Countries For 'Miss Marston Pavilion' Contest Accepted At Dance Tonight Governor Scott And Legislators To Visit Lejeune North Carolina Governor, Members of General Assembly Here Feb. 2 Division Orchestra Plays Pavilion; Allan Craig For Montford Point Dance

Governor W. Kerr Scott of North Carolina and members of the House and Senate will visit Camp Lejeune on Wednesday, February 2, as announced this week. Last Friday both houses passed a resolution to visit this giant Marine training base, accepting the invitation of Brig. Gen. H. D. Linscott.

Brig. Gen. Linscott, Assistant Division Commander, addressed the houses at Raleigh last Friday morning and extended an invitation to all members of the General Assembly to visit Lejeune with the Governor.

The tentative schedule of events for the visit is as follows: Governor Scott will receive a 19-gun salute upon arrival and four rifles and flourishes. The 2nd Division band and honor guard will be formed on the parade ground.

Following the rendering of honors, the group will proceed to Mess Hall 54 for luncheon where the Commanding General, Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart will deliver a welcoming address.

After the luncheon, the Governor and members of the General Assembly will take a guided tour of the base with such points of interest as the museum of the Naval Field Research Laboratory, the Infantry Area, Artillery Park, Weapons display, Tank Park, Protestant Chapel, Catholic Chapel, Staff NCO Club, Naval Hospital, and the Marston Pavilion included on the itinerary.

Division Band Presents Concert Theater Tuesdays

A new weekly entertainment feature was inaugurated at Lejeune Tuesday evening when the 2d Division band presented the first of a series of concerts at the Camp Theater.

Every Tuesday from 2000 to 2300, the popular Division band will render both classical and popular selections in a 30-minute concert at the Camp Theater daily. This new program should prove highly enjoyable and all Marines and their guests are cordially invited to attend the theater for this between-shows attraction.

The house in which the incumbent Commandant of the Marine Corps always lives is one of the best public buildings in Washington.

Brig. Gen. Riley Commended By U. N. Secretary General

WASHINGTON, D. C.—January 11—The Honorable Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, has commended the work of Brigadier General William E. Riley, U. S. Marine Corps, in a message received yesterday by General C. B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps.

General Riley, Assistant Division Commander of the Second Marine Division, is a native of Minneapolis, Minnesota. He has been temporarily on duty with the United Nations since August, 1948.

Text of the message received here yesterday:

"My growing appreciation of the excellent work being done by Brigadier General William E. Riley as Chief of Staff of the Palestine Mission impels me to bring his record to your attention. He has organized the military observers of the United States, France, and Belgium into a highly effective and closely knit working unit, and has shown exceptional qualities of leadership. See COMMENDED On Page 6

Largest Joint Exercises Will Open 14 Feb.

Headquarters, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic—18 January—Lieutenant General Keller E. Rockey, Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, announced that February 14th will mark the opening date of the largest joint, Army, Navy, Marine Corps, peacetime exercises. The scene of these large scale exercises will be the Caribbean, and the final all out objective will be to seize and occupy the Island of Vieques off the coast of Puerto Rico. Some 35,000 Army, Navy, and Marine Corps personnel will participate.

Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, USN., Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Command and the United States Atlantic Fleet will be in overall command of these Atlantic Command Exercises. Approximately 100 ships will participate in the exercises. The Navy armada will include the battleship Missouri and undisclosed strength in aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers, submarines and other smaller naval craft. The Second Task Fleet under the command of Vice Admiral Donald B. Duncan, USN., will figure largely in the non-amphibious stage of the exercise. See EXERCISES On Page 8

Gertrude Carraway Addresses Marine Wives Today, 1400

A noted historian and newspaperwoman, Miss Gertrude Carraway of New Bern will give a lecture on the history of North Carolina this afternoon at 1400 in the Camp High School auditorium. The wives of all Marines have been cordially invited to attend this lecture which will be given under the auspices of the Officers' Wives Club of Camp Lejeune.

Miss Carraway will present an interesting talk to the audience on the rich historical background of North Carolina beginning with the ill-fated "Lost Colony" established by Sir Walter Raleigh in 1587 at Roanoke Island, Manteo, North Carolina.

She has always been ardently interested in the historical background of this state and is recognized as an authority in that field.

Besides her historical research work, Miss Carraway is State Regent of the North Carolina Executive Council of the Daughters of the American Revolution. See HISTORIAN On Page 6

Allan Craig has brought his well-liked orchestra to Lejeune quite frequently in the past few months and has made a hit on every appearance. Marines at Montford Point will dance to his satisfying rhythms tonight; and, at the next regular dance on February 3rd, Craig will be at the Pavilion to furnish the music for the gala dance at which the Pavilion queen will be selected.

MISS PAVILION CONTEST
The contest to find and crown Miss Marston Pavilion of 1948 has taken definite form now with final arrangements almost completed, the Committee announced this week.

Entry blanks will be available at tonight's dance and entries will be accepted throughout the evening by members of the Pavilion Committee. The only requirement is that the entry must be submitted by an enlisted man. The winner will be the wife or girl friend of a serviceman at this giant base.

Late entries may also be submitted until 2200 at the February 3rd dance.

JUDGING
Two of the judges for the contest have been named, Lt. Col. Glenn R. Long, Camp Special Services Officer, and Lt. Col. A. N. B. Robertson, C. O. of the Eighth Marines. The third judge has not yet been determined. The entrants, attired in bathing suits, will be judged during the intermission at the dance. See DANCES On Page 7

1949 March Of Dimes Campaign Gains Momentum As It Enters Second Week

The 1949 March of Dimes, which is entering its second week, is gaining increasing momentum as all hands at this giant base, both Marine and civilian, are given the opportunity to contribute to this very worthy cause. A Deluge of Dollars is indicated as the critical need for funds to combat the dread disease is realized and the appeal meets a fitting response.

Southeastern Division Rifle, Pistol Matches Scheduled In May

Marine Corps rifle and pistol division competitions for 1949 will be held during the months of April, May and June, according to tentative plans, the Army-Navy Journal stated this week.

