Popular Orchestra Engaged For Dance Marking 2d Marine Division's Return

A band that played repeated engagements here in 1947 and was rated as one of the most popular of that year plays another engagement at Marston Pavilion tonight from 2000 to 2400 to provide really danceable music for a gala dance, marking the return of the 2d Marine Division from maneuvers.

The dance will be attended by many charming hostesses from local cities.

Down Beat had this to say about the band and its maestro, while playing at Meadowbrook recently: "Dean Hudson is a salesman of two items, long experienced in selling both — dance music with elaborate choral trimmings and his own personality. The revised Hudson band which moved into the Meadowbrook turned in a capable job of flirting with dancing tootsies and entertaining the table sitters with commercial presentations."

In his effort to feature good "just plain" dance music, Hudson has turned in a nice piece of reconstruction work with his new design in instrumentation.

His four trombones and one trumpet give him a chance to give his music a flavor not commonly heard. To make the best of this, he's had Lenny Love, the pianist, write the entire book and stylize the band to his taste.

The Sherry Sisters, three-attractive young ladies from South Dakota sing well and help decorate the stand. It's also a neat, well-tailored band. Kennie Martin, of the trombone section, ranks the leader on the male vocals.

In the spotlight ever since its debut, the Dean Hudson Orchestra has many interesting highlights in its career, one of the brightest being their recordings and their popularity.

Throughout Dean's career as a bandleader weaves his theme song "Moon Over Miami," further evidence of his love for his adopted state. He feels that it's lucky for him as well as being a beautiful, memorable melody.

Radio has played an exciting part in the history of the Hudson band too. They have been heard on every major network, on sustaining dance pick-ups and have appeared five times on the Coca Cola Spotlight Band Program, and the Fitch Bandwagon, both coveted dates. While appearing at New York's Lincoln Hotel, Dean and his boys were heard no less than 11 times weekly over CBS and Mutual networks.

Division Orchestra Plays For Dance At MPC Tonight

The 2d Division dance orchestra will play for the regular dance at Montford Point tonight from 2000 to 2400.

The Orchestra, just returned from maneuvers, offers the music of the times in a manner to please all comers. Sweet or hot, the musicians in the division orchestra can dish it out as their continued popularity attests.

The Way To Education

Marine Corps Institute

"Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom." This sage advice was proffered by Solomon to posterity and it would be difficult to dispute the philosopher's words. Wisdom and understanding are not goals easily achieved. To some extent understanding might be derived from wisdom but neither can be gained without applying oneself. There are no short cuts.

The highway to wisdom is study and observation. The combination of the two will certainly initiate a keen appreciation of life. In reading the memoirs of the great personalities down through history, it is ever brought to our attention that these people never grew too old to learn. They not only strived for knowledge of the known, but went further to delve into the unknown.

It is evident then that the pursuit of knowledge does not end with formal education. The mind, like the body, is in continuous need of exercise and nourishment if it is to retain vigor in reasoning. When neglected, decay is the inevitable result.

History shows that fear, ignorance, and retention of dogmatic half-truths have long stifled man's academic, technical and philosophic advancement. The solution is self-enlightenment through guided program learning.

Every Marine, regardless of location and duty, can further his mental growth and acquire applicable skill. Whatever a Marine's goal; to earn a high school diploma, gain college credit, or learn a technical specialty, the Marine Corps Institute can help him fulfill his ambition.

Correspondence study inculcates self-reliance and stimulates independent thought. Through MCI's self-study courses the student teaches himself—how to think.

A Sacred Syllogism

A young man, undoubtedly a seeker of the truth, once put to me the following syllogism:

HE SAID:

God created heaven and earth.

Man is a part of earth.

Therefore, God created man.

All creators are responsible for their creatures.

Therefore, God is responsible for heaven and earth and mankind.

Either the world is perfect or not perfect.

If the world is not perfect, God is responsible for its imperfection. God is perfect.

Perfect beings are beings who do perfect things.

Therefore, God created the world perfect.

Therefore, the world is perfect. Therefore, if sin exists, then sin is perfect.

But sin is not perfect.

Therefore, there is no sin.

MY REPLY:

God created heaven and earth.

Man is a creature.

Therefore, God created man.

God created man in His own image.

God is a person.

Therefore, man is a person—a free moral agent.

Therefore, man is responsible for his decisions.

The world is not perfect.

Its imperfection is due to the advent and presence of sin.

