State Officials, Marines Get Acquainted

Getting Acquainted State officials and Marines became better acquainted last Wednesday when the governor and members of the state's official family paid a brief visit to this most complete amphibious training base. In the picture below, the Commanding General, Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, greets Governor W. Kerr Scott upon his arrival at Lejeune. Also shown, left to right, are Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Hart, and Lieutenant-Governor Pat Taylor. In the photo below right, Governor Scott and Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart are shown on the reviewing stand in the ceremonies during which the governor received a 19-gun salute and the honor guard composed of USMC-V's passed in review. (Photo by Cpl. ## Most Complete Amphib Training Base Host To Governor, General Assembly

The world's most complete amphibious training base was again host to distinguished visitors last Wednesday when Governor W. Kerr Scott and some 50 state officials and members of the General Assembly took the day off to view Camp Lejeune on the first anniversary of Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart's command.

Members of the North Carolina Legislature and department heads with their wives and other guests enjoyed dinner in mess hall 9, witnessed honors and a review for Governor Scott, saw a display of amphibious equipment, and made a guided tour of the Hadnot Point area.

The Second Marine Division band struck up "Dixie" as the governor arrived at the mess hall at about 1300, accompanied by the visiting officials.

Following the luncheon, Major General Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General, told visiting dignitaries that the purpose of the visit was a "get acquainted" affair because the Marines were anxious that North Carolinians "get to know us better" and see what a really fine place Camp Lejeune is.

Governor Scott praised the Marine Corps' training program in "keeping men abreast of the times" to the end that "a foe anywhere and anytime will know this nation is ready to defend itself."

At the same time the governor reiterated his support of the proposed plan to develop the state's ports.

"We must develop our ports here. See VISITORS On Page 6

Pay Hearings Soon; French Sailors Pay Brief Visit Enroute To Calif.

Hearings on the new bill for the revision of Service Pay are expected to begin on 14 Feb. before the House Armed Services Committee, according to the Army-Navy Journal this week.

The draft of the bill, including modifications proposed by Secretary of Defense Forrestal, is now under consideration by the Bureau of Budget, and after clearance at agency will be introduced in House and Senate.

The Hook Commission, on which the report the new pay bill is based, will meet in Washington on 22 Feb., and will be available for testimony before the House Committee the following week. Other changes will probably include the inclusion of the Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, military chiefs of the Service, and the specialists assisted in drafting the legislation.

Modifications proposed by the Defense Secretary pertain primarily to service retirement of officers and enlisted personnel with more than 30 years' service. He also suggested the broadening of the duty pay provisions of the report to include special pay for prolonged arduous or disagreeable duty, to amount to not to exceed $50 additional per month. The duty to be covered was not yet defined, but presumably it would include service at isolated posts, under extremely disagreeable weather conditions, as for example in Greenland or other Arctic points, or on remote Pacific islands, subject to continued tropic heat.

Mr. Forrestal also suggested the advisability of providing more adequate survivor benefits for dependents of military personnel, in addition to the death benefits proposed by the Hook Commission. The choice of increased provision for survivor benefits in lieu of some retired compensation was indicated as a possibility. The Secretary said he would have this subject studied by his new Personnel Policy Board, with a view to submitting proposed legislation entirely separate from the pay bill.

VOLUNTARY RETIREMENT
Another modification proposed by Mr. Forrestal would permit the voluntary retirement of officers with more than 25 years' service under certain circumstances. Under present laws both officer and enlisted personnel may retire with graded retirement compensation after 20 years' service, but the Hook Commission would limit voluntary retirement of officers to those with more than 30 years' service, and Lejeune Marines have become accustomed to seeing unfamiliar uniforms around camp; so little excitement was aroused when members of the French Navy showed up last Sunday.

Seven officers and twenty-three enlisted men of the Navy of France arrived at Morehead City Sunday after an Atlantic crossing aboard an LST which, as interpreted from voluble hand motions, must have proved a little more of a bobbing ride than they had expected.

The officers and men were on their way to Los Angeles to take command of two LSTs which they will sail back to France, but were temporarily delayed by inclement weather. Departing Lejeune Monday afternoon, the Frenchmen will make the remainder of the trip to the West Coast by air.

Lt Fourcade, commanding, and his men were welcomed aboard by Lt. Col. H. R. Migneault, Marine Barracks G-1. The officers were billeted at BOQ and the enlisted men made Barracks 8 their temporary quarters.

Acting as interpreter for the visitors, Cpl. Roger G. Charette, Service Co., Marine Barracks, conducted them on a tour of this giant amphibious base. The men were

$13,000 Received; Dimes Still Coming

The March of Dimes appeal at Lejeune ended January 30 but the Deluge of Dollars still has not ceased. Capt. E. E. Gebhart, Treasurer of the local campaign, announced Tuesday morning that more than $13,000 had been received but the contributions were still pouring in.

It is impossible at this time to list the contributions by units but it is expected that the final returns will be tabulated in time for the next issue of the Globe.

Present indications are that the Marines, coming through generously as always, will have contributed an average of one dollar per man by the time the books are closed. The appeal at Lejeune has met with great success and the local Leathernecks can rightly feel that they have had a great part in making it possible for stricken children to walk again.

The Civil Service personnel of this base also have been contributing generously to this worthy cause. According to available figures, 2117 employees have contributed $2,103.04. 1802 or 85 percent of the total number of civil employees contributed this very creditable sum. A complete breakdown of civilian contributions by activity is listed on page 6 in the Civilian Personnel Guide.

