Written For Marines By Marines

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1948

NO. 19

Lejeune Nine Skins Moose, Downs MB Charleston, Splits With Cherry Point

The Navy Relief Society takes care of its own and is primarily dependent on donations from service personnel to carry on its highly creditable work. A small contribution from each officer and enlisted man in Camp Lejeune will raise the share which the camp should contribute in fulfilling its obligation to support the society.

In lieu of having an extended period in which to make contributions, it is the desire of the Commanding General that each Company Commander arrange to accept donations on the second pay day in May and the first pay day in June.

All contributions are voluntary. A generous contribution by every officer and enlisted man of this command on the 20th of May will push the drive over the top.

Your whole-hearted support is needed to successfully conclude this campaign to raise funds for a deserving cause.

Return will be after early breakfast at the mess hall on Monday morning. Only uniforms and equipment required for these groups be uniform of the day without scarfs, swimming trunks, articles and towel, blankets, bed linen.

Comdr. Barnes Assumes Duties As Camp Chaplain

Commander E. Richard Barnes assumed the duties of Camp Chaplain last week relieving Lt. Comdr. J. C. Fitzgerald who has been transferred to the USS Little Rock.

Chaplain Barnes came to Lejeune from duty as the Staff Chaplain with Commander, Amphibious Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet. He was in Brahman, Minnesota, he had college and seminary in Lejeune before serving in Methodist churches in and around Syracuse, N. Y. He was also a mission in Calcutta, India for a short time.

entering the naval chaplaincy in 1941 from the pastorate of North Methodist Church, Elmira, N. Y. Chaplain Barnes' first assignment was as the Staff Chaplain of the 1st Marine Division. Shortly after Pearl Harbor he reported aboard the USS "Albatross" at Brooklyn, N. Y. of 1942, he sailed for New

Marine Flyers Make Ocean Rescue With Coast Guard Theme

CHERRY POINT, N. C. (Delayed) — "This isn't the Coast Guard, this is through the courtesy of the United States Marine Corps," Lieutenant Ralph R. Davis, Marine pilot of a Marine Air Sea Rescue plane, said Thursday, April 29, when he landed his Grumman "Duck" in the sea fifteen miles off Cape Hatteras to pick up Mr. Snowden Quidley, of Hatteras, who had been stranded since the previous Monday without food, water or adequate clothing.

Lt. Davis' statement was in reply to Mr. Quidley's prayer, "Thank God for the Coast Guard."

Mr. Quidley then told Lt. Davis his story . . . a story of four days without food, water, or adequate clothing . . . aboard an LCM, which was leaking and whose engine had gone dead.

The LCM had been purchased at Norfolk by Mr. Quidley and Mr. Kelley Watson, of Bayboro, N. C. Enroute to Hatteras, the engine of the LCM broke down and the boat started leaking. Mr. Quidley saw a buoy nearby and tied his boat to the buoy. He was 15 miles off shore, which was too far to swim in such turbulent waters.

Wednesday Mr. Watson notified the Coast Guard that Mr. Quidley

4th Marine Div. Veterans Urged To Submit Names

Former 4th Marine Division officers and men are already making plans to attend the first post-war reunion of this famed fighting outfit to be held 4 and 5 June in Kansas City. All members of the war-time 4th, presently stationed at Camp Lejeune or residing in this vicinity, are urged to contact Lt. Col. C. D. Roberts immediately in order that a meeting may be held in the near future to discuss plans for attending this gala affair.

Each 4th Division veteran is requested to submit the following information to Lt. Col. Roberts, Marine Corps Supply Depot, via message center, or by phoning 5350: name, rank, present organization, and the unit of the 4th with which he served.

As soon as the number of 4th Division vets in this area is determined, the Commanding General, Major General Franklin A. Hart, expects to call them together to explain in detail the events scheduled at the reunion and the tentative arrangements for making the trip.

The men of the 4th are pretty proud of the fact that their division was commanded by the Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Clifton B. Cates, who will attend the get-together.

Even at this early date, over 500 4th Division vets have indicated that they will attend. Throughout the country, these officers and enlisted men have been contacted and they are expected from nearly every corner of the U.S.A.

The Kansas City Detachment of the Marine Corps League is making extensive plans for entertainment. An outstanding program is being arranged for the two-day affair which will include the Marine Band plus the drum and bugle Corps from Quantico, Va.

Kansas City, known as the "Heart of America," was selected for the site of the reunion even before the end of the war because of its central location.

Former members are urged to contact Lt. Col. Roberts at once in order that a local meeting can be arranged at the earliest possible date.

CWOs, WOs & Former Officers May Apply For Commission

WASHINGTON, D. C. (May 5).—As outlined in a recent letter to all commanding officers, qualified commissioned warrant officers, warrant officers, and enlisted men of the first three pay grades who served as temporary or reserve officers in World War II, may now apply for a commission as second lieutenant for temporary service in the Marine Corps, Marine Corps Headquarters announced today.

The program, initiated to alleviate the shortage of young junior officers qualified in certain functional fields for duty with Fleet Marine Force Units, including aviation, stated that men receiving temporary commissions would receive the same promotion benefits as officers of the Regular Marine Corps. The law also provides that no person so appointed will receive any reduction in pay and allowances other than family allowance. Enlisted men appointed to the rank of second lieutenant will receive $250 as a uniform gratuity.

Although the Marine Corps cannot insure temporary commissioned service to appointees for a period in excess of one year, it is the intention to retain officers appointed under this program who satisfactorily perform their duties until such time as budgetary limitations necessitate reductions. This in turn may extend beyond the one-year period.

Qualified personnel in the Administrative, Artillery, Communications, Engineering, Food, Infantry, Intelligence, Motor Transport, Ordnance, Disbursing, Photographic, Supply, Special Services, Tank and Amphibian Tractor, Training Aide, and Aviation (including pilots) functional fields must forward their applications to Headquarters, Marine Corps prior to July 1, 1948.