Man, a free moral agent, sinned by a deliberate and premeditated choice and act.

Therefore, man is responsible for the existence, presence, guilt and consequences of sin.

God is perfect or holy.

He who is holy cannot be identified with or be held responsible for sin.

Therefore, God is not responsible for sin.

Therefore, God is not responsible for the world's imperfections.

Therefore, God is not responsible for sin.

That which is contrary to nature and declared will of God is sin.

All men have come short of the revealed will of God.

Therefore, all men are sinners.

No man is perfect or holy by nature or conduct.

That which is unholy or depraved is sinful.

Therefore, all men are sinners.

Men without exception disobey the Laws of God.

Men's disobedience in thought, word and deed indicates a depraved and sinful nature.

Therefore, the human race is by nature sinful.

Knowledge of the divine Law makes man conscious of his imperfection in contrast to God's perfection.

No man has been able to fulfill the perfect Law of God.

Therefore, Man is a lost and condemned creature.

But, God is love.

Love recognizes, reclaims, regenerates and restores that which was lost.

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life."

Therefore, God restores man to his original perfection by grace through faith in Jesus Christ and the work of the Holy Spirit, who calls and enlightens men through the Gospel, and sanctifies them through the means of grace.

God is perfect or holy.

That which is perfect cannot perish, but will live forever.

Therefore, man, restored to perfection or sinlessness, has everlasting life.

Holy Week Services At Catholic Chapel

Holy Week, the climax of Lent, will begin with Palm Sunday, 10 April, which commemorates Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem and continues through Holy Saturday as it carefully presents the drama of the Cross for the meditation and example of the faithful. The entire liturgy of this great week will be observed at the Saint Francis Xavier Chapel.

At the 1030 Mass on Palm Sunday, there will be the blessing of palms, their distribution and the reading of the Passion of Our Lord as written by Saint Matthew.

On Holy Thursday, which commemorates the institution of the Holy Eucharist by Jesus at the Passover feast, Mass and solemn procession of the Most blessed sacrament will be held at 0900. Following this Mass, the Sacred Host will be exposed on the Altar of Repose continuously, throughout the day and night, for the adoration of the faithful. At 2000 there will be holy hour devotions.

Good Friday, the anniversary of the death of Christ, memorializes the Passion and Crucifixion of Jesus. On that day the Three Hours devotion will begin at 1200 with the Mass of the Pre-Sanctified. The reading of the Passion, veneration of the cross and a sermon on the Seven Last Words from the cross will complete the time until 1500. The Reverend Peter J. Quinn, C. P., a member of the Passionist order will preach the Tre Ore and hear confessions after the services.

Holy Saturday is the close of the Lenten season of penance and the beginning of paschal time. The blessings of new fire, the paschal candle, the baptismal font and water at 0800 will be followed immediately by mass.

All people are urged to attend these devotions in order to study once more the Passion of Christ; there to find a deeper sorrow for sin, a greater strength for weakness and courage to answer more fully the challenge of love in the eyes of the Crucified.

OPEN HOURS

The Opportunity Shop is open for business on Wednesday of each week from 1300 to 2100.

For the protection of patrons, the following regulations govern the acceptance and sale of merchandise:

REGULATIONS

All merchandise is accepted at the owner's risk. While the Opportunity Shop can assume no responsibility, the patron may be assured that every reasonable precaution is taken to safeguard property.

The original selling price is set by the owner. A fifteen percent commission, or five cents minimum, five dollars maximum per article commission, is deducted from the price at which the merchandise is sold by the Opportunity Shop for its services.

Wearing apparel (for men, women and children, including uniforms), baby furniture, small household effects and miscellaneous articles are accepted for sale.

The following articles are not accepted for sale: fire arms, ammunition, knives, mattresses and pillows.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that all clothing must be in a clean, sanitary condition. Any article that cannot be laundered or home dry-cleaned must be sent to a dry-cleaning establishment before it will be accepted. To avoid embarrassment, this must be distinctly understood.

The Opportunity Shop reserves the right to refuse any article that is not in a suitable condition for resale.

There can be no exchanges or adjustments. All sales are final. Therefore the Opportunity Shop strongly recommends that merchandise be examined with care before purchase is made.

All merchandise that remains unsold after the expiration of sixty days from date of acceptance is automatically reduced twenty percent of the original price. The alternative to this is withdrawal of property by the owner. If the article has not sold for its original price within sixty days, it is reasonable to assume that it will never sell unless the price is substantially reduced.