Cherry Point Gives Assist To Canadian Needing Air Lift

CHERRY POINT, N. C., (Feb. 1)—An unexpected, but nonetheless welcome visitor to the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C., last week was Private William R. Dexter of the Royal Canadian Army. His visit was occasioned by the need of fast air transportation to reach his ailing wife in Toronto, Canada.

Dexter, a member of The Royal Canadian Regiment, is presently attached to one of the two Royal Canadian Army platoons training with the Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C. These Canadian units will join the Marines in an amphibious assault in the Virgin Islands during the forthcoming Atlantic Command Exercises.

From Log Cabin To White House

Abraham Lincoln

Saturday we celebrate the birthday of a man who is beloved by his countrymen.

Tall, lanky, not handsome, not a great scholar, Lincoln nevertheless had a simplicity and manner of speech and a fullness of understanding which endeared him in the hearts of his countrymen.

By heritage, birth and training, Lincoln had much in common with Andrew Jackson. Both were of the common people; both claimed a log cabin as a first home; both secured a limited education through great personal effort and sacrifice; both entered the legal profession.

"With malice towards none, with charity for all," no more fitting words describe Abraham Lincoln than do his own in his second inaugural address as sixteenth President of the United States. His greatness left an indelible impression upon the people.

It was not the subtle art of politics and intrigue which accomplished for Lincoln the task of preserving the Union, but his qualities of humanity and firmness of purpose.

To him the nation owes an eternal debt for its preservation; to him the world owes gratitude for the lesson he taught, that true greatness in statecraft combines leadership with understanding, kindness, and humanity—a new standard of measurement if we but recall those before him who were acclaimed "great," men like Napoleon, Caesar and Alexander.

Lincoln's greatness was self-evident at an early age. At the age of seven he helped his father construct a cabin which was without windows, doors, or a floor at the time the family moved into it. Lincoln's stepmother undertook the task of imparting the rudiments of knowledge to her stepson. From her and in very short periods spent in school, the boy learned to read, write, and "cipher." Starved for knowledge, he worked zealously with what he had. Lacking pencil and paper, he used chalk, writing on the cabin walls, on bits of wood, and on the back of an old, blackened shovel. From the neighbors, some far distant, he borrowed books and read them again and again.

Like Franklin, who was self taught, Lincoln used every means at his command to become educated. Perseverance, understanding of the task before him, personal effort and sacrifices were responsible for his greatness.

Today, we have educational facilities far ahead of those in Lincoln's time. If we have the will to learn and the qualities that go toward "greatness," we too can succeed and become a great leader.

Many men of today have a superior education, but lack the ability to use their knowledge in the right direction. Lincoln, Franklin, and more of our great leaders were self-taught and applied their hard earned knowledge to benefit mankind, and in so doing, became "great."

Temptation

When you are tempted, do what little children do when they see a wolf or bear. They run to their father's or mother's arms for protection. In like manner, fly to God, seeking His compassion and help. This remedy was given by our Lord Himself: "Pray, that ye enter not into temptation" (Matt. 26:41). If the temptation continues in your mind, embrace the cross as if you see Jesus crucified before you. Make firm protests against giving your consent, ask His help, and continue to do so till the danger is passed. While doing this, do not think of the temptation but of your Savior. If you dwell on the temptation, especially if it is strong, it may shake your courage. Divert your mind from it by some attractive occupation, which will fill your mind to the exclusion of the sinful thoughts and evil imaginations. The great remedy against temptations is to let them be known to your confessor or spiritual director. Satan tries to impose silence on a soul he wants to entrap. Should they continue after that, there will be peace at last; for the soul can never be injured which refuses to consent.

Do not argue with the enemy. Give our Lord's answer: "Get thee behind me Satan!" (Matt. 4:10). Just as the chaste wife would not reply or cast a second glance at the foul tempter who tries to lead her astray, but would run at once to her husband's side with renewed fidelity; so the devout soul, in time of temptation, should never argue with it, but simply hasten to the side of Jesus and protest fidelity to Him forever.

We should know the chief passions with which we have to contend. For instance, if your chief passion is vanity, reflect often on the emptiness of human applause, how insignificant earthly vanities will appear at the hour of death, how unworthy of a generous heart, how childish, they are. Control your words so that they will not excite you to be vain. Do as many lowly, humble deeds as you can, even if you are reluctant. This will weaken your vanity, and make you better able to resist. If you are inclined to avarice, think of its folly; it makes us slaves to that which was intended to serve us. Remember how we must leave everything when we die; perhaps those who get our wealth then will only squander it, and even to their ruin. If covetousness is one of your passions, fight it by almsgiving. If you are inclined to flirting, either actively or passively, think of its dangers to yourself or others, how ignoble it is to trifle with the noblest affections of the soul, and how it leads to levity of mind. Cultivate purity and simplicity of heart, and carefully avoid occasions of flirtation.

Let your times of peace, that is, when you are free from temptation, be spent in practicing the opposite virtues according to opportunity. If these do not occur, seek them. Thus you will strengthen yourself against temptations in the future.

g. Gen. Kimes, rine Aviator, ccumbed Friday

WASHINGTON, D. C.—February 10.—Brigadier General Ira L. Kimes, 47, a Marine Corps aviator who was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for meritorious service in the Battle of Midway, died this morning of coronary thrombosis at Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Maryland.

