges on the road to Courthouse Bay have gotten in the way of drivers. The bridges are still intact, after rebuilding, the same can't be said about the cars. There are two solutions to this problem; either the bridges must be removed, or drivers will have to go slower and be more careful.

Reasonable high speeds are useful in time of emergency, but an extra minute or two at home can hardly be worth the chances one takes driving recklessly or too fast. Speed limits and road markers are put up for your protection, and not as a handicap. Obey the signs. Not only do you risk your own neck by assuming the role of a speed demon, but you endanger the lives of the majority of drivers who do obey the signs. The latter are careful and considerate, but sometime they may be put into a position by another's thoughtlessness where the only way out is a crash. Remember, 45 m.p.h. is the maximum legal speed on any road in Camp Lejeune, and the limit is normally less.

On weekends there is another type of operator. This is the hometown excursionist. Piling seven or eight passengers into his car, he takes off. Once outside the camp gates, the only regulation in regard to speed is how fast his car can travel. The idea is to travel 500 or 600 miles each way at 70 to 80 miles an hour in order to get home for a few hours and get back to camp on time. Not only has this kind of driving increased the number of accidents between the camp and hometowns, but it is one of the best ways of meeting sudden death. When you hit something at 70 m.p.h., curtains are guaranteed. You don't have a chance. Plan on driving again tomorrow,—and take it easy today.

Easy Money

Here's something on traveling carnivals and the leeches that accompany them. Traveling carnivals may be all right, but those "easy money" card sharps and palm men, that more than make their living from unsuspecting "touches," are the ones to be looked out for.

Servicemen can be "taken over" just as easily as the naive farmboy—because these card sharps are professional gamblers, and fleecing is their supreme specialty. You cannot beat these men! They'll start you off with a five cent bet and graduate that into your complete bankroll.

Why not be smart, mate? Go to a carnival and have your fun. See your dancing girls and freak shows, but stay away from the guy who's going to give you a chance to make some easy money. There's no such thing as "easy money."

Chaplain's Corner

There is a note of unusual affection in Saint Matthew 6, 24-33. In very beautiful language Christ is pleading with us to stop being silly, to stop worrying about the thousand and one little things that make our lives miserable. It is a most touching style, we can almost see a pleading smile on the face of Christ, see the homely friendliness of His gestures, see Him bending down to get closer to His listeners.

"Look," He is saying, "what are you worried about? Why all this dreadful anxiety about really unimportant things? Why all this discontent, fear, unhappiness?" God loves you. He is a good God. He wants His children to find happiness and peace. He wants them to lead joyful lives.

Look at the way He cares for the birds of the air. You mean far more to Him than they do. Do you really believe that God who cares so lovingly for little birds is going to forget His own children? Look at the flowers in the field. They are beautiful, aren't they? It is God who clothes them so beautifully. It delights Him to see them so beautiful. Look at the rich green garment of the field, God made and loves that beauty also.

But you, silly, worrying ones. Do you not realize that God is more interested in you than in birds, flowers or grass? Can you not understand that your Father who is in heaven will supply you with what needs you have for joy and freedom and peace? He really will if only we give Him the chance. Serve Him well. Do His will in all things and He will not let you wait.

All very beautiful you say but if I do not go out and work and worry, will God miraculously feed and clothe me and my family? Wait a moment! God has never said that a man need not work or plan. Working and planning are among the laws of living. Christ does say: do not make material things, money, clothes, food and so on the main thing of life. He does say, and it is His promise: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His justice and all these things shall be added unto you."

But it just does not work. How do you know? Have you even tried it? There is the rub. Most of us have not the courage or confidence to try it. Seek first the kingdom of God. Give God first place in your life. Give to God all that God has a right to expect from you and you will find that God will give you all you need for peace and happiness in life. Such is Christ's promise, therefore it must be true.

