In the early morning of February 3, 1943, the troop transport SS Dorchester was torpedoed off Greenland. Survivors of that sinking told of the extraordinary heroism and devotion of four men of God. Army Chaplains Clark V. Poling, Protestant; John P. Washington, Catholic; Alexander D. Goode, Jewish; and George L. Fox, Protestant, gave their life jackets to other men aboard the sinking ship. With complete disregard of their own safety, the chaplains went among the confused, fear-stricken men, encouraging them, praying with them, and assisting them into lifeboats and lifejackets. According to the affidavits of Dorchester survivors, fear of the icy water had made many aboard almost helpless, convinced as they were that such a plunge could bring only death. The chaplains calmed their fears, and are given credit for saving many men by persuading them to go overboard where there was a chance of rescue. Throughout the whole episode, the chaplains set a supreme example of courage and calmness, the War Department declared. Many of the survivors reported seeing the chaplains standing together on the Dorchester's forward deck, handing out life belts from a box. When the box was empty, each chaplain removed his own priceless lifejacket and gave it to another man. They must have known, it was pointed out, that in doing so they were sacrificing their own lives. The ship was sinking by the bow when men in the water and in lifeboats saw the chaplains link arms and raise their voices in prayer. They were still on the deck together, praying, when the stricken ship made her final plunge. The churches of America can be proud that such men carried their banners into war, and men of all faiths can be proud that these men of different faiths died together.

It has been said that these four chaplains died to bring lasting peace to all men. On this Memorial Day, tribute will be paid not only to these four brave chaplains but to all of the war dead who gave their lives while fighting for the same goal. In the Armed Forces of the United States, men of all faiths fought together for a common cause, Freedom; under one banner, the Stars and Stripes.

House Committee Studies Service Tax Revisions

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15—As the House Ways and Means Committee got underway this week with hearings on the general tax revision bill, two moves were made toward the inclusion therein of provisions affecting personnel of the Armed Services, the Army and Navy Journal reported today.

Secretary of the Navy Sullivan appeared before the Committee, as a representative of Secretary of Defense Forrestal and the other Service agencies, to request that the committee recommend extension of current income tax exemptions as they apply to active duty personnel. ## A Day For Thought

Memorial Day

Sunday, Memorial Day 1948, in giant cities and in little hamlets alike, the people of the United States will pay tribute to those men who gave their lives for their country on fields of battle nearly around the world. The day is set aside in order that we, the living, may honor those valiant men who helped immeasurably to make our continuing freedom possible.

Those men who now rest in plots of land scattered around the world, who have been brought home, or who lie at the bottom of the sea cannot stand up and say, today, "We consecrated our lives to you, the living, that you might enjoy that which we would wish but may have no longer." Nor would they choose such high-sounding terms were they to speak.

Think as you will, say as you will, they did give their lives for us. Without their sacrifice, we might, even now, be mourning a different kind of victory, the enemy's. We are all of the human race. We love life and we wish to live. We can be unselfish, however, and it is in time of great national trial that the greatest unselfishness is found. Probably none of the dead of the war wished to die, but they were willing to do so if the call was made—as it was. They did not quail, they did not turn and run. They stood fast; and, in so doing, lost their lives and gained immortality. They were brave, they were heroes, they were Americans, they were of us. It is not easy to stand up to inhuman missiles nor is it easy to play a game of chance with death as a partner.

But what of us, the living. Many of us fought too. True! But we were not called upon to give our lives. We are now able to enjoy the freedom for which we fought. Oft-times some of us are here because a buddy is not. Tribute is continuously paid to those who fought and lived. Once a year, tribute is paid to those who fought and died.

In the turmoil of a great bustling world, we are apt to forget whereby we have gained our freedom, but we can remember on Memorial Day at least. In remembering, in paying tribute to the war dead, we increase our own stature while preserving a niche in our hearts for those who truly deserve the highest.

House Speaker Martin

Backs Bond Campaign

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of the House of Representatives, this week said the Security Loan Savings Bonds Campaign, now under way in every community in the nation, offers the opportunity for each citizen to stand up and be counted for the American way of life.

In a hard-hitting statement in support of the campaign "America's Security is Your Security," Speaker Martin said:

"The Security Loan, which is underway now throughout the country, offers the opportunity for each citizen to stand up and be counted for the American voluntary way of life.

"The worker who invests a portion of his or her weekly earnings in United States Savings Bonds is joining in a demonstration of faith in the security of a government dedicated to freedom.

"Whenever circumstances permit, Americans should not only sign up for regular bond buying through the Payroll Savings Plan where they work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan where they bank, but they should all volunteer to help sell Savings Bonds to their friends and neighbors.

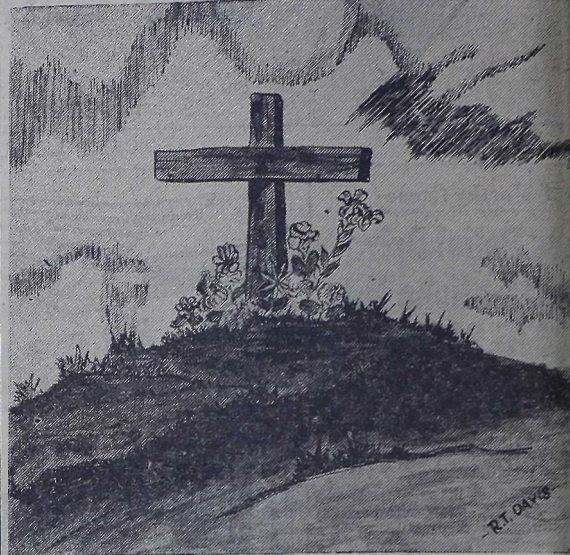

"Millions of Americans already know the actually pleasant feeling of a comfortable nestegg of Savings Bonds. Today purchase of more savings bonds has a country-serving purpose. Savings Bonds are security bonds because wise savings of income helps to fight spiraling prices of things needed for daily living. Let's all of us save together for our own future and the future of our nation.

