Outstanding Swimming Team Wins 51 Awards

Gen. Hart Presents Aquatic Trophies, Extends Well Done

Setting an enviable record for the season, Camp Lejeune's 1948 swimming and diving team garnered a total of 51 awards in three meets to easily become one of the outstanding Marine aquatic teams in many years. The awards consisted of 1 team championship trophy, 9 individual trophies, 22 individual medals, 4 Navy sweaters, 4 letters, 5 emblems, and 6 certificates.

Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General, presented trophies and other awards to the members of the team in a colorful ceremony last Friday morning and congratulated the Marines on their top-flight performances as well as their enviable season's record.

In the course of about one month, the Lejeune aggregation swept the 5th Naval District meet, dropping only one second place while turning in a record performance; made a strong bid for supremacy in all events in the Group VI competition and placed five men on the nine-man group team to enter the All-Navy finals; then went on to cop additional honors in the All-Navy meet.

On August 24, 25, and 26 at the U. S. Naval Base, Philadelphia, Pa., the Lejeune swimmers plus the four Navy men comprising the Group VI team, totaled 41 out of a possible 74 points to place third in an unofficial team championship for the World Wide All-Navy Swimming and Diving crown.

No team championship is recognized in the All-Navy finals, awards going only to individual winners and finalists.

Eight groups, each representing a geographical area covering the entire world, competed in the All-Navy Championship. Only one entry from each group is allowed in each event.

In the standout race of the All-Navy meet, Corporal Walter Sorg from Lejeune finished second to C. A. Carroll of Group I in the 400 meter freestyle event. Sorg took the lead after four laps and maintained his pace until midway in the last lap. It was then that he was overhauled by Carroll and the battle was on even terms until about five yards from the finish when Carroll pulled a half stroke ahead. Sorg lost by less than six inches to the Jacksonville, Florida, entrant who turned in the fast time of 5:13.4. Both Carroll and Sorg, who was one second behind with See MARINE AQUATIC On Page 4

Transportation To Quantico - Lejeune Football Season Opens Next Week; 10 Games Cinched

All military personnel at Camp Lejeune and their dependents will have the opportunity to witness actively back their football team in action against the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. varsity at Quantico on Saturday, October 2, according to a Camp Memorandum published this week. This will probably be the high spot of inter-Marine Corps football competition on the East Coast during the season and the result of the game will weigh heavily in the selection of competitors for the All-Navy championships in football.

Arrangements are being completed for bus transportation to be available for military personnel and their dependents to Quantico and the game.

Transportation will be available in three different categories as follows:

Round trip from Camp Lejeune to Quantico and return, to leave here early morning of October 2 and return to Quantico the same day, departing Quantico 90 minutes after completion of the game. The cost of the round trip ticket in this category will be $8.76 per person.

Round trip from Camp Lejeune to Quantico and return, to leave here early morning of 2 October and return to Quantico the following day, departing Quantico at 1600 Sunday, October. Quarters and messing facilities will be provided at Quantico for servicemen desiring overnight stay in Quantico. Cost of the round trip ticket in this category will be $8.98 per person.

Round trip from Camp Lejeune to Washington, D. C. and return, with a stopover at Quantico for the game, buses to leave early morning of October 2 and return trip buses departing Quantico, D. C. at 1600, Sunday, 3 October. The cost of the round trip ticket in this category

Cheer Leaders

To really create the right atmosphere at the Camp Lejeune football games this year and to put the maximum spectator power behind the team, a cheering section is being planned.

Work is progressing on cheers and songs designed to let anybody know that Camp Lejeune is behind their team all the way. These will be published in sufficient time for all hands to learn.

Cheer leaders are needed at once. All interested persons are urged to contact Lt. Col. G. R. Long at the Camp Special Services Office in Building 1005 or phone 5528.

be made to civilian clothing for liberty after the game if desired.

Unit commanders will collect money for tickets on the 20 September payday, and unit commanders on a battalion level will purchase and deliver tickets to men of their commands prior to 30 September. More detailed instructions in this connection will be issued later. Buses will be spotted in unit areas on the morning of departure.

The Commanding General desires that as many of the command as possible make this trip, actively support our football team, and spend an enjoyable weekend.

Football Season Opens Next Week; 10 Games Cinched

The 1948 football season will open at Camp Lejeune next week on Saturday, the 18th, when the Marines tackle Campbell College on the Hadnot Point gridiron, according to an announcement from Special Services yesterday.

Next Tuesday, 14 September, the Lejeune gridders will engage in a closed scrimmage with William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va., as a pre-game conditioner.

Only one open date remains on the revised schedule which follows:

- 18 Sept. — Campbell College—Here.
- 25 Sept. — Philadelphia Naval Base—Here.
- 2 Oct.—MCS, Quantico—There

'Falltime Minstrels' Most Successful Local Production In Current Series

The live entertainment program being fostered by Camp-Division Special Services reached new heights this week with two showings of "Falltime Minstrels" at the Camp Theater, Monday and Tuesday nights.

Directed by 1st Lt. Lawrence C. Switzer and 2nd Lt. R. G. Laws, the straight minstrel rendition was unanimously acclaimed the most successful production in a series of stage shows inaugurated in August, 1947.