Divided into three groups, the competitions will be held at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif., for the Western Division (and personnel of the Pacific Ocean Area) during the period 18-23 April; at the Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune, N. C., for the Southeastern Division, during the period 16-21 May; and at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., for the Eastern Division, during the period 30 May to 4 June.

Because of the depletion of the emergency epidemic funds last year, the goal of the National Foundation this year is higher than ever before and the need to make the appeal a record success is urgent. During the final weeks of the campaign, March of Dimes activities throughout the Nation will be intensified because of the pressing need to prepare for future epidemics.

At the same time, funds given to the March of Dimes will be used not only to help those whom polio may strike but to meet the continuing cost of care and treatment of boys and girls stricken in prior years, and to insure that there is no interruption in research for a cure or preventative of the disease.

None of us can afford to take chances with a polio epidemic this summer, but all of us can afford a dime or a dollar toward assurance. See MARCH OF DIMES On Page 7

All Armed Services To Participate In Inaugural Parade

Units of all Armed Services have been readied this past week for participation in the mammoth parade following the inauguration of President Harry S. Truman today. General Omar N. Bradley, Army Chief of Staff and Grand Marshal of the parade, last week released General Orders No. 1 which revealed the National Military Establishment representation, according to the Army-Navy Journal.

With General Bradley, Admiral Louis E. Denfield, Chief of Naval Operations, and General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, will ride in an open sedan at the head of the marchers.

Next in the line of march will be the INAUGURAL On Page 2

Quarterly Reception At Officers' Mess Sunday 1700-1900

A quarterly reception will be held at the Commissioned Officers' Mess Sunday between the hours of 1700 to 1900 in honor of the officers and their wives who have arrived on the post since the last quarterly reception.

Uniform for the occasion for Marine officers will be "Undress Blue" and for Naval officers "Service Dress Blue D." Temporary officers not possessing the blue uniform may wear the uniform of the day with coat.

Appreciate North Carolina

Meet The People

Throughout recorded history a vague unfriendliness has always existed between soldiers quartered in any locality and the civilian inhabitants of the area. This is usually based on nothing more solid than lack of understanding, and is always totally profitless to the parties concerned. Camp Lejeune has suffered its share of this unfriendliness. However, it is very much to the credit of all persons concerned that there has been a considerable decrease in such feeling during the past year.

During the first part of February a large group of legislators, judges, and other prominent North Carolinians, headed by their governor, will visit this camp. For many of them it will be the first visit to what is, in effect, one of the largest cities in their state. They will leave it, as have our other guests, impressed by its magnitude, its beauty, and the fine soldierly appearance of the Marines stationed here. They'll like us a lot more after they meet us in our native habitat. We'll be more to them from now on than just an occasional green uniform.

By the same token, it'd do us a lot of good to move around their state a little more. It's a fine big place, and there's lots in it worth seeing. For instance, some week-end go up to Chapel Hill. There isn't much there except the university, but it's a beautiful and friendly little town, and those co-eds are lots better looking than anything you'll find around the "second front". This Spring go down to Wilmington while the azaleas are blooming; take a trip out to Orton Plantation, and out to the beaches. Take a fishing trip out of Morehead City—by the time we get back from maneuvers the tuna will be running and you can catch a boatload of them on a good afternoon. If you have more time go out into the western part of the state—those mountains are really something to write home about.

But wherever you go in North Carolina, try to meet some of the people. They'll like you if you give them a chance, and this Southern Hospitality you've heard about is something they really know how to practice.—G. S. W.

Leave

"Leave" for the Navy man and the Marine is the word used for vacation time. The normal person who is offered a respite from his duties does not spurn this opportunity to enjoy a change. And even though the vacation time, whether in winter or in summer, is never long enough, we usually wish to spend leave time in some enjoyable recreational manner. I read the other day about a fellow who was disappointed in not getting his annual two-weeks vacation. Rather, he was offered only one week to spend at his favorite lake. Consequently, he decided that since a week was too short a time to spend at the lake he would go to no-man's land—the hot sunburnt desert where every minute would seem like an hour. He would thus get so bored with it that he would be glad to get back to work and no one would be able to convince him that he hadn't had at least a month's vacation.

I think few people are actually that foolish. Though our leave time be short we wish to spend it in recreation, in some type of activity which provides diversion from the regular business of one's occupation. But that does not mean that just because a man is in the service he should cast aside all propriety and sobriety and enter upon a course of action contrary to all decency.

A few years ago a book came out which depicted the experiences of several men on leave. I waded through a few pages of the filth with which that book was mired down and gave it up. The incidents portrayed were utterly fetid. Actually I don't think that this book is true to the facts in the case of the great majority of service personnel. After all, plenty of people are convinced that there is more enjoyment attached to the living of a clean and upright life than there is connected with a life of looseness and impropriety. If that book is a true description of a typical leave, then I would advocate the abrogation of the leave idea entirely.

Camp Lejeune, being a large base adjacent to a small town, is not offered the diversity of quantity of liberty diversions which are available at some stations. However, this does not absolutely necessitate the making of a bee-line to a dive or den of debauchery. True enough, it seems that they are made the most available but the fellow who desires to keep his life clean and to live respectably may locate a number of local wholesome entertainment resources. Seek them out and come back from leave or liberty having participated in "recreational" rather than in "wreck-creational" activities.

The proprietor of a prosperous hock shop made a custom of giving his son a cash gift on festive occasions. When the youngster served his eighth birthday, he ceremoniously handed a new $1 dollar bill.

He promptly disappeared, spent the afternoon going from store to another and having money changed, first into silver then back into a fiver, and so. News of his activities drifted to his father, and that evening demanded an explanation.

"It's like this pop," the lad plained patiently. "Sooner or later somebody is going to make a mistake, and it ain't going to be me."

Remarque, the French author, was asked by a beautiful American girl why he didn't visit the U. S. He replied that he had visited visiting the country as a General. His vocabulary was limited to a few phrases: "How do you do; I love you; forgive me; forget me; and eggs, please."