Usually we reverse the order. We are much more concerned about our three meals a day than about food for our souls. We give more time to the morning grooming of our face than to the preparing of our soul to face the day. We are usually more worried about pleasing men than God. We spend most of our energy on other things, and then sometimes we give to God a very little share of what remains.

Parents will literally slave to give their children every material advantage, yet sometimes fail to realize that the most important thing they have to give them is God, training in the things of God, the example of their own saintly living. Actually if we put God and spiritual things first, other things will lose their importance. We come to find that we need very little for happiness.

Young people marry and decide that they cannot afford children. They will wait until they can, so they wait and wait. Their needs grow as their selfishness grows. Then when they are good and ready they plan a child. . . and they wonder why the pattern of happiness is not in their lives.

Reserve Recreation Board To Plan Well-Rounded Athletic Program

Citizen-Marines who will start reporting to Camp Lejeune for their annual summer training as Leathernecks, will find this base as well equipped to train them in good sportsmanship as well as the fundamentals of being a good Marine.

Certain recreation facilities are being planned for the Reserves, including different types of sporting events in which it is hoped all men may have an opportunity to participate in.

The biggest difficulty facing the recreation board is the sport in which the Reserve should be familiarized in as a Marine and the length of time it should be administered.

Since the Citizen-Marines will grace our camp only two weeks in their entire year as a Reserve, it is proving to be quite a headache for the group of Reserve administrators.

If the Reserves were questioned as to their abilities in different athletic functions it would probably be noted that they are qualified to perform many different sports. However, the time limit, as always will be the determining factor in the final decision.

The Regulars as well as the Reserves would probably find much enjoyment in conducting a boxing smoker in which bouts could be made within their commands or the bouts could be staged on a base-wide basis. In any event, the Reserves rate a little relaxation along with the drill, school, and various other duties they will perform while on active duty here.

nate our mutual interest nor our personal associations. We contemplate with pleasure many happy reunions.

Brigadier General and Mrs. Jeschke will leave later today for Stevenson, Md. From there the Jeschkes will go to their country home, "Gibraltar," Markham, Va. where they will raise cattle and enjoy country life.

Brigadier General Jeschke came to Camp Lejeune last June, and during the summer served as Officer in Charge of Reserve Training and Administration, and as acting Assistant Division Commander, 2nd Marine Division. While General Hart was absent on maneuvers during February and March of this year, he was Commanding Officer of Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune.

Both General and Mrs. Jeschke come from families long connected with the armed forces. Mrs. Jeschke, the former Margaret Devereux of Chevy Chase, Md., served in the United States Marine Corps during World War I. One of her brothers is General J. P. S. Devereux. Another brother was a Major in the United States Air Corps during World War II, a third brother served as a Major in the Air Transport Command, and her oldest brother served as a Sergeant in World War I. During World War II, the Jeschkes had a niece and four nephews in the armed services. A daughter, Margaret, is the wife of Lt. Col. J. S. Oldfield who is assigned to Marine Corps Schools Quantico, Va. Their son, Capt. R. H. Jeschke, Jr., is on duty at Headquarters, Marine Corps, Washington, D. C.

The impressive military career of the General began in May, 1917 when he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps and the following month reported for active duty. During World War I, he was assigned to the U. S. S. New York, a battleship which carried on operations in the North Sea. He saw service in the Virgin Islands, Philippine Islands, China, Guadalcanal, Sicily, Africa, France, England, Hawaii, and Washington, D. C. In January, 1942, the General sailed from San Diego in command of the 8th Marines, and in the Fall of that year took part in the Guadalcanal operations. From the South Pacific he went to the Mediterranean where he joined the amphibious forces in Africa for the invasion of Sicily. After the Sicilian Campaign he went to London, England as a member of the planning staff for the invasion of Europe. In the spring of 1944 he was assigned to the joint operation office of the invasion staff for the Normandy operation and the subsequent land operations in Northern France.

