Commandant Arrives Tomorrow Memorial Window Dedication Sunday

Distinguished Guests To Attend Dedication Services At Both Chapels

The memorial stained glass windows of the Protestant and Catholic Chapels will be dedicated Sunday to the men who died during World War II while serving the Marine Corps. The Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Clifton B. Cates, will be among the distinguished guests.

At 100 Sunday morning, the Reverend Father Ignatius Ph.D., Ltd., S.T.D., J.C.D., of Philosophy at Catholic University, Washington, D. C., will be at the Pontifical Mass at the Chapel. The Solemn Mass will be broadcast over radio station WJNC. Admiral William N. Thomas, Chief of Navy Chaplains, will be the dedication address at the Protestant Chapel at 1500. The memorial service will be led by the senior Protestant Chaplain of the Marine Division, Lieutenant Robert N. Stretch. The Second Marine Division, Commander Robert S. Sassa, the Chapel Choir, the Midway Community Church and members of the U. S. Hospital Choir will sing under the direction of Russell D. In addition to the windows, the tower chimes, of countless men and women have worshipped through Camp Lejeune, will also be dedicated. The hour-long program will be broadcast over WJNC and twenty stations of the Tobacco and Dixie FM Networks.

The distinguished guests in addition to the Commandant are Lt. Generals Keller and Julian C. Smith, Generals Field Harris and H. Noble, and Brig. General V. Miller. Following chaplains will be: Captain Stanton W. Salts, Fleet Chaplain, ComServ Capt. Herbert Dumstrey of the Naval District; former Chaplains Capt. Francis Lee and Capt. G. L. Markle; and under E. Richard Barnes, report here as Camp Chaplain. The Roman Catholic who will be present are the Rev. Vincent S. Waters, of Raleigh; the Right Rev. Charles Murphy, of Norfolk; and Peter McNeerney, Very Rev. Ignatius Smith, who will preach at the Protestant Chapel. Guest guests include Mr. Thomas Rymer, Director, General DEDICATION on Page 3

Dance At Pavilion Tonight

The doors of Marston Pavilion will swing wide tonight for an enlisted men's dance with music by the 2d Division dance orchestra. Girls from local cities will be present as charming dancing partners and the music will be in the style of the times from 2000 to 2330.

The dance tonight marks the re-opening of Marston Pavilion with regular dances scheduled for the first and third Thursday of each month. At each of these regular dances, the hostesses from nearby cities will be present and music will be of the very best.

NOW OPEN, DAILY

In addition to the regularly scheduled dances, the Pavilion will be open five days a week to provide recreation facilities for enlisted personnel and their ladies. See DANCE on Page 7

Standard Physical For All Services Is Recommended

CHICAGO (AFPS)—A standard medical examination, which in wartime would be acceptable to Selective Service Boards as well as all branches of the Armed Forces, has been recommended by the American Medical Association's Council on National Emergency Medical Services.

The Council also recommended some system of priority in the calling of doctors for wartime service, asserting its belief that no fewer than 116,000 physicians should be left for duty on the

Baseball Saturday

The Camp Lejeune diamond squad will meet the Pawtucket, Rhode Island Class B ball club for an exhibition game on the Hadnot Point diamond at 1400 this Saturday. This will be the second practice game this year for the Lejeune team which is steadily rounding into shape. The Pawtucket club, of the Eastern League, has already played nine games with eight wins to their credit, two over the Hartford Chiefs.

General Cates To Review 2d Division, Inspect MB, And Attend Dedication

The Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Clifton B. Cates, will arrive here tomorrow morning for a three-day visit during which he will review the Second Marine Division, inspect the Marine Barracks personnel and facilities, and attend the dedication of the Chapel memorial windows.

GENERAL C. B. CATES

The 21st Marines will act as honor guard for the Commandant on the parade ground opposite Building I. The 2d Division band will render appropriate honors and the saluting battery will render the prescribed salute upon General Cates' arrival.

At approximately 1400 Friday afternoon, the Commandant will review the entire Second Marine Division and attached units. The 1st AAA Bn, 10th Marines, 2d Tank Bn, and 2d Amphibious Tractor Bn will be motorized. All other units will parade as infantry battalions.

The order of passing in review will be as follows: Division Band, Headquarters and Service Battalion, 2d Marines, 4th Marines, 21st Marines, 2d Engineer Battalion, 1st Battalion, 2d Combat Service Group, 2d Battalion, 2d Combat Service Group, 16th Marines, 1st AAA Battalion, 10th Marines, 2d Tank Battalion, 2d Amphibious Tractor Battalion, 1-4 ton vehicle column, 3-4 ton ambulance, 1-2 ton truck column, 2-2 ton truck column, and tracked equipment column.

Aircraft of VMO-1, based at Petterfield Point, and the 2d Marine Air Wing, based at Cherry Point, will participate in the review. The aircraft will fly over in formation after the last unit of the Second Division has passed the reviewing stand.

An on-the-spot description of the review will be broadcast over radio station WJNC during the first fifteen minutes of the gigantic display.

RECEPTION

A reception in honor of the Commandant will be held at the Officers' Mess from 1730 to 1930 on Friday.

MB INSPECTION

General Cates will inspect the personnel and facilities of the Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune at 0900 Saturday.

Gen. Hart Throws First Ball

Before a crowd of approximately 2,500, the Commanding General, Major General Franklin A. Hart, threw the first ball in the exhibition baseball game between Camp Lejeune and the Hartford Chiefs last Saturday. General Hart is shown, above, just before he made the expert peg. Captain F. I. Fenton, head coach of the Lejeune nine, is on the general's right and Earl Brown, manager of the Chiefs, is on his left.

The Facts Of Life

Today, 7% of all Americans are over 65 years old. Out of 10 million Americans, over 65 years of age, less than 1 million have independent incomes. Three and one-half million still have to work to eat! The rest must look to the charity of relatives for food, clothing and a place to live.

Not a pretty picture, is it? You don't like the thoughts of facing it, do you? Well, what are you doing for YOURSELF and your family to help insure their security? Are you acting or just thinking and hoping?

Regular purchases of United States Savings Bonds through the Payroll Deductions Plan is the best way to be sure you won't have to accept charity or keep on working when you are old. Buy Bonds for Yourself—Hold onto Them while you are able to work, then, when you must—or just plain want to stop working, the income from those bonds will let you do it without worry.

See the Savings Bond Representative in your Shop or Department Today. He will be more than glad to discuss the Payroll Savings Plan with you. Let's take some action now and save for that "rainy day" that we hear so much about! It's bound to come someday so let's be prepared.

Chapel Memorial Windows

Dedication

The beautiful stained glass windows in both the Catholic and the Protestant Chapels will be dedicated this Sunday in memory of the officers and men of the Marine Corps who died in World War II, 1941-1945.

We cannot repay the dead for their sacrifice, except perhaps by insuring that their ranks are not increased as the result of another global war. We cannot create memorials capable of telling the entire story, for their story is too great to find mortal expression. We can create monuments and statues to aid in keeping the thought of the war and its cost before us. But monuments lose their effectiveness and soon become mere empty gestures, once important.

When we walk into the quiet sanctity of either of the chapels here, however, our eyes are drawn to the memorial windows. Their story is told in a rare beauty and linked to the story of Him into whose fold the fallen warriors have been drawn. It is there for all who follow in the Corps to read, the tribute to those who died in battle.

The windows are not mere gestures to be passed daily without a second glance. Their beauty is compelling and all who enter into the House of Worship shall find their attention held and their thoughts directed to the Marine units who fought so well as a whole during the war and to those men who were a part of the team but did not return.

