First Football Game Of '48 Season Saturday

Campbell College Invades Hadnot Pt. For First Grid Tilt; Game Time 1600

The official Camp Lejeune football season gets off to a flying start Saturday at 1600 on the Hadnot Point gridiron behind the Protestant Chapel when the Marines test their prowess against Campbell College, one of the better junior colleges of this section of the south. The Commanding General, Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, will witness the game.

A capacity crowd is expected to fill the stands to catch the first glimpse of the local gridirers in action this year.

Football Programs

Football programs will be sold at the Camp Lejeune-Campbell College game Saturday and at all other varsity football games played here this season.

Proceeds from the sale of these programs will be donated to the Family Hospital Fund. The fund will be used to furnish such items to needy dependents as are not supplied by the Navy Department. This will be a general fund for use in all types of cases but the purchase of special supplies for new-born infants will be the principal application. Such items as diapers, nursing bottles, and special foods come in this category.

The programs will be sold by representatives from Paradise Point, Midway Park, and Pine Grove Trailer Park on a voluntary basis.

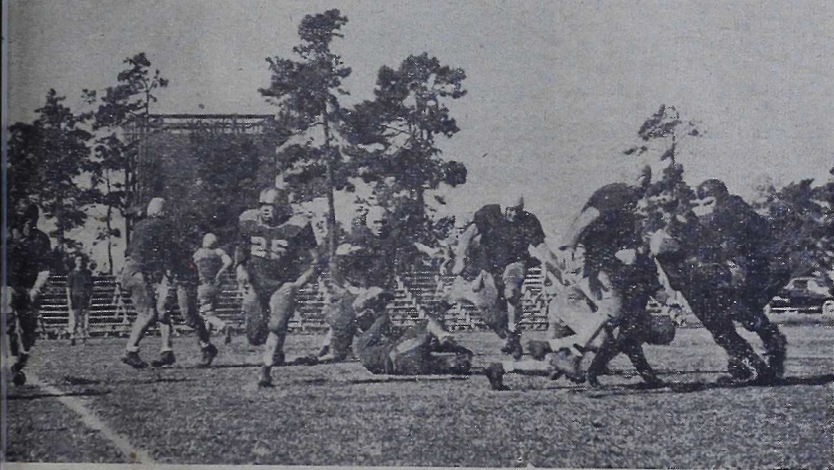

Get in on the special bus transportation to Quantico October 2 for the Camp Lejeune-Quantico grid classic.

The neophyte but promising Lejeune grid squad has been rounding vigorously into shape for the past month with great progress being made under the expert tutelage of the head coach, Major J. C. Missar, and his assistants. The locals are fresh from a closed scrimmage with William and Mary College Tuesday and are reported to be really "rarin' to go."

The game will have all of the atmosphere traditional at football games with the 2d Division band under the direction of Lt. E. G. Rupe furnishing musical inspiration during the breaks, programs for those who like to be in on the know, and cheer leaders, it is expected, to put some pep and organization behind the team.

Because of the late starting time of the game, the evening meal at Hadnot Point messes will be served at 1845 instead of 1700.

The Lejeuners are strong on the offensive and have vastly improved their defense during the See LEJEUNE SQUAD On Page 4

Embraces Many Points

Leadership

What are the sixteen points of leadership? An enumeration of the best attributes in character and personality of all the great leaders would include—simplicity—earnestness—self-control—assiduity—common sense—judgment—justice—enthusiasm—perseverance—tact—courage—faith—loyalty—acumen—truthfulness—and honor. The extent to which they are ingredients in the character and personality of a man actually determine his value as a leader. The importance of an understanding and an appreciation of them, as well as a knowledge of the lives of the men in which they have stood out by all men who aspire to become good leaders cannot be over-emphasized.

Leadership is that quality, inherent or acquired, in a person which enables him to achieve accomplishment from his subordinates by virtue of their willingness rather than by force. Certain principles and examples of leadership can be laid down to us, but if we ever hope to acquire this quality, it must be done from within, using these principles as the groundwork.

