President Truman Submits Request For Four Billion For Added Preparedness

WASHINGTON (APPS)—President Truman recently sent to Congress his recommendations for slightly less than 4 billion dollars for additional national preparedness. Needs had been estimated variously up to 29 billion dollars, but officials at the White House pointed out that the President's recommendations are based on current conditions and may be revised upward. Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal, together with Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force Departments, presented details of the budget request to Congress.

Earlier, Secretary of Defense Forrestal had outlined the preparedness program before the Armed Services Committee as follows:

Aircraft procurement, research and development, $775 million; military personnel $760 million; other procurement, support and maintenance purposes $1,465 million. In addition, he said that an additional $4 billion would be required if Universal Military Training was adopted.

Tentatively included, in addition to outright defense items, is a shipbuilding program for peace-time passenger use, the ships to be easily convertible to transports and tankers in time of war. The program further calls for building 26 tankers a year capable of outdistancing any submarines now in use.

Vel Proves He's Alive, Re-Enlists In Corps

(APPS)—Sergeant Lewis Ballard, Walker, La., is a real live Marine today, but it took a lot of proving to convince New Orleans' recruiters.

Recently, in attempting to re-enlist, his status was questioned. It took an order from the Veterans' Administration to clear up the question of whether he was alive or dead.

Only last January Ballard received news from the VA of his death, but this was ironed out satisfactorily.

Blind Ex-Marine Averts Railroad Crack-Up

PITTSBURGH, March 25 — A blind ex-Marine, through his sharp hearing, detected a broken rail in the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad last night less than an hour before an eastbound flyer was due.

The veteran, Jack George, 22, of Beaver Falls, noticed a strange sound made by a passing train and urged his father, Griffith W. George to investigate the track on a bridge near the George home.

The father found a 12-inch break in the rail. He posted his son on the bridge with a lantern and flashlight to warn approaching trains.

Railroad officials said the break was found only a short time before "The Admiral," Chicago-to-New York express, was due.

Warning block signals were set up and trains were switched to adjoining tracks.

Changes In All-Navy Sports Regulations Foreseen Soon

(SEA)—Several changes probably will be written into All-Navy sports regulations in the near future.

Two new sports are slated to be added to the All-Navy sports calendar—shooting (rifle and pistol) and bowling. This will make a total of 11 sports covered by the All-Navy sports program. Another proposed change will divide the Navy into eight geographical areas for All-Navy sports competition. It is also planned to integrate the competition for Atlantic and Pacific Fleet championships into the over-all All-Navy competition in such a manner that Atlantic and Pacific Fleet champions will be selected during the process of competing for All-Navy titles.

A major proposed change is one that will allow 50 per cent officer participation in competitive team sports. As the rules now stand, most sports have limits of from one to five officers actually "in the game" at one time. The new rule, if approved, will allow not more than half the "playing team" to consist of officers. In individual sports such as golf or tennis there are no eligibility restrictions as to whether competitors must be officer or enlisted personnel.

These proposed changes to the All-Navy sports program were discussed in a huddle at BuPers of 16 representatives of Navy and Mar-Corps forces ashore and afloat.

Athletes taking part in All-Navy sports will be encouraged to take the examination for the Naval Academy Preparatory School. This exam is held on 27 July 1948. Interested athletes are reminded to break out USAFI textbooks and bone up on algebra, geometry, trigonometry, U. S. history, English and physics. Three years' high school is the minimum requirement to be eligible for the NACP exam, or a score of 45 on the General Educational Development Test, or not less than 35 on any individual subject within the GED test.

Because of the time-tested fact that fine athletes make fine sailors the Navy is exerting considerable effort to interest mentally and morally qualified athletes in competing for entrance into the Naval Academy via NACP.

Two KOs In FMF Atlantic Bout One Match Dropped To Flyer

Two K. O.'s marked seven crowd-pleasing fights in the FMF Atlantic elimination Gym 401 last Thursday night. On the deck for the count were Jimmy Powell, 2d Division Welterweight and Cliff "Chu Chu" Szewzaga, a division challenger for the Heavyweight title. Only one crown was lost to the Cherry Point fighters.