Payment for merchandise sold, less the Opportunity Shop commission, is made to patrons by the Officer in Charge of the Fund on the first Wednesday after the first Monday of each month at the Opportunity Shop.

To eliminate extra bookkeeping, the Opportunity Shop does not accept articles priced under twenty-five cents. However, since something that the patron no longer values may benefit another, a Donation Department is maintained for five-ten-fifteen and twenty cent articles, and the money received therefrom, in its entirety, goes to the Opportunity Shop Treasury.

In case of transfer from this activity, patrons may leave merchandise in the Opportunity Shop for sale only under the existing regulations. If and when the merchandise is sold, a money order is sent to the address designated by the owner.

Any unsold merchandise which has not been removed by the owner when the Opportunity Shop closes (notification will be made as to the exact date), will automatically be given to the Salvation Army or disposed of in such manner as is deemed expedient at the time.

Prof. S. W. Handford Now Senior Physiologist At Research Lab

Professor S. Wing Handford, since 1945 a member of the biology department faculty at Brown University, joined the staff of the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory last week as senior physiologist, through an arrangement by Dr. Henry W. Wriston, president of Brown.

The professor is the first of several eminent scientists who will be added to the staff of the laboratory in the next few weeks. The continuing enlargement of the staff, and also of the facilities, of this up-to-the-minute research unit is for one purpose only, to better conditions for Marines.

Dr. Handford's new duties will involve problems of applied physiology relating to the needs of amphibious troops, such as new methods of resuscitation and wound ballistics. A cooperative venture among physiologists, physicists, and chemists, the investigations are to be based on theoretical work done in universities.

During his tenure at Brown, Prof. Handford has had charge of general biology and developed the successful distribution course in biology. Appointed to an assistant professorship, he was promoted to associate professor in 1947. He graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Illinois in 1928, and took his Ph.D. at Yale in 1938. He is a native of Batesville, Ark.

Prior to appointment at Brown, he taught at New York University and the N.Y.U. Dental College. He is a member of the Hal Stokes is one of the few drummers in the music business who is capable of directing a band while playing.

Dr. Gelolo McHugh, Child Psychologist, Addresses Parents

By PFC. DICK STITES

Dr. Gelolo McHugh, professor, author, and lecturer, from Duke University spoke informally on child psychology to parents of children here at Camp Lejeune Monday evening at 8:00 p. m. in the Camp Lejeune High School Auditorium.

Dr. McHugh, professor of psychology at Duke since 1946, gave an interesting and educational outline on the adolescent and his feeling of rejection in later years due to lack of parent interest.

Following the lecture, Dr. McHugh showed a film entitled, "Feeling of Rejection." The film was sponsored by McGill University's Department of Psychiatry. Over 200 parents attended the lecture.

Dr. McHugh was introduced to the audience by Major General Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of the Second Marine Division and Camp Lejeune. General Hart was presented to the group by Colonel Hansen, Commanding Officer of the Supply Depot.

In addition to teaching at Duke, Dr. McHugh is the Chairman of the Division on Parenthood of Marriage and Family Council at Chapel Hill and author of "Developing Your Child's Personality."

A native Carolinian, Dr. McHugh is a graduate of Columbia University and has been conducting lectures on child psychology throughout North Carolina and sections of South Carolina for the past year.

Division Players Report To Gridiron As Spring Practice Enters 4th Week

Approximately 100 more football candidates turned out for Spring practice early this week when the call went out for Division gridirers to report. The newcomers have about two weeks of hard conditioning work ahead of them before they can start body contact workouts with the men who have been practicing.

Major Joe Missar, Head Coach, has joined his staff of assistants after returning from maneuvers, and announces that he is well pleased with the appearance of the men who have been working out under Capt. Paul, assistant coach, while the division was on maneuvers.

The number of veteran gridirers present has been augmented by the appearance of the division men; and, in addition, a fine crop of newcomers is in great evidence.

At this point in the practice the emphasis is still on defensive work. The linemen usually spend the greater part of the practice period working with blocking and tackling dummies, and then cap the session by running off a number of plays.

The backfield candidates spend most of their time practicing the many difficult phases of handling the ball on the "T." Although most football coaches now use the "T" formation, all of them have their own ways of employing it, and the backfield players must get their exact moves down perfectly, or the offense will not function correctly.