All organization is based on leadership. Without leadership in the organization of any business concern, the concern would surely collapse. The quality of the leadership in business determines the success and growth of that business. If this quality of leadership is necessary in business, isn't it much more necessary in the organization of any fighting force, wherein men are placed in a position of life and death?

The spirit and training of Marines has always been and always will be the important factor in winning battles. Success in cultivating and maintaining this spirit depends to a considerable degree on the quality of leadership. The Marine Corps is as good as the men in it and no better.

To sum it all up, there is no royal road to leadership, for it demands not only superior ability, but hard work, sincere living, a thorough knowledge of the men under you, and a high regard for justice and individuality.

To paraphrase Kipling:

It ain't the guns, and armor plate,
Nor the coin that they can pay,
But the close cooperation
That makes 'em win the day.

It ain't the individual,
Nor the Marines as a whole,
But the everlastin' TEAMWORK
Of every gosh darned soul!

One World—One God

Mankind as a whole has always craved for a universal state and still does. The great conquerors whirled like hurricanes over the face of the earth striving to subdue its people, and they were but a distorted expression of this same craving.

Men of conquest "sowed a wind" and our generation has "reaped a whirlwind." The world today is fretted, divided, and torn, and mankind is faced with the task of uniting the many parts into a harmonious whole, of uniting mankind into a world brotherhood.

The critical problem of our age is to find the means whereby this can be achieved. Thomas Masaryk, the founder of the Czech Democracy, once made this statement: "If people could understand each other we should have had democracy at one stroke; without mutual understanding, without tolerance, there is no freedom. . . . Love is the great moral strength, the source of all reciprocity, sympathy, help, and collaboration; a moral life is an active cooperation in God's order of the world. Love, fellow-feeling, united effort; that is the law of life, whether it be for two people, a family, a nation, a state, or a race. I know no other law."

The only foundation on which man can build a "One World" society is God Almighty, the Heavenly Father and Creator of all mankind. He is the only firm foundation, for it is in Him that "we live, and move, and have our being." He is the source of our dream for a unified world, and He is the means of achieving that dream. He provides the dream, interprets the dream, and is the authority for building our dream into reality.

To have "One World," mankind must bow to the absolute and undeniable authority of "One God." Our God must be real, alive, and certain—a God of love, a God of forgiveness, for a vague and impersonal God is impotent in our crisis. There is only "One God" who holds the power of the mysteries of life and the key to the riddle of the world.

He is the God divinely revealed in Jesus Christ, our Heavenly Father and Creator. He alone is our basis for universal truth and our foundation for a free mankind, for He alone is Truth itself. Only His slave can be called free, and only when the world kneels before His throne will there be "Peace on earth, Good will toward men."

Portrait Presented

T/Sgt. Fred H. Butcher of the 1st AAA Battalion, and Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart admire a portrait of T/Sgt. Butcher painted by John C. DeGrasse, Staff Artist of Leatherneck Magazine. The portrait, which appeared on the cover of the September Leatherneck, was given to T/Sgt. Butcher by Gen. Hart on behalf of the Leatherneck staff who originated the idea for the painting after Second Division Marine won the 1948 MacDougal Trophy for best individual score in the annual Marine Corps Rifle Matches month. Looking on in the photo is Lt. Col. Wright C. Taylor, Commanding Officer of the 1st AAA Battalion. (Photo by Cpl. Pajkowski, PIO, 2nd Marine Division).

Marine Paddlers Dive Under Ice In Arctic

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AFPS)—The Halls of Montezuma to the Bering Sea, might well be selected as a theme song title for the Marine Corps underwater divers, recently returned from surface Alaskan maneuvers. During the war, these water swimmers penetrated ice and slush in the recent dog program. Operating from mines off Kodiak Island, the suited swimmers knifed through slush six inches deep and against four-inch ice to complete assignments. They were to remain in water estimated at degrees below freezing for more than an hour, resting after missions were completed.