"We bought war bonds for victory on the battlefield. Let's buy the Savings bonds because a free economy works better for the citizen's welfare than any slave economy in any police state. Our form of government is best by test."

1945, 12 Apr.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt died "unexpectedly" at the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia.

If you want to make sure you'll get there—and come through flying—stick with the Peacetime Payroll Savings Plan!

1945, May 21—Marine tanks drove into Wana village on Shuri's northern approaches, and rolled into the last ridge commanding Shuri. Flame-throwers and rifle-men mopped up.

Marine: "What do you do when a customer forgets his change?"
Bartender: "Oh, I always tap on the counter with a dollar bill."

The housewife went into a butcher shop late one afternoon, just before closing time, to buy some meat. A strange man followed her into the store and stood about while she was at the counter. Suddenly she screamed, and the man turned and ran out of the store, and right into the arms of a passing patrolman. On searching him he was found to be armed. Later he was identified as a notorious hold-up man.

"Mrs. Jones, if you hadn't screamed I would certainly have been robbed," declared the butcher gratefully. "But how did you know he was a bandit?"

"I didn't know," protested Mrs. Jones. "I screamed when you told me what the roast was going to cost!"

Chaplain: "Son, are you saving half of what you earn?"

Recruit: "No, sir, I don't get that much."

Soldier writing home: "I can't tell you where I am, but I can tell you I just killed a Polar bear."

In his second letter he says, "I moved and again I can't tell you where I am, but I can tell you I just danced with a hula dancer."

In his third letter he states, "I can't tell you where I am now either, but I can tell you this—if I had danced with the Polar bear and shot the hula dancer I wouldn't be where I am now."

"Eat your spinach, child, don't you know that it puts firm, white teeth in your mouth."

"Then feed it to Grandpa."

Child specialist giving advice to mother: "You'll have to handle this child carefully; remember you are dealing with a sensitive, high-strung little stinker!"

Wouldn't it be fine if all the guys that stopped buying cigarettes would stop smoking them.

Headline in the Lakeland, Fla., Ledger: "KING OF GREECE DIES UNEXPECTEDLY; PRINCE PAUL WILL GET THROWN."

"How many sailors work in your office?"

"About half."

The club bore was boasting of his ability to distinguish between different beverages. Finally one of the listeners took a flask from his pocket and asked the connoisseur to taste it and tell him what it was. The man tasted a mouthful and promptly spat it out. "Great Scott!" he said, "That's gasoline!"

"I know," came the bland reply. "But what brand?"

"How do you like our little town?"

Newcomer: "It is the first cemetery I ever saw with lights on it."

You haven't had a hangover, Mac, until you can't stand the noise a Bromo Seltzer makes.

Amphib Warfare School

Command Exercise Held At Onslow Beach Sunday

Onslow Beach again became an 'enemy' bastion Sunday for the purposes of a Command Post Exercise constituting the final examination for the Junior and Senior Classes, Amphibious Warfare School, Quantico, Virginia.

The purpose of the CPX was to present a comprehensive and practical school problem which would provide the students of the Amphibious Warfare School and of the Communication Officers' School with actual experience in the technique of planning and conducting an amphibious operation. Student officers participated in the solving of problems of command, coordination, and control as they confronted commanders and staffs in amphibious operations.

This year, for the first time, 2d lieutenants from the Basic School, Quantico, were observers of the exercise which was staged on a Corps echelon.

2D DIVISION PERSONNEL

Tactical Air Control parties from the 2d Division participated in the CPX as well as many communication personnel and Naval Gunfire parties. Officer observers from the division also witnessed the exercise.

Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, commandant of Marine Corps Schools, and Brig. Gen. Dudley S. Brown, assistant commandant of the Schools, observed the operations.

Mrs. Odom, principal speaker at the luncheon, stated that "the military is providing adequately for the material needs of our men. But our democracy—our American way of life as we know it and want it to continue—as our men have fought to preserve it—needs something else, the little personal services, that thing so trivially called the "home touch"; home-made candy, special music, home talent, plays, flowers, and laughter; and, the special birthday and holiday celebrations; an outing in private cars to a center of interest or community pride with some men's club acting as hosts; a picnic on the camp or hospital grounds; a miniature strawberry festival from Wallace, complete with all the trimmings; Bogue Sound watermelons; a tobacco auctioneer party in the hospital ward or recreation hall." The need being established.

Masonic Notice

Masons of Semper Fidelis Lodge No. 680 attended church services on Sunday, 23 May, 1948, at Midway Park, N. C. Services were conducted by Chaplain W. A. Taylor. A short speech and prayer was offered by Chaplain R. N. Stretch, a member of Semper Fidelis Lodge who has been assigned to sea duty. The brethren of Semper Fidelis wish Brother Stretch a very pleasant tour of duty aboard ship. Chaplain Stretch will be missed at our regular meetings and by the many friends he has made in this area during his tour duty at Camp Lejeune.

"... In any large program there must be a known, established, central channel through which to do effective work. . . . You consult the committee, or individual, or agency already functioning to determine the best way you can contribute what is most needed, and in what quantity. . . . It is the result in which we are primarily interested, not the channel, and so it is with our Volunteer Community Service to Camps and Hospitals. The American Red Cross, by Congressional Charter, and as an outgrowth of the efforts of that great visionary volunteer, Clara Barton, is already established at camps and hospitals. Because of their close relationship with the military, and by virtue of the confidence they have so richly earned, they are able to advise volunteers on the overall needs, and the best possible methods. . . . to fill the needs. Let us agree that the biggest and best job can be done, as elsewhere in our democracy, on a cooperative basis, utilizing established channels rather than by striving to superimpose an impeding and dividing channel for the total good," Mrs. Odom explained.

