

Hq. Co. Wins In Battalion Rifle Match

"Good shooting. I hope we can have another match soon," said Col. R. J. Batterton Jr., commanding officer, Hq. Bn., MCB, as he presented awards to members of the winning and runner-up teams of the Headquarters Battalion rifle match held Saturday, June 11. The match, which took place at the "B" range, Camp Lejeune Rifle Range, saw keen competition between 14 teams from five units: Hq. Co., Spt. Co. "A," Spt. Co. "B," MP Co., and MT Co., Hq. Bn.

The Hq. Co. Silver team won in the expert classification with a composite score of 863. The Spt. Co. "B" Gold teams took top honors in both the sharpshooter and marksman classes, shooting totals of 833 and 794.

The course of fire was a modified National Match Course consisting of 10 rounds standing, slow fire, at 200 yards; 10 rounds sitting, rapid fire, 200 yards; 10 rounds, prone, rapid fire, 300 yards, and 20 rounds prone, slow fire, 200 yards. The 10-inch "A" target was used at all 200 and 300 yards firing, and the 20-inch "B" target was used at the 500-yard firing.

Shooting matches are conducted periodically by the battalion to increase interest and proficiency in rifle marksmanship and to inject a competitive spirit within the battalion. All qualified shooters of the battalion other than leg holders and distinguished rifle marksmen are eligible to compete in the shooting.

Study For Unit Instructors To Begin Aug. 2

A course to help instructors of Camp Lejeune units be better teachers will begin Aug. 2. The Unit Instructors Course, to be held at the Marine Corps Supply Schools, Montford Point, will be taught in three two-week sessions, with a maximum of 30 students in each session.

The Unit Instructors Course was established in 1956 by the commanding generals of 2nd Division, Force Troops and Marine Corps Base, with these objectives: (1) to train selected officers and NCO's in the technique of formal instruction and military instruction; (2) to increase instructor output; (3) to standardize the techniques of instruction.

The course is especially designed to train company and battalion instructors of General Military Subjects to make such courses as ABC Warfare, Military Courtesy, etc., of real interest to the men. The use of effective presentation methods and the employment of training aids is emphasized.

The two weeks of instruction will be divided into six major units, introduction, principles of instruction, the teaching process, instructional techniques, student preparation and guidance and student presentations. After instruction in the fields of knowing and understanding the student, and preparation of lessons, the students will be given 44 hours of practice in preparation of speeches and lectures.

The dates for the courses will be Aug. 2 through Aug. 17; Aug. 23 through Sept. 7; and Sept. 13 through Sept. 28. Students will be ordered to the MCSS on DUNS orders, and will report to Bldg. M-131, Montford Point, prior to 11 a.m. on the reporting date.

Vote, It Is Your Right And Duty

The excitement, the heady partisanship, the speechmaking of a Presidential election year are already upon us. Every month between now and November will see them intensified. It is the great American show—the greatest

But it is a show in which, ultimately, the audience plays a greater role than any of the principals. We in the service are an all-important part of that audience—the American people. We are the first to be affected by the course of the national defense effort. We can be expected to scrutinize the ideas of candidates on this great issue more closely than the average civilian.

Above all, let none of us feel himself remote from the contest because he is in uniform. That is not less of a reason to cast a vote, it is more of one. Being in the service is no curtailment of the rights of citizenship any more than the service itself is a political vacuum.

Your service wants you to vote. It urges you to register; it will give you advice and assistance through its appointed voting officer. Your state wants you to vote. It will provide you with an absentee ballot and voting information. Finally, both the principal candidates will want you to vote. One of them will be your Commander in Chief for years to come. Your interests, your mission, will be among his paramount concerns.

In order to obtain an absentee ballot from your home state, you are urged to contact your unit sergeant major or first sergeant to get the proper application form. This form, the Federal Post Card Application form, must be sent to your state of residence in plenty of time before the election date to allow the state officials to send your absentee ballot to you.

Why Must We Suffer For God?

There just isn't any justice! Why did this happen to me! This has been the cry of untold millions through the years. Even Job in all his patience cried out to God, "He hath broken me down on every side and I am gone, and my hope hath he plucked up like a tree."

Suffering is always difficult to understand, and when misfortune befalls a righteous person like Job, we often feel that God is indifferent or His power is insufficient. But why should we pass judgment when we do not have all the facts? Was Job or anyone else present when God fashioned the earth? Do we know God's plan for the future?

Pain may be sent to an individual to rebuke him, to try his faith, to deepen his trust in God, or for some other divine reason. There is a mighty mystery to suffering. And in the end Job clasped his hand over his mouth and asked God to forgive him for having uttered against situations too wonderful for him to understand.

Job realized that he had trusted in his own righteousness and expected a host of blessings from God. He began to recognize that God knew the way Job was headed. So, with real trust and faith, Job could say, "When He hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold . . . I know that my Redeemer liveth, and He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth."

Suffering is a mystery. Life is a mystery. But life is a hopeful mystery. Our responsibility is to look up to the power and love of God and trust even such mysteries as injustice, unrewarded love, and undeserved suffering to the love of God. Who will ultimately have all things work to His glory and our blessedness.