The divers wore long woolen wear under their rubber and protected their faces with goggles. PADDLERS On Page 8

Air Force Marks 1st Anniversary As Separate Unit

(AFPS)—September 18, 1948, is Air Force Day. It marks an occasion of two-fold importance to the men in the Air Force, members of the other Services, and the civilian citizens of America. For it is the 41st birthday of the aeronautical branch of the military services, and also the first birthday of the Air Force as a separate and independent unit of the Armed Forces.

On August 1, 1907, the Aeronautical Division of the Army Signal Corps was established and charged with the responsibility for all matters pertaining to military ballooning, air machines, and kindred subjects.

On September 18, 1947, the Department of the Air Force was established, co-equal in status with the Department of the Army and the Department of the Navy as a distinct branch of the tripartite military organization of our country.

On its own, the Air Force has continued to maintain its place in the forefront of aviation. Plans for a seventy-group Air Force were approved and budgeted. An AF fighter and pilot cracked the supersonic barrier. The WAFs became a part of the Regular Air Force. Plans were laid for setting up of career fields for the Regular "Airman."

Navy-Marine Corps Medal Awarded Cpl. J. B. Falls For Heroic Conduct

"For heroic conduct while serving with the Marine Detachment on board the U.S.S. Midway, when a motor launch from that vessel was swamped," Corporal John B. Falls, "B" Company, 2d Marines, was awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Medal during ceremonies at Building 13 last Saturday morning.

Colonel Lee H. Brown, CO of H&S Battalion, Marine Barracks, made the presentation to Cpl. Falls who received his discharge the same date.

The citation follows:

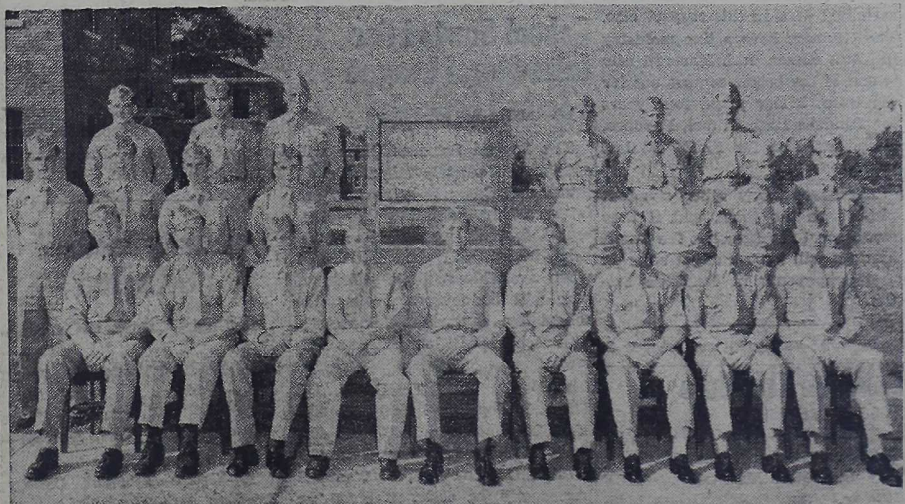

"For heroic conduct while serving with the Marine Detachment on board the U.S.S. Midway, when a motor launch from that vessel was swamped by heavy seas on the night of 16 February 1948. Remaining cool and courageous in the face of great danger after the swamping of the motor launch had caused the death of eight persons, Corporal Falls succeeded in keeping the survivors together in the bow of the nearly submerged boat, reassuring them that help was near and repeatedly diving into the water without a life jacket to bring back weakened men who were washed away by high seas. By his exceptional fortitude, inspiring leadership and concern for the welfare of others at the risk of his own life, Corporal Falls was instrumental in saving numerous lives, thereby upholding the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Intra-Mural Football Play Starts Sunday; 10th Marines Face Div H&S

The Tenth Marine Gunners will face the Division H&S Battalion eleven in the opening game of the 1948 intra-mural grid season on the Varsity Practice Field at 1530 Sunday afternoon.