Concerning the continuing need for volunteer services, Mrs. Odom stated that "You do not have the right to encourage the draft, UMT, unless you are willing in some measure to make up to those boys and men some of the things which they have a right to expect which only the communities can provide. If organizations and individuals are not aware of the obligations to our neighbors at Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point, if they are not eager to make this small contribution of world peace, then you and I are falling down on the job of interpreting this program in our communities. Let's work out plans which will show our 15-county community to the best advantage in our efforts for these men—which will show us up as GOOD NEIGHBORS. It depends entirely, volunteers, on the way we present this program in our own communities, our own organizations. The responsibility rests squarely on our shoulders. I know you will go back into your communities and present this opportunity for service to your friends and neighbors—to all within talking distance, telephone, writing distance."

Mrs. Odom concluded by mentioning the hours of training a Gray Lady must receive before donning her uniform and asking, " . . . if you are not willing to give all the time and service she has given, then why not serve in this other way, providing the little personal touches which must come from outside."

expire on Dec. 31, 1948. Secretary Forrestal, however, is urging that the exemptions be continued until such time as Service pay is revised.

The other move concerning Service pay was made by Representative Martin of Iowa, a member of the committee and himself a retired Army officer, who asked that the amount of income tax exemption now given to those receiving retirement pay for disability be reduced by the amount of earned income received by the person during the year. Such personnel would be required not only to pay tax on what they earn outside, but would have that tax virtually doubled by removing the exemption from an equal amount of their retired pay or pension.

Goode, and Washington, who gave their lives in the torpedo sinking of the SS Dorchester and who were posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, graphically portray the sacrificial heroism of all our dead of this recent war and other wars.

A copy of the famous painting will be given to all attending the services at Camp Lejeune on Memorial Day Sunday. Chaplain McQuaid and Chaplain Barnes obtained these picture prints recently while attending the 17th Annual Conference of the Chaplain's Association of the Army and Navy of the United States, held in New York City.

Lejeune Fairway Artists Nip NAS Jacksonville, Fla.

Captain A. Hartman proved to be the big gun of the Camp Lejeune golf team last Saturday when he defeated HMC McDonald, last year's All-Inter-Service champion 4-up to provide the winning margin in the locals' 14 1-2 to 12 1-2 victory over NAS, Jacksonville, Florida. Lt. Colter of the Jacksonville sextet tied with Capt. Hartman for low score with a 2 over par 74.

M-Sgt. Adams suffered his first defeat of the year at the hands of the Naval Air Station's Lt. Grego who took a 78 to finish two up on Adams who had an 81.

The foursome of Adams, Capt. Hartman, Lt. Grego and McDonald finished in a 4 1-2 to 4 1-2 deadlock. The Lejeune men were two up on the first nine, but went two down on the last leg to even it up.

Sgt. Spencer and Lt. Anthony dropped their match to Lt. Colter and EM1 Scott of the Jacksonville squad 7 1-2 to 1 1-2. Each local player was one down going out and two down coming in. Spencer and Lt. Anthony shot excellent scores, 77 and 79, respectively, but the visitors were even better, carding a 74 and a 76.

Lt. Brock and HM1 Hornbuckle saved the day for Lejeune, taking their match 8 1-2 to 1-2. Lt. Brock shot a four over par 76 while Hornbuckle went him one better, carding a 75. Their opponents, Lt. Whistler and AD1 Faller each scored eighty-two to go five down on the match.

1st Camp-Division Swimming Tourney June 3rd And 4th

The first Camp-Division Swimming tournament is scheduled to take place Thursday and Friday, the third and fourth of June. The men taking firsts in the different events will not necessarily be the only ones chosen for the camp team. Any man who shows up good in the water, and has promise as a swimmer or a diver will be closely watched by the coach, Lt. Draeger.

Last year the Camp Lejeune squad won the All-Navy tournament and a team is needed that will be able to defend the crown. Submit your name to Lt. Switzer, Division Athletic Officer in Bldg. 317, Phone 5106, before 1630, Tuesday, 1 June.

Lejeune Nine Clips Flyers' Wings 3 Times In Row

ANDERSON, LEJEUNE'S LEFT FIELDER, who hit safely four times out of six trips to the plate, crosses first and goes on to second on the only extra base knock, outside of Woods' home run, in the Cherry Point game last Thursday. Johnson who had singled a moment before, moved to third and scored the last run of the game when Woods, who went five for six at the plate, singled. (Photo by Pfc. Sage).

WATSON, CHERRY POINT'S SECOND BASEMAN sliding into third safe after Green, the Flyer's first sacker, flied out to center field. Watson scored a moment later as the Lejeune catcher threw to second trapping the runner who was trying to steal, between the bases. The runner was tagged for the third out, but Watson crossed the plate just seconds before the tag. This was Cherry Point's only run of the day. Messenheimer (No. 1) is the Lejeune third baseman. ## H&S Bn., Camp, Med. Dep. Co., VMO-1, 1st AAA, SupSchSupDepNavHos Nines Win In Intra-Mural

The first week of the Camp Lejeune intra-mural baseball schedules witnessed an assortment of tight, well-played ball games. The pitching in most of the games was outstanding, and considering the fact that it is still very early in the season, the hitting is sharp and the fielders are playing almost errorless ball.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Wed., May 19—H&S Bn., Camp scored a run in the last half of the seventh inning to break a 1 to 1 tie and down Montford Point 2 to 1. Frances and Duaray chucked two-hit ball for H&S, and Mann turned in an excellent job behind the plate.

Thurs., May 20—Medium Depot Co. and the 2d Tank Bn. battled for eight innings on the Tent Camp diamond before the Depot Co. managed to squeeze across a run in the extra stanza to defeat the Tanks 9 to 8.

