Second Division Units Congratulated On Excellent Liberty Conduct By Kingston Jamaica Newspaper

Ten battalions and separate battalion detachments of the Second Marine Division stand to be congratulated with a "well done" as a result of a commendatory article appearing in a British West Indies newspaper last month.

The various deserving units were stationed aboard the USS Fremont when it docked at Kingston, Jamaica, following the recent amphibious maneuvers in the Caribbean area. During the four-day liberty period in Kingston, all hands aboard the Fremont made such an impression on the townspeople and especially the local press that, shortly after the ship departed, the following article was printed in The Kingston Daily Gleaner, one of the leading newspapers of the British West Indies:

"The behaviour of the United States Marines and sailors who were here last week, 2,500 strong, was so exceptionally good that it warrants comment and congratulations. The men made merry in town, saw the sights, patronized our shops and bars, and we cannot remember a single previous occasion when so many behaved so well. It showed that behind the scenes somewhere a first class job of discipline and organization had been done."

A copy of the above article was sent to Major General Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of the Second Division, by the Commander of the Naval Operating Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Last week a Force Memorandum was received from Headquarters, FMF Atlantic adding "Well Done" to all concerned. Lt. General Keller E. Rockey, CG, FMF Atlantic, was an observer during the maneuvers.

The following units were aboard the Fremont while it was docked at Kingston: the First AAA Battalion, the Second Medical Battalion, the Second Maintenance Battalion, Headquarters and Service Battalion of the Second Combat Service Group; and battalion detachments from the Second Engineer Battalion, the Second Supply Battalion, the Second General Support Group, the Sixteenth Marines, the Tenth Marines, and the following companies of Division Headquarters and Service Battalion: MP Company, Service Company, Signal Company and the Band Section.

Marine Underwater Swimmers Operate In Alaskan Waters

The Marines, trained during the war, operated from submarines and encountered ice four inches thick and slush ranging up to six inches. After completing underwater demolition operations, the men were able to remain in the 28-degrees-above-zero water for more than an hour. They wore rubber suits over long underwear and coated their faces with petroleum jelly.

It was pointed out that not even during the war did these teams operate so far north. The teams were developed by the Marine Corps to blast obstacles in pre-invasion operations, clearing beaches to facilitate landing of troops.

1904, 11 Apr.—Marines were dispatched from San Francisco to Midway Island to enforce the continuing of work on the Pacific cable then being laid.

Onslow Beach And Facilities Open Saturday

Onslow Beach and all bathing facilities open for the summer season Saturday for all military personnel, their families and guests. Civilian employees, families, and accompanying guests will be permitted to use the civilian recreation facilities at the beach.

Proper identification will be shown to the sentry on the Inland Waterway Bridge.

A lifeguard will be on duty from 1000 to 2000 on weekdays and from 0800 to 2030 on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays.

WORD OF CAUTION

The attention of all hands is invited to the fact that danger always exists when swimming in the surf. This is particularly true at Onslow Beach where the combination of surf and undertow makes swimming dangerous except in waters protected by lifeguards.

Swimmers at Onslow Beach are also forbidden to swim beyond the point where the surf breaks. See BEACH OPENING on Page 6

Danger!

Parents residing in Midway Park, Paradise Point, and at the U. S. Naval Hospital are requested to forcefully instruct their children not to run and play in the fog generated by the mobile fog trucks used by Malaria Control. This practice by the children is extremely dangerous. In the confusion of noise and darkness, a child might easily be run over by the fog generator or a passing car. The risk is not worth accepting.

Swingtime At The Pavilion

Several couples swing out to the music of the 2d Division dance orchestra during the dance at Marston Pavilion last Thursday. The sixteen-piece division orchestra under the direction of TSgt. Holt rendered rhythms both sweet and hot to suit the tastes of both the Marines and their partners from local cities. "Tiny" Hare handled the vocals. The Pavilion will be the scene of a regular dance on the first and third Thursdays each month. In addition, the Pavilion is now open every Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and holidays for enlisted personnel and their ladies.