The game will be the first test for both teams, and the Tenth Marines, by virtue of a heavier line and plentiful reserves, will go into the game slight favorites.

Using the single wing with a shift from the "T", Lt. Harris, coach of the artillerymen, expects to sweep the Division H&S Bn eleven off the field with a swift attack both in the air and on the ground.

Chaplain Sassaman, experienced coach of H&S Bn., is sticking to the short kick formation, and hopes that his lighter line will be able to open up quick holes for a sharp running attack.

The H&S Bn. "Deacons" will rely on Wilhelm, a shifty fullback, to do most of the ball carrying and kicking, and coach Sassaman hopes that all the Gunners will see as Wilhelm's flying feet if he can get past their forward wall. The main weakness in the H&S team lies in the line, where Berger and McCormick at the two tackles are the only strong spots. The Chaplain has yet to find a suitable center, and few reserves are on hand for any of the line positions.

Coach Harris of the Tenth is faced with a problem in deciding which of the three sets of linemen should be started, since they have all looked good in practice. The Gunners chief backfield threat is Evans, a speedy and hard running fullback, and with Ostergen calling signals and handling the ball they will be hard to stop.

Both teams have been hit hard by early season injuries and transfers, but the teams have at the same time an abundance of spirit which would be hard to equal any place.

Hot dogs and soft drinks will be sold at this and all intra-mural games following, and a section of the Division Band will be on hand to provide football music during half time and intermissions.

Swimmers!

1st Lt. Donn Draeger, coach of the Camp Lejeune swimming and diving team, has announced that he is anxious to augment the present team with new talent. Any men desiring to try out for the team are urged to report to Area 2 swimming pool at any time during the day, where members of the present team will be on hand to check qualifications of prospects.

10th Marine Gunners Will Look For First Win Of New Season

Coached by Lt. R. G. Harris, with Lt. Wm. Plaskett as assistant, the Gunners plan to use a single wing with a shift from the "T", similar to the Michigan formation. Though his team is plagued by injuries, Lt. Harris expects to show the H&S team some ground-gaining plays, and he has an aerial attack ready which should take his team a long way.

Out of a squad of forty men from the 10th and 16th Marines, a team has been developed which could be the strongest in the league. The line averages about 190, and the backfield is almost as heavy. One of the hardest working teams in the intra-mural league, they are responding rapidly to the coaching savvy of Lt. Harris, former Michigan player.

The backfield shapes up well, considering the general lack of experience, and fullback Jim Evans is a potential star with his hard-driving trickiness. From Wichita, Kansas, the 190 pound six footer has been a hard man to stop in recent scrimmages. Snappy quarterback on the team is George Ostergen, who calls signals with a precision seldom found so early in the season. Ostergen is playing for the first time at the "brain" spot—the New Jersey boy was a halfback in high school.

Don Winningham is an experienced blocking back, and if his form is as good in a game as in a scrimmage, the way will be clear for any teammate following behind. Jim Ramp, an end with little experience, has shown up as one of the most sticky-fingered men on the team, while his smart defensive play makes him a man to be reckoned with in this respect also. The Gunners have a line mainstay in Louis Rissar, 16th Marines, who is one of the better centers out for the team. Rissar played four years for Pandora High School, Pandora, Ohio, and also for FMF "B" last year.

There are many other standout players on the team, and if they can control the fumbles, the Tenth Marines will have a slight edge on their opponents in Sunday's battle.

Lt. McPherson Sails Home Winner In Town Class Race Sunday

A large field of sailboats entered the weekly regatta held last Sunday at the boathouse, and a stiff breeze added to the smooth sailing enjoyed by the skippers. Cpl. Berg again took the Lightning race, pursued by Major Houser, who came very close to the win spot. Major Houser was followed by WO Krohn, who apparently decided to get out of the Town class races before his arch-rival, Lt. McPherson, caught a good breeze and defeated him.

Pfc. Snyder and Sgt. Hoffman sailed a close race to determine the fourth place skipper in the Lightning event, with Snyder edging out his opponent in the final moments. Pfc. Rotta trailed the field.

