

Film Depicts Med. Bn. In Field Exercise

If television is looking for a replacement for Richard Boone who gave up "Medic" for "Have Gun, Will Travel," they only have to look as far as "A" Co., 2nd Medical Bn., 2nd Division.

The entire company will star in an upcoming film now being produced by the East Coast Motion Picture Production Unit, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

Last week the company headed for bivouac in the Onslow Beach area where they depicted how a medical unit of company size operates in the field and how it would operate under actual combat conditions. Their every move was filmed for the Defense Department to be shown at the American Medical Association convention in Miami this summer.

The unit, commanded by Lt. K. F. Flan, USN(MSC), left Camp Lejeune by truck convoy and set up camp at Onslow Beach. Shortly after arrival the first simulated casualties began streaming into camp.

The first stop for the would-be casualties was the record office where a new casualty reporting system was being tested. After the patients had been logged in they were taken immediately to the operating room, laboratory, X-ray room, or to the ward related to the type of wounds or affliction designated.

Patients were evacuated by helicopter and ambulance. The more seriously wounded were carried by "chopper."

The week-long training exercise came to an end on Friday when the company conveyed by truck back to Camp Lejeune.

The nine-man motion picture unit from Quantico was headed by Capt. F. F. Comb as officer-in-charge, with MSgt. H. D. Maxwell, NCOIC.

END OF THE LINE—The separation of 27 years will soon be over for Act. SSgt. Theodore R. Heflin, at Montford Point, and his brother, who called from California. The two had lost all trace of each other since 1933. (Photo by Act. Sgt. P. F. Vandergriff)

Division Installs Five New Amateur Radio Station Units

Five amateur radio stations, totaling $10,000 in cost, are being installed in units of the 2nd Marine Division based here and in Vieques, Puerto Rico.

Installation of the new equipment was brought about by an increased interest in amateur radio operations by Division Marines. The stations will be operated for messages and phone patch traffic for military personnel and dependents.

Ten thousand dollars has been set aside for the establishment of three 1000-watt, single side band stations and two 75-watt stations for general and novice class operations. Extensive antenna systems have been purchased for maximum transmission.

The stations will be installed at Communications Company, Tenth Marine Regiment, Eighth Marine Regiment, Second Marine Regiment and a base 602 net control station will be operated by the Amateur Radio Coordinator. The net control station is mounted in its own collapsible hut which can be transported by helicopter to remote areas where troops may be in training.

One complete heli-hut unit is also being delivered to Vieques, Puerto Rico, for use by Force Troops and 2nd Division troops.

Daily schedules will be maintained using 1000-watt single side band equipment to give voice and teletype service between Vieques, the Base amateur radio station, and Division net control stations. In an emergency, a message will be originated from Camp Lejeune to notify military personnel concerned to be present for the message during a regularly scheduled patch.

Classes are being held at Montford Point four nights a week for persons interested in obtaining an amateur radio operator's license from the Federal Communications Commission.

Licensed amateur radio operators who wish to take part in activities here may contact the 2nd Division Amateur Radio Coordinator at 7-3142.

Long Search Ends For Lost Brother Of Lejeune Marine

A phone call to a Camp Lejeune Marine last week brought an end to a search that has taken him 13 years. At Montford Point, where he is attending Motor Transport School, Act. SSgt. Theodore R. Heflin picked up the telephone and within an hour was speaking to the man he had been trying to find since 1947. It was his brother, calling from California. The two have not seen or heard from each other since 1933, when family circumstances forced them apart. The oldest son, Heflin, then two, went to live with his grandmother in New Market, Va. The younger boy, only several weeks old was adopted by a woman in Harrisonburg, Va., 10 miles away.

As Heflin was growing up, the woman who was raising his brother had married again, had moved, and no one had kept track of her whereabouts.

It was in 1947 that Heflin set out to locate his missing next of kin. He began in Harrisonburg, but met with no success.

After he joined the Marine Corps in 1948, he spent four different leave periods returning to the Harrisonburg area, making inquiries about his brother, following up possible clues, contacting many people, but all in vain.

In January this year he reported here from Camp Pendleton, Calif., for the 14-week Motor Transport course at Montford Point. The first chance he got found him again in Harrisonburg, and this time he appealed to the Red Cross there, who were immediately responsive.

In addition to running down information themselves, they contacted the Harrisonburg Daily News-Record, who ran the story of Heflin's search.

On Friday evening, April 22, that phone call came in at Montford Point. When Heflin picked up the receiver he was speaking to his brother, Robert L. Withers, of San Jose, Calif.

Through the efforts of the Red Cross and the chain of newspaper communication, Withers had been notified from San Francisco that Heflin was here. His long distance call was that final connection bridge.

Base Firemen Hampered By Needless Fires

The Camp Lejeune Fire Department has rushed to 245 Dempster Dumpster fires since July 1, 1959. Investigation reveals that 98 per cent of these fires are caused by careless dumping of smoking materials gathered during clean-ups.

Besides the monetary loss caused by these "nuisance" fires, there are two inherent dangers involved. First, a real emergency may develop while the fire-fighting equipment is tied up with a minor fire. Second, there is the constant danger of the trucks being involved in a collision while en route to a dumpster fire. The trucks must travel to these minor fires at emergency speeds because there is always the possibility that the burning dumpster is next to a building and may cause a major fire.

Chief F. J. Schlarp of the Camp Lejeune Fire Department says the majority of these nuisance fires can be eliminated by proper supervision and education. Properly supervised, the disposal of trash in dumpsters would eliminate 98 per cent of all dumpster fires.

Used-Car Advertisements Show Misleading Prices

1950 PULITZER PRIZE WINNING SERIES

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by Miriam Greenberg of the Washington Star to expose the used car racket and to help prospective buyers of used cars protect themselves.)

With a dollar for a down payment, I posed as a used car buyer.

This was the answer I was seeking: Why do so many buyers complain that they thought they were to pay a certain sum for a used car and somehow got finagled into a much larger sum?

To find the answer, a fellow reporter and I chose a lot advertising repossessed cars and $1 down for any car on the lot. Obviously, we did not intend to identify ourselves as reporters. We were posing as a low-paid worker and friend.

As we reached the sidewalk outside the lot, a salesman reached us.

"You folks interested in buying a car?"

I pulled out a newspaper and pointed to the first car on the list—a 1959 Chevrolet, "balance due" $1,255.

He said he didn't have that one. (The newspaper with the ad had then been on the street less than 15 minutes.) He ran his finger down the list of "repossessions" to the fifth car—a 1958 Chevrolet for $1,070.

"We have that," he said, "but you wouldn't want it. It's no good. It used to be a police car."

When I waved the list again and asked to see some other repossessed cars, he took us around to the side and showed us a collection of junk—crumpled fenders, flat tires, missing headlights.

"All these repossessed cars are like that," he said. "Even if they look all right on the outside, you can't tell. A man can ruin an engine in 20 minutes—driving without oil. It would cost more to repair one of these repossessed cars than to buy one of our good cars. Here, let me show you something you'd like."

I was playing dumb, but I thought I could risk one question.

Pointing again to the ad where it said "assume balance due," I asked, "Doesn't this mean on that Chevy, for instance, that the man had already paid maybe $2,000?"

No, he said, it didn't mean that at all.

"All repossessed cars," he said with authority, "are no good."

He tried to interest us in a shiny blue 1959 Chevrolet which, he said, was a bargain at $1,895. I admired the color but didn't think I could afford it.

We settled on a 1956 Mercury for $1,495 and he offered to drive us around in it. My companion took the wheel and told me later that the brakes were so poor that the car halted only after prolonged pressure.

As we drove, I worried aloud about paying for the car since it was more expensive than what I had come to see.

"I'm not worried about the terms," he assured us expansively. "We can arrange those. That's no problem. All I'm interested in is that you get the car you want."

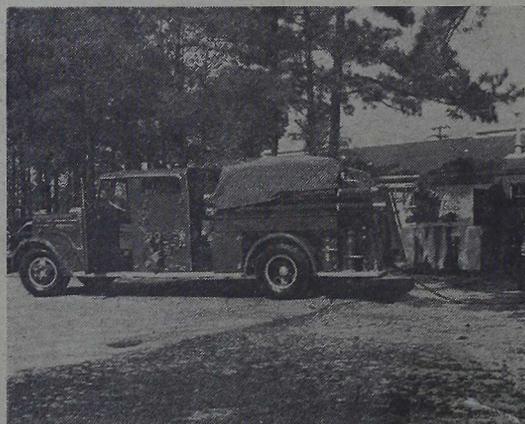

Before we completed our spin around the block, he said I could drive the car home in 10 or 15 minutes. I told him that would be nice.