Personnel desiring such appointment will be governed by the following eligibility requirements:

1. Less than 32 years of age on 1 July 1948.
2. Less than 28 years of age on 1 July 1948 to be designated as naval aviator.
3. Qualified in one of the specialties listed above. (A statement of previous service and duties must accompany all applications).
4. Presently serving as a commissioned officer.

Lt. Col. Kelly, Provost Marshal, Detached May 1

Lt. Col. Charles W. Kelly Jr., Provost Marshal at Camp Lejeune for the past year and a half, was detached May 1 for duty on the staff of the Commander, Second Task Fleet, Atlantic Fleet. Lt. Col. Kelly, who was also Camp Fire Marshal, has been relieved by Lt. Col. Joseph L. Winecoff, formerly executive officer of the 10th Marines.

Lt. Col. Kelly is well qualified for the military police work which he has ably directed on this giant all-purpose base, having served several years with the Metropolitan Police Force, Washington, D. C. prior to 1940.

He enlisted in the Corps in 1934 as a private; and, after a hitch, he took to the outside where he joined the Washington police force and also received a reserve commission. He re-entered the Marine Corps in 1940 and has been on con-

In the second game with Charleston on Friday, played on the Midway Park diamond, the local 9 banged out 15 hits to win again 20-7.

The team continued its winning ways Saturday afternoon, but lost a heartbreaker Sunday to split a twin bill with the Fliers from Cherry Point.

In the first Cherry Point game, the locals overcame a four to nothing deficit in the fifth inning on singles by Tonner and Fairchild, a walk, three errors, and a long fly ball to center field by Freeze, to score five runs and take a one run lead.

Burns pitched no-hit ball the remaining four innings while his mates were piling up four more runs to chalk up a 9 to 4 win.

Sunday, the Camp team was again forced to come from behind to tie-up the ball game at three all in the eighth inning. The effort

Plastics, Via MCI, Offer Career For Future Civilians

WASHINGTON, D. C.—If you are a snappy Marine, you used plastics today. You brushed your teeth, combed your hair, dusted your clothes with plastics products. The world of plastics surrounds you—buttons, household articles, and parts of radios, automobiles, and airplanes are produced by this growing trade. The young, ambitious Marine can use his talents in the production and designing of plastics.

A varied and interesting career lies before the student entering this field. An industry, only recently coming into its own as a result of the search for synthetic materials, plastics has a place for the person with a working knowledge of the materials and their uses. Production techniques in molding and laminating, decreasing of costs, increasing of product durability, lightness, and practicality—all have room for the ideas of a capable designer.

CAREER COURSE

The Marine Corps Institute now offers all Marines an opportunity to get a start in this rapidly expanding enterprise. If a man is undecided about his future career, here is an opportunity-laden field that deserves serious consideration. The course entitled Plastics contains the technical and practical tinuous active duty since.

During his career, he has managed to spend some time at Boston Navy Yard; Quantico; Quantanamo Bay, Cuba; New River; British Samoa; Guadalcanal; Australia; Hawaii; Okinawa; China; and then Camp Lejeune.

For his action at Guadalcanal, the colonel received a Letter of Commendation from the Secretary of the Navy.

The Worth Is Evident

Navy Relief Society

With the slogan "the Navy takes care of its own," the annual drive of the Navy Relief Society opened 4 May, in commemoration of the Battle of the Coral Sea and the Battle of Midway. The drive will last until 6 June, during which period contributions may be made by all members of the naval service.

Although an adjunct of the naval service, the Navy Relief Society is a private agency founded and incorporated in 1904 by a group of naval officers, wives of naval officers, and civilian friends of the Navy. Originally the activity of the organization was confined to aiding "indigent widows and orphans of officers and enlisted men of the U. S. Navy and Marine Corps." Through the years, as necessity arose and resources increased, the Society's work gradually broadened.

Today the general scope within which the Society's assistance can be expected includes the relief, or contributing to the relief, of abnormal and non-recurring situations (particularly in the field of sickness, hospitalization, funeral expenses, and non-receipt of allowances) in which naval personnel or their dependents find themselves, and which they cannot reasonably meet from their own resources. Real need is a controlling factor.

The Navy Relief Society, except in rare instances where the needs are over and above the ability of the family to repay, merely makes a loan to be repaid by allotment or in some other specified manner. There is no interest on the loan. Members of the Chaplain's Corps administer the funds; and in a friendly manner, they offer real aid when needed.

We often feel that we, individually, are pretty well set for any emergency. Unforeseen events sometimes prove us wrong. It is in just such times that "the Navy takes care of its own" through the facilities of the Society.

The Navy Relief Society is primarily dependent on contributions from personnel of the service for the funds with which to carry on. A small contribution from each Marine and sailor in Camp Lejeune will raise the share which the Camp should contribute in fulfilling its obligations to support the Society.

Contributions may be made on the second payday in May and the first payday in June. All contributions are voluntary; and, no matter how large or how small the individual donation, if each person does his part, the total will enable the Navy Relief Society to render assistance throughout the coming year whenever the need arises.

Perhaps it may help YOU.

Chaplain's Corner

Through Trains

One of the major arts in operating trains of thought is to keep them on the Main Line. An open switch is a sin that doth so easily beset us. Before we know it we have left the trunk line which goes through to the destination we started for and which is worth arriving at, and we are off, rolling down a little spur that leads nowhere. Straight thinking is a hard undertaking. In mental Operations the zig-zag or the curve is the line of least resistance.

This major art of keeping trains of thought on the main line is just as important and exacting in the larger aspects of thinking and acting. It is the simple, the universal, the essential things which count.