The premiere of "Falltime Minstrels" was given last Friday evening at the Courthouse Bay theater. The largest crowd on hand for the three showings was recorded Tuesday night. The minstrel was the first production under a new plan calling for one show a month.

Star attraction of "Falltime Minstrels" was Mr. Billy Arthur, Publisher of the Jacksonville News and Views. His expert song and gag routine received ovations that See MINSTREL On Page 3

Competitive Athletics

Competitive athletics date back to a time before the Christian Era. From that time, efforts have been made to improve health and to build stronger men by prescribing certain sports. These have ranged from the Olympic contests to knightly tournaments to the varied sports programs of the present.

We of the Marines believe that a well-rounded athletic program builds strength of character, good morals, the strictest adherence to duty, the finest lessons of obedience and loyalty, and the general development of those other attributes which make the "manly man", and nowhere are these activities better exemplified than on the athletic field. There the lessons of fair play, honesty, absolute adherence to duty, and the finest precepts of honor are taught. Sports give much to men, but no sport can rise above the calibre of those who play it. No matter what may be the rules governing a game, no matter how stringently every infraction of the code may be enforced, it is impossible to make those rules better than the men who are playing under them. Without the spirit of fair play infusing the members of the teams, the contests in which they take part may subject the sport itself to criticism.

The first principle of fair play is to have faith in the other fellow. To think that the other team is going to play fair causes one to play fair himself, and seldom is anything lost in that way.

Fair play in any sport is nothing more nor less than genuine honesty, the feeling that no matter what the result, you will give to your opponent just what you would want him to give to you under similar circumstances. So, let every Marine extend to others those little courtesies which cause another to go back to his base, feeling that he has won from a fine fellow or has been defeated by a true sportsman.

The crux of sportsmanship lies in a few words made by a great athlete: "Be each, pray God, a gentleman."—W. B. K.

Death

Consider the uncertainty of the time of death. Will it be in summer or in winter, in town or country, on land or sea, by day or night, with or without warning, after illness or by accident, with or without the aid of Doctor or most of all, spiritual aid? Of all this you know nothing. All you are certain of is that you will die. It may be sooner than expected. Death is the end of the world as far as you are concerned. Then, time values will be reversed. Pleasures, vanities, worldly joys, empty attachments, all of these will seem like mere phantoms, passing clouds. What folly to have offended or neglected God for such delusive trifles! On the other hand, your good works and devotion will then seem sweet and precious. You will regret not having done more for your soul and for God. The evil you did will seem greater, and your devotion very small. You must bid a painful farewell to this world, goodbye to riches, vanities, frivolous companions, pastimes, friends, neighbors, family, everything and everyone. Last of all you must leave even your own body—pale, cold, repulsive, beginning to decay. Your best friends will hasten to hide you beneath the ground. That done, scarcely a thought of you will remain. You will be forgotten as you had forgotten others. The most you can hope for is an occasional "God rest his soul".

O Death, how pitiless, how unsparing you are! Then comes eternity, happy or miserable. Which shall yours be? That which you choose in life. Pray for the grace of a happy death, and for the means to secure it. Put only a relative value on temporal things. Never put your heart on them so as to endanger your eternal salvation. RESOLVE to prepare for death by being always ready.

Consider then, that in this life you stand between hell and Heaven, with the necessity of making a choice of one or the other. The choice will be a final one. Leaving the choice to you, God still desires above all things that you choose Heaven; He offers countless graces and helps to go there, not the least of which is a guardian angel to guide you. Imagine our Lord calling you tenderly to share in His eternal rest and happiness, and ever reminding you that the path to Heaven is not so difficult as worldlings make it, but far pleasanter than anything the world can offer.

So from the bottom of your heart: "O Blessed Paradise, eternal glory, unfading happiness, I choose thee as my lot, my delight for eternity! O My God, I bless Thy mercy and accept Thy choice and wish for me. I thank Thee for Thy unspeakable goodness in providing an eternal abode where I can love and bless Thee forever."

American Literature Studies Through MCI Enjoyable Reading

Several weeks ago the pride of the United States swelled at the exemplary showing of American athletes in the Olympic games. The well-trained men and women proved their ability by outdistancing the athletes of other nations.

The United States has also produced writers telling of the glories and hopes of the nation. America's own by heritage, the poets wrote the country's ideals and ambitions in the book of literature. The pride of the nation, they reflect her growth from a few small colonies to a great world power.

The flavor of American life is in the works of men like James Fenimore Cooper, Jack London and Bret Harte. They told of the commonplace in their daily lives.
They, like Ernie Pyle, wrote of the simple plainfolk—the colonists founding the nation, the pioneers clearing the wilderness, the farmers, the miners, the men of the sea.

Walt Whitman wrote of freedom, the "poet of democracy" let us call him. He uttered hard, cold, frank facts in the Leaves of Grass.
In this poem he professed his ideal of a strong democracy with the individual person as the bulwark of freedom.

VOICES OF THE NATION

The list of writers voicing the thoughts of the nation is long.
Benjamin Franklin, Oliver W.
Holmes, Walt Whitman, Carl Sandburg, Ernest Hemingway were of the tides that surged through the nation. They saw wrongs and sought justice. They envisaged the hopes of the nation, saw her ideals and expressed them.