The girl was astonished. "Well, you say you don't speak English. With a vocabulary like yours, I could take a trip clear across the United States!"

Non-Veterans May Now Be Enlisted Women Marines

WASHINGTON, D. C.—January — Enlistment for non-veteran men for service in the regular Marine Corps begins today.

With a planned enlisted strength of 839 women in regular service on July 1, 1950, the Marines already have selected more than 200 to transfer in the rank they formerly held in the women's Reserve.

Recruits enrolled in the program which opens today will be trained at Parris Island, South Carolina, of Marine Corps "boot camp" more than 30 years. Each recruit class will be limited to about 100 women. The first training period beginning March 1. Except for combat training subjects, instruction will closely follow the schedule already in effect for male Marines. Special indoctrination by women instructors will be given concerning woman's place in the military service, and regulations specially applying to Women Marines.

Women will visit and observe recruit training activities, and a part of their orientation will include Marine Corps history and traditions.

Male drill instructors will teach precision marching.

After six weeks of recruit training, some Women Marines will be assigned for further instruction in Personnel Administration School at Parris Island, while others will go direct to regular duty stations at Washington, D. C., San Francisco, California and to Reserve District Headquarters in other cities.

General requirements for enlistment in the Women Marines are: age of 20 to 31 years, high school graduation, unmarried, United States citizenship, and ability to meet physical standards prescribed by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department.

Additional information may be obtained from any Marine Corps Recruiting Office.

3,746 RC Chapters

There are 3,746 Red Cross Chapters with branches in the United States.

Amazing is the word with which many Marines characterized Prof. Daniel Schmidt's seventh appearance at Lejeune last week as the outstanding hypnotist both startled and amused audiences for seven performances. A master entertainer, the professor demonstrated the science of hypnotism with comical stunts as well as seemingly impossible feats such as the one pictured below. Through hypnotic suggestion, one Marine was made perfectly rigid and placed across two chairs where he is able to support the full weight of a man standing on the unsupported middle part of his body, a feat he probably could not perform otherwise. (Photo by Cpl. LaTerre, Camp Photo Lab.)

Sixth Efficiency Pennant

The 16th Marines mess hall, No. 411, last week became the first at Camp Lejeune to win the mess efficiency pennant for the sixth time. This was the second series of three awards and the special liberty period set forth in the program was provided the mess personnel. Col. R. H. Jeschke, Chief of Staff, MB, presented the pennant last Friday to MSgt. P. C. Smith, mess sergeant (below) at ceremonies attended by all available personnel of the 16th Marines. On Smith's right are the mess officer, Lt. W. O. Day, and Maj. D. C. Cooley, C. O. of the Light AAA Group. On his left is the Light AAA mess sergeant, MSgt. H. H. Holley. (Photo by Cpl. ## Gazette Will Pay $25 For Suitable Cover Photographs

Marine camera enthusiasts now have a chance to make their hobby pay off according to the editors of the Marine Corps Gazette who have announced that they will pay $25 for photographs suitable for use on the magazine's cover.

Photographs, the editors say, should be timely and should have an obvious Marine slant. They should be so composed that the regular placement of the Gazette banner, or title box, (Marine Corps Gazette), will not cover up important details. The Gazette prefers 8 by 10 glossy prints, clear and unscratched, but will consider any size photo. The negative should accompany. See PHOTOS On Page 8

Among food supplies sent abroad by and through the American Red Cross during its foreign war relief operations were 382,000 pounds of condensed milk, 37,378,755 of evaporated, 78,590 of malted, 448,000 of skimmed and 4,352,749 of whole powdered. Total value of the milk was $3,833,893.42.

Officers' Wives Club Project Is Now Functioning

Some weeks ago the Officers' Wives Club of Camp Lejeune sponsored a project for the establishment of a Day Nursery School for the convenience of all service personnel with children between the ages of two and one-half to five years old, and a Night Nursery where parents can leave their children when they go out for dinner or an evening's entertainment.

Mrs. R. H. Jeschke, chairman of the committee appointed to establish the school, and her energetic committee members, Ivey, Mrs. W. J. Sullivan and Mrs. Ivey, Mrs. W. J. Sullivan and Mrs. R. K. Miller, found a suitable location for the school, obtained permission to use the building and to establish the school and nursery. They then proceeded to purchase the supplies needed for the children's instruction.

The Nursery opened on Christmas Eve with Mrs. J. H. Kester in charge, and proved very popular during the holidays. The School opened on January 3rd with six pupils present and since that time two more children have enrolled. Mrs. R. K. Miller is in charge of instruction. The children are taught creative art, modeling, how to manipulate things and to explore, cutting, painting, drawing, and in general self-development and expression.

The Officers' Wives Club set aside $75.00 from their funds to be used when needed by the Day Nursery School to purchase supplies and equipment for the tots.

Mrs. Franklin A. Hart, President of the Club, urges all parents who are interested in enrolling their children, to visit the Nursery School and observe the instruction being given the children.

The purpose of the Club is to foster and promote acquaintance, cooperation, and to provide a source of social and cultural stimulation in matters of common interests.

All officers' wives who are not now members are urged to join and take part in the many activities sponsored by the Officers' Club of Camp Lejeune.

Lack Of Linguists In Service Noted; Courses Available

In the early stages of the last war our top commanders were dissatisfied with the organization and functioning of the intelligence section of military staffs, General Eisenhower disclosed in his book, Crusade in Europe.

The lack of trained linguists in the Armed Forces, a contributing factor to this undesirable situation, hampered the accumulation and evaluation of enemy intelligence and was the cause of considerable difficulty in maintaining close liaison among the allies.

Quantico Edges Locals 1 Point In Cage Thriller

Campbell College Upsets Marines With 40-36 Win

By PFC. DAVE SHARPE

The cagers of Camp Lejeune never got started at Campbell Junior College last Saturday night, and, without the services of coach Major Anthony Caputo, went down to defeat at the collegians' hands, 40-36.