William Butler Yeats has defined genius as the art of living with the major issues of life. The men who have touched deeply their fellow-men have kept to the main line of the primitive and simple things. Our greatest paintings are paintings of such things as a man plowing a field, of sowing or reaping; a girl filling a pitcher from a spring, a young mother with her child, a fisherman mending his nets; a light from a lonely hut on a dark night.

These are the essential things—these are depots along the Main Line, these are the things that count—simple, universal, essential.

It is a dull and drab mind and heart when all the trains of thought are local trains making all the stops in regular order, and never crashing along at very much speed. Many people are never carried out of themselves by an emotion or an enthusiasm which whisks them out of the petty details of their local environment.

Now, I would not have local trains excluded. I yield to no man or to no woman in my taste for gossip. I know of nothing which so lightens the gloom as a fresh piece of interesting gossip. I can well sympathize with Robert Louis Stevenson, writing from his exile: "For heaven's sake tell me the news. Send me a letter crammed full of gossip." A feeling for the smallest details of life is a fine boon.

But once in a while mind and heart ought to be whirled about on the "THROUGH EXPRESS" bound for infinity. There is no ecstasy in life to be compared with the "5-mile-an-hour" feeling that comes over the spirit as we become part of a great purpose outside of ourselves, and our spirits thrill to great spiritual realities. These things are more than meat and drink and they have nothing to do with what the neighbors wear or how much they make a month.

Some people who never get away from the local stops run a mental "five-and-ten-cent" store. On the smooth surface of their unruffled brow you can read as plainly as though it were written in red letters, "Nothing in this place worth over ten cents."

Our fathers very often lived in a smaller world geographically than we do, but their trains of thought were "THROUGH TRAINS." Great thoughts made their home with them, thoughts whose extent was endless. It was from a "THROUGH TRAIN" that they sang:

I'm a Pilgrim, and I'm a stranger,

I can tarry, I can tarry but a night.

QUESTIONS

1. In the recent Italian elections, 92.3 per cent of the voters cast ballots. Which of the following figures is closest to the percentage of Americans voting in our own 1944 Presidential elections: 87 per cent, 77 per cent, 67 per cent, 57 per cent?

2. These Latin American countries recently figured in the news: Costa Rica, Colombia, Ecuador, Paraguay and Chile. Name their capitals.

3. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was recently elected President of the Chinese Republic. When did China become a republic and who was its first president?

4. In the Political Committee of the U.N. General Assembly recently, the U. S. suggested placing Palestine under the U.N. Trusteeship Council. If this were done, could Russia veto majority decisions?

5. The name of Andrew Summers Rowan was recalled recently in connection with the anniversary of Cuban independence. Who was he?

ANSWERS

1. 57 per cent is an approximation of the percentage of U. S. voters exercising their franchises in the 1944 Presidential elections.

2. The capital of Costa Rica is San Jose. The others are: Colombia, Bogota; Ecuador, Quito; Paraguay, Asuncion; Chile, Santiago.

3. China became a republic in 1911 with Sun Yat-Sen as its first President. He became noted as one of the great Chinese leaders of modern times.

4. No. The Big Five veto power does not apply in the Trusteeship Council. The U.N. Charter states that all Trusteeship Council decisions shall be taken by majority vote. Russia has previously boycotted the Council.

5. Rowan was the American officer who carried the famous "message to Garcia." His task was to locate Gen. Calixto Garcia, insurgent commander, in the interior of Cuba, and deliver a message from the United States Government. He succeeded, returning with valuable information concerning insurgent forces.

Several little delinquents were loitering outside one of the Broadway movie palaces, scheming a way to get in without paying admission. Finally a bright-eyed youngster edged away from the group and half-way in the theater before strong-armed ticket taker snatched him back, "Where d'ya think you goin'?"

"Leave me go," snapped small fry, "I'm the critic from Broadway."

Angry Motorist: "Some of the pedestrians walk along just though you owned the streets."

Irate Pedestrian: Yeah, and so of you motorists drive just though you owned the car."

The township's miser stomped into the local doctor's office, pounded the floor with his cane and wheezed, "You're a dang old fraud! I came to you in 1904; a cold and you charged me three dollars."

"I cured you, didn't I?" asked the doctor.

"Cured me, he says," stormed the former patient. "Cured me of that sneeze, that is. Look at me! I'm sneezing again."

One Stripper: "For months I wondered where my wife was spending her evenings. Now I know."

Two-Stripper: "How'd ya find out?"

One-Stripper: "I went home one evening and there she was."

President Truman Proclaims 'I Am An American Day'

Presidential Proclamation

Allegiance To Our America

Whereas the stature of our country has been augmented by the millions who have come here from all lands to realize their dreams of liberty and opportunity; and whereas the vigor of our national life is constantly renewed by the coming of age of our native youth, who add their strength to the cause of preserving the heritage which has been held in trust to them; and

Whereas loyalty to a great ideal brought together people of every race, creed, and culture—all ded into a unity which has the strength of our country has enabled it to meet every crisis; and

Whereas the trying problems, foreign and domestic, which our nation today require unshaken devotion and united effort to meet; and

Now, therefore, I, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of authority vested in me by the press in a joint resolution approved May 3, 1940 (54 Stat. 178), hereby designate Sunday, May 16, 1948, as I Am An American Day.

On that day it is the duty of every citizen to stress the worth and meaning of American citizenship by rendering special recognition to those who have been naturalized in the past year as well as to those of our youth who have reached their majority and are ready to assume the full responsibilities of citizenship.

I call upon Federal, state and local officials, as well as patriotic, civic and educational organizations, to conduct exercises on or about May 16 expressing thankfulness for the rights and privileges of American citizenship and solemn acceptance of our obligations as citizens, at home and abroad, to the peace and happiness may be attained by Americans and by peoples everywhere.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this thirtieth day of March in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-eight, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-second.

information needed by the Marine seeking a sound foundation for progress in "futuramic" positions.