Laminating

A new laminating service has been installed at the Central Exchange, Bldg. 84 at the Gift-Wrapping Counter.

The plastic sealing service is available for pictures, newspaper clippings, birth certificates, marriage licenses and other valuable items at reasonable cost. Regulations prohibit lamination of ID cards or driver's licenses.

Drama Production, 'The Last Frontier' On Celebration List

Plans for the production of Kermit Hunter's new historical drama, "The Third Frontier", are developing rapidly at New Bern-Craven County as the highlight of the 250th anniversary celebration which is scheduled for June 11-25, staged in the New Bern High School auditorium.

Philip W. Steiner, director of the New Bern-Craven County 250th Anniversary committee, reported today that the producer of the drama, Dr. J. A. Withey of East Carolina College, has held successful auditions in New Bern, Greenville, Chapel Hill and Washington, D. C.

"The Third Frontier" is a dramatic portrayal of the hardships endured by the founders of New Bern, the first permanent capital of North Carolina, and of their struggle to establish a new life in the New World.

Governor Luther H. Hodges and other state officials have been invited to the premier showing on June 11, "North Carolina Day." A large parade featuring at least 30 historical floats will be shown that afternoon.

Other events in the celebration will include hydroplane races sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association on June 12, and competitive sports events at a Craven county Youth Day on June 15. There will be a massive military parade on June 18 with all branches of the armed forces participating. A water and ski show is set for the Trent Pines club on June 19.

Women's Diet Club Organized Recently

The newly formed Women's Exercise and Diet Club held its first meeting last night at the Tarawa Terrace Community Building.

The purpose of the club is to help women regain and maintain the types of figures their husbands desire and admire. The women do this through individual diet and group exercise. The group is open to local women.

In addition to the program of dieting and exercise, talks by physicians and beauty consultants are planned for the club.

Club officers were recently chosen. For further information, call Mrs. Bobbie Carlson at Jax 4530 or Mrs. Jessie Sbrocco at Jax 4368. The ladies are trying to get as many women as possible to join the club and participate in all activities.

Members Wanted

Memberships are sought for Girl Scout Troop 175 at Midway Park. Mrs. Fred G. Davison, leader of the troop, reports the present enrollment is 11 girls. Both Mrs. Davison and the scouts would like more girls to join.

Persons interested in becoming Girl Scouts of this unit are asked to contact Mrs. Davison at phone 2-2856.

School Calls Attention To Absence, Tardiness

The Camp Lejeune School System announces there are only eight more weeks before the school bells will toll for the final time, thus ringing out the present school year. Within this short period, unless some of the students "roll up their sleeves" and really get down to work, they are going to find they will fail a subject or possibly have to repeat an entire grade.

One of the greatest ways the parents may prevent failure on the part of their children is to subscribe to the best and cheapest inurance policy in the world today—namely, 100 per cent school attendance. Children who fail to attend regularly not only lose out academically but cost the school money. The correlation between attendance and failure is obvious to many of the parents; however, the latter is true because the school budget is based on a per capita cost figure of those students in average daily attendance. Any unexcused absence, such as accompanying parents on annual leave, lowers the average daily attendance and thereby reduces the total justifiable school budget. Attendance is at least 70 per cent the parents' problem. Personal interest in the home and real teaching in school will bring all children to school. Poor attendance is a sure sign of failure somewhere.

Brownie, Scout News

Brownies and Girl Scouts in the Camp Lejeune area have announced a few of the highlights on their agenda calendars.

Brownie Troop 294, Tarawa Terrace, held an informal "Mother's Day Tea" yesterday afternoon at the Community Center. The girls made and presented Mother's Day Corsages. Second grade girls shopped for, made and served dainty, ham and egg salad sandwiches to the mothers. Leader for the troop is Mrs. Eugene Tewart. Assistant leader is Mrs. Donald Patterson. Regularly scheduled meetings are held every Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

Members of Girl Scout Troop 175, Midway Park, have a "camp-out" scheduled for the night of May 14-15 at the home of Mrs. Fred G. Davison, Scout leader. The troop will go on a hike in the morning.

Both Brownies and Girl Scouts are looking forward to the "Court of Awards" ceremonies to be held May 18, 7 p.m., at the Camp High School.

RITE OF SPRING—"April showers bring May flowers . . ." And with the flowers comes the traditional Maypole Dance, here done by young ladies from the Camp Lejeune area. Post Fights Local Blaze

Among the list of Scout posts and troops in the Camp Lejeune area, Explorer Post 490 ranks high in the number of outstanding deeds performed by Scout units. Leaders, co-leaders, advisors and post officers of the group have been working together with the Explorers to complete assigned tasks with excellent results.

Latest on the Scouts' line-up is the response made to a call from the local State Forest Patrol to forest fire in the Holly Ridge area last week. Five Explorers and two post leaders responded to the call. This job was the second of similar action in which members of this group were called to duty. It was reported that all those present successfully completed their respective assignments.

The post has voted not to suspend their regular activities during the summer months. There are several superactivities planned for this period.

The post recently elected officers and advisors who are now working with the boys to plan and carry out an interesting activities calendar. The Scouts are still working on the repair of their post cabin to be finished soon.

The post is always open for any interested boys 14 years of age or older. Further information may be obtained by contacting LCPL Woody Gibson at ext. 9-8200 or Jax 6719 or Post President Robert G. Howie at ext. 6-6352. Meetings are held every Monday night at the cabin in the French Creek area. Meetings begin promptly at 7:30.

Teen Dance

The Knox Jr. Teen Club, together with guests from Tarawa Terrace, enjoyed a shirt and sweater dance last Friday night on the patio of the Canteen.

Serving as chaperones were Mrs. Mary Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Elnora Cage and Mrs. Bernice Smith of Tarawa Terrace; Mrs. Jo Lamp and Mrs. Marguerite Peterson of the Parents' Committee; and Mr. and Mrs. Raub.

Traditional Maypole Dance Highlights Paradise Point Sunday Afternoon Tea

"Spring 'n' Time" set the scene at the Paradise Point Club Sunday as Group II of the Officers Wives Club presented a Mayday Tea Dance.

A special addition to the afternoon's program was the traditional Maypole dance, performed by Susan Wann, Sandy Pridgeon, Sharon Wander, Carol Kelly, Dyane McCurry, Jane Spritzen, Sue Wright, Joan Curreri, Marsha Eubanks, Judy Low, Mona Murray and Sherry Rice. The young ladies were instructed and directed by Mrs. J. R. Stockman.

Guests of honor at the affair were Maj. Gen. and Mrs. J. P. Berkeley, who held court in the River Room, and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. S. S. Wade, who led off the dance in the Paradise Room.

Committee members for the dance included Mrs. F. F. Eubanks, acting chairman; Mrs. O. M. Conley, Mrs. R. C. Walker, Mrs. F. J. Karch, Mrs. S. F. Leader and Mrs. J. M. Roe.

Human Trait Of Tolerance Travels Under Several Different Aliases

The human trait of tolerance travels under several aliases. It is sometimes called patience or perhaps plain old-fashioned courtesy. Unfortunately, it is sometimes called or thought of as weakness. Whatever you call it, it boils down to the art of getting along with people.

You can be extremely efficient at your job by doing it in a certain way each time. Someone else may arrive at the same end by different means and immediately arouse your antagonism or reluctance to admit that there is more than one way to do a job. If the man is junior to you, it would be poor leadership to tell him that he had done the job wrong unless there was a good reason for it such as a violation of safety regulations. Not everyone thinks alike or approaches a given problem in the same way.

It definitely is not a sign of weakness to acknowledge that another man's way of thinking or doing a job may be just as good as yours. We in the United States have grown up in the tradition of tolerance, perhaps because we, as citizens, have drawn immigrants from all over the world with different religions, food, and ways of life.

