Harry James Swings Away For Relief Drive's Coffers

The golden sound of Harry James' trumpet, the background beat of his Music Makers, and the rhythmic drum stylings of Buddy Rich will be presented at the Camp Theater Tuesday for the benefit of Camp Lejeune's 1953 Navy Relief Drive.

Two shows, at 7:30 and 9:30 p. m., in the air-conditioned theater will be given. Civilians are invited to attend and military personnel must wear the uniform of the day.

A dollar will be charged for admission to each show. Tickets are on sale at the Field House and from unit Navy Relief representatives. Doors will open at 7 p. m. and no movies will be shown that night.

Rich Featured

Buddy Rich, a former drummer for Tommy Dorsey and recently leader of his own band, has a featured spot with James and his Music Makers. Buddy's drum beats have lent a styling to his records that have made him one of America's foremost "skin" specialists.

Harry James comes to Lejeune with a musical background including such record hits as "You Made Me Love You," "I've Heard That Song Before," "Sleepy Lagoon," "One O'Clock Jump," and his theme, "Chiribiribin."

Trumpeter James first stepped on the podium in 1936 when, after a three-year stay with Benny Goodman, he decided to head his own outfit.

Many of today's top recording vocalists have reached fame while singing with James. Dick Haymes, Frank Sinatra, Connie Haines, and Kitty Kallen were all vocalists with the Music Makers.

Traffic Violations Climb To 797 Here

April's yield of motor vehicle violations and accidents here totaled 797 for a new high, and has brought an expression of alarm from the Camp Commanding General, Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott.

According to the Camp Provost Marshal's report, there were 123 speeding violations, 97 citations for driving under the influence of intoxicants, 187 parking violations, 59 base tag offenses and 37 offenses of driving here with no base permit among the 16 categories of traffic violations registered here last month.

Because of the soaring traffic violations figures the Commanding General is considering further tightening of local traffic control regulations.

Gen. Pate Leaves May 22 To Take 1st Division Helm

Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., a former chief of staff with the 2nd Division, will be rejoining his old outfit soon—as the division's new commanding general.

Presently serving as Marine Corps Liaison Officer in the Office of the Vice Chief of Naval Operations in Washington, General Good will relieve Maj. Gen. R. McC. Pate, who has been ordered to head the 1st Division in Korea.

General Pate, who has commanded the division since last September, will be detached May 22.

No definite date has been set for change of command ceremonies at division headquarters. Brig. Gen. Robert E. Hogaboom, assistant division commander, will act as interim commander after General Pate's departure.

Carnival Capers Begin Wednesday For Navy Relief

Wednesday night the cry of barkers and the general confusion of the midway will start a three-day reign at the Goettge Memorial Field House, as the 1953 Navy Relief Carnival gets into motion.

A gay midway lined with 48 concessions—including hot dog vendors, dart games, sling shot shoots, miniature putting greens, shooting galleries, saw dust, canvas, music, and mirth—will be open to Lejeune personnel, their families and guests, and civilians from 6 p. m. to 11 p. m., May 20 through 22.

The merchandise to be received at the carnival has been donated by civilian friends of the Navy Relief from Jacksonville, New Bern, Kinston, and Wilmington.

All proceeds of the carnival go directly to the Navy Relief Society, a non-profit organization designed to assist active duty sailors and Marines who need financial assistance.

Extensive participation outside Lejeune in the mammoth Armed Forces Day observance Saturday is planned for 2nd Division personnel.

Elements of the division, transported by airlift or bus, will parade in six VI Military District cities. One rifle company from the 6th Marines will go as far west as Birmingham, Ala., one rifle platoon of the 8th Marines as far south as Atlanta, Ga., and another 8th Marines rifle company as far north as Winston-Salem, N. C.

Other elements of the 8th Marines will parade in Goldsboro, N. C. A 6th Marines rifle company will honor the city of Greenville, N. C., while a rifle company of the 2nd Engineer Bn. and the Hq. Co. Drum and Bugle Corps strut their stuff in Morehead City, N. C.

An infantry weapons display of three types of mortars, a flame-thrower, bazooka, M-1 rifle, and 75mm recoilless rifle will be set up by elements of the Sixth Marines at the USAF Basic Pilot Training School, Kinston Air Base, N. C.

be in the nature of a homecoming. He first served with the division in 1944. Joining it on Saipan as Chief of Staff, the then Colonel Good took part in the "mopping up" action against the Japanese on that island.

He remained with the division throughout the Okinawa campaign and the early occupation of Japan. He was recalled from the division in 1945 to take over command of the Marine Corps Schools in Quantico, Va.

For his outstanding service with the division in its final combat actions, General Good was awarded his second Legion of Merit medal; he received his first for exemplary performance of duty as Island Commander, Funafuti, Ellice Islands, in 1942-43.

Since his graduation from the Naval Academy in 1923, General Good has served at Quantico, Parris Island, Nicaragua, Haiti, Annapolis, London, and the Pacific Islands.

He was made Director of Instruction of the Marine Corps Schools in 1946 and was assigned to the 2nd Division here in 1948. He was

Holiday Routine Set For Memorial Day

Holiday routine has been set for all camp personnel Saturday, May 30, in honor of Memorial Day. Colors will be flown at half mast from 8 a. m. until the completion of a 21-gun salute commencing at noon.

Memorial Day, initiated in 1863 by Gen. John A. Logan, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, to commemorate the Civil War dead and called Decoration Day, has now grown in scope to honor the graves of all soldiers who have fought to preserve the United States.