There are 15 lessons in the course explaining the "language" of the plastics fabricators and the materials and processes used. The background and the development of the industry are studied in the text, along with the relation of chemistry, engineering and designing to the finished product.

A plastics engineer renowned in his field and head of one of the foremost plastics manufacturing concerns, J. H. DuBois, wrote the textbook. He treats the subject matter in detail, describing the sources of raw materials and the mechanics of production. Problems confronting the industry are studied, and such features as tables of properties make it excellent for reference on the job.

PREPARE FOR THE FUTURE

The time to prepare for the future and the entry into the growing and important industry of plastics is NOW. A visit to your Educational Officer or a letter to the Director, Marine Corps Institute, Marine Barracks, Washington 25, D. C. is the first step in molding your career.

Sec. Forrestal Endorses Draft Bill; Effective 90 Days After Passage

WASHINGTON (AFPS)—The Andrews bill, providing for induction of men 19 through 25 into the Armed Services for two years of duty, recently reported out favorably by the House Armed Services Committee, seems destined for prompt action on the House floor.

The bill would increase military manpower from the present 1,384,000 to an overall ceiling of 2,005,882, apportioned as follows: Army, 837,000; Air Force, 502,000; Navy and Marine Corps, 666,882.

FORRESTAL APPROVES

Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal endorsed the bill as "excellent" and urged its prompt adoption. Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall said it was "thoroughly acceptable to all the Services, Army, Navy and Air Force."

If adopted, the legislation would become effective 90 days after passage and remain in force for two years.

Providing for registration of men 18 through 30, with those in the 19-25 age group subject to immediate call for two year tours, the bill envisages efforts to be made inducing these men to enlist in the Army for two years. The remaining quotas will be determined by whether or not such voluntary enlistment provides the required manpower ceiling.

VETS WOULD REGISTER

Veterans under 31 would be required to register, but those holding combat badges and certain decorations, would be exempt from induction. These provisions are tentative in the present draft of the bill.

This register will be used to supplement that of Sudan Temple in keeping visiting Shriners posted on Eastern North Carolina Shrine activities.

May Day Festivals At Camp Schools

The May Queen and the May King, Connie Jean Butler and Howard Young, respectively, reign in splendor during the May Day Fete held at the Midway Park School last Wednesday. Bearers are Charlotte Jaye Bailey and Tommy Clements. The Flower Girls are Laverne Harvey, Betty Jean Patton, Patricia Johns, Ann McDowell, and Joyce Rockley.

At 1330 last Wednesday the school students presented their colorful May Day Fete before a crowd of approximately 800, with each child in the entire school participating. An international theme was displayed throughout, even to the decorations for the throne.

Each grade participated as follows: Flowers—Miss Lane's First Grade; Butterflies and cocoons—Mrs. Hurst's Third Grade; Dutch and Irish Dance—Miss McKibben's Kindergarten; English Dance—Miss Jasper's First Grade; Danish Dance—Mrs. Anderson's Second Grade; Minuet—Miss Ross and Mrs. Mullens' Fourth Grade; Indians—Mrs. Lyrd's Kindergarten; Parade of Floats—Mrs. Conaway's Third Grade; and the May Pole Dance was by Mrs. Carter's Second Grade.

The program was directed by Mrs. Mary Kelly Wildman, music supervisor, and Miss Mary Willock, art supervisor of the Camp Lejeune Schools.

A large number of parents and friends attended the gay and colorful fete held in the High School auditorium. Ralph Widner and Harold Blake entertained the assemblage by playing the part of Court Clowns.

Mrs. Wariner's Fifth Grade entertained the Queen and her court with interpretations of folk dances of foreign lands.

Miss Martin's Fifth and Sixth Grades square danced with Mrs. F. T. Eagan calling the figures.

Piano accompaniment was played by Miss Carolyn Boney, talented Senior. Members of the school faculty who directed the program were Mrs. Bessie Wariner, Miss Carolyn Dukes, and Miss Esther Martin.

Lejeune Nine Wins 4 Out Of 5 Games To Open Official Baseball Season

proved fruitless however when the Cherry Point aggregation put together two singles to score a run in the first of the ninth and then shut out the home team in the last frame to cop the ball game, 4 to 3.

This was undoubtedly the best ball game seen on this base this year. The baserunning and fielding by both teams were outstanding; and, although the pitching for both teams was exceptionally good, the ten hits garnered by each squad speaks for itself.

The remaining six games between these teams should be some of the finest games of the year, and it would be well-worth your while to see them. Thursday and Friday, the 19th and 20th of May they meet again on the local diamond.

Their first shutout of the year was marked up by the Lejeune squad as they skinned the Wilmington Moose 12 to 0, last Tuesday.

The local squad spanked out thirteen hits, including home runs by Fairchild, Dias and Messenhiemer, while Burbeau was holding the Wilmington squad to six safeties. Centerfielder Woods collected four hits in five times at bat to lead the Lejeune hitting and Fairchild was close behind with three for four.

Cogsdell, Melloy Cop Sailing Races In Sunday Regatta

The weather and the races were both placed in the same bracket last Sunday as being "tops" for the first of the Memorial Day Sweepstakes at the Wallace Creek Boathouse. All entrants got a leg on the Regatta to be held the 31st as close competition and an often-changed lead brought out the best in sailing skill.

Lt. Mample, who managed to defend his last place position from all usurpers, stated that he would have won except that he had no crew. He didn't overlook the possibilities of ballast, however, and found Capt. I. B. Hayes very suitable.

The most consistent sailors in these weekly races will be chosen to make up three crews to form a Camp Lejeune team. Round robin sailing races are planned with Cherry Point and Quantico during July and August.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

First—M-Sgt. B. A. Cogsdell of the 16th Marines in Boat No. 3. Awarded 20 points toward Memorial Day Regatta.

Second—LtCol. J. S. O'Halloran, Camp Headquarters in Boat No. 1. Awarded 19 points.

