JMC Launches Business Development Office to Increase Capabilities, Public-Private Partnerships

If your organization needs ammunition production, shipping, storage and demilitarization, or other logistics services, the U.S. Army has a solution for you. U.S. Army Joint Munitions Command and its arsenals, depots and ammunition plants across the country are seeking partnerships with government and private entities to collaborate on projects that hone the JMC enterprise's core capabilities while providing lower costs, access to military-grade equipment, use of hazardous waste permits, secure ISO-certified facilities and an experienced, deployable workforce to potential customers. JMC and ammunition plants produce, store, distribute and demilitarize all conventional munitions for the U.S. Department of Defense. The enterprise is accountable for $64 billion of munitions and missiles. (More: www.army.mil/article/255246)

Contracting Interns Utilize Skills to Save Resources

The Intern Homeroom (IHR) at Army Contracting Command-Rock Island (ACC-RI), charged with training the center's newest employees to become fully capable contract specialists, provides a variety of methods for building interns' skill sets. From classroom-based and on-the-job training that includes rotations through the center's buying and pricing divisions, to targeted training sessions and leadership engagement opportunities, each intern has gained valuable experience by the end of the program. One specific job duty of a contract specialist – conducting market research – is not unique in and of itself; however, two interns recently utilized their training to apply market research skills to find more efficient ways to get their customers what they need. Due to their initiative and research skills, they were able to save the customers' time, funding and resources. (More: www.army.mil/article/255275)

Prevent Phishing Attacks

With current world circumstances and a heightened Army Cyber Protection Condition Levels (CPCON) our workforce now more than ever is susceptible to social engineering attacks by our adversaries. A common attack vector for targeting DoD personnel is phishing. Please read and digest the below information to keep your organization safe and mission ready. Definition of phishing: The fraudulent attempt to obtain sensitive information such as usernames, passwords, and credit card details by disguising oneself as a trustworthy entity in an electronic communication. Typically carried out by email spoofing or instant messaging, it often directs users to enter personal information at a fake website which matches the look and feel of the legitimate website. If the victim 'takes the bait,' the criminal will use malicious links, attachments or simple instructions to obtain sensitive information such as: usernames, passwords, social security numbers, credit card numbers and PII/PHI. Army Secretary Makes First Visit to Organic Industrial Base Facility

Secretary of the Army Christine Wormuth visited McAlester Army Ammunition Plant, one of 23 depots, arsenals, and ammunition plants that comprise the Army's Organic Industrial Base, March 22. The visit marked the top Army Civilian's first visit to an OIB site. Wormuth was at MCAAP to see firsthand the work being done to advance the Army's priorities of people, readiness and modernization. She met with members of the workforce throughout the tour of MCAAP's outload facility, bomb production line and missile maintenance facility. Wormuth met members of a four-man rail operations team that responded to an Army-wide call in February to assist railroad support operations at Fort Carson, Colo. The team of volunteers faced challenges, including a severe winter storm as they assisted in the out load of rolling stock in support of the Army's mission. (More: www.army.mil/article/255063)

Army's 2023 Budget Focuses On Deterrence, People

The new Army fiscal year 2023 budget focuses on enabling integrated deterrence, executing global campaigning, and building enduring advantages. The $178 billion budget, released on Monday, is an increase of $2.8 billion from fiscal 2022. "The FY23 budget is a positive one for the Army, because it really lets us do two things simultaneously," said Army Undersecretary Gabe Camarillo. "First, we maintain a high level of readiness. Second, it enables continued transformation of the Army of 2030 as we strategically pivot from two decades of focus on counterterrorism to an Army adapted to meet our top pacing challenge in China and the acute threat of Russian aggression." The Army is focusing the new budget on deterrence by continuing its modernization efforts. The budget includes the next steps in the development of its Mobile Protected firepower light tank system, or MPF and the Next Generation Squad Weapon, or NGSW. The NGSW is a prototype program that aims to replace the M4 rifle, M249 Squad Automatic Weapon and M240 machine gun. (More: www.army.mil/article/255174)

Army Leaders Discuss Network Resiliency - The Foundation of the Network of 2030

During several panels at last week's Satellite 2022 industry symposium in Washington D.C., Army network modernization leaders laid out their priorities for current tactical network modernization and the future network of 2030. Network resiliency remained a common thread between them. "If you look at recent current events and at our competitors, we have to be prepared for that type of environment. The time is now," said Maj. Gen. Robert Collins, program executive officer for Command, Control, Communications-Tactical (PEO C3T). "We as an Army are embracing a more agile and iterative acquisition process; using open systems architectures to bring in new solutions faster to keep pace with the threat; and bringing Soldiers and the user community together to test-drive capability and ensure Soldier-centric designs." In support of Army's network modernization efforts, "we are laser focused on three things: data, multi-path transport agnostic capabilities, and security," Collins said. Budget Seeks 4.6 Percent Raise, Hints at Additional Pay Flexibilities