What Do You Think Woman's Place Is In The World Today?

SGT. J. W. LANHAM, 1ST BN., 8TH MARINES—In my estimation, a woman is put on this earth to be a wife and have children, not to take over where a man has left off. There's nothing wrong with a woman working in an office or in some other job she can handle, but I can't see women driving taxis, or working a riveting machine.

SGT. C. T. HAMPTON, 8TH MARINES—There is no specific place for a woman nowadays. It depends solely on the woman, I think. Some women are happiest pursuing a career, while others are best suited as wives and mothers. I think it's good for a woman to get out in the world before she is married. But afterward, however, I know I wouldn't want my wife to work. Her place then is caring for the home and children.

CPL. ANDREW J. HOUSER, 2ND SIGNAL BN.—You can't really tell just where a woman belongs today. With the increase in educational facilities open for women these days, every other one is going to college. They just can't seem to stay home. I still believe that a woman's place is in the home but the fact remains that women are proving every day that they can do as well in the world as they can in the home.

PFC ETITH CRONAN, WM CO.—If a woman is single she very definitely should get out in the world and work—business, military, or social. But after she's married, I really believe her place is in the home. I'll never be sorry that I have had a military career. After I'm married, I'll at least feel that I have achieved something I've always wanted to do. Whereas, if I had gotten married right out of school, I would always have had the feeling that I'd missed something or had a dream never realized.

CPL. KENNETH J. WALSH, 2ND MARINES—It has been proven that some women are business-minded and have a natural flair for the business world. On the other hand, the majority make better housewives than career women. I still think that a woman's place is in the home.

Heavy Construction Platoon Live Wire Outfit Of Corps

By PFC MIKE KORUTZ

Whether it's digging ditches, installing telephone poles, or laying miles of cable, the Marine in the Heavy Construction Platoon considers it all part of a day's work.

This unique outfit, directly under the command of the Marine Commandant was formed in late 1947 primarily to set up and maintain communications systems at Marine bases throughout the world.

Since they first began their work in 1948, the 80-some men of the platoon, including two officers, have done communications work in such places as Guam, Camp Pendleton, Quantico, Vieques, Parris Island, and Camp Lejeune. While here, they're attached to Service Co., H & S Bn., Marine Barracks.

Guam Tough

Often their projects cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, but cost isn't what makes the job tough, according to SSgt. William R. Kind, the platoon's oldest member. The hardest task undertaken by the Heavy Construction Platoon was laying ten miles of cable at Guam at a comparatively small cost.

Following the destruction wrought by a typhoon, the platoon laid the cable in 33 days in Guam's blistering heat and jungle-like terrain, clearing away the effects of the typhoon as they went along.

Arriving here from Parris Island in April 1951, the platoon already has completed 45 major and minor projects. And, according to Lt. George M. Olszewski, platoon commander there's much more work to come.

Wires To J'ville

Their biggest project here, up to now, was laying a 303-pair trunking cable from Hadnot Point to Jacksonville. The project took five and a half months to complete.

Recently half of the platoon was at Vieques, participating in TRAEX IV. Their mission while there was to put up 400 telephone poles.

In order to perform the many jobs requested of them, Marines in the Heavy Construction Platoon have to be skilled workmen in a score of fields. Within the platoon are found draftsmen, surveyors, estimators, cable splicers, heavy equipment operators, and others skilled in the art of construction.

Schooling Too

When not working on a project the platoon concerns itself with the schooling of each man. Special classes are held to teach the skills that are required when in the field.

Though attached to Service Co., the platoon's operations are directed by the Camp Communications Officer.

It is the Communications Officer who proposes a project. Lieutenant Olszewski then estimates the cost of the material the project will require, from there the Camp Development Board, Camp Commander, and the Quartermaster General, respectively, study the survey. If approved, Lieutenant Olszewski and his crew take over.

Once a project is started the men are fed a steady diet of hard work. Cable plows, bulldozers, heavy trucks, pole trailers, cable trailers, pole diggers, cable layers, and earth borers are mobilized, and the men seldom heed the eight-hour working day. Often they put in as many as 12 strenuous hours before calling it a day.

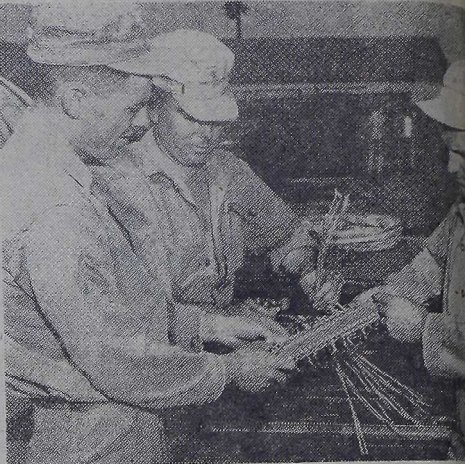

WAC's Celebrate 11th Anniversary

Today the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps celebrates its 11th anniversary, just two days before Armed Forces Day.

Launched by the 77th Congress in 1942, the WAAC's started training at Fort Des Moines under the direction of Col. Oveta Culp Hobby. In 1943 Congress dropped the "A" from WAAC and renamed the service the Women's Army Corps.

Hitting a war-time record strength of 94,000 enlisted women and 6,000 officers in 1945, the corps was stripped by post-war demobilization to 7000. Since the Korean conflict started, the WAC's have built their forces to a current 11,000.