No. 2 Golf Course At Paradise Point Opens 8 May

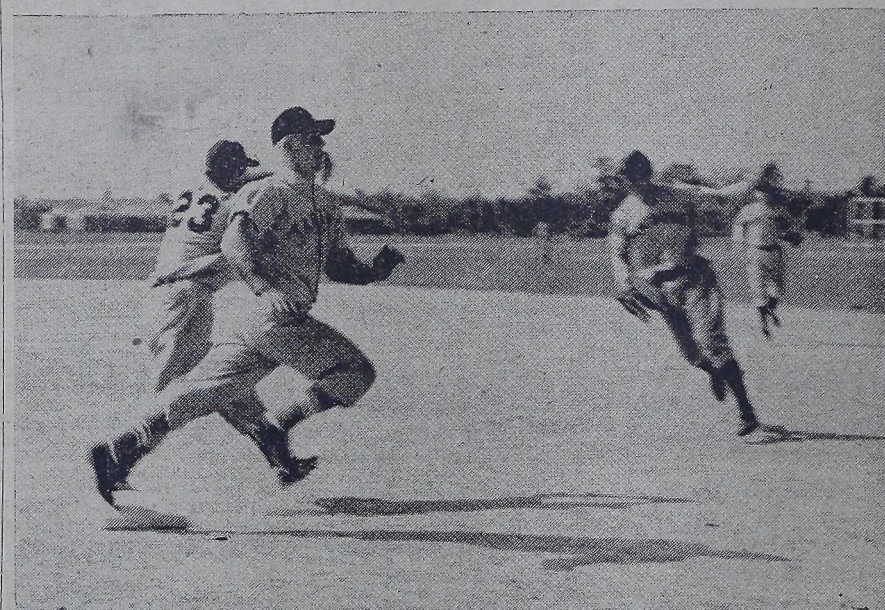

After extensive repairs and improvements, the No. 2 golf course at Paradise Point will be open to all personnel Saturday, May the 8th.

This course differs from the No. 1 links a great deal. Although shorter by 400 yards, these eighteen holes prove a great test for any golfer. The par for the No. 2 course is 71 compared to No. 1's 72.

First Boating Regatta Of '48 Season Will Take Place Sunday

The first regatta of the season will be held at the Wallace Creek Boat House this coming Sunday. Events of this regatta are open to all personnel here at Camp Lejeune. Judging from the popularity of the boat house, it is anticipated that there will be a large turnout. For the past two Sundays practice races of the Lightning Class and Town Class sailboats have been held; and, based on these practice races, the Sunday races should provide keen competition.

Entry blanks for the various races are now on hand at the boat house and you can either drop down there and sign up for the events you wish to enter, or phone the boat house, 3601, and leave

Perme, Camp Lejeune catcher, safe at first as the Pawtucket first baseman juggles the ball in the Pawtucket-Camp Lejeune baseball game last Saturday. Diaz advanced to third base on this error, but the next batter, Cawley, who pinch-hit for Burns, failed to bring him home as he grounded out pitcher to first for the third out.

Inter-Squad Football Game 1400 Saturday

Camp Lejeune terminates its spring football practice with an inter-squad game on the Hadnot Point gridiron Saturday at 1400. This game marks the end of over a month's intensive drills and promises to show the spectators some top-flight football.

Head Coach, Major J. C. Missar, has drilled his charges in the T and variations of the single wing formations, and has several fast and shifty backs that can make these complicated systems work. Quarterback Ptak, halfback Hipps and fullback Roen are three of his outstanding backfield men, but because of an injured leg, it doubtful whether Ptak will play in this game. Lt. Harp, formerly of Oklahoma A and M will fill another of the backfield posts. He is a hold-over from last year's division team.

Tackles, Sgt. Vedekas of the M. P. Company and Cpl. Bakewell of the 2nd Marines, the squads two outstanding linemen, will act as captains of the opposing squads. Vedekas will lead the Red team and Bakewell will captain the Blue team. Captain Saddler will take over another of the tackle posts.

In all, the team is very aggressive and will probably win several of their games on that alone. Although lacking in experience, the squad shows a fine spirit and willingness to learn, and should make a name for itself on the gridiron this fall.

So far, games have been scheduled with Cherry Point, Quantico, and the 82nd Airborne. Other service teams and colleges have been contacted and a tough card is being arranged for the coming season.

Lt. Colonel G. R. Long will referee the game Saturday, and the other official will be chosen later.

Star-News Golf Tournament Gives Duffers A Chance

At last the duffers have a chance to come into their own. The 16th of May, the qualifying rounds of the Wilmington Star-News Golf Tournament gets under way.

Regardless of whether you shoot in the low seventies or one-hundred and fifty, everyone has a chance to win a prize. All persons entering must qualify by 22 May, and will be entered in a flight of golfers with approximately the same handicap. Each flight has two or more prizes, and each golfer has an even chance to win one.

The final rounds start the 23rd of May and will prove a lot of fun for all hands.

Call M/Sgt. Adams at the Paradise Point Golf course to turn in your name. The deadline is the 10th of May.

21st Marines And Wilmington Moose Nines Play Varsity

The Camp Lejeune Varsity baseball team and the 21st Marines nine clash on the Hadnot Point diamond today at 1430. This is to be purely a practice game, but should provide plenty of thrills as the 21st has always had sport teams their outfit can be proud of.

Next Tuesday, the Loyal Order of the Moose from Wilmington, the current leaders in the Cape Fear Semi-pro league, will take the field against the Lejeune team here at 1545.