The Leathernecks, who were averaging almost 70 points per contest until last night's loss, hit for only 14 tallies in the first half, and managed only eight better in the second stanza. The Campbellites, who had suffered at the hands of Camp Lejeune earlier in the season, were a determined crew, and, with a minute and a half to go, Billy Mason sank a hook shot to put them in front to stay.

The scoring was as follows:

Camp Lejeune: Forwards—Bishop 11, Kubiskey, 6, Nofsinger, Shimbunas; Centers—Westphal 10, Coyle; Guards—Anderson 6, Kobza, Halloran 3.

Campbell: Forwards—Mason 16, Drake 4; Guards—Cook, George, Graybill 16, Deal; Centers—Thompson 2, Corbitt 2.

The resolution of the Continental Congress in 1775, which authorized the original two battalions of Marines, further specified that the personnel selected be "good seamen or so acquainted with maritime affairs as to be able to serve to advantage at sea."

Locals Enter Charleston 'Gloves'; Winners To Be Crowned Saturday

Returning from Concord, N. C., with only enough time for a brief rest and a stiff workout Monday, Camp Lejeune's active boxing squad upped anchor for South Carolina Tuesday morning to enter the all-important Charleston Golden Gloves.

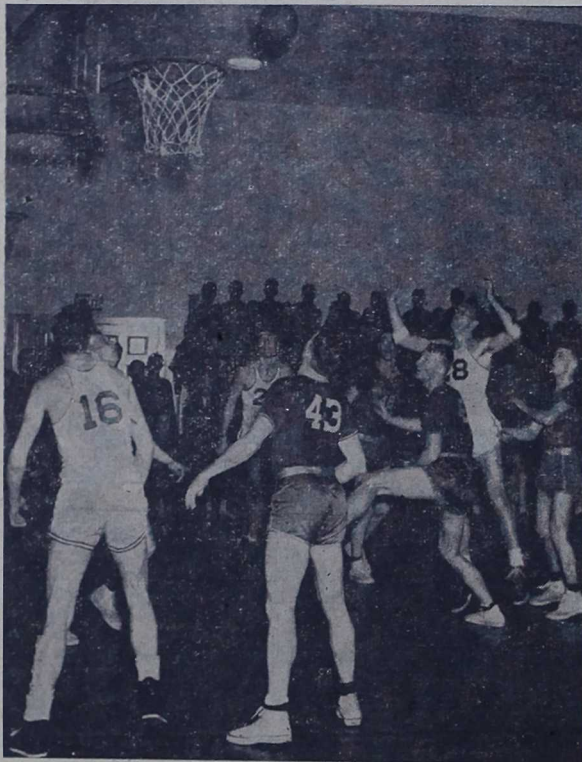

The four-day tournament opened with much fanfare last night and will extend to Saturday night when the winners of one of the three most significant Carolina Gloves matches will be crowned.

At this writing it was expected that Lt. James Cockrum, winner of the most popular coach award at Concord, would take a new heavyweight discovery to Charleston. The Camp team has been weak in the lightweight and heavyweight divisions since forming. The new find, by no means a neophyte in boxing, will be expected to balance out the club if he makes the Charleston grade.

In Red Davis, Mario Pinelli, Lee Damon and Pete Schiro, Camp Lejeune has at the "Old City" Gloves a golden quartet of the strongest amateur contenders in North and South Carolina prize fighting.

SAN DIEGO (AFPS)—How to lose weight and forget the temptation of eating and drinking: A power company employee rescued a young tom cat, thin but otherwise all right, after 20 days and nights in a 90-foot tree without food or water.

Tension gripped the crowd and players many times Monday night as Lejeune battled hard to overcome the Quantico quintet in Gym 201, only to lose by a single point. In the picture below, Howie Westphal sends one in the right direction that didn't quite sink through the mesh as Whiz Bishop, No. 16, leading Lejeune scorer with 23 points, moves in for recovery. Cy Waldrop, Quantico's ace center, covers Westphal. No. 43 is Patrick. The thriller was broadcast over station WJNC with play-by-play handled by Woody Simpson. (Photo by Pfc. ## Hard-Fighting Lejeune Five Pushes Crack Quantico Squad All The Way

By PFC DAVE SHARPE

The fabulous five of Quantico emerged from their contest with the Camp Lejeune Marines Monday on the long side of a 67-66 score, but they were forced to fight a team that refused to lay down, a team that fought back to come from behind time after time as the game progressed, only to finally succumb to a one-point loss.

Changes In Varsity Basketball Schedule Announced This Week

The Camp Athletic office this week announced several changes in the varsity basketball schedule and gave notification of a pending change not completed at press time.

The game scheduled with Greenville AFB for January 28th has been cancelled. This was to have been a home game.

Because word was just received that the district eliminations will commence on 13 February, playing dates for three games had to be changed.

The game with 82d Airborne scheduled to be played at Ft. Bragg on 14 February will be staged there on 27 January instead.

Lejeune was to meet MCAS, Cherry Point on their court on 19 February but this date has also been changed and the game will be played at the Flyers' base on 8 February.

One home game will have to be moved, NAS here on 16 February. This change has not been effected as yet, however.

The return game with Quantico on their own court was to have been played on 25 February but this tilt has been moved up to 5 February.

Wilfred Hetzel To Demonstrate Feats Jan. 29th

Famed basketball trick shot artist Wilfred Hetzel will present a 30 minute demonstration of his unusual ability as a preliminary to the varsity basketball game on 29 January with Wilmington Junior College. The exhibition and game will be staged in Gym 201 with game time set for 2000.

Hetzel is well-known for his amazing feats on the court and promises a highly entertaining pre-game show for Lejeune hoop fans. The program has been arranged through the efforts of Camp Special Services.

Wilfred Hetzel attended high school at Melrose, Minn., a small town of some 2,000 inhabitants but he never made a letter in high school and never even got into any games. He didn't start doing trick shots of any kind until 1934, five years after he was out of high school and then he did so only because the fans had been suggesting that he was too expert on foul shots and that it was monotonous to see him score 40 or 50 consecutive foul tosses repeatedly.