Marines can trace the ideals and views of the nation from the days of the Pilgrim Fathers to modern times. The story of the United States, revealed through literature, is presented to Marines by the Marine Corps Institute. On the high school level, Literature III, guides the student through the study of the writers of his country. Survey of American Literature, a college-level course, studies the nation's writers from the social, political and religious viewpoints.

The literature of America has the vitality of the grim, determind race that crossed a continent and made the United States. It is the story of the lives, interests and ambitions of a free people.

Marines finishing high school or preparing for college have two splendid studies of American literature. Spare-time readers will find the courses enjoyable studies of American adventures. To enroll in these or any of the Institute's 203 free courses, see your Education Officer or write to the Director,

Marines Going Out Recognize Value Of MCR Enlistment

According to an announcement from the Camp Recruiting Office this week, 66 percent of the Marines discharged here within the past month have recognized and made the most of the advantages offered by enlistment in the Inactive Volunteer Marine Corps Reserve.

During the period 1 August to 9
September, a total of 1194 men eligible for enlistment in the Marine Reserve have been discharged from Separation Section. Casual Company. Of this number, 799 or 66 percent have enlisted in Class
III (b), Inactive Volunteer Marine Corps Reserve.

These figures prove that the majority of Marines being discharged are cognizant of the advantages offered the "Citizen Marine", some of which follow:

Longevity, in any rank, in any branch of the armed forces.

Keep same rank, and keep date of rank if enlisted within twenty four hours of discharge.

Veterans rights not affected by being in the Marine Corps Reserve.
Called to active duty only during war or National Emergency

May be discharged anytime in peacetime simply by requesting a discharge.

Perform no drills unless volunteer to do so.

Enlist for period of two (2), three (3), or four (4), years.

Receive Marine Corps Reserve Bulletin each month through the mail.

Opportunity to increase knowledge of military and Naval science.
Share in developments of latest doctrines of Marine Corps.

Qualify for advancement in rank.
Assured of serving in Marine Corps in time of war or National emergency if man so desires.

9 Marine Officers Attend Highest Military Schools

WASHINGTON, D. C. (August 31).—Three Marine Corps officers began studies here at Fort Lesley J. McNair yesterday as students in the third regular session of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, while six other Marine officers embarked on a course of instruction at the National War College, also at Fort McNair, Marine Corps Headquarters announced today.

The three officers attending the Industrial College are Colonel Melvin G. Brown, Lieutenant Colonel Elmer E. Brackett, Jr., and Lieu-enant Colonel John O. Holmes.

Attending the War College the Marine officers, all Colonels, include Joseph W. Earnshaw, William G. Manley, Henry R. Paige, Walter L. J. Bayler, Homer L.
Litzenberg and Jack P. Juhan. Both schools represent the highest level of military education.

During the 10-month course the three officers attending the Industrial College will study such subjects as economic warfare, procurement planning, and procurement. The War College, also having a 10-month course, will include as part of its curriculum, problems of the atomic age, politicomilitary aspects of international relations and U. S. foreign policy, and studies in war planning and the employment of joint forces.

New Scholastic Mark Set By Marine At Nav. Justice School

(SEA) — Technical Sergeant Houston H. Beyer, USMC, has graduated from U. S. Naval School of Naval Justice, Port Hueneme, Calif., with marks rating among the highest in the school's two-year history.

Sergeant Beyer was first in a class of 19 to graduate recently from the Navy school. The Naval School of Justice graduates six classes a year and is the only one of its kind under Navy operation.

MIDVALE, Utah (AFPS)—The city fathers wanted to build a stadium and a swimming pool—in different places! But, when workmen were moving dirt from the stadium site, they struck a spring.
Now, vast quantities of water fill the new stadium.

Tokyo Rose

Faced with trial for treason against the United States, the country of her birth, Iva Toguri D'Aguino, 32, will be prosecuted for her "Tokyo Rose" radio broadcasts of World War II. The Department of Justice has been investigating her activities for three years during which time she remained in Japan.

Golf Championship Pairings Announced; Flights Start First Round Play This Week

Qualification play for the Camp Lejeune Golf Championship Tournament was completed Labor Day, and the pairings, together with complete information concerning the tourney, are listed below. All prizes are in the form of PX chits for indicated amounts.

The first, second, third, and fourth flights of the Men's Championship must complete the first round of Match Play no later than the 19th of September. All other flights of the Ladies' and Men's Championship will have their first match played no later than 26 September.

Immediately following all the contestants' names are their telephone numbers, so that contestants can arrange their own matches to their convenience. Any matches not completed by the deadlines will be defaulted and naturally the player who has the poorest excuse will lose.

Deadlines:
First round matches—19 September.

Quarter Finals—26 September.

Semi-Finals—3 October.

Finals All Matches—Played on 9 October only.

In all the Men's Flights there will be a Consolation Flight for the first round losers so that each golfer will play at least two rounds of match play, win or lose. Therefore, there will be three prizes in each flight.

