

Shooters Fire 244x250 In Preliminaries

Cpl. J. J. Browning, a novice to competitive shooting, blazed a 244x250 over the requalification course here Friday to top 427 other Eastern Division shooters. Only by virtue of his 49 at the 300 slow fire position, however, did Browning, from the MCAF, New River, beat out the next four men on list who also fired 244.

Sharing total score honors with him as they walked off the 500-yard marker were Act. Sgt. R. L. Evans from MCAS, Beaufort, S. C.; Pfc M. G. Kouri of the MCS, Quantico, team; SSgt. B. Howard from the Marine Corps Base here, and Act. SSgt. D. G. Barker of the 2nd Division's AT Bn.

Not all of the Eastern Division shooters, presently in training for the May 9-14 rifle and pistol matches, fired the requalification course. Those classified as Distinguished Shooters and competitors in the 36-year-old-plus age bracket were not required to fire the course. Many exercised this option.

Intensive Practice

This week and next will see a continuation of intensive practice on the Eastern Division firing line. While rifle shooters converge on the 600-point match course, firing 4 five times over, pistol shooters will cover the National Match pistol course, used in division competition, a total of 10 times. This, too, is a 600-point course.

This year's 2,700 aggregate pistol match will begin Sunday, May 8, and will involve the following: at 50 yards the pistol shooter will fire 30 rounds slow fire; at 25 yards he will then fire 30 rounds rapid fire and 30 rounds quick fire. The course is fired three times over with the .22 cal., .38 or .45 cal. center fire weapons and with the standard .45 cal. automatic. Total aggregate possible is 2,700 points. The first two-thirds of the course will be fired on May 8, with the final third fired on May 9.

Air Facility Employee Wins Credit Union Seal Contest

Mr. Vernon H. Taylor, a civilian employee at the Marine Corps Air Facility, is the winner of the Marine Federal Credit Union seal contest. He will be presented four credit union shares, an award prize worth $20. Runner-up in the contest is LCpl. L. W. Aaron, Hq. Co., Hq. Bn., Marine Corps Base. His award is two credit union shares worth $5 each. The winners were selected from 10 entries submitted. The contest, which ended April 11, was designed to obtain an official seal for the credit union.

The entries were judged by the Board of Directors of Marine Federal. The board members are: Col. R. J. Batterson Jr., Col. P. R. Colmer, Lt. Col. W. T. Bryan Jr., Capt. J. B. Lippard, Act. MSgt. A. C. Everett, Mr. M. A. Califano and Mr. C. D. Browncombe.

The contest was authorized by the Board of Directors at its monthly meeting March 10.

The Marine Federal Credit Union was organized in May, 1959, by military personnel and civilian employees of Camp Lejeune. Its purpose is to provide a convenient method of investment, savings and loans for Lejeune personnel. Since its organization, Marine Federal has made 745 loans, totaling over $200,000.

The 25th annual meeting of the North Carolina Credit Union League, Inc., will be held at the O. Henry Hotel in Greensboro, N. C., Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30. Dedication ceremonies for the League office building will be held Saturday with the dedication address to be given by Governor Luther H. Hodges. Col. R. J. Batterson Jr. will represent the Camp Lejeune Marine Federal Credit Union at the meeting.

Woman Marines Are Eligible For Temporary E-9 Rank

Woman Marine master gunnery sergeants and master sergeants are now eligible for temporary appointment to sergeant major and first sergeant, according to a recent Marine Corps order. There are three billets now open for sergeant major and one for first sergeant. When an eligible Woman Marine gets the temporary appointment, she will wear the chevrons and receive full pay and privileges of the rank.

Women are now filling sergeant major and first sergeant billets in women's organizations. The order says in view of the responsibilities involved and the quality of performance desired, women occupying these billets should carry the rank appropriate to their duties.

However, because of the limited number of sergeant major and first sergeant billets in women's organizations, it does not seem to be in the best interests of the women to give them permanent appointments. The new program of temporary appointment is established in order to achieve the aim of having women who are occupying sergeant major and first sergeant billets carry the rank appropriate to their duties and at the same time not restrict them to three and ten billets.

The women will hold the rank of sergeant major or first sergeant only while they are actually filling such billets. Should they be transferred to another type of billet, they will reassume their permanent rank.

Any eligible woman appointed to the temporary sergeant major/first sergeant rank will retain the primary MOS she held at the time of appointment. An additional MOS of 9999 for sergeants major and 9998 for first sergeant will be assigned when the woman's commanding officer determines the individual's competence in the rank. Once assigned, the additional MOS will be

Mud Marines Awarded TV Unit Citation

The realism of a group of American Marines amazed television actors in London and won for them the rare "award" in TV.

Called on to play extras in Korean War play, 15 smartly dressed Marines of the Embassy guard were told to muddy their uniforms for the trench scene.

They left the studio and threw themselves into some real mud. They returned to complete the mission in the ABC "Armchair Theatre" production of "Come In Razor Red." So realistic were they that they outdid the actor who had made themselves appear battle-worn in a less direct manner.

So impressed was ABC that it ordered a "unit citation" and awarded it to the Marines. The citation read in part: "ABC Television of Great Britain takes pleasure in presenting the 'Television Unit Citation' to the U. S. Marine Corps Detachment, London, for extraordinary heroism above and beyond the call of duty... when 12 members of the detachment, detailed by courtesy of CINCPAC, did throw themselves voluntarily on a mudpile outside the studio, bismirching their persons and their uniforms with muck and mire, to represent the slush of the Korean trenches and thus saving the ABC wardrobe department this duty... and by their enthusiasm, efficiency, courtesy and devotion to the task allotted them did earn the respect and gratitude of all members of ABC television with whom they came in contact."

South Seas Come To Courthouse Bay As OWC's Group I Hosts Tropical Party

Palm trees, bananas, and pineapples set the mood Friday evening at the Courthouse Bay Officers Club as members of Group I, OWC, hosted a Tropical Island Party. Prior to the night's dancing, an afternoon festival was enjoyed by the officers' wives and their husbands. The tropical atmosphere was patterned by cleverly arranged artificial palms, banana trees and pineapples. Nets and shells added to the mood as typical island-type music made a background for the event. Artistically designed wall murals were also displayed.

The group dressed informally including "islanders" who were garbed in "mumus" and Hawaiian print shirts. Unusual but well-chosen accessories were added to the dress to give the festivities an appropriate air. The refreshment corner was centered around an outdoor buffet, including many colorful tropical dishes.

Among the feature dances, Mrs. Lahome Heger entertained with her island-type movements. Mrs. Heger is originally from Hawaii. Miss Belinda Strickler, daughter of Col. and Mrs. R. D. Strickler, and Miss Barbara Batterton, daughter of Col. and Mrs. R. J. Batterton Jr., also performed in tropical dancing.

Included among the guests were Col. and Mrs. K. A. Jorgensen, Col. and Mrs. H. G. Lawrence, Col. and Mrs. R. G. Batterton Jr., Col. and Mrs. J. G. Bishop Jr., Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. Witherspoon, Lt. Col. and

Brownies Take Dads To 'Sweetheart' Fete

Members of Brownie Troop 292, Midway Park, added a new angle to their Scout gestures last Thursday evening when the little ladies arranged to host their fathers to a "Sweetheart Supper" at the Midway Park Community Building. The girls proved fine hostesses as they displayed quality, quantity, and economy in box suppers.

the girls during last week's meeting.

Following the supper, the girls and their fathers joined in the game time. Blind-folded and three-legged race stunts were performed by the group.