ComSerGrp Officers' Bowling Team Gets 1st Place Awards

Members of the Second Combat Service Group Officers' Bowling Team received cash awards recently for taking first place in the Officers' 1948 Bowling Tourney. Col. John F. Hough, Commanding Officer of the Second Combat Service Group, presented the awards along with his congratulations for "bringing home the bacon."

A total of 90 dollars was awarded the team, each officer receiving a sum proportional to the number of games in which he participated.

An additional cash prize of 36 dollars was awarded W. O. Victor T. Garrison for high individual game. He topped the list with a 247 game.

Cash awards were distributed among the members of the championship team as follows:

|                              |    |         |
|------------------------------|----|---------|
| W.O. Victor T. Garrison      | 45 | $18.50 |
| Maj. Richard H. Schutt       | 43 | $17.20 |
| Lt. Col. Henry S. Maasie     | 39 | $15.50 |
| 2nd Lt. L. E. Welkekamp      | 33 | $13.20 |
| W.O. William R. Vingling     | 28 | $11.20 |
| 1st Lt. Robert E. Follendorf | 25 | $10.00 |
| 2nd Lt. Jack A. Cohoon       | 12 | $ 4.80 |

During the tournament each bowler paid an additional 10 cents per game which made up the fund for awards.

"Yes, this is a nice apartment, but where is the bath?"

"Oh, I thought you were one of those college boys who want a place just for the winter."

High School Cagers Down Quantico High By Neat 46-21 Score

The Camp Lejeune High School cagers defeated Quantico High School 46-21 Saturday night in Gym 201. This was the boys' team's tenth straight win for the season and Quantico's first defeat in thirty-one games.

The Lejeuners played a tight defense but their shooting was off compared to previous games. Blake was high point man for Lejeune with 20 points, and Propst was second with 12 points. Zavish led the scoring for the Quantico School with 7 points, and Sprague was second with 6.

The next game for the local high school will be Friday when they travel to Swansboro to tackle the Swansboro cagers on their court.

LOS ANGELES (AFPS)—Irma Bowles left her automobile at a garage for repair, returned, tried the starter, but nothing happened. A mechanic had no better luck and finally lifted the hood. Someone had stolen the engine.

Quantico

to cut the Quantico lead to 49-43 with two minutes left in the third quarter. Tuohy scored via a charity toss. Whitlow shot two more, and made one to make it 51-45, but Nofsinger continued his one-man war and sank a one-hander from the keyhole: Bishop scored on a follow-up to whittle the lead to two points, and Quantico called time. Whitlow got another free throw, and made it to raise the score to 52-49. Nofsinger got another point on a free toss, however, and Anderson tied it up seconds later with a set shot as the third quarter ended.

The score was locked time and again as the final quarter dwindled away, with Lejeune tying it up at 53-53, 59-59, and 61-all, in the next five minutes. Quantico edged to a 63-61 lead on Waldrop's shot, but Bishop got a free toss to make it 63-62. Priesen scored on a lay-up to send the visitors three points to the front, 65-62 with three minutes to go in the game, but Bishop came right back with two points. But with two and a half minutes left, Bishop got foul number five and came off the floor, through for the night. The Quantico Marines made two of three foul shots to send them in front, 67-64, with less than two minutes left, but Ralph Nofsinger came back with another bucket to make it 67-66 with 50 seconds to go. Quantico took over and froze the ball for the rest of the contest.
Lejeune worked their way to jump balls twice in the last minute but failed on both attempts to grab the ball and work it down.

Lejeune Boxing Team Wins Ten Individual Awards, Team Trophy In Near 'Clean Sweep'

By SGT. WAYNE RUSH

In the first stint of a road tour leading to the 17th annual Carolinas Golden Gloves tournament February 17, 18, 19, and 21, Camp Lejeune's boxing team forced a sudden rise in prestige last week among service and civic circles by making all but a clean sweep of the Cabarrus County Golden Gloves.

Staged in the textile mill town-of Concord, N. C., the Cabarrus tourney was paced by the Marines from beginning to end. At a definite advantage with its large entry and noticeably better coaching, Camp Lejeune won the open class team trophy, four titles and three runner-ups out of the seven final bouts and three of four miscellaneous individual trophies.

Lt. James Cockrum, who was unanimously voted the tournament's most popular coach, entered 13 fighters in the prelims and quarter-finals Thursday. Because this number was double each of the six other entries, the Marines were split into four-man
"A" and "B" teams with the remaining five entered as unattached. This brought about a number of bouts in which Lejeuners fought one another during the elimination process.

The "A" team was responsible for garnering the 33 points which gave Camp Lejeune the huge, two-figure team trophy soon to be placed on display. Red Davis, who went into the finals on a bye and a forfeit;
Lee Damon, Mario Pinelli and Bucky McHugh carried the weight in annexing the trophy by winning out in the finals.

Before Saturday's bouts got under way a new AAU ruling came down from New York headquarters to affect the AAU-sanctioned Concord contests. The Athletic Union rule declares that a fighter who is knocked down must remain down until the count of eight before rising to resume the bout.

By far the tournament thriller and recipient of three trophies was featherweight Pete Schiro. With only one fight behind him. Schiro scored the quickest KO (1:58 of the first round) of the tourney in the quarterfinals and came back the next night to register another KO with his sleep-rendering left jabs for the Most Knockouts award.

Red Davis was on the receiving end of some unexpected punishment before adding another title to his illustrious record. The spindly flyweight met Billy Short of the Charlotte YMCA in the closest battle of the final rounds and didn't look like the winner until midway in the third round.

Lee Damon drew a considerable amount of praise from many of the 1800 fans who witnessed the three-day jousts. By taking all three of his fights with typical Damon coolness, the full blood Navaho pushed his fight record to 125 won, six lost.

the ideals of America with the people of other countries.