The dedication on Sunday will be an impressive ceremony with many notables present. It will be an important page in the history of Camp Lejeune. But it will be only another day to those who fail to see and study, first-hand, the memorial windows. Words cannot describe nor pictures convey the full meaning and beauty of these masterpieces.

1918, 20 April—Rear Admiral H. T. Mayo, commander-in-chief, Atlantic Fleet, issued the first order in the history of the Marine Corps detailing one of its officers to duty as officer of the deck while in port.

1925, 20 April—Marines commanded by Lt. H. T. Cartwright were landed from the USS Denver at La Ceiba, Honduras, to protect foreigners during a revolt.

1914, 15 April—The 1st Advance Base Force sailed from New Orleans aboard the Hancock for Tampico and Vera Cruz, Mexico, where trouble was threatening.

Chaplain's Corner

May Day

At the Nation's capital, on 1 May, 1947, twenty five thousand persons gathered at the foot of the Washington Monument to pray for world peace. Catholics, Protestants and Jews participated. Cabinet Members, Senators, over 70 Representatives and several Ambassadors were present. Similar gatherings were assembled in a number of other cities throughout our country. Plans are under way to observe 1 May this year on an even greater scope.

The public has come to regard May First (May Day) more and more as a rallying day for the enemies of God.

For all God-loving and freedom-loving people to unite in prayer for the enemies of God and freedom on this day is a powerful spiritual means to counteract the effects of the doctrine of hate. If we pray for the people under its control this day and persevere in our prayers in the months to come, we may, under God, exert a power that can accomplish more than any other influence in the world to bring to these hundreds of millions that essential human freedom which God intended that they, like the rest of mankind, should enjoy as their God given right and which no government in justice can take from them.

A prayer such as the following would be very appropriate for this purpose: O God, We pray that all these, our brothers and sisters in Christ, now dominated by the opponents of the Savior, may soon enjoy the full freedom to exercise those human rights and personal liberties that come from Thee and Thee Alone.

We thank Thee, O Heavenly Father, for the guidance vouchsafed to our Founding Fathers in recognizing that "all men" of all nations "are endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights," and in realizing at the very birth of our nation that the chief purpose of government is to safeguard these divine rights for even the least of us. Enable us, O God, to do all in our power to share with "all men" our heritage, Thy precious blessings of true freedom.

We pray especially for those misguided souls who are spreading a hatred of Thee and of Thy children throughout all nations. May we be enlightened and strengthened by Thy Holy Spirit never to "be overcome by evil, but overcome evil by good" (Romans 12:21); that we may comprehend fully the sublime lesson of Thy Divine Son: "Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you and pray for them that persecute you" (Matthew 5:44).

Design to heed our fervent prayer, Almighty God, that we, Thy children, despite our many weaknesses and failures, may be found worthy instruments of Thy peace and messengers of Thy love, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Report

By Armed Forces Press Service

Secretary of State George C. Marshall, Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal and Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall recently impressed upon members of the Senate Armed Service Committee "the absolute necessity for quick passage" of both a temporary draft act and UMT as recommended originally by President Truman to the joint session of Congress. According to Senator Chan Gurney (S.D.), chairman of the Committee, the three Secretaries dealt with "the generally critical, progressively serious situation in Europe" and their conclusions were "that we absolutely had to have both Selective Service and UMT." The Senator went on record as stating that it was his "firm belief" that the Committee was "left with the feeling that there is an absolute necessity for quick passage of both measures." The Committee had previously heard from former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts who told the Senators that they would be "gambling with the security of the United States" unless they enacted both Selective Service and UMT. Mr. Roberts further stated that if Congress turned down both programs, it "would have to" recall World War II veterans to active service.

Under a bill recently passed by the Senate and sent to the House for further action, Canadians would be permitted to attend the Naval Academy at Annapolis. A maximum of twenty entrants yearly from the American Republics are presently permitted to study at the Academy, entrants being limited to three from any one country. The prospective legislation would add Canada to the list of countries which might take part in the program.

Medals for overseas service in World War II will shortly become available to eligible servicemen and veterans of the Armed Forces. Limited distribution was made by the Army on Army Day but general distribution will not be forthcoming until sometime in June. The medals are counterparts of the three "theater ribbons" which were issued during the war covering service in the American, Asiatic-Pacific and European-African-Middle Eastern theaters. The metal portion of each medal has its own distinctive design, and the ribbon part is of the same color and pattern as the service ribbon—predominantly blue for American, yellow for Asiatic, and green and brown for European.

Six submarine cruises have been scheduled for this Spring in the Atlantic for Organized Naval Reserve submarines. Reservists making the cruises will be selected from sub reserve divisions in the First, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Naval Districts, and from the Potomac River Naval Command.

NEW RIVER RIPPLES

During a flood in a little town, a neighbor girl was on top of a house with a snail. As they sat watching the float along with the water, noticed a derby hat float. The girl turned around, then again turned around, then again turned around. After it went down it again turned around.

The little girl said, "Do that derby? First it goes stream, then turns and back."

The boy replied, "Oh, the father. He said, 'Come hell or water, he was going to grass today.'"

Back when we used to have shortages a woman went to the meat market and ordered pounds of hamburger, 12 pounds of steak, a heavy rib roast, some stew meat.

"Send it to my house," she said. "I'm sorry," the butcher said, "but we have no delivery service." "Don't be silly," she scoffed, "there's your delivery gone out front."

"Yes, madam," the butcher replied, "but you just bought a horse."

Reader: "Where do you go for jokes?"

Editor: "Out of my head."

Reader: "You must be."

A man entered a restaurant and ate three portions of the fixed rate dinner. When he refused to pay for more than the dinner the proprietor came to his table and pointing an old land tobacco pipe at him in a furious voice:

"Mon, ye'll ha' to pay for dinners or I'll not let ye sit wit' it!"

The customer promptly got away. When he recovered from a waiter was fanning him with a napkin.

"Lord, mon, what was pointed at me?" he quavered.

"His auld pipe."

"Only a pipe! Hoots, I thought it was a stomach."

Hillybilly Paw watching standing in front of a fireplace.

"Maw, you'd better move foot off a mite. You're standing on a live coal."

Maw: "Which foot, Paw?"

A woman approached the counter in a fruit market and asked for a pound of grapes.

"My husband is fond of you," she said. "Tell me, do you know whether they have been with any kind of poison?"

"No, ma'am," replied the storekeeper. "You'll have to get that at the doctor's."

Underground Explosive Tests Planned In Defense Studies

WASHINGTON (AFPS) — A five-month series of tests with powerful explosives to determine the types of underground structures which will best withstand modern bombs and guided missiles, will be inaugurated by the Army June 1 in Utah and Colorado.

Some charges to be set off will contain as much as 320,000 pounds of TNT, buried at depth to stimulate the calculated penetration point of bombs and guided missiles.

The tests are intended primarily to determine the strength and depth requirements for underground command posts, air defense control centers and other installations which would be vital in case of war. The Army believes information resulting from the experiments also will be valuable should it ever become necessary to build industrial facilities underground.

No atomic explosives will be used in the tests, it was stated.

The Council further urged liberal interchange of medical facilities and personnel among all Military Services, the Veterans Administration and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Other recommendations were: That highest military rank be assigned in wartime to medical officers' reserve units; continuation of medical and scientific education throughout any emergency period; and establishment of a National Emergency Medical Board as an agency of the National Security Resources Board.

U. S. Savings Bonds Offer Best "Deal", 2d Division Lags

One of the best "deals" given servicemen is the permanent continuance of the Savings Bond allotment. Through this program, men of the Armed Forces will be able to lay up a nest egg for the day when they leave the service.