Be patient! If your way is right and the other person's way is wrong, this should soon become apparent to the other person. If not, it can be called to attention discreetly. Tolerance can work two ways. Your use of it will make another person view more kindly what he considers your eccentricities. More important, it can win friends.

Sunday Time To Remember Mom

This Sunday is Mother's Day.

And immediately the question arises, "What am I going to send Mom?" For those servicemen and women who can afford it, gifts of candy, clothing, household articles or flowers-by-wire are always appreciated. Those of us stationed close to home may be able to spend the day with our mothers. Not all of us stop to realize that, if we are "temporarily out of funds," a letter or a telephone call reaching Mom on Mother's Day will mean more to her than the expensive gift which we couldn't afford to purchase in time.

Knowing that it isn't the gift, but the sentiment behind it that counts, a mother finds just as much joy in her little boy's hand-drawn card "To My Mother" as she will in his later gifts of flowers and perfume.

Not to be forgotten on our list for Mother's Day remembrances are our wives, aunts, and grandmothers. A gift, a card, a letter—each is a way of saying, "I think you're someone wonderful to remember on this day." Welcome enclosures to any letter home are snapshots, and anecdotes of our daily life in the service.

Is a few minutes spent at the gift shop, the telephone or the writing desk too great a price to pay to give our mothers happiness on Mother's Day?

The railroad industry has announced that the reduced furlough fares for military personnel traveling in uniform at their own expense have been extended to Dec. 31. The special military rates were made effective on a temporary basis during World War II and have repeatedly been extended. They had been scheduled to expire on June 30. The extension will continue reduced round-trip fares for furloughed personnel at savings of up to 1.7 cents a mile.

Initial construction work on the USS Arizona Memorial at Pearl Harbor has started.

The first test pilings for the massive concrete structure were sunk beside the rusted hulk of the famed warship by Pearl Harbor Naval Shipbuilders.

The memorial is scheduled for completion and dedication on Dec. 7.

The Arizona was sunk in the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941. Buried beside her twisted hulk are the bodies of 1,102 sailors and Marines who were aboard the ship on the morning of the attack.

A shrine and museum within the memorial will have a plaque listing the ship's crew and will house salvaged mementos.

Chaplain's Corner

Is Your Life Like A Sieve?

Have you ever had a tire on your car with a slow leak? It didn't matter to which service station you went. However full it might become, it wasn't long before you were back again for more air. Haggai, one of the minor prophets of the Old Testament, speaks of just such a phenomenon occurring in humans. "Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm, and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put into a bag with holes."

Many of us never realize it, but often we are trying hard to fill a life that is shot full of holes. I remember just such a person, who tried to find happiness and pleasure in many facets of recreation and play but was never satisfied. There was an opening of immorality that drained away his spiritual as well as his physical assets. His loose thinking and indifference to God let out the needed pressure of confidence and the stability of a security which finds its roots in the eternal. His dependence on alcohol to bring him up in trying situations sapped his clarity of mind and steadiness of nerve. All those and many more are to be found in we mortal creatures.

There is the man who lives for the pleasures of each day and fails to consider the future and plan accordingly. Suddenly he realizes that there is not as much left of life as he thought there would be. Too many defective holes had let things get away from him. He grew old, impoverished spiritually as well as financially.

What will your life be like?

Division Chaplain.

WHAT DOES MOTHER'S DAY MEAN TO YOU?

ACT. GYSGT. LEONARD H. KLYNMAN, Hq. Co., Force Troops — Even though some time has elapsed since my mother passed away, she is the one who has been most dear to me since the beginning of my life. Regardless of where I might be, she will always remain dear to my heart. On Mother's Day I plan to have my sister place flowers on our mother's resting place.

PFC MARILYN STARK, WM Co., Hq. Bn., MCB — Since I've been away from my mom, Mother's Day seems more important to me than ever before. For, now, I realize how much even the little things that she used to do for me really mattered in shaping my life. To show my gratitude to her, I have put in for leave so that I might be home with my mom on Mother's Day.

ACT. SSGT. WILLIAM C. GREEN, Spt. Co., "A," Hq. Bn., MCB — To me Mother's

Day is a day of grave remembrance. I plan to go to church with my girl friend and then to spend the rest of the day with her and her family. I think of how much a mother means to me and how each and every girl and boy should "honor thy mother and father."

1ST LT. JOSEPH F. PROCHASKA, MP Co., Hq. Bn., MCB — To me, Mother's Day

means a very special day not only because I am away from home but also because of the high regard I have always held for her. Therefore, on every Mother's Day, I have never failed to remember her with flowers and other gifts, plus a special message to her on her day. Also I try to write her as often as I can throughout the year. (Photos by LCpl. G. H. McIntyre)

New Book Tells Of Corps History

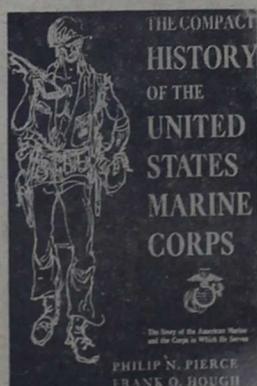

A colorful and dramatic account of the U. S. Marine Corps, "the heritage of a proud band of men—a long chronicle of uneven evolution," has now been written by two Marines with a combined total of more than 50 years of service, Lt. Col. Philip N. Pierce and the late Lt. Col. Frank O. Hough. "The Compact History of the United States Marine Corps" will be published on May 21, Armed Forces Day.

The men, battles and traditions of the Marine Corps are presented in an anecdotal and narrative style covering almost 200 years of action—the Revolutionary War against the British, on the seas battling the Barbary pirates, taming rebellious Indians, warring against Mexicans, Spaniards, Germans, Japanese, the Red Chinese, and any and every threat to the United States.

Colonel Pierce is a combat veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict. At present he is head of the Media Branch of the Marine Corps' Division of Information at Headquarters Marine Corps. He has written many magazine and newspaper articles about the Corps and has taught Marine military tactics at Quantico, Va., and Coronado, Calif.

The late Lt. Col. Frank O. Hough, who died last year, was a veteran of World Wars I and II. He retired from the Corps in 1947. His books include "The Assault on Peleliu," "The Campaign of New Britain," "The Island War," and "Pearl Harbor to Guadalcanal."

Line drawings by Gil Walker of the traditional Marine illustrate each of the 15 chapters.

Sports In Short

Act. SSgt. Bob Wills

Lejeune's Pilot

What kind of a man is Captain Hal Glasgow, coach of the Camp Lejeune diamond squad? Now, there's a question for you, and one I've had the pleasure of answering many times.

To the baseball fans of the Lejeune area, Coach Glasgow is service ball's Casey Stengel. To the ball players under his watchful eye, he is a methodical strategist; strict, well-versed in the "know how" of baseball, and one of the finest coaches they have ever met. To his co-workers, the captain is a fine and respected Marine Corps officer and a gentleman, and to we of the press he is the epitome of a sports writer's dream.

His manner of speech, knowledge of the game, courteous attitude to everyone, and desire to win have been essential in moving Lejeune's ball club from "just a ball club" in 1957 to the winningest team in the Marine Corps last year with a 96-20 record, including the East Coast Area Championship, the All-Marine title, the Atlantic Fleet crown and the North Carolina Semi-Pro Championship at Roxboro, N. C.

During last year's remarkable season, it was Coach Glasgow who based the success of the team on "togetherness" and also he who, when taking over this year's club insisted on an "All For One and One For All" attitude, prior to the Parris Island Series, last month. The stage was set, spirit instilled and "hustle" has been displayed as the locals downed the Islanders three straight to take a considerable lead in the East Coast Championship race and have gone on to win 10 games while losing three.

Parris Island — No Runaway

While browsing through the latest copy of the Parris Island BOOT we see that the "I told you so's" collared the sports man and wanted to know what had happened to the Devil Dogs during the Parris Island-Lejeune series. The writer retaliated with "judging from the scorebook and by word of mouth the Islanders have nothing to be ashamed of."

We certainly agree, Parris Island was no push-over and in view of their fine season record still remain an obstacle for the East Coast crown and the right to host the All-Marine Championships in August.

Behind fine pitching and big bats, the local nine swept the three-game series, 5-2, 6-5 and 6-3, which by no means were considered as "runaways"! Especially worth mentioning was the fine hitting of Devil Dog shortstop Al Davis, catcher George Uremovich and rightfielder Rusty Gates. Davis, during the first game, smashed the longest triple hit in Agganis field this year, against the centerfield wall at the 420 mark.

