THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1949 — CIRCULATION 11,000

NO. 9

Message From The Commanding Officer

The Red Cross will endeavor to raise $60,000,000 during the month of March to carry out its responsibilities to the Government, the Armed Forces and to the people.

The American Red Cross renders assistance to the veterans, military personnel, and their dependents. In time of need they give financial aid, food, clothes and supplies to those stricken by disaster.

The American people have always been one hundred percent behind this organization because of the good work it has accomplished.

You have always given worthy charities your wholehearted support. As Commanding Officer I request your generous support in drive.

Reserve Units Begin Summer Training June 4

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 24.—Active duty training for all around units of the Organized Reserve Corps will be in progress in bi-weekly periods at regular Marine Corps posts and training centers beginning June 4.

About 28,082 officers and men in these units, located in 105 cities in the United States and Hawaii will participate. That figure represents nearly seventy-five percent of total strength.

Training of eastern reserve units is concentrated at Camp Lejeune, Little Creek (Norfolk), Virginia, Quantico, Virginia. West units will assemble at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, California. Hawaiian unit, a rifle company will train in Hawaii.

This year is the first that all reserve units will be mobilized for the annual 15-day summer training periods. Generally they will be assigned to units of the regular Corps for active training.

Members of the Organized Reserve will furnish for immediate mobilization in event of emergency, personnel effectively trained for duty within the Fleet Marine Force.

Primary objective of training is to qualify each member of the reserve for a billet in a Marine Force unit, with a minimum of additional training. Secondary objective is attainment of the highest practicable level of unit proficiency.

Progress in unit training is being made in the 1949 program, provides a limited amount of training on battalion level, the re-activation of the time Marine Corps Reserve. Active command post exercises and amphibious indoctrination for certain units will culminate in battalion landings from transports.

Troop Training Unit, Amphibious Training Command, Atlantic Fleet, at Little Creek, and Training Unit, Pacific Fleet, at Coronado, San Diego, California, will conduct amphibious training.

Dances Tonight At M. Pavilion, Montford Point

Dances will again be the featured entertainment at Lejeune tonight when the Hal Grant orchestra sets the rhythm pace at Marston Pavilion from 2000 to 2400 and the Jimmie Livingston aggregation holds forth at Montford Point during the same hours.

The Hal Grant orchestra, composed of nine musicians and a vocalist, has been playing successful engagements throughout the northeast where his musical style has won popular acclaim. The smooth-playing band recently completed a stay at one of New York's night spots before going on the road.

Many Red Cross Services To Lejeune Personnel Enumerated As '49 Fund Campaign Opens

The current Red Cross fund campaign seeks to set aside for its services to the Armed Forces the sum of nearly $20 million dollars. This figure represents about 25 per cent of the total 1949-50 budget. Its significance becomes more meaningful by examining in what way it will touch the lives of so many servicemen stationed here.

The numerous services and activities of the local Red Cross Field Director's office, one of thousands of such offices throughout the nation and overseas, will be made possible by this appropriation. For example, during the year 1948, our Red Cross Field Director's office at Camp Lejeune made 606 loans amounting to $25,540.15. Specifically, 427 loans adding up to $20,371.00 were made for emergency leaves; 115 loans totalling $4,458.15 were extended for family assistance; 62 loans having a value of $641.00 were given to help meet personal needs; 2 loans amounting to $70.00 were made for convalescent leaves.

Gratuities to help solve some of the above situations were made in 61 instances and amounted to $955.00.

The tremendous volume of correspondence and telegraphic communications attended to by our Field Director on behalf of military personnel stationed here can hardly be appreciated when it is noted that 6,421 pieces of incoming and outgoing mail and 7,279 incoming and outgoing telegrams were handled in providing service. In matters of urgency 2,326 long distance telephone calls were made and received.

Very often a Marine remains unaware of the fact that service is being provided on behalf of himself or his family especially in matters of family allowances. Countless inquiries for reports on the health and welfare of a serviceman are received and promptly answered in order to relieve a family's worry and anxiety. Invaluable social history reports which entail considerable effort of trained professional workers are furnished to the Medical Department for the benefit of sick personnel. Reports of conditions in a serviceman's home to help not only commanding officers in evaluating the need for emergency leave but to assist the Navy Relief Society Auxiliary to develop.

Regular Enlistment Quota Suspended During March

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1.—The Marine Corps Recruiting Service cannot accept any male recruits for general duty in the regular service during March.

Suspension of the quota for recruits is attributed to increased reenlistments, decreased "normal attrition", and the general reduction in strength announced February 3 by the Secretary of the Navy.

Reenlistments increased from 429 in December to about 600 in January. See QUOTA On Page 7

2d Division Storms Ashore On Vieques In Amphib Phase, Command Exercises

In what appeared to be a full-scale amphibious operation, the 2d Marine Division stormed ashore yesterday, D-Day, in an all-out assault against the "enemy-held" Island of Vieques, Puerto Rico. In the largest joint Army, Navy, Marine Corps peacetime exercises, the Landing Force commanded by Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart has secured a beach-head and is rapidly pushing inland despite stiff resistance by "enemy" Army Aggressor Force Units.

Board For Selection Of Majors, Captains Convenes At HQMC

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 24.—A board for selection of officers of the Marine Corps on active duty for temporary promotion to the grades of major and captain convened yesterday at Headquarters, Marine Corps.

President of the board, which will be in session for 10 days, is Brigadier General Ivan W. Miller, Commander, Marine Corps Air Bases and Commanding General, Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, North Carolina.