The President of the United States instituted a Savings Bond drive for the period of 15 April to 30 June, 1948 as a part of the program to combat inflation. The campaign is known as the Security Loan. See SECURITY LOAN on Page 6

ing and going ahead you are forgetting and sliding back. Education, like sports, requires exercise—abilities not used grow weak and we all have a tendency to forget much of the knowledge we knew so well. Education also develops men but in contrast to athletic contests it offers no enjoyment for spectators. The casual spectator who watches other men enjoying the advantages of education sees the participants progressing to more successful futures while he remains rooted in the same familiar rut.

TRY OUT FOR THE TEAM

To get the most out of sports you must get in and play the game; similarly with education you must get in there and give it a try. The Marine Corps Institute offers you an opportunity to draw a mental uniform and it's your job to go to the locker room and try it on. All four years of high school plus college courses are available. If these don't fit too well, how about some dope on automobile maintenance and repair? Perhaps you would like to learn how to make minor repairs and adjustments on your car. Why let a mechanic hand you a golf-score size bill for repairs that you can easily learn to make yourself. Machine shop training is a very popular course at MCI and the reason is self-evident — the field is wide open. A good machinist is seldom without a high-paying job. Radio and electronics are other possibilities. Many Marines are taking these courses in an "on the job" training status. They relate that these courses help them immeasurably in qualifying for promotions and in improving their capabilities in order to command higher salaries in civil life.

TWO HUNDRED THREE UNIFORMS

The locker room must be rather cluttered up by now but you've seen only a few of the 203 mental uniforms MCI is equipped to issue. The coach, your unit education officer, will be glad to give you the scoop on the others. Surely you will be able to find one that will interest and benefit you. Select one and report for practice. You must practice to make the team in sports; you must acquire study habits and learn to improve your natural ability to make the team in life.

Enrollment in any of the MCI courses is extremely simple and completely devoid of "red tape". You may enroll with the help of your education officer or you may write direct to the Director, Marine Corps Institute, Marine Barracks, Eighth and Eye Streets, S. E., Washington 25, D. C.

(6) Signed and attested score cards will be turned into the Pro Shop.

The tournament will get under way at 1200.

Lejeune High School Diamond Squad Wins Two Lopsided Games

After receiving a walloping by the Richlands High school diamond squad here April 2, the Camp Lejeune High School returned the trouncing with interest as they took the second game played on their opponent's home ground, 12 to 2. This was Richlands' first loss of the season.

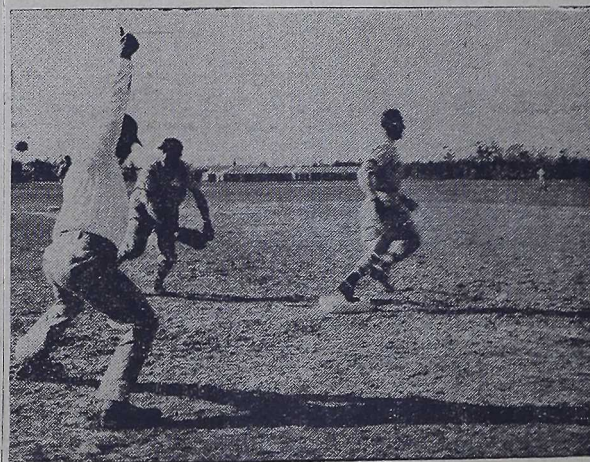

Joe Barringer, who caught the first game, took to the pitcher's mound and hurled an excellent game. Joe has a good fast ball and fine control.

Imus's long three-bagger and Ridgley's two base hits were the high spots on the hitting side of the score book.

Last Wednesday, the Camp High School again ran up a lopsided score as they wielded their heavy bats to the tune of 11 runs, while allowing their Swansboro opponents to cross the plate only twice.

The worried look Coach "Pappy" Deim had on his face after a sloppy warm-up period was relaxed into a big smile when Joe Barringer cut loose with a three-bagger and Mitchell followed up with a two-base hit.

Bobby Belton, on the hill for Lejeune, exercised good control and had the Swansboro batters swing-

Base ump, T-Sgt. Brasier, signals an out during last Saturday's game as R. E. Anderson of the Lejeune nine crosses the sack after being tagged by the Hartford first baseman a moment before.

Devildog Gage Team Cops Third All-Navy Crown For Quantico

WASHINGTON, D. C. (April 13). The Quantico Marines won their third All-Navy championship trophy Saturday night when they added the All-Navy basketball championship by virtue of a hard-won cage victory over the West Coast Marines during finals at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Florida.

At Quantico, last September, the Marines emerged victorious in the Navy World Series played against the All-Star Navy nine from the Naval Training Center at San Diego, thereby capturing the baseball crown.

The following December, Quantico's gridiron aggregation journeyed to the Naval Air Station at Alameda, California, where they won the All-Navy football championship in a game that ended 26 to 0 in Quantico's favor.

The Quantico cage five, entered with three other teams in a round-robin series at Jacksonville, took a close one from the Pearl Harbor Navy team, 62-61; won handily over the Amphibs from Little Creek, Virginia, 50 to 39; and came from behind to win 69-67 over the All-Star West Coast Marines in the climax.

Although pitted against all-star competition in a majority of their All-Navy tournaments, Quantico boasts of having captured the baseball, football and basketball crowns. See DEVILDOGS on Page 5

Camp-Division Net Tourney Will Start 1330, Tues., 4 May

The Camp-Division tennis tournament will start at 1330, Tuesday, 4 May. This tourney, composed of individual players from both the Post Troops and the Second Division, will decide who will comprise the Camp Lejeune tennis team of six men that will compete in the All-Navy Tennis Tournament and preliminaries at some future date.

There will also be prizes awarded to the single winner and runner-up and the doubles winner and runner-up.

All officers and enlisted men stationed at this camp are eligible to enter in this tournament. The entries should be submitted to the Division Athletic Officer, Building No. 317, telephone 5106, by 1630, 29 April.

ing futilely at a hot, fast ball. Godwin and Suwel were on the mound for Swansboro.

Tomorrow afternoon the Swansboro team will attempt to avenge this loss in a return game on the Midway Park diamond. The game will start at approximately 1400.

Crews to represent Lejeune in the event that the races scheduled will be the best three crews as determined by results "sweepstakes" and regattas to be held at the Wallace Creek boathouse.

Bulletin

Monday and Tuesday nights the 2d Division Boxing team dominated the opening bouts in the annual Atlantic Fleet boxing tournament held in the Naval Station Recreation Building at Norfolk, Virginia.

MONDAY NIGHT

Featherweight Mario Pinelli scored a KO over Eddie Kotraba of the Atlantic Fleet in 30 seconds of the third round after flooring the game Navy man for a count of nine at the outset of the round.

In the middleweight class Bob Mollett took a one-sided decision over William Smith, also of the Atlantic Fleet.

Popular Joe Mahoney, lightweight, required only two minutes and 35 seconds of the first round to take a TKO over Jim Nagle of the USS Adirondack.

Anderson Clou 3 For 4 To Lead Team In Hitting

The Camp Lejeune baseball team last Saturday dropped the game of the year, an contest, to the Hartford Chiefs, a Class A farm club Boston Braves, by a 9 to 6 Saturday the Camp team to the field against another Boston Braves farm team Pawtucket, Rhode Island, club. The game starts at 1400 on the diamond behind the Protestant Chapel.

The local team fought the on nearly even terms up to the fifth inning allowing only one run to cross the plate. In the sixth Hartford put together three a triple and a wild pitch for four more markers and their lead to six runs.