Later in the evening, the girls were presented Service Stars for one-year's service with the troop by their Brownie co-leaders, Mrs. Frank Bruner and Mrs. James H. Henderson.

Those attending the affair were Marvin Self and daughter, Vickie; Kermit Laney and daughter, Mona Lisa; Paul Genborys and daughter, Marion; Joseph Glover and daughter, Shelia; Roy Roberts and daughter, Sharon; Mioton Bayles and daughter, Belinda; Robert Stewart and daughter, Deborah; Dwain Ashley and daughter, Linda; William J. Scout Events Listed

The Camp Lejeune Explorer Post has added three more items to their history. Election of officers, a camping trip and the election of advisors have been among the recent activity list for the post.

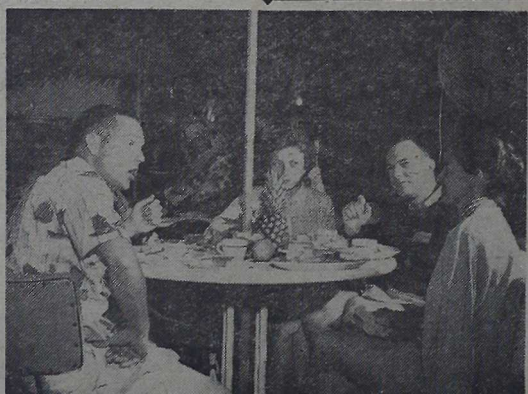

The officers for the Explorers for the current year are Robert G. Howie, president; Thomas Allen, vice-president; James Henderson, secretary; Robert Sollom, treasurer; and Thomas Trompeter, quartermaster.

The second of these events was another successful canoe-camping trip to the post campsite. This time there were 14 present on the trip. The boys spent two days at camp. Camping activities were organized and supervised. The boys are planning another such trip scheduled for the month of May.

The scouts have been faithfully working on the repair work necessary at their post cabin to get the place "shipshape". They hope to have this work finished soon. Upon completion, a housewarming will be given for family and friends.

This Week At Camp Schools

MONTFORD POINT SCHOOL

Plans for Field Day on May 13 underway in the fifth and sixth grade classes. They are using gym at Montford Point to practice the basketball throw. Mrs. Ca fifth grade has "thrown its hat in the political ring" as they anxiously follow the presidential candidates. The room has been transformed into a senate gallery and several bills have been debated and voted upon.

To enrich their recent study hobbies and collections, Mrs. Grubb's third graders were guests of Mr. Martin's sixth grade at Tarawa Terrace where they view a well organized display of hobbies. This same third grade finished making relief maps of U. S. mountain ranges, the rivers and lakes.

MIDWAY PARK SCHOOL

Midway Park and Holcomb School received six new books for winning first place in the Onslow County Library Display. The schools appreciate this gift and wish to thank Miss Adelaide McLarty, Librarian for the Onslow County Library, for inviting them to participate in the contest.

On April 25th the final meeting of the Midway Park PTA was held. Besides election of officers for next year, Mrs. R. A. Moorehead of the Local Camp Lejeune and Onslow County Chapter for Retarded Children gave an introductory talk and showed a film on retarded children.

On May 2 Miss Ross, Mrs. Deal, Mrs. Carper's, and Mrs. May's first graders will have an assembly program, and this will be the last program of the year.

STONE STREET SCHOOL

Fourth graders had their Easter parties at the school except Miss Roberts and Miss Hunter's third grade classes who held their parties at parks near the school. Mrs. Mullins' fourth grade class went to the Putt-Putt Golf Course for their party.

Miss Edwards would like to thank Mrs. E. R. Schott for the most unusual Easter Egg Tree and rabbit cake she baked for her class. Mrs. Schott also baked a rabbit cake for Mrs. Greene's class. Miss Jones' class was delighted with the large candy egg Mrs. J. R. Forman made for them.

One of Mrs. Greene's first graders, Vickie Medina, visited Washington, D. C., recently. She visited the National Cemetery and museum and since her return has shared her many wonderful experiences with the class. She has told about the Confederate money, flags, uniforms and weapons which she saw. The class has enjoyed it very much.

Mrs. Mullins' class would like to thank Lt. Col. R. C. Smith, father of Kay Smith, for the two handsome Marine Corps Emblems and the American Eagle which he made and presented to the class.

TARAWA TERRACE SCHOOL

The third grade classes of the Tarawa Terrace School visited the Montford Point school center. This was a culmination on a unit of study about foods. The children from the classes found it very interesting and informative. They enjoyed the field trip very much. Some of the children wrote letters to the people in charge, thanking them for the visit, and the following is a part of Danny Phillips' letter which expresses the feeling about the trip. "I liked the way you guided us and explained the working jobs. I enjoyed all the different sorts of working machines used as a part of a field system. I was very surprised when you told us how many men the chefs work for, and how many loaves of bread the ovens baked. When I visited the classroom and saw the men doing arithmetic, I thought they were in college. Thank you for the cookies and taking us around the camp."

Boxers Display Courage, Spirit

Forty boxers from posts and stations all over the world arrived at Camp Lejeune this week to participate in the 1960 Interservice Boxing Championships. These fighters, representing the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force, will attempt to bring boxing honors home to their respective commands and services.

The keen, competitive spirit of boxing in this eighth annual event will keep each fighter on his toes as he goes into the ring in a sport requiring his greatest skill, courage and determination.

Each boxer will be facing the toughest opponents in his service ring career, and only his ability and fearlessness will keep him in the ring.

The GLOBE wishes to congratulate these champions upon successfully reaching the Interservice Tournament. The tough hours of hard training have finally brought them to the top service tournament of boxing.

These men, by reaching this spot, have demonstrated many of those qualities which make American fighting men the finest in the world. This sport and every sport which develops and strengthens these qualities makes a very real contribution to our national defense.

May the best man win!

Wisdom Alone Is Not Enough

Gen. Omar Bradley stated, "We've learned how to destroy, but not to create; how to waste, but not to build; how to kill men, but not to save them; how to die, but seldom how to live."

In this day and time men are seeking knowledge more than any other time in history. One cannot deny that knowledge is necessary. Our age is one of space, rockets, and missiles. Without a knowledge of these a nation lags today. This type of knowledge is commendable. But it is not enough. Technical knowledge alone leads men to despair. One also must have an understanding of spiritual values. The chief purpose of education is to make man a better citizen and useful member of the human race.

The book of Proverbs suggests to us, "With all thy getting, get understanding." We ask, get understanding of what? We need to get understanding of ourselves. Man is a spiritual being living in a spiritual universe. He is created in the image of God. "It is He who hath made us and not we ourselves." Man is more than flesh and blood. He cannot survive on bread alone. Thus, our knowledge needs a perspective. Man is an intellectual being. He is also a spiritual being who came from God and we must give an account to Him for all his acts.

Division Chaplain.

The Latest Word

The May issue of "Leatherneck" magazine will feature as the Post of the Corps, the Marine Corps Air Facility at New River. In the article, senior staff NCO's reminisce about the Facility when it had only six buildings, three aircraft and the helicopter was thought of as a novelty. It goes on to tell of the activities today from handling everything from troop movements to rescues and participating in the National Aeronautical and Space Administration's Astronaut program. The May "Leathernecks" goes all out for aviation with "A Look at the Future of Marine Aviation," "What Goes Up" and "Aviation Schools." Also included with regular "Leatherneck" features will be the true adventure story, "Hairy Run Over Suan-Yuli," as told by Norman Sklarewitz. The aviation issue will go on sale May 1 at Marine Exchanges and newstands.