All-in-all, we still predict the Lejeune squad to sweep the East Coast crown and to host the August classic at Agganis Field.

Vacationland Free Booklet Is Available

With over 100 illustrations in full color, the North Carolina "Variety Vacationland" book for 1960 has just come off the press and is available free on request to the Advertising Division, Department of Conservation and Development, Raleigh, N. C.

The 64-page vacation guide covers the Variety Vacationland state from the Great Smoky Mountains to Atlantic Ocean beaches. New scenes, never before presented in color, are included along with new versions of old favorites.

The cover depicts a vacationing couple on the sand dunes of the Outer Banks, where the nation's first national seashore is a new travel magnet.

In lieu of the conventional index, the book has a map of North Carolina with locations of attractions indicated by the numbers of pages on which they are pictured.

M-14 With Infra-Red Sight Tested During Night Firing

"Mark target 45," the shooter said, after firing three quick rounds from the prone position. A few seconds later, back came the results. "On target 45," said the phone NCO, "a bull at 5 o'clock, a bull at 7 o'clock and a 'pinwheel'—dead center." What is so unusual about this incident on a Marine rifle range where "bulls" and "pinwheels" are the rule rather than the exception?

The difference is: This firing was done at 9 p.m. on a pitch-black night.

NEW LOOK — Capt. Joseph F. Suddeth draws a bead on the bulls-eye with the new M-14 rifle equipped with an improved infra-red sighting device at the Camp Lejeune Rifle Range. (Photo by Cpl. L. M. Kuritz)

This demonstration, observed by Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, 2nd Division commander, (who also fired a bull) officers and selected Staff NCOs at the Camp Lejeune Rifle Range, featured the new M-14 rifle equipped with a new Infra-red sighting device.

The rifle, 7.62mm M-14, was designed to replace the M-1, the carbine and the Browning automatic rifle (BAR). It is designed for a rate of fire of 750 rounds per minute with a maximum range of 3500 yards. It has not yet been introduced into the Marine Corps supply system.

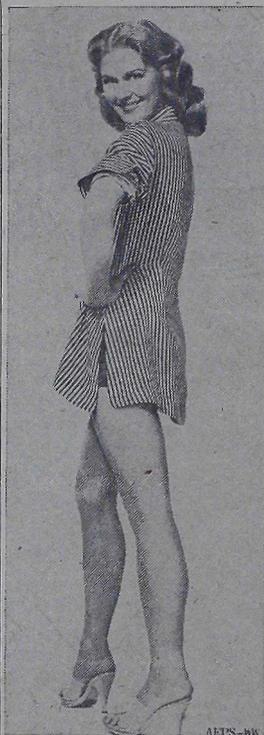

The rifle and sight (performance is classified) were brought to Camp Lejeune by Capt. Joseph F. Suddeth, Electrical Warfare Officer, and MSgt Gordon W. Matheson, Marine Equipment Board, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

After all hands had taken their turn at firing, they were treated to a display of jeeps equipped for combat night driving.

In this setup, the headlights are blacked-out by special filtering lens and the driver's helmet or cap is fitted with a binocular-shaped device known as a Metascope.

With this device the driver can view the infra-red light not screened out by the lens on the vehicle's headlights.

1960 Armed Forces Day Display Marine Corps Mig

The 1960 Armed Forces Day observance at Camp Lejeune will get off to a loud start on the eve of the May 21 celebration when demonstrators from the First Infantry Training Regiment will stage a colorful and noisy display of Marine Corps' firepower with exhibitions of infantry weapons, final protective line and a night attack on a fortified position. Other highlights of the annual observance will include sky diving demonstrations, a static display of equipment and services, aircraft "fly-overs," and boating exhibitions.

As yet, no definite time has been set for the ITR show, but officials there said that the weapons demonstration will begin in the early evening hours before the sun sets. At dark, the narrated exhibition will continue with the live firing demonstrations. All military men and their families and guests, as well as visitors from surrounding communities are invited to attend the firing, to be conducted at Range K-16 in Verona Loop.

Open House

Lejeune gates will swing wide open to the general public the following morning, as the entire Quad-Command "rolls out the red carpet" to all visitors. Each of commands will be represented by the huge static displays on Camp Parade Ground from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Members of the 2nd Division Force Troops, MAG-26 and the command will be on hand to answer questions about the aircraft vehicles and other equipment display. Representatives of the 1st Medical Research Laboratory, the Red Cross and Navy Chaplain will also exhibit their work.

Uniform Display

A display of Marine Corps uniforms from past to present will be set up in Goettge Memorial Field House open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. "Open House" will be held throughout the day at Main Hall 54, Barracks 53 and the Base chapels. The Naval Hospital will be open to visitors from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The local Sky Divers Club will hold two parachuting demonstrations—one at 10:30 a.m. and another at 2 p.m. At 11:15 and 1:15 p.m. the Lejeune Flying Club will conduct fly-overs at the Camp Parade Ground. Both of these shows will be narrated.

Water Festival

Music for the day will be provided by the 2nd Division Band, which will present concerts at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. The band will play for the annual Spring Water Festival at the Wallace Creek Boat House, which also takes place on Armed Forces Day. Events of the colorful aqua pageant will include a tour of the boat house, free boat rides, sailboat and canoe races, pugil stick duels in canoes, water ski show, an underwater demonstration by the Sea Urchins Club, and other attractions. Lawns surrounding the boathouse area may be used for picnic lunches for those who intend to spend the day.

Camp Lejeune troops will participate in parades and demonstrations throughout the state. Definite arrangements will be announced later.

Marines And Families Enjoy Fun And Sun At Onslow Beach Official Opening

Castle-builders, seashell-hunters, beauties, surfboarders, broad-chested lifeguards and all the other members of a typical beach crowd were present at the opening weekend of Onslow Beach Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30 and May 1. Cool April winds and showers kept the crowds to a minimum, but those present did their part to send Onslow Beach off to what promises to be another successful season.

Safety will be stressed at the beach this year as never before. The Marine Corps is renting new electrical speaker systems from the General Electric Corporation which will carry sounds as far as a quarter of a mile. They will be used to warn swimmers not to go beyond the appointed boundaries of the swimming areas.

The speaker systems are equipped with sirens to call all bathers from the water at closing time. Only the enlisted beach has the system in operation now, but it will soon be installed at the officer and staff beaches as well.

New lines and buoys will be placed in the water to mark the swimming areas, replacing the ones currently marking the boundaries. Each beach will have three new skiffs to be used in life-saving operations.

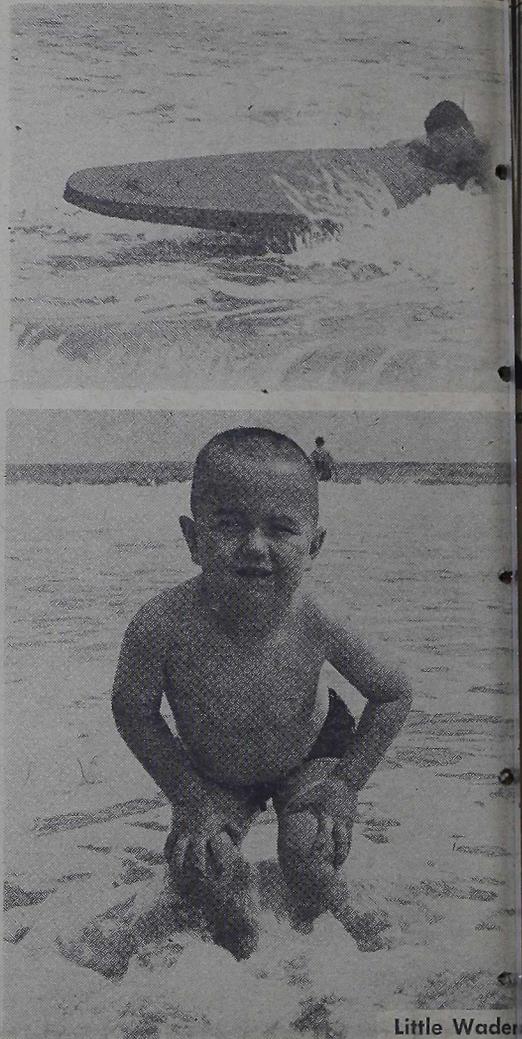

There are duty corpsmen and ambulance facilities available at the beach at all times.