The Lejeune squad fought back in the seventh but was unable to tie the game. See LEJEUNE NINE on Page 5

TUESDAY NIGHT

Mario Pinelli, having received a cut eye in the previous night's fights, was not on Tuesday night's card, but was expected to fight in the first round. Thomas "Red" Doyle, who was being floored in the first round by a TKO over John Hines of Little Creek, Va., in two minutes and five seconds of the first round.

Donald Duarte, a Cherry Point man, fighting with the Division team as he scored a knockout over his opponent, Spencer from ComSubLant, two minutes and nine seconds of the first round.

Golf Exhibition Highlights Opening Of Parris Is. Course

MARINE CORPS RECRUIT DEPOT, Parris Island, S. C. (12 April)—Coming directly from the famous 1948 Masters Tournament, four of the world's best golfers, Gene Sarazen, Dick Metz, Jim Ferrier, and Skip Alexander played an 18-hole exhibition on Monday, 12 April, that highlighted the formal opening of the new Parris Island Golf Course.

Ceremonies for the official opening got underway at 1:30 p.m., with the Parris Island Marine Band playing the Marine Corps Hymn. After the invocation by Comdr. C. A. O'Neill, Post Catholic Chaplain, Maj. Gen. A. H. Noble, Commanding General, addressed the large crowd that was on hand for the match, and told the assembled spectators how fortunate Parris Island was to have such a fine golf course. Gen. Noble related a brief history of the building of the course, and of the laughs and heartaches that all went into the building of the course.

As the exhibition progressed, the assembled Marines looked at one another in awe and doubt, each wondering if they would have the nerve to play again after seeing such a fine performance of golf as it should be played.

Jim Ferrier, in real trouble only once when his drive came to rest about half-way up on the green side of a drainage ditch, carried off the exhibition honors with a 71 for the par 72 course. Metz carded a 74, Alexander a 75, and Sarazen a 77.

When asked what they thought of the course, the pros were unanimous in their opinion in that the Parris Island course, open new for the first time, has the makings of one of the finest golf courses that they have ever seen or played. This, for the most part is due to Major Wallace H. Robinson, Post Maintenance Officer, and Officer in Charge of Construction and Maintenance of the Golf Course.

Lejeune Nine

way back into the ball game in the seventh inning, scoring three runs as they batted almost completely around. Burns, the fireball hurler who came in to relieve Johnson in the fifth inning started the rally with a sharp single to right field. Anderson who collected three hits in four times at bat, beat out a slow roller down the first base line and Woods was safe on a wide throw by the shortstop, filling the bases.

Fairchild demonstrated a good eye as he worked the pitcher for a free pass that scored Burns from third. Cleanup hitter Freeza then hit a slow roller between the pitcher and the third baseman. The hurler fielded the hit and threw past the catcher allowing the men to score from second and third. Messenhiemer then struck out to end the Marines' big inning.

Even in losing, the Lejeune team looked very impressive, showing more power at the plate than the average team and playing some heads-up ball in the field. Many people commented on the good showing the Marines made against a more experienced ball club. The fact that the Hartford team already had eight games under their belts and had been in training since the first of March, while the Marines had been practicing only two weeks was a big factor in deciding the outcome of the game.

In a conference with Capt. F. I. Fenton, head coach of the camp team, his comment was: "We're out to beat Pawtucket. I feel confident it will be a close game, and if the errors of last week are corrected, we will come out on top."

The base running against Hartford was spotty, and the team is working hard to correct this failing. The fact that it was the first game of the year, had a lot to do with these errors, and with this experience under their belts, there should be a big improvement next week.

The team is particularly strong in the outfield and on the left side of the infield. Messenhiemer, Fairchild and Toner make a combination between second and third that will be hard to beat. In the seventh inning the infield looked particularly good in executing a fast double play, Fairchild, Toner to Freeza.

The pitching staff looks very good, and should stand up against almost any competition they will meet this year. Bourbeau, the top pitcher

Leatherneck Sports Ed. Predicts N. Y. Yankees And Braves For Pennants

The New York Yankees and the Boston Braves get the pennant nod for '48 from Sergeant Gartz, Leatherneck Sports Editor, whose head goes on the block again this year in the May issue of the Magazine of the Marines.

The scars from the axing he took last year are still visible, but "Horsehide Preview" makes interesting reading.

"By the time the June trading deadline rolls around, these selections will probably be all akimbo," he admits.

Gartz picks the Yankees because "It's always good to stick with the champs, unless, of course, the roof falls in or cholera hits the clubhouse."

He evidently figures that both scourges may hit the Dodgers, because he has dumped them from the lead to the number four spot in the National, while predicting that not over six games will separate numbers one to four. He picks the Giants and Cards for the two-three berths and the Pirates and Cubs for six and seven spots. The Reds sit in the cellar in his prognostications.

Behind the Yanks, he picks the Red Sox, Athletics, Indians, Tigers, White Sox, Senators and Browns, that order.

This may be the last "Gartz Prediction" article because, if "dem Bums" pull another pennant out of the hat, he expects to be transferred to China.

T/Sgt. Charles A. Huff Breaks Carbine Record At Parris Island Range

MARINE CORPS RECRUIT DEPOT, Parris Island, S. C. (13 April)—Marine Technical Sergeant Charles A. Huff, veteran of eleven years of service, and presently assigned to the Special Weapons section, Weapons Training Battalion, last week broke all existing carbine records by firing a score of 268 out of a possible score of 275.

Firing for record under the requalification program, Huff broke the record previously held by T-Sgt. H. M. Simmons also of the Weapons Training Battalion. Sergeant Simmons fired a score of 266 in December of last year, and has held the record up until this time.

Sergeant Huff enlisted in the Marine Corps on October of 1936 at Macon, Ga., and has spent 52 months of this time overseas taking part in four major campaigns during World War II, followed with Occupation Duty in Japan.

In 1946, Huff participated in firing with the Pacific Division Rifle and Pistol team, and won a Bronze Star Medal. He plans to fire with the Parris Island Rifle team this year.

from last year's squad may start against Pawtucket and should be hard to hit.

The squad hitting is very strong. With Anderson leading with three for four, Woods, Freeza, Cawley, Messenhiemer, Burns and Perme each got one hit apiece.

Johnson, Burns and Perme were the battery for the camp team, and Allan, Casey and Sullivan for the Hartford Chiefs.

M-Sgt. C. R. Oliver did an excellent job of umpiring behind the plate, while T-Sgt. Richard A. Braiser turned in just as perfect a job on the bases.

Score by innings:

Hartford	020	041	020-9 9 4
Lejeune	000	000	300-3 9 4

When the storm warning flag is flying at the Wallace Creek Boathouse, no boats will be issued. This flag is on the end of one of the docks and is visible from the bridge and several other points.

Climaxing a hotly contested bowling tournament for Camp Lejeune Staff NCOs, the combine of MSgt. E. M. Mencer and MSgt. C. R. Oliver, both of H&SBN, MB, defeated MSgt. N. Levy, H&S BN, MB, and MSgt. G. F. Hartfil, Supply School Battalion, 2257 pins to 1987 pins.

The newly crowned champions gained the championship fight by defeating HMC D. C. Moore and HMC F. M. Salm 2nd Marine Battalion in the "A" Flight finals. MSgt. Levy and MSgt. Hartiel defeated MSgt. M. A. Terry, Marine Corps Supply Depot, and SSgt. R. E. Boyd, H&SBN, 2ndMarDiv, in the "B" Flight finals.

MSgt. Mencer was the high scorer of the evening, spilling 1132 pins in three game sets of 542 and 590. MSgt. Oliver scored the high three game series, tumbling 595 pins. For the losers, MSgt. Levy was the high scorer with 1001 pins and a 537 three game series.