More trained men in less time will be the new standard for the Administrative Chief School at the Parris Island Marine Corps Recruit Depot. Beginning this summer, one week will be cut from the present 10-week schedule and classes will be enlarged to accommodate 75 students. This will allow an additional 150 enlisted Marine Administrators to receive formal school training since one additional class will be scheduled annually. As a result, 300 Marines will undergo instruction each fiscal year. The change will take effect with the first class of 75 student non-commissioned officers convening July 25. Additionally, rank eligibility will be restricted to acting staff sergeants and sergeants. Although classroom instruction will not be cut, the number of inspections, free-time periods and interruptions will be reduced, enabling the school to train four classes per year and cover all subjects in nine weeks instead of 10. The course is designed to give advanced training to senior non-commissioned officers, and prepare them for duties as administrative chiefs.

HOW DO YOU THINK YOUR TEAM WILL DO IN THE INTER-SERVICE BOXING MATCHES HERE AT CAMP LEJEUNE THIS WEEK?

If You Ask Me:

SN QUAN C. JAMES, Naval Amphibious Base, San Diego, Calif. — I think our

Navy team has a good chance of taking the championship because we have six participants from last year and we should benefit from their experience. I also think our coach and trainer will play a major part in our outcome. Ray Wharton, the trainer, is one of the best in the game. He was winner of the All-Navy and All-Service Championships, and competed in the 1956 Olympic Games.

ACT. CPL. RAMON ROSALES, MCRD, San Diego, Calif. — I think the Marines stand a good chance of winning the title as we have two returning fighters on our team. One is Pan-American Runner-Up Charlie Brown—he is also a 1959-60 All-Marine Champ. I am the other. I was also a 1959-60 All-Marine Champ. Our fighters are rugged and in good shape, and our coach seems to work well with us.

A1C JOHN L. CEREGHIN, Bolling AFB, Washington, D. C. — The Air Force has nearly the same team as last year, and we took second place in the matches then. This year we have improved through practice so we should better our record. Our coaches are experienced in the field, and have been giving us extra-good training in preparation for the matches.

Armed Forces In Public Spotlight

On Armed Forces Day, when the services annually put out the weapons mat to Americans and people of other countries for their better understanding, we who wear uniforms are unique participants.

We are not visiting spectators along with the weapons on display—we are exhibits, as we are also—according to our duties—interpreters to the public of the giant and complex defense machine we man.

It is also for us a day of a curious pride. Who in the service has not had the feeling, at one time or another, that civilians really don't "know"—and therefore cannot appreciate—how important he and his job are in the military scheme where every man's efforts are finally interlocking?

He could try to tell them, of course, but unless he were an exceptionally able and persuasive talker he might end by sounding boastful. There's nothing like seeing things with one's own eyes—and that's a primary mission of Armed Forces Day. Let the public see us at our jobs, on our home grounds, let it see the technical resourcefulness and training that modern weaponry demands—the public, we're confident, will go away impressed.

Another good and practical reason for such a day is that the American taxpayer likes to get his money's worth. This year more than half of his tax dollar—54 cents—will be spent for national security and defense. He is entitled to a long, hard look at what he is getting in return. And the Armed Forces welcome his scrutiny on this 11th annual day, May 21, that puts them in the spotlight.

Bernstein's Book Brightens Music

THE JOY OF MUSIC, by Leonard Bernstein. Simon and Schuster, 303 p.

Hailed as a great conductor, as a pianist, and as a composer of both symphonic and show music, Leonard Bernstein has earned an entirely new title in the past few years. Through the medium of television, he has become America's music teacher, introducing millions to the meaning and joy of music.

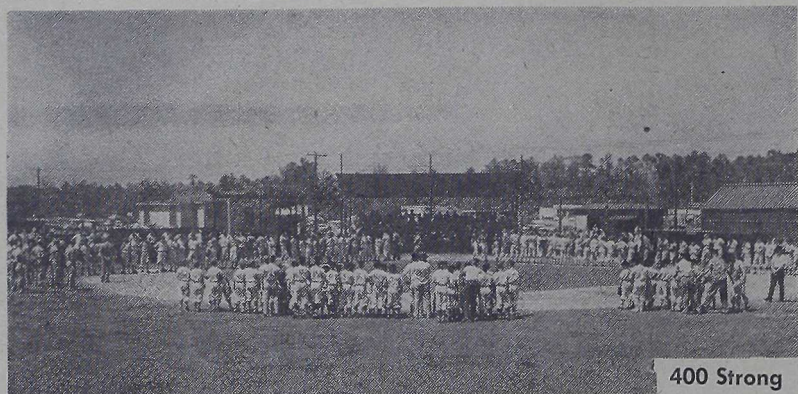

By means of his extraordinary skillful and imaginative editing, the composer has succeeded in projecting in print, the same gusto, clarity and charm that distinguish his "Omnibus" television shows. This work contains seven of the "Omnibus" scripts, illustrated, expanded and interpreted, and a collection of essays and conversations of great wit and warmth.

The scripts have been prepared to bring home every point to the reader in a clear, original and memorable manner, by means of a full photographic section, black-and-white illustrations, many musical examples and numerous diagrams. They have been prepared so that even the layman who cannot read a note of music will learn the "Joy of Music."

To Mr. Bernstein, all music is one: Jazz, Bach, the art of conducting, or grand opera. He explores the way in which a great conductor works; he studies the complexities of overtones; he explains why he cannot sit down and write a Gershwin tune; he shows how music is dubbed onto the sound track in a motion picture (drawing on his experience as the composer of the score for "On the Waterfront").

The book contains hundreds of musical examples that were performed on television; even those who cannot read music will be able to follow them by reading the accompanying text. For those who wish, the musical examples have been arranged so that they can be played on the piano, and there are lists of recommended recordings for the reader to follow.

Whether or not you have seen Mr. Bernstein in the concert hall or on television, you will find here, in a new dimension "The Joy of Music."

Lejeune Places Three In 1960 Interservice Boxing Matches

Ten individual fighters boxed their way into the Interservice Championship competition being hosted at Goettge Memorial Field House this week, after winning during the eighth annual All-Marine Corps Boxing Championships here last Thursday. The Marine Champs are facing the individual title winners of the Army, Navy, and Air Force during the three-day elimination matches, now in the semi-final stages tonight at 7 p.m. Over 1,000 wildly cheering ring fans saw the boxers of Camp Lejeune and the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, tie for the unofficial title of "All-Marine Champions" after each placed three fighters in the individual championship bracket during the annual classic last week. Also finishing in a tie were runners-up Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, and Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, of Hawaii, with two finalists each.

Dark Horse Winner

Capturing the light heavyweight crown and the third victory for Lejeune was Jim Williams, "dark horse" of the local "stables." After a first round stand-off, Williams opened up aggressively during the second and third rounds to score a unanimous decision over George Matlock of San Diego.

Flyweight Ray Rosales, also from San Diego, successfully defended his title, pounding out a unanimous decision over Lejeune's Leroy Metz. After a slow-moving first round, Rosales ended the "feeling out" period with a barrage of vicious blows to the head and body, knocking Metz to the canvas mid-way in the second round. A third round effort by Metz was unsuccessful as Rosales continued to work to the body, keeping him from scoring heavily.

Second Title

Last year's featherweight champion Charlie Brown of San Diego added another title to his laurels by winning the bantamweight title with a unanimous decision over teammate Eddy O'Brien. A smash to the midsection sent O'Brien to the deck early in the first round, before Brown changed to a defensive style, countering effectively to win the title.