A native of Fayetteville, Tennessee, General Kimes resided at 24 West Cameron Road, Falls Church, Virginia. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Born in Fayetteville, August 8, 1901, General Kimes was commissioned a Marine second lieutenant after graduation from the Naval Academy in June, 1923. He completed flight training and became an aviator at Pensacola, Florida in 1925.

His operations and communications officer, General Kimes was assigned to Haiti in 1932, making numerous flights to Guantanamo, Cuba, and to Santo Domingo.

In August, 1933, he received a commendation from the Secretary of the Navy for achieving the high machine gun score for Marine Corps shore-based observation and training plane squadrons for the 1932-33.

In January, 1941, he joined the 2d Marine Aircraft Group, Marine Force, in Hawaii, and when the Japanese attacked our islands on December 7, he participated in the defense of Ewa Field, Hawaii.

General Kimes then was sent to Midway Island where he was in command of Marine forces during the Japanese attack of June 4, 1942. For his service he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. BRIG. GEN. KIMES On Page 6

MCI Has Served Marines Nearly Three Decades

Seven hashmarks and twenty-nine lighted candles adorned the Marine Corps Institute's birthday cake on 2 February in celebration of nearly three decades of helping stateside and overseas Marines improve their educational backgrounds.

The oldest correspondence school of its kind in existence, the Institute was originally established in 1920 at Marine Barracks, Quantico, Va. to provide educational and vocational training for Marines. The enrollment then would form only a small battalion. The total on the rolls today exceeds a reinforced division.

The articulate demand for Marines for courses is mirrored by the steady expansion of the Institute. The twenty-nine years of successful operation is a living testimonial to the wisdom and foresight of the founders. The long roster of graduates completes the story. Marines are not only well educated; they are education minded. Their diversity of interest is illustrated by the numerous courses studied through the Marine Corps Institute covering nearly all fields of endeavor and most hobbies.

Within six months after being founded, the Marine Corps Institute changed from a resident to a correspondence school and moved to Marine Barracks, Washington, D. C. The first correspondence students were a contingent of Marines serving in the Caribbean area.

GREW WITH CORPS

The task of meeting the problem of varying educational trends and maintaining the MCI's high standards has been dealt with realistically by preparing highly qualified Marines as instructors with officer and civilian educators closely supervising and planning courses.

World War II was a further challenge to the Institute's ability. See MCI On Page 7

Helen Creech Chosen 'Miss Marston Pavilion' In Beauty Contest At Mammoth Enlisted Dance

Miss Helen Creech of Maysville was chosen as "Miss Marston Pavilion of 1949" during the contest at the enlisted men's dance last Thursday night, edging out 20 other contestants for the honor. The dance boasted a turnout equalled only by the anniversary dance as hostess groups from six North Carolina cities swelled the attendance.

Winner Helen Creech, winner of the beauty contest at the dance last Thursday when she was named "Miss Marston Pavilion of 1949," is awarded a beautiful wrist watch by Lt. Col. A. N. B. Robertson, senior Judge.

Competition For $500 Moncado Military History Award Open

The American Military Institute announces a competition for the Moncado Military History Award of Five Hundred Dollars. This award, made possible through the generosity of General Hilario Camino Moncado of Manila, Philippine Republic, is designed to stimulate the writing of scholarly works on military subjects.

Manuscripts in English, treating any phase of American military history, which make a definite contribution to the field, are solicited. They may be on such subjects as military administration, armament, personnel, policy, strategy tactics, and theory. The term military includes all forces of the land, sea, and the air.

Manuscripts submitted will be considered by a Committee of Judges to be announced later. In making the award, which will include an attractive publishing arrangement, the Committee will consider subject matter, organization, treatment, quality of research, and literary excellence. Should none of the contributions measure up to the standards established, the Committee is not required to make an award.

Manuscripts must be submitted on or before 30 June, 1950, and should be addressed to the General Secretary, Jacob B. Lishchiner, American Military Institute, 1115 Seventeenth Street, N. W., Washington 6, D. C. Further information, if desired, will be furnished upon application to the General Secretary.

"I can't tell you how long I have labored on this drama," the aspiring writer told the producer, "polishing a scene here, adding a line there, eliminating scenes and adding new characters." "What a pity," said the producer, handing it back to him. "All work and no play!"

Comedy Their brand of humor made a big hit during the intermission at the dance and their slight difference in size didn't detract from the spirit of the floor show either. Billy Arthur on the left fits in the 1 column space all right but his too-large "partner in laughs," Jim Tanner, just wouldn't go, consequently the slight overlapping into the next column.

A portrait picture of Miss Marston Pavilion and the Talent Scroll will be displayed in the lounge of the Pavilion.

The floor show following the contest and radio broadcast spotlighted diminutive Billy Arthur and his 300 - pound sidekick Jim Tanner of Jacksonville. Billy acted as Master of Ceremonies for the program but had a little trouble with Pfc. William "Happy" Clarkson who wanted to know why his blind date, "Mable," didn't win the prize. Billy told him why after he saw "Mable" who was Pfc. Bob Dion under the female attire: Happy, Mable, and Pfc. Ed Schwin showed the gathering how a lango should be tangoed and what puts the "jitter" in jitterbugging.