Football Personalities

Dick Koen, Fullback

Dick Koen, from Peabody, Massachusetts, is one of the leading candidates for the first string fullback spot on this year's Camp Lejeune football team. On his six foot frame are hung 180 pounds, and before the season is over an opposing tackler will probably wonder how anyone could look so deceptively thin and still pack such a wallop.

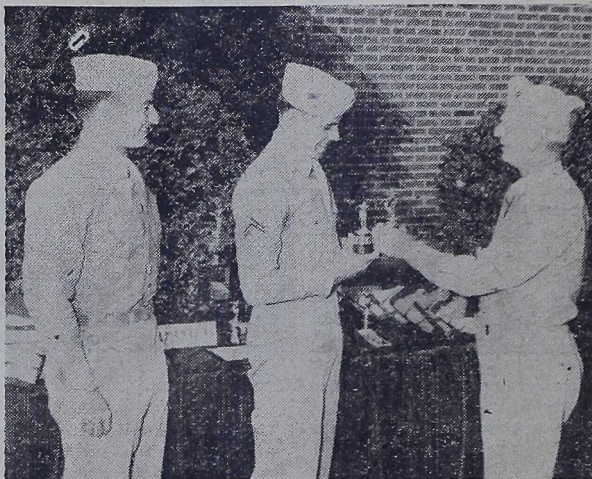

The former Peabody High School star was awarded a scholarship to Holy Cross on the basis of his athletic ability, and he managed to complete Spring training with the Holy Cross squad before he enlisted in 1945.

After boot training at PI, Koen was sent to Guam, where he joined an M. P. Battalion, and from Guam he went to the Hawaiian area for duty. Returning to the states in 1947, Cpl. Koen was assigned to the Second Division at Lejeune, and he is presently in the M. P. Company, H&S Battalion, Division.

Byron Bakewell, Line

One of the men helping to keep up the line average of 200 pounds on the Camp football team is Barney Bakewell, rugged tackle who hails from Brownsville, Pennsylvania. The six footer is a fast charger, and has shown up as a hard man to stop in recent scrimmages.

Barney played three years of high school football before coming into the Corps, and in his senior year was selected on the All-County team. Last year he played for FMF "A", but got a late start due to being sent to Camp Pendleton for communication training in mid-summer.

At present Cpl. Bakewell is attached to H&S Company, 2nd Marines in the communication section.

In the 800 meter freestyle (four men each swimming meters), Cpl. Sorg, lead-off member of Group VI, swam a brilliant minute, 28 second race to give group a slight lead. His team couldn't hold the lead, however, being handicapped by the fact Cpl. Bill Carriethers swam half of the race with a broken arm and was unable to turn in usual fast time. The Jacksonville, Florida, team edged out Gro for the close first in this event.

Pvt. John Garrett placed third in the 200 meter breast stroke one-time National Champion John Higgins (who still holds American breast stroke record) copping the win.

Pfc. Luke A. Dommer, Camp Lejeune, placed third in the meter back stroke event, while Sailor A. Machael in one minute 13 seconds. Marine Dommer placed fourth in the 300 meter individual medley, won by Lieutenant John Higgins, USN, 4:17.9.

Lejeune Gridders In Good Shape; Offensive Play Still Looks Weak

Camp Lejeune gridders took a breather after two weeks of intensive drills and scrimmages, as a break in preparation for the opening game on September 12.

They haven't been a Lejeune in better shape since those wartime teams. For the month Coach Missar and his assistants have been driving their teams as hard as they dared, and the results are easy to see—plenty of hard playing by everyone in the field, in marked contrast to their workouts a few short weeks ago, when only the coaches had to be in shape.

Lejeune never had to go on the defensive, they would be unbeatable now. On offensive plays the team clicks pretty well, holes are opened in the line, passers have lots of time to throw their passes. The trouble is the fact that any of the four used for recent scrimmages run through the "opposition" water through a sieve.

Downfield blocking is also pretty spotty, but the many games scheduled for the next weeks should overcome this. One thing pleasing to the coaches would give their left eye-balls to have centers like Bevers and Overholt, Harbin and Black, and Marshall and Settimo. Good defensive men all, with hardly a bad pass apparent during practice sessions.

But, despite all the pessimism on the coaching staff, and the definitely poor defensive work, Lejeune will have a team. They may be slow starters, and perhaps not as polished as desired, but they can take it, and there is no doubt that there will be some dishing out done if all goes right.

Lejeune Shooters Win Two Medals In Kinston Skeet Match

Three Camp Lejeune skeet shooters went to Kinston for the Annual Tar Heel Open Skeet Match on Sunday, 29 August, and when the clay pigeons had all settled to earth, the Lejeuners had won two of the five events, one of them the feature match of the day.

CWO, Stowers, well known throughout the East Coast for his prowess with the shotgun won the 1948 Club Championship when he knocked down 99 out of a possible 100 in the Class AA Match.

Lt. Col. W. A. Lee, one of the Corps' better rifle and pistol marksmen, took to the smooth bore and won the Class D event when he scored 86x100. M/Sgt. Charles X. Farrer, the third Lejeune competitor, shot an excellent 85x100, but he did not place.

Mr. Stowers, in winning the Class AA match, defeated the current North Carolina Champion, Mr. Simons, who was runner-up with 97x100. Entrants in the match were from the far corners of the state, and a large field competed in each event.