The White House has recommended a 4.6 percent federal employee pay raise for next January in what would be the largest raise since 2002, saying that “federal pay adjustments have not kept pace with the national labor market overall, or increases in the cost of goods, services and benefits.” The amount “is needed to prevent federal pay from falling even further behind. This pay raise helps ensure fair compensation for employees by keeping pace with economic indicators—and, also recognizes the federal workforce’s tireless and selfless dedication to mission and service to the American people,” the annual budget proposal says. The 4.6 figure matches the number indicated by federal pay law and also matches the proposal for uniformed military personnel—in contrast to many past years when the recommendation for the latter group exceeded that for the former. Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month

What is SAAPM? Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month is observed globally every April to raise awareness and educate communities on the prevention of sexual violence. SAAPM is an opportunity to highlight the corrosive effects sexual assault has on Soldiers, civilians, unit readiness, team cohesion, command climate, and trust. Sexual harassment and sexual assault violate the Army Core Values, the Warrior Ethos, and the nation's trust in leaders. Below is a list of events or awareness activities your ASC and RIA installation SHARP program is hosting this April.

- Tuesday, April 19: Male Victimization with guest speaker Heath Phillips – guest speaker Heath Phillips will speak on male victimization at 9 a.m. on MS Teams; he will speak virtually to the RIA and ASC workforce on the struggles that he has endured and overcome. Phillips will discuss how it has affected him and the importance of why men need to speak up if they have been sexually assaulted. www.heathtalks.com
- Wednesday, April 27: Denim day decorating contest – this year to celebrate and bring awareness to Denim Day SHARP is hosting a "Show Us Your Denim" Contest. To participate all you need to do is find a way to use denim in the most creative way possible and then send us a picture to RIADenimDay@gmail.com. We want to see the most unique ways to show your advocacy by using denim in the most unique and creative way possible. A fun outfit, decorate your desk, or even decorate your dog. Submissions are due by Tuesday, April 26, and the winner will be announced on Denim Day. Find out more about Denim Day here at www.denimdayinfo.org/history.
- Friday, April 29: Step Out Against Sexual Assault – join the SHARP Program as we close out SAAPM with our culminating 5k run/walk. Start in the court in front of Quarters One at 6:30 a.m. No registration is necessary. All are welcome to attend and participate.

This year's Army theme is "Prevention Starts With You." This theme builds on the concept of upholding what it means to be a member of an Army team. When it comes to sexual assault and sexual harassment, the only person responsible for committing the act is the perpetrator, but all members of the team have the ability to look out for each other's safety. Leaders and Soldiers must work in unison to build comradery and trust amongst the ranks. This trust allows teams to focus on mission and unit readiness, eliminate harmful behaviors by preventing sexual harassment, sexual assault, and associated retaliation.

Blood Donors Urgently Needed

Both nationally and here within this region, we are experiencing an urgent need for blood to prevent shortages for patients and hospitals. As the local blood provider for 126 hospitals in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, and Wisconsin, ImpactLife shares in the concern over the state of the blood supply both nationally and within our region. Within their service region, they strive to collect an average of 3,600 donations on a weekly basis. In recent weeks, however, the donation rate has ranged from 2,500 to 2,800 donations per week. Christmas and New Year's holidays, as well as winter weather and the ongoing impact of the COVID-19 pandemic have combined to decrease the rate of donation. Blood products are perishable and must be used for transfusion within a short window of time, so they strive to keep a 5-day supply in their inventories to meet anticipated and unanticipated needs. Currently most blood products and types are less than 3-day supply. Urgent need for all donations & blood types especially Type O and all types for platelets. ImpactLife has a blood drive scheduled on Arsenal Island for the month of April:

- Friday, April 8: 10 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. in Building 333, conference room left of MWR lobby.
- Friday, April 15: 10 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. in Building 333, conference room left of MWR lobby.
- All donors who register to give with ImpactLife March 21 – May 15 will get a voucher to redeem for an electronic gift card plus a tree planted on their behalf to support reforestation efforts. All automated donations/deferrals (platelet, plasma, and double red) will be eligible to redeem their voucher for their choice of a $25 gift card; whole blood donors will get a $10 gift card. Physical gift cards available on demand. Eligible donors will be able to redeem their vouchers through May 22. Gift card options: Amazon, Home Depot, Lowe's, Target, Subway, Starbucks, and Walmart.

If you would like to donate at either of these blood drives, feel free to email bhancock@impactlife.org with the time you'd like to schedule, or call the Donor Scheduling Team at 800-747-5401; you may also log on to www.ImpactLife.org and use code 029 to locate the blood drives. ImpactLife is requiring masks for donors, staff, and volunteers in all of their facilities and donor buses.