In the first knockout of the evening during the FMF Atlantic eliminations last Thursday, 2d Division's Jimmy Powell lies flat on his back on the canvas while Donald Duarte of Cherry Point moves quickly away.

In the final elimination match, Cliff "Chu Chu" Szewzaga, a newcomer to the division fighter ranks and out of condition at the time, took the count in the second round. The Heavyweight winner, Harold Pitts, foreground, moves off to his corner while M-Sgt. Henry, referee, circles the prostrate "Chu Chu" in the background.

The first fight of the evening was an exhibition match between Bill Luker and Clifford Smith. Luker gaining the decision, the fight seemed to set the tempo for crowd enjoyment with excitement increasing with each successive match.

The second fight and first championship battle matched two division men, Chuck Woodard and Jesse Hernandez, for the Bantamweight title. Woodard, the division title in this class, Hernandez fought in the last two tournaments in which the division team was entered. The light fast Hernandez snared the lion and won his way to the Atlantic Fleet eliminations.

In the Lightweight division, Eugene Hickey of Cherry Point, a terrific beating from "Red" Doyle. Doyle carried a perpetual offensive to his opponent leaving little doubt in the minds of the spectators as to who the outcome would be. Hickey, a well-deserved round of applause for his staying power; for, he dusted the canvas a few times. He had been laced against the ropes well as around the ring; continuously, he was still going the last bell.

Donald Duarte from Cherry Point gained the nickname "Pop" soon after entering the ring, but a fast and tricky ducking kept him out of the grasp of most of Jimmy Powell's punches in the first set-to in the Welterweight class. Before the second round had progressed very far, Powell suddenly got "Popped" the count in what proved to be only Cherry Point victory for the night.

Bob Mollett, 2d Division middleweight, gained the nod over Twardowski of Cherry Point. The FMF Atlantic crown and also gained a lot of cheering by dropping his body guard and hitting his opponent hammer in what has become a regular attraction for rabid fans.

The last fight found a new challenger, Cliff "Chu-Chu" Szewzaga, challenging Harold Pitts for the heavyweight crown. "Chu-Chu" had a good cheering section, but it didn't help him out when he took the count in the opening stanzas of the second round.

With the three men who were unchallenged for the crowns in their respective weights and the four men who copped wins last Thursday, the 2d Division now have seven top-notch fighters entered in the Atlantic Fleet eliminations in Norfolk the 19th, 20th and 21st of this month.

The referee for all seven fights was MSgt. Robert H. Henry. The judges were Lt. John F. and Chaplain Robert Stamp.

Camp High School Gagers Honored At Banquet

Members of the Camp Lejeune High school boys' and girls' basketball teams were honored at a banquet March 31 in the cafeteria of the Midway Park school, as a token of appreciation for their fine records in the 1947-48 season. The banquet was prepared and served by the School Parent-Teacher association.

The surprise of the evening came when Richard Blake, member of the boys' team, presented Joe Ellington with a handsome ring and reel in appreciation of his services during the year. L. McAllister, coach of the team, was given a rousing round of applause in absentia, because he had undergone a major operation that morning at the Family Hospital.

Principal R. C. Beemon, toastmaster, making brief remarks were G. E. Ezard, athletic director, and Rosalie Davis, cheer leader.

Next Year's Basketball Squad Faced With Changes In Rules

In its closing session in New York the National Basketball Committee adopted new regulations for the rule book. The 20-member committee, which represented United States high schools, the AAU, YMCA, and Canadian organizations agreed on the following changes:

1. The period of time when the clock is to be stopped every time the ball becomes dead will be reduced from the last three minutes of a college game to the last two minutes, except in high school games, for which the clock now is stopped on each dead ball after five minutes of the fourth period. 2. A foul committed during a dead ball period will remain the same except one which occurs on the throw-ins from the outside. This foul will be considered personal instead of technical.