Sideline Slants

...by PORTERFIELD

Though the Labor Day Regatta is over, the Wallace Creek Boat-house will continue to operate through the month of September. Sailing races will be held every Sunday, and it is hoped that another regatta can be arranged for the last Sunday in the month. Canoes and row boats are always available, and plenty of bait and fishing gear make the boat-house an ideal place to spend that "at Camp" weekend.

While all the national magazine writers are putting out their annual nation-wide football predictions, the Globe goes out on a limb with a super-duper-prediction, namely and to wit—the Valjeo High Apaches will swamp the Napa Indians by a score of at least 7 to 6. Guess that takes care of that.

The Camp football team has the "Bold Look" to go with that vitalized feeling they've shown in recent practices. It consists of flashy maroon and gold jerseys, with pants to match, and let's hope that plenty of opponents get tired of looking at them flash by before the season is over.

Lejeune thinclads must have looked good at the recent All-Corps meet—several of them were approached by representatives of colleges interested in obtaining their athletic ability if they leave the Corps.

Action Fast In Labor Day Regatta; Berg, Krohn, Win In Sailing Events

Thrills and spills were plentiful at the annual Labor Day Regatta on Wallace Creek as a small but eager group of contestants vied for the numerous prizes. The Lightning class sailboat race, feature event of the day, was won by Cpl. Berg, with Cpl. Carlson as crew, in a fine exhibition of smooth sailing.

Activities commenced at 0930 with a rowboat race, one man to a boat. L. B. Snyder, of the Second Division Photo Section led the contest from the start, and managed to control his blisters long enough to win despite the strong challenge of Pfc. B.C. Reynolds. Capt. J. C. Stanfield finished third after fighting off Pfc's Clapper and Hallam, who almost boxed the captain out.

Six teams were entered in the canoe tilting which followed, and everyone was dunked except the heavyweight team of WO Krohn and Sgt. Swan. Cpl. Jallison and Pfc. Snyder provided the toughest competition for the winners as they almost maneuvered themselves into an upset win.

The semi-final event of the morning was the canoe singles, and "Hiawatha" Swan beat out a field of ten paddlers to take first prize of a $3.00 PX Chit. It was a thrilling race, with everyone bunched from start to finish. Pfc. Reynolds again copped second money, as he nosed out the remainder of the birchbarks by the hair on his scalp.

Major Houser and Pfc. Clapper, Motor Transport School, teamed up in the concluding morning event, the two man canoe race, too win the $5.00 PX Chit awarded as first prize. The race was quite long, and the winning team must have hit a favorable current, for they finished a full two lengths ahead of the remainder of the entrants, who were crowding each other across the line. Pfc's Hallam and Reynolds were second, closely followed by WO Krohn and Sgt. Swan.

A freshening breeze insured swift sailing for the two afternoon events; and, after jockeying for position, the sailors got away to an even start. Major Houser, with Pfc. Santmeyer as crew, led the Lightning boats across the starting line; but, before the boats came about at the first buoy, he was headed off by Berg in his boat. Berg never lost his lead, but Major Houser was overtaken again by ago are still talking about the emcee, Sgt. Kabral, who kept the spectators well entertained with a fast line of chatter before and between bouts. Sgt. Kabral comes from a place called Namar, and the anecdotes concerning Namar were endless and amusing.

The swimming team has returned after a two month absence, and what a haul they brought back with them. Quantico didn't offer much competition for Lejeune in this sport. The Lejeune team garnered more swimming honors in the past year than the whole Corps has in the preceding decade. After a two-month break the team will again form for the winter season, and it is hoped that many meets with neighboring colleges and posts can be arranged.

Intramural football is all preparation for the opening game on 19 September, with the ComSerGrip team looking about tops—preseason, that is.

The 21st Marines are an unknown factor as they have not yet started practice, while Marine Barracks is progressing rapidly under the tutelage of WO Krohn. The schedule has been changed due to training commitments, and it will get under way a week earlier than originally planned.

Sgt. Arnold, who skippered his way through a shorter tack on the final leg to cross the finish line in second place, with the Major hot on his fantail.

The Town class race provided interesting action as WO Krohn and his crew of Carlson beat out their ever-close competitor, Lt. McPherson. Chaplain McPherson, sailing with Mrs. McPherson as his crew, led the race until the boats went into the final tack, where Mr. Krohn pulled ahead to win by a narrow margin.

It Doesn't Pay!

NEW YORK AND HOLLYWOOD (AFPS)—Stealing clothes, big city detectives agree, just doesn't pay off! Merchant Seaman Vincent De Valle, sailing down Broadway, not only tried to lift a suit from a cop, but he timed it badly. Detective James Burke, seeing his car ransacked, left a nearby restaurant long enough to clap de Valle in the clink.

In Hollywood, eight youths stole 21 tuxedos to be properly attired at a formal dance. Later, when they were caught and safely behind bars, one of them sadly admitted that since none of the coats fitted him, he had been forced to rent one anyhow.