Fri., May 21—VMO-1 and the 10th Marines engaged in what was definitely a pitcher's battle. VMO-1 bunched four hits to score the only run of the game against Bob McNeal, who only last Monday pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the 16th Marines. The Flyer's moundsman, Gemmill, almost turned the tables on McNeal as he rationed the 10th Marines only one hit, and kept the 10th's sluggers bottled up throughout the game. Sgt. Nokes, who caught an excellent game for VMO-1, was the big gun at the plate, banging out two of the four hits garnered off of McNeal. Final score: VMO-1—1, 10th Marines—0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tues., May 18—4th Marines vs. 2d AmTracBn—Postponed. No date set as yet.

Wed., May 19—1st AAA defeated the 2d ComSerGrp nine to six on baseball diamond No. 1. The winning pitcher was Chaplain Felder. Losing pitcher, Leddy.

Thurs., May 20—The SupSchSupDepNavHos squad won the only one-sided game of the week from the 2d Medical Bn., 14 to 1. SupSchSupDepNavHos slapped out ten safeties, five of them for extra bases to pile up their runs. Although the Medical Bn. hit Korzon for five base knocks, they were able to score only one run. The winning pitcher was Korzon. Losing pitcher, Kaiser.

Golf Schedule

All prizes will be issued in the form of Post Exchange Chits to enable the winners to purchase whatever they so desire.

31 May—Memorial Day Flag tournament:

1st prize	$12.00
2nd prize	10.00
3rd prize	8.00
4th prize	6.00
5th prize	4.00

Total prizes $40.00

Locals Run Win Streak To Eight; May Represent Dist. In All-Navy

Cogsdell Won Fourth Lightning Class Race In Succession Sunday

M-Sgt. B. A. Cogsdell again showed only the stern of his Lightning Class sailboat to the field of six as he crossed the finish line first for the fourth successive time this year. He now has a grand total of sixty points piled up for the Memorial Day Regatta.

Colonel R. B. Lucky piloted his Lightning across the finish marker in second place to compile 19 points toward the Regatta.

Lt. Col. O'Halloran of H&S Bn. placed third to bring his total up to 56 points, only four behind Cogsdell.

Cpl. J. J. Brehemy of the 2d ComSerGrp copped seventeen more points by taking the fourth spot in last Sunday's races and brought his total points up to 49.

Cpl. C. O. Berg of the 2nd Eng. Bn. placed fifth in the races but holds down the third place spot in the standings with fifty points.

Pfc. P. V. Kelson, H&S Bn., Division, copped fifteen points toward next weekend's Regatta, taking sixth place.

There were no entries in the Town Class race last weekend. Pfc. Melloy of the 2d Eng. Bn. and Pvt. Miller of Supply Schools Bn. each have twenty points, and the race between these two if they enter the Regatta should be something to watch.

Philadelphia Athletics' Lou Brissie May Prove To Be Rookie Of The Year

(AFPS)—The world of sports contains many ex-servicemen and more than a few of them are making a record for themselves. One in particular, Lou Brissie, is presently a rookie pitcher with the Philadelphia Athletics. Whether or not he makes good is still to be seen, but his story is worth telling regardless of whether he makes good.

Lou had been scouted prior to the war, but before his big break came, the 6-foot-4-inch, 215 left-hander from South Carolina had joined Uncle Sam's "big team."

It was in Italy that Corporal Lou Brissie's career was nearly finished before it really got started. In action with a mountain infantry outfit, he was hit by a shell burst and wounded in twenty places. Shell fragments tore his hands and right shoulder. Both feet and his left leg were broken and his left ankle was smashed. His port side was so badly torn up it looked like curtains for his pitching career. Doctors gave Brissie little encouragement. They advised amputation of the left leg, saying that otherwise he would be hospitalized indefinitely and would have to undergo numerous operations. Even then there would be little chance for complete recovery. Lou decided to take that chance.

Twenty-three operations were performed on the injured ball player and over two years was spent in hospital beds. Then, on pass from an Army hospital, Brissie hobbled into Shibe Park to see Connie Mack. He was still on crutches, but promised Mr. McGillicuddy that he would see him in Florida the following Spring.

When the Athletics and Connie Mack arrived in the Southland last year, there was Brissie—minus the crutches—but wearing a shin guard over his bad leg.

That leg was his downfall last Spring. During the pre-season exhibition games Lou was good for only an inning or two before it weakened and caused him to lose control. Mack farmed him out to Savannah where, as his leg began to strengthen, his sharp curve and blazing fast ball began to win

Last Sunday afternoon the Camp Lejeune baseball team stretched their win streak to eight straight and a season's total of 14 wins and one loss. Behind the steady pitching of "Buckets" Bourbeau, the locals clipped the Cherry Point Flyers' wings for the fourth time this season 8 to 3, on Cherry Point Cushman Field.

The series with Cherry Point now stands at 4 to 1 in our favor. Lejeune has to take only one more game to qualify for entry into the Fifth Naval District elimination prior to the All-Navy tournament.

The Point jumped off to a one-run lead in the first game, putting an error by the usually reliable Link, a walk, a stolen base and a missed third strike together to tally the score.

Camp Lejeune capitalized on the Cherry Point miscues in the fourth and sent three runs across when Messenheimer led off the inning getting hit by a pitched ball. Fairchild laid down a beautiful bunt and continued all the way around to third when Pinnicchio overthrew the first base. Messenheimer scored on the play. Fairchild scored the second and run of the inning when the Flyers' second baseman bobbled a Hubany's hard-hit grounder. Hubany went all the way to third. Bourbeau sacrificed Hubany home to score the third run.

In the fifth, Woods singled, well placed to second on Frezza's infield out and scored on Messenheimer's bunt over second. Messenheimer came home on an error by Santoro.