By the time the season is in full swing, there will be approximately 60 personnel working to make the beach a safer and more pleasant place to swim, sun and relax. The average Saturday and Sunday attendance has been 2000 to 3000 persons. The new safety features, as well as other advantages which have been added for the comfort and convenience of the beach-goers, will equip the beach to handle crowds of equal size this summer.

The recently dedicated cabanas give the beach a new face this summer. The cabanas are under the control of Special Services and are operated separately from the beach. 1st Lt. W. E. Gury wishes to remind persons using the cabanas that they must make their arrangements with Special Services, and not with him or other Onslow Beach personnel. The keys to the cabanas can be picked up at the cabana office, located at the north end of Bldg. BA114, the enlisted beach pavilion.

The beaches and beach pavilions will be open from 10 a.m. to 30 minutes after sunset Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 30 minutes after sunset on Saturday, Sunday and holidays. Special bus schedules have been set up to provide ample transportation to and from the beach.

Haywood Hurls 8-0 Shutout; Ft. Meade Here Tomorrow

Before taking to the road for a four-game trip, the locals will face the Soldiers of Ft. Meade, Md., here tomorrow and Saturday nights at 7:30 p.m. While on the road, Lejeune will face VPI, Ft. Dix and the University of Delaware in order. Ace righthander Bill Haywood notched his sixth season victory against three losses and the first shutout for the locals this year with a five-hit win, 8-0, over the Ft. Gordon Saints at Agganis Field Monday night.

Shaky Start

After allowing two singles and a sacrifice in the first inning, Haywood settled down to strike out two batters to retire the side. Haywood retired the next seven men in order before first baseman Chuck Bradford singled, but was erased on a pick-off play by catcher Bobby Cooke to first sacker Hal Norton.

Ft. Gordon's Dick Singleton collected a single in the sixth with one out, but was out at second on a double play, while teammate Joe Gorge, catcher, who got to Haywood for the final hit, died on first as the righthander struck out the next batter to retire the side.

Going the distance, Haywood struck out nine, while giving up one walk.

Behind errorless ball the locals picked up two runs in the third inning after two were out before adding one run in the sixth, two in the seventh and three in the eighth.

Fullerton Starts Big Inning

Second sacker Barry Fullerton started off the big eighth inning with a base hit and was followed by Bobby Cooke with a single and Haywood, who reached first on an error, to load the bases. Centerfielder Cliff Simpson who went two for four at the plate, smashed a sacrifice fly to score Fullerton and was followed by shortstop Charlie Armstrong who poked a two-run double to left centerfield, before Norton lined out to the shortstop to retire the side.

The locals shelled losing pitcher Kris Spears, who also went the route for 15 hits to up their season record to 22 wins against eight defeats.

Flyers Cop Interservice Event; Marine, Heavyweight Winner

The U. S. Air Force captured the 1960 Interservice Boxing Championships here last Friday, winning three individual weight titles and taking runner-up honors in five other. Victory in the three-day tournament gave the Air Force its second title in the eight-year history of the service matches and also deprived the Army of permanent retention of the four-foot bronze rotating trophy, awarded annually to the winner of the all-services competition. The Army won second place in the matches, with four individual titles and one runner-up. A victory in this year's matches, coupled with previous championships in 1958 and 1959, would have given the Army permanent ownership of the annual award.

Staff Bowlers In Deadlock For 1st Place

With three blankings taking place last week during the Staff Bowling action, Stiles Van & Storage and "Herb Sunshine" moved into a tie for the lead while Falstaff slipped to second place. Stiles Van & Storage downed Gulfpride Service, "Herb Sunshine" swept Courthouse Bay Staff Club and The Pick-ups took four from the Brown Baggers. During other action Pioneer American Insurance Company took three from Rock 'n' Roll Drive-In, Budweiser rolled over Falstaff, 3-1, and D&E Car Exchange dropped New River Pharmacy, 3-1.

Individual highs went to: Stiles Van & Storage—Andy Andy, 202-533; Gulfpride Service—Bill Ebert, 203 and Topper Wilkes, 550; "Herb Sunshine"—Dale Pritchard, 213-562; Courthouse Bay Staff Club—Virge Spruell, 193,561; The Pick-Ups—Frank Conneen, 169, and Mike Sirota, 482; Brown Bagger Bar—Paul Curtis and George Cushman, 163 and Pat Rafferty, 431.

Pioneer American Insurance Co.—Lowell Desjardins, 137-515; Rock 'n' Roll Drive-In—Mel Ison, 178, and Dusty Szafranski, 502; Budweiser—Jan Jensen, 258 (high scratch series of the league) and 581; Falstaff—Carl Tressler, 221-589; D&E Car Exchange—Al "Ike" Eisenhower, 224-560; New River Pharmacy—Bill Forster, 194-479.

als Thursday night, the U. S. Marine Corps fighters took third place in the bouts. Heavyweight Percy Price scored a unanimous decision over Fred Lewis of the Air Force to give the Marine Corps third place after four Leatherneck stables had won runner-up slots.

With only two competitors battling their way into the finals, the Navy picked up two individual championship titles in the bantam and featherweight classes.

Picking up the first victory for the Air Force, flyweight Tom Mathis opened up the evening with a split decision over Marine entry Ramon Rosales. Fighting off a first round attack by his opponent, Mathis scored heavily in the second and third rounds to get the nod from two of the three judges.

Bantamweight Lawrence Stubbs of the Navy scored a surprising, but crowd-pleasing, unanimous decision over Johnny Joiner of the Army after warding off tremendous attempts to the midsection and scoring severely with crushing right hooks to the head and body, for the entire three rounds.

Partisan Fans

Following with an equally surprising, but not as pleasing, victory to the Marine partisan crowd, was Quan James of the Navy who pounded out a unanimous decision over local favorite featherweight Rocky Fiorentino. Although scoring well in the first round, Fiorentino could not counter the second and third round attack staged by James.

After an even first round, Leslie Norris of the Army stepped up the pace, scoring well in the second and final rounds to pick up a split decision over the Air Force's lightweight James Richardson. Meanwhile, teammate Roosevelt Ware, survived a third round effort to score a split decision over Fred

Humorous Event Is Scheduled May 16

Hal Holbrook, the Broadway actor who brings his brilliant one-man show, "Mark Twain Tonight!" to the stage of the Camp Theater on May 16 at 8 p.m., has had some humorous experiences while playing Mark Twain at the age of 70. Holbrook, himself, is in his early 30's. After a show in Elmira, N. Y., where Twain is buried, the actor—still in his make-up—checked in at the Mark Twain hotel. The desk clerk's mouth fell open. Loungers in the lobby rose to their feet. And the elevator boy treated Holbrook with awesome respect. He even insisted on helping "the old fellow" down the hall to his room.

Then Holbrook removed his make-up and rang for the elevator again. The boy didn't recognize him, but when he stood in the lobby admiring a large portrait of Twain on the wall, the elevator boy came over and stood beside him. There was a long pause. Then the actor murmured, "Quite a face, isn't it?"

"Yeah," said the elevator boy. "Say, you know that fellow who does him? He's here tonight!"

According to the New Yorker Magazine, "Hal Holbrook brings Twain back alive." So, if some young man you don't know walks up to you after the performance and asks how you like it—be careful. It may be the "guy who did the show."

Tickets for this event are now on sale at the Marine Corps Exchange, Field House, Naval Hospital, Officers Club, Staff NCO Club, Camp Theater and Unit Special Services.

"THE FALSE REPORT of my death has been grossly exaggerated."—Mark Twain, as portrayed by Hal Holbrook.

His membership card number was 50,000, the goal for this year's drive. Twenty-seven awards have been added to the drive. Three television sets from Major TV and Appliance Co. and six Polaroid Land Cameras with wink lights and 18 transistor radios from the Marine Corps Exchange have been furnished at cost to the drive.

Five major awards will also be presented at the end of the drive scheduled for June 17. They are a 1960 Cadillac, 1960 Valiant station wagon, 1960 Falcon sedan, 1960 Corvair sedan and a boat with trailer, motor and accessories.