2d Division Boxers Journey To Ft. Jackson For Return Match

Next Wednesday, the 2d Division Boxing team journeys to Columbia, S. C. for a return match with the Ft. Jackson ringmen in their last encounter, the Division team overwhelmed the South Carolina squad, winning six out of the seven bouts.

Burns Strikes Out 15; Drives Home 2 Runs

In their third exhibition game, the Camp Lejeune baseball team downed the Pawtucket, Rhode Island team 4 to 2. The team bled back from a 14 to 1 lead by the same team last Sunday. The Lejeune squad found their batting eye pounded out eleven hits, the best demonstration of hitting displayed this year.

Fire-ball pitcher Burns worked the Lejeune team out fifteen opposing batters while allowing only five hits. Although Burns hit a wild pitch a couple of times, this proved an asset as it kept the Pawtucket hitters from getting set in the speed-buller showed improvement over his performance of last week and should win a game in the regular season which opens May 6 again at the Marine Barracks, Charleston, S. C. on the Hadnot Point diamond.

Fairchild, the camp team's shortstop, led the hitting with four hits in four times. Second baseman Anderson, Lejeune's lead-off batter, after hitting out the Pawtucket hurler, pitched the game for a single, collected a double in the seventh to heads-up baserunning. Anderson hit what should have been into right field, but, after the fielder was slow in releasing the ball, took off for second and executed a perfect hook slide to the throw.

The local team scored all its runs in the second and fourth innings. In the fourth, Burns hit a line drive into center field that Schnupp and Fairchild won the men out.

Pawtucket didn't threaten the camp's two-run lead until the fifth inning, when they had men on base and third with only one out. Burns popped up to Messenbarger, third and the last batter, three-two pitch, grounded out Burns to Freeze.

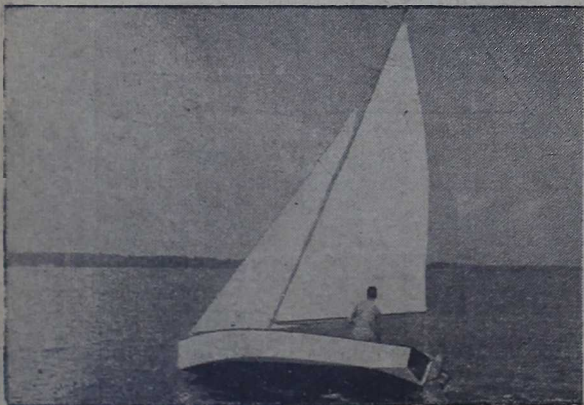

The Pawtucket hitters' little of the power they demonstrated last Saturday when the Lejeune team fourteen batters kept the opposing team handcuffed through most of the game, and was given very good support by his teammates in the field.

Although there are still errors to be corrected, it looks as if Lejeune is going to have a ball club. After the top-flight games they have met in their first games of the season, the team and college squads on their schedule shouldn't prove too much of a problem.

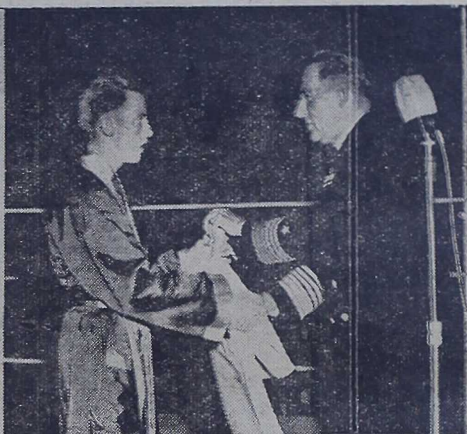

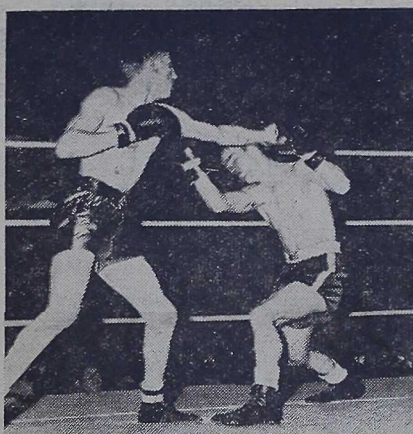

The batteries for Camp Lejeune were: Burns and Perme. For Pawtucket: Anderson, Bush, Messenbarger, and Oates.

Score by innings:

Pawtucket — 020 000 000—
Lejeune — 020 200 00x—4

Atlantic Fleet Flyweight Champ

Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, USN, right, Commander in Chief, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, congratulates and awards a white satin boxing robe to Pfc. Davis for winning the Atlantic Fleet flyweight crown. Davis, along with seven other champions, is now in San Diego, California for the All-Navy boxing tournaments.