3. No team will be allowed to line up three or more players in adjacent positions on any restraining line when taking the ball on the outside. It must allow the defensive players room in between.

4. Any player taken out during a time-out period can return before play has been resumed. Hereafter a player could not return until after play was resumed.

5. A coach will be permitted to talk to his team at his bench on charged time-outs or during intermission.

6. Substitutes will be permitted to enter a game merely by reporting to the scorekeeper instead of both to this official and the referees.

7. A player who has committed a foul must raise his hand so he can be recognized by the crowd.

8. All jump balls must be made at the nearest of the three six-foot circles.

RETIREMENT BENEFITS

Recent changes have been made to the Civil Service Retirement Act. Some of the more important of these changes are as follows:

1. The rate of retirement deductions is changed from 5% to 6% effective the first day of the first pay period which begins after June 30, 1948.

2. The rate of interest on deductions, deposits and redeposits is changed from 4 per cent to 3 per cent effective January 1, 1948.

3. Survivor annuity benefits to widows and children of deceased employees are provided in certain instances where employees die after February 28, 1948, and where annuitants retire after that date.

4. Immediate annuities are provided for employees with at least 25 years of service who were involuntarily separated subsequent to June 30, 1947.

The provisions which follow affect only employees who are in service at any time on or after April 1, 1948:

5. The option of a department to retire an employee by reason of a disqualification is repealed.

6. A larger annuity is provided for an employee who retires optionally before reaching age 60.

7. New methods of computing annuities are provided, and new types of annuity are available to retiring employees.

8. The reduction in annuity because of failure to make an optional deposit is made uniform.

9. An employee separated before becoming eligible for retirement, and with less than 20 years of civilian service, may receive a refund.

10. Tontine is eliminated.

11. Military service is credited in full without deposit to the fund.

12. If an individual age 60 or over who is receiving retirement annuity is reemployed, his annuity is continued without change, but the employing agency must deduct from his salary an amount equal to the annuity for the period of reemployment.

The issuance of a Certificate of Membership to every employee under the Civil Service Retirement Act institutes an educational service to members of the retirement system for which there is a definite need. This certificate which will be issued in the near future to each civil employee of this Camp who is entitled to retirement benefits will explain in simple every-day language the benefits and privileges the employee will receive during his lifetime and the protection the law affords his family upon his death. The wise employee, when he receives his Certificate of Membership will place it with his other personal papers of value to prevent its being lost or misplaced.

SAFETY NOTES

FALLS CAN BE FATAL!

The average human being learns to walk shortly after he passes his first birthday. But you'd be surprised at the number of people who never finish their education. That's a main reason why falls injured about 2,000,000 people at home last year.

The National Safety Council says that many accidents, falls included, can be accounted for by one of three reasons: unwary walking, improper equipment, and disorder. Usually, of course, there's something of all three involved in every home accident.

Children have to be taught that leaving toys and tools on stairways, in halls, and in the middle of the floor is unkindness—a disregard for the safety of the rest of the family. There are few lessons more important for them to learn. The best teaching is, of course, a good example set by older brothers and sisters, and parents.

And every householder owes it to his family, friends, and the postman and others who come to his house to protect them against the menace of low-hanging clothes lines, broken walks, and the like.

Mr. Bachelor, Beware—Hints To The 'Happy'

(AFPS)—Out of the everlasting goodness of his big heart, and out of acute sympathy with his fellow men, Jack Carson compiled the following list of "beware's" for gentlemen who wish—and hope—to remain in a state of single blessedness throughout this Leap Year:

"BEWARE of the gal who feels your biceps, flatters your manhood, and wants to know where you've been all her life. She'll have you chained to the business end of a washing machine before you can say 'Kiss Me.'"

"BEWARE, particularly of that class of femininity known as 'She Wolves.' They're predatory panthers, and they'll marry you while you're panting about those etchings you want to show 'em."

"BEWARE of the sweet little thing who specializes in looking after your comfort. What she's really looking after is your pay check."