In the few scrimmages that have taken place so far it is evident that much more practice must take place before the squad can call itself a team. The chief hitch plaguing the coaches right now is the lack of an experienced and confident quarterback.

There is another shortage in a vital field on the squad at present, and that is the punting department. Several of the backfield hopefuls have shown promise in kicking, but as yet no really long distance kickers have appeared.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AFPS)—Lou Boudreau, manager of the World Champion Cleveland Indians, has banned the use of private automobiles for his players during the remainder of spring training. Boudreau issued the drastic order after noting the recent number of auto accidents involving major league players.

Lejeune Swimmers Urged To Try Now For 1949 Camp Squad

During the period from 11 April to 30 April, inclusive, tryouts and eliminations will be conducted for the purpose of strengthening the Camp Lejeune Swimming Team.

All personnel from all units at Camp Lejeune are urged to try out for the team, in order to maintain the high marks set by the swim team last season. Personnel desiring to tryout should contact the NCO-in-charge of either the Area 2 or Area 5 swimming pool for further information.

It is expected that one or two invitational meets, open to all Lejeune swimmers, will be held during the month of April to help determine what new talent can be expected to increase the present nucleus for the 1949 Lejeune squad.

Positions in all strokes are open, and men desiring to try out may choose any of the following events: 100 meter freestyle; 200 meter freestyle; 400 meter freestyle; 800 meter freestyle; 1500 meter freestyle; 200 meter freestyle; 200 meter breaststroke; 100 meter backstroke; 300 meter individual medley; 3 meter diving.

Preliminary practice for the tryouts has already commenced, and those intending to try out should lose no time in reporting to the Area 2 pool at 1900 any weekday. All practice sessions are under the supervision of the head coach or one of his assistants.

Ft. Monroe Fights Off As Lejeune Boxers Meet PI Wednesday

Camp Lejeune pugilists will go South next week instead of heading for the Middle Eastern Service Conference Boxing Tournament at Ft. Monroe, as originally scheduled.

Due to the fact that Camp Lejeune was the only entry in the tourney at Ft. Monroe, and because Coach J. E. Cockrum does not want to batter up his team fighting among themselves, the Lejeune squad will go to Parris Island during the coming week and meet the PI boxing team on 13 April.

The Lejeune squad has suffered the loss of several fighters during the past weeks, due to several causes. Mike Kobek, promising heavyweight, has been forced to stop fighting, due to pressure of other duties. His loss was the chief blow to the squad, as it leaves Lejeune without a heavyweight boxer. Several other fighters have been dropped from the squad, but there is enough material already on the team to make up for their loss.

At Parris Island the Lejeune squad will fight nine and possibly ten bouts. Tough battles are expected in every weight, as the PI fighters will be trying to avenge the defeat handed them in their last meeting with the Lejeune squad.

Two top Lejeune boxers, Howie Keys and Tommy Otero, may not be on hand to aid the Lejeune fighters against PI. They are presently engaged in the AAU National Finals in Boston, both of them fighting for the 118 pound crown.

NEW YORK (AFPS)—Roads, which have been treated as hazards throughout golf's American history, are no longer in that classification as a result of a recent change in the Rules of Golf made by the United States Golf Association. The new rule will be in effect for all 1949 tournaments.

Tennis Tournament Play Starts Monday; Singles, Doubles Champions To Be Named

Camp Lejeune Tennis Tournament, which will determine the singles and doubles players of Camp Lejeune, is slated to commence Monday, when the first contestants will face each other across the court for a chance to represent Lejeune in the All-Navy Tourney, as take the Camp title.

Annals desiring to compete in tennis championship should have their names to the Camp Lejeune Tennis Tournament, Building No. 1005, by 3:30 p.m., as soon as possible. Entries submitted will be placed in the roster of competitors, and a chance to compete. Past performance is no factor, and everyone will be given a chance to prove himself.

Eligible military personnel stationed at Camp Lejeune, both officers and enlisted, from all units including the Second Marine Division, are eligible to compete. Prizes will be awarded to the singles winner and runner-up, as the doubles winners and runner-up. The semi-finalists and winners will be given an opportunity to compete for Camp Lejeune in the tennis competition, at the direction of the Tennis Coach. Tournament gear, clothing, shoes, and socks, may be obtained from unit Special Services Officers. All play in the tournament will be conducted at regular working hours. Officials will be on hand for all questions, and rules will be submitted to the contestants by the officials.