One hundred and thirty-five captains may be recommended for promotion to major, including one for supply duty. The zone established for promotion to major extends to Captain William L. Bates, Jr., whose date of rank in his present grade is March 31, 1944.

Also, 405 first lieutenants are in the zone for promotion, to captain.

See BOARD On Page 8

Army Aggressor Force Units.

Moving into the final phase of the Atlantic Command Exercises, some 18,000 men of the Army, Navy, Air Forces, Marine Corps, and a company of Canadian Cadets are participating in the large scale amphibious operation which commenced yesterday and will conclude March 15.

The Joint Expeditionary Troops under Lieutenant General Keller E. Rockey, assigned to attack and occupy the island of Vieques, are being opposed by Army Aggressor Force units attached to Troop Training Unit, Atlantic from Fort Riley, Kansas under the command of Army's Colonel C. S. Sloan, Jr. This unit is simulating an opposing force of approximately 6,000 men by using special designated methods. Its actual strength is 450 officers and men.

Brigadier General W. A. Wornton, Commanding General of Troop Training Unit, Atlantic and Empire Director for the troop amphibious phase of the Atlantic Command exercises, has assured the Expeditionary Troops many "tactical surprises" as planned.

Selection Of Lt.Cols., Majors For Promotion Approved By President

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 25.—The President today approved the selection of 69 Marine Corps lieutenant colonels for promotion to colonel and 98 majors for promotion to lieutenant colonel.

The selections were made by a board headed by Major General Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., Commandant of Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia. Promotions will be temporary.

A board to select captains and first lieutenants for advancement to their next higher ranks is now in session at Headquarters, Marine Corps.

Actual promotion of all officers selected for grade up to and including colonel will be made after professional examination of the officers and as vacancies occur.

Those officers included in selections announced today are listed.

Your Agent For Meeting Human Need

For 67 years the American Red Cross has meant sympathy, compassion, and help in time of need to the people of the United States and of the world. During that span of time it has become a vital part of American life—a powerful symbol in this country of man's humanity to man, of his universal compulsion to aid the suffering and the distressed.

The Red Cross is not a thing apart, but an essential section of the fabric of America. It is as truly of and by and for the American people as our government itself.

The broad activities of the Red Cross—for disaster victims, on behalf of members of the armed forces and veterans, with the hospitalized—in teaching safety and health to hundreds of thousands of people—and through the Junior Red Cross—are dependent upon the volunteer efforts of the millions of men, women, and children who make up its membership.

Its ability to help, instantly and effectively, the family across the street, or across the nation, or across the sea, is founded in the broad network of Red Cross chapters which reaches into every community in the United States. And it exists only to serve, to do what you would do if you were on the scene.

In truth, the American Red Cross is your agent for the complicated task of meeting human need wherever it exists in this modern world. That is a heavy responsibility. Each individual American must bear his share of it.

Keeping Lent

The Psychology of Lent. The human mind seems to work best when it makes a special effort at a special time. We are inclined to let our mental forces get scattered. We need to concentrate them.

We cannot keep our thoughts continually at top level, keyed to the highest pitch. Then we must do the next best thing, establish a special time for a forward thrust, a fresh campaign. The further we can go ahead in such a drive, the less we shall be driven back later on.

The Time of Lent. There is a particular reason why we choose this time of year. Lent leads to Holy Week, and the Holy Week brings us a reliving of the events of our Lord's trial and crucifixion. We cannot secure enough time for the contemplation of these events within the short days of Holy Week itself. Lent is the lengthened shadow of the Cross, an enlargement of the great theme to meet our soul's needs.

There is no other time in the year when there is more power available to us, to bring us higher up toward full and deep understanding of God than when we subject ourselves to the power of this story of our Lord's death.

The Observance of Lent. Our days are usually filled with a miscellaneous assortment of tasks and interests. There are too many for the best welfare of our souls. The great reason for the poverty of our times in spiritual understanding and living is the enormous number of things we have to do and think about.

This is why many Christians give up social engagements and various amusements during Lent. These things are not condemned, as though we turn away from them with a guilty feeling. We simply need a chance for other things. We need time for going more often to church. Churches usually hold special Lenten services.

And we need time for thinking over in our mind these subjects of Lenten study. Lent is a time to make a fresh beginning in the picture of Bible reading. Suppose we select the Gospel of John, and read a chapter thoughtfully every evening.

Lent is a time for prayer, for quiet self-examination, for learning the hidden truth about God and ourselves. Lent is the time to take time.

Results of Lent. We will surely be drawn closer to our Master. The story of His cross never fails to catch hold of a receptive soul. A man who can go through this season without developing deeper devotion is insensitive to God. From our enriched love of Him there will be a greater eagerness to do His will.

The whole procedure of Lent amounts to a spiritual discipline. We get hold of the reins of our lives. We take them away from the world and give them to God. And from such a period of thought and prayer, we come prepared and ready for the great white Easter Day.

Division Personnel Enjoy 'Happy Hour' Enroute To Vieques

BY TSGT. EDWARD M. GREEN

SECOND MARINE DIVISION,

(At Sea) 20 Feb.—Personnel of the division, supplemented by the fine

music of the Second Division Band, contributed considerably to the entertainment provided at a "Happy Hour", held on the fantail of the USS Mount Olympus tonight.

The show was arranged by the ship's Chaplain with the assistance of Warrant Officer Locke, the division's Band Officer, who also served as Master of Ceremonies.

MSgt. Barton directed the band, which opened the show and furnished the first few minutes of entertainment as they did several special numbers in addition to their regular musical selections.