The corps was firmly established as part of the Army through the Women's Armed Services Integration Act in 1948.

Rugged Grandad Leads Active Duty Stampede In Family

Some of the chain reaction that has been going on recently at Nevada must have affected the Conomikes family of Binghamton, N. Y.

Grandfather Pete Conomikes was in the Marine Corps during the last war. And he liked it so much that he didn't want to leave after World War II. But, being a family man, he felt that it was best for his children at the time if he left the Corps for civilian employment.

He and his wife ran a restaurant, but Peter C. Conomikes, grandfather, wanted to be back in the Marine Corps. He joined the Reserves, was promoted to sergeant, and also was made commandant of his local chapter of the Marine Corps League. But this wasn't enough.

This year grandfather Conomikes decided that his son Jimmy was old enough to take care of himself and, after six years' waiting, became an active Reserve, now attached to Casual Co., H & S Bn., Marine Barracks.

Jimmy, going on the "like father, like son" basis, enlisted the same day his father was activated and is now in Parris Island undergoing recruit training.

With the Marine exodus going on, Joe C. Wilson, a Conomikes son-in-law and former Marine himself, decided to rejoin the Corps. He'll come on active duty after his wife has her third child in July.

The captain expects the show to open late next month. Speaking of the song-filled commentary on Marine life Burr says, "Saddle Up" has already exceeded my first expectations and by the time we open it will be on a par with a good many New York productions."

"The Marine Corps has not only more than its share of the fighting men," he says, "but also musicians, singers, actors, and production crews the equal of those in any service organization."

Many Displays Set For Cherry Point's Armed Forces Day

Cherry Point's 2nd Air Wing plans a full day of "open house" activities for Armed Forces Day, Saturday. From 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. the base will hold air demonstrations and static displays of Marine aircraft including the new F2H-4 and F3D Marine jet fighters.

A concert by the wing's band and precision drilling by Women Marines will be included, as well as a paradrop and a fire fighting demonstration. Water escape mechanisms will be displayed at the swimming pool every hour on the hour.

LID BID

"Saddle Up," the forthcoming division variety show, is in need of eight campaign hats. Any personnel having one of these hats can contact the Division Special Services Office at Bldg. 332 or phone 5623.

Wilmington Choir Sings 'The Creation'

The Wilmington Choral Society, a chorus of 60 mixed voices, will appear at the Camp Protestant Chapel Sunday at 8 p. m. to render Franz Josef Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation."

The choral group, no stranger to Lejeune personnel, has for the last three years visited the base at Christmas time, singing Handel's "Messiah."

Camp personnel, civilian and military, of all faiths have been invited and the invitation extends to their dependents and guests. Military personnel must wear the uniform of the day or proper civilian attire. There will be no admission charge for the performance, nor are tickets required.

"The Creation" is a song story of the week God took to create the living world. The work, divided into three parts, narrates the creation of the world by days and the story of Adam and Eve in Paradise. The description of the creation is drawn from passages of Milton's "Paradise Lost" and the Book of Genesis.

The Choral Society's director is Norman K. Allen and William G. Robertson is organist.

Training Schedule For WM Reserves Drafted Mon.-Tues.

Two full days of conferences will be held in Bldg. 58 starting Monday by Marine Barracks officials and reserve unit representatives to draft the summer training agenda of ten Woman Marine Reserve units scheduled to arrive here starting June 20.

Although certain Marine Barracks officers have been directed to attend the conferences starting at 9 a. m. Monday, other offices and organizations are invited to send representatives.

According to a tentative schedule of the conferences the morning period of the first day will be devoted to administrative details and the afternoon to the formation of a training plan.

The second day will be given entirely to the preparation of training schedules.

Some of the problems that have to be ironed out by the group include training objectives and types, equipment, recreational facilities, and such minute details as arranging for laundry.

Going Once, Going Twice, Third Time To Marine Corps

The third time was the charm for Sgt. Leroy Whitaker, chief clerk in Division G-1, who chose his career recently as he reenlisted in the Marine Corps for six years.

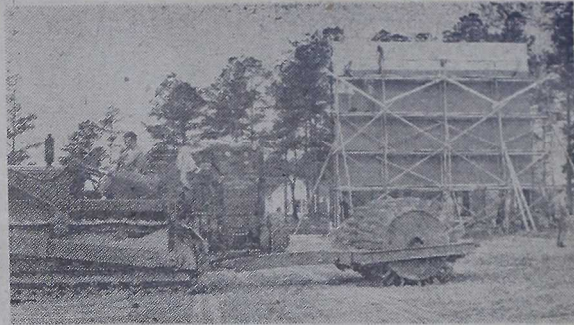

Sergeant Whitaker's varied Armed Forces background makes him quite an authority on service life as he has been in the Navy Amphibious Corps, the Army's 3rd Armored Division, and the 2nd Division here.

Coming up through the ranks is familiar to the sergeant from Kentucky for he climbed to petty officer second-class in the Navy, to sergeant in the Army, and again to sergeant in the Marines.

Sergeant Whitaker, after graduation from the Parris Island Clerical School with the highest score made up to that time, served as an instructor there, prior to reporting to this base.

BEACH CLOSED

Recreational facilities at Onslow Beach south of Beach Road will be closed today and tomorrow from 8 a. m. to noon due to practice anti-aircraft firing. Above times are Daylight Saving Time.