"Andy" Anderson proved the Fairchild isn't the only one who can steal home and get away with it, when he pulled the trick in the top half of the sixth inning. The fleet little left fielder was safe on a fielders choice and went all the way to third on Pasquale's error. As Pinnicchio made the mistake of taking a full windup, Andy took off from third and slid under the catcher safely.

Two more Camp Lejeune runs came in the ninth when Schnupp doubled, Frezza walked and Messenheimer sent a line drive single into left which the fielder missed allowing Schnupp and Frezza to go all the way around.

Lejeune took a twin bill from the Flyers on the Hadnot Point diamond last Wednesday and Thursday, 7 to 5 and 14 to 1.

After blowing an early five-run lead in the first game, the locals scored two runs in the eighth inning to give Bob Burns his third win of the season without a loss. Camp Lejeune scored one run in the third, three in the fourth, and one in the fifth to lead the way to five to nothing.

Cherry Point scored four runs in the sixth and one in the seventh to even it up, but two walks, a double and an error pushed two local runs across the plate in the eighth.

eight to make the winning margin.

The Camp batters definitely had their hitting hats on in the second game as they slammed three Flyer pitchers for eighteen hits and fourteen runs.

Bob Johnson allowed the Cherry Point team five scattered hits and one run to mark up his third win of the current season to no losses.

The only dark spot for the Camp Lejeune nine occurred at Cherry Point when their ace fireball hurler, Bob Burns was rushed to the hospital with acute appendicitis during the game. His condition is not known at this writing.

Details For All-Navy Softball, Swimming And Tennis Championship Tilts Announced

Details for two All-Navy championship tilts scheduled for late this summer have been announced.

The All-Navy swimming and diving finals are slated to begin the week of 22 Aug. 1948. Each of the eight geographical areas the Navy has been sliced into for athletic competition will be permitted to send the swimmers who win first place in each of the events at the area eliminations. This means that about 64 swimmers and eight divers will take part in the All-Navy finals. There they will churn through the 1500 meters swim, 200 meters free style, 100 meters backstroke, 200 meters breaststroke, 400 meters freestyle, 800 meters freestyle, 100 meters freestyle and the 300 meters individual medley swim. Divers will demonstrate the three meters springboard dive. The finals will be held at Philadelphia, Pa.

Com 3 will act as host for the All-Navy softball championship opening of the intra-mural baseball schedule and with the softball season which will open June the 1st, summer is in full swing here at Camp Lejeune.

Third and fourth of June, Lt. D. F. Draeger of the 4th Marine started organizing the Camp-Division swimming and diving tournament, the survivors of the tournament that will be held at the swimming pool on that date.

The chance for you aqua-Marines to show your stuff to an All-Navy swimming and diving team will go to the All-Navy in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania the week of the 22nd of June. They get through the preliminaries. So come out and get in.

McNeal of the 10th Marines said farewell to the Marine big way last week when he pitched a no-hit, no-run game to the 16th Marines in the first game of the intra-mural baseball. Bob was discharged last Friday, and his loss will be felt by his team.

Intra-mural softball leagues will open their season the 1st of June from almost every outfit on the base participating. This will be run on the same order as baseball, but the softball will have more games as there will be a greater number of teams.

Camp baseball team continues to ride at the top of the this writing, their record since the opening of the official season at 10 wins and one loss. The only real test the Lejeune come up against this year has been the squad from Cherry Point managed to split a double header with the locals.

Known quantity this year is the Quantico Marine base team. Look now, last year's All-Navy champions will be Lejeune's. How our team stacks up against them will remain a mystery until the 19th of June when these two teams will play a twin tilt. We have our fingers crossed.

Camp golf team again walked off the 18th green with a lopsided win in their pockets. The Chincoteague, Virginia golfers have a chance against the local fairway artists, as the score indicates. Even without the services of Capt. Ellis who is at the base on duty in New Jersey, and Sgt. Spencer who is at the base on duty, the Camp squad measures up with the best.

High not regarded as an official team, four members of the Lejeune tennis squad played the Wilmington tennis club in a match last Saturday afternoon. The results are not known at this writing, but this match should give the players some idea of how they stack up against outside competition.

Capt. Cogswell won his fourth Lightning Class sailboat race in the last week. Cogswell and his crew have already piled up wins toward the Memorial Day Sweepstakes to be run off the 1st of May. Let's have a few of you veteran sailors out there on the water and see if you can't break their winning streak.

Let's have the batting and pitching averages of the Camp Lejeune squad up to and including Saturday, May 22:

'They Test The Jets' Is Feature Article In June Issue Of Gazette

"Just when jet-propelled planes of supersonic speed completely eliminate aircraft with reciprocating engines is problemetical and debatable. But you can rest assured that when all conventional engines are given the "deep six" the Marine Corps will have detailed information regarding the latest jet planes, their uses and capabilities," says Major James A. Pounds, III, in his article, They Test The Jets, which appears in the June issue of the Marine Corps Gazette.

Major Pounds continues by saying " . . . A large portion of the data will come from first-hand, on-the-scene reports rendered by the Marine Aviation Detachment, Naval Air Test Center, Patuxent River, Maryland.

"This small Marine detachment of 11 officers and 23 men sends the Marine Corps an average of five reports each week covering the latest performance data on new aircraft and the newest wrinkles on old aircraft like the familiar F8F and P4U.

"These reports flow weekly to Headquarters, Marine Corps, with copies to the 1st and 2d Marine Air Wings and the technical schools at Quantico. They cover everything from engineering details of planes through their flight capabilities to detailed information on repair and maintenance. Many changes in specifications on navy aircraft originate from recommendations in these reports.