The completion of a language course is entered in a Marine's service record book and is often a controlling factor in promotion, assignment to intelligence sections, and transfer to embassy duty.

ENJOY LEARNING

The Marine Corps Institute is offering for the benefit of Marines interested in learning a language, courses in Spanish and French. Both languages are offered on either a high school or college level. A course in Military French is also available for students requiring a professional knowledge of the subject for use in the military services.

These courses are designed to do more than teach the language. They give the student an insight into cultural background of the countries where these languages are spoken. Abundant material is included on geography, history, industry, art and sciences.

The student will enjoy reading the stories in the text whose color, humor and liveliness will spur him to advance rapidly and enlarge his language vocabulary.

Adolph Swinson won the merchandise certificate.

Trick Shot

Hetzel never saw a basketball until he was in the 6th grade. He was slower on his feet than the average boy and for a reason thought that he lacked speed to become a good player. He also had difficulty in mastering the over-handed style shooting. As a sophomore he lost 2 uniforms stolen from his locker which forced him to discontinue practice for the remainder of the season.

As a junior he wrote up games for the school paper used to practice several hundred shots each night. Once criticized the team for making 40 per cent of their free throw games. He figured they ought make at least 50 per cent. On the players took exception to criticism and challenged Hetzel to better himself. Hetzel accepted the challenge and scored 75 goals out of 100 and from that time on he kept on practicing as sought to emulate the free throw prowess of an outstanding player at a nearby school who several times had scored 99 out of 100 foul

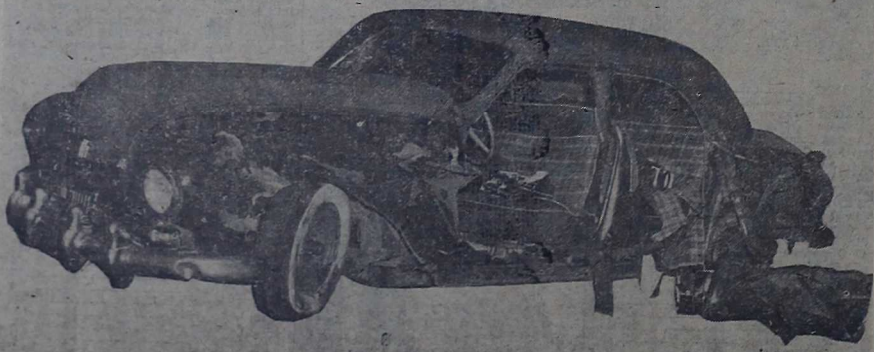

When Hetzel was only 12 years old he started shooting baskets home by nailing a pail or ho against a shed or garage at tossing all sorts of balls at the goals, such as footballs, rubber balls, tennis balls, soccer balls, kittenballs, volleyballs, and basketballs. He did this in all seasons winter or summer, in rain, snow, windy and zero weather. Day after day and hour after hour he practiced by himself usually alone. To make it interesting for himself he played imaginary games wherein he played all the shooting for all the players on both sides. He learned figure the wind. He learned time the spin of a football exactly that he could make the ball drop through the hoop repeatedly with the nose being pointed downward at the time for often the goal was so narrow in diameter that the ball would not go through any other way.

In the spring of 1930 Hetzel sought to enter the national freethrow tournaments then sponsored by the YMCA, but they were discontinued that same year. In November of that year he scored 100 out of 100 in a gym all by himself but few people would believe he had accomplished the feat because he had not made the team while in school. Not caring to be doubted, Hetzel decided that the only way to prove his ability was to demonstrate his accuracy before the public at basketball games, which he did. Soon his skill began attracting wide-spread attention in Minnesota.

From 1934 on Hetzel kept adding new variations of trick shots to his repertory each season until it grew as high as 90 at one time.

His eyesight is 20 per cent below normal and has been ever since his junior year in high school. He based his success on the 3 C's: confidence, co-ordination and concentration.

His latest world's record was set last March 19 at Pompton Lakes, N. J., high school before 800 students when he scored 35 bounce-bank goals in a row from the left side. This record was featured in Ripley's cartoon last June 23. One of Hetzel's greatest feats was performed on 29 February 1944 at Davis, Okla., high school when he scored one-handed forward pass goals from 40, 60, and 70 feet, each one on the first attempt.

PX Personality

Mrs. Lillian L. Garner, a military dependent, pictured above, is the Special Order Clerk responsible in no small manner for the outstanding improvement of this department in the past several months.

Mrs. Garner came to the Exchange well equipped with experience gained from her former position as Civilian Manager of the Ship's Service Store, Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, California and as Personnel Supervisor at the Naval Dry Dock, Terminal Docks, San Francisco.

The Camp Exchange wishes to remind all that the Special Order department is operated as a service to personnel. There are still many hardships encountered in the effort to obtain certain articles of merchandise and unusual delays in obtaining these items are not the lone fault of this department.

This department will endeavor to secure for the customer any merchandise not listed as a restricted item by Letter of Instruction and not carried as a stock item in the Exchange.

Special Order merchandise not claimed within 30 days after notice of arrival will be disposed of by the Camp Exchange. No refund will be made unless merchandise is disposed of by resale, and in the event of loss to the Exchange (by reason of non-salability of article and necessary price reduction), such amount will be deducted from the customer's deposit.

The postwar merchandising problems, in many cases, are still many and varied, but the general rule to be applied here is "If you don't see it at Central—see Mrs. Garner."

"Crop failures?" asked the old timer. "Yes, I've seen a few in my day. Back in 1898 the corn crop was almost nothing. Mother cooked some for dinner, and my father ate 14 acres at one sitting."