Third—Corporal J. G. Lick in Boat No. 6. Awarded 18 points.

Fourth—Corporal J. J. Breheiny, 2d ComSerGrp in Boat No. 2. Awarded 17 points.

Fifth—Corporal C. O. Berg, 2d ComSerGrp in Boat No. 2. Awarded 16 points.

Sixth—1st Lt. R. H. Mample, Camp Headquarters in Boat No. 4. Awarded 15 points.

Town Class

First—Pfc. R. G. Melloy, 2d Engineer Bn. in Boat No. 35. Awarded 20 points toward Memorial Day Regatta.

Overmatching of Boxers

(AFPS) — The Good Ship Fisticopia appears to be sailing once more towards the doldrums. Hopes for a boxing boom such as followed the close of World War I are dim indeed. Highly touted boys are being beaten because of overmatching or inability; champions are making poor showings; and the hue and cry of crookedness and "deals" in matchmaking are serving to sour fight followers.

Camp Golf Team Still Undefeated

The Camp Lejeune golf team continued their winning ways last Sunday, defeating the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Chincoteague, Va., 15 1-2 to 1-2 on the Winter Quarters golf course in Pocomoke, Maryland. This is the local team's second straight victory without a loss, and proves they should give their future opponents a run for their money.

M-Sgt. C. C. Adams and Capt. George W. Ellis paired up against Borchers and Letelman of Chincoteague and won the first four-some match 3 to 0. Adams easily topped his opponent 3-0 and Capt. Ellis just as easily scored a 2 1-2 to 1-2 win.

Sgt. Spencer, the No. 2 man on the Camp team defeated Barns of NAAS, 3-0 to continue the lopsided victory and Lt. Brock, his partner, eased past LaVoy 2 to 1.

To Sgt. Spencer goes the honors for making the most spectacular shot of the day. After driving only 200 yards on the three-hundred yard, par four first hole, he lifted a beautiful approach shot to the green that rolled into the cup for an eagle two.

Chincoteague will attempt to avenge this loss Saturday, when they play the Camp team in a return match on the Paradise Point course.

Last week-end the match with Newberry College at Newberry, S. C., was cancelled for reasons unknown.

Week Of 11 July Set For All-Navy Tennis

(SEA) — The All-Navy tennis tournament will be held at the Naval Academy during the week beginning 11 July, to select a team to represent the Navy when it meets the Army and Air Force for the annual Leech Trophy.

Eliminations are now being conducted throughout fleet and shore activities to send finalists to Annapolis, Md.

The Leech Cup matches will be played in the Washington, D. C., area on 31 July.

Notice

All home baseball games on weekdays will commence at 1630 instead of 1545. Check Sports Schedule on Page 1 for playing dates.

Div. Fighter Dropped All-Navy Bout To Quinn, Great Lakes Flyweight

MYRVIE "RED" DAVIS

Myrvie "Red" Davis has been selected to train with the Navy at Bainbridge, Maryland for a possible entry in the Olympic trials to be held at Boston in July. Despite the fact that the 26-year-old flyweight lost by decision left-hander Quinn from the Lakes Naval Training Station in the All-Navy semi-finals last week, he looked good and was selected by the board as possible Olympic material.

Davis had trouble fathoming southpaw Quinn's style in the two rounds, and didn't get ed on his own offense and third stanza, which he won by a wide margin. The second round was about a split, but the not Quinn on points.

After defeating Davis, Quinn went on to win the All-Navy championship. He had formerly lost the National flyweight championship last year's All-Navy crown to Jose (The Name) Oliviera, who decided Davis in the Navy semi-finals last year.

Red Davis's good showing against Quinn demonstrates how much he has improved; under the expert coaching of Webb, the Navy Olympic coach, Red should be at his best in Boston, if he is selected to represent the Navy.

While training at Bainbridge, the boxers will meet teams from several big cities, such as Detroit and Chicago. Davis will undoubtedly be one of the best of these trips.

Golf Schedule

All tournaments will be held on Saturdays, and in case of inclement weather that day, the tournament will be held on the following Sunday.

All prizes will be issued in form of Post Exchange Chits to the winners to purchase what they desire.

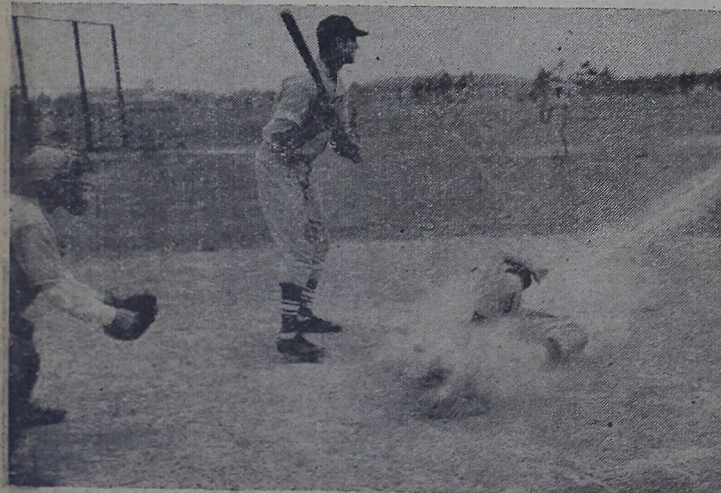

31 May — Memorial Day tournament:

1st prize	-----	$2.00
2nd prize	-----	$1.00
3rd prize	-----	.50
4th prize	-----	.25
5th prize	-----	.10

Uncle Sam Says

Some day soon—perhaps this very day—one of Uncle Sam's volunteer representatives is going to ring your doorbell to ask you to do one of the most important things you can do now for yourself and your country. He or she is going to urge you to start, or to increase, your buying of United States Savings Bonds under a patriotic, automatic and regular plan. If you heed my nephew or niece's advice, you'll be doing yourself a favor. For these security bonds—as they do their part to insure a stable economy, cornerstone of the future security of our country—will pay you back $4 for every $3 ten years from now. They can mean financial security for you and your family. AMERICA'S SECURITY IS YOUR SECURITY!