BULLDOZER OPERATOR Sgt. John J. Fogarty pulls a sheep foot roller across the new Camp Geiger theater area. The huge new movie screen is receiving the finishing touches in the background.

New Camp Geiger Outdoor Theater Opens Next Week

One of the largest outdoor theaters at Camp Lejeune will go into operation at Camp Geiger next week. The new movie will have seats for 3,240 people and additional facilities for watching the show from over 200 cars. Special parking ramps have been constructed to allow the people in the cars to view the movie easily.

The new theater is located just behind the new service club between the 2nd 90 AAA Gun Bn. area and Hq. Co., Force Troops, area.

Work has been underway on the site since April 1 under the direction of the 8th Engineer Bn. Over 3000 truckloads of dirt and clay have been brought in to give the area a sound base.

Test Dates Stated For Naval Academy Preparatory School

Navy-wide preliminary tests for qualified men to enter the Preparatory School as candidates for the U. S. Naval Academy, Md., will be given July 6.

All commands will nominate enlisted men to participate in the examinations. Regular Navy and Marine Corps enlisted personnel and members of Reserve components serving on active duty other than active duty for training are eligible for nominations. Those selected for the Naval Preparatory School must have obligated service to July 1, 1954. (AFPS).

Trenton School Kids Tour Base Facilities

The rain last Thursday didn't prevent 23 eighth grade students of the Trenton (N.C.) Elementary School and their two teachers from enjoying a tour of Camp Lejeune facilities.

Riding in a special bus, they visited the Goettge Memorial Field House and surrounding athletic fields, Camp Catholic Chapel, Marine Barracks Area, the Industrial Area, and Midway Park.

Interest Renewed In Plan Tying Pay To Cost Of Living

A two-year-old proposal to tie military pay to the cost-of-living index has been revived at the Pentagon and, according to the "Army-Navy-Air Force Journal," is gaining surprising favor with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Reconsideration of a military pay boost comes in the wake of President Eisenhower's publicly expressing interest in attracting and retaining outstanding personnel for the armed services.

Though now being analyzed by Assistant Secretary of Defense John A. Hannah and his staff, it is not certain whether the military cost-of-living pay plan, sponsored in legislation by Representative James E. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania, has been given a fiscal study.

Declined To Confirm

Defense Department spokesmen declined to confirm the report that Mr. Wilson may agree to a request by the Pentagon to ask Congress for a military pay adjustment. But the "Journal" was told authoritatively that the matter is again under consideration.

Consequently, chances for a pay boost took life. They had been thought dead following Mr. Wilson's March 20 press conference during which he curtly dismissed the proposal for an eight percent hike in base pay.

Since the March conference, however, Mr. Wilson has had influential advice from civilian and military leaders on the need to increase the attractiveness of military careers. He now is said to be considering a switch in his position.

The Strauss Commission on Incentive Pay, whose chairman, Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, USNR, inactive, is now a White House advisor, advocated a plan whereby base pay would be related to the cost-of-living index.

Safety is your only real insurance.

TAKING OATH at his recent commissioning, 2nd Lt. Stanley Wawrzyniak is sworn in by Col. Charles M. Nees, commanding officer of the 6th Marines. Wawrzyniak, a veteran of Korea and holder of two Navy Crosses, one Silver Star and three Purple Hearts, was commissioned through recommendation by a group of his senior officers. He will attend Basic Officer's School at Quantico, Va., before being further assigned (Official USMC Photo).

"POWER FOR PEACE"

An old but fitting theme has been chosen in observance of Armed Forces Day, 1953—POWER FOR PEACE. Three words to symbolize the gigantic effort by the nation's Armed Forces to instill sufficient respect for the free world's might in the powers which seek to destroy us.

Facing the reality that these powers of aggression do exist and have as their goal the ultimate enslavement of the free world, the Armed Forces are carrying out their mission of expansion and improvement.

Armed Forces Day is, then, a day to stop, look, and pay tribute to those who work for this goal, a goal with no other end than the right of free men to walk in dignity instead of fear.

The Corps Has Grown

Since the outbreak of the Korean War, the Marine Corps has grown from a strength of 74,000 to approximately 230,000. Marines have been in action in Korea since the summer of 1950.

Among the major developments pioneered by the Marine Corps in Korea is the use of the helicopter for assault movement of troops and the evacuation of wounded.

The "armored vest" also was initiated by the Corps in Korea after eight years of research in conjunction with the U. S. Naval Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. The vest is saving lives daily in the combat zone.

Now and improved methods of amphibious warfare continue to be the specialty of the Marine Corps and work goes on in that field in addition to the many other missions of Marines around the globe, all aimed at the keynote of this Armed Forces Day—POWER FOR PEACE.

Chaplain's Corner

By nature we think first of ourselves and only afterwards of others. Some never outgrow this "Watch Me" attitude of childhood. Only as we outgrow it can we be said to be mature.

A child playing a game may sometimes be seen to be so absorbed in what he is doing that his own identity has become completely lost to the "make believe" character he has imagined himself to be.

When an officer or NCO shows that he is more concerned for the welfare of his men than for his own safety, advancement, or prestige, he has grown out of his natural selfishness. The men's respect for him increases and their loyalty to their military organization and their country is deepened and strengthened.

This willingness to risk one's life or give it up for others is the recognized mark of a good Marine. Christians have always followed Christ in sacrificial living.