The General is the holder of the Legion of Merit with Combat V, for the Normandy operation; Commendation Ribbon with star and Combat V, for Guadalcanal and the Sicilian Campaigns; French Croix de Guerre with Gold Star, for World War II, "for exceptional services rendered in combat operations in the liberation of France." Presidential Unit Citation with Star; Expeditionary Medal, for North China; Yantze Campaign Medal; World War I Victory Medal with two stars; American Defense; American Theater; World War II Victory Medal; and European-African Medal with two stars.

Globe Changes Skippers

With last week's issue, the Globe had a change of editors. S/Sgt. W. M. Durno took the wheel from M/Sgt G. Stevens as editor, and Pfc H. R. Stites relieved Sgt. A. Porterfield as sports editor.

The former editors relinquished their duties as of April 14, and shortly thereafter were transferred to new duty stations. Stevens is to report to NERD, Philadelphia, Pa., and Porterfield to San Francisco, Calif. Both rate a grand "well done."

Steve, editor of the Globe for almost three years, has an enviable record of continuously fine editions. Your new editor has a big pair of shoes to fill.

Perhaps you have noticed a few changes in last week's edition; there are a few more this week. The paper's makeup and typography have been altered slightly and a few features have been added. Remember, Marines, this is YOUR paper. YOU are the ones who must be pleased. Your editor aims to do just that. If you have any suggestions for improvement, or if you think there is something that could be added to the Globe to enhance its readability, call the ed at 5522, or send in a note. If your recommendations are consistent with the policy of the paper, it's possible they'll get into print.

The Globe is recognized as one of the finer service papers. It will be your editor's endeavor to keep the Globe on its present high level, and at the same time increase its popularity by making it more attractive to all.

A newspaper represents the locality wherein it is published, therefore the Globe represents Camp Lejeune. Since the Globe travels to many parts of the country, even to Marines overseas, it is imperative that it be an outstanding publication. The staff pledges itself to make it one and urges the Globe readers to assist in this attempt. Send in your suggestions.

Make the Globe a true messenger of Camp Lejeune!!!

The Corps Rifle, Pistol Matches Begin

49 Annual Marine Corps Rifle and Pistol Competitions will be held at the Western Division Recruit Depot, San Diego, during the period 18-23 June.

The elimination of the Pacific Division competitions this year will see the Pacific Division who will vie for honors in the rifle and pistol competitions, will be at San Diego to fire in the Division Matches.

Camp Lejeune is reserved for the rifle and pistol competitions in the Western Division who will fire the rifle and pistol matches on the week of 16-21 May. The Eastern Division Matches will be held 30 May-4 June at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

Competitors in Division competitions will be firing for a chance to compete in the Marine Corps Matches to be held at Quantico 6-11 June. This year's newcomers to competitive Marine Corps marksmanship will fire for Gold, Silver, and Bronze Badges, which will launch them on their way to becoming "distinguished" marksmen or pistol shots. Only medal winners are eligible to compete in the Marine Corps Matches at Quantico.

Except during World Wars I and II, the traditional Marine rifle and pistol competitions have been held annually since 1910. Until 1940, at which time all competition was cancelled for the duration of the war, the Pacific Division Competitions were known as the Asiatic Division Matches.

Fort Bragg Soldiers Down Lejeune Nine 7-6, 11-3 In Weekend Series

By PFC DAVID X. SHARPE

The Marines of Camp Lejeune lost two baseball games last weekend to the soldiers of Fort Bragg, a 7-6 decision in ten innings in the first encounter, and a 11-3 in the second and final game of the series.

Lee Kubik, Fort Bragg pitcher, won his own ball game in the last half of the tenth inning when he hunted home the winning run in the first contest. Blood Burns, Lejeune's moundsman for the afternoon, hurled his heart out, but fluke singles, bad hops, and errors evened the odds. The big right-hander gave up only five hits over the ten-inning span, outlasting four Bragg hurlers. He struck out six, and allowed only four earned runs.