In the Consolation Match, MSgt. Terry and SSgt. Boyd, runners-up in "B" Flight defeated HMC Moore and HMC Salm, runners-up in "A" Flight, 2008 pins to 1958 pins. This was a hard fought contest throughout, with the outcome in doubt until the final accounting. MSgt. Terry led the winners with 1032 pins and a 566 three game set. HMC Moore paced the losers with sets of 500 and 502, for a total of 1002 pins.

This tournament met with a great deal of enthusiasm among the participants and the Singles Championship Tournament, which gets under way tonight, will be operated along similar lines. An additional feature of the singles tournament is the handicap to be given flight winners in the championship flight. This will give everyone a more equal chance to garner the crown.

Appropriate awards will be made to the winners of all the Staff NCO Bowling Tournaments at a gala party on a date to be announced later. Elaborate plans are in the making for a "Keglers' Party" and formal presentation of all bowling trophies. Watch the Globe and Club Bulletins for announcements of this event.

with the same teams never being augmented.

Against the Pearl Harbor quintet, Cy Waldrop, Quantico's ace center, led the scoring parade, sinking 26 points. Dave Steindler, forward, rang up the winning tally, however, when he tossed in a basket in the final 11 seconds of play.

The game with the Amphibs was close until half-time, but the Leathernecks moved steadily ahead to win easily in the second half of play.

In the game with the West Coast Marines, Waldrop and Steindler kept the Quantico five in the game with Waldrop collecting 21 points. He got four points to put Quantico ahead with only 57 seconds remaining. Don Swangler, of El Toro, paced the West Coast eagles with 25 points.

Second place in the basketball tournament was being decided to-night with the three teams entered in a play-off that started yesterday. The West Coast Marines were scheduled to meet the Amphibs yesterday with the winners slated to meet the Pearl Harbor Sailors today.

To the Quantico winners, in addition to the All-Navy Trophy, went the coveted Secretary of Navy basketball trophy. Each team member received a navy blue sweater inscribed with a scarlet and gold "M".

Robber Picks Up Cop; Cop Picks Up Robber

DENVER (AFPS)—Two men in a cafe here eyed each other speculatively. Finally one man said: "Packing a rod?" "Yep," came the reply. "Gotta car?" "Yep."

"Come with me. I know where there's a drugstore we can knock off."

"Okay," the second man agreed.

The two men got in the car and the driver immediately headed for the police station where he identified himself as Detective Fred H. Currier of the Denver police.

SAFETY NOTES FOR YOUR HARD-WORKING EYES

Nearly everything you do, at work or at home, requires you to use your eyes. All day the delicate structure of your eyes is busily at work—focusing for near or distant vision, and guiding your movements as you do your job. Eyes get tired—and often need help.

In addition to good vision, which is essential on every job, your work may require protective goggles which shield your eyes from flying objects, splashes, injurious light rays and other hazards. Eye safety is all-important—for your own welfare and that of others around you.

HERE'S THE PLAN

The Navy Department's new vision program is based on these two factors—efficient vision and eye safety. It broadens your opportunity to do better work, with greater comfort and safety. It offers—at no charge to you—a valuable check on your eye-sight and informs you if there is any need of an eye examination. All recommendations for eye care are based upon the judgment of an eye-specialist.

HOW THE PLAN WORKS

1. Your vision will be checked quickly and accurately, by use of the AO Sight-Screener. 2. A professional analysis by an eye-specialist will be made of your vision check score. 3. You will receive a statement on the condition of your eyesight, based on professional judgment of an eye-specialist. 4. Advice will be offered to you if needed on safety goggles made to your prescription. 5. Seeing conditions on your job will be studied. 6. The service will be offered at no cost to you.

You will be informed by your supervisor when and where you will have your vision checked.

ATTENTION ALL HANDS

It is with great pride that the Training Staff points to Room 26 in the Public Works Building (1005), and says, "That belongs to us. That is our new home."

Yes it is true that the Training Section has been allocated the wing in the Public Works Building recently vacated by the Camp Library. This wing will adequately take care of the present training needs of this activity and will house the various classrooms in which training for the trades and clerical training will be held. Supervisory training and Safety training will also be conducted in this building.

SUPERVISOR'S NOTICE: All Supervisory courses will be resumed the week of April 26, 1948. No

Trailer Park

By Project Services Advisor "Batter Up" was heard on the softball diamond Wednesday afternoon for the first practice of the season. A very enthusiastic group had a good work-out. It is not too late to join these forces for a winning team. Sgt. Pressley has called practice for Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, afternoons at 5 o'clock. Be sure and be among those present.

Soon the vacant lot near the Chapel and Lee Night Nursery will have its face lifted and leveled. This spot will be beautified for a park and playground.

The hours for the Night Nursery will be changed effective Friday April 23rd. The Nursery will be open Monday, Friday and Saturday nights at 7:00 o'clock and close at 12:30 o'clock.

tices will be sent to all persons concerned.

CASH FOR IDEAS

The Navy can use good ideas submitted by civilian employees and pays cash awards up to $275 for any beneficial suggestions which are adopted. Suggestions of any kind may be made which have resulted or will result in improvement or economy in the operations of the Navy or Marine Corps through monetary savings, increased efficiency, conservation of property, improved working conditions, better service to the public, etc. Suggestions may relate to any part of the work of the Navy and Marine Corps.

This is not a contest. Each idea submitted is judged on its own merits and every idea or suggestion may receive a cash award. There is no limit but employees are urged to submit good ideas as soon as possible and then begin working on new suggestions.

Don't Forget! Cash for Ideas!

Says Sweden Would Again Be Armed Neutral In War

STOCKHOLM (AFPS) — Sweden's Foreign Minister Oesten Unden told a political gathering here recently that in the event of a third world war Sweden would again take a course of armed neutrality.

"The present division of the world into opposing blocs has again brought the policy of non-intervention into the foreground," Mr. Unden said.

"When we decline to become one of the small weights in one of the scales, that does not mean we take an unsympathetic attitude to the balance of power policy as such," he added, pointing out that any other choice but neutrality would make Sweden a base area for the group of powers to which it would belong.

"This policy has some purpose in the situation," he said, "but we would only increase friction in the world by attaching our territory to a bloc."

Campaign Medals For World War II To Be Distributed

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6—Medals for overseas service in World War II will shortly become available to eligible servicemen and veterans, the armed forces said today in a joint announcement.

Limited distribution by the Army was made on Army Day, and will be made by the Navy to members of the Naval services on 30 April, sequentennial of the founding of the Navy. Medals in sufficient quantities for general distribution will be available by 1 June.

The medals are the counterparts of the three "theater ribbons" which were issued during the war covering service in the American, Asiatic-Pacific and European-African-Middle Eastern theaters. The metal portion of each medal has its own distinctive design, and the ribbon part is of the same color and pattern as the service ribbon—predominantly blue for American, yellow for Asiatic, and green and brown for European.

Except for the American Campaign medal, eligibility is determined solely on the basis of actual service in an overseas area during the war period. For a European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign medal, service must have been performed sometime between 7 Dec. 1941 and 8 Nov. 1945. For the Asiatic-Pacific and American Campaign medals, the dates are 7 Dec. 1941 and 2 March 1946. The American Campaign medal may be awarded for Western Hemisphere service outside the United States or for one year's satisfactory service within the United States during this period.

Battle stars indicating combat participation and arrowheads indicating amphibious or airborne spearhead action will be issued with the medals on the basis of the individual's actual eligibility. This information is contained on the discharge paper given the individual at the time of his separation from service.

Not only may veterans and eligible active servicemen receive the medals, but next-of-kin of deceased former servicemen may apply for the awards in the names of deceased.