Christianity is thought of by its enemies as a religion of the weak, who, not being able to enforce their will on others, claim as their special virtue meekness and submission to the will of God. This is altogether incorrect. The same qualities of courage and devotion to duty that are admired in a winner of a military award for heroism are the exact ones that make a good Christian.

Saintliness is courage consecrated to the love of God. In these days of Communistic menace the world needs men of great fortitude who will dedicate their gift to the services of God.—Chaplain Stephen M. Reynolds, Assistant Division Chaplain.

Largest W. Coast Amphib Operation Ends Successfully

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Operation "Sea Jump," involving more than 150 ships and 54,000 sailors and Marines, has been successfully completed. It was the biggest amphibious operation on the west coast since 1948.

Consisting of some 30,000 Navy men, 24,000 Marines, carriers, landing craft and numerous aircraft, the large amphibious landings were carried out to test war techniques learned in Korea and simulated atomic tests.

The maneuvers pitted a "friendly force" from San Diego against an "aggressor force" at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The exercise was expected to place the 3rd Marine Division, which has spent 15 months in training, at its top peak in combat readiness. (AFPS)

Sgt. Dubski Weds Officer's Daughter At Catholic Chapel

Saturday morning Miss Joan Slager, daughter of 1st Lt. and Mrs. Salvator Roti, of 1403 Hargett St., New River Apartments, became the bride of Sgt. Walter Dubski Jr., general supply, Supply Depot, at the Camp Catholic Chapel.

The bride was dressed in traditional white satin. The fitted bodice was topped by a nylon net yoke set with seed pearls and rhinestones forming flower petals. The full skirt fell into a long train.

Her veil of illusion was fastened to a full crowned hat of net adorned with seed pearls. She carried a single white orchid mounted on a white satin prayer book with matching streamers.

Maid of Honor

Rita Dubski, sister of the groom, from Pittsburgh, Pa., was maid of honor and wore an orchid nylon net gown over matching taffeta. Little Miss Dawn Davis, also of New River Apartments, was flower girl. Her ruffled yellow dress was of taffeta and she carried a tiny basket of yellow rosebuds.

Sgt. Johnny Wunderlick, 2nd Ordnance Bn., served as best man. He and the groom wore dress blues.

Following the double ring ceremony, a reception was held at the Camp Geiger Hostess House. The couple will visit the groom's parents in Pittsburgh on their honeymoon. The groom is transferring to El Toro, Calif., where they will make their home following the honeymoon.

Rough Diamondmen Carve 36th Win on t

11-Game Win Skein Woven With Picketteers' Demise

Camp Lejeune swept to its thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth victories of the year, downing Camp Pickett, 4-1 and 6-3, here Saturday and Sunday as the second home stay came to a close. The Marines won all their home games on the current stay, and now have an 11-game win streak going.

With the aid of three rally-squelching double plays Lejeune managed to win its eleventh, 6-3, Sunday.

"Babe" Daskalakis banged a two-run homer for Lejeune in the fifth, his second of the season, and playing manager Dick Porterfield hit one for the losers in the seventh with the bases empty.

Jimmy Waugh, Lejeune's left-hander, had a rough afternoon as a result of 11 Pickett hits and three errors by Ralph Russo filling in at third.

Lejeune collected ten hits off John Walz.

First To Score

Lejeune was first to score, counting twice in the third. After Waugh fanned, "Chico" Rodriguez looped a single to left and came home on Russo's double up against the left field fence. Dave Krings duplicated with another double to score Russo.

In the fourth Lejeune added one more when Paul Donovan singled, went all the way to third on Ed Kababek's bunt single, and scored when Jim Apolinario bobbled Jim Gingerella's double-play grounder.

In the fifth Pickett finally scored, but a double play held the Chargers to two runs. With two runners in and two on, Jim Wilkerson grounded to Krings, who stepped on second and fired to first to get Waugh out of the inning.

Saturday Action

Three errors produced four unearned runs, giving Lejeune a 4-1 victory over Pickett for the Marines' tenth win in a row Saturday.

Yet to lose, Bob Grim hurled his ninth win of the year, allowing only three scattered hits, and striking out ten.

Most of the action occurred in the bottom of the first. "Chico" Rodriguez reached first when Pickett's third baseman, Ron Fountain, fumbled a grounder. Rodriguez stole second, but Dave Krings popped to the first baseman and Bill Hawkins struck out.

With lefty Pierce on the hill, Pickett gave Don Brown an intentional walk, to get at left-handed "Babe" Daskalakis.

Chronopoulos And Johnson Throttle Navy

Bunt singles deprived Camp Lejeune pitchers Charley Chronopoulos and Ben Johnson of no-hitters here Friday, as the Marines swept a twin bill from Service Forces, Atlantic, 7-4 and 5-0.

Of the two, Johnson's second-game seven-inning stint was the more impressive. The former Milwaukee Brewer right-hander set down the first 16 batters to face him, until John Welsh laid down the spoiler.

It was hit towards third, and caught third sacker Bon Brown back. Brown raced in and fumbled the ball, but the official scorer ruled it a hit as Welsh would have beaten a perfect peg. Johnson gave up a walk in the seventh but he started a double play to end the game. He struck out 11 batters.

Chronopoulos went until two were out in the ninth before seeing his bid for the Hall of Fame ruined.

Perfect Bunt

Bob Tart bunted perfectly towards second, the ball rolling among the second baseman, pitcher and first baseman, with none of them having a play. The bunt single started a three-run rally.