The Town class race was highlighted by Lt. McPherson's win in the back stretch, where he built up a lead that was never seriously challenged. The Chaplain was followed by Pfc. Giacobi and Casteria, who made up the other two in the field of three.

past two weeks of practice season opener with Campbell College should prove to be a exciting game well-worth attending. Campbell is located near North Carolina and has been well-known in football circles, playing such teams as Carolina State JayVee, High College, and many other strong tough schools.

Last year the Orange and faced one of their toughest rules and came out on top. have virtually the same but this year; and, though several string linemen were lost to graduation, the new team is loaded with heavy and experienced newcomers.

Coached by Earl Smith, graduate of Eastern Carolina Teachers College, Campbell College will from the single wing or split probably favoring the single. Smith is assisted by H. Davis, well-known Wilmington coach.

Archie Brigman, 5'10" and 160 pounds, is the first string half. Archie is playing his season at Campbell, and the hardest blocker on the team running mate at left half. Nichols, big and fast, and his second year at Campbell.

The star of the team last year was triple-threatener Walt Deane, the hard driving fullback expected to show up even better year. Deal is 6'2" and weighs 180 pounds. He comes from Wilmington which was a high school standout.

George Staley is 208 pounds and a right tackle, returning his second year at Campbell. stellar lineman is also a kicking expert. Another veteran line is Pete Mace, showing stocky center who has an excellent reputation for line backing.

Coach Smith expects to have about thirty to Lejeune for the game, and they will be a win—Campbell has a past record of opening their season with a victory.

Football Personalities

Jim Ptak, Backfield

SGT. JIM PTAK

Jim Ptak is 160 pounds of dynamite that is sparking the Lejeune football team through some of the toughest workouts sessions any service team has ever undergone. Only the rugged little quarterback has the inspiring spirit which quarterbacks need to make a team.

From Peru, Illinois, Jim played four years of varsity football at Joliet College Academy, and eventually, proved he could do anything as well by fighting his way into the Illinois Golden Gloves tournament.

The fighting quarterback enlisted in the Marine Corps in early 1942 and after boot camp joined the Second Division on Saipan. He went with the Second to Japan for the occupation and when the Second pulled out for the Pacific he remained behind at Marine Barracks, Yokosuka. It was at Yokosuka that he played for the Marine Barracks team, and one of the few Marines chosen to play on the Eighth Army All-American Eleven, which met another team in the Rice Bowl in Yokosuka, now a sergeant, was assigned to the 2nd Engineering Support Co., ComSerGrp, on his return to the states, and at present Hq. Co. H&S Bn., Division.

M. O. Sadler, Tackle

One of the hardest workers on the Lejeune team this year is Captain Mitchell C. Sadler, a 6'2" —220 pound tackle who has ground plenty of opponents into the turf with his irresistible charging.

"Mitch" is one of those hard-to-stop Texans who learned his fundamentals in four years of high school football, and then went on to Rice Institute, where he was a stellar member of the varsity squad for three years.

He starred in both basketball and football in high school, and it was basketball as much as football that won him an athletic scholarship to Rice. After his sophomore year, however, all his athletic prowess was devoted to football.

The captain joined the Corps along with seven other members of the 1941 Rice football team, and immediately after OCS at Quantico he was assigned to the Marine Detachment on the USS Yorktown, where he was kept pretty busy until the end of the war. After a short tour of duty at Corpus Christi, Tex., Captain Sadler came to the Second Division at Camp Lejeune.

In 1946 he played on the Eighth Marine basketball team, but football this year is his first service varsity sport. At present Captain Sadler is assigned to H&S Battery, 10th Marines.

Marine Marksmen Win 31 Awards At West Va. Pistol Tournament

Marines dominated competition in the Eleventh Annual Mountain State Pistol Tournament held at Parkersburg, West Virginia, September 5-6, winning 10 out of 14 matches.