Handicap Necessary for Tournament Play at Local Golf Links

Camp Lejeune golf enthusiasts have developed considerable interest in the local links, but they find that they are not eligible to compete for the valuable prizes offered in the Golf Tournaments at regular intervals at Parapoint because they have not established a handicap at the Lejeune course.

To establish a handicap at the Lejeune Point Golf course it is necessary for a golfer to turn in scorecards for 18 holes to the NCO-in-Charge of the course or the Club Pro. The scorecards must be attested by a person who accompanied the golfer wishing to establish a handicap. It is recommended, but not necessary, that the attesting golfer have an established handicap.

After turning in five scorecards, they are reviewed, attested, and attested by the Handicap Committee and a handicap assigned to the golfer. As more scorecards are turned in, the golfer's handicap may be revised either upwards or downwards.

The purpose of the handicap is to give a golfer who consistently shoots a high score a chance to compete on an equal basis with those who record lower scores.

Marines Take Three Titles In All-Navy Wrestling Matches

Marine grapplers emerged from the 1949 All-Navy Wrestling Tournament, held recently at Annapolis, Maryland, with three of the eight individual championship titles in their possession.

The Marine champs are Corporal William Norris, (heavy-weight) from Quantico; Corporal Raymond Hamm, (light-heavy-weight) and Private First Class Frank A. Gigetto, (125-pound class), both of Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

For Corporals Norris and Hamm, it was a repeat performance, as they both placed tops in last year's tournament for All-Navy wrestling fame. Private First Class Gigetto was a relative newcomer, winning his first All-Navy title this season.

Each of the champions received gold belt buckles inscribed "All-Navy Championship". In addition they received sweaters with a large block "M" (scarlet and gold) and a circular shoulder patch inscribed "All-Navy Championship" as tokens of their victories.

NEW YORK (AFPS)—Outfielder Tommy Henrich became the 4th highest paid Yankee in history when he inked his 1949 contract calling for $40,000. Only Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio have topped the figure.

Lejeune High Nine Edged By Southport 5-4 In Ten Innings

Camp Lejeune High School lost their first baseball game of the current season by a 5-4 score last Tuesday when they dropped a ten inning tilt to the strong Southport High School nine in Southport.

Coach Deim's Lejeune boys played heads up ball until the 10th inning, when, with the score knotted at 4-4, Southport put two men on the base with singles, and the winning run came in when the next hit was errorred in the Lejeune infield.

The Lejeune lads led 3-0 after the second inning, but the Southport nine came back in the fourth frame and gained a 4-3 lead on a hit batsman, a pair of walks, and four singles.

Lejeune tied the game up in the sixth, and the game went into the extra inning from there, with both teams playing a tight game. Spence of Southport was the leading batter, with three hits in five trips to the plate. Rateliff was the winning pitcher while Barringer was the loser.

Shooting together as a team for the first time in recent weeks, the Lejeune team scored 521 out of a possible 600 to take their opponents easily. The Wilmington team scored 508 out of the 600 possible.

The six-man Lejeune squad was headed by CWO H. B. Stowers with a high 96x100. CWO Stowers was followed by MSgt. Forrer with 92x100. The other four Lejeune shooters included Lt. Col. W. A. Lee, Lt. J. G. Heidrick, WO Currier, and TSgt. L. Walton.

finds in pitchers. A 300 hitter, Assistant Coach Snyder hopes to get into the Lejeune lineup a few times this season to prove that pitchers can hit.

With the guidance of these two coaches, Lejeune should field a team capable of continuing the fine record of previous squads. The coaches are pressed for time right now, and due to the short period of training ahead before the first game, they will undoubtedly be uncertain of some positions until several games have been played.

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AFPS)—Russell P. (Red) Reeder, once a protege of John McGraw and the New York Giants baseball club, has been named as the coach of the Army plebe baseball team. Reeder received a tryout with the Giants in 1928, but gave up baseball for the Army career.

Swansboro exploded with 2 runs in the first half of the last inning to turn an 8-8 tie into a victory. The Lejeune high nine was unable to put anyone home in their half of the final frame, and the "Devil-pups" lost their second tough game of the season.

The "Devilpups" took an early lead when they batted around in the last half of the initial frame to take a 5-4 lead over the heavy-hitting Swansboro nine.

In the second inning, however, Swansboro came back to take over the lead, 6-5, as they added two runs to their score.