WJ NC

By GORT WILBUR

Readjustments of its programming schedules for today have been completed by WJNC and Mutual to provide times for its extraordinary radio coverage of the inauguration ceremonies for President Harry S. Truman and Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

Mutual has scheduled five coast-to-coast broadcast periods for the inaugural ceremonies and their attendant official parade and celebration ball today. A. A. Schechter, MBS vice president in charge of News and Special Events, has announced that the network, of which WJNC is a part, will go on the air at 11:45 a. m. from Washington with a five-minute rapid-fire description of the capital on Inauguration Day and to report the scheduled arrival of the President at the Capitol. At 11:50 a. m., Mutual's microphones inside the Senate wing will air the ceremonies for Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

Mr. Truman will be sworn in as the 33rd President of the United States at 12 noon by the Chief Justice, Fred M. Vinson, with the ceremony taking place at the special stands constructed on the steps of the Capitol. And immediately following the ceremony Mr. Truman will deliver his inaugural address, which is expected to conclude at approximately 12:30.

Child Care

Eight Camp Lejeune Girl Scouts of Troop 33 recently earned their Child Care merit badges by receiving "on-the-job" training under the supervision of Mrs. Peschia at the Midway Park Nursery. The girls enjoyed being useful and gained a great deal of practical experience which they could not have obtained by just watching. Mrs. Peschia, in her report to the troop leader, Mrs. A. D. Walsh, stated that some of the girls were outstanding and could be depended upon in case the nursery needed assistance. that we will be ready should infantile paralysis strike nearby this year.

In North Carolina alone last year, approximately $1,000,000 was advanced from national headquarters after the reserves of local chapters had run dry.

Every community in the nation had a stake in the March of Dimes funds that were sent to North Carolina and other hard-hit states, since it was the 50 percent which is sent to headquarters that made this aid available.

The record of the National Foundation and its chapters in combating the epidemic is one of which all March of Dimes contributors could be proud. These funds provided 1,500 nurses, several hundred physical therapists, and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of vital equipment such as iron lungs and hot pack machines.

Where hospital facilities were lacking in North Carolina and Texas, March of Dimes funds were used to convert army buildings into hospital units and to equip and staff them completely. Then too the National Foundation rushed medical specialists to areas in need of professional help.

It was a job that had to be done but the doing has taxed the National Foundation's ability to keep its medical care and research programs in proper balance. Neither field can be neglected if the disease is ever to be conquered. It is up to every resident of this country to make sure that this wonderful work continues unabated by joining the March of Dimes.

P-TA Notes

Our Parent-Teachers Association announces the opening of the "Opportunity Shop" at Midway Park on February 2nd. The shop will be open for receiving goods from 1300 to 1700. That evening it will be open from 1800 to 2100. It will be open for business on every Wednesday afternoon and on the first Wednesday evening of each month. It will be held in the green building, Number 4013, behind the Midway Park School.

The following comprise the "Opportunity Shop Committee": Mrs. G. S. Robinson, Chairman; Mr. S. Rever, Assistant Chairman; Capt. R. E. Hagerdon, Treasurer; Mr. Fred Lewis, Assistant Treasurer; Mrs. M. Raney, Cashier; Mrs. R. T. Kirk, Manager; Miss E. Cullom, Publicity Manager; Mrs. J. C. Murray, Chairman of Committee responsible for enlisting volunteers; and Mrs. J. E. Herndon and Mrs. T. W. Huston, co-workers on Mrs. Murray's committee.

All items of merchandise will be handled on a consignment basis or a donation. Profits are based on consignment items at 15 per cent of the selling price with a five cent minimum and a five dollar maximum commission per item.

Let's have a flourishing "Opportunity Shop" at Camp Lejeune!

The next regular meeting of the P-T. A. will be Monday evening, February 7th, at 8:00 p. m. in the Camp School auditorium.

Matinee

The matinee at the Camp Theater Saturday will be Robin Hood of Texas with Gene Autry, Brick Bradford No. 8, and Little Tinker.

All-Marine Grid Team Selections In Leatherneck

Leatherneck's second All-Marine Football Team selections will appear in the February issue of the magazine, it was announced this week.

Sports Editor Sgt. Spencer D. Gartz and Leatherneck's West Coast correspondent, Sgt. Lindley S. Allen, made the selections again this year after observing all seven teams in action.

Only five teams placed men on the first eleven. Sergeant Gartz explained that the high calibre of the players required that only players who participated throughout the entire season could be considered.

"Allen and I picked what we believe were the best twenty-two men in Marine football without regard to the team from which they came," Gartz said.

"One team failed to place a man on either eleven, and we are sorry that this is the case. But it's our honest opinion that we picked the outstanding men."

Appropriate engraved trophies are being forwarded to Commanding Generals of the men selected and will be presented at their individual bases.

cises. The amphibious assault on the Island of Vieques will be directed by a joint Expeditionary Force, commanded by Rear Admiral J. D. Wright, USN.

Lt. Gen. Rockey will be in Command of the joint Marine and Army Expeditionary Troops which will assault the island. Brigadier General Vernon E. Megee, USMC, Chief of Staff, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, will serve as Chief of Staff for the Marine and Army Expeditionary Forces. As announced by this Headquarters, these exercises have been undertaken in order to advance and insure combat readiness, provide amphibious training for Army and Marine Units, and anti-submarine training for naval units.

Marine Forces participating will be comprised of the following units; 2d Marine Division with units of the Army will comprise the Landing Force, which will be under the Command of Major General Franklin A. Hart; Second Marine Aircraft Wing, under the command of Major General Field Harris, USMC; Expeditionary Troops Airborne Reserve, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel F. W. Benson, USMC; and Troop Training Unit, Atlantic, under the command of Brigadier General W. A. Worton, USMC. Various units of the Second Marine Air Wing will figure in the airlift of the Airborne Reserve, while other groups of the Air-Wing will be carrier based. These exercises will serve in their own way to prove the effectiveness of close air support to assaulting ground forces.

The Island of Vieques will be defended by a "maneuver enemy force" which is thought to be the most elaborate ever planned. This "enemy" maneuver force will be comprised of submarines under the command of Rear Admiral James Fife, Jr., USN.; and several hundred ground troops made up of Army personnel of the Caribbean Army Command, and Marines from Troop Training Unit. Maneuver enemy forces ashore on Vieques will be commanded by Brigadier General W. A. Worton, USMC, who has been designated Umpire Director. Prior to the actual assault landings on the Island of Vieques it will receive the usual "softening-

El Toro Flyers Win District Athletic Excellency Trophy

WASHINGTON, D. C., (January 14).—Perhaps the closest race for honors in the annals of Navy and Marine Corps sports rivalry was decided last week when El Toro was awarded the Eleventh Naval District Athletic Excellency Trophy for the year 1948.