"The Marine Air Detachment, Patuxent River, is a combination liaison and intelligence unit. It acts as liaison group between Naval Air Test Center and the Aviation Section, Headquarters, Marine Corps; and, secondly, it performs as intelligence mission in that it gathers information and assists in evaluating it. The detachment itself is an administrative unit only and assigns its personnel to the test center for operational control. The Marine personnel aid in the various test projects and prepare their reports from personnel experience plus information prepared by navy fliers and technicians.

"Five basic test divisions comprise the test center, commanded by Rear Admiral Apollo Soucek, one of the Navy's pioneer aviators. The five divisions are Flight Test, Service Test, Tactical Test, Electronics Test, and Armament Test. At each of these divisions the Marine Aviation Detachment maintains both pilots and mechanics to participate in, record and report on the latest developments in naval aviation and aircraft.

" . . . Probably the most important contributions this detachment makes to the Marine Corps is the practical training of personnel who will be available to train other Marines, and providing technical advice to the Marine Air Wings when the Marine Corps first procures the new types of aircraft and equipment."

Good grief, a couple of weeks back, and it seems almost as if it was an hour ago, we pried open the beginning of another diamond season. At one time we thought that the hot Oregon primary would never come off. That, like Matt Winn's Derby, belongs to history. Now, it's time for the 32nd running of the Indianapolis-500 speedway classic in the heart of Hoosierville. Backward roll backward O' time in thy flight.

The battle of the macadam won't be until next Monday and already one death has resulted from trying to gain gold and glory. Ralph Hepburn, definitely one of America's foremost gasmobile jet pilots, died on the oval, Sunday, May 16. The outlook at best for anyone is rather moribund when he climbs into his gas scooter.

Bill Slater will be the chief announcer and at least seven individual aircasting crews will be assigned to the WJNC-Mutual airing of the classic next Monday.

A special glass-enclosed booth has been installed in the main grandstand of the oval speedway to house the major MBS broadcasting operations for the day. It will be from that booth that Slater will make his running commentary on the approximately five hour long auto racing classic, giving all the necessary statistics as the cars lap the two and one-half mile track in their races against time. From there, too, he will call in the announcers spotted strategically around the oval at the four dangerous turns, on the backstretch, in the pits, where the cars pull in for refueling and immediate, necessary repairs, and at "Victory Lane," into which the winning car is flagged after it completes its 200th lap.

WJNC will bring you the start at 11:45 to 12:15 EDT. The second broadcast will be 1:30 to 1:45 EDT. Third 3:30 to 3:45 and the winner should be in between 4:30 to 4:45. However, these times could change so I'd advocate just kept tuned to 1240 during the day and you won't miss a lap.

On Wednesday afternoon Supply School Bn. played with another victory for Trailer Park, score of 11 to 1. That old teamwork is getting results.

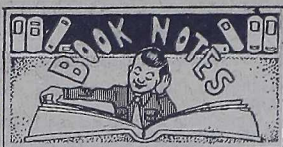

Anyone wishing to schedule a game with Trailer Park please contact Sgt. Pressley or the Project Service Office, telephone 3128.

Saturday, 29 May will be dance night in "Rec Hall". By the large attendance we know you are enjoying the dances which are sponsored by the Community Council. There is no charge made for these dances.

Gallant Quartet

As the stamp itself proclaims, this is interfaith in action. A new three-cent stamp will commemorate the sinking of the S. S. Dorchester with the four gallant Chaplains aboard. As pictured here, they are, left to right: George L. Fox, Clark V. Poling, John P. Washington, and Alexander D. Goode. Postmaster Jesse M. Donaldson released descriptions of the stamp on April 14, and it will be released in Washington tomorrow.

The books reviewed in this column may be found in the Camp Libraries Office in Building 62.

ADMIRAL HALSEY'S STORY by W. F. Halsey and Joseph Bryan. The author calls this a report, not an autobiography. He tells of his early life in the Naval Academy but the years 1940-1945 occupy most of the book. Admiral Halsey has injected enough of his colorful personality and character into the narrative to make it fascinating reading.

FUN WITH YOUR CAMERA by Jacob Deschlin—The photography editor of the N. Y. Times has written a practical and informative book for both the novice and the more advanced amateur. The text is filled with many suggestions and instructions.

The following information is for the guidance of personnel who intend to vote by absentee ballot in this year's elections. Laws governing eligibility to vote in the state to which application is made should be consulted.

Wisconsin—Holds federal, state and local primary and general elections. Ballots for primary should be received before 21 September to be counted. General election ballots must be received before 2 November.

Washington—Holds federal, state and local primary. Ballots will not be mailed earlier than 20 August and will not be counted if received after 24 September (must be postmarked before 14 September). Those voting by absentee ballot, both military and civilian, must be registered voters of the state. Registration must be made in person.

Arizona—Holds federal, state and local primary and general elections. Ballots for primary will not be mailed earlier than 9 August and must be received by 7 September to be counted. For general election, ballots will not be mailed earlier than 4 October and will not count if received after 2 November. Civilians outside continental U. S. may not apply for ballot by military form but must apply to county recorder of the county in which registered.

Civilian Personnel Guide

ATTENTION ALL CLERK-TYPISTS AND STENOGRAPHERS

The examination announcement for the positions of typists and stenographers, CAF-2 through CAF-4, is still open. All employees appointed under War Service Regulations and those serving with temporary appointments are subject to displacement as soon as the U. S. Civil Service Commission is able to establish adequate registers. It is therefore in the interest of all concerned to immediately file for probational examination.

Many employees have taken the examination before and failed to qualify; others have passed the test but are not within reach on the register. However, this does not prohibit either group from taking the test again in an effort to become eligible or attain a higher rating.