Division Chaplain.

Father's Day, Sunday, June 19

Respect Father Sunday, Always

Surely one of the goals of every young man is to become a father. To have children who are mold in his character and possessing the physical attributes, is a father's greatest satisfaction.

One father we know said that no matter how many problems he faced at his job during the day, or how low he feels before getting home, his whole outlook on life is bright the moment he sees his child, who looks up at him and says, "Hi, Dad!"

A father is many things to his family. Besides being a good provider, he's a dependable, understandable, protective and loving human being.

A boy likes to think of his dad as a pal. A girl considers him a hero. To them he's someone who's there when they wake up in the morning and go to bed at night; a person they can turn to when troubled or in need; the one who takes them fishing or to a ball game; a sincere friend who merely sits and talks with them now and then.

It's because a father is next to his children that any event for them, large or small, becomes something special. He's their dad, the only one in their world. Most of all they feel the importance he is to them, as they are to him.

To have only one day a year to salute the father of today seems much too inadequate in expressing our appreciation. But if we think of him a little every day, just as he considers his children in every way, then Father's Day will have its full meaning.

Because your dad has given you much to be thankful for, that's reason enough to honor him, Sunday and always.

If You Ask Me:

WHY DO YOU LIKE YOUR OCCUPATIONAL FIELD?

GYSGT. JAMES E. LEE, Hq. Btry, 1st Bn., Tenth Marines — My field is very interesting and diversified, especially with vertical envelopment. We're using more portable equipment as the Marine Corps is undergoing a new trend in all phases of communication work. Communications is the hub of an organization, because everything revolves around it. Moreover, I meet many people while engaged in the close support work which the communications field demands.

ACT. SGT. CLYDE E. WOODWARD, H&S Co., Service Bn., 2nd Division — I like the automotive mechanical field. After being in it for nine years, one learns something new about every vehicle that is sent to us for repair. It is a field that you can't know everything there is to know about motor vehicles. This makes it that much more of an interesting occupational field.

PFC JOAN M. BROWN, WM Co., Hq. Bn., MCB — I like the work I do at the Message Center of Marine Corps Base. Each day there is something new to learn. I like especially learning how to work the teletype machines. I also like the people I work with and my position as a write-up clerk. I feel that I'm playing a very important part in the Marine Corps communication system, because of the challenge such work offers me.

LCPL. LARRY E. MATTAS, Spt. Co. "B," Hq. Bn., MCB — For one thing there are a variety of jobs in the baking field. I personally like the administration phase, because one gets a chance to become more acquainted with what it actually takes to successfully run a bakery. You learn the value of the different bakery products as well as the various ingredients that are used in these different products.

LCPL. JERRY ABRAHAM, Spt. Co. "B," Hq. Bn., MCB — As I am working directly with animals and also with a physiologist who is engaged extensively in animal physiology, my duties are both interesting and quite varied. This gives me a chance to become well acquainted with the animal physiology field. Also, along with my work, I attend a seminar practically every week in which all present can take part.

Camp Lejeune Water Works Produce Nine Mon

"Old Dan and I with throats burnt dry, and souls that cry for water. Cool, clear water . . ."

Patrick Henry Barker, Camp Lejeune Water Works Superintendent, could throw one whole of a party for this lamenting cowpoke.

From his office at Bldg.

20, Marine Corps Base, Mr. Barker supervises the production and treatment of nine million gallons of water daily. Many say this vast oasis contains the finest drinking water on the eastern seaboard of the United States.

Although water quality is determined by individual taste and scientific evaluation, there are two very important things to be said for the Lejeune plant: It has never flunked a purity test, and it has never run dry.

Water production and treatment is an operation that reaches every building, home and person at Camp Lejeune. The operation utilizes 27 men, 100 buildings, miles of pipe, a fully equipped laboratory, and a maze of highly technical hydraulic valves and IBM machines.

Treatment plants are located at Hadnot Point, Montford Point, Tarawa Terrace, Camp Geiger and Onslow Beach. Smaller water pumping systems are at Courthouse Bay, the Rifle Range and at the Amphibian Base near Courthouse Bay. Base Water Works is also responsible for operation and maintenance of four swimming pools here.

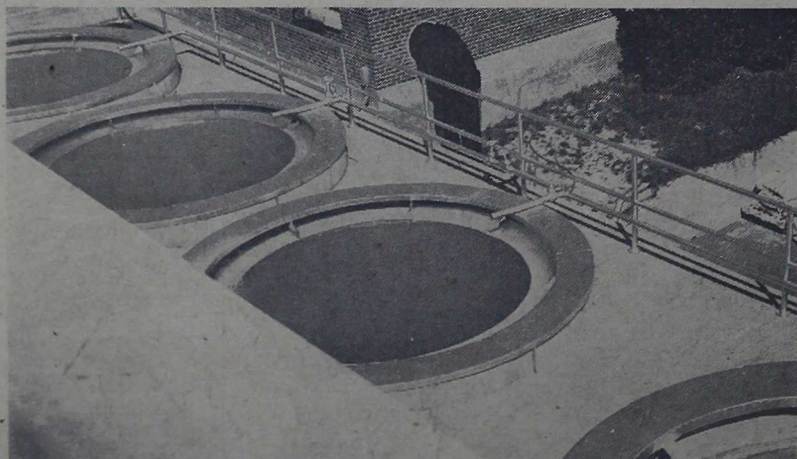

Mr. Barker has been associated with water plants for 33 years. He worked at the plant in Greensboro, N. C., for 15 years before Civil Service accepted him for the Camp Lejeune job in November, 1942. His assistant, Mr. Claude D. Chadwick, was employed at the same time, and the two men have worked together for almost two decades.