Big gun of the shoot was Captain T. E. Barrier, of Headquarters Marine Corps, who copped seven of the eight individual matches including the Grand Aggregate, or West Virginia State Pistol Championship, and 45 National Match Course events, Warrant Officer Mark Billing, of Quantico, was second in both events and took first place honors in the .38 calibre rapid fire match.

Captain Barrier fired 284 out of a possible 300 over the 45 calibre national match course and Warrant Officer Billing was second with a 277. Captain Barrier also won the .22 calibre time fire, .22 calibre rapid fire, .22 national match course, .22 calibre aggregate and .38 calibre timed fire matches.

Quantico pistoliers won both the .22 and .38 calibre team matches with the Headquarters Marine Corps aggregation taking second place in both events.

When the shooting stopped, the Marines had collected nine gold medals, two plaques, and 20 silver and bronze medals.

Sideline Slants

... by PORTERFIELD

The Lejeune skeet team, which leaves for Nevada this week-end for the National Matches, will travel in the same plane with their biggest competition—the Jax NAS team. Perhaps the Navy would drop out if our team were all the shooting medals they've won this year.

The varsity was looking forward to the scrimmage with William and Mary held at Williamsburg, Va., on Tuesday. Several of the Lejeune lads expressed a desire to have a try at Jack (Flying) Cloud, W&M star fullback, but both coaches probably blew a fast whistle to avoid the possibility of injury.

Coach Missar has enough worries already with several of his best men temporarily sidelined by slight injuries. Three linemen—Gallo, Sadler and Sparks, have incurred sprains in the past week.

The ComSerGrp will have a really strong team in intra-mural play—one of the heaviest lines in the league, and reserves deep at all positions. Though they, like every other team, lack experience, ComSerGrp has the weight to front for the backfield.

Never to be discounted are the 2nd Engineers, who have been working hard for the past week on an offensive to carry them through their bigger opponents in the intra-mural grid league.

Under the guidance of WO Krohn and his assistants, the lately-started Marine Barracks eleven is working hard to master their plays and improve their defense before next week, when they meet the Division Deacons. The Quantico baseball team has done it again—for the second year they took the East Coast Navy crown, and are now playing the Sub BasePac for the All-Navy title.

Fall is finally upon us. Be sure to go early and get a good seat for the Campbell-Lejeune game Saturday. Cpl. Bob Culler, of the Main theater, will handle the announcing at the game, and with cheer leaders et al, it will be a real football game.

Lejeune Skeet Team

Lejeune Skeet Team Leaves Sunday For Grand National Match In Nevada

Five of the finest skeet shots on the Atlantic Coast will go West from Camp Lejeune to Las Vegas, Nevada, to compete against two thousand other shooting enthusiasts in the National Individual and Service Team Matches on 23-25 September.

Four members of the team, Lt. Col. William A. Lee, CWO Harry B. Stowers, M/Sgt. A. J. Thyrring, and T/Sgt. Lon A. Walton, will leave on the 18th for Jacksonville, Fla., and fly to the matches. The fifth member of the team, WO Martin, is already in Nevada firing in early events of the big match.

T/Sgt. Walton, the team alternate who is going as a regular member, is not pictured at left. The team will represent Camp Lejeune for the first time in a National Match, and if they fire as they have been all season, should place well up among the leaders.

All members of the Lejeune team use 12 gauge pump shotguns, and in the National Matches each man will fire 250 rounds, commencing with 100 on the 23rd, another 100 on the 24th, and the final 50 on the 25th. The shooting is divided into several phases, and the Lejeune team will fire only in the Individual and Service Team matches. The total scores on each individual member of the team will be aggregated to determine the final team score.

Skeet shooting is a strictly American sport, often confused with trap shooting, which originated in England. Skeet was first invented in 1910, and in its early time was known as "around the clock", a name which it retained until about 1925. In its present form, the shooter fires at "clay pigeons" catapulted at different heights, while the shooter moves in a semi-circle between the points from which the targets are thrown, firing from eight different positions on the semi-circle.