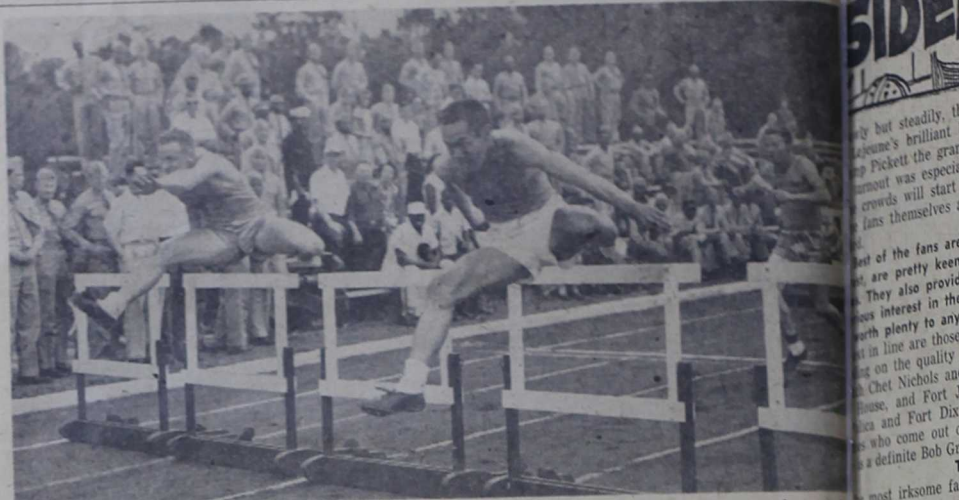

ServLant had picked up a run in the sixth on a walk, an error, and a wild pitch.

Lejeune scored once in the first on a pair of walks and "Babe" Daskalakis' single, and added three in the second. Paul Donovan was hit by a pitch and Chronopoulos walked. "Chico" Rodriguez' single drove in Donovan and Chronopoulos scored when the relay got away from the third baseman. Krings' single drove in "Chico."

Donovan's triple and Ed Kababek's fly to center scored one in the third, and Hawkins' homer scored the sixth and seventh in the fourth.

Lejeune Leaguers Faced With Tough 12-Game Agenda

Sporting an 11-game winning streak, Lejeune plays 12 games away to complete the May schedule. Five of the games are carded for this week, and four of them may prove to be as tough as the Marines will have all season.

Fort Lee, Va., plays host to Lejeune today and tomorrow; Fort Meade, Md., over the weekend; and after a two-day lay-off Lejeune swings into action against the Martin Bombers Wednesday.

Nichols To Start

Almost sure to be today's battery for the Fort Lee Travellers are pitcher Chet Nichols and catcher Harry Chiti. Nichols, who posted an 11-3 record for Travellers last season, came to Lee from the Boston Braves.

With the Braves in '51 he became the youngest hurler ever to lead the National League in earned run averages, with a 2.88 mark. Chiti is another ex-major leaguer, having caught 32 games for the Chicago Cubs in which he hit 274 with five homers. His powerful bat has been sparking Lee this season.

Lee Tarys, who blanked Lejeune, 1-0, last season, probably will be the second-day starter. The infield will have holdover Dick Raklovitz (.401) at third, and three Cleveland Indian prospects, second baseman Stan Pawloski, shortstop Paul Jones, and first baseman Paul Stowell.

In left will be Lee's leading hitter of '52, trigger-tempered Eric Rodin. Page McGee and Tex Darievics will man the other garden posts.

Meade Powerful

Saturday and Sunday Lejeune will tackle Fort Meade, another east coast service baseball power. The Generals are stocked with ex-minor league players including Tony Campos (Toronto), Charlie "Spider" Wilhelm (Buffalo), and John Rommel (Chattanooga).

A single game, first of a two-game series, is scheduled with the Martin Bombers Wednesday.

Lejeune managers Pete Larghey and Charley Ziober plan to counter with the ace of the pitching staff, Bob Grim (9-0), today and left-hander Bob Reich (5-0) tomorrow. Ben Johnson (5-0) and Chuck Chronopoulos (4-1) are expected to get the nods against Fort Meade.

Either Grim or Jimmy Waugh (4-1) will pitch Wednesday's game against Martin.

ATTENTION SWIMMERS

Anyone in the 2nd Marine Division interested in trying out for the Atlantic Fleet swimming team is requested to contact Lt. Col. M. C. Stewart, division special services officer, at Bldg. 332 before May 20.

Cindermen Set 3 Records In Vaulting Over Quantico

It was record-breaking day here Saturday, as the Lejeune cindermen swept to their second win of the season over the Quantico Marines, 71½ to 59½.

NC Coaches Chosen To Officiate Meet

George Barclay, new University of North Carolina head football coach, and R. L. Chambers, head track coach of Duke University, will be the leading officials of the 6th Annual All-Marine Corps Track and Field Meet, to be held here June 11-13. Other officials from the Southern Conference are expected to be invited also.

Barclay will act as head finish judge, while Chambers will take the duties of head timer for the meet, which also will include the All-Navy Track and Field Championships.

There will be over 200 entries in the three-day affair, and records will be official All-Marine and All-Navy marks. There are no team scores computed for the meet, all victors being presented individual awards.

New Pistol Record Set By Lt. Crook

Second Lt. Rex W. Crook, Supply School Bn., set a new record for pistol shooters this year at the Rifle Range recently by firing 378 out of a possible 400. The old record, held by Capt. T. B. McPherson, was 369.