Bragg scored twice in the second and once in the third to go out in front, 3-0, but Lejeune chewed out four runs in the third when Burns and Grivas led off with consecutive singles, and Gallagher's sacrifice pushed them along to second and third. Cheval slapped a ground ball down the third base line and Black, Bragg third baseman, couldn't stop it, letting the ball roll into left field and Burns cross the plate. Frezza singled, bringing Grivas home. Kuzmin struck out, making it two down, but Hampton, Marine center-fielder, cracked his second double of the day, a terrific wall-to-right-center field that brought both Cheval and Frezza home. Harris flew out to McNay, but Lejeune was in the lead, 4-3.

The locals got another tally in the fifth, to go two runs to the front, on Gallagher's walk and another single by Frezza. Bragg pushed one across in the sixth, and another one in the seventh, tying it up. Lejeune scored in the eighth to make it 6-5, but the Army tied it up in the last of the ninth, then won it with one out in the bottom half of the tenth inning on a squeeze play.

The second game in the two-game series was all Fort Bragg. Lejeune opened with two runs in the initial inning, but Larrabee, ace of the Bragg pitching staff, See FORT BRAGG On Page 5

Boathouse Regattas Commence May 8th, 8½ Mile Course Set

It'll be "Man the tiller," and "Unfurl the Main'sill," when the first sailboat race of the season begins at Wallace Creek on Sunday, May 8th. The "Lightning" Class boats will get underway at 1430 and travel over an eight and one half mile course, with prizes awarded to the skippers of the first three boats to cross the finish line.

Subsequent race dates are 5 June, 4 July, 7 August, and 5 September. A point system will be kept on the order of finishes on the five racing dates and a trophy will be awarded the crew with the highest score at the end of the season.

The trophy will have the winners names inscribed on it and will be kept in the boathouse. There will be one sailboat race each race date starting at 1430 DST. On each sailboat race date, canoe and rowboat enthusiasts will have a chance to race beginning at 0900.

The canoes and rowboats will race over an 800 yd. course with first and second place boats taking the prizes. The rowboats will follow the canoe race. There will be single and double-man races in the canoe category.

After the rowboat races, canoe tipping contests will be held with the sole survivor claiming the winning prize. Contestants who wish to enter the rowboat, canoe, or canoe tipping contests may sign up any time during the preceeding week right up until an hour before post time.

Sailboat contestants must sign up on Friday before the race day between 0800 and 1800 at the boathouse. Also, there must be a coxswain and at least one crew member in each boat.

Sixth Naval District teams will fight until the early part of May for the championship, depending upon the number of contenders. Winners of the district tournaments will meet winners from the eighth and ninth Naval Districts at Charleston during the South-Central Tournament.

Winners of the South-Central tourney will journey to San Francisco, May 22, for the All-Navy. Camp Lejeune's representatives to the Sixth Naval District Tournament have boasted an excellent record for the past season in the ring.

To guide the team, Lt. Cockrum and TSgt. Diaz have acted as coach, managers, and trainers. Their job has not been an easy one, but the dividends are beginning to pay off for the Camp Lejeune sporting world.

On the other end of the morale factor is "Junior," team mascot and pet. He has accompanied the team on their road trips and has stayed faithfully by their side during the drive to their present position.

Members of the squad who will represent Camp Lejeune in the Sixth Naval District Championship bouts are: Red Davis, flyweight; Tommy Otero, bantamweight; (Otero has been replaced by Chaunky Fears due to overweight); Pete Schiro, featherweight; Lee Damon, lightweight; Paul Ribnickey, welterweight; Frank Jackson, middleweight; and Willie McClendon, light-heavyweight.

Results of the fights will be carried in the next edition of the Globe.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AFPS)—Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Blue-Jays' ace young pitcher, was more highly regarded as a basketball player than a diamond star during the early stages of his collegiate career at Michigan State. In 1946-47 he was voted the most valuable college court star in Michigan by newsmen and athletic officials, and the next year captained his team.