Still Going Strong

While many car-owners were hesitating to take their late through the state inspection lane last week, the 1925 vintage T Ford, shown above, passed through and acquired the blue approval. Sitting happily behind the wheel is Chaplain H. Neill, Lt. Comdr., USN, while James Reavis, one of the state inspectors, puts the sticker on the windshield. On the right is Rhodes, Camp Exchange service station manager, who has much interest in the safety program and has helped to comply with the minimum safety requirements.

Voting Information

The following information is for the guidance of personnel who intend to vote by absentee ballot in this year's elections. Laws governing eligibility to vote in the state to which application is made should be consulted.

Florida—Holds federal, state and local primaries. Ballots for each primary will not be mailed earlier than 10 April. Ballots will not be counted if received after closing of polls, 4 May, for first primary and closing of polls, 28 May, for second primary. Civilians may not vote by absentee ballot.

Alabama—Holds federal and state primary. Ballots are being mailed and will not be counted if received after 4 May. Members of armed forces exempt from poll tax.

Ohio—Holds primary and general election, federal, state and local. Ballots for primary election are being mailed, and will not be counted if received after 1200, 4 May. Ballots for general election will not be mailed earlier than 3 September and will not be counted if received after 1200, 2 November. Only active duty members of the armed forces may vote by absentee ballot.

Next week: W. Virginia, Oregon and North Carolina.

drive and will be carried door to door, office to office, bench to bench.

The Navy Department a leader in the Savings program since 1941 and the units have always topped the list. Today, approximately 100 per cent of civilian personnel are regularly buying bonds.

Since the opening of the Loan drive April 15, the Marine Division has dropped the other four FMF units in percentage of bonds sold. FMFLant in Norfolk is 1st with a score of 75.8 per cent. AAA Bn is next with 22. Combat Service Group has 13.2 per cent, and AirLant, Chesapeake, has 13. The Second Division reached 11.6 per cent, and of 2.7 since the start of the drive.

You don't actually buy Savings Bonds. You can money on bonds—they act like nothing for you still "money" in your hand.

Series "E" Bonds are the man's safest means of investing in the government backs the chase. Allotments may be for as little as a "Bond" by military personnel at the rate of better than 10 per cent. Should the need arise, each bond is negotiable days after purchase. The number of each bond issued, making it impossible for your money should a bond or destroyed.

Bond-buying is an important contribution in the control of our pressures. Make your money more secure by the purchase of bonds, and bring the Savings Division to the head of the parade.

This coming Sunday, WJNC, your community station, will feed twenty stations throughout North and South Carolina the stained glass dedication services at the Protestant Chapel at the base, at 3 o'clock.

Highlighting the dedication services will be an address from the head of all Navy Chaplains, Rear Admiral William N. Thomas.

WJNC will carry locally the dedication of the stained glass windows at the Catholic Chapel at 11 o'clock. An address will be given by the Very Reverend Father Ignatius Smith, Dean of Philosophy at Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

The Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Clifton B. Cates, USMC, will be among the distinguished visitors, which will include notables of the state, press and radio.

Gorton T. H. Wilbur, Program Director of WJNC, will be in charge of production, assisted by Ray Sinclair. Engineering will be in charge of Elmo Cronk, Chief Engineer at WJNC, assisted by Sam Norman of Camp Lejeune.

The 3:00 p.m. broadcast will be handled by WJNC over the Tobacco Network and the Dixie-FM Network, which includes the following stations: WJNC Jacksonville, WTKN New Bern, WGTC Greenville, WGNL Wilmington, WGBR Goldsboro, WFNC Fayetteville, WTKN Durham, WRAL Raleigh, WBBF-FM Burlington, WNCN-FM Gastonia, WGBR-FM Goldsboro, WHPE-FM High Point, WRAL-FM Raleigh, WCEC-FM Rocky Mount, WSTP-FM Salisbury, WSCF-FM Statesville, WAIB-FM Winston-Salem, WMRC-FM Greenville, S. Jack Bailey, emcee for the WJNC-Mutual Queen For A Day week-day cinderella program 2 to 2:30 gets many unusual letters every day in the mail. But one that's really got him furrowing his brow is a statement from a Queen aspirant, who wrote: "If I am elected Queen, I would like to celebrate my and my mother's birthday. I was born on April 21st, and she was born the day after." When is your birthday?

Ask any group of people what each one, individually, wants from life—and chances are you'll get as many different answers as there are people to ask. But everybody in this whole round world wants SECURITY—the knowledge that he's done ALL HE CAN to make the future safe for himself and his family. And there's no better, no easier way to do just that than to buy U. S. Savings Bonds through regular payroll allotments.

'Where Do We Go From Here?' Is Feature Article In May Gazette

The feature article in the May issue of The Marine Corps Gazette is Where Do We Go From Here? by Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Cushman. The Colonel doesn't quite agree with those who say this is the atomic age and that all you need are airplanes and the bomb. As an integral part of the fleet, the Marine Corps is charged with the responsibility of seizing and holding bases. When minor disturbances occur the United States wouldn't want to "atomize" the offenders, the hapless bystanders, and the surrounding countryside. Marines would be used as a show of force or for a limited offensive action as required to remedy the situation.

Colonel Cushman says, "The field of amphibious operation extends into the future and our country has decided that it is our mission to continue its development. Let us examine this problem in more detail. It is twofold—we must seize and defend advanced naval bases. Amphibious operations and base defense are opposite sides of the same coin."

"How must we direct ourselves in the solution of this problem? Until proven otherwise, we must base our development upon present basic principles—these have stood the test of centuries of time and we must presume them still valid. The big changes will occur in tactics and technique and in the related field of equipment, which, if proper specifications are laid down and the desires of the tacticians made known, can then be developed to meet the need. Thus we must be ever alert to either press into service new materiel, which was, perhaps developed for some other purpose than the one which we propose, or to require the development of equipment which will permit us to execute new concepts of tactics and techniques."

"One word describes the fundamental requirements which will shape all of our changes and development—that word is dispersion. History teaches that each new weapon has introduced the need for greater dispersion and we are now faced with weapons whose radii of destruction are greater than the fantastic imagining of the comic strips. We are thus required to effect still greater dispersion than ever before, particularly in the amphibious operation where present methods of execution result in presenting to the defender a target of such value that it is worthy of attack even by such a scarce and strategic weapon as the atomic bomb."

The Colonel states that our present landing craft will not satisfy our requirements for future landings. We will need both waterborne and airborne landing craft plus high speed air transports.

Bertram Vogel in his article,

The Last Day of the Yamato, tells of the inglorious end of the giant 45,000-ton Japanese battleship. The pride of the Japanese Navy had nine triple-mounted 18-inch guns and had been in hiding since receiving four bomb hits in the Philippine Campaign during October, 1944. Admiral Toyoda ordered her to Okinawa to engage the American Fleet. She was spotted by a scout plane from Admiral Mitscher's Task Force 58 and destroyed with a loss of only five American planes.

Ever find a four-leaf clover at midnight? Which is just another way of saying that you can't expect results when you go fortune-hunting—IN THE DARK! So why not do it the EASY way? Try buying U. S. Savings Bonds right where you work through systematic, automatic payroll allotments.

1804, 25 March—An order dated this day directed Marine officers to wear "black leather stocks when on duty." The wearing of these heavy leather collars is believed to be the foundation of the nickname "Leathernecks" for the U. S. Marines.

Navy Comes To Aid Of Marine In Emergency; SecNav Bears A Hand

(SEA)—The Navy "turned to" from the top on down in the interests of a Marine who had emergency leave.