Lejeune gates will swing wide open to the general public the following morning, as the entire Quad-Command "rolls out the red carpet" to all visitors. Each of the commands will be represented at the huge static displays on the Camp Parade Ground from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Events of the colorful aqua pageant will include a tour of the boathouse, free boat rides, sailboat and canoe races, pugil stick duels in canoes, water ski show, an underwater demonstration by the Sea Urchins Club, and other attractions. Lawns surrounding the boathouse area may be used for picnic lunches for those who intend to spend the day.

Camp Lejeune troops will participate in parades and demonstrations throughout the state. Definite arrangements will be announced later.

The basic idea of a Marine Corps as a part of the Armed Forces of the United States came down from early colonial times and was in imitation of the British Royal Marines, which organization has existed since 1664.

Force Troop Veterans Lt., Wife On TV Program

A chance visit to the Navy Television program, "Please Your Hunch," April 21 resulted in the winning of $300 for 1st Lt. and Mrs. Hugh M. Lovejoy. The Friday evening escapade for the lieutenant and his wife proved well worthwhile after winning on the April 21 program they were flown back to New York for the April 29 show. A repeat will entitle them to another appearance on tomorrow night's show.

Lieutenant Lovejoy is a member of Communications Co., 8th Communications Battalion, Force Troops. The lieutenant and his wife were among others waiting to view the program when they were chosen for an interview with four other couples. The Lovejoys and one of the other couples were final chosen to compete on the program from which they emerged victorious.

The program, emceed by Mel Griffin, master of ceremonies of the 1960 Azalea Festival, presented various problems to the competing couples and they are asked to place their hunch.

The lieutenant noted that all the people connected with the program treated him and his wife with the utmost courtesy and consideration. He also said that this whole experience to date "has been a lot of fun."

Base Motors Initiates New Radio-Dispatched Taxicabs

"Hecklar India, this is India 3. Have delivered passenger Bldg. 1. Am standing by for instructions. 10-4." These words will soon become a familiar sound to Camp Lejeune personnel as they take advantage of the new Camp Lejeune Base taxi service. The Base Motor Transport Section now has in operation a new taxi system which is providing fast, efficient, round-the-clock transportation anywhere in the Hadnot Point area. The service is for any officer, staff or civilian in charge of a section who needs local transportation for performance of official duties. A call any time to 7-3053 or 7-3474 will immediately bring a Marine Corps motor transport taxi to any point in the central Marine Corps Base area.

The new taxi service will not be used for trips from the Hadnot Point area to Camp Geiger, Courthouse Bay, the Rifle Range and such outlying areas.

Official Trips
 Neither will the taxis be used for trips away from Camp Lejeune to places such as Wilmington, Kingston, etc. The regular Base transportation service will still be available for such runs. To make arrangements to use a vehicle for an official trip to areas other than the Hadnot Point area, call the Motor Transport dispatcher at 7-3585, and after 4:30 p.m., 7-5585.

Arrangements to use a taxi cannot be made in advance. The drivers cannot pick up passengers or cargo upon requests from individuals but will make their runs only on instructions from the Base Motor Transport dispatcher.

Taxis will not be used for mail runs or messenger service. This type of official business will still be handled through the regular Base transportation service.

Waiting Period
 Taxi drivers are authorized to wait only three minutes to pick up passengers or light cargo. Personnel requesting taxi service must meet the taxi at the specific location to which it is requested to report, such as in front of Bldg. 1, behind Bldg. 1, etc. The driver is not allowed to leave his vehicle to locate passengers or pick up cargo.

Requests for taxi service will include the following information: unit using the taxi, requesting individual.

Eastern Division Matches Will Commence Monday

Foul weather swept across the Lejeune ranges this week, impairing the efforts of over 400 shooters gathered to begin the Eastern Division Rifle and Pistol Matches here this Monday. A quick look at team scorebooks, compiled over the last four weeks of practice shooting, shows a great deal of keen competition looming on the shooting horizon. The 2nd Marine Division teams, drastically cut after the early weeks of shooting, have now boiled their shooting crew down to a depth-drawer shooters as SSgt. B. Howard, Sgt. E. R. England, Sgt. G. Jones and many others on hand. Bases is sure to be a hot contender for the Elliott and Edson trophies.

The "Wing Dingers" from Cherry Point's 2nd Marine Air Wing are relying on such over-all high shooters as Maj. C. J. O'Malley.

JCOC Guests View Onslow Beach Assault

Sixty-four guests of the 3rd Marine Division, reinforced by elements of Force Troops, MFLant, and the 2nd Marine Air Wing, storm the beach and make vertical envelopment by helicopter yesterday.

Providing fire and logistical support for the Division troops were members of the Force Troops 2nd Amphibious Tractor Bn., 2nd Field Artillery Group, and 2nd Tank Bn. Aerial support was provided by helicopters from MAG-26 and fighter aircraft from VMF 324.

The 64 guests, industrial and business leaders from across the nation, comprised the 30th Joint Civilian Orientation Conference (JCOC), which is touring field installations of the U. S. Armed Forces to gain first-hand understanding of the defense program. The 2nd Marine Division was chosen this year to demonstrate for them the Marine Corps' role in the national defense picture. Some 300 military and naval students from the Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va., and the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., also witnessed the demonstrations.

The day's program began at Onslow Beach, where the guests observed the beach assault.

Base Reenlistment Unit Now Has Quarters In Bldg. 1005

A Base Reenlistment Unit consisting of supervisory, advisory and training functions, and assistance to lower echelons in the operation of their reenlistment program, has been established within the Base Adjutant Section. The new unit is located in Bldg. 1005 in the Industrial Area. The unit will conduct the Base Reenlistment and Command Recruiting Program.

The objective of this program is to induce the maximum number of desirable individuals to reenlist or extend their enlistment in the Marine Corps and to aid the Marine Corps Recruiting Service in the procurement of volunteer applicants.

In addition to supervisory functions, the unit will effect distribution of reenlistment aids to subordinate activities, schedule and present career presentations to all Marines, compile information relative to a Marine Corps career and maintain reenlistment data and reports.

Capt. Frank M. Soltys has been assigned as Base Reenlistment Officer for the program. The Career Appraisal and Counseling NCO is Act. MSgt. Howard H. Woodridge. He is assisted by Act. SSgt. Joseph P. Tate.

Children Present Operetta

Children of the four first grades at Midway Park demonstrated their musical, dramatic and artistic ability Tuesday morning when they presented their version of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in the school auditorium.

The grades include approximately 120 students, all of whom were participants in the program. Fifteen of the children had speaking parts in this operetta while the remaining 105 sang in the chorus. The grade spent from two to three weeks planning and preparing for the show which drew a large crowd of parents, teachers from other schools in the area, and visitors.

Miss Ann Creech, art director, assisted the group in making costumes, painting scenery, and arranging the sets during the school's scheduled art classes. Also assisting in the presentation were the four first grade teachers at Midway Park, Miss Margaret Ross, Mrs. Edward Carper, Mrs. Robert May and Mrs. Robert L. Deal.

Others of the children helped make some of the costumes worn by the 15 on stage. Songs included in the show were "It's Only a Pathway," "My Name is Peter Cottontail," "Moon Maiden," "The Woodpecker," "Boo-Hoo-hoo," "Castle at Rainbow's End," and "The Dwarf's Song." Additional characters chosen by the teachers cleverly tied in with the original story.

PTA PRESENTS CHECK—Mr. George G. Ezzard, center, principal at Midway Park School, accepts a check in behalf of the Midway Park Parent-Teachers Association from Act. Sgt. Arthur Lugas, treasurer of the PTA, for the purchase of a manuscript typewriter to be used at the school. Maj. C. M. Darracott, right, president of the PTA, looks on. The ceremony took place Tuesday morning in the principal's office. (Photo by Act. Sgt. W. J. Rush)

Junior Judo Group Holds First Match

The Camp Lejeune Judo Club sponsored its first Junior Division competition matches last Sunday. Fifteen boys, ranging in age from six to 15 years old, were divided into two groups for the matches.

The youngest player and smallest member of the club was Brian Burke Jr., son of Capt. B. T. Burke, club president. While the younger Burke showed well, he was over-matched and was defeated early in the match.

In the 12 and under group, Andy Paul won first place. Second place went to Jimmy Degrotte and William White placed third.