A buffet luncheon was served after the floor show. Judges for the beauty contest were Lt. Col. A. N. B. Robertson, CO of the Eighth Marines; Lt. W. S. Anthony, Camp Recreation Officer; and Staff Sergeant M. M. Yetter.

WJNC carried a full thirty minutes of the festivities with the mike work handled by genial Lester Gould.

Quantico Cagers Down Lejeune 76-66 For Second Win Over Local Quintet

By PFC DAVE SHARPE

The mighty Marines of Quantico, defending All-Navy Champions, scraped out a 76-66 victory over their Leatherneck brothers, Camp Lejeune, in the Washington Armory last Friday, handing the Lejeuners their seventh loss of the current campaign.

Jack Robbins, former basketball star of Annapolis, led the Quantico cagers with 27 points, but high for both teams was the great Whiz Bishop of Camp Lejeune, who pushed 29 points through the nets, 20 of them coming in the first half. The Lejeune forward could not be stopped, or even slowed down, and was the outstanding man on the floor for both teams. Lew Anderson's 15 points earned him second place in the Lejeune scoring, whereas All-Navy selection Cy Waldrop hit for 17 to finish in the "place" position for the Virginians.

Lejeune surprised everyone by rolling up an early 13-3 lead, when Bishop opened the scoring on a one-hander, Kubiskey shot two free throws and made both, and Bishop hit on a free throw, before Cy Waldrop cut the cords for Quantico. Bishop hit on another one-hand push shot to make it 7-2. Waldrop hit on a charity toss, but Bishop scored on a set shot, then slapped a rebound in, making it 11-3.

Quantico called time, and the Lejeuners apparently cooled off. Bishop pushed in a set shot, but the Quantico five began to work. Chuck Skinner broke through to score on a lay-up. From then on it was close, but Lejeune continually held the upper hand. They led midway through the initial half, 23-14, and held that lead until Quantico narrowed it down to 30-25 with 5 minutes left before the intermission. Led by Jack Robbins, they went ahead for the first time in the ball game, when he sank a long one-hander, making it 31-30, in favor of Quantico. Anderson came back on a long set shot, and Bishop hit again, making it 34-31 and Quantico called time with two minutes left before halftime. Conroy hit for Quantico, but Bishop scored on a free toss. Jim Patrick hit on a lay-up, but Nofsinger kept Lejeune ahead with a one-hand jump shot. Waldrop hit, on a hook shot, and Robbins scored on a set shot, however, to send the visitors ahead, 39-37, at the intermission.

Bob Coyle tied it up again, shortly after play resumed, but Quantico gradually crept to a 49-42 lead. Midway through the second half, with the score 60-59, in favor of Quantico, Howie Westphal fouled out. The gap at center was plugged by Bob Coyle, but seconds later Coyle sat down out of the game via the foul route. That left only Rollie Kubiskey to work the boards against Waldrop, Skinner and Freisen. Kubiskey, aided greatly by Bishop, worked like one possessed, and held the Virginians down.

But, with five minutes left, disaster finished the job. With the score 68-61, in favor of Quantico, Kubiskey fouled out. With all their height gone, the Lejeuners tried, but the work of Waldrop and Skinner held them at bay. Anderson and Bishop shot them up, but one shot was all they could afford. Quantico kept the ball, and froze it for the final two minutes to give them the victory, 76-66.

Parris Island Trowned By Lejeune Locals Avenge Previous Loss 88-4

BY PFC. DAVE SHARPE

The Marines of Camp Lejeune avenged a previous loss Monday night by crushing a strong Parris Island five, 88-40, to more than compensate for the two-point loss suffered at the hands of the South Carolina Marines earlier this season. The Lejeuners scored almost at will, with Whiz Bishop leading the islanders for both clubs with 22 points.

Chincoteague Navy Beaten Easily 63-38 By Lejeune Marines

By PFC. DAVE SHARPE

The Marine quintet of Camp Lejeune pounded out a lop-sided victory over the Chincoteague Naval Air Station five here last Wednesday night, 66-38, to win their 22nd game of the current season.

Everyone on the Lejeune squad saw action in the contest, which saw the Lejeuners run up a total of 25 points in the initial ten minutes of play, and lead at halftime, 38-14. Lew Anderson led the scoring for both teams, gathering 14 points and Rollie Kubiskey finished with 10 to take the number two spot. Pierce, Chincoteague pivot man, led the visitors in the scoring column with 10 tallies to his credit.

Lejeune spurred to an early lead, piling up seven points before the Sailors found the range. Pierce opened the scoring for Chincoteague. See NAVY LOSES On Page 5

Adams Putts Least In 'Least Putts' Play At Local Golf Links

The Least Putts Tournament held at the Paradise Point Golf Course last weekend was won by MSgt. C. C. "Deadeye" Adams, who, by using a pair of bi-focals which made the cup look as big as a washtub, covered the 18 holes with only 25 putts to win a $10.00 PX Chit. MSgt. Adams used 15 putts on the first nine holes, and then covered himself with glory in the second nine, using only 10 strokes with his putter.

Running a close second to the winner was Lt. W. S. Anthony, who scored 26 putts and took the $8.00 PX Chit. Lt. (jg) R. E. Shipke scored 28 putts, low enough to take the third prize of a $7.00 PX Chit.