Heading for the Mediterranean area aboard USS Leyte, Howard Fagenholz, PFC, USMC, received word via Navy communications that his father was seriously ill at his Chicago home. The Navy promised the Fagenholz family to get Howard home as soon as possible.

A destroyer, headed for Puerto Rico, offered Fagenholz a ride that far. So far things looked pretty good. The picture changed at Puerto Rico, however. No planes were scheduled to leave for the continent for days.

The Marine received word that the Secretary of the Navy Sullivan was in Puerto Rico and was flying to the States. Trying to hitch a ride with the Secretary looked like a pretty delicate problem. Mr. Sullivan's pilot proved to be the connection. He heard of the Leatherneck's plight and passed the word to the Navy chief.

Fagenholz found himself being welcomed aboard Mr. Sullivan's plane and traveling in the company of a four-star general and two congressmen.

Preparations were made at NAS Miami, to receive the Marine and hurry him on his last lap to Chicago. Arrangements also were made for him to board an airliner for the trip home.

Howard Fagenholz got to Chicago in record time.

The story isn't complete, though. Fagenholz started with $38 and before he finished he had $88. The Secretary of the Navy, worried about the Marine not having enough cash, added $20 to the original $38. Captain Robert Hunter, USN, CO of Opaloka station at Miami, also doubtful as to the amount required for an air trip to Chicago, supplied $30 more.

U. S. Takes Lead In Seeking World-Wide Blood Bank System

WASHINGTON (AFPS)—Plans to co-ordinate the facilities of the nation's blood banks, so that ample supplies of blood and plasma would be available in the event of atomic attack on the United States are being developed.

In meetings held here recently, members of the executive board of the American Association of Blood Banks conferred with officials of the Red Cross blood program, and planned a meeting to be held at Buffalo, N. Y., in August with a view to seeking international co-operation for a world-wide blood bank system. Specialists on RH and other blood factors will be invited to the Buffalo meeting.

A committee of seven medical experts was appointed to "wait on the Surgeon General's of the Army, Navy, and Public Health Service so as to correlate the 1,200 blood banks with the Armed Services in case of need."

It was estimated that ten times as much blood as normally is used in any community would be needed immediately in case of atomic warfare, to combat alpha and gamma radiations which prevent the production of red blood corpuscles.

Has Momentous Mission

The UN Security Council

(AFPS)—In the current world situation, beset by myth and crises, the name "Security Council" has become a byword of discussion of international events. Pick up any newspaper, a like "The Security Council voted to" and "The Security Council on such a case" will be prominent in the leads of numberless columns.

The Security Council is well on its way to becoming or so-called "familiar-abstracts." Everybody knows what the Council yet few seem exactly sure of just what it is.

If asked, the gentleman sporting the silk top-hat on Wall the news-boy on the corner of Hometown, U.S.A., or the lady patiently waiting in the relief line in stricken China, or the opium addict from the "Left Bank" in Paris will be able to furnish the information that the Security Council is a United Nations—like the General Assembly, or the Interim or the Social and Economic Commission.

But, pressed a little farther, Mr. and Mrs. Average World hard put to furnish any of the details of a body in whose hand of the most important missions of the United Nations organization which has, in the words of the Charter, "the primacy of the maintenance of international peace and security."

Thus the Security Council has outlined as its mission a history has yet to see successfully accomplished. Never before, or any organization, succeeded in keeping the scourge away from mankind.

The Security Council consists of eleven members, five of permanent members and six who are non-permanent. The members are the Five Powers—China, France, the United States, Britain, and Soviet Russia. At present the non-permanent members are Argentina, Belgium, Canada, Colombia, Syria, and Ukraine. These non-permanent members are elected by the General Assembly on the basis of contributions to world peace and security, with a fairly even geographical distribution.

It is the duty of the Security Council to investigate any dispute which might possibly flare up into open war. If the investigation shows that the peace has actually been broken there is serious danger of the peace being broken, or that aggression has been committed, the Security Council is the must take the action necessary to avert world crisis.

First, they must make their recommendations to the Council, and make every effort to lead toward settlement. If this fails however, and the threat to peace still more drastic steps are in line. The Security Council may call members of the United Nations to break off, completely or commercial or diplomatic relations with the countries involved.

Should even this fail, the Security Council is empowered by the Charter of the United Nations to call for such military measures as may be deemed necessary. These are to be carried out by the land, sea, and air forces of the Member States.

On all matters of this nature, the voting in the Security Council is governed by the provisions of the unanimity rule, or so-called rule. This simply means that all five of the permanent members must concur, or agree, in their voting in order to pass the proposal. If any one of the permanent members votes against the proposal, the vote is not passed, and that power has "vetoed" that particular proposal. In addition to this agreement among all five permanent members, two additional concurring votes from non-permanent members are needed to pass a vote. There are certain specific matters to which the unanimity rule does not apply; but these pertain to Council procedure and the like, and do not affect international relations.

The Security Council has been installed as a mighty force the huge task confronting it. Through it, great strides toward peace are being taken if the member states cooperate. The Security Council is the concentrated, potent heart of the United Nations.

We get out of life just what we put into it. If we want peace, we must first learn to make others happy; if we want love and devotion, we must first give our devotion and attention.

1945, 1 April—Marines and Army Troops, almost unopposed, landed, secured a beach-head on Okinawa.

1932, 4 April—First Lt. Charles J. Levonski (Sergeant-at-Arms), was killed by mutinous members of his command.

Over The Counter

Many New And Attractive Items Featured By Camp Exchange

THE SPRING LOOK AT CENTRAL

Carolina Spring has arrived with a rush bringing many new and attractive items of merchandise to Lejeune. Featured at Central's Jewelry Counter this week are Evans Table Lighters in two (2) sizes. The smaller one sells for $3.50 and the larger model is priced at $7.05.

An assortment of new clocks, styled by Sessions and Westclox, have also arrived to assist you in bringing that spring look to your kitchen and living room. In assorted kitchen colors the Sessions' clock is available in the popular teapot shape, priced at $3.75 and the round model which sells for $3.50. The Westclox electric alarm, which is equally at home in living room or bedroom, is priced at $8.75. A Sessions mantel clock sells for only $3.50 and a new electric clock bearing ship-wheel motif is featured for $7.25. Other mantel clocks are available at $4.70 and a leather-cased travel clock, admirably adapted for barracks and furlough use, is on sale for only $5.50.

Also at the Jewelry Counter is an assortment of costume jewelry which carries out the theme of the new spring look in personal adornment. These hand-made silver pieces, designed by Pisgah, come in three (3) different styles; a four-leaf clover pattern, a lily-of-the-valley design, and a dogwood treatment. Prices on this attractive new merchandise range from a medium low of $3.00 to an especially interesting price of 70c for the smaller pieces.

Second only to the Rue de la

Paix is Central's springtime perfume display. Here the problem of luxury gifts is economically solved. The famous Ellyn Deleith perfume, presented in distinctive square bottles, is this week featured for $15. Smaller sizes in this breath-of-spring perfume are a feature at $4.50. A few vanity sets, fashioned by Deleith, which include a tray, powder box and perfume bottle, are to be seen at only $15. Other perfume brands worthy of note are Princess Lilli, Tete-a-Tete, and the new Black Satin by Angeline.

Across the aisle from the Perfume Counter may be seen a fine assortment of lamps whose floral patterns will bring spring into your living room. The Victorian brass and china lamps bearing these attractive floral decorations are variously priced at $5.75, $4.25 and $6.35. Hurricane lamps in white glass with sparkling prisms to reflect the spring sunshine are featured at $10.75, while red-etched Hurricane lamps to lend a highlight of luxury to your home, are on display for $16.25.