Both teams sent in relief pitchers during the course of the game in an effort to stop the barrage of hits. Swansboro put Webb on the mound for Goodwin in the first frame, and Barringer went in for Lejeune to relieve A. Frucci in the third inning.

Lejeune gathered in two runs in the top of the third to go ahead again, 7-6, but Swansboro scored a pair of runs in the fourth and fifth innings to go ahead again. The Camp High team came back in the sixth to tie up the game with one run, but Swansboro's two tallies in the seventh took the seven inning tilt for them.

Jim Crouch led the Lejeune High hitters with 3 base hits in four trips to the plate. Probst, Frucci and Barringer comprised the Lejeune battery, while Redfern, Goodwin and Webb performed the mound and backstop chores for Swansboro.

Civilian Personnel Guide

ABUSE OF 30-MINUTE LUNCHEON PERIOD

It has been called to the attention of the Industrial Relations Officer that a number of civilian employees are abusing the 30-minute luncheon period and also leaving their post of duty before 1630. This has resulted in the distribution of the Industrial Relations Office Memorandum Number 4-1949, to all department heads, supervisors, and civilian employees.

All supervisory personnel have been directed to keep a close check on the employees under their supervision to see that they perform eight hours of duty per day, from 0800 to 1630, excluding a 30-minute luncheon period. Employees are subject to disciplinary action for failure to work the required hours, and the person who knowingly or negligently falsifies the time sheets is liable to a more severe disciplinary action.

So take heed, my friends, and see your supervisor for prior approval before stepping out of line if an occasion arises where you know you will be late from lunch or away from your post. He may consider it as excused tardiness or allow you to sign a leave slip and thus avoid disciplinary action being imposed against you.

Wilmington Azalea Festival

Marines again participated in the annual Wilmington Azalea Festival last Saturday with a section of the 2d Marine Division band approaches the reviewing stand at the Court House on Third Street. Following the band was the company of Marines also resplendent in dress blues. In the picture below right, Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of the 2d Division and MB, Camp Lejeune, addresses the assembled crowd. More than 100,000 attended this 2d annual festival. Among the notables visible in the picture are, right to left, front row, Lt. Governor Pat Taylor (extreme right); Governor and Mrs. W. Kerr Scott (on Gen. Hart's right); and Gen. and Mrs. George C. Marshall. The Azalea Queen, movie starlet Martha Hyer, is pictured in the inset below with two of the members of the court in attendance. (Photos by Sgt. Powers).

many civil uprisings, and tales of the buccaneers who once roved the Caribbean. Highlighting some of the sight-seeing tours were the Morro fortresses, relics of the days of the Spanish Main, of Columbus, the University of Puerto Rico campus, sugar mills, rum distilleries, Old World cathedrals, New World mansions, and native market places.

The Marines souvenir-shopped in the many shops and market places and bartered with the street vendors for beads, bracelets, mahogany wares, rings, alligator belts, shoes and purses, pineapples, peanuts, coconuts, tangerines, and bananas. Perhaps they learned to speak a little French in Haiti, some Spanish in Puerto Rico, and some learned about the English system of currency in Jamaica or the Spanish system in Colombia.

They bartered for wares from the "bum-boats" surrounding the ships, and watched the "bum-boat" boys dive for coins thrown over the side. Many saw the native dance of the ancient Voodoo cult in Haiti, and some took a chance at trying the rumba or samba themselves.

Softball and basketball games were organized and played, bowling alleys and pool tables were found in some places, some went in for surf-fishing, swimming, golf, or tennis and the night clubs were packed with Marines every night. Many of the Marines who were fortunate enough to visit Cartagena, Colombia, had the rare treat of seeing a bull-fight. The contest was found to be enjoyable, but some of the Marines made the mistake of cheering for the bull, which was considered quite improper by the natives.

Their visit was a short one, but the Marines learned a lot about the West Indies and its peoples, traditions and customs. The different ports they saw included: Port au Prince, Haiti; Cartagena, Colombia; Santiago and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; Kingston and Montego Bay, Jamaica; Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic; San Juan, Mayaguez, and Isabel Segunda, Puerto Rico; and Saint Thomas, Virgin Islands.

For the most part, the visiting Marines were welcomed in all quarters, and were cordially invited to use the facilities of such exclusive places as the ultra-modern Myrtle Bank Hotel in Kingston, Jamaica, and the Condado Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Major General Hart and his staff were received at the U. S. Embassy in Ciudad Trujillo, and were entertained by the United States Ambassador and Haitian Army officers at Port au Prince, Haiti.