Tom Allen placed first in the 16 and under age group. He was followed by John Thomas in second and Tom Paul in third place.

At the conclusion of the matches, Andy Paul, Tom Allen, John Thomas, Tom Paul, John Poljack, Bill Pelon and Spike Williams were tested for promotion to "Go Kyu" (fifth grade).

The liveliest action of the afternoon was the match between Tom Pearson and Tom Allen. Pearson was the aggressor all the way, but was thrown by Allen when the match was extended to an overtime. Another noteworthy player was Chris Low. Low showed aggressiveness and good form, but was ultimately eliminated in the playoffs.

Public Invited For Armed Forces Day

The civilian population of the surrounding cities as well as the wives and children of local servicemen will be welcomed during the 1960 Armed Forces Day observance at Camp Lejeune. The activities will get off to a loud start on the eve of the May 21 celebration, when demonstrators from the First

Charter Is Issued To Troop 90

Camp Lejeune's oldest Boy Scout unit—Troop 90—received its 1960 charter during the troop's regular meeting at the Scout area last Wednesday evening. Col. R. D. Strickler, institutional representative for Lejeune Scouting, presented the annual charter to the troop committee chairman, Col. G. B. Thomas, and Scoutmaster Capt. B. T. Burke.

More than 150 Scouts, parents and guests attended the outdoor gathering, which saw the troop receive two awards for accomplishments during 1959. The troop received a certificate from "Boys' Life" magazine for having 100 per cent of its members subscribing to the popular Scouting magazine. Another citation—The National Camping Award—was presented to the Lejeune unit for "camp-outs." Last year, 97 per cent of the members spent more than 10 nights in the field on camping trips. Some boys totaled more than 20 nights in camp.

Several parents attended the meeting as guests of the Scouts, who cooked the evening's meal. Richard Funk found himself alone when he chose to eat the 18-inch copperhead snake he had killed, skinned, and cooked during the meet.

Infantry Training Regiment stage a colorful and noisy display of Marine Corps firepower with exhibitions of infantry weapons, the final protective line and a night attack on a fortified position. Other highlights of the annual observance will include sky diving demonstrations, a static display of equipment and services, aircraft "fly-overs," and boating exhibitions.

As yet no definite time has been set for the ITR show, but officials there said that the weapons demonstration will begin in the early evening hours before the sun sets. At dark, the narrated exhibition will continue with the live firing demonstrations. All military men and their families and guests, as well as visitors from surrounding communities are invited to attend the firing, to be conducted at Range K-16 in Verona Loop.

Jacksonville Art Exhibit Commences

Formal reception ceremonies for the Fifth Annual Art Exhibit in Jacksonville will begin this evening. Over 175 works of art are expected to be on display in addition to a special collection of art objects loaned by the Mexican Embassy in Washington, D. C.

A special representative from the Mexican Embassy will accompany the art works and will be available to answer questions about Mexican art, culture and general life. Also in the display will be Mexican costumes valued at over $500 each.

Friday evening at 9 p.m., awards presentations will be held. Each Onslow County school, including those at Camp Lejeune, have entered three works for judging. Several local amateur and professional artists will also have paintings on display.

Friday has been designated as "School Day" and Saturday as "Marine Day" when all Marines and servicemen are especially invited to attend.

Pet Complaints Should Be Submitted In Writing

The Base Provost Marshal has advised that residents in government housing areas on the reservation should submit, in writing, complaints concerning animal pets harbored within the reservation, who create a nuisance by causing damage to private or government property. Furthermore, the Provost Marshal states that pets should be rigidly controlled.

Complaints should contain a description of the animal and, if known, the tag number of the animal and the name and address of the owner.

Two or more written complaints within any six-month period about one particular pet may be cause for the Provost Marshal to order the owner to confine the pet at all times. In extreme cases, the pet may be moved from the reservation.

The Base Provost Marshal has also stated a ruling by the North Carolina State Attorney General's office prohibits the driving of small cars, designed for use of children and equipped with gasoline engines, if the car is not registered and the driver licensed.

Anyone under 16 years of age will have to drive these cars on private property.

Four Marines in the 3rd Bn., Second Division, were cited for meritorious achievements last week by their battalion commander. At the end of the first day, the first American flag to fly over captured enemy territory, was hoisted to the top of a Japanese flag pole at Kukom. The first Marine Corps unit to land on Guadalcanal was the 1st Platoon of Co. "A," 1st Pioneer Bn.

High Shooters Announced In Pistol Match

Pistol teams from Hq. Co., Hq. Bn., Marine Corps Base, took top place in two out of three classes to sweep the Hq. Bn. pistol matches held recently at the Base pistol range.

The members of the four-man team from Hq. Co. who took first place in the expert class by shooting a combined total of 1,303x1,600 were: Act. MSgt. J. R. Davis, Act. GySgt. C. E. Nelson, Act. SSgt. J. W. Pratte and Pfc E. F. Good.

Spt. Co. "A" took top honors in the sharpshooter class, firing 1,137x1,600. The team members were: Act. Cpl. R. Hunter, Cpl. A. H. Bowles, Act. Cpl. D. A. Capozzi and LCpl. C. E. Boom.

The Hq. Co. team which won the marksman class with a 906x1,600 was made up of Act. GySgt. F. E. Ciola, Act. Sgt. H. M. Carson, Cpl. R. C. Leclair and LCpl. L. W. Aaron.

In the marksman competition, the Spt. Co. "B" team tied Hq. Co. with 906x1,600. The tie was broken by using the highest slow fire team total. Hq. Co. shot 224 at slow fire, while Spt. Co. "B" Gold fired 202.

The course of fire was the standard Marine Corps Requalification Course plus five sighter shots for each shooter prior to shooting for score.

Unqualified shooters, leg holders and distinguished pistol men were not eligible to compete in the match. Anyone who had fired familiarization but was not classified was allowed to shoot on marksman teams.

Division Assn. Awards Grant

Roland L. Jackson, whose father was killed in action with the 4th Division at Iwo Jima, has been granted the first college scholarship awarded by the 4th Marine Division Association.

Jackson, who will enter the University of Delaware this year, is the son of Pfc Roland P. Jackson, deceased, and Mrs. Josephine A. Jackson, of 33 West Cleveland Ave., Newark, Delaware.

The Association's announcement last week said its Scholarship Committee had decided to underwrite Jackson's first year at college to the extent of $600, with a commitment for another $600 next year if conditions remain the same.

After two years, the Scholarship Committee will again review the case, the announcement concluded.

The 4th Division Association's Scholarship Fund is supported in part by amounts set aside from monies realized after expenses of its annual reunions. The 1960 4th Division reunion is June 23-25, at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. C.

Two Selected from Div. For College Study

Two 2nd Division Marines have been selected for assignment to the Navy Enlisted Scientific Education Program and are expected to leave next month for either Bainbridge, Md., or San Diego, Calif., to commence their formal schooling.

Cpl. Robert S. Huber, 2nd Pioneer Bn., and Pfc Lawrence A. Giles, Hq. Btry., Tenth Marines, are among the 51 men selected for the Marine Corps for the first year of the highly technical program. The list of selectees is contained in Marine Corps Bulletin 1580 dated March 21.

Peebles has completed the administrative requirements and is awaiting orders. Huber has only the results of a physical examination to await before he will receive orders.

At Bainbridge or San Diego, one selected will attend a college preparatory course. Upon completion they will be ordered to one of 51 colleges and universities participating in the program. The next annual program for enrollment in the Navy Enlisted Scientific Program will be announced by an appropriate Marine Corps Order during July of this year.

A detachment of Marines under 1st Robert E. Lee, U. S. Army, captured John Brown at Harper's Ferry on Oct. 18, 1859.

A COMBINATION of Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis and Clifford Brown, this can best describe a young trumpet man we know. He is Kenny Lee, currently with the Force Troops Drum and Bugle team. His ideas and technique are closely related to that of Brown and the Miles Davis influence adds to the clear tone. The great Dizzy had a freedom all his own when playing and Kenny uses that freedom and innovation in his own playing. But with all of these influences, Kenny still has a distinctive sound of his own. From a musical family, Kenny tells us his father has his own group, his two brothers and sister also play and his ambition is to get married and start his own group. He is currently playing with a new group, Dick's Quintet, scheduled for the Air Facility Officers Club next Saturday. Future plans include study at Julliard and then we predict a bright musical career in the modern jazz field for him.