Lejeune Baseball Nine Splits Season Opener With Norfolk

By PFC DAVID X. SHARPE

The Leathernecks of Camp Lejeune opened their 1949 season in fine style, soundly smashing the ServLant nine 15-0. The second game of the two-game series, however, told a different story, as the sailors slipped off with a 5-4 verdict.

Marine Captain Sinks First Hole-In-One On Quantico Links

QUANTICO, Va., April 6—A U. S. Marine Captain, Reinhardt Leu, 4840 West Monroe St., Chicago, Ill., scored the season's first hole-in-one on the Quantico, Va., golf course when he sank his tee shot on the par three, ninth hole, last Monday, April 4th.

Using a full three-iron into a stiff wind, Captain Leu drove the 170 yards to the green. The ball landed about five feet short and to the right of the pin, took one hop and dribbled into the cup for an ace. Captain Leu was playing with Marine Captain Austin Wiggins, of Littlefield, Tex., and Lt. V. J. Odeski, Omaha, Neb., at the time.

The 9th hole at Quantico is especially difficult for a hole-in-one since the green is built on a moderate slope. When Captain Leu accomplished his feat the cup was located forward and to the right of the center of the green and about mid-way up the slope.

Captain Leu is a member of the Marine Corps Schools golf team. In addition to scoring the first hole-in-one of the season at Quantico, it was the first ace ever made on the 9th hole since the course was built in 1947. It was also the first for Captain Leu in over 15 years of play.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AFPS)—Penn State's Curt Stone joined the select circle of Don Lash, Greg Rice, Gil Dodds and Fred Wilt when he reeled off an 8:56.9 in the two mile event at the recent New York A. C. Games. These five are the only Americans ever to crack nine minutes for the two miles.

The Marines clicked the start in the season bunched eleven of their to two big innings, the third, while Washington, John's hurling choice for was throwing a two-hitter past the Navy's bats. V was never in trouble. ServLant base-runner far as third. He walked men, and set ten men do strikeout route.

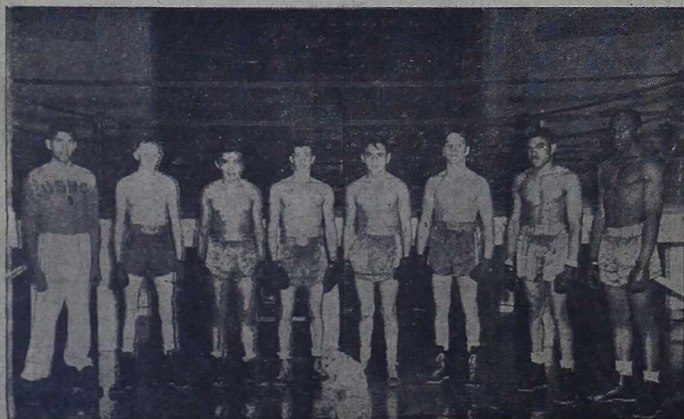

Consecutive singles and, Hampton, Harris any counted for three runs second, and an error more singles by DeJ Frezza brought three men to make it 6-0 after two of play. Bakelaar, ServLant pitcher was rattled third, and four walks, and a base hit brought Marines across the plate it 11-0 at the end of the game.

The second game was tuck all the way, with both of Lejeune and Bakelaar Navy refusing to submit an inning. The Marines outthrew the Navy, seven to four, two-run homer in the third was the key blow of the game. It put the Sailors ahead, stayed there the rest of the game.

Lejeune pushed a runner in the top of the second when Cheval singled, then it all the way around third on Brennan's error. Kuzmin slapped a base left field to bring him Martin's four-bagger sent Lant ahead, 2-1, but Lejeune it up in the fourth on a double and Huddle's single. See BASEBALL On Page 5

Capt. Burton served with the Marines during World War II as a MSgt. Many Marines will remember him when he was the professional at Paradise Point, the golf course he helped to construct.

Allan J. Burton, golf professional for the Army-Navy Country Club in Arlington, Va., has been sworn into the Marine Corps Reserve as a Capt.