Featherweight Rocky Fiorentino chipped in the first victory for the locals, scoring a split decision over Quantico's Nate Coleman. Forcing Coleman into the ropes, Fiorentino scored sparingly during the second and final rounds after warding off a first round effort by the Quantico contender.

Lejeune's Tommy Zangla jarred lightweight "L" "V" Rainey of FMFPac with a series of delayed right hooks in the first round and continued to smash at the head and body during the remainder of the bout to unanimously win his first

Marine Corps crown and the second title for Lejeune.

Top Contender

Light welterweight Paul Fujii of San Diego, considered by many to be a top contender for the Interservice matches, knocked Bill Shanahan of Camp Pendleton to the canvas in the second round before scoring a technical knockout in the final round with a crushing right smash to the head.

After an even first round, FMFPac's Gabriel Terronez scored heavily in the second and final rounds, beating out a split decision over welterweight Maurice Frilot of San Diego, while Tommy Settles, light middleweight from Quantico, scored an unpopular unanimous decision over San Diego's Roosevelt Sanders.

It was footwork versus power in the middleweight class with Ray Phillips of FMFPac showing plenty of both, as he scored a surprising victory over San Diego's 1959 middleweight runner-up, Ted Shores.

Rounding out the championship matches was Percy Price of Quantico, who scored a technical knockout over San Diego's "L" "C" Shield in the heavyweight class. Price picked up the win after Shield, who had earlier been knocked down for a count of eight in the fight, failed to answer the bell starting the second round.

Locals End Losing Streak After 3-2 Win Over Ft. Lee

Snapping a three-game losing streak, the Camp Lejeune Marines overcame a two-run deficit in the final three innings to defeat the Travelers of Ft. Lee, 3-2, Tuesday night at Agganis Field. The victory was the 20th for the locals against eight defeats and the third win over the Virginians in as many games this season. Third baseman Earl Williams, in his first starting role, collected one hit for two trips to the plate, drove in one run and scored the winning run after a booming triple by shortstop Charlie Armstrong in the ninth inning after two were out.

Lady Golfers Hold Tourney

Qualification rounds for the Woman Golfers, Club Championship has been completed and participants have one week in which to play their opponents.

During the "Three worst holes to par" tourney held Friday Mary Lou Kurth took top honors in "A" flight with a 64½ while scoring low net of the week with a 65.

Vivian Collins and Katy Edwards carded a 67 to tie for first place in "B" flight while Ann Sherbondy also with a 67 was the winner of "C" flight. Shooting only nine holes Maxine Switzer topped the "D" flight with 20 while Jess Robie and Jean Hunt shot a 24 for second place, and Mary Koester scored least putts with 17.

The monthly coastal match held at Morehead City on April 12, saw Ione Everette and Phyl Anderson tie for first place in "A" flight with a 90 as Mary Lou Kurth carded a 96 and was least putts with 29.

Mary Childres finished on top in "B" flight with a gross of 102 while Lil Landrigan took least putts with 28. Betty Walker and Jess Robie finished in a deadlock for "D" flight low putts with 37 to round out the match.

Picking up their first run on an inside the park home run by third baseman John Kellner, the Virginians scored their second run in the fifth on a throwing error from third base with both runs being charged to the starting pitcher Bill Haywood.

Williams' two-out run-scoring single came in the seventh inning as catcher Hank Nichols was safe on a fielders' choice, moved to second on a ground out by left fielder Cliff Simpson, who was batting for reliever Ron Biemel, before coming in with the first Lejeune run.

Hal Norton, slugging first baseman who had been out of action since early in the season showed no ill effects, leading off the eighth inning with a drag bunt, his second hit of the day, and moving to second on a sacrifice bunt by second baseman Barry Fullerton, before scoring the second run after a two-out single by out fielder Sam Valentine.

Thad McCullum, who relieved Charlie Bryan in the ninth inning, picked up the win, while George Lastress, who went all the way for the Virginians, was credited with the loss.

Surprise Champion

Boxing fans of Camp Lejeune were amazed as light heavy-weight Jim Williams of the local scrappers scored a unanimous decision over George Matlock of San Diego to win the light heavyweight title during the eighth annual All-Marine Corps Boxing Championships held at Goettge Memorial Field House last Thursday.

Rated as the underdog, Williams cautiously felt his opponent out during the first round, before cutting loose in the second and third to pick up the victory and throw the local stable into a tie for the unofficial title of "All-Marine Champs" with the Leather-necks of San Diego, after stalwarts Tommy Zangla and Rocky Fiorentino had previously finished on top in their respective weight classes.

JIM WILLIAMS

Williams, along with Zangla, Fiorentino and the seven other titlists were selected to represent the Marine Corps in the 1960 Inter-service Championships being hosted here this week, against 30 competitors, 10 each from the All-Navy, Army and Air Force Champions.

Local flyweight entrant Leroy Metz staged a final round comeback after being floored in the second round by colorful Ray Rosales of San Diego, but the effort fell short as Rosales countered effectively, keeping Metz off balance and unable to land the big smash the partisan fans were seeking.

Locals Gunner Rex Williams, coach of the Lejeune boxers, and Act. Sgt. Allen Elkins, assistant coach and trainer, were both selected to work with the All-Marine Champs in the Inter-service Matches and the Olympic Trials.

Gunner Williams was selected as officer in charge of the team, while Act. MSgt. Frank Veith, coach of the San Diego stable, was named as the team coach. Act. GySgt. Pete Calderon of Camp Pendleton will take over as trainer and Elkins will travel as the team manager.

Back at Mid-Court

Although basketball is many months away, we believe it worth mentioning that the local cagers are expected to form the nucleus of their 1960-61 squad around returnees Charlie Morrow and Derek Dickinson and in all probability Jack Sullivan, scoring ace of the Quantico five. Sullivan, who has been selected as an alternate player on the Olympic Basketball Team, is expected to be transferred to Camp Lejeune sometime next month. As cage fans of Camp Lejeune will recall, it was the big 6'2" center who led the Virginians over the locals in their final games, scoring 69 points with 41 tallies coming in one game, nearly breaking the 42-point field house record set in 1956 by Ernie Beck, now of the Philadelphia Warriors.

Now to the Bull Pen

Lejeune's baseball team has been fortunate in the past in respect to their excellent pitching staff and it doesn't seem to be declining now. A new addition to the team in the form of 22-year-old Charles Brian is expected to aid in the bull pen department. Coming to Lejeune from Quantico, the righthander played his college ball at Mississippi College, before performing in his first year of service competition at Marine Corps Schools where he recorded a 5-0 record last year.

Second Marines Win In Division Opener

The Tenth Marines unlimbered their heavy artillery in a third inning spurt but it wasn't enough to match the all-around attack of the Second Marines as the defending champions coasted to a 7-4 triumph. The Cannoneers connected for the circuit on three of their five safeties. It was strictly a pitchers' duel for the opening three innings with neither team able to advance a runner past first base. Dick Hunter, second sacker for the victorious Second Marines, garnered the first hit of the game when he blasted a base hit to left in the bottom half of the third frame. Hunter was erased via the double play route on the following pitch.

The Cannoneers teed off in their half of the fourth inning with two consecutive home runs off the deliveries of fireballing "Rock" Ammon. The initial blast by Bill Reeves broke Ammon's no-hit effort. Playing coach Sam Friddle followed it up by poking a long drive to deep left center to vault the Tenth Marines into a 2-0 fourth inning lead.

The Second Marines came right back in their half of the fourth inning when an error, single and base-on-balls loaded the bases before Ed Gaza slammed through a single for their first two tallies of the contest. The victors added two more when Rock Ammon smashed a three-bagger down the left field line off reliever Stan Stanley.