Hobby Shop Features 'Do-It-Yourself' For Relaxation Of 2nd Division Men

The Division Hobby Shop serves as the rallying point for those Marine "do-it-yourselfers" who like to relax with their hobbies.

The Hobby Shop is divided into three units: wood-working, crafts, radio and television repair, and affords all personnel of the 2nd Division an opportunity to make use of its facilities.

The wood-working shop, located in Bldg. 331, has ample space, material, and tools to make the most difficult projects seem easy to the least experienced hobbyist.

Here, many "would-be" carpenters are aided by the Hobby Shop personnel who are always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need of instruction or suggestions.

A storeroom, operated on the premises, may be utilized to purchase materials at reasonable prices. Tools necessary for any type project are kept here and may be checked out for use within the building.

Those interested in the "crafts" may find projects available in leather, paints, and plastics. The craft shop is located in Bldg. 441 directly behind the wood shop where a salesroom is also maintained for the "hand-crafters."

Although many hobbyists prefer to work outside the shop, there are ample facilities inside for those who desire to use them.

One project under construction is that of Cpl. Timothy Brimage, Hq. Co., Hq. Bn.

Initiated in March of 1959, the project has been interrupted by cruises and other of Corporal Brimage's primary duties.

Brimage prepared designs for an entire model city to scale for use with a model train lay-out. Constructed along futuristic lines, some of his designs are evidenced in such structures as the new skyscraper in center-city, Philadelphia. His "city" will be complete in every detail.

The third unit of the Hobby Shop contains the radio and television repair shop. Here, defective parts may be repaired or replaced under the supervision of trained personnel.

Tubes and other component parts may be purchased by the hobbyist at moderate prices.

For Marine "nimrods" the Hobby Shop stocks 139 12 gauge shotguns. These weapons may be checked out on a temporary loan for 48 hours upon presentation of a note from unit Special Services officers. Ammunition, however, must be furnished by the unit or the individual.

The Hobby Shop is open for use from 11:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on week-days and 1 to 8 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The radio and television section remains open until 10 p.m.

Burris of the Air Force, in the light welterweight division.

After being staggered by a sweeping right smash to the head in the third round, Ken Suhovsky of the Air Force battled back to score an unpopular unanimous decision over welterweight Gabriel Terronez of the Marine Corps. Air Force teammate Tom Davis lost to the 1958-59 lightmiddleweight interservice champ, Ed Crook, who caught him in the ropes and smothered him with a barrage of blows to the head and body, scoring a technical knockout in 2:14 of the second round.

Second Round TKO

Bobby Foster of the champion Air Force team followed with a technical knockout in 1:16 of the second round over middleweight Ray Phillips of the Marine Corps. After taking a volley of smashes to the head, Foster dropped Phillips to the canvas in the first round with a right hook to the jaw, following up with a knockdown early in the second, before staggering Phillips for the TKO.

Allen Hudson, Army light heavyweight, took advantage of his height and reach, as he scored a unanimous decision over the Air Force's James Jackson. After knocking Jackson to the deck with a tremendous right to the face, which knocked him clear across the ring into the ropes, Hudson fought off a second round attempt and scored well in the final round to insure the victory.

Fly Reel Quality Governs Quantity

Some fly fishermen say that a fly reel is useful only to store line, so its quality is unimportant. Don't you believe it. If your reel chatters or binds when you are playing a fish you're in trouble, and what's economical about a reel that quits when you're fighting a trophy catch? So pick your reel carefully, being sure that its drag or click is smooth, and preferably adjustable. See that all parts fit smoothly, and that the handle is big enough to grab. You'll also want an arbor large enough to take in the line in a hurry when you have to reel in fast. Of course, you'll pay a little more for such a reel, but someday in a pinch it may pay you back with interest.

River Room Sets Background For IWC's 'Toast To France' Gala Program Friday

With the nation celebrating the visit of President de Gaulle, the International Wives group had their own French gala when the members of French background were hostesses for "A Toast to France," last Friday afternoon in the River Room of the Paradise Point Club. After viewing objects d'art of France on display, the guests chose French pastries and tea or coffee and were seated at small tables covered with checkered cloths centered with red geraniums. A "Cafe de Quatre Chattes" made a background for the table arrangement.

Mrs. O. M. Conoley introduced her two guests who had driven from Wilmington, N. C., for the program. The guests were Mrs. E. W. Halleck, formerly of Touraine, France, and Mrs. Frank Sears, a native of Paris. Mrs. Conoley then turned the program over to Mrs. R. R. Van Stockum who explained the colored slides of France which were shown by Mrs. C. A. Youngdale. Following the program, Mrs. J. P. Berkeley drew for the door prize which was won by Mrs. G. B. Thomas. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames O. M. Conoley, R. R. Van Stockum, C. A. Youngdale, R. Quingley, C. W. Kelly, and V. Bisceglia.

The group will sponsor a Carribean program May 20 and a final event June 2.

Duty Station Togetherness Is Continuing

For 10 years two 2nd Division Marines have been involved in a strange game of follow the leader. During that period each time Act. GySgt. Edward Majewski, presently serving with the Second Marines...

Recently, however, Pavick turned the tables on Majewski when he made the call and to all intents it looked as if the two sergeants would be serving at different duty stations for the first time in 10 years.

It all started in January, 1950, when both men joined Weapons Co., Second Marines, here at Camp Lejeune.

In September of that year, both headed for Korea, both participated in the Inchon landing as members of the 2nd Bn., First Marines...

Majewski was the first of the duo to be rotated to the States, in July, 1951. He joined the Marine Detachment, Naval Prison, Portsmouth, N. H. Within three months Pavick reported to the same detachment.

When Majewski was ordered to the 3rd Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif., in 1952, he lost track of Pavick until one evening while strolling through Oceanside, Calif., he met—that's right, Pavick.

In July of 1953, Majewski moved on to Recruiter's School, Parris Island, S. C. Shortly thereafter, orders were received at Pendleton to assign Pavick to the next recruiter's class.

Upon completion of recruiter's school, Majewski was ordered to the 4th Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment District, Philadelphia; later on, when he graduated from the same school, Pavick was ordered to the same District.

In December, 1956, the "leader" joined the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa. Pavick was right behind him a year later.

After Okinawa the two were reunited here when both were assigned to the 2nd Division.

NOT AGAIN!—GySgt. Mike Pavick, left, Hq. Bn., 2nd Division, and Act. GySgt. Edward Majewski, NCO in C, Area Two Service Club, examine the set of transfer orders...

First Perfect Score Recorded At Motor Transport School

An acting staff sergeant with determination and initiative set a new precedent for the Motor Transport School here this week with a perfect 100 percent course average. Act. SSGT. Edward E. Hall, on temporary duty here from the First Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif., is the first man to attain a perfect score since the school was moved to Camp Lejeune 17 years ago.

There are no substantiating records, but as far back as anyone can remember, Hall is the only man to achieve a perfect course record since the Marine Transport School was founded at the Marine Corps Depot of Supplies, Philadelphia, in 1929.

A veteran of 16 years' service, he had never before attended a service school. Enlisting in 1941 at Dallas, Texas, he was an ordnance man during World War II. After his discharge in October, 1945, he took up employment with an automobile dealer at Snyder, Texas.

Hall joined the Marine Corps Reserve in 1947 and was recalled to active duty during the Korean crisis, serving with the 1st Bn., Eleventh Marines, 1st Marine Division, in Korea. He has been with the motor transport branch since his assignment to active duty.

ACT. SSGT. HALL

Hall is now serving with the 1st Service Bn., 1st Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif., where he is the Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge of the carburetor and ignition shop.

With the completion of months "sole searching" tests, the Navy announced development of a new shoe leather that will wear 50 percent longer than any of those produced up to now. The new soles have been adopted by all of the military services, the Navy said. Sponsored by the Navy's bureau of Supplies and Accounts at the National Bureau of Standards since 1954, the project on "polymer impregnation of leather" has led to a new processing technique that converts hide to leather in half the normal time. The new shoes are currently undergoing tests aboard the aircraft carrier Independence. They will be considered as a replacement for the Navy's flight deck shoes.