Lieutenant Crook spent 11 years in the Marine Corps as an enlisted man before he was commissioned last year.

Crook is now Reproduction Officer at the Montford Point battalion.

Dick Layne, Lejeune's ace putter from Ohio State University, started marks falling with USMC' fan, throwing the 16-pound weight 41 feet, 4½ inches. The old record was 48 feet, 1 inch and 1/2 inch.

Next, Roger Montgomery, a senior at the University of North Carolina, threw the 21.4 of the 220 yard dash by one-tenth of a second. The third mark was made by local Marines' undefeated mile runner, B. Williams, who threw the 3:29.5 of the mile.

Break Camp Mark The four baton passers down to a 3:28.3 time, breaking the camp mark of 3:29.5 set at All-Marine meet in Quantico 1950. The 3:29.5 is also the Marine Corps record.

High-point man of the afternoon was Lejeune's Montgomery with firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and a second in 220 low hurdles. Next, Quantico's Herb Loui, who took easy firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and a second in 220 low hurdles.

At one point, early in the mile run, with R. W. Crook leading the pack for three and dropping back to tie with teammate Ed Floyd at 4:34.

Ten of Fifteen The local Leathernecks took of the 15 first places and all the added attraction, a 44 relay which did not count for team standings. The winners were Daily, Montgomery, O. Williams, and Artis, and they posted a 44.3.

Lejeune previously had done Quantico at the Virginia April, 70 1/5 to 60 4/5.

UP TO HIS OLD TRICKS AGAIN, Frank Nastro races around in Saturday's spring intra-squad game. Nastro picked up yards on this carry in the first half. Bill DeChard cuts in to the tackle. Nastro and his Gold Mates won, 25-6 (Official Photo).

FLYING FORM is displayed by Camp Lejeune's broad-jumping "Mugs" Van Sant as he leaps to the winning jump in Saturday's meet here between the locals and Quantico. Van Sant holds the All-Marine Corps jumping mark at 23 feet, 4 inches (Official USMC Photo).

...ly but steadily, the fans are starting to come out to watch Lejeune's brilliant baseball team in action. Against ServLant Pickett the grandstands were well filled, and Sunday afternoon was especially encouraging. All you need is a winner and crowds will start coming.

The fans themselves are often as interesting as the players, and...

...est of the fans are the "regulars." They come out to every game, are pretty keen students of the game, and enjoy themselves. They also provide a nucleus, know the players, and take a serious interest in the Lejeune nine. They are few in number, but plenty to any team.

...t in line are those fans who come out to watch certain games, based on the quality of the opposition. They will be out in force when Chet Nichols and Fort Lee; Joe Landrum, Fay Throneberry, House, and Fort Jackson; Willie Mays and Fort Eustis; and Fort Dix. A subdivision of the "sometime-fans" are those who come out only when a certain pitcher is due to work. There is a definite Bob Grim fan club going.

Taking A Dim View

The most irksome fan is the "holdout." He starts the season by saying Lejeune will have a rotten team and will, if it comes about, claim the title after Lejeune wins the InterService and National Semi-Pro. He refuses to be convinced and never will. A Lejeune win is a nail to either poor opposition or luck.

The type that attends with a goodly amount of regularity is the "Lejeune." He has a good attendance record, roots heartily for the team, boos Lejeune, and is at the moment, due to Lejeune's record, a very frustrated character.

is not to be confused with the "hate anything connected with Lejeune" fan, because he definitely cheers for Lejeune when it plays Island, Quantico, and Cherry Point. The "hate anything connected with USMC" fan does not cheer during intra-Marine games, but hopes it will be a bad game with discredit to both teams.

As bad as the "holdout" is the "I could do better" type. He comes on the first error, first strikeout, first misjudgment, and in a few minutes confides to everyone that he could have done it better. He most probably was cut from the varsity in the high school (if he ever tried out), is having a tough time keeping his job on the company team, and couldn't carry today's glove.

There is a certain type of fan who adds color to the game and keeps the interest from flagging. Usually possessing a fog-horn voice, he emits long yells during lulls. Most famous of the "color" fans is Bruce McAllister, widely known in baseball circles in and out of the camp. For his piercing, unearthly cry, which can be neither imitated nor described.

With A Coke Bottle

so on the "color" side is Maj. Gen. Edwin Pollock, who, as commander of the 2nd Division, used to bat an empty Coke bottle on the railing to spur Lejeune on.

But all these fans, the good and bad alike, have an advantage over those who don't bother to come out. They are being treated to base-...rior to anything you will find this side of Washington, D. C. You're bored with the game, why not watch the fans?

Gerry Fouts, diminutive left halfback, scampered through left tackle for 19 and Mazzaroppi carried the leather the remaining 30 yards around right end. Fouts had two tries to notch the point-after due to penalties, but failed on each occasion.

WM's Defeat Cherry Point Diamondettes

The Camp Lejeune Woman Marine softball team swept its first two games of the season here Monday and Tuesday by defeating Cherry Point, 18-5 and 15-14.

Lejeune jumped off to a quick lead in the first game by scoring three runs in the first and four in the second. They put the game far out of reach of the visitors with a five-run outburst in the sixth. Barbara Summerlee, Lejeune captain and shortstop, contributed the telling blow with a grand-slam home run.

Angie Darby held Cherry Point scoreless after the fourth inning. Darby allowed three hits, walked nine, and struck out three to take her first win of the season. Joyce Warman was the losing pitcher.