The Marines edged out the Naval Training Center, San Diego, by a bare seven-thirtieths of a point in the final tally which gave El Toro 437 and a half points to the Sailors' 437 and four-fifteenths total.

Marines at the El Toro Air Station demonstrated all-around athletic ability in winning the coveted trophy. They won '48 team championships in wrestling, golf, swimming, and touch football; engaged in championship playoffs in basketball, baseball and softball; and participated in every event on the athletic calendar.

The Naval Training Center's well-sustained effort was topped by a rugged boxing stable that won four titles and the team cup.

Ancient Sport

Since 2000 B.C., oriental wrestling has been practiced and modified until present-day Judo system was evolved, according to Lt. Draeger's latest art on this ancient sport. In the picture below, TSgt. C. J. McNees takes a tumble as Lt. Donn Draeger demonstrates the Tomenage or "whirling turnover throw." This is but one of the many throws which utilize the assailant's own momentum to cause his downfall. (Photo by Pachucki, 2d Division Photo Sect.)

Historical Background Of Oriental Wrestling Traced Back To 2000 B.

By LT. DONN DRAEGER

Contrary to popular belief, the fundamental oriental wrestling science now termed Judo, is not of Japanese origin.

Its exact origin is unknown, but it has been traced back to 2000 B.C. at which time it is believed that ancient Tibetan priests devised a system of self-defense to protect themselves from attacks by bandits along the routes to Lamaseries. Some authorities claim that the Hindus originated defensive systems and passed them on to the Tibetans, but there is no evidence to that effect.

The Chinese are credited with adopting and developing this self-defense system as a national sport. Gradually its methods and teachings reached all over China. It is claimed that travelers like Marco Polo took several such defense tricks back to Europe where the war-like Teutonic tribes used them in their battles with other tribes.

During a Japanese invasion of China, the Japanese discovered that many of the Chinese soldiers were superior to them in hand-to-hand combat and used a series of tricks to defeat them. The Japanese were quick to realize that this system of self-defense could be used to advantage by them to offset their small stature and inferior physical build. With this in mind, the Japanese took the Chinese wrestling tricks back to their homeland.

In typical Japanese fashion, the system was given an artificial mythological background and traced back to the gods, Kashima and Kadori, who, it is said, availed themselves of the art for the purpose of chastising the lawless inhabitants of the eastern provinces. The Samurai warriors took up the system and developed and perfected several new systems of self-defense and attack. The Samurai tried to cover this system of wrestling with a hood of mystery and secrecy. However, Japan's warlike nature soon forced the every-day soldier to become introduced to its methods. Gradually the self-defense system became a national system of physical culture.

Various names were given this defense and attack system, among which are: Kempo, Yawara, Kugusoku, Kumiuchi, Taijutsu, and Jujutsu. Jujutsu is from the two Japanese ideographs "Ju" meaning "to obey, soft, pliable, or gentle manner" and "Jutsu" meaning "art or science." Jujutsu can then be understood to mean "Gentle or Yielding Art." Along with Jujutsu, a science of sword and bayonet fighting was developed and was called Kendo.

Up until the 14th century, no special school had been developed to teach Jujutsu. Later, however, various elaborations of Jujutsu were introduced by sects or schools. No cooperation or harmony of teaching existed between these schools and thus several systems of oriental wrestling developed.

Early in 1600, a Nagasaki physician, Shirobei Yoshitoki, developed about 100 tricks of Jujutsu and founded a school called Yoshin-Ryu, the name meaning "Willow Heart" school. It is said that Yoshitoki derived this name one day while observing how Willow tree branches did not retain snow even after a heavy snowfall and that, thanks to their suppleness, they gave way to the heavy snow, casting off the heavy load as fast as it accumulated. The sturdier branches, not yielding to the weight of the snow, were broken. Then here was a fundamental principle of Jujutsu, yielding to an assailant's force and momentum with suppleness, and utilizing such momentum and force to defeat the assailant.

During the next 200 years, various exponents of Jujutsu started schools and established systems of wrestling. Each school was fundamentally the same, but each had its own peculiarities of attack and defense. The military aristocracy of Japan required all of its armies and law enforcement officers to attend these schools in order to develop a state of physical and mental discipline in the individual man.

The first integration of Judo systems was started by Dr. J. Kano in 1878. Dr. Kano made complete and exhaustive studies of the better-known Jujutsu systems, selected the best each system had to offer, rejected all superfluous material, and finally elaborated his own eclectic system styled "Judo." The term Judo was meant to convey an ethical side of wrestling as well as emphasize physical training, mental development which was lacking in Jujutsu. Judo stems from the two Japanese ideographs "Ju" meaning "way or path". Judo can then be understood to mean, "Gentle or Way."

In 1882, Dr. Kano established a college of Judo in Tokyo called Kodokwan. The Kodokwan meaning "a school for studying the way," is the outstanding school of Judo and is the most universally recognized authority on Judo. This school still stands today and it has active branches throughout the world. The famous school of Judo in Europe is the Budokwai in London, England.

Judo was introduced to the United States early in the 1900s by several Japanese exponents of the art. Clubs and schools sprang up, particularly on the West Coast. The majority of these schools were branches of the Kodokwan and their instructors were accredited instructors from the Kodokwan. At the present time there are over twenty schools of Judo in the United States, not to mention the many Judo clubs with qualified American instructors.

American ideas are being injected in all U. S. Judo clubs and the actual Japanese terminology and phrasing is found only in the Oriental Judo schools. One of this Japanese language is required by Kodokwan and the student must know the human anatomy as well as the tricks by their Japanese names.