"BEWARE of those perfumed and dainty little lassies who want to hold hands in the moonlight. They never let go until you say, 'I do.'"

"But the kind of gal from whom there's practically no escape is that very predatory type of female commonly known as the 'sugar mama.' For her the BEWARE is double. 'She looks wealthy, talks wealthy and lavishes gifts upon you.'"

"From time to time she lets it be known that she wouldn't mind setting you up in a little business of your own. And if you ever let her go that far, Brother, you're as good as gone."

"When she says, 'Will you?' Whatta you gonna do? Say 'No' to a Bank of America!"

First Western Test Faces UN Assembly

(AFPS)—The United Nations International Court of Justice may find its first Western Hemisphere case in the revival of Guatemala's long-standing claims to British Honduras.

Both Great Britain and Guatemala have proposed to submit their differences for settlement by the Court.

For centuries this Anglized patch of land has been a sore spot. First Britain and Spain quarreled, and at times came to open warfare, over this tiny, tropical Central American colony.

When the Latin American people won their independence from Spain, there began a new dispute over British Honduras. A boundary-setting treaty was signed in 1859 between Great Britain and Guatemala.

It was later denounced by Guatemala on the ground that Britain had failed to fulfill one of its provisions, which called for building a road from the Caribbean to the Guatemalan capital.

Now, after years of bickering and dispute, the fate of British Honduras may be placed before the International Court for a peaceful and fair settlement.

ical failure and consequent accident. An incident occurred since the lane's arrival which serves as an excellent example. A vehicle retested for faulty steering apparatus, when taken to the garage for repairs, was found to have a single pin holding the parts together. The owner thanked the personnel of the lane for quite possibly saving his life.

The inspection is as lenient as possible consistent with the minimum safety requirements. Hand brakes are not required in this area.

The three musts when a driver takes his car for inspection are only his registration card, drivers license, and one dollar.

Out of state licensed cars may be inspected but are not required to be.

When a sticker of any kind has been placed on the windshield, it is against the law to remove it.

Don't wait until it's too late. The lane will be here until April 17. The hours are from 0800 to 1700 daily and 0800 to 1200 on Saturday with an hour out for lunch from 1200 to 1300 on weekdays. The location is West Road between Elm and Fir streets next to the Camp Laundry.

House Turns Down Women In Service

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The House Armed Services Committee last week rejected a Senate proposal to make WAVES, WAFFs and WAFs permanent components of the armed services, Armed Services Committee wrote today.

Instead, it rewrote the bill, which had been approved by the Senate, to make minor changes by a House committee, to permit enlist in the Reserve (subject to active duty only) if then approved the bill by a 26-1 vote.

The Senate had voted unanimously to make women of the permanent military establishment. It acted at the Defense Secretary James H. Doolittle and officers of the three of the armed services.

Chapel Memorial Window

Two Parts

The beautiful memorial windows in the Catholic Chapel will be dedicated at a Solemn Mass of Dedication at 1100 on Sunday, April 25. At 1500 on the same date, the memorial windows in the Protestant Chapel will be dedicated. Each Marine division, corps, and FMF unit contributed generously during the war in order that these memorials in stained glass might be erected as an enduring tribute to those who valiantly gave their lives for their country.

The Commandant of the Marine Corps and many other notables will be present for the ceremonies. Complete schedules and plans will be carried in the following issue of the Globe as well as the story of the windows in the Protestant Chapel.

On January 27, 1943, the Bishop of Raleigh, the Most Reverend Eugene J. McGuinness, dedicated St. Francis Xavier Chapel, Camp Lejeune, to the memory of the first chaplain and the first Catholic Chaplain to die in World War II, Father Aloysius Schmitt. An example of heroic Christlike courage, he gave his life that free men might live and that the greed and selfishness of perfidious men may never overcome the democratic way of life espoused by Christ his Master.