But spring can be unpredictably cool in the small morning hours and Central is prepared to meet this exigency. Blankets which measure 72" x 90" are featured in spring-repeating colors of blue, yellow, and green and represent an excellent value for $9.00. The versatile five per cent wool blankets are priced at $5.00 for the double size and only $3.35 for singles. Available in black and brown, these durable handbags are priced at only $1.50 each and furnish gleaming contrast to the light shades of women's clothing which Carolina spring makes popular.

The new look of spring also prevails in the kitchen and housewares department. Here a green opaque glass kitchen set, service for eight, is a remarkable bargain for only $13.75. In addition to dishes in this set there are included four different types of glasses (8 of each) and every-day silverware which will find itself at home in any surroundings. At this counter also you may see a new hand-fashioned Mexican Tea and Coffee set capable of serving six (6) and decorated with south-of-the-border patterns. This attractive pottery is priced at only $6.90.

Spring fever makes the idea of luxury in kitchen equipment ever more appealing. A super egg beater with double whippers and an adjustable handle for the ultimate in convenience is priced at $2.75 and another large egg beater with a stationary handle is priced at $2.15.

Kitchen silver which will withstand the rigors of every-day use and assist in aiding the life of your better silverware is available in six (6) place settings for $5.50 and $6.00.

To add a note of spring to your hospitality Central is this week featuring a large assortment of trays, both round and square, with side handles and bail handles, in individual styles and designs. Most of these are priced under $5.00 although two (2) which represent quiet distinction are especially noteworthy for $5.50 and $5.25. Also to be seen at this same counter are the new Lactona Plasto-Pix priced at 15c which have been stocked by your Exchange in response to numerous requests.

MEN'S SHOP

The Loser Pays Dearly

Take A Chance?

"I took a chance once," said one fellow to another, "but I've learned my lesson. I won't be walking for the rest of my life. I knew I shouldn't have tried, but now it is too late."

These words are common and day after day, all over the world, people are saying them, but you can't go in a store to buy a foot or leg, hand or arms, nor can you buy an eyesight. Now that you have them, show yourself that you appreciate that fact, and have intentions of keeping them that way.

Your employer, wherever you are, has all the safety devices available for your use, so don't overlook the chances against your life. Keep a level head and remember your A B C's. Always Be Careful.

A minute saved may be a life lost, so take that extra minute in taking the safety precautions to prevent injury to yourself or your fellow worker.

Our lives are full of chances, and in-as-much that we know that most of them are dangerous, there is no one on earth to stop us from taking them but ourselves.—The Bluejacket.

1861, 17 April—Virginia seceded from the Union, with her troops menacing the Norfolk Navy Yard.

1945, 19 April—After a week of bitter fighting, Marines ripped through to the northern tip of Okinawa.

Inspection Lanes

The other day I took my Model T Ford and my new car through the State Highway Inspection Lane. Much to my own surprise the Model T went through on the first try while I had to return three times with my shining new car. Some people jokingly said, "Chaplain, it's really what is under the tin that counts". That is partly true but the rest of the story is that I had taken care of the Model T, while at the same time I gave the new car very little attention.

A few days later I was called to the scene of an accident. The military occupants had been drinking and the result was disastrous. I suppose that you might say the same thing is true of our bodies and our spiritual life. If we take care of them and do all things with a good bit of old fashioned "horse sense" and temperance, then when we have to go down one of those inspection lanes someday in the future we will pass the test and not be rejected.

To A Marine and Family

Red Cross Service

The Marine was upset. His wife and child were about to be evicted—if he didn't find some way to pay their rent within a few hours. He had no money. The landlord and his family were far across the country. His wife had informed him the landlord wanted the property himself and planned rapid eviction if the rent were not paid on time.

But payday had been a little late; his wife's family allowance had been delayed. Another difficulty confronting the serviceman was the fact that his wife lived at a rural address and could not be reached promptly by telegram. So the Marine sought the Red Cross. A wire to the local chapter brought a Home Service worker immediately on the job and everything was settled before the rent time limit expired. And the Marine and his wife learned that help was just as close as his Field Director's Office and her Red Cross Chapter.

What's New

Wish You Knew?

(AFPS)—Never before in the history of human events has news of the world held more significance or been of more interest to the serviceman. Despite the complexities of world conditions, the American serviceman continues to fulfill the proud boast that he is the best informed in the world. He maintains his place as a well-informed soldier through newspapers, radios and his own healthy, inherent interests. To judge the scope of your own general knowledge of national and world affairs, try answering the following news quiz.—Ed. note.

QUESTIONS

1. In discussions of European recovery, the initials E.R.P., which stand for European Recovery Program, have been mentioned frequently. The following other initials also designate agencies connected with the recovery program: E.C.A., C.E.E.C., and E.C.E. Can you identify each agency?
2. Greece recently celebrated her independence anniversary. From whom did she gain independence, and when?
3. The anniversary of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's death was observed this month. Can you name the two other U. S. Presidents (the 8th and 16th) who died in office in the month of April?
4. Gen Jacob L. Devers, commander of Army Ground Forces, recently said that present Defense Department planning contemplates transportation of an entire Field Army into a combat area by air in the event of war. How many men comprise a Field Army?
5. President Truman has nominated the Deputy U. S. Representative in the U. N. Security Council to be Ambassador to Brazil. Can you name him?

ANSWERS

1. E.C.A. stands for Economic Co-operation Administration, the agency which will administer E.R.P. The initials C.E.E.C. mean Committee For European Economic Co-operation and represent the 16 European nations included in E.R.P. The initials E.C.E. stand for Economic Commission for Europe, a U. N. agency.
2. Greece won her independence from Turkey in the war of 1821-1829.
3. President William Henry Harrison died in office April 4, 1841. President Lincoln died from a bullet wound inflicted by the actor John Wilkes Booth, April 15, 1865.
4. Including necessary support troops, a Field Army normally numbers about 360,000 men. For air delivery as mentioned by General Devers, it probably would be reduced somewhat by streamlining.
5. Hershel V. Johnson is the name of the career diplomat nominated by the President to be Ambassador to Brazil. A native of Atlanta, Ga., he was appointed to the Diplomatic Service in 1920.

NEW RIVER RIPPLES

The Post Exchange sale was trying to sell Sergeant MacTavish a pair of pajamas the canny Scot-Yank shot head.

"Not for me, laddy! Who blows I go to bed!"

An old Irishman collapsed street and a crowd soon gathered all trying to help and each suggestions. One, Maggie kept shouting, "Give the poor whiskey," but little attention paid to her.

Then the agonized voice of Irishman rose above the din, "The lot of ye would your A and let Maggie Riley speak."

A young woman who feared was losing her husband's affections consulted a fortune teller. He, going through her usual jumbo, the seer advised: "Put a raw piece of beef, cut flat an inch thick. Slice an onion, rub the meat on both sides of it. Put on pepper and salt, roast it on each side over a coal fire. Drop on it three drops of butter and two sprigs of parsley and get him to eat it."

The young wife did as she told, and the little trick seemed to exert such an admirable effect upon her husband that she decided to repeat the practice at regular intervals. And the marriage never after.

When the new top-kick shown around the orderly room he remarked: "That clerk is to be a hard worker."

"Yes," replied his guide, "his specialty."

"What, working hard?"

"No, seeming to."

At West Point Major H. was giving the First Class lecture on insurance the other and was discussing the advantages of setting up a proper policy the securing of one's dependents. During this part of the lecture he stated that he knew that the class were not content getting married for a long time. "However," he said, "Four every five in the preceding Grey Line were married after five years of service."

Long dark hair all over his face may make a man look intelligent but when the Missus finds a blonde one on his collar it him look foolish.