The rules are very strict, and a shooter loses any point he may make by firing past a certain angle, for putting his gun in his shoulder before the birds are launched, and for many other breaches of rules.

In the United States there are five classes of shooters, from AA, where a shooter must maintain an average of 95x100, to class D, where the average is lower. Naturally, a class AA shooter cannot compete in any lower classification, and his class is determined by averaging scores in at least three regulation matches a year.

On the Lejeune team, Mr.

Stowers shoots in the AA group. WO Martin fires in the next highest, or class A group, and both Col. Lee and Sgt. Thyrring are in class B. Sgt. Walton has a class C average, and he will fire in that class in the National Matches.

CWO Stowers will probably get an added boost in his firing from the record of Mrs. Stowers, who has been pressing him in a race for the family honors. Mrs. Stowers recently won the South Atlantic Class D championship when she out-shot both men and women opponents in a pouring rain at Charleston, S. C.

At the National Match, which was held last year in Syracuse, N. Y., the Lejeune skeet shooters will run up against service teams from practically every base in the country, including the present National Service Champions, the Jacksonville, Fla., NAS team.

SECURING COMPETITIVE APPOINTMENT

Most of the employees appointed for this camp have been appointed as temporary, pending the establishment of a register. This means that employees who received such a type of appointment must later qualify for competitive or probational appointment.

In order to qualify for a competitive or probational appointment for most positions, the employee concerned must compete in and pass an examination given for his particular position.

These examinations are given by various Boards of U. S. Civil Service Examiners who wish to effect appointment, or qualify employees already appointed for particular types of positions.

The Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at Camp Lejeune will furnish department heads of this activity announcements of all U. S. Civil Service examinations sponsored by the Board or received from other Boards. These announcements should be placed on the bulletin boards for the information of all employees.

It is the responsibility of each employee to compete in and pass the examination announced for his particular position. The sooner the employee is able to take and receive an eligible rating for his appointment, the more secure will be his position.

Each employee should take advantage of every opportunity to pass a U. S. Civil Service Examination for his position. After passing an examination at another activity he may qualify for competitive or probational appointment for his position at this activity by requesting the transfer of his eligibility for appointment to the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Camp Lejeune.

There are several advantages in receiving a competitive or probational appointment. The most important are listed below:

- (1) He would be placed in a higher retention group for reduction in force purposes.
- (2) He could be transferred to another position, department, or activity without any loss in leave status.
- (3) He would be entitled to the benefits of the U. S. Civil Service Retirement program.
- (4) He would be eligible for reinstatement rights according to his length of service.
- (5) He could not be displaced by another employee.
- (6) After serving six months in a competitive or probational status he could be promoted without losing his status obtained, provided he meets the requirements for the position to which he is recommended for promotion.

"A WORD TO THE WISE"

So many times quite a few of us speak harsh words of our supervisors and bosses, words which if we thought about them, we would never utter. Taking a quotation from something which Elbert Hubbard has written, we may come up with the answer that maybe we spoke a little hastily:

"If you work for a man, in Heaven's name, work for him. If he pays you wages which supply you bread and butter, work for him; speak well of him; stand by the institution he represents. If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage—resign your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content, but as long as you are part of the institution do not condemn it. If you do that, you are loosening the tendrils that are holding you to the institution, and, at the first high wind that comes along, you will be uprooted and blown away, and probably you will never know the reason why."

SAFETY NOTES LATE FOR DINNER!

He'd been in a hurry all his life. He talked fast, he thought fast, he drove fast, and he died as he had lived—speeding.

Eager to get home because he was late for dinner, he said to himself he'd do the 63 miles in one hour flat. He recalled that most of the officers assigned to that route were a soft touch for a smooth-tongued speeder. He should have been warned when he had to swerve to miss the big bus that was entering the highway as he zoomed up over the nearby hill.

He didn't have enough time to stop when the car filled with ball players slid out of the Municipal Park road to head back toward the City. He hit it broadside and both cars skidded 50 feet before they hurtled down the embankment.

He killed himself and three occupants of the car he hit. He sent the other two ball players to the hospital for six months. The entire calamity was over in less than a minute.