Spring or summer, hail or snow—It's always wise to save some dough! Rain may fall, and winds start blowing—But Savings Bonds just keep on GROWING!

All-Navy All-Star Gage Team Chosen; Marines Win Crown

Ten outstanding basketball players have been picked for the first All-Navy all-star basketball team.

Following the All Navy basketball championship tournament, coaches of the top Navy teams selected the players considered to be the finest in the Navy and Marine Corps.

Players selected were from the teams reaching finals of the All-Navy basketball tournament held on the courts of NAS Jacksonville, Fla.

The tournament, which drew crowds of nearly 1,500 nightly, was won by the Quantico Marines after six furiously fought games. The four teams to reach the finals after traveling the long rocky road of eliminations and sectional playoffs were Pearl Harbor Naval Base, Quantico Marines, Amphibious Force LantFt and West Coast Marines.

In the opening tilt the West Coast Marines started right off to prove they hadn't traveled across country for nothing. The speedy leathernecks hit the bucket with unerring accuracy and downed the Amphibs 78-55.

With 12 seconds of play remaining in the second game, Quantico Marines' Dave Steindler heaved a long one from mid-court to defeat 62-61 the Pearl Harbor quintet, 1947 All-Navy champs defending their title. The lead switched hands several times during the contest and was a thriller all the way.

Smarting from their defeat at the hands of the Quantico Marines, the Pearl Harbor basketekers snapped right back and polished off the West Coast Marines 78-65 in the third game. The cagey Hawaiian-based hoopsters fought fire with fire by adopting the racheorse tactics of the fast-breaking West Coast leathernecks. The sailors jumped to an early lead in the game and the outcome was never in doubt.

Lanky "Cy" Waldrop provided the winning margin for the Quantico Devil Dogs in the fourth tilt against the Amphibs. The Marines led 28-27 at the halftime and kept only a one-point lead until only six minutes remained in the game, when the Amphibs tied it up. Then ex-All American Waldrop came back in the game and flipped 16 points through the hoop, the final score reading Quantico 50, Amphibs 39.

After having dropped their first two games, the Amphibs snapped back brilliantly in the fifth contest dumping the vaunted Pearl Harbor quintet 60-55. Pearl led at halftime 30-28, when the Amphibs started hitting set shots with amazing accuracy. Gene Zane's brilliant rebounding paced the Amphibs "do-or-die" spirit against the taller Pearl five and Ken Gidley's had left Norfolk on Monday and had not arrived at Hatteras. The Coast Guard began the search for Mr. Quidley and although they scoured the ocean from Lowlands to Hatteras all day Wednesday and Thursday with surface vessels, they failed to locate him. Thursday afternoon at 4:15 Brigadier General I. W. Miller, Commanding General of the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point, received a call from Mr. Watson requesting help in the search for Mr. Quidley. At 4:20 Marine Lieutenant Willard D. Collup, First Pilot of the Marine Rescue plane, and Lt. Davis took off in the Marine Air Sea Rescue plane to search for Mr. Quidley. Forty-five minutes later Lt. Davis and Lt. Collup sighted the LCM, which was flying a distress signal in the form of a pair of khaki pants, with a man aboard who was waving a khaki shirt.

In view of the fact that it was getting dark, a storm was approaching, and no surface vessels could be found within 15 miles, Lt. Collup decided the only thing to do was to land and pick up the stranded sailor, who proved to be Mr. Quidley.

Mr. Quidley was flown to the Air Station Dispensary here where he was examined, fed, and given a pack of cigarettes, which he had sorely missed during his four-day experience. Discovered to be in good physical condition despite his harrowing four-day experience, Mr. Quidley was released from the Dispensary and taken to his home.

There are many causes of accidents. Recklessness, intoxication, and excessive speed are factors very frequently named. The picture above should prove that YOU could be hurt or killed if you don't use your head. Each driver, however, seems to think that it won't happen to him. To these many heedless motorists, this picture simply proves that automobiles will not climb trees. (Photo by Pic. Rider).

Over The Counter

GOLFING NEWS

The Golf Course Camp Exchange has recently received an assortment of new clubs which are now on sale in that activity. There you will find Wilson, Sammy Snead, and Gene Sarazen, both woods and irons, priced for popularity.

The Golf Course Exchange is also featuring an excellent value in golf socks with triple-enforced soles and elastic tops. These are available in red and green and are especially low in price—only 30c a pair.

The Golf Course Exchange holds gift-possibilities for Father's Day which is swiftly swinging our way. Perhaps the answer to your what-to-give question may be found in golfing gear—tees, golf balls, and those extra items which will add to the pleasure of Dad's game may be found at the Golf Course Exchange.

FATHER'S DAY PREVUE AT CENTRAL

Central has a wide variety of offerings for Father's Day—and now is not too soon to shop for mailing.

To the right of Central's busy front door you will find shaving accessories geared to the modern manner. Electric shavers bearing the well-known name of "Sunbeam" are on display at this counter for $16.75. The popular Remington "Foursome" whose efficiency is all that the name implies, is priced in a manner to increase its popularity with Lejeune sons shopping for Dad—$14.00.

Shaver's wall holders for all electric shavers are an attractive accessory, attractively priced at only $5.75.

Also on view at the same counter are Parker "51" pen and pencil sets, boxed for convenience in sending and presentation, for $24.00. Parker's claim of being the world's most wanted pen is justified—and Central has them for Lejeune personnel at Lejeune prices. Single pens are priced at $8.75 and $7.25 and represent excellent value and writing pleasure which will be appreciated by Dad for years to come.

Remember the man who is so often overlooked—and who always remembers.