As the band went into their final selection, a dramatic rendition of "Little Joe The Wrangler", Pfc. Ronald Galli, the drummer, furnished one of the most humorous bits in the show though he certainly didn't intend to. Just at the point where poor little Joe is supposed to die,

Galli missed his timing cue and took off into a hectic series of violent beats. He continued to the end completely oblivious to the pleadings of MSgt. Barton who was audibly begging him to stop. Mr. Locke's remarks about his being seasick and wishing to join little Joe in his final slumber only served to increase the enjoyment of the mistake.

"Limby" Warren's seven piece combo furnished music for the balance of the show which included such specialties as the Second Division Quintet featuring "Frenchy"

Gauthier on the guitar. They asked the audience to join in the chorus, and were enthusiastically received by all hands.

The quintet was followed at the micro by Cpl. James L. R. Williams, of the Division Adjutant's Office, who brought down the house with his professional rendition of "It's Magic" and Hoagy Carmichael's immortal "Stardust". Cpl. Val

Shaw, of Division Special Services registered a mute complaint against the chow being served by the Navy, by performing his routine of eating fire, razor blades and light bulbs, while unbelieving sailors sat in the wings telling each other that they knew all about these fakers. There were no takers, however, when he offered a reward to all who could disprove the honesty of his feats.

for maintaining the highest average attendance at weekly training periods throughout 1948.

"C" Battery, formed in October, 1947, has a strength of 160, and maintained an average attendance of 80.2 per cent. Commanding officer is Captain Martin F. Barrett,

USMCR.

The Lawrence H. Flynn, Trophy, named for a Marine Reserve sergeant who won both the Army and Navy Silver Star for action at Guadalcanal and New Georgia, and who was killed in action at New

Georgia in July, 1943, was awarded to "D" Company, 13th Infantry

Battalion, USMCR, at Pearl Harbor, for attaining the highest percentage of attendance at annual field training in 1948. "D" Company, formed in August, 1947, has a strength of 198, of which 80.9

per cent were present for field training. Commanding officer is

By the act of Congress, June 12, 1948, the more dainty counterpart of the male Marine lost her Reserve status and took her place as a United States Marine. Parris Island was designated as the training grounds for the women recruits and the Third Recruit Training Battalion under the command of Captain Margaret M. Henderson was activated for that purpose.

Women have played important roles during the past two world conflicts and historians have even recorded one woman, Miss Lucy Brewer, as having disguised herself as a man and enlisted in the Marine Corps during the War of 1812. It wasn't until after the end of World War II however, that plans were made to realize the benefits of their service during peacetime as well as war-time.

During World War I only 305 women were enlisted in the Women's Reserve of the United States Marine Corps. The Marinettes, as they were called in those days, wore a feminine adaptation of the male Marine Corps uniform—khaki in summer and green in winter. During that period recruit officers were instructed to enroll competent stenographers and typists "of excellent character and neat appearance with some business and office experience."

Late in 1942, after the Army, Navy, and Coast Guard had organized their women's reserve units, Congress authorized the creation of a Women's Reserve for the rapidly expanding Marine Corps. Initial groups of women were trained at Hunter's College, New York City, and the U. S. Midshipmen's School, Northampton, Mass. Later all training was transferred to Camp Lejeune.

Assignments of the Women's Reserve, which reached its peak of 19,000 in July, 1944, included practically every type of noncombatant service at the more than 50 camps and stations throughout the country. They received specialist training in aircraft and automotive mechanics, radio instrument repair and many other technical and administrative positions.

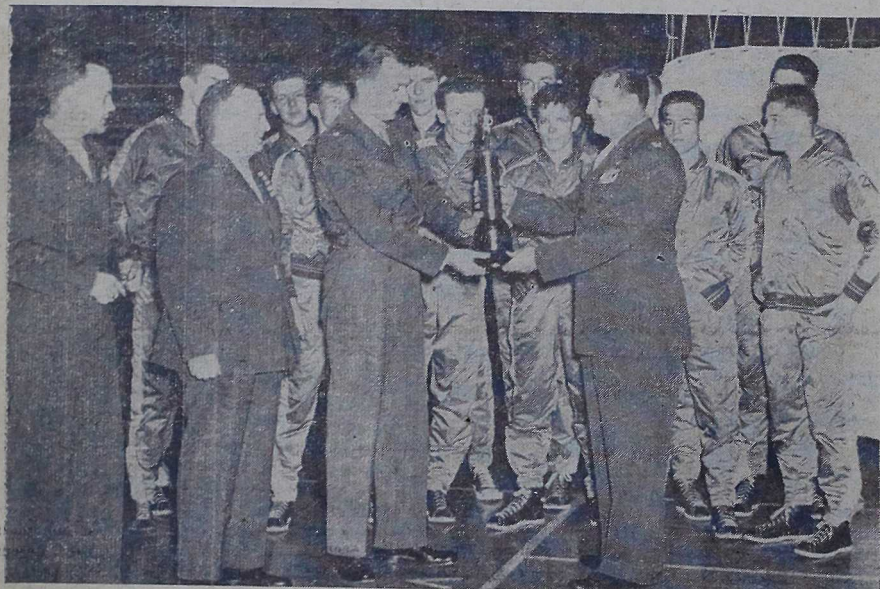

Upon completion of their schooling they were detailed to some phase of aviation, motor transport, clerical and quartermaster billets, replacing male Marines for combat

Great Lakes Defeated In Finals; Lejeune Vs Fleet Champs At Norfolk

BY PFC. JACK SELLE

The Camp Lejeune Basketball Team took its second big step toward the All-Navy tournament in Pearl Harbor this month when it captured the South-Central Group title at Cherry Point last night. The Lejeune squad decisively whipped the Great Lakes 53-33, in an exciting final contest.