29 putts were used by the next four contestants, all of whom were awarded a $2.50 PX Chit. They are: Col. L. H. Brown, Lt. Col. J. L. Winecoff, Lt. A. D. Challacombe, and Sgt. J. D. Spencer. ### Camp Lejeune Cagers Top Army Five 83-21 In Ft. Monroe Game

By PFC. DAVE SHARPE

The Devildogs of Camp Lejeune won their 23rd game of the season and made it five wins in their six contests, at Fort Monroe Saturday night, crushing the less soldiers, 83-23. The Lejeuners ran up an early lead, and passed the Monroians dizzy to lead at halftime.

Whiz Bishop once again led the scoring for both teams, gathering 18 points, one below his current average of 19 a game. Lew Anderson and E. A. Walker tied for the number two spot with 10 points apiece. Brown, lightning fast forward of Fort Monroe, paced his club with 10 points.

Lejeune started off in their typical firehouse fashion, as Whiz Bishop started it with a long shot. Lew Anderson flipped in another set, and Bishop hit again making it 6-0. Howie Westphal tied in a free throw to make it 6-2 before Brown hit for the Army quintet. Lejeune scored almost at will, and Major Anthony Capron sent his second stringers into the game with eleven minutes of playing time left in the first half. Substitutes stretched the lead even further, and the Leathernecks at halftime, 38-14.

The second half was the same thing all over again, with Lejeune scoring at will and the soldiers unable to work the ball under the Lejeune bucket. E. A. Walker and Bob Coyle kept the boards under Leatherneck rule and the game ended with the score at 83-23, in favor of Camp Lejeune.

It was the second win over Fort Monroe for the Marines this season. They beat the soldiers, 76-48, in a contest earlier this year.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP)—"Is my husband in jail again?" phoned a local housewife to police. "Yes, ma'am," she was told. "Well, tell him to stay there," she instructed, "I've rented out his room!"

Eighth Marines Take Basketball Crown; USMC-V Quintet Edged In Final Game

The Eighth Marines were crowned Camp Basketball Champions last Saturday night after defeating the USMC-V's in the third game of the Intramural Tournament held in Gym 201. In ceremonies held immediately after the final whistle, Colonel G. F. Good, Jr., presented the large trophy to the Eighth Marines and congratulated the players on both teams for their excellent sportsmanship during the entire season, as well as the superior playing which brought the two teams together for the play-offs.

Dixon Dropped By Camp High Quintet; Local Lassies Lose

By AL MUNCH
The Camp Lejeune High School quintet coasted to an easy victory here last week when they dumped the Dixon High five, 62-28. This was the Lejeuners' fourteenth victory against no defeats. The Lejeune High girls, playing the first game of a doubleheader, were less fortunate as they lost, 42-36.

The boys from Camp Lejeune were never threatened as they hit the nets from every angle, and led at the end of the first period, 15-7. The second quarter saw the "Devil Pups" gaining an even greater lead, finishing the half on the long end of a 33-15 score.

Despite their taller and more experienced opposition, the Dixon High cagers came back at the start of the third quarter to throw a scare into the local team, but the rally died when Lejeune sank four field goals in as many minutes. The third quarter score was 52-22, and the game ended on another goal for Lejeune, making the final score 62-28.

Probst was high man on the Lejeune team, with 25 points. Avant led the Dixon team in scoring with 10 lallies.

The Dixon girls team, playing in the first game, evened the night for the Dixonites as they played a fast-moving game to overpower the Lejeune sextet, 42-36. The local lassies held a first quarter advantage, but the Dixon girls soon warmed to their task, and they went ahead in the second quarter, never to be threatened for the remainder of the game.

High scorers for the winners were Lewis and Rochelle, who had 28 and 6 points respectively. Stepka took scoring honors for Lejeune with 17, followed by Hagerdon with 9.

Intramural Cagers End Biggest Season Yet At Camp Lejeune

Competition ended in the Intramural Basketball League Monday night when the final games were played. Standings in each league were changed as a result of these final games, the major changes taking place in the tough National League, where the 2d Tank Bn. and the 2d ComSerGrp finished in a tie for third place, while the 16th Marines moved into fourth place with H&S Bn, Camp.

In the American League, the 1st AAA Bn. finished second, while Montford Point Camp and the 10th Marines tied for third, and the 2nd Medical Battalion finished fourth.

Montford Point and the 2nd Medical Bn. played one of the better games recorded in the American League when they battled to a 67-71 score last Tuesday, with the Montford Point quintet winning. The Montford Point team ran up 1005 points this season while allowing their opposition 836. High scorer for the season was Pfc Bernard Johnson, who hit the nets for 339 points in 16 games.

The National League saw some hot action in the final week also, typical of which was the game between the Supply Depot and H&S Bn, Camp. The game was almost ready for an overtime period when H&S sank two quick baskets and won, 64-61. Pfc. R. G. Threfall was high scorer for the year on the Supply Depot quintet, scoring 189 points.

The season just completed was the largest intramural program ever undertaken at Camp Lejeune, and that it reached a successful conclusion was due to the cooperation between the various teams and the Athletic Office of Camp Special Services.

The sharpshooting team from the Eighth Marines surprised the majority of the spectators from the start when in the opening game last Thursday, they came from behind at the start of the second half to gain a resounding 67-45 victory.