All employees working in either of these categories who have not acquired a competitive Civil Service status are urged to file application with the Regional Director, Fourth U. S. Civil Service Region, Temporary Building "R", Third Street and Jefferson Drive, S. W., Washington 25, D. C., at once. Application blanks may be obtained from the Industrial Relations Office, Building No. 33, Main Gate, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

CIVILIAN AWARDS

Did you know that the NCPI makes provisions for awards for outstanding service by civilian employees of the Navy and Marine Corps? The Navy has established two types of awards for officially recognizing outstanding performance of its civilian employees regardless of their work assignments. These are: Distinguished Civilian Service Award. This is the highest award and is made by the Secretary of the Navy. The award consists of an appropriate lapel emblem and certificate signed by the secretary. Meritorious Civilian Service Award—This is the second highest award for civilian service and is made by heads of Naval and Marine Corps activities. The award consists of an appropriate lapel emblem and a certificate signed by the head of the activity.

SAFETY NOTES

1. Do not smoke, use an open flame, or create sparks where gasoline is stored or being used.
2. Keep only enough gasoline at the work-place for immediate needs, in an approved safety can with self-closing cover.
3. Ventilate the work-place thoroughly; work in the open air, if possible.
4. Do not use gasoline to clean tools, machine parts, or clothing. Never wash hands or arms with it, for the solvent removes the essential oils from the skin and sometimes causes skin irritations.
5. Immediately remove clothing that has become soaked with gasoline; otherwise, an inflamed and sore skin may result. Put gasoline-soaked rags in metal waste cans.

6. Remember: Gasoline

es at temperatures as degrees below zero, and pates from low places vapor may be ignited at a considerable distance source, and may cause sion back at the point vapor originated.

VETERANS NEWS

The journeyman's wage is a key factor in determining veterans training or under the GI Bill will increase in subsistence as a result of the recent law raising income ceiling. According to Paul W. Officer-in-Charge of the Veterans Administration, the journeyman's wage is new ceiling it will be the wage factor. If the journeyman's wage equals or exceeds ceiling, then the ceiling deciding factor.

The principal effect of law was to raise the ceiling total monthly income could have before losing to draw full subsistence from VA. For an ex-serviceman with one dependent, the ceiling was $175 to $200; for one with two dependents, the ceiling was $200 to $270; for one with three dependents, the ceiling was $270 to $320.

Maximum monthly allowances for veterans training the job under the GI Bill as they were. They are $60 for an ex-serviceman with no dependents or $90 for one with one dependent.

If a veteran's income from sources combined with subsistence is restricted, he is earning $200 a month, he is allowed to draw his full allowance if the journeyman on his job equalled or exceeded the new ceiling of $290 a month. He could draw a month allowance because amount, plus his earnings bring him up to the ceiling the ceiling is the determining factor.

But assume the journeyman's wage on his job is $250 a month; that case, the veteran could only a $20 allowance since all that would be necessary to him up to the journeyman's wage in this case, the journeyman's wage is the determining factor. The journeyman's wage for the trainee by the National State Department of Instruction which is responsible for approving training institutions the state of North Carolina wage set is that normally by a worker fully trained in the field. In other words, it is toward which the trainee in VA is required to abide figure.

Winpro, Spartas, and others are available at prices which make owning a camera no longer a luxury. Film for these cameras is to be found at the same counter but it sells so rapidly and is still so scarce that it is to your advantage to check frequently for your size.

In addition to all the staple items which are so necessary for a well-ordered barracks and home life, Central offers an extremely large variety of luxury and gift items, household aids, and recreational assistants to add to the graciousness of Lejeune living.

The cosmetics counter carries such well-known lines as LaCross, Revlon, Herb Farm, Black Satin, Wrisley, Max Factor, MaiHaiti, Old Spice and Ellyn Deliet.

Adjacent to this counter is a department which is especially interesting to wives and daughters of military personnel stationed at Camp Lejeune. Here the ladies will find all manner of things for personal wear, as well as a large assortment of items which will be of great assistance in the home-making projects which are their chief concern in life. Plastic table cloths, excellent for summer use, are priced at only $1.65. Pillow cases represent a real bargain at 50 cents each and curtains in gay patterns are priced at $1.50, $1.75 and $4.20. Handbags of all types are available in a price range which starts at $2.20 and climbs an ascending scale to $46.50. Ladies' panties are priced at $1.00, 80 cents, and 75 cents. Kerchiefs, to keep the Carolina sun from causing havoc, are priced at $2.75. For more gracious tables, to make your entertaining a colorful event, your Exchange offers luncheon sets and bridge sets which are variously priced at $3.75, $2.60 and $1.45.

In the housewares section at Central may be found many aids to an easier way of life during Lejeune's warm months. To add more 'backyard' time and subtract from the necessary kitchen time, Central's housewares counter offers every possible aid to busy housewives and mothers. Pressure cookers, which will cut your cooking time by more than half, are offered in the $10.00 price range, approximately one-third below the usual retail price for these excellent utensils.

At this counter also will be found hundreds of small items, which space does not permit listing, and whose value can be appreciated only upon inspection.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

At Central's radio and gift counter, you will find outstanding values in radios, record player combinations, and phonograph albums. There are Zeniths, Sonoras, Garods, Motorolas, Fadas, and others whose names are their guarantee of excellent performance. On the shelves behind the counter you will find albums by the Andrew Sisters, the ever-popular Bing Crosby, Al Jolson, and many other artists whose names are synonymous with the best in current popular music.

Education And Self-Discipline Necessary—Secretary Forrestal

(AFPS)—Religion, discipline and education play vital roles in the laws governing civilian society. They are even more important to the military way of life.

Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal emphasized this point recently when he spoke to more than 400 persons at the Chaplains Association of the Army and Navy in the grand ballroom of the New Yorker Hotel, New York City.

The Chaplains, attending their 17th annual conference, were paid high tribute by the Secretary when he said, "you have made a great and enduring contribution to the building of American character with your simple and unpretentious guidance."

A short time before, the great ballroom had echoed to the mass invocation of The Lord's Prayer, conducted by Chaplain James V. Chapool, USNR. Now the audience listened attentively as Secretary Forrestal explained what the Services seek in a good soldier.