Lejeune is presently playing the Fleet Air Five, champions of the Atlantic Fleet, at Norfolk, in order to decide one of the four teams which will participate in the All-Navy event.

The tourney at Cherry Point was a thrilling affair. Lejeune came back after losing their initial game against the Corpus Christi team to take their remaining games without a loss.

The climax came on Thursday night, when, after having eliminated Corpus Christi on Tuesday, and dropping Great Lakes 68-61 on Wednesday, Great Lakes and Lejeune met for the championship.

With a great offensive drive, Lejeune went into a 17-11 lead over the high-powered Great Lakes team in the first quarter and the Marines were never threatened for the remainder of the game.

"Whiz" Bishop, who garnered 34 points in the first game against Great Lakes, was again the high point man, scoring 28 points. The smooth-working Lejeune team was at its best with Howie Westphal keeping complete control of the backboards, Ed Kobza playing his outstanding defensive game, Bill Williams hitting with his one-handed set shots, and Bishop and Rollie Kubiskey taking care of the inside point making.

The Navy squad was kept in the game by the brilliant play of Guthmuller, fast-breaking forward, and center Don Crossley, who was high man for the Lakes team.

A summary of the games preceding the final tilt follows:

CAMP LEJEUNE, 79, CORPUS CHRISTI, 50

Lejeune met Corpus Christi for the second time on Tuesday at Cherry Point, and eliminated the Navy flyers from the Group tourney by easily handing them their second defeat, 79-50.

The Lejeune squad, which had definitely looked stale in the first game against Corpus Christi, showed the good effects of a day's rest and had no trouble avenging the loss handed them at the first game.

"Whiz" Bishop and Gilmore of Corpus Christi shared high point honors for the evening, with a total of 15 points each. The scoring was remarkably well distributed on the Lejeune team, as four men including Bishop hit the hoops for 12 or more points.

Lejeune led 38-27 at the half, and Coach Caputo started his reserves in the third quarter, with the entire squad eventually playing.

CAMP LEJEUNE 68, GREAT LAKES 61.

"ComSix expresses appreciation for the successful Sixth Naval District and South Central Group Tournament just completed. The winners from Lejeune are congratulated for their outstanding skill and losers on the great competitive spirit shown. Well Done."

From CG, 2nd MarDiv.

"Pass to basketball team. CG has followed your success with interest. You have acquitted yourselves nobly. The men of 2nd Mar Div take pride in your record to date and look forward to your continued success."

From: CO, MB, Camp Lejeune.

"The Commanding Officer, Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune wishes to extend his sincere congratulations to the Camp Lejeune Basketball Team on the fine merits of its outstanding record to date, and hopes that it will continue to fare as well in future tournaments."

Otero Wins Carolinas Championship As Lejeune Boxers Place Second

Camp Lejeune pugilists returned from the Carolinas Golden Gloves Tournament held at Charlotte, N. C., last week, and with them they brought one championship, three runner-up trophies, a couple of individual awards, and the second place spot in team standings.

The Carolinas tourney presented the toughest amateur competition in the South, with the leading boxers present from both North and South Carolina. The Cherry Point Flyers walked off with the team award, but the runner-up Lejeune squad gathered in its share of glory.

Tommy Otero, rugged little 118 pound fighter, took the only championship for Camp Lejeune, and in addition he was awarded the Tresko Johnson Trophy for Outstanding Sportsmanship. Otero is now the Golden Gloves Champion of the Carolinas in his weight class and also the AAU Champion in the same area.

The King of Carolina bantamweights leaves tomorrow with the Carolinas team for the Tournament of Champions in New York. The New York fights are the culmination of Golden Gloves competition. As a member of the Carolinas team, Tommy will be fighting not only to win the championship in his weight, but to aid the Carolinas team in retaining the second place team title which they won last year, and, if possible, to better the team's ranking.

Pete Schiro, scrappy 126 pound featherweight, fought his way to the finals, where he was beaten, but Pete received the consolation award of being named the Outstanding Non-Champion.

The Lejeune squad was divided into two teams for the tourney, about equal in strength. One Lejeune fighter was entered as unattached, giving Lejeune a total of 12 fighters entered in the event.

Bantamweight

Champion Tommy Otero overcame all opposition in the Carolina Golden Gloves at Charlotte last week to become the only Lejeune fighter to get a chance in both the AAU National finals and the Golden Glove National finals. In addition to his dual championship, Tommy, who weighs in at 118 pounds, won the Tresko Johnson Award for Outstanding Sportsmanship. His trophies are pictured at right, two championship cups and the Sportsmanship award. (Photo by Cpl. Sage, Camp Photo Lab).

Williams at will throughout the fight.

Tommy Otero went into the ring first for the Lejeune team, and took on his toughest opponent in Mayo Smith, a bantamweight representing the Charlotte "Y". Smith had copped a decision from Otero in the Greensboro tourney, and Otero took good advantage of his chance for revenge, winning by a unanimous decision. Otero had Smith on his knees twice during the fight, in both the first and second rounds, when he connected solidly with hard rights.

Otero met Dick Williams of Columbia, South Carolina, in the semi-finals and took another unanimous decision, punching

In the finals, Tommy came up against George Vicknair, outstanding Cherry Point 118 pounder. Vicknair fought a well-planned fight, keeping well out of range of Otero's murderous right hand, until the third round, when the Lejeune Marine caught up with him. Otero hurt Vicknair early in the round with a left to the head, opening a bad cut over the Pointer's eye.