The seven inning contest showed determination and power on both sides with the Tent Camp nine getting the final nod of victory.

The game was officially opened by the Commanding Officer of the Second Combat Service Group, Lt. Colonel Barnes and the Commanding Officer of Tent Camp, Lt. Col. Claggett. Colonel Barnes threw the initial pitch and Colonel Claggett received the throw behind the plate.

Refreshments were served the spectators and all personnel who wish to attend future games will be treated likewise . . . to a good clean game of baseball and a cool refreshing drink to make that seventh-inning stretch enjoyable.

Teams representing different outfits throughout the base are vying for the intra-mural league championship. It is too early in the season to make any guesses as to the outcome, but the championship contenders on the intra-mural league diamonds are promising a close race.

The Globe will carry the results of games played in the intra-mural league.

Bear Causes Mild Confusion At R. R.

Noises in the night seem to draw strange and spectacular results according to Cpl. C. C. Williams, who was standing duty in the Motor Transport Building at the Rifle Range on Monday night. Cpl. Williams heard a noise outside the building and upon his intrusion, found himself looking straight into the face of a BEAR.

Although the Rifle Range is a strange place to ever expect to see a bear, Cpl. Williams claims it is true and to make the claim factual, the following afternoon, some of the Rifle Range personnel saw two bear cubs playing around the edge of Stone Creek. They said the cubs were about three months old but it still remains a mystery why they weren't positive of the age and the question in this office is, "Why didn't you bring 'em back alive?" Cpl. Williams, after facing the alleged mother or father bear, played the role of Frank Buck for approximately 30 seconds and then scurried into the building and barricaded the door with a mattress.

and flowers had returned—bringing a time of rejoicing in the beauty of spring.

In Old England May Day was one of the most important festivals of the year and the customs connected with it were interesting throughout the day, dancing around the Maypole, attendance on the queen and her court, games, and sports. Robin Hood and his band, Morris dancers, milkmaids, jesters riding hobby horses, and masques were all a part of the day.

As in the case of Twelfth-night revels, those of May Day became so wild that they fell under the ban of the Puritans and were suppressed for a time, to return with the Stuarts, but not so unrestrained. The cutting down of the Maypole by an early New England governor when the colonists celebrated the return of spring after the remembered English fashion, is one reason why the observance of a May Day did not gain an extensive foothold in the United States.

Civilian Personnel Guide

Importance Of Carefully Prepared Position Descriptions

The importance of devoting sufficient attention to the writing of plain and understandable position descriptions cannot be over-emphasized. Good position descriptions prevent delay in the final classification of positions by making it necessary for position classifiers to conduct work-audits, interviews, make telephone inquiries or prepare follow-up correspondence to obtain necessary information. Position descriptions should be clear, accurate and complete. Facts plainly stated by the employee, regardless of literary style is all that is required. Every employee who describes his work for classification purposes must make sure that the description includes sufficient detail to give a clear understanding of the work to those who may not be thoroughly familiar with the organization and its methods of operation. The description must give concrete information and supply any figures which may reflect the scope of the position. The writer should avoid indefinite terms such as "serves as a senior civilian assistant," "assists," "directs," "assigns," "performs highly complex work," etc. The position description should explain how he "assists," what he "assigns," how he "directs," or what he actually does when he "performs highly complex work." Specific examples will make the description clear.

NEW RIVER RIPPLES

Customer: "That chicken I bought yesterday had no wish-bone."

Butcher (smoothly): "It was a happy and contented chicken, madam, and had nothing to wish for."

Marine: "You have lived in this out-of-the-way place for thirty years? I can't see a thing around here that would keep you busy all that time."

Native: "Neither can I. That's why I live here."

Judge: "You've already admitted driving over this man with a loaded truck. What do you have to say in your defense?"

Culprit: "I didn't know it was loaded."

Ma: "That new couple next door seem to be very devoted. He kisses her every time they meet. Why don't you do that?"

Pa: "I don't know her well enough."

Recruit: "Golly, honey, did you knit that sweater all by yourself?"