The trip back to the United States was spent getting equipment back into shape. Rifles, which had been exposed to the ravages of sand and salt water were worked on regularly, and inspections were conducted daily to insure that weapons were getting the proper care. Clothing and equipment was washed and sea-bags were packed in preparation for the debarkation at Morehead City.

Some of the ships showed movies nightly, and the Second Division band played several concerts aboard the USS Mount Olympus, but for the most part, the trip back was uneventful.

The first ships arrived at Morehead City nearly two weeks ago, and more have been arriving steadily since.

From the first liberty granted at Charleston, S. C., to the last at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, the Marines of the Second Division were invariably commended on their exemplary behavior. Major General Hart received many letters and clippings commending the bearing of the Marines in Charleston; Rear Admiral Barbey, USN, Commandant of the Ninth Naval District, asked that all hands be told how favorably impressed he was at everyone's conduct while on liberty in San Juan, Puerto Rico; newspaper articles in leading newspapers of Port au Prince, Haiti, and Kingston, Jamaica, lauded the gentlemanly conduct of the Marines and troop commanders were more than pleased with their men.

These compliments from many of the civic leaders, with whom the Marines came in contact, coupled with a "well done" from the Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Clifton B. Cates, for the landing exercises on Vieques Island added up to a huge success for the over-all operation from beginning to end.

Leathernecks Form Colorful Unit In Annual Azalea Festival Parade

BY PFC. DICK STITES

Marines from "A" Battery, 1st AAA Battalion and a section of the 2d Marine Division Band displayed their colorful formations to a crowd estimated to be over 100,000 in last Saturday afternoon's parade, one of the many highlights in the three day Azalea Festival held in Wilmington.

In addition to the Marines, the parade consisted of 11 bands, four marching groups, and 24 cars bearing local, state and national figures. Units from Army and Navy surrounding installations, complete with marching elements and crack bands assisted members of the veteran's organizations to complete the military formation in the two-mile parade.

land, the Marines worked well with the Army and Navy, and the three proved to be a hard-hitting, hard-to-beat team. They further showed their ability in the field by setting up a tent city which was a masterpiece of versatility, during the twelve-day training phase which provided a wealth of combat training, utilizing methods which were the last word in warfare simulation. And finally, they visited numerous Caribbean ports, enjoyed themselves, learned much about the West Indies, and left a feeling of friendship and good will most everywhere they visited.

Put to the "acid test", the Second Marine Division proved to be in a high state of combat efficiency, as well as displaying the high standards of military bearing that have come to be synonymous with the word, "Marine."

Thirty-six beautiful floats contributed by various North Carolina merchants and business establishments filled the streets holding the attention and applause of the crowd. The floats, aside from being beautiful in construction and appearance demanded attention and many comments on the display of eye-catching beauties perched atop the floats.

Former Secretary of State and Army General George C. Marshall, Gov. Kerr Scott, movie starlet Martha Hyer and many other notables were among the personages leading the parade.

Other distinguished persons included Major General Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of the Second Marine Division and Camp Lejeune, Bill Odom of aviation fame, Ted Malone, radio's amiable commentator, Gen. Carl Gray, VA administrator, Coast Guard Admiral J. F. Farley, Secretary of State Thad Eure, and many others.

The festival, second of its kind, began Friday with dances and other activities scattered throughout Wilmington. The festivities continued through the weekend and terminated Sunday evening with the display of flowers at the Community Center.

Miss Martha Hyer, movie star, was crowned queen of the Azalea Festival Saturday night before a crowd of 2,000 at the Lumina room at Wrightsville Beach. Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice, American pigskin star from the University of North Carolina, the request of photographers, Charlie planted two kisses on the starlet but declined the third wave of the ring on his finger left hand to the crowd.

The main feature of the entire festival was the floral beauty contest, in which three of the South's most famous garden spots, Airlie, Greenfield Lake and Park, and Orton Plantation. The three of these lovely garden spots formed the theme of the festival . . . "More than a Million Azaleas."

Orton and Airlie plantations were open to the public for a reasonable admission charge.

Spectators lined along the street witnessing the parade marveled at the infantry company of Camp Lejeune Marines and the 2d Division Band. The men were in full dress blues, complete with white gloves and cap covers. The colorful infantrymen were commanded by Capt. Hubert R. Merrick, Jr.