Tommy displayed highly commendable sportsmanship when he stopped working on Vicknair's head immediately, and aimed his punches at his opponent's body for the remainder of the fight. This fight,

Lejeune Lady Keglers Split Matches With Wilmington Teams

Lady bowlers representing Commissioned Officers' Mess and two teams from Wilmington split their matches with the Officers' Mess last Sunday when the last pin had fallen, and found that once again the Lejeune ladies had broken even with Wilmingtonians.

Team No. 1 easily took the team sponsored by McMillan Cameron when they finished a pinfall of 2031 against opponents' 1837, Team 1 four out of four games.

The No. 2 team of Lejeune was less fortunate, winning one out of four as they lost to Lake Forest-Esso team, with

Camp High School Defeated By Kinston For Season's 2nd Loss

The Camp Lejeune High School basketball team dropped their second game of the season last night when Kinston High School, an "A" school, fashioned a 45-33 victory over the "Devil Pups". Center named Hodges spelled defeat for the local high school, poured in 16 points, to lead the team in scoring.

The score was tied at the end of the first quarter, 8 up, 8 down. See HIGH SCHOOL On Page 5

Camp High Five Wins District 2 Title At Magnolia

By AL MUNCH

Camp Lejeune High School won District Two Basketball Championship last Wednesday at Magnolia when they defeated Elizabeth and Magnolia on successive nights. By winning the District Two, they won the right to fight out with Angier High School at their tomorrow night in a game which decides one of the four teams to go to the State Class B tournament at Duke on March 11, and 13.

Lejeune easily dropped Elizabeth in their first game, 15-13. The "Devil Pups" led at half, 46-8, and continued to play the Elizabeth Town five ring the remaining two periods.

Robst led the scoring with 20 points, followed closely by his teammate Blake, who had 19 points in the Lejeune cause. The complete Camp High School lineup consisted of Probst (20), Blake (19), King (4), Crouch (2), Sutherland (15), Simpson (7), King, R. Frucci, Barringer, and A. Frucci.

On the following night the Lejeune lads continued their winning ways when they dropped Magnolia High School 49-35 in a fast and well-played game. The Magnolia five had previously beaten Richlands High School, Onslow County champions, 17-13. They had a season's record of wins against 2 losses.

In the first quarter found the two teams very evenly matched, and ended the quarter tied at 7. The local team hit the hoops with regularity during the second period, and ended the first half with a 19-13 lead.

Coach Joe Ellington's boys continued to build up their lead during the rest of the game, and finished with a 49-35 advantage.

The boys who played a part in winning the District Two Championship were: Probst (16), Barker (12), Crouch (2), Blake (15), Frucci, Barringer, Sutherland, Simpson, and A. Frucci.

Golf Exhibition

Lejeune link enthusiasts will have an opportunity to witness an amazing golfer at the local course on 13 March when Jimmy Nichols, an expert despite the handicap of having only one arm, will play an exhibition match.

Nichols lost his right arm from an elbow down in 1929, and since that time has learned to play the game better than most golfers who have the full use of their limbs.

Jimmy is sure to give an interesting demonstration, and if he wins one of the local golfers, an entertaining battle will ensue.

Attention Swimmers

Positions in all strokes are open for men who can qualify for the Camp Swimming Team. The 19 outdoor swimming season is rapidly approaching, and Camp Lejeune will again enter service competition in this sport. Interested personnel should contact the NCO in charge of either the Area 2 or Area 5 pool for further information.

H&S Bn. Shooters Capture Intramural Championship

H&S Team's 1776 Takes Final Match Against SupSchBn

The Intramural Small Bore Rifle Matches came to a conclusion late last week when H&S Battalion, coached by CWO W. J. Peterson, outshot the Supply School Battalion marksmen, 1776-1749.

This match marked the conclusion of the intramural competition in shooting for the present. The matches were under the supervision of Lt. Col. W. A. Lee, Officer in Charge of the Rifle Range, and were fired on the 1000-inch range located at the north end of the Industrial Area.

The final match was a close contest, with hardly more than a few points separating the teams all the way. HMC Kanavel fired the high score for both teams, and was further the high shooter of all four teams. T/Sgt. Outen fired high for the Supply School Battalion team in the final match, and Lt. Col. L. S. Fraser carded the high total in the two matches fired by the School Battalion team, firing a grand total of 711. The Supply Schools Battalion aggregation was coached by 2nd Lt. A. C. Ivey.

In the consolation match fired a week earlier, Marine Corps Supply Depot shooters topped the Montford Point team, 1704-1617. T/Sgt. L. A. Walton turned in the high score for the Depot team in this match, firing a 346, and CWO A. E. Johnson fired the high score for Montford Point, a 328. The Depot team was coached by 2nd Lt. A. H. Touchton, while CWO Johnson coached the Montford Point team.

A large trophy will be awarded to the H&S Bn. team, to remain in their possession until the next Intramural Small Bore Matches. The top three shooters on each team will receive individual medals.

also, was a unanimous decision in favor of Otero.

On Team Number Two, Pete Schiro, 126 pound featherweight, fought Rudy Lara of Cherry Point in his first bout. Lara, an outstanding boxer, was heavily favored by the crowd, but apparently Schiro didn't believe what he heard, for the Lejeune scrapper came out of the ring victor by a unanimous decision. Pete connected often and hard with both fists to win the judges' nod in every round.

In the semi-finals Schiro fought Jimmy Calcutt, representing the Charlotte "Y". Calcutt opened strongly in the first round, but in the closing seconds took a staggering right from Schiro. He answered the bell for the second round, but Schiro held him helpless in a neutral corner midway in the round and the fight was awarded to Schiro.