"Moral rectitude, spiritual strength and self-discipline are sought," he said, "because they are the basic and essential qualities of a good soldier, sailor or airman, just as they are the essential qualities of a good citizen."

Mr. Forrestal pointed out that our Armed Forces are the best informed in the world and that education and information programs keep the members of the services abreast of changing world conditions.

"If we can endow the young men who are to be the future leaders of our nation with the concept of this transmission of knowledge expresses," the Defense Secretary said, "then I think we can have high hopes our Forces of the future will be fully aware of the country they fight for."

No other nation is seeking as diligently as the United States to educate their men, Mr. Forrestal declared, noting that many men in the war-time Army lacked even the most rudimentary understanding of world affairs.

"Our purpose is to produce educated and self-disciplined men in all ranks of the Service," Mr. Forrestal continued, adding "the educated man who has never learned to discipline himself will evade the patient purpose of the warrior."

With men in the Army, Navy and Air Force being kept fully informed of what is going on in the world, the Defense Chief expressed his confidence in their ability to keep our democratic institutions alive permitting no subtle, subversive influences to destroy them.

Editorial From New York Times

The Chaplains Meet

There has been held this week in New York City the seventeenth annual conference of the Chaplains Association of the Army and Navy of the United States. In their discussions these men gave a demonstration of religious unity that was heartening to observers. Catholics, Protestants and Jews, representing chaplains of both World Wars, active, reserve and retired, of every branch of the service, the Merchant Marine and the Veterans Association, made no sacrifice of theological concept, but demonstrated that spiritual values in a free society flow through all forms of religion.

Only the most friendly spirit was manifest throughout the conference. Men who had shared common dangers found a common denominator in the problems of youth, marriage, housing or homesickness that affect the men who are their spiritual charges. All are deeply concerned with the solution of these difficult questions. They pooled their experiences for the benefit of each other.

The chaplains reported that although religious ceremonial or methods may differ, men of all faiths or of little faith are developing religious consciousness in the shattering experiences of war and post-war. The challenge of the prevailing secular ideologies is so powerful that men need more than ever today the inner certainty of religious experience. It is, therefore, vital to our way of life that the chaplains should inculcate in their men religious and ethical values to give drive and dynamism to the building of a new world on strong spiritual foundations.

Plan Super Carrier; Would Give Bombers 1,700 Mile Range

WASHINGTON (AFPS)—A super aircraft carrier, almost half again the size of any now afloat, bulwarks a new Navy construction program which emphasizes a switch from battleship, cruiser and destroyer type vessels to guided missile ships, better submarines and enemy submarine "killers."

The proposed giant aircraft carrier which has been in planning since 1946 is projected as a 65,000-ton vessel which would be able to base planes far at sea, capable of covering a 1,700 mile radius even with heavy A-bomb loads.

TOP LEVEL APPROVAL GIVEN

Plans for the earliest possible starting of construction of the super-carrier have already been backed by the House Armed Services subcommittee and Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, who told the committee that such new ships must have a high priority "because of the more immediate need for them in the event of an emergency." To hasten start of construction on the 65,000-ton giant, Mr. Sullivan said that the Navy wants to halt construction of other vessels now being built.

Testimony before the subcommittee disclosed that the waterline length of the proposed carrier would be about 1,030 feet and that over-all it would be some ten feet longer than the former luxury liner Normandie, recorded as the largest ever afloat.

MIGHT BUILD IN 30 MONTHS

The seagoing air-base would cost nearly $200 million, and while under normal conditions it might take approximately four years to build, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, Chief of Naval Operations, indicated that it might be completed in about 30 months under emergency conditions.

Anticipating any possible opposition to the building of such a large carrier on the grounds that it would be an easy mark for air attack, Navy spokesmen pointed out that experience in World War II disproved that premise.

In all the fighting of the last war by 29 major carriers, only three fleet carriers and two smaller ones were lost and none of them were sunk by land-based planes. At Okinawa, the Navy said, the Japs lost 7,830 fighters of which about half were shot down by the American Fleet. In the three months during which the carriers were engaged in almost continuous combat, the Japanese lost the nearly 8,000 planes and their crews but did not sink a single American carrier, battleship, cruiser or transport.

MCI Course Makes 'Sign On Dotted Line' Safe Real Estate Procedure

"Sign on the dotted line." Stop and read! Landlord and tenant must know the contents of the form to protect their interests. When they enter into a rental contract must recognize the rights and duties of the persons concerned, the Marine who owns or rents a house must know the responsibility as well as his rights and privilege.

Property ownership, the center of a man's social and economic life, brings security, if the owner accepts fully and intelligently the responsibility of maintaining and managing his property. To do this he must understand the rudiments of real estate—the purposes and uses of contracts, leases, liens, mortgages and the various forms of insurance.

Knowledge of the rights and duties of the buyer and the seller and the part played by the broker in leasing and transferring real property leads to intelligent transactions and purchases. Sound information of the real estate business is as important for the man who has a small apartment as well as for the wealthy owner of several houses. Such knowledge enables him to protect his property and insure his future security.

LATEST REGULATIONS

The new Marine Corps Institute course, Fundamentals of Real Estate, recently written and based on the text Real Estate, Principles and Practices, by Philip A. Benson and Nelson L. North, will provide Marines with practical information to guide them in their real estate ventures.

Details of the many aspects of buying, registering of titles, and holding of property cover the essential points of home ownership.

The latest laws and regulations affecting veteran real estate transactions are summarized and examined. It contains sample contracts, leases, liens, and title abstracts which owner will encounter.

This course is designed as a broad and intensive real estate matters. No practical knowledge of the field, yet the business man as the beginner, will be the study of this course of 22 lessons. The course is fully from definition of basic functions and procedures.