REAL BARGAINS IN LINGERIE
Your Central Exchange Ladies' Wear Counter is now featuring a large assortment of slips, nightgowns and bed jackets which have been priced in a very attractive manner. Among the highlights in this assortment are white and tearose slips in the new long lengths which are priced at $3.25. There are also a few black and navy blue slips which have lace-top-trim priced at $2.75.

SPRING COLORS IN BATHROOM ACCESSORIES

To be seen at the same counter are chenille toilet seat covers and bath mat sets, designed by Cannon, which are priced at $3.60. These are all-over peach color and will bring your drab bathroom to spring-like life. A set with a maize background in a vari-colored floral al pattern is an exceptional value at $2.90.

Cannon towel sets, consisting of two (2) bath towels, two (2) face towels and two (2) wash cloths, are an excellent wedding or shower gift at the moderate price of only $6.00.

BEACH ACCESSORIES

Across the aisle from the towel counter may be seen some new multi-colored beach balls which have arrived for the opening of the Onslow swimming season. Available in two (2) sizes, these beach balls will add greatly to the pleasure of those young and not-so-young. The smaller one is priced at only 75 cents and $2.00 will buy the jumbo size.

Also in this department will be seen bathing suits for little boys and girls and for junior misses which are priced at $3.45 and $2.15. Small size boxer trunks, for all-day summer wear (a timely note for laundry-conscious mothers) are priced at only 45 cents and are "just like Dad's."

OTHER ITEMS AT CENTRAL

Among other items taken at random for Central's well-stocked shelves are Kodascope Movie Projectors which represent an outstanding value for movie makers priced at $171.00.

Recently arrived, and gaining in popularity with the Lejeune young feminine set, are Marine Corps kerchiefs in green and blue, priced at only 70 cents each, which will add a festive note to your informal costume.

Especially attractive for summer use, and a great saver of laundry-day backaches, are the gay Velan table cloths by Firestone, which are ideal for family use, in floral prints which rival summer's colors. These washable table cloths measure 42" x 42" — 48" x 51" — 54" x 54". The prices for these are 80 cents, $1.10, $1.50, according to size.

TRAVEL KITS

Of special interest to men who like to travel light, are fitted weekend kits, styled by Benart, which are priced at $4.35. Another travel kit which sells for only $3.60 is complete with shoe horn, tooth brush holder, razor case, comb and brush, and sports a workable zipper which hides the entire collection from view behind an attractive case. These are ideal for gifts as they come already packed for mailing.

AT ALL EXCHANGES

In order to clear warehouse space of summer merchandise, your Exchange is now offering all regular five cent Hershey bars at three for ten cents. This candy is in excellent condition and the move has been made to dispose of it before Lejeune's summer heat descends.

CAMP MEN'S SHOP

Your Camp Men's Shop is now offering a suit tailoring service which offers excellent fit and individuality in style at prices which are far below those ordinarily demanded for such tailoring. Prices

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q—I am a World War II veteran and have been totally disabled for a few months. At the end of my sixth month of total disability, will I have to continue paying my National Service Life Insurance premiums or is a waiver granted automatically?

A—No automatic waiver of premiums is ever granted. A veteran must be totally disabled for six months before he may apply for a waiver of premiums. You are entitled to file a claim for refund of those premiums you paid from the date on which the waiver became effective.

Q—Who is entitled to the compensation or pension check received prior to the death of a veteran?

A—The check or checks received prior to the veteran's death become a part of his estate.

Q—I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a guaranteed loan under the provisions of the G-I Bill?

A—No. Benefits of the G-I Bill, Public Law 346, are for World War II veterans only.

Q—What is the largest amount I can borrow under the provisions of the G-I Bill and still have the loan guaranteed?

A—There is no limit to the amount which can be borrowed under the G-I Bill. The limitation by law is on the amount of the government guaranty and not on the amount of the loan.

ATTENTION ALL VETERANS

The Veterans Administration has no authority to hospitalize an ex-serviceman accused of crime unless the court having jurisdiction over his case releases him unconditionally for transfer to a VA institution, Paul W. Crayton, Officer-in-Charge of the New Bern VA Office, declared today.

"We cannot imprison a mentally unbalanced veteran who has been convicted of crime," he continued. "Neither can we take custody, without the court's consent, of some veteran awaiting trial even though he may appear insane."

If, for example, he said, a veteran is arrested on a charge of shooting three buddies while on a drunken spree, VA has no way of knowing whether the man is mentally unbalanced. If authorities have reason to think he may be, Mr. Crayton asserted, it is their duty to arrange an examination. If the veteran is found to be "off the beam," he added, then VA may be asked to provide hospital care.

In case the veteran needs hospital care, VA applies the same rules to him which it applies to any ex-serviceman needing hospitalization for any illness. If his condition is service-connected, he will be hospitalized as soon as possible. The same is true if he is a war veteran and his condition is emergent, even though his mental illness is not service-connected. If he is a war veteran whose ailment is neither service-connected or may be sent to a VA bed is available and to pay for private hospital if he is a peace-time his ailment is not service-connected he may not be admitted to hospital.

It is a mistaken idea that VA is responsible for hospital care for at any time for any man who may afflict him. In fact, he explained, VA is law as to the hospital provide. But if there are strictures, he concluded, does not have the final say on a big matter.

"While VA is an every deserving veteran way possible," said, "we must give priority in need of emergency and those whose ailments are service-connected."

There may be occasions when a war veteran with no service-connected mental illness is referred to a State institution.

Crayton. If no bed is available at a VA hospital and a State institution, the course is to send him to hospital, Mr. Crayton said.

SAFETY NO COMPRESSED

Practical joke, compressed air, can be extremely dangerous.

The fellow who likes practical jokes and hose against the body worker—a practice known as "practicing" can't possibly do it. The jury that usually releases him and is almost always a VA institution, the course is to send him to hospital, Mr. Crayton said.