ARC Claims Service Provides Valuable Service To Veterans

Red Cross Service to veterans is no fledgling, for assistance to those men and women who served in the armed forces of our country has been rendered by the Red Cross for the past twenty-four years. It is therefore inevitable that the veteran has a permanent place in the present peacetime program of the American Red Cross.

The relationship of Red Cross to servicemen and women having been cemented by a greater bond of understanding and realization of assistance by war, now finds a counterpart in the ever-growing Claims Service to Veterans. The developing and prosecution of veterans' claims by the trained Red Cross technical Claims Service staff presages an unlimited peacetime assistance to them.

That a large proportion of veterans recognize the value of Red Cross Claims Service is attested to by the fact that they have designated the Red Cross to represent them in securing government benefits for disabilities which arose out of and in the course of their military service. Consequently, in such recognition, Red Cross has the inherent obligation of continuing to provide a more efficient claims service to veterans.

To be more specific, let us look at the records for 1947; for it was during this year that over a million veterans and their dependents or survivors were represented by Red Cross Claims Service in their allegations for statutory entitlements. This tremendous task of technical assistance was accomplished by Red Cross Claims Service offices in Veterans Administration branch and regional offices, ARC Home Service, and field workers on military reservations.
However, these figures in no way reflect aid provided for many other veterans in need of claims advice, counseling in seeking review of their discharges, filing claims, inpatient and out-patient treatment, rehabilitation and many other forms of assistance.

Claims Service field directors and their assistants appeared before Veterans Administration rating boards in 81,004 instances during the past year. The Claims Service technician has many more responsibilities. Among these are the interpretation of Red Cross policies to the Veterans Administration, and in turn following the same procedure in reverse to Home Service in the Chapters. He also serves as technical adviser and consultant to chapters within his jurisdiction wherein veterans entitlements are involved.

Th field office at Camp Lejeune constantly receives requests from ex-servicemen through their Red Cross Chapters for help in obtaining affidavits from former buddies
These are used by the Claims Service field director in establishing service connected disability and in prosecuting the claim in an effort to obtain the full measure of benefits for which the ex-servic-man or his family may be eligible.

By GORT WILBUR

DISA ABOUT DATA: BOB
POOLE, the friendly voiced radio artist who airs his "Poole's Paradise" feature every week-day morning over WJNC and Mutual 9:30 to 9:55 EST or 10:30 to 10:55
EDT, was born 32 years ago in Greensboro, North Carolina, no less. He started out to be a lawyer, working his way through college at Tar Heel U. He spent one year in law study before deciding that radio was for him. He used to hitch-hike from Chapel Hill to Greensboro, a distance of fifty miles, for his apprenticeship in aircasting.

Brother Bob started out as staff announcer in 1937, working in his home city, Nashville, and New York. He joined the Navy in 1941 and was assigned to public relations activities in New Orleans.
When he got out of the Navy in 1946, he assumed his "Poole's Paradise" program locally in New Orleans. Heard by MBS powers that he while aired there, he got a real radio break. This man Poole is considered "quiet" by those that know him and quite witty. He ad-libs his show, and has one of the most amusing shows ever aired by Mutual.

Well, even the Teen-Agers are doing it. Teen-Aged girls will be "Queens" in their homes through the WJNC and Mutual "Teentimers Club" aired over 1240 each Saturday from 11:30 to 12 noon EST, or 12:30 to 1 P.M. EDT.

The contest will be to determine: "Who is The Mystery Teen-Timer?" And the contestants will be limited to Teen-Age girls. It is to be presented as part of the MBS
"Teentimers Club" aricasts in cooperation with the American Overseas Aid, U. N. Appeal for Children.

Here is how it works. Throughout the country store windows will display a large pix of a prominent teen-ager. Her features, however, will be masked. On each "Teen-timers Club" broadcast, there will be presented a clue leading to the identity of this masked girl. The gals can enter the contest. Listen this week over WJNC and learn how.