Stanley countered by nicking Ammon for the only hit of the fifth frame for the Cannoneers when he boomed a long triple into deep center field. Stanley's efforts went for naught, however, when the following batter popped to short.

The victorious Second Marines boosted the margin to 5-2 in their half of the fifth when veteran cen-

Local Player Is Beaten At AAU Matches

Joe Blaile Sr., 8th Comm. Bn., Force Troops, 160-pound class champion during the All-Marine Judo Championships held earlier at Parris Island, was eliminated after his second match during the eighth annual National Judo Championships in Tampa, Fla., last weekend.

The Camp Lejeune Judo Club has scheduled a Junior Championship match for club members 16 years of age or under, to be held at Goettge Memorial Field House, Sunday at 3:30 p.m. All members, parents and interested parties are encouraged to attend.

During last week's meeting it was decided by the club officers to cut the judo classes to Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Classes will be held in Bldg. 1309 from 7 to 9 p.m. during these days.

AAU Finals

All-Marine titlist Ernie Cates of Parris Island, Corps' heavyweight champ Ray Hernandez of Marine Corp Auxiliary Air Station, Beaufort, S. C., and heavyweight runner-up John Roseberry of the Marine Barracks, NTC, Great Lakes, Ill., who was sent to the AAU matches on the strength of his fine showing during the All-Marine matches, all reached the finals in the 180-pound class.

Cates, former judo champ of Camp Lejeune, dropped his first match but stormed back to capture the next two. In the fourth round he lost to Vince Tamora, last year's 180-pound champion and this year's third-place finisher.

Mora Takes Title

Hernandez also lost the first match and won the next two, but was eliminated from further play by Ken Hatei in the fourth round. Hatei finished in second place, as he did last year during the matches.

Roseberry upset the pattern, winning the first, dropping the second and taking the third. Last year's All-Japan Intercollegiate Champion, Ima Mora, defeated Roseberry in the fourth round, and went on to capture both the 180-pound and the over-all championships.

Marines In London Get TV Unit Citation

The realism of a group of American Marines amazed television actors in London and won for them the rarest "award" in TV.

Called on to play extras in a Korean War play, 15 smartly dressed Marines of the Embassy guard were told to muddy their uniforms for the trench scene.

They left the studio and threw themselves into some real mud. They returned to complete their mission in the ABC "Armchair Theatre" production of "Come In, Razor Red." So realistic were they that they outdid the other actors, who had made themselves appear battle-worn in a less direct manner.

So impressed was ABC that it ordered a "unit citation" and awarded it to the Marines. The citation read in part: "ABC Television of Great Britain takes pleasure in presenting the 'Television Unit Citation' to the U. S. Marine Corps Detachment, London, for extraordinary heroism above and beyond the call of duty . . . when 15 members of the detachment, detailed by courtesy of CINCPAC . . . did throw themselves voluntarily on a mudpile outside the studios besmirching their persons and their uniforms with muck and mire, to represent the slush of the Korean trenches and thus saving the ABC wardrobe department this duty . . . and by their enthusiasm, efficiency, courtesy and devotion to the task allotted them did earn the respect and gratitude of all members of ABC television with whom they came in contact."

mannerisms, his odd walk and slow drawl, his mastery of the pause in delivering a joke, his habit of constantly moving on the platform. Twain was hailed as a superb entertainer in his day and was eagerly sought after for lecture engagements.

Holbrook has studied old newspaper reports of his appearances, as well as Twain's own commentary on his platform method, and has created an image of the great author which is "startlingly realistic."

In his quest for authenticity, Holbrook has interviewed many people who knew the author personally or saw him on the platform. He owns a copy of the rare Edison film of Mark Twain and a recording of his voice. When Holbrook appeared at a celebration in Hannibal, Mo., the local newspaper reported that he "caused a sensation with his almost perfect likeness to the great humorist."

Holbrook first conceived his one-man show in 1953. In September, 1955, he opened in the show at a Greenwich Village nightclub and remained there for a seven-month engagement. He began a national tour in 1956 and appeared on many leading television shows. NELM Troops Test Surface, Heli-Lift Landing Problems

U. S. Marines of the 1st Bn. (Reinf.), Sixth Marines, stormed beaches near Bomba, Lydia, April 6 in a combined amphibious and vertical envelopment landing. Answering the call for aid by friendly country "Menopia," which had been invaded by "enemy" forces, the Camp Lejeune based Leather-

George Codrea, landed two reinforced rifle company's over the beach. Meanwhile, helicopters of HMR(L)-262 were heli-lifting a rifle company several miles inland.

With ships of the U. S. Sixth Fleet laying offshore and carrier-based jet aircraft for cover, the beachhead was quickly secured. The battalion reserve was then committed, forming with LVT's and tanks into a mechanized column that advanced steadily to juncture with the heli-lifted troops inland.

Objective of the three-day problem was to test the landing force's ability to effect a simultaneous coordinated surface and heli-lifted landing.

On hand to witness the landing were Gen. Charles D. Palmer, Deputy Commander-in-Chief, U. S. European Command, and Vice Adm. George V. Anderson, Commander, Sixth Fleet. Also on hand were members of General Palmer's staff, including Maj. Gen. C. H. Jack, USA; Maj. Gen. A. G. Hewitt, USAF; Rear Adm. H. C. Bruton, USN; Brig. Gen. J. C. Steele, USA, and Brig. Gen. W. S. Steele, USAF.

The exercise was the third demonstration of the Battalion Landing Team capabilities in the Mediterranean area, previous landings being made on the islands of Sardinia and Crete.

The landing followed a seven-day visit by the Med Marines to historic Athens, Greece, and goodwill visits

Reserve Policies Are Revised For Active Duty Contracts

Marine Corps Reserve captains on active duty with the regular establishment will henceforth be eligible to apply for retention on active duty until they are promoted or twice passed over, Headquarters Marine Corps announced last week.

Those selected for promotion may be given additional active duty contracts, Headquarters said.

Previously, except for lawyers and electronics specialists, reserve captains on active duty with the regular Marine Corps were not eligible for EAD or SWAG's which would bring them into the promotion zone for major.

The new policy was established by Change No. 1 to MCO 1001.27D which was signed last week. The original order, dated Oct. 19, 1965, invited applications from qualified reserve officers, mainly captains and lieutenants, for retention beyond their initial period of obligated service or extension of active duty.

Change No. 1 provides that reserve captains on active duty the regular establishment may be granted additional contracts to afford them a first opportunity for promotion to major on extended active duty. An additional SWAG of one year may be granted to provide the second opportunity if needed, after the first fall.

Most of the other basic provisions of MCO 1001.27D remain unchanged. The Marine Corps continue to invite reserve captains and lieutenants in all occupational fields to apply for SWAG contracts of one to five years.

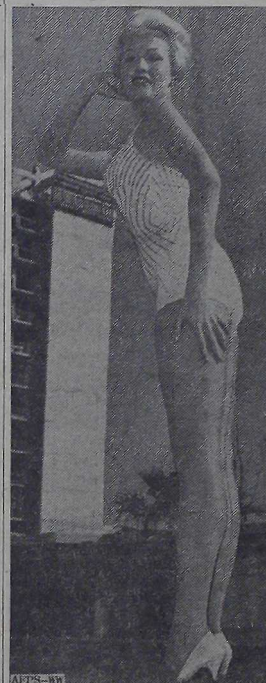

Reserve majors with principal law or electronics MOS's (2705, 2710, and 6602) remain eligible for SWAG's provided they are junior to number 543 on the Combined Lineal List of January 1959.