The men from the Training Group, who had gone undefeated in regular season play, were as surprised as the spectators when the Eighth Marine quintet came out for the second half with a rush, and, led by Bob Missimer, commenced pouring in points from every angle. Bill Williams, flashy forward for the Volunteers, led the scoring for the evening with 25 points, but his best was not good enough to overcome the smooth shooting, free passing cagers from the Eighth.

At the end of the second game it was still anybody's series, for the "V's," sparked by Williams again, had posted a close 60-57 win. Williams, who garnered 31 points, tied up the game with two quick shots in the final minute of play, and then scored on a charity toss and a lay-up to cinch the game.

Missimer of the Eighth had a 19 point night, but it was the individual performance of Williams which saved the game for his team, and carried the series into the final game.

When the infantrymen of the Eighth moved into the deciding game of the series on Friday night, it was to play their hardest and fastest game of the season. They had a slight advantage in height, but the Training Group more than matched them in speed.

The lead changed hands constantly during the course of the game, but the final five minutes were all Eighth Marine minutes as they played brilliant defensive ball and relied on Missimer and Loren Burnett, a range guard, for their offensive punch.

The "V's" played an excellent game, looking good even in defeat, and their sportsmanship was highly commendable.

MSgt Ralph Cherry, veteran basketball player, coached the Eighth Marine team throughout the season, and that he did well is proved. The Volunteers were coached by 1st Lt. Edward Baiky, and his team went undefeated in the American league.

Proud possessors of a beautiful trophy, the Eighth Marines will retain their title and the trophy until next season, when once again every unit in camp will undertake the fight to attain the Camp Lejeune Basketball Championship.

Army Skeet Shooters Slay Hot; Outshoot Lejeune Team Sunday

The Camp Lejeune skeet team made an unfruitful journey to the heart of Fort Bragg last Sunday to take on the Army in a friendly match which, despite the perfect shooting conditions, went in favor of the Army shooters by a large margin.

Five Army skeet experts missed only 19 targets out of 500, while the Lejeune team, probably unaccustomed to the good weather and excellent range, missed 42 out of 500. High shooting honors were shared by CWO Stowers of Camp Lejeune and Sgt. Gailey of Fort Bragg, who each had a 98x100. The final score was 481x500 for Fort Bragg and 458x500 for Lejeune.

Sunday the Lejeune team travels to Pinehurst, N. C., for a five man team match against both civilian and service teams from throughout the state.

teague on a pivot shot, and Johnson hit seconds later to make it 7-4, but Ed Kobza pushed through a one-hander, Howie Westphal hit on a free throw, Kobza hit again from the field and Kubiskey scored on a one-hand set shot to make it 14-4. The Leathernecks stretched the gap even further, leading midway through the first period, 21-8, and at halftime, 38-14.

Sykes of Chincoteague started the second half scoring with a free throw, but Anderson and Bishop hit, and Kobza hit on another charity toss, making it 43-15. Kobza hit again, then Rollie Kubiskey slapped eight points in, one right after another, before Chincoteague could score again. With 13 minutes remaining to play Major Anthony Caputo sent his second string onto the court, and they finished the ball game.

Rollie Kubiskey played a great game under the boards, consistently beating the taller Pierce to the rebounds, and contributing 10 points to the Lejeune cause to take the nod for the best player on the floor, with Lew Anderson right behind him.

WITHHOLDING TAX EXEMPTION

It appears that some confusion exists among some employees relative to the number of exemptions they are allowed when filing the Initial Tax Exemption Form W-4 or making changes in an existing Form W-4 already on file with the Civil Payroll Office.

At bottom of page is printed excerpts of the Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate, Form W-4.

Each individual is counted as one exemption. For example, a single person with no dependents is entitled to one exemption, and a married person with no dependents is entitled to two exemptions. However, two individuals cannot legally claim the same exemption. For example, a husband cannot claim his wife as an exemption if the wife is employed and claiming herself, or vice versa, but either may claim both exemptions. The couple should get together and decide which is to their advantage to claim the exemptions. If one does claim all the exemptions, the other must file the form showing NO exemptions claimed.

NAVY BENEFICIAL SUGGESTION REPORT

During the year 1948 the Beneficial Suggestion Committee at Camp Lejeune, N. C., received a total of 24 suggestions from Civil Service employees. Of this number 16 were processed and 8 are still pending. Five of these suggestions received awards totaling $145.00 with an estimated annual savings to the government of $2,346.00.

During the quarter ending September 1948, the percentage of employees throughout the Navy participating in the Beneficial Suggestion program was second to the highest ever reported. 8,858 suggestions were processed during the quarter and 30.6 percent of these suggestions were adopted. 2,595 cash awards were made in the amount of $67,962.00 with an estimated savings to the government of $3,466,060.00.

The Navy can use your suggestions which have resulted in or will result in improvement or economy in the operations of the Navy through monetary savings, increased efficiency, conservation of property, improved working conditions, etc. The beneficial suggestions received from employees at Camp Lejeune have been very good and due to this fact we welcome any suggestions which may be submitted.

Have you submitted a beneficial suggestion lately?

1948 FEDERAL INCOME TAX FORMS

The Civil Payroll Office has a number of 1948 Federal Income Tax Forms 1040A and 1040 which were ordered for the use of employees who have not been able to secure these forms. If the employees of any activity are desirous of obtaining these forms it is suggested that they contact the head of their department or their immediate supervisor and request that a supply of these forms be furnished. Department heads or supervisors may secure these forms from the Civil Payroll Office located in Camp Maintenance Building 1202.

in case of a third World War so you Marines can get in and out," Scott declared.