Something New?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AFPS)—Did you ever try snoozing during these sultry nights on a mattress stuffed with candy and gum wrappers, milk bottle caps, nails, nuts and bolts? When this aggregation was found in a four-year-old girl's mattress, her outraged mama ripped into the Ohio Bedding Inspector. "Revengeful and disgruntled employees," was the solution offered by the mattress manufacturers.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Fourth U. S. Civil Service Region has announced examination for probational appointment under Civil Service Regulations in the states of Maryland (except Montgomery and Prince George counties), North Carolina, Virginia (except Arlington county and the city of Alexandria), and West Virginia, for the position of Training Specialist, P-2 to P-5 CAF-7 to CAF-12, $3727.20-$6235.20 per annum.

A few positions exist at grades CAF-6, CAF-8, and CAF-10 with entrance salaries of $3351, $4103.40 and $4855.80 per annum, respectively. These positions will be filled from the registers established for the next higher grades by eligibles who have indicated in their applications their willingness to accept the lower salary.

Typical positions which may be filled from this examination include Training Specialist, Training Officer, In-Service Training Officer, Training Assistant, Training Advisor, Training Instructor. In all cases, the duties rather than the title of the position determine the appropriateness of the examination.

Applicants must have reached their eighteenth birthday but must not have passed their sixty-second birthday on the closing date for acceptance of applications. These age limits do not apply to persons entitled to Veteran Preference.

All appointments for entry into the service in these positions will be made subject to investigation and will be probational unless otherwise limited.

4. Applications must be fully and completely executed in accordance with instructions thereon. Failure to so execute applications may lead to their cancellation.

CIVILIAN TRAINING NOTES

The thirty-hour instructor training will be resumed in the near future. The purpose of this instructor training is to teach the principles of instruction to supervisors and other selected personnel in order that they may effectively carry out organized instruction and training of the basic objectives of the Work Improvement Program.

Further objectives of this training are to develop a recognition and understanding of difficulties of a learner; to develop ability to plan and put into operation a course of instruction; to develop the application and appreciation of the 4-step method of teaching in all classifications in Naval activities; to develop ability to perform an acceptable instructional assignment; to develop ability to assist in the improvement and maintenance of production standards and better quality employees for upgrading; and to develop within the supervisor an understanding of duties and responsibilities in connection with the Training Program.

A systematic process for teaching any subject, to any student, in any teaching situation has just been developed and proved by widespread, successful use. A series of five steps makes up this process, through which the instructor and the students move progressively so that the students will achieve the desired level of knowledge or skill in the shortest possible time. . . . The five steps in this process are:

- (1) Preparation by the instructor of what he will teach and how he will teach it.
- (2) Presentation of the subject matter—facts, doctrine, procedures—to the students.
- (3) Application of new knowledge by the students in practice.
- (4) Examination of what the students have learned.
- (5) Summary, discussion or critique of what the students have covered in the complete teaching process.

It is hoped that those who are selected to attend this course will begin giving it some serious thought and will come to class with a determination to apply themselves in such a manner which will be a credit to themselves and also the instructor. If this is done by each student then the results will be gratifying as the knowledge retained by the students will be high.

PERSONNEL CHANGES

During the period 30 August, through 2 September, 1948, the following personnel changes were effected by the Industrial Relations Office.

There were twenty-three accessions, one for Camp Sanitation, six for Camp Maintenance, six for Supply Depot, one for Camp Disbursing, one for Sales Commissary, one for Motor Transport, two for Camp Lejeune School, one for Camp Laundry, one for Electric Power Plant, one for Defense Housing, one for Industrial Relations Office and one for Camp Adjutant.

There were eleven conversions from temporary to probational or competitive status, ten for Camp Maintenance and one for Supply Depot.

There were three periodic pay increases, one for Supply Depot, one for Camp Maintenance, and one for Camp Lejeune School.

There were nineteen separations, six from Camp Maintenance, seven from Camp Laundry, three from Supply Depot, one from Electric Power Plant, one from Industrial Relations Office and one from Public Works.

There were no promotions during this period.

SAFETY NOTES

UNHAPPY BIRTHDAY

It was a birthday cake of Homeric proportions, large enough to support 77 candles and to treat, she hoped, a score of assorted nieces, nephews and grand children. She picked it up at the bakery at about 3:30 and started home afoot.

Rain started falling and half way up the hill between Locust and Mound she decided to cross over to the residential side in order to take advantage of the better position afforded by the trees. As she stepped into the thoroughfare from between two parked cars she was felled by an oncoming auto. Its driver hadn't seen her until the instant of sickening impact.

An ambulance took her to Mercy Hospital. She is still there, but doctors say she is going to be all right. At 77, they explain, broken bones mend slowly.

Marine Corps League Notes

There will be an important meeting at the Marine Corps League clubhouse at Holly Ridge on Monday, 13 September, at 2000 Daylight Saving Time.

Election of officers, formation of house rules, and membership drive are on the agenda. (Incidentally, membership dues are payable.)

Come on down and make this the best meeting yet. The club has started doing things for the community, but we want to do bigger and better things and we need your help, advice, and support. How about it?