Change No. 1 to MCO 1001.27D also lists a new table specifying the maximum length of SWAG for which officers may apply. In general, the table provides that reserve captains and lieutenants eligible for SWAG's expiring later than June 30 of fiscal year which they normally would come up for promotion for the first time.

The number and length of active duty contracts which will be awarded to reserve captains selected for promotion to major has not been established. These figures, Change No. 1 says, will be published in the next revision of MCO 1001.27D.

Purpose of revision of Marine Corps policies on retention of reserve officers on active duty is to achieve a better grade distribution of officers junior to the World War II "hump," and to establish a more realistic career advancement pattern for reserve officers electing to remain on active duty.

Reserve Units End Two-Day Meeting Here

Reserve units will be able to lay better plans for their summer training in the future because they will now know two years ahead of time where they will be assigned.

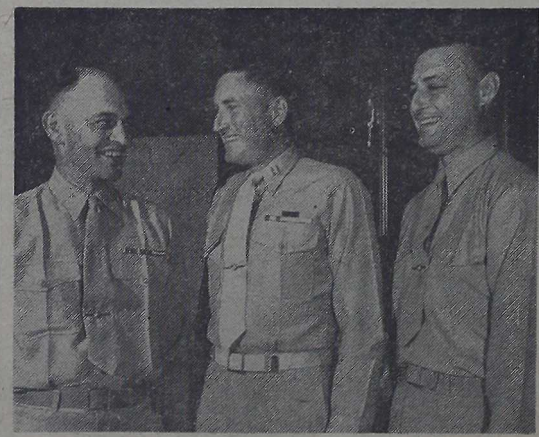

Brig. Gen. William T. Fairbourn, Director of the Marine Corps Reserve, encouraged representatives of 55 Reserve units who were at Camp Lejeune for a Reserve Pre-Training Conference last Thursday and Friday, April 21 and 22, to take full advantage of this advanced knowledge.

During the conference, Reserve unit representatives met with representatives of Division, Force Troops and Marine Corps Base units which will host them for their summer training this year. Full plans were laid for the summer program.

General Fairbourn observed the training of six-month reserves while at Camp Lejeune. He visited with six-month reservists attached to the Tenth Marines, 8th Comm. Bn., 1st Infantry Training Regiment and Marine Corps Engineer Schools.

"I am very pleased with the program being conducted for six-month reservists at Camp Lejeune," said the general. "They are receiving excellent training."

The general left from Wilmington early last Saturday morning to fly to Charlotte, N. C., to visit the Reserve unit there. He plans to visit Reserve units in Atlanta and Rome, Ga., and Chattanooga, Nashville and Knoxville, Tenn., before he returns to Headquarters Marine Corps in Washington, D. C.

Representatives of 55 Marine Corps Reserve units having a total strength of approximately 7,513 officers and enlisted personnel attended the conference. The first Reserve units are scheduled to arrive in June. All Reserve units reporting to Camp Lejeune for training are based at Montford Point. (Photo by Ach, SSgt. R. D. Fennell)

Navy Relief Fund Drive Starts Monday With $50,000 Goal, Five Major Awards

The 1960 Camp Lejeune Navy Relief Fund Drive is scheduled to begin May 2 and continue to June 17. A goal of $50,000 has been set for this year's drive. Five major awards will be presented this year, plus other awards of lesser value. Division Will Host Nation's Top Professional Leaders Business and industrial leaders from the nation will be guests of the Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune Wednesday, May 4. Seventy-four civilians, hosted by the Secretary of Defense, will observe an amphibious attack, heli-landing and assault on a fortified position in a day-long demonstration of the striking capability of the 2nd Division force-in-readiness.

The civilian guests are winding up a 10-day nation-wide tour of defense installations as part of the 30th Joint Civilian Orientation Conference, sponsored by the Department of Defense. The members of the conference represent business, finance, labor, religion, education, and other professions from many different sections of the United States.

By such tours, the Defense Department seeks to promote public understanding of the U. S. defense program. This goal is accomplished by a briefing of the group at the Pentagon and trips to field installations of the Armed Services to view actual demonstrations of their roles in the defense system.

For the first time the 2nd Division was selected to demonstrate the Marine Corps' mission to the conference. Previous demonstrations had been staged at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

The May 4 show will begin as (See CIVILIAN ORIENTATION, Page 11)

1960 Corvair two-door sedan from Marine Chevrolet and a boat with trailer, motor and accessories from Sears, Roebuck and Co.

During the Calendar Year 1959, the Camp Lejeune Auxiliary of the Navy Relief Society gave financial assistance in the amount of $103,174.82 to Marine and Navy personnel and their families. Of this amount, $20,861.02 was given as out-right gratuities to assist personnel whose need was such that they could not reasonably be expected to repay a loan.

Two thousand, three hundred seventy-seven cases were handled, plus 4,649 individual calls by Navy Relief nurses.

Drive Committee

Chairman of this year's fund drive committee is Lt. Col. J. F. Holt. His assistant is Sgt. Maj. R. H. Clayton. Co-chairman and membership chairman is Lt. Col. A. B. Reynolds Jr., and publicity chairman is Capt. J. B. Lippard. Second Lt. J. A. Kilday has been appointed fund treasurer and Maj. R. W. Hengesbach, awards chairman; CWO E. Speer, auditor, and Act. Gysgt. R. N. Davis, secretary.

Command representatives for the drive are Maj. M. E. Mangum, Marine Corps Base; Lt. Col. E. E. Schott, 2nd Division; Maj. M. I. Raphael, Force Troops, and Maj. T. E. Archer, MCAF and MAG-26.

First Meeting

The first meeting of all Navy Relief Drive representatives was held Monday, April 25, at 9 a.m., in the conference room in Bldg. 1.

Donations to the drive will be made on a membership basis. Subscribers who purchase membership cards become eligible for the awards which will be given at the end of the drive.

Only military personnel, retired, active or reserves, and their dependents, and civilian personnel regularly employed on the base are eligible for membership cards and the receiving of any awards.

Military personnel may not conduct active solicitations for memberships from civilians off the base. If voluntary donations are offered by any civilians, the donation may be accepted but no membership cards are to be involved.

Amateur Radio Operators To Send Goodwill Message

"This is Station W4LEV, a member of the Freedom Network, originated at the International Center, Albany, N. Y. On this May 1, I send you my message of friendship and goodwill and my hope for a world at peace."

This message will be broadcast from Camp Lejeune's Amateur Radio Station on May Day to all parts of the world. W4LEV has been chosen as a key station in the Freedom Network's Operation Goodwill, a project for furthering better understanding among all nations.

Any qualified amateur may participate in the program merely by contacting any 10 amateur stations and presenting the plan and message to them and requesting that they contact 10 other operators. Amateurs may transmit on any frequency or band conforming to the Federal Communication Commission regulations.

The idea for the project was developed at the International Center in Albany, N. Y.

Officers From Haiti, Somalia Observe ITR

Six foreign Allied officers—five from Haiti and one from Somalia—are visiting the First Infantry Training Regiment this week, observing training techniques to take back to their homelands under the U. S. Military Assistance Program. First Lts. Vincent J. Tavernier, Sean Z. Thomas and Gerald Vaval and 2nd Lts. Max Paris and Donald Manigat are officers in the Haitian Armed Forces. The quintet was graduated from Officers' Basic School at MCS, Quantico, Va., and is expected to return to Haiti immediately following its Lejeune visit.

The Director of the training school for members of the Somali National Police Force, 1st Lt. Ahmed Mohamed Abicar is also observing the combat training at Camp Geiger. All are scheduled to leave here tomorrow.