Major General John Marston, while Commanding General of Camp Lejeune put forth the efforts of his good office to idealize forever in the hearts of all future members of the Corps—in the one place most fitting, the House of God—a memorial true to the cause under which we all serve, "Our God and our Country." To that end he sought the aid and approval of the Commandant, General A. A. Vandegrift. This response was spontaneous and whole-hearted.

The tabernacle of the main altar is a duplicate of the beautifully artistic tabernacle constructed for the International Eucharistic Congress held in Manila in 1937. The inner door of bronze has the figure of Christ walking through the cemetery at Tarawa painted on it in oils. A bronze case for the holy oils carrying out the same design has been set in the sanctuary wall. The sanctuary of this outstanding edifice has the ever-present sanctuary lamp, significant of Almighty God's being "at home" to his children at all times. This, too, has received the same skill and care of design. The large and small candlesticks are the only set of their kind.

These adornments of the House of God, with the Rose Window above the main altar, are the results of the love and sacrifice of those anxious to carry on by way of material contributions and personal sacrifice.

A separate window has been erected and will be dedicated to the memory of the officers and men who fought and died in World War II with the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Marine Divisions, the Third and Fifth Amphibious Corps, the Defense and Anti-Aircraft Artillery, and FMF Pacific, also the Naval Personnel who served with the Corps and the Marines from Camp Lejeune.

SECOND MARINE DIVISION—St. George and St. Hadrian are depicted. St. George (303) born in Cappadocia, Patron Saint of England, known to the Greeks as the "Great Martyr". Always the exemplar of Christian fortitude—daring to rebuke the Emperor for persecuting Christians—he himself was put to the torture and beheaded. St. George became a type of successful combat against evil, the slayer of the dragon, the darling theme of barracks song and story, "Until so thick a blade his very glory round him made" that his real lineaments became hard to trace. The red cross on a white field, symbolizing St. George, became part of the flag of England.

St. Hadrian (306) an officer in the bodyguard of the Emperor Galerius. The fortitude of twenty-two Christian martyrs put to death by his Emperor at Nicomedia so inspired Hadrian that he became a Christian—only to suffer the same fate for the Cross of Christ. He was imprisoned, tortured and beaten with hammers and burned. St. Hadrian is a patron men in the service of their country might well emulate.

FIRST MARINE DIVISION—St. Louis of France and St. Martin of Tours.

THIRD MARINE DIVISION—St. Francis Xavier, Patron of Camp Lejeune's Catholic Chapel, and St. Ignatius of Loyola.

FOURTH MARINE DIVISION—St. Patrick and St. Maurice.

FIFTH MARINE DIVISION—St. Isaac Jogues and St. John of God.

SIXTH MARINE DIVISION—St. Christopher and St. Venantius. (All photos by Cpl. Robinson).

RIGHT—The main altar in the Catholic Chapel with part of the Rose Window visible at the top.

CAMP LEJEUNE—St. Joan of Arc and St. John Capistrano are depicted. St. Joan (1412-1431) the illustrious heroine of all times, taught from her earliest years by her mother to pray each night, "O God save France", conceived an ardent love for her country, later consumed her life. Her banner, inscribed "Jesus and Mary", raised at Orleans, British routed at the siege. Bidden by St. Peter and "her voices", she led her victorious army to the Coronation of Charles VII at Rheims. The fleur de lis, symbolizing both the purity and the land of France, has been her symbol. This has been combined with her sword and the crown of France and on her shield. The small scene at her feet is her in Domremy when first St. Michael appeared to her in her father's garden and told her of her mission.

St. John Capistrano (1385-1456) a son of St. Francis Assisi, the leading spirit of the Crusade in Hungary against the Turks—his of "Victory, Jesus, Victory" encouraged his followers. His biographers liken him to St. Paul, because of the great number of conversions that followed his preaching and miracle-working.

DEFENSE and ANTI-AIRCRAFT ARTILLERY—St. Terese of Lisieux and St. Brother Lawrence.

THIRD AMPHIBIOUS CORPS—St. Michael and St. Gabriel.

FIFTH AMPHIBIOUS CORPS—St. Michael and St. Gabriel.