Pete met Ben Masiel, Airborne soldier who had earlier whipped Mickulecky of Lejeune, in the finals Monday night. Pete found a considerably more experienced opponent facing him in Masiel and the soldier took a decision over the Lejeune, retaining his featherweight crown. Schiro was awarded the Outstanding Non-Champion Trophy for his performance during the tourney.

Promising lightweight Mike Pinnelli, 135 pounds, entered the ring on Thursday for his first fight and pounded his way to a unanimous decision over Joe Perez, former champion, in three resounding rounds. Pinnelli hit Perez repeatedly with lefts and rights to the body and head, leaving Perez reeling at every bell.

Pinnelli won on a default in the semi-finals, and then went into the ring for the finals against John Bianconiello, Cherry Point, who had earlier beaten Balsiewiczak of Lejeune. Once again Lejeune was on the receiving end of a bad break, this time a badly broken nose suffered by Pinnelli in a clinch late in the first round. The fight was awarded to Bianconiello, and Lejeune lost out again.

In the heavyweight department, during the second period the two teams exchanged the lead several times. The half-time score saw Lejeune leading, 18-16, but the Kinstonians came back in the third period to take a lead which was never topped by the Lejeuners.

Lejeune came back strong late in the game, but they were unable to overtake the Kinston team.

Lejeune players included Blake (14), Probst (12), Barker (2), King, Barringer, Frucci, Sutherland (4), Simpson (2), and Crouch.

fall of 1911 against 2005.

Lejeune ladies bowling and their averages are as follows: Mrs. Bala-kas (121); Mrs. Bryan (116); Mrs. Bosshard (116); Mrs. Cull (112); Mrs. Fowler (135); Mrs. Harrington (149); Mrs. Hendricks (101); Mrs. Mikkelsen (133); Mrs. Nelson (123); Mrs. Persac (124); Mrs. Price (154); Mrs. Reynolds (157); Mrs. Sharit (128). Individual high game honors went to Mrs. Reynolds, who had 188. The high team game score was made by Team 1, with a 710.

Mike Kobek carried Lejeune's colors through to the finals. Mike, returning to the ring after a three-month vacation, took his first opponent, Bill Wright of Camberton, N. C., in 46 seconds of the first round with a knockout right to the face. Wright had answered the bell with a rush, and Kobek countered his punches with a right that sent him down for an 8 count. Wright got up and started another rush, and Kobek sent him deep into sleep with the second blow he threw. Mike won his second bout by a decision over Grady Smith, of Ft. Mills. Smith, a barroom brawler type, was handled nicely by Kobek, who met his rushes with cool counterpunching.

James Delenge of Cherry Point was Mike's opponent in the finals, and the Lejeune fighter lost on a disputed decision. Kobek outboxed the Pointer, hitting at will with his left jab, but the fight apparently went to Delenge

Cancellations

All basketball games remaining on the Lejeune schedule have been cancelled due to the participation of the Lejeune squad in the play-offs between Camp Lejeune, South-Central Group Champions, and the Fleet Air five, Champions of the Atlantic Fleet. The winner of the Lejeune-Fleet Air series presently being played in Norfolk will go to the All-Navy Basketball Tournament at Pearl Harbor, on 20 March.

Civilian Personnel Guide

EFFICIENCY RATINGS

The purpose of this article is to familiarize all civilian employees concerned at this activity with a brief resume of the efficiency rating procedures.

There are two types of efficiency ratings used at Camp Lejeune. One is the uniform system which is used in rating all Group IVb employees. These employees are those who are covered by the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, and are generally considered as per annum or graded employees.

The Groups II, III, IVa employees, who are paid on the per diem scale are rated in accordance with the shop rating system. This group of employees was rated as of 31 January, 1949 which is the regular official rating.

The Group IVb employees under the uniform system will be rated as of 31 March, 1949, which will be their regular official rating.

All employees regardless of the type of system by which they are rated have a rater and a reviewer who are responsible for their rating. The rater, who is generally the immediate supervisor of the employee, marks the rating form, then the form is reviewed by another supervisor or person who should be familiar or have knowledge of the employee's work. If they agree on the rating, it is then discussed with the employee for the purpose of informing him of his weak and strong points and how he may improve his work and receive a better rating.

There is a place in the form for the employee to affix his signature, indicating that it has been discussed with him. It does not indicate that the employee concurs with the rating or approves of it.

The employee has a right to know the rating of other employees in his immediate shop or office and may appeal any rating given him if he so desires.

Easy Money

For presenting a Beneficial Suggestion that would save time and money, Herman Pearson received a check from CDR G. S. Robinson last week. Pearson suggested that guard rails be placed in front of washing machines to eliminate pullers from having to hold the extractor tubs away from the machines. By not having to hold the tubs they could use their hands to guide the clothes and it would also prevent the tubs from striking against the machines and scarring them. It's easy to get in on this kind of money—all it takes is the time required to write down and submit your idea to the Beneficial Suggestions Committee. If the idea has merit, you'll come out ahead. Try it! (Photo by Cpl. Ayers) fore the Lejeuners' onslaught in a close game, 68-61.

Great Lakes led 34-32 at the half, and continued to hold the lead during the third quarter. The Marines doubled their efforts at the start of the fourth period, however, and finished the game with a good winning margin.

"Whiz" Bishop had a great night, playing spectacular ball as he hit the nets from all angles and proved impossible to control. He piled up 34 points, more than double the number scored by any opposition.

Westphal and Kubiskey combined to control the backboards, and Kobza, Williams, and Nofsinger kept the guard positions in good hands.

Women Marines

On January 28, 1945, the first cadre of Women Reserves landed in Hawaii. This first unit consisting of 160 enlisted personnel and five officers grew to almost 1,000 before Japan capitulated.