The first message on May 1 will be broadcast by the mayor of Albany, Erastus Corning. The message will then be broadcast continuously around the world for 24 hours by amateur operators in all parts of the world.

Some 50 to 60 stations of the North Carolina Tar Heel Emergency Network are expected to participate, according to Mr. Harry L. Tooker, Base architect and Civil Defense Radio Officer, in addition to Camp Lejeune's station.

Mark Twain Comes To Life On May 16

Actor Hal Holbrook, who presents his "Mark Twain Tonight!" solo show at the Camp Theater on May 16, is familiar television viewers as Grayling Dennis on the CBS daytime drama, "The Brighter Day." Holbrook has completed six years of the show, one of the longest runs on television. But those familiar with the young actor in his TV role will find it hard to identify him when he appears on stage as Mark Twain. Holbrook, who is in his early thirties, spends nearly three hours on his makeup for Twain, emerging as the great American humorist at 70.

HAL HOLBROOK

Hal Holbrook has spent years studying the legendary humorist's mannerisms, his odd walk and slow drawl, his mastery of the pause in delivering a joke, his habit of constantly moving on the platform. Twain was hailed as a superb entertainer in his day and was eagerly sought after for lecture engagements.

He began a national tour in 1956 and appeared on many leading television shows. In the spring of 1959, his "Mark Twain Tonight!" received the best reviews of the Broadway season and sold out every night during the engagement.

Tickets for this unusual attraction are on sale at the Marine Corps Exchange, Field House, Naval Hospital, Officers Club, Staff NCO Club, Camp Theater and Unit Special Services. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Red Cross Volunteers Begin First Aid Course

The American Red Cross has set up a national first aid program to supply the American public with basic necessary first aid knowledge. In conjunction with this program, HMC John E. Loranger, USN, and Lt. Beverly Hill, WM Co., Woman Marines, voluntary representatives of Red Cross, have extended the initial first aid training to Camp Lejeune civilian employees and Girl Scout group leaders in the Camp Lejeune area.

Chief Loranger, volunteer chairman and instructor of First Aid training in Onslow County and Camp Lejeune, completed the first in a series of first aid courses this past week. Approximately 25 civilian employees met at various dates in the classroom of Building 1403 in the industrial area at Camp Le-jeune for 12 hours of first aid instruction.

Lieutenant Hill, director of first aid instruction at Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, is in the process of completing first aid instruction in that area to Girl Scout leaders.

The first aid training is divided into two phases. The first is the fundamental or standard course, and the last an advanced course. A Red Cross certificate is awarded each individual upon completion of a prescribed course of study consisting of every topic from artificial respiration to fixing a splint for a broken limb.

A minimum of 10 hours lecture attendance is required to be eligible for the certificate in the standard course while 16 hours are required for the advanced course.

NEW MEMBER—Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley, right, commanding general of the 2nd Division, signs his 2nd Division Association membership application as Maj. J. M. Terry Jr., Assistant G-4 (Plans), looks on. Major Terry, who enrolled General Berkeley in the Association on Monday last week, is the 2nd Division Association's liaison officer of the Camp Lejeune area. (Photo by Act. Sgt. H. L. Shipp)

Two Division Associations Seek Additional Members

To correct the impression that only veterans of the 2nd Marine Division fighting in World War II can belong, and another that only officers may belong, Maj. J. M. Terry Jr. has initiated a campaign for new members in the 2nd Marine Division Association. Major Terry is the association's liaison officer here at Lejeune. He is also an assistant G-4 at Division headquarters.

Anyone now serving with the division as well as those who have served previously with the division are authorized membership in an organization that prides itself on its memorial scholarship fund. This fund enables children of division members killed during WW-II to pursue a higher education. Other children of Marine personnel are also eligible for the scholarship aid.

Besides the regular memberships in the association, parents, spouse, or dependent children of Marines who are serving or have served with the division are eligible for associate memberships.

When the joint division reunion is held in Washington this summer new officers will be installed and memorial services will be held for members now deceased.

Each year the association presents a company/battery drill competition trophy to the unit within the division which displays the highest degree of proficiency in the eight-man drill. Also judged for the association trophy is personal appearance, manual of arms, and military bearing on the drill field. "T" Co., 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines won the award when it was presented for the first time in 1958. The 1st Bn., Eighth Marines' "B" Co. won the trophy in 1959, with "L" Btry., 4th Bn., Tenth Marines winning this year.

Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley became the newest member of the association when the division commander was presented with his membership last week by Major Terry.

All eligible Lejeune Marines may contact Major Terry at his office in Bldg. 2 during normal working hours for information concerning the association.

Meeting Changed

The ground school of the Camp Lejeune Flying Club has changed its meeting place to Messhall 9 tonight at 7 p.m. Further information about the club and its activities may be obtained by calling 7-3829. Interested parties are encouraged to attend the meeting.

The 1st Marine Division Association is seeking members. Anyone at Camp Lejeune who has served with the 1st Division or its attached units is eligible to join.

The association, the largest of its kind in the United States, holds an annual reunion each summer in a major Eastern city. This summer, members of the association will meet jointly with members of all six WWII Marine divisions at Washington, D. C., June 24, 25 and 26.

The purpose of the 1st Marine Division Association is first, to provide a means of contact among all individuals who served with the division. The organization also supports a scholarship fund for dependents of deceased members of the outfit.

The dues are $2.00 per year. For new members a special three-year membership is $5.00 and a five-year membership costs $8.00. Life memberships may be had for $35.00 if paid in one sum or $36.00 in three $12.00 annual installments. Fully paid life members are given a special lapel pin.

The base representative of the association is Lt. Col. A. H. Solom, assistant G-4, Marine Corps Base. Command representatives are: Hq. Bn., Marine Corps Base, Sgt. Maj. E. B. Pullen, Jr.; Marine Corps Supply Schools, Capt. J. A. McDonald; Marine Corps Engineer Schools, Act. SSgt. F. C. Lixie; Field Medical Service School, HM1 W. M. Hinnant; 2nd FSR, Capt. D. T. Jacobson; Rifle Range, Capt. R. A. Russell, and 1st Infantry Training Regiment, Maj. P. B. Byrum.

14 Corpsmen Finish Course

Fourteen Division corpsmen have completed the American Red Cross First Aid Course. The corpsmen, attached to the 1st Bn., Eighth Marines, took the course prior to leaving with the NELS detail scheduled to depart from Camp Lejeune in May.

Instructor for the course was HMC John E. Loraner, 2nd Medical Bn., 2nd Division, attached to the Office of the Division Surgeon. The men completing the course were: HM3 J. K. Campbell, HM1 R. P. Clark, HM2 D. A. Cleary, HN H. Guidry, HM3 L. B. Alphin, HM2 R. J. Finnan, HM1 J. W. Loman, HM3 J. W. Martin, HN E. Newsom, JR., HN J. C. Smith, HM1 D. P. Smith, HN J. G. Sullivan, HM2 B. E. Summers and HM1 E. M. Toiland.

LEATHERNECK AWARD—Pfc Richard W. Glazier, left, "C" Co., 1st Bn., Second Marines, 2nd Division, accepts a Leatherneck Magazine Award from Lt. Col. Stanley N. McLeod, battalion commander. Private Glazier, who earned the award at Parris Island, S. C., fired 231x250 in division "D" which is limited to recruits. He entered the Marine Corps in August, 1959. (Photo by Act. Sgt. H. L. MOORE OR LESS

MARK TWAIN once said, "The report of my death has been grossly exaggerated." Now, a half century after his death on April 21, 1910, he is as much alive in the affections of people everywhere as when he was in demand as a public entertainer. Now we will have an opportunity to see just what this man was like in the person of Hal Holbrook in "Mark Twain Tonight!" May 16... this performance is uncannily reminiscent of Twain, in mannerisms, speech, walk... and Twain's books still live on... a reading experience for anyone who has ever read him before and pleasant memories to re-read... we suggest you might like to look at "Huckleberry Finn"... "A Connecticut Yankee"... "Pudd'nhead Wilson"... or any of numerous others.