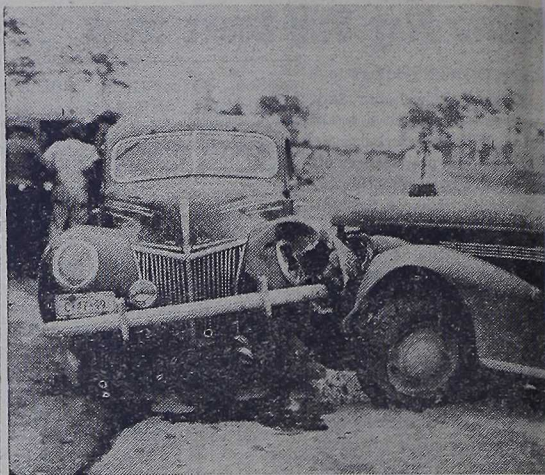

Men wishing to join the New River Detachment of the Marine Corps League may do so by contacting regular members. Watch the Globe for further information.

Satisfied Patrons

LINDEN, N. J. (AFPS)—Accustomed to satisfied patrons, the Red Town diner now boasts that even robbers come back for "seconds." Night counterman Carl Philhower was cleaned out twice in three weeks by the same yeggs. Initially, they took $60 and left the "hash-slinger" with a lump on his head. Next time they got $80, so they gave the counterman's head a rest.

She even had her birthday party, in a way. The driver, who was not held by the police, sought out the same bakery, had an identical cake made, took it to the hospital, and lighted the candles for her.

Object Lesson Number 32

With the cost of living as high as it is, few people are able to pay an unexpected repair bill without feeling a strain on the family purse. And it hurts even more when the accident might have been avoidable. All it takes to keep repair bills down is careful driving. Simple, isn't it?

Northwestern University Marines Mourn Mascot

(SEA) — Marines and former marines are mourning the death of David Melling, 16, for six years the mascot of the Corps' contingent at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Marines remembered David during the war by sending letters and post cards to him from all parts of the world. He was "adopted" by them in 1942 when the first Marine Corps trainees were assigned to Northwestern.

David stood Saturday morning inspections with each unit. The men made a collection and outfitted him with a marine dress blue uniform with the honorary grade of sergeant. He proudly marched with the detachment in all parades at Evanston. His brother, Marshall, was wounded while serving with the Marine Corps on Guadalcanal.

Recently, David went swimming and slipped beneath the surface. All attempts to revive him were futile. In another year he would have realized his ambition—to join the U. S. Marine Corps.

What's New

Wish You Knew?

(AFPS)—Never before in the history of human events has news of the world held more significance or been of more interest to the serviceman. Despite the complexities of world conditions, the American serviceman continues to fulfill the proud boast that he is the best informed in the world. He maintains his place as a well-informed soldier through newspapers, radio, and his own healthy, inherent interests. To judge the scope of your own general knowledge of national affairs, try answering the following news quiz—Ed. note.

- QUESTIONS
1. Preparations are under way for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly in Paris. Has the Assembly ever met before in a European capital?
  2. A total of 33 Senators will be elected this year. Why 33?
  3. In California, prospectors recently reported discovering large quantities of uranium ore. Can you name the two materials that can be developed from uranium ore for use in atomic explosives?
  4. A United Nations economic report recently disclosed that four countries account for 99 per cent of the world's production of motor vehicles. Can you name three of the countries?

- ANSWERS
1. Yes. The Assembly's first meeting was held in London in 1946.
  2. Ordinarily one-third of the Senate (32 seats) comes up for election in every even-numbered year. This year there will also be one special election to fill the unexpired term of Senator John H. Overton of Louisiana who died in May of this year.
  3. Uranium-235 and plutonium.
  4. The countries are the United States, Great Britain, France and Canada.

Motoring Lion Heeds 'Call Of The Wild'

OXNARD, Cal. (AFPS)—Henry George wants his big, tame, "friendly" lion back.

He's offering a $50 reward, but this isn't tempting Californians.

Frank, the lion, "just loves to ride in automobiles," says Mr. George. "And if motorists will open their car doors, Frank will jump right in."

Frank used to ride every day in the front seat of Mr. George's laundry truck. Evidently, this life didn't hold enough allure, so he's gone on an exploring expedition of his own.

There is no news of Frank yet, although lion tracks have been reported all over the countryside. And until he goes back home, citizens insist on keeping their doors and windows closed. Rumor has it that Frank was last seen "pawing" a ride to New York.

WJNC

BY GORT WILBUR

A habit is a great thing. Or is it? In this particular instance we think it is safe to say as much. Or are you half safe? Well, now that we have split our share of infinitives and hauled enough dish rags across what could be beautiful words from Webster, we might get to the real "half safe" subject with the predicate to follow.

Gabe Heatter has always been a habit over WJNC each evening except Saturday and Sunday at 9 and on Sundays at 7:30. That's EST. Well, the day is fast approaching when you will be able to get old Gabe in the morning as well as at night when you have plopped into the easy chair.

Beginning Monday ayem September 20 at 11:30, WJNC and Mutual will feature Heatter in a two-a-week-day shows in a program called, Gabriel Heatter's Mailbag."

According to word received from the Mutual publicity room the other day, Gabe was discussing his new program and said that the idea for the show came "from people who have written to me." He said: "I've been asked, 'What kind of letters do you receive?' And so I've decided to let you all hear my mail." "This is to be your microphone, your program, to give you an opportunity to declare yourself on anything you believe you and other people in the country should hear. It's an opportunity for all of us to talk together, to air our problems."