The surrender of Japan brought about the point system for discharge and subsequently the mass demobilization of the Women Reserve Corps. In September, 1946, only 300 enlisted women and 15 officers remained. A call for volunteers went out for approximately one hundred to stay and work on terminal leave for the male Marines. A later call went out and approximately three hundred enlisted and five officers remained on duty with the peacetime corps and helped organize the Women's Organized Reserve Corps.

With the enactment of the bill to make the Women's Reserve a component part of the regular Marine Corps, a selection board met and screened all applications from those still on active duty and those who had been on active duty during the war.

The present program was started off with the enlistment of eight former enlisted members of the Women's Reserve into the regular Marine Corps by the Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Clifton B. Cates, on the Marine Corps Birthday, November 10, 1948.

Reserve Training

Reserve planning contemplated advanced amphibious training each organized unit every third fourth year.

Quantic has been reserved primarily for training of artillery units in 1949, with one 105 mm howitzer battalion coming from far away as Kansas City, Missouri for active duty. Infantry tactical marksmanship, and other phases training will be conducted at Camp Lejeune and Camp Pendleton.

Another first in this year's program is night exercises with each unit slated for one field problem in darkness.

Individual training will stress qualification firing with assigned individual and crew-served weapons. Reserves may earn marksmanship badges during the range period.

Basic planning for the 1949 summer training was effected in December at Headquarters, Marine Corps, when conferees evaluated reports of previous reserve training and made recommendations based on lessons learned.

TRAINING SCHEDULE FOR 1949
CAMP LEJEUNE
Training will be conducted period of June 4-September 3.

Tent Camp Site Of First Development At Lejeune

Former Center For Combat Training Is Now Supply Depot Of 2d Division

By PFC. RONALD K. DALY

About a mile South of Jacksonville on highway 17 is the place where it all began. In April 1941, Tent Camp Number One, better known as Tent City, began to take shape as the first development on the site of the New River Marine Base later to be named Camp Lejeune. Well-known to many Marines who fought on the battlefields of the Pacific in World War II as the place where they received their combat training, Tent Camp is now the supply depot for the 2d Marine Division with the outward appearance considerably changed since the summer of 1941.

The real story of Tent Camp began back in February, 1941, when a board appointed to report on a site for an East Coast Fleet Marine headquarters and training center convened at the request of then Col. Julian C. Smith. On April 10, 1941, this group recommended the present location and the construction of Tent Camp Number One was started by the end of the month.

From land, sea, and air, careful inspection was made over a wide territory and a definite recommendation was submitted that New River be chosen for the ground base and a site on the Neuse River for the Air Station. Eastern North Carolina was most suitable for an all-purpose Marine training base by reason of its geographical situation, climatic conditions, long ocean front, topographical advantages, and isolated areas.

Before the site had actually been chosen a representative of the Navy arrived in the region in connection with the beginning of preliminary work on the bases. An initial appropriation of $1,500,000 for surveys and land purchased was announced February 15th 1941, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox. Cost of all the property desired was estimated at $1,200,000.

As early as the summer of 1941 Marines and soldiers trained here when the permanent camp structures still existed only on blueprints.

By the middle of summer Tent Camp was nearing completion. More than 1000 tents were expected to be ready for the arrival of the first Marines. During September, 1st Division Marines landed at Tent City under the command of then Brig. Gen. Philip H. Torrey. However, a few Marines had arrived earlier and occupied an old structure at Paradise Point to act as fire guard. Also during the summer maneuvers a number of Marines, sailors and soldiers had been on temporary duty off Onslow Beach.

The first post commander, Colonel D. L. S. Brewster, arrived at New River September 9th. Temporary headquarters was established in a renovated building at Montford Point, formerly used as a rod and gun clubhouse. This Marine Barracks headquarters officially opened on September 15th and the colors were raised there September 20th.

Accommodations during the winter of '41-'42 were crude by comparison with today's quarters. Officers and men lived in tents with one or two of the 400 Marine officers assigned to each officer's tent and six of the 6000 enlisted Marines to each larger tent. General Torrey used a farmhouse which is still standing by the main gate of Tent Camp, for his headquarters.

During this time construction of permanent buildings and 1000 huts was started. Plans were formulated for 117 miles of road, 17 bridges, 200 miles of electric lines with six sub-stations and 83 miles of telephone wire.

Time and circumstances over the intervening years have altered the appearance of Tent Camp as well as its role. Where once there were tents there are now gleaming Quonset huts; and what was once the busy hub of Marine training activities is today the supply depot for the 2d Marine Division.

The 2d Supply Battalion, 2d Combat Service Group (Medium), and a section of the Marine Corps Supply Depot have been working at Tent Camp since September 1947. Their functions, which are fundamentally identical, are to supply the 2d Marine Division in the field and the various small bases in this area with the equipment which actually cannot be carried, stored or is expendable.

Of the 607 men now at Tent Camp, two companies live in Quonset huts and the remaining personnel occupy the old Field Hospital. Broken down by name and function, the separate units are as follows:

ENGINEER SUPPLY CO.

The 2d Engineer Supply Company handles approximately 2500 gross tons of engineer material valued at close to a million dollars. Storage space consists of 10,000 square feet indoors and about an eighth of a mile outside. All of the heavy engineer equipment under the control of this company is repaired by their own skilled personnel who also issue the normal re-supply to the division. Waterproofing of all of the photographic equipment received from the Marine Corps Supply Depots at Norfolk and Barstow is also one of this unit's specialties.

SIGNAL SUPPLY CO.