More than 250 visitors and Marine hosts enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at Mess Hall No. 9, and witnessed the 19-gun salute on the vast parade ground where units of the training battalion—composed entirely of one-year volunteers—snappily paraded in review to the accompaniment of the Second Marine Division band under the direction of Warrant Officer Locke.

After the ceremonies, the governor and guests inspected the infantry equipment displayed on the field. General Hart arranged to have the pilot of a helicopter take some of the guest for a flight. Scott, for whom it was a first, commented that he enjoyed it thoroughly. It was a free helicopter ride, he pointed out, and the last time he had contemplated such a method of travel he couldn't afford it. He revealed that he had planned a helicopter tour during the last week of his campaign last year but found the program too expensive.

The guests next visited the Protestant Chapel and were given the history of the stained glass windows. They then proceeded to the Catholic Chapel where they also were impressed with the beautiful memorials.

A guided tour of the Hadnot Point area was next on the itinerary. Officer escorts assigned to the buses gave a detailed description of the various points of interest and each guest was given an informative booklet describing the history and activities of Camp Lejeune.

Before leaving the base at 1730, the visitors were served refreshments at the Officers' Mess at Paradise Point.

Senator R. N. Simms, Jr., of Wake county, was among the visitors. Senator Simms served in World War II as a first lieutenant in the Marines and is today considered one of the outstanding members of the Senate. Also among the guests was another familiar face, Representative Robert W. Dalrymple of Lee County. Rep. Dalrymple was a first lieutenant with the Marines and was stationed at Camp Lejeune as aide to Lt. General Thomas E. Watson.

A group of eleven members of the press covered the visit for the North Carolina newspapers. Mr. Gordon Sears, Bureau Manager of United Press at Raleigh said it was good to be back in the Marine Corps again. He was stationed at Tent Camp during World War II and served with the 5th Division and Second Division in the Pacific. Mr. Sears is a first lieutenant in the Volunteer Reserves and assists with recruiting at Raleigh. Another newspaperman, Gill Billings of Raleigh, is an ex-Army public relations officer.

at lunch. After lunch they were taken on a tour of the post and then went to the Officers' Mess to attend a tea given in their honor.

Last Friday evening Mrs. H. Linscott entertained at dinner her quarters, Lt. and Mrs. R. Mample and Lt. Mample's father, Mr. Lester G. Mample of W. Bear Lake, Minnesota, who is visiting his son and daughter-in-law for several days.

The officers of the Division Staff and their ladies entertained a cocktail party in the River room of the Officers' Mess last Friday evening from 5 to 7 p. m. Hosts for this party included the officers of the G-1 Section.

On Wednesday night, February 2, at the home of Rev. Carl Craig, the officiating minister, Rosemary Ann Williams of Kansas City, Mo., was united in marriage to TSgt. John Hilary Searcy of Camp Lejeune in a double ceremony.

Mrs. Margaret Crocker, Trailer Park, was Matron of Honor at MSgt. Floyd Cartwright, Camp Lejeune, was Best Man. The bride was dressed in blue crepe with white accessories and carried a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Crocker in a beige suit, carried a corsage of pink carnations.

Also present were Sgt. Ernest Crocker, SSgt. Emil Bukowski, and Pfc. C. F. Crittenden.

TSgt. Adolph Swinson won the Bingo jackpot at the Staff NCO Club Monday night and TSgt. Ottobus J. Busch won the merchandise certificate.

Uncle Sam Says

In this day you have to live by the clock. And each 24 hours it ticks off means another day added to your age. Get the clock on your side by signing up now for one of the two safe, automatic plans of savings, the Payroll Savings Plan for the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds where you work, or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. And as the clock hand swings around your money increases in value. In ten years each three dollars grows into four dollars.

Deluge Of Dollars

The March of Dimes at Camp Lejeune has turned into a veritable "Deluge of Dollars" with the contributions totalling over $13,000 Monday morning and more coming in all of the time. The picture below of Capt. E. E. Gebhart, Campaign Treasurer, using a shovel to put some of the money into a large sack with the able assistance of Chaplain E. R. Barnes, Chairman of the Lejeune Campaign, may look like a put-up job, but the captain can attest to the fact that a shovel is the easiest way. (Photo by Cpl. Sage, Camp Photo Lab.)

MB Surgeon Urges Local Development Of Dairy Farming

Development of dairy farming, coupled with produce and poultry, as a supplemental income for Onslow County farmers was urged by Capt. C. B. Galloway, USN, Camp Surgeon, at the February meeting of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking at Pine Lodge last Thursday evening, Captain Galloway told the gathering that Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of Camp Lejeune and the 2d Marine Division, is "definitely interested in development of a system of agriculture that will contribute to the better health and economy" of Eastern North Carolina and Onslow County.

Identifying himself as a farm-reared boy who can still milk a cow, Captain Galloway suggested that first priority should be given the development of a milk supply source for Camp Lejeune, a source that would subsequently offer butter, eggs, poultry, and truck crops. He cited figures showing the vast quantities of milk and poultry consumed daily, their value in dollars and cents to the producer and their value to the base for their freshness.