Each day he will select from his bulging mailbag the most colorful, interesting, or dynamic letters he receives, read parts of them on the air, and then give his own straight-from-the-shoulder comments.

Producers of the WJNC-Mutual "Colonel Stoopnagle's Academy" series surprised their studio guests for last Friday's aircast by distributing over 1,000 ice-chilled bottles of soda pop before the broadcast. Two were set aside for Col. Lem, but by the time the broadcasting was over, you guessed it, there wasn't a one around. Hmmm, nice feeling.

A veteran received an eviction notice from his landlord and replied with a letter that set some kind of a record for brevity. It read:

"Dear Sir:
"I remain,
"Yours very truly."

This Is Your Camp

Courthouse Bay, Former County Seat, Now Home Of 2d Amtrac, 1st AAA Bns.

By PFC. R. K. DALY

Situated within sight of New River Inlet and about a dozen miles from the main Hadnot Point area are two Marine battalions engaged in up-to-the-minute training on the site of an early North Carolina community and former county seat. Courthouse Bay, as the area is known, is today complete with modern brick buildings and extensive recreation facilities, an integral part of Camp Lejeune, the world's most complete amphibious training base.

One of the two battalions at Courthouse Bay is the 2nd Amphibian Tractor Battalion Under the command of Major Richard G. Waraga, this battalion is composed of three companies, consisting of LVTs, DUKWs and armored LVT5 (A)s. Able Company has all the LVT3s under their care, while Charlie Company has the amphibian trucks, or DUKWs as they are known in military terminology, and the H&S Company has LVT5 (A)s, the armored LVT. They work down at the 'Basin' where they have their vehicles and workshops.

The other battalion at CHB, the 1st Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion, is commanded by Lt. Col. Wright C. Taylor. Composed of three batteries of light m/m guns, theirs is the job of protecting the airfields and beaches against enemy aircraft. The 40mm guns and the .50 caliber machine guns are manned by Easy Battery. Fox Battery mans the 20mm's, and may be given heavier weapons some time in the future. H&S battery includes communications, ordnance, motor transport, engineers and radar.

2d AMTRAC BN.

The 2nd AmTrac Battalion returned from Japan and was stationed at Courthouse Bay around July of 1946. Most of the older men of the Division are, or should be, familiar with this group, for all of the Armored section, a platoon of LVT3s and a section of DUKWs are in most of the operations and maneuvers held by the Division.

Not only are these men veterans of many of the landings held by the various units of the 2nd Division, but they are also athletes. Their baseball team was runner-up in the playoff of the two intra-marine leagues, and showed great team spirit and sportsmanship.

1ST AAA BN.

The 1st Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion came to Courthouse Bay from Tent Camp in May 1947. They absorbed the 2nd AAA Battalion, and are now attached to the 2nd Marine Division for tactical purposes. A section of their heavy AA is now overseas.

This novel photo was taken three miles off Onslow Beach during recent training and shows an LVT plunging off the bow ramp of an LST for a practice run. Constant training under varied conditions keeps the men of the 2d Amtrac Bn. thoroughly familiar with their craft and its capabilities. (Photo by Maj. Carpenter)

Also at Courthouse Bay and temporarily detached from Cherry Point is a drone section, training 40mm gun crews. In charge of this group, one of the eight men qualified to operate the drones, is M/Sgt. "Pop" Horton, who trained for a month in the operation and maintenance of the drones in Santa Ana, California.

Each Battalion has its own dispensary, both, however, in the same building. Each section is run by a chief. The Amtracs are consoled by HMC J. G. Clark, while the AAA Battalion receives sympathy from HMC F. F. Beuerlein. The dispensary has a six bed ward, and a dental officer visits twice a week. Besides the two chiefs, there are nine corpsmen.

Special Services is the job of Lt. C. A. R. Fredrickson. Recreation facilities include a basketball gym, boathouse, theater, four concrete handball courts, a volleyball court, PX, library, a hobby shop and a darkroom for amateur photographers. There is also an officer's mess, a staff NCO club and a slop-shute.

The theater doubles for a church; and, on Sunday, Protestant services are held by Chaplain George Felder Jr. A Catholic chaplain from Hadnot Point holds Mass every Sunday. Besides being Chaplain, Lt. Felder is also savings bond officer, educational and voting officer.

WO James A. Martin and H. H. Holley have a right proud of their mess hall, which has won the mess efficiency award three times. Not only Francis Hipsley but they won it three times in a row. From the activity in the hall, they are out to win it a time.

Sergeants W. J. Jones and Koenig are in charge of 140 two cats, four dogs, and, incidentally, the fire station. The two Beverly and Bertha, are bootleggers, the dogs are salts, and the cats are bitches, and Pumper present as chieftains at this time. Should there be a scheduled there are two trucks, a boom truck and a pumper.

The Marines were not always Courthouse Bay. The Coast had it during the latter part of war. Before the war it was the location of a small community, the seat of Onslow County. It is history of North Carolina has had its share of historic events. Now however, it is the East Coast training center for the marine defense battalions of the chapter in Marine Corps history.