'Red' Davis Repeats As Atlantic Fleet Flyweight Champ In Norfolk Bouts

Myrvie "Red" Davis, again proved himself to be the top flyweight in the Atlantic Fleet as he successfully defended his crown in the Atlantic Fleet boxing tournament held at Norfolk, Virginia last week. Davis copped a close decision from Art Chapline of the USS Mississippi to earn the right to participate in the All-Navy Tournament to be held in San Diego, California in early May. In the semi-finals, Red pounded out a TKO victory in two minutes and forty-three seconds of the third round over S. Esqueria of the USS Adirondack. Immediately after the final bout, Davis was presented with a white satin boxer's robe, inscribed on the back, "Atlantic Fleet Flyweight Champion, 1948".

Three Second Division fighters were runners-up in their respective weight classes. Thomas "Red" Doyle, lost a close decision to Vince LaRegina from the USS Mississippi, in the Welterweight bout. Bob Mollett, Middleweight, lost by decision, and Harold Pitts, lost the heavyweight fight by a TKO.

Only two of the eight-man Second Division team ended up on the wrong end of the won and lost column in the preliminary bouts. Donald Duart, FMF Atlantic Champ from Cherry Point, was defeated by Alvin Dixon of ComAirLant in the quarter-finals and bantamweight Charlie Woodard lost by decision to Anthony Semprivo from the USS Coral Sea in the semi-finals. After winning his first fight with a spectacular TKO in two minutes and thirty-five seconds of the first round, light-heavyweight Joe Mahoney was disqualified by the tournament committee for weighing in over the weight limit. Featherweight, Mario "Little Joe" Pinelli, was forced to forfeit his remaining bouts after receiving a cut eye in his KO victory over Eddie Kotroba of the Atlantic Fleet in the preliminaries.

FINALS

Mervie "Red" Davis, repeated as Atlantic Fleet Flyweight champion by taking a decision from Art Chapline of the USS Mississippi. This was a hard-fought bout, and Davis had drawn blood from Chapline's nose in the second round. Davis was outstanding for his hard punching.

Vince LaRegina from the USS Mississippi, took a close decision from Thomas "Red" Doyle. His eye already swollen from a previous fight, Doyle's eye was closed by the second round, hindering his vision. Although decked twice in the opening round, the game Doyle finished out the fight on his feet.

Bob Mollett, a heavy favorite for the middleweight title, lost by decision to Otis Perry of VPIM. Mollett floored Perry for a nine count in less than a minute of the first round, but Perry returned with a change of form in the second and pounded Mollett with damaging body punches that rendered him almost helpless.

Harold Pitts, another Division favorite for an Atlantic Fleet title, was well on his way to the heavyweight crown when, in the second round, Joe Connell his opponent, and Pitts bumped heads in a clinch, opening up a deep gash over Pitt's eye. Pitts had been winning the bout up until this point, but the referee stopped the fight, and awarded a TKO victory to Connell.

SEMI-FINALS

Myrvie "Red" Davis, won by a TKO in two minutes and forty-five seconds of the third round over S. Esqueria. Davis was the aggressive fighter throughout the bout.

Bantamweight Charlie Woodard lost the second bout of the four-day tournament, when he dropped a decision to Anthony Semprivo of the USS Coral Sea.

Thomas "Red" Doyle, and Vince Regusters, USS Coral Sea, staged the most evenly matched fight of the tournament. Doyle received a bad cut over his eye in the second round, but took the fight on a decision. Doyle was applauded for his outstanding sportsmanship during the bout.

Middleweight Bob Mollett won his second tournament bout over J. Sancliment, USS Adirondack. Only ten punches were exchanged before Mollett knocked out Sancliment in one minute and twenty-four seconds of the opening round.

Harold Pitts took an easy victory from J. Lowery of the USS Yosemite. Pitts sailed into Lowery and closed his eye with a series of hard punches. Pitts was awarded a TKO victory in the first round. This was Pitt's second win in the contests.

paigner for messenger work of "extraordinary importance" while serving here during World War I. He was known at that time to thousands of Navy Department workers as "Daddy" Mulligan, a nickname which stuck to him during his 24 years of service with the National Savings Bank.

Mr. Mulligan, friends said, was held up as the "model Marine" by drill sergeants teaching recruits in World War I. His service with the Corps included the Boxer Uprising and the Philippine Insurrection.

Mr. Mulligan had been ill for a month when he died.

(Editor's note: The January, 1936, issue of The Leatherneck Magazine made the following comment: "The Marine Corps mystery man, Sgt. Owen Mulligan, USMC, ret., is thought by many to be the original Private Mulvaney immortalized by Rudyard Kipling in his 'Soldiers Three.' It is known that Mulligan was with the British Army in India at the time of which Kipling wrote, but he refuses to tell anything, saying it would cause 'dire consequences,' and that he had taken a vow to carry the story to the grave.")—Quantico Sentry.