The Army joins the nation in observing Earth Day. Events across the Army highlight how the Army has and will continue to Act, Innovate and Implement changes to meet and defeat climate challenges. In a partnership for our planet, the Army is collaborating with federal agencies, academia and industry to evaluate how climate, conservation and species preservation contributes to readiness. The application of this knowledge will lead to improve installation infrastructure and ensure the homeland is protected and defended from current and future threats. Army land, air and water resources are vital to both present and future missions and we must nurture the environment with an eye towards modernization and conservation. (Burr Oak, Red Oak, Swamp White Oak, and Over-cup Oak)

VIOS Scheduling Eliminated, Garrison PA Assumes Limited Command Photos

The Visual Information Ordering System (VIOS) will no longer be available to schedule official Department of the Army photos previously taken monthly by a representative from Fort Eustis' Multimedia Visual Information Center and coordinated through the Garrison's Directorate of Plans, Training, Mobilization & Security (DPTMS) Visual Information section. This was due to the impact of COVID-19 and former Army Secretary Ryan McCarthy and former Chief of Staff Gen. James McConville's direction to suspend the use of the photos from officer promotion board packages effective Aug. 1, 2020. Official U.S. Army "head and shoulders" command photos (leadership photo board photography) duties have been assumed by Garrison Public Affairs for on-Island commands that do not have a public affairs office; this will take place by appointment only at 309-782-1121. The scheduled photos will be taken at the Photo Studio in Room B11 in the basement of Building 90. The 8"x10" head and shoulders – command photos will not be printed, but will be made available digitally. The previous service administered through VIOS and Fort Eustis personnel included government passport photography, which is suspended along with service record/DA Photos. Walk-in appointments are not available.

April Is DOD's Month to Recognize Military Children

For nearly 40 years, April 1 has marked the Defense Department's kickoff for the Month of the Military Child, and this month promises to be packed with events for parents and children of all ages, said a program analyst in DOD's Children, Youth and Families, Office of Military Family Readiness Policy, Military Community and Family Policy. Dianna M. Ganote said DOD is supporting this month with the theme of mental health and the overall well-being of all military children. The Month of the Military Child is a time to focus on and celebrate the contributions of military children and the unique needs of their lives, she noted.

The objective for this month's recognition is to "highlight the unique life and challenges of military children. Our goal is to improve their quality of life and help mitigate the demands they experience from all the transitions, such as frequent moves, parental separations for military training and worrying about their parents when they're deployed" Ganote said. Tax Center Services

The U.S. Army Materiel Command Legal Center-Rock Island Arsenal no longer operates a tax center. As a result, free tax preparation and filing services will no longer be available on-post. There are, however, free online services available to active-duty service members, retired and honorable discharged members, spouses, dependent children and survivors. It's important to decide what best fits your needs. Some factors to consider include the complexity of your taxes, ability to do your own tax work, and cost. Many people who used to itemize find that their tax preparation has been simplified by the larger standard deduction. Below are some resources to use:

- IRS: Free File
Eligibility: All filers with income below $66,000
Website: <https://www.irs.gov/filing/free-file-do-your-federal-taxes-for-free>
- MilitaryOneSource, MILTAX
Eligibility: Active duty military. Retired and honorable discharged members are authorized for up to 180-days past separation. Spouses, dependent children and survivors are able to use the free services as well.
Website: www.militaryonesource.mil/miltax-software
- Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA)

Eligibility: Earn low to moderate income; or be disabled; or not speak English; or be a senior citizen.

- Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE)

Eligibility: Over the age of 60 or older and in need of either counseling or return preparation services.

Safety Spotlight

ARMY SAFE IS ARMY STRONG

The top priority of the installation safety office is to safeguard and protect service members, their families, civilian employees and Army property as well as to create the safest workplace and living environment possible. Website: <https://home.army.mil/ria/index.php/about/Garrison/safety-office>

Prioritizing Heat-Illness Prevention

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) is targeting occupational heat injury and illness prevention as part of its recent efforts to establish a universal standard to protect workers. According to OSHA, “Heat is the leading cause of death among all weather-related phenomena, and it is becoming more dangerous, as 18 of the last 19 years were the hottest on record.” OSHA tracks workers who develop medical conditions or die from excessive heat exposures, and identifies those in construction and agriculture to be at the highest risk. These medical conditions, referred to as heat illnesses or injuries, occur when the body is unable to compensate for increased body temperatures due to hot and humid environmental conditions and exertion. It is the policy of the Department of Army to provide equal opportunity in employment for all people and to prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age (40 and over), disability, genetic information, and/or reprisal for prior EEO activity. Wear Approved Safety Eye Protection, Save Your Vision

Many people take their vision for granted, but most also recognize the increased likeliness of declining vision and vision loss as they age. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Vision Health Initiative website identifies the leading causes of vision loss as cataracts, age-related macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy and glaucoma. While routine eye exams and healthy habits can help reduce the risks or severity of age-related vision loss, the possibility of injury or trauma to the eye can happen at any age. Eye injuries can range from scratches to more permanent vision loss. (More: <https://health.mil/News/Articles/2022/03/25/Wear-Approved-Safety-Eye-Protection-Save-Your-Vision>)