Sweet thing: "Yes, all but the hole you put your head through—that was there when I started."

Hubby: "You never tell me what you buy. Don't I get any voice in the buying?"

Wife: "Why certainly, darling—you get the invoice."

DISA ABOUT DATA: A New England whaling heritage, which Peter Salem forsook to become one of radio's newest private detectives, backgrounds the strange events that will be dramatized for the WJNC-Mutual new weekly series,
"The Affairs of Peter Salem," which started last Monday. The air time is 8 p. m.

Hi Brown, producer-director of the series, plans to create an unusual and interesting character in Peter Salem. His friends say Peter is "heavy." He's obstinate, calls himself fat. He has a violent dislike for strenuous exercise, yet his curiosity keeps him active. He has an infectious sense of humor and a manner of living that has prompted his neighbors, on Manhattan's East Eighties, to term him disreputable. He believes this feeling stems from the strange people who constantly beat a path to the Salem domain seeking help.

Santos Ortega, who does such an excellent job in some of those "Mysterious Traveler" yarns on Tuesday night, is heard in the role of Peter Salem.

Dan Morgan, the boxing manager-coach who is called by his confreres "Dum Dan" Morgan, proved himself just the opposite during a recent broadcast of the WJNC-Mutual "Take A Number" quiz show on Saturday evening. He was a contestant on the show and the champion of the evening in answering questions correctly. As a matter of fact, Dan is a set of tires, bedroom and dinette suites of furniture and a special lounge chair the richer for his wisdom. "But," he moaned, "I'd swap it all for a toupee." Attention Dan Parker and all the other characters along Jacobs' Beach.

Gripe Of The Week

Several men around the camp have been seen out of uniform during every hour of the day. They walk along, either with hat in hand, field scarfs half-masted and collars open, or appear out of uniform in some other way to detract from their appearance.

Marines have always been noted for their snappy and proper dress.
Those who are Marines, act like them.

Cancer Drive

During the month of April, the American Cancer Society is conducting a drive for funds to help eliminate the dreaded disease which has caused so much discomfort and unhappiness in many American homes.

Organizations of Camp Lejeune will participate in this campaign by placing collection boxes at strategic locations within their areas to receive voluntary collections.
However, there will be no solliciting.

Citizen-Marines Return To Lejeune For Annual 2 Week Summer Training

This summer, Camp Lejeune will be host to 20,000 Citizen-Marines, who will come from all points east of the Mississippi for their annual summer training. Approximately 2,000 of the Reserves will be Officers.

All Reserve units will be under the overall command of the Provisional Reserve Training Battalion. This Battalion, activated on the 4th of April, 1949, will be commanded by Colonel R. M. Victory.

Colonel Victory's staff is composed of eleven officers and twenty enlisted men, the majority of which are volunteer reservists on active duty for a ninety day period.

This staff will coordinate the reception, administration, medical screening, billeting, messing, pay, and supply clearance of all volunteer reserve officer's training, and coordinate the reception, clothing, equipment, administration, medical screening, classification, assignment, examination, and clearance of all volunteer enlisted reserves training.

A group of 250 volunteer reservists from various points east of the Mississippi will arrive on the base May 16th to begin their initial training as Citizen-Marines. In this group, 92 will be officers and 157 enlisted men.

Many reserves will spend the two weeks in refreshing their memories to the landings they made on Guadalcanal, Tulagi, and many other small islands in the South Pacific during World War II. Many are veterans and many are youths still in high school or college, but they will profit by their summer training both physically and mentally.

The reserves will be assigned to infantry training, and on-the-job training with Motor Transport, Special Services, Supply, and various other Marine Corps functions essential to the reserve if he hopes to get an overall picture of the operation of the Marine Corps.

Marine Corps bases and air stations will train Marines from all 48 states this summer in their annual summer training. On the west coast, Camp J. H. Pendleton and the El Toro Air Station will handle Citizen-Marines for their two week training session. Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point will handle the Reserves from the east.