Daily, the Chamber of Commerce was told, Camp Lejeune consumes 2,292 gallons of milk all of which is shipped in and by the time it reaches the table some of it is more than four days old. Not all of that goes to the mess halls. One hundred and six gallons is the average daily consumption of officers in quarters and 580 gallons is the average daily consumption at Midway Park.

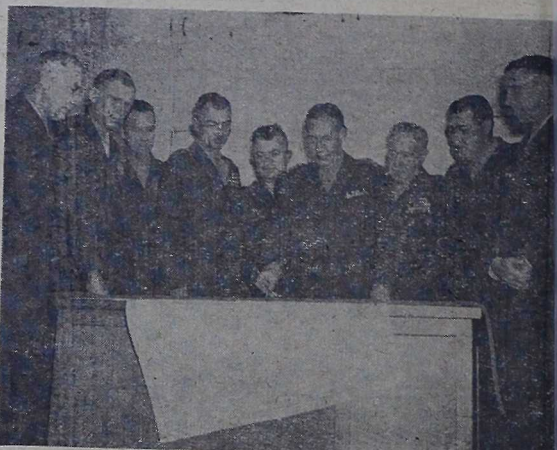

A demand exists now for fresh country eggs and chickens, so much so that friends of Marine families purchase them from farmers as a courtesy.

"The time will come," thundered the lady orator, "when women will get men's wages."

"Yeah," muttered the little man in a rear seat, "next Saturday night."

Maneuver Planning

Highly Effective VMO Squadron Have Part In Command Exercise

An effective air and ground agency used by the Marines in World War II will play an important part in the Atlantic Command Exercises to be held in the Caribbean area from February 14 to April 1.

This group is composed of VMO squadrons—Air Observers who fly in small "Grasshopper" planes over the combat area with the main mission of directing artillery and Naval gunfire.

Working jointly with Marine Corps Naval Aviators who fly them on their missions, the Air Observers fly over the battlefield looking for enemy strong points, troop movements, tank activity and other possible targets for the big guns. Once located the target is oriented and its position radioed in to the supporting ships or artillery units. Hovering over the target the Observer then notes the effectiveness of the fire and makes range corrections until the target has been eliminated or rendered ineffective.

The job is without glory, but without its constant hazards. The observers must take off and land from small fields often covered by enemy fire and they must fly low over the combat area in light aircraft. They present a constant target to enemy riflemen and machine gunners who take great delight in "squeezing off" a few shots at the Observers.

During the Atlantic Command Exercises many of the combat activities will be simulated but the observers will be there carrying out their mission in reality just as they did in the Pacific during the war.

Freedom Train's Marine Detachment Commended By Heritage Foundation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—January 31—Twenty-six Marines and a Chief Petty Officer of the Navy's Medical Corps have been individually commended by National Director J. Edward Shugrue of the American Heritage Foundation for "discharging magnificently one of the most demanding and unusual assignments ever given to any branch of the Armed Services."

The Freedom Train Detachment, which enjoyed only brief respites in its 16-months tour of the 48 States, assisted in receiving more than 3,500,000 visitors in 324 cities.

Disbandment of the detachment, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Robert F. Scott, USMC, for the entire period of its service, is effective today, with its members separating for leave and further assignment to new duty stations. Its official station has been Marine Barracks, Eighth and Eye Streets, South East, Washington, D. C.

Among members of the detachment leaving today were fifteen of the original members, on board when the Freedom Train started its tour.

Members of the detachment receiving commendation letters from Mr. Shugrue were:

Lieutenant Colonel Robert F. Scott, Major Ernest E. Schott, Captain John Skorich, First Lieutenant Erling A. P. Hughes, Master Sergeant Clarence A. McDaniel, Technical Sergeant Francis J. Schauf, Staff Sergeant Benjamin C. Belvin, Staff Sergeant John Klenotiz, Staff Sergeant William J. Kuhn, Sergeant Herman M. Appling, Sergeant John A. Brown, Staff Sergeant Russell A. Bruland, Sergeant Paul W. Butch, Sergeant John H. Cobb, Jr., Sergeant Kenneth M. Robinson, Sergeant Henry W. Steadman, Sergeant David O. Watson, Sergeant John C. Carroll.

Pay

that of enlisted personnel to those with 20 years' service who were over 50 years of age.

Mr. Forrestal recommends that the Hook proposal be so modified as to permit voluntary retirement of an officer who has completed 25 years' continuous active service, and who at the time of his application for retirement is in the position of having been passed over once for promotion.

The Secretary would also liberalize somewhat the proposal of the Hook Board relative to the involuntary retirement of officers of more than 20 and less than 25 years' service. The board proposed that an officer in this category should have the option of receiving pay based on 2 1/2 per cent of his active duty compensation for each year of service, payments to begin at the age of 60, or on 1 1/4 per cent for each year of service, payments to start immediately, or severance pay. Mr. Forrestal recommends as an additional option the right to retirement benefits provided under present laws at present rates, and not at the increased rates proposed by the new pay bill.

TWENTY-YEAR RETIREMENT

One of the proposed modifications of Mr. Forrestal would continue in effect the opportunities for voluntary retirement of enlisted personnel after 20 years' service. The Hook Board would restrict such retirements to those who were over 50. The Secretary would continue present service retirement benefits to all enlisted men in service at the time of the passage of the new pay law, but would base retirement compensation on present rates rather than on the proposed new rates.

Fourth Efficiency Award