NEXT WEEK begins Jacksonville's Fifth Art Exhibit on May 5, 6 and 7... a special collection of art objects loaned by the Mexican Embassy in Washington, D. C. will be on display... May 7 is designated as Marine Day... all servicemen are invited.

L'I ABNER is coming to Camp Lejeune... this intricate story of the incredible characters of Dogpatch will hilarify the screens around the Base beginning May 2... we recommend this one for young and old alike.
MOORE... "Against the assault of laughter nothing can stand." — Mark Twain.
OR LESS—After the demise of a notoriously shady political figure, Mark Twain was asked for a statement, "No, I did not attend his funeral," he drawled, "But I wrote a very nice letter saying that I approved of it."

In R. Moody, of Camp Lejeune, of Camp Lejeune parachute jumping club but then finally in October, and four days later they you must first be 21 years of age or have a notarized letter of permission from your parents or guardian; pass a flight physical; be able to defray your own expenses; appear before the membership committee for careful screening, and last, but not least, have a strong desire to jump.

Upon your acceptance, you must attend ground school where you learn the standard procedure for jumping from an aircraft. You learn to control your chute while falling, how to guide into a predesignated area and how to jump from the aircraft and hit the deck.

The training period depends on the individual. Your first jumps are "static-line jumps," five of which must be made, before you are permitted to "free-fall." (A static-line jump consists of a line being tied to your rip cord and fastened to the aircraft. As you jump this automatically opens your chute. In free-fall you pull your own rip-cord.)

At the present time the Marine Sky Divers Club is planning to sponsor an exclusively all female jumpers club and has four women now undergoing training who will be prepared to make their first jumps in 30 days.

"This will be the first all-female club in the United States and possibly in the whole world," one of the club members stated. "There are many women jumpers, but they all belong to mixed clubs."

Officers of the club are: Lieutenant Moody, of Camp Lejeune, president; Act. MSgt. Frank S. Van Note, of Camp Lejeune, vice-president; Act. SSgt. Thomas E. Hann, of Camp Lejeune, secretary-treasurer; Act. SSgt. Rodney E. Steffey, of MAG-26, operations officer, and Capt. Warren T. Berglumb, of Camp Lejeune, chairman of the membership and attendance committee. Safety officers are: Act. SSgt. Arthur A. Stout, Sergeant Hann, Lieutenant Moody and Captain Berglumb. Act. GySgt. Credibility Seal Of All Trades' Repair Section Is Nucleus Of 2nd Division Maintenance

The 2nd Service Battalion's Maintenance Control Unit serves as a "Jack of All Trades" repair section for the 1st Marine Division.

The newly activated group, housed in Bldg. 1812, is centralized along a group of Butler huts near the "five" area.

The Maintenance Control (MC) unit was introduced into the Division by Col. K. E. Martin, 2nd Service Battalion commander, and organized in detail by Maj. G. E. Amberlain Jr., commanding officer, Medium Support Company.

They were aided by experienced personnel, including Capt. J. B. Ratt and MSGT. Bernard "Gus" Dowicz.

Maintenance Control is the nucleus of a net work of cells involving all repairs of the 2nd Marine Division. These cells include: Motor transport, Ordnance, Engineers, General Supply and Salvage, Communications and Electronics, and Reservation and Packing.

Since the herculean task of providing third echelon maintenance for the entire Division rests with Medium Support Company (of the 2nd Serv. Bn.), a governing body was established to channel the work for the requesting unit to the proper maintenance cell and back to the unit without delay. This governing agency became Maintenance Control. Maximum use of all facilities was made possible through closer coordination and supervision.

In the short time it has been in control this central authority, has eliminated by 60 per cent the number of personnel needed to do clerical work, thereby enabling them to return to their respective shops to assist with the workload.

Numerous graphs and charts are kept current and are consulted daily to demonstrate the number of individuals in the various specialists field, percentage of work coming in and going out. These records also show the amount of work accumulated.

Precautions are taken to insure appropriations and allowances are not exceeded. If this should happen the nerve center would collapse and production would cease.

Another aspect of "MC's" usefulness is mobility. Mobility is a prerequisite to any combat-ready unit and MC is not to be denied its part in the Force-in-Readiness.

They are able to produce as effectively in the field as in garrison. Mobile units can transport facilities to a remote area where they can go to work in a minimum of time. When a shortage of parts occurs in the field new parts can be produced on the spot.

Modern warfare brings about a need for modern machinery and MC is up to date in this respect also.

The newest piece of equipment is the Anthony Hydraulic Crane. This vehicle, with a lifting capacity of three tons, is able to maneuver easily on any type of terrain. The total potential of this crane has not been realized as it is still in the familiarization stage.

In order to acquaint members of the Division more fully with the operation and maintenance of the crane, a team of instructors from Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., spent two days at Camp Lejeune showing films and explaining its functions.

In addition to its garrison duty within the battalion, personnel of the MC unit receive valuable training serving with Division units during field exercises.

Whether in garrison or in the field, the MC unit is constantly striving for new methods to maintain Division equipment in a high state of readiness.

Used Car Sharks Prey On Inexperienced Minnows

Case No. 3: When 20-year-old Danny reenlisted, he was handed a re-enlistment bonus. It was only a few hundred dollars but it was more money than he had ever had at once in his life and he was going to make a long-time dream come true.

He clipped a newspaper ad for a used car bargain, which promised to pay transportation for servicemen, and boarded a bus for the city.

He found a 1950 Buick selling for $225. After he gave his cash to the salesman and got a receipt, the salesman explained that he was a minor and took back the receipt. A man walking along the street was called onto the lot. He signed both the receipt and the bill of sale. Danny reminded the dealer of his advertised promise to pay his transportation cost, but was told this had been deducted from the price of the car.

Danny was given the receipt and bill of sale, bearing the other man's name, and drove off. The car broke down on the highway. He called the used car dealer and was told to get the car back to the lot. It cost him $20 to have the car towed to the lot.

Then, the dealer told him repairs would cost from $50 to $150 on his $225 car. Danny told the dealer he didn't have that much money but would be willing to pay for the repairs at the rate of $20 a month. He was to pick up the car in two weeks.

When he came back for his car, it was still unrepaired. He was told it wouldn't be repaired until he put up some money. Danny reminded the dealer about the previous agreement and suggested that the dealer write out a paper saying he promised to pay for repairs at the rate of $20 a month.

The dealer told him he didn't do business that way, that if Danny didn't trust him, there was nothing they could do for him.

Danny finally realized he had been had. He went to the Armed Forces Police. The District's license enforcement branch was notified and all parties converged on the Corporation Council's office. Amid threats of prosecution, Danny got his money back.

The Armed Forces Police sergeant decided Danny was too much of a minnow to be allowed among the sharks. He gave Danny $20 in cash, put the rest in a sealed envelope and told Danny to put it in his shoe and leave it there. He instructed Danny to go directly to his company commander and give him the money.

The company commander called later to report that he was somewhat surprised when his Pfc. saluted and promptly took off his shoe.

One serviceman was saved from the swindlers.