Ex-Marine Tyrone Power Tells Of Narrow Escape

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"One Foot from Eternity," an article by Marine Reserve Lieutenant Tyrone Power, describing his narrow escape from death while piloting a C-46 Curtiss Commando on Siapan, is currently appearing in the May issue of FLYING Magazine, it was announced by the New York Marine Corps Public Information Office.

The story, approximately one page in length, tells how Lieutenant Power and his co-pilot failed to make a last minute check of the flaps before take-off, and as a result almost crashed with their heavily-loaded plane.

Tyrone Power, a veteran of three and a half years of Marine Corps service, enlisted in August 1942 and received his commission in June 1943. After a short tour of duty with Marine Transport Squadron 352, El Toro, Calif., he was transferred to VMR 353 and saw overseas duty with that squadron from the Marshall Islands to Japan. He was placed on inactive duty in early 1946.

Umpires Needed

A call has been sent forth for any interested personnel who would like to offer their services as an umpire in either the varsity games or the intra-mural league games.

If you feel you are qualified enough to get behind the plate and call the balls and strikes in the grand old game of baseball, call 3659, the Camp Athletic Office or go to Bldg. 1005 and contact the Athletic Officer.

Reserve Staff Officers

Provisional Reserve Training Battalion staff officers are pictured planning training schedules for the coming summer. The battalion, activated April 4, will start training Organized Reserve units May 16. Below, (left to right) are: Lt. Col R. M. Hanna, Officer in Charge, Reserve Administration; Col. R. M. Victory, Commanding Officer, Provisional Reserve Training Battalion; and Maj. H. S. Peffers, USMCR, Adjutant.

Examination

Tests for promotion during May and June throughout the Corps. Unlike the previous "essay" type examinations, however, the 1949 variety are objective, including about 250 questions, primarily multiple choice. They are prepared by the Testing and Educational Unit, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia, and are administered by Supervisory Examining Boards at the designated major posts.

Officers not stationed at the designated activities will be examined at the nearest post convening a Supervisory Examining Board. Completed tests will be graded mechanically at Quantico and scored either "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory." The Naval Examining Board (Marine Corps) will determine when an unsatisfactory score has been made.

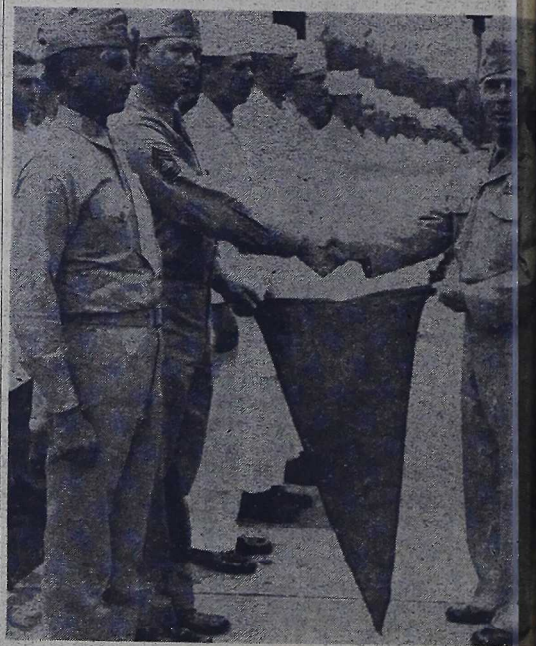

Two General Military Subjects Tests have been prepared for enlisted personnel, one for corporals, another for second, third and fourth pay grade sergeants, eligible for advancement. Sergeants of the various grades, while taking the same test, will be required to make different scores for passing, consistent with their respective ranks.

After 10 May, enlisted men will not be promoted unless they have passed the prescribed tests, but a passing score will not necessarily insure promotion. In the case of both officers and men, actual promotions are made only when vacancies exist.

In the event that Reservists are to be examined for promotion, information will be released from Headquarters at a later date.