In the second game Lejeune again took the lead in the first and second innings, being in front, 3-1, at the end of the latter. In the third, Cherry Point's pitcher, Ann Westbrook, blew up and walked eight. The free passes, combined with six hits and five errors, pushed across ten runs.

The Flyers scored once in the second and three times in the third. Lejeune added singletons in the fourth and fifth. The Cherry Point girls had narrowed the margin to 15-10 by the end of the sixth. In the seventh CP scored four more to bring the final score to 15-14. Beverley Moose was Lejeune's winning pitcher.

line, but Don Piccirillo, coming a long way to get under the ball, dropped it. Rodriguez scored. Brown went to third, and Daskalakis wound up at second.

Donovan Comes Through

Paul Donovan then smashed a hit between third and short, scoring Brown and Daskalakis which gave Lejeune a three-run lead.

In the top of the third, Pickett scored its lone run. With two out, Piccirillo walked and went to second on Grim's wild pitch that rolled away from the catcher. Piccirillo scored when Stan Goodman got the first hit off Grim, a single to right.

runs over the last four frames. Chronopoulos struck out only five, but no ServLant batter managed to hit him hard.

To back Johnson in the second game, Lejeune piled up five runs on as many hits. An unearned run scored in the first when Rodriguez reached base on the first baseman's error, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on Krings' short fly to center, and scored on Brown's deep fly.

Brown and Rodriguez teamed for the second run. Another error, this time by the shortstop, allowed Rodriguez to reach first. He stole second and scored on Brown's single. Brown went to third when the third baseman threw wild trying to get him at second and scored on a wild pitch.

2nd Amtracs Snare Lead In FT Loop

Second Amphibian Tractor Bn. jumped into an early lead in the Force Troops Baseball League by winning its first two games last week. In the loop's opener Monday at Camp Geiger, the Tractormen scored three runs in the first inning and went on to trip 8th Motor Transport Bn., 5-3.

Right-hander Fred Dostine and southpaw Ken Sullivan did the pitching for Amtrac, with starter Dostine receiving credit for the victory.

The losing 8th Motor hurler, right-hander Clyde Monroe, deserved better than defeat. Throughout the seven-inning tilt the former Colgate University pitcher was scarcely touched for any solid hits.

The First Ball

In a pre-game ceremony to the Force Troops season opener, Col. C. J. O'Donnell, commanding officer of Force Troops, threw in the first ball.

Amtrac made it two in a row Wednesday last week by edging 8th Tank Bn., 5-4, behind its pitcher Delucca, who set down the Tankmen with four hits and also belted a timely two-run single.

The Tankmen had previously copped their opener against 8th Engineer Bn. Monday last week, 10-1. Lefty Paul Fericanic held the Engineers to four hits, while striking out ten.

Engineers Blanked

The Engineers absorbed another beating Tuesday last week when they were blanked by Armored Amphibian Bn., 9-0. While Amphibian pitcher Perkins was posting a four-hit shutout, shortstop Dukes and third baseman Brown were doing the slugging for Armored, each connecting safely three times.

Automatic Weapons, defending Force Troops and Camp Lejeune champion, had a rough time the same day winning its initial game against 8th Signal, 4-3. A seventh-inning rally brought the deciding run across. John Drivick, A/W's right-handed chucker of no-hit fame, gave up only two hits and struck out nine in going the distance for the Weaponsmen.

A 14-hit barrage by 2nd 90 AAA highlighted its 10-6 victory over Armored Amphib Wednesday last week.

The very best fishing now in North Carolina, according to frequent, almost hysterical, reports is at Southport, a small fishing port south of Wilmington. Off Southport are the Frying Pan Shoals, considered one of the best fishing areas along the entire east coast by Kip Farington, renowned fisherman and writer.

Acres of mackerel and bluefish have melded together at the Frying Pan Shoals this week, converting the region into a seething sea of fish. These fish have spread north along the coast, until they are now feeding in the backyard of Camp Lejeune. And proof of this is that a quartet of local trollers brought back 256 bluefish and 45 Spanish mackerel Monday from Sneads Ferry. They were fishing from Captain Mart Fulcher's boat, "Miss Etta." The day before Captain Mart came in with six mackerel and 14 blues.

At Frying Pan Shoals catches have been averaging from 50 to 110 head, but local fishing guides claim the frolic is just starting.

No Fun On Shore

When the fish run as they are now, it's almost impossible to share the fun if you are confined to the shore. You need a big boat with an inboard engine, icing facilities, and a seasoned skipper. These boats are numerous all along the North Carolina shore line. They call them charter boats, and they're equipped and operated for deep sea fishing, whether it's for blues, mackerel, sailfish, or dolphin.

These boats cost money to rent. They go for about $40 a day. At the outset this appears a staggering price to pay for a day's fishing trip. But, if you analyze what you are getting it isn't too stiff. Usually a party of five chip in to rent a boat. This reduces your day's cost to less than ten dollars. Thus, for ten dollars and a luncheon, you get about ten hours of fishing, a comfortable cabin boat, a veteran guide, and a day of unforgettable fun.

Snead's Ferry, just over the bridge crossing the New River south of Camp Lejeune, has a fine fishing fleet. Morehead City, Swansboro, Wrightsville Beach, Surf City, and the rest of the coast towns in this region have boats adapted for your fishing pleasure. And a day at sea with the fish running is a day very well spent.