Never, under any circumstances, aim an air hose at anyone, but rather let the air pass right through them.

tally in the final minutes be the winning mark. In the last and most game of the tourney, Marines and West Coast teams battled right to the end. The last seconds of the Quantico's ever-reliable swished the winning shot. The net, Donald Swann, West Coast Marines game for the losers, hoop for 27 points, while Dave Steindler, Quantico's apiece for the final score: Quantico 67, West Coast Marines 67.

Because the Amphibious Marines and Pearl Harbor were all tied for the spot, a playoff was necessary. The Marines edged out the Amphibians, then topped the Amphibians to capture the number one spot.

For the great number of Heart's Desire followers that tune in J.B.C.
every week-day Monday thru Friday at 11:30, there's going to be somewhat of a new format beginning May 17. That's the Monday after next. The show will move to honor some boy in the country as "The Boy of the Month."

Ben Alexander will announce the methods for nominating this Boy of the Month. He plans to ask that day that program listeners, and this includes all of you people around Midway Park, Camp Le-jeune, etc., to submit the name of a boy they know, not more than 15 years in age, whom they would like to see win the final nomination . . . and the huge heart-box of gifts that goes with it. All you need write, Ben will tell you, is "I nominate for Heart's Desire Boy of the Month . . ." and then list the boy's name and address.

Beginning with his Monday, May 24, presentation of the show one of the postcards or letters will be chosen at random . . . and the boy listed on the chosen card or letter will automatically become a semifinalist. He, too, will receive many gifts. This procedure will be followed for five broadcast weeks, through, and including, the Friday June 25, WJNC-Mutual show.
The finalist will be selected on the Monday June 28, aircast . . .
with that lucky youngster receiving all the honors that can be heaped on a "Boy of the Month" plus gifts beyond the scope of a boy's imagining.

Surely, friends, there must be such a boy in our section. Let's let Ben know about it.

bill, and subject to modification.

The measure also would permit the Government to take over defense plants which refused to give priority to arms manufacture at fair prices.

Under the law, doctors and dentists up to 45 years old, could be drafted for duty with the Armed Forces. Ministers, theological students and conscientious objectors would be exempt.

The President would be empowered to regulate exemption on dependency, occupational and educational grounds.

While endorsing the Andrews bill, Secretary Forrestal indicated that he preferred the Administration-sponsored measure now being considered by the Senate Armed Services Committee, which includes a UMT plan. Mr. Forrestal made it clear he still favors universal training in some form along with the proposed temporary draft.

"But the simple fact is," he said,
"we must have Selective Service, and this bill (Andrews) provides it."

Editors Witness Amphibious Operation

More Than 230 Editors & Publishers See Marines Storm 'Enemy' In

The Supply School Battalion mess hall (above) showing some of the more than 230 editors and publishers during the luncheon Monday. Several officers from the Marine Barracks and the 2d Division, and their ladies, attended.

One of the many demolition charges (below) simulates the pre-invasion naval bombardment and holds the intense interest of the spectators. This was one of the first phases of the operation during which nearly all of the actual steps were either carried out or simulated in a very realistic manner.

Two of the 14 Vought Corsairs of Marine Fighter Squadron 212 fly over the beach (above right) in an air strike as LVT "A"s move up on the beach, firing as they advance. Simulated strafing bursts can be seen in the foreground.

One of the UDT men (right) leaves the water to mine the beach obstacles, prior to the actual landing, as concealed demolition charges are exploded further along the beach. At H-5, the beach and underwater obstacles were demolished in a spectacular display.

The first wave of the assault force, the 4th Marines reinforced under the command of Colonel F. M. Reinecke (below), brought ashore in LVT "3"s, advances rapidly across the open beach to take cover on the seaward side of the dunes. Assaulting by fire and movement, the first wave moved inland as the planes finished strafing runs. Demolition men assaulted enemy pill boxes with pole charges and white phosphorous grenades. Bazooka teams, firing rockets, attacked bunker emplacements. Additional waves continued to land as aircraft furnished close support for the advancing troops. 81mm mortars were set up on the beach as well as 105mm howitzers which were brought ashore and unloaded from DUKWs.

With the smooth coordination that characterized a full-scale mock invasion was staged Monday for more than 230 editors and publishers. Over 1,000 troops of the 4th Marines, reinforced, established and secured an area suitable for landing a more force.

H-hour was at 1445, but the actual demonstration commenced at 1400 with the disembarkation of UDT personnel and ended at 1530 with Corsairs flying overhead in formation. The entire operation proceeded without a hitch and constant action kept the interest of the members of the National Editorial Association pretty well centered on the 'invasion' for the entire hour and a half.

Concealed demolitions controlled by trained engineers simulated bombing and strafing attacks by the aircraft, naval shore bombardment, and demolition of beach and underwater obstacles. Blank ammunition, pole charges, white phosphorous grenades, flame-throwers, and rockets in the hands of the assault troops added to the sense of realism.

A continuous account of the action was delivered over a PA system by Lt. H. J. Binda, 2d Division Public Information Officer, enabling all spectators to keep abreast of the latest phases.

In addition to the 4th Marines, reinforced, under the command of Colonel F. M. Reinecke, ships under the command of Lt. Col. G. L. Purman, the Task Force; a demolition team, commanded by Lt. (jg) VMF 212 from Camp Lejeune, and the Beach Party under the command of Lt. Comdr. W. Tactical Air Command by Lt. Comdr. D. participated in the demonstration.

Among the distinguished guests present for the occasion were Gen. Keller E. Rockwell, Commander, FMF, and Admiral R. O. D. Lant. The NEA group gathered at 1200 and the Supply School for luncheon at 1230. National Editorial Association heads of the various associations sat at the luncheon. General Franklin B. Rowley, commanding General, guided the tour of the camp made before the demonstration.