Of the fifty men in the 2d Signal Supply Company, only three are of that particular functional field. This company is largely composed of supply personnel who requisition, pack, and mark electronics replenishment material for FMF Atlantic. About 150,000 pounds, 7,000 cubic feet, of TA items are stored and issued by this organization. An active unit, these men have participated in the majority of the sports activities both at Tent Camp and throughout Lejeune.

GENERAL SUPPLY CO.

The 2d General Supply Company is responsible for the administrative work of the battalion. The 100 men store and issue to the 2d Division everything from toothpicks to 782 gear and medical supplies. In the four warehouses and fourteen Quonset storerooms they receive, re-mark, and re-pack these necessary supplies.

DEPOT COMPANY

The 2d Depot Company is a support company for the 2d Combat Service Group and the largest single unit at Tent Camp. The men work at the warehouses and at the ammunition dump. Like all Marines they receive refresher courses on basic training and a number of the men are going to the specialist schools in the Corps.

The company was activated in January, 1947, with 196 men. They were the first group of Negro Marines to participate in the 2d Division maneuvers at the time. Since then, members of this company have accompanied the division on the Camid III operation and went to TTU at Little the ammunition and fuel for the 2d Division during the Atlantic Command Exercises now in progress.

In September of 1947, the company moved from Montford Point Camp to Tent Camp and since then has had representatives in practically all Camp athletic activities. In 1947, this was the only company to win a Division Baseball Trophy. The morale of this unit is high and the men who were at the Rifle Range last summer can vouch for the precision of their close order drill. More than sixty percent of the personnel of this company are taking advantage of MCI courses to complete their high school work and further their education, an enviable record for any company.

SHIPPING AND RECEIVING CO.

The 2d Shipping and Receiving Company has the responsibility for shipping, receiving, and delivering all authorized cargoes without loss, damage, or delay. This company also receives, stores, issues, and ships all of the personal effects for the 2d Combat Service Group and supporting tactical units.

AUTOMOTIVE SUPPLY CO.

Supplying the 2d Division with automotive spare parts and accessories is the job of the 2d Automotive Supply Company. In addition, the company also processes parts for overseas shipment and storage for the division. Parts for organizational and field maintenance for the 2d Division and attached units are stored in some 18,000 square feet of inside and outside storage space. Approximately $4,000 a month is expended for supplies furnished.

ORDNANCE SUPPLY CO.

The 2d Ordnance Supply Company furnishes the 2d Division with over $900,000 worth of ammunition and ordnance equipment. Three warehouses at Tent Camp house the equipment and one at Courthouse Bay is used for tracked vehicles. The ammunition dumps on Camid II, and Camid III, and maneuvers were built by this company.

SUPPLY DEPOT

Perhaps the smallest group at Tent Camp, the twenty-five men of the Marine Corps Supply Depot have the responsibility of supplying the numerous Marine Corps units on the East Coast.

The Reclamation and Salvage Section must sort and classify all types of gear from clothing to steel bunks. The material they are able to reclaim is used and stored for re-issue. Surplus clothing is weighed, and sold to the bidder, in the same manner as the non-usable. That material which cannot be sold is stored and shipped request.

The General Supply handles chemical warfare equipment, rations, and furniture. East Coast Marine Corps activities. In addition, they also take the overflow of the general items such as mattresses and Working on a wholesale scale issue direct to Marine posts.

The dry stores are received shipped to local posts by the men of Subsistence Stores. Besides making issues to the messary they ship direct to Co, Cherry Point, and Parris.

The supplies are hauled from the railroad loading form and the various warehouses by the Motor Transport Section at Tent Camp. Using trucks, they also haul to houses at Hadnot Point, Montford Point. Seven are used continuously by eight men of this section to support the many supplies stored in the Marine Corps Supply Depot.

Tent Camp Personnel perform their own guard duty and other additional duties. In addition have their own baseball diamonds, two softball diamonds, volleyball courts, and other outdoor equipment. A large platform be constructed in the near future on which battalion physical exercises will be held. An outdoor ring, so contemplated; and, whenever weather sets in to stay, will be outdoor smokers.

For a more or less isolated group, these men have working together and displaying remarkable cooperation and spirit. They recently produced a strictly amateur show which was a huge success. The 2d Company sponsored a dance buffet supper that was so well received that another is hoped for soon. Tent Camp may be away from the main center of activities at Lejeune but there are few who ask for transfer to other outfits.

Since 1941, Tent Camp has been the training center for thousands of Marines, many fresh from camp. Later it became a replacement depot with specialist training units. But when the "old salts" get together and the sea stories told to the "boots" it will be tents, bottomless mud, emerald rain, swamps, and liberty remembered by the old-timers who were there.

tain, the last officer in the being First Lieutenant Pierce Knapp. He became a first lieutenant April 18, 1946.

Two limited duty appointments to the rank of major, and then to the rank of captain will be made, the zones of each consisting of the first two captains, the first three first lieutenants who have accepted limited duty appointments.

Mistress—"When you were here you told me one reason you were such a good maid was that you never got tired. This is the first afternoon I've come into the kitchen and found you asleep."

Maid—"Yes'm. That's how I get tired!"

Tent Camp-In Name Only

As this high-angle photograph indicates, Tent Camp is without a single one of the familiar pyramids that, in 1941, gave it the name it still carries today. The neat rows of Quonset huts contrast so much with the appearance of this wartime training center to such an extent that one of the old-timers who received combat training here with the 1st Marine Division would probably have great difficulty in recognizing it. Tent Camp, now the supply depot for the 2d Marine Division, was the site of the first development at what is today the world's most complete amphibious training base, Camp Lejeune. (Photo by Cpl.