Barker, Chadwick, and their chemist, Mr. Leon A. Justice, explain water plant operation this way. Raw water is pumped from 35 wells located at various places around Hadnot Point to an underground reservoir at the plant.

Chlorine to kill harmful bacteria is added to the water as it flows into the reservoir. Turbine pressure pumps lift the water out of the reservoir through five spiral form where it is treated and ened.

To soften water, cold is added to it at the base of the cone-shaped spirals. The water-lime mixture surges upward through a layer of beach sand, and

SPIRACTORS — From the brick booster station, background, turbine pumps lift water from a reservoir, and force it through small apertures at the base of the spiractors where lime is added. The lime and water mixture passes through a filtering layer of beach sand and comes out at the top of the cone-shaped spiractors, foreground. This precipitation process softens water, and completes the first phase of water treatment. (Photo by Act. Sgt. P. F. Vandergrift)

Islanders Slice Lejeune's East Coast Race Lead

Marines Salvage One Win In Tri-Game Devil Dog Clash

Running into trouble on their current road trip, the Camp Lejeune Marines salvaged one game during a three-game series against the Devil Dogs of Parris Island, to hold a 4-2 lead in the East Coast Area Title race. Suffering their 11th loss last Tuesday night, 4-1, the locals bounced back with a 10-7 victory over the Islanders, but dropped the final contest, 6-1, with starter Bob Rumer suffering his second loss against 10 wins for the season.

With six games remaining to be played in the title race, three of which will be played at Harry Ag-ganis Field in July, the locals must pick up three wins to insure the crown and the right to host the All-Marine Championships in August. The third Parris Island series will be played July 5, 6, and 7, while the final meeting will take place at the Recruit Depot July 27, 28, and 29.

Unearned Run

With the score knotted at 4-all, the Devil Dogs pushed across an unearned tally in the 10th inning to hand the locals their first defeat in the title race, 5-4.

Shortstop Jim Green, playing for Charlie Armstrong who did not start in the initial game, doubled his first time at bat, and later scored to send the locals into the lead, on a single by second baseman Barry Fullerton.

After the Islanders bounced back to take a 2-1 lead, Lejeune center-fielder Cliff Simpson tied the game in the fifth inning with a solo homer, his second of the season. First baseman Hal Norton followed Simpson's clout with a double and scored ahead of Fullerton, who smashed his seventh home run of the season and forged the Marines into a 4-2 edge.

Home runs by second baseman Curt Salyer in the eighth and Catcher George Uremovich in the final frame forced the game into extra innings. Salyer singled to send Lejeune's Haywood to the showers and following an intentional walk and an error scored from third on a high throw to the plate.

The Marines bounced back the following night to grab the middle game, 10-7, but were unable to contain the fiery Islanders as the Devil Dogs picked up the third contest, 6-1.

Both teams collected seven safeties in the game, but the Islanders out-scored the locals, picking up one in the first and exploding for five in the fourth, while Lejeune scored their lone run in the seventh frame.

Locals Ready For Virginians Here Monday

With six consecutive wins over the Ft. Lee Travelers, the Camp Lejeune Marines will attempt to make it eight straight when they return home to meet the Virginians, June 20 and 21, after an extensive road trip which took them to Parris Island, Georgia State Penitentiary, Ft. McPherson and Ft. Gordon.

The Marines scored a 19-2 victory over the Penitentiary, picking up win number 40 against 12 defeats. Results of the remaining games played at Ft. McPherson and Ft. Gordon were received too late for GLOBE deadline, but will be recapped in next week's publication.

Bill Haywood chalked up his 13th victory against four defeats as the Marines downed the Ft. McPherson nine, 6-2, to open up their three-game series in Georgia. Haywood went the route, allowing only six hits, while giving up three walks and striking out eight. The victory coupled with the Penitentiary win upped the local record to 41-12 with five games remaining on their current road trip.

Simpson Leads Hit Parade

The locals scored two runs in the first frame, added another in the second, two more in the third, and pushed one across in the eighth, while the soldiers who picked up one in the first inning were held scoreless until they pushed another across the plate in the eighth.

Centerfielder Cliff Simpson led the 11-hit attack as he got to starting and losing pitcher Pfister for three safeties in four official trips to the plate. Rightfielder Howie Heiden collected two for five while third baseman Earl Williams, who had five official trips to the plate, was the only starter who failed to get a hit during the victory.

Larrick Hurls One-Hitter As Collier Stars

The 2nd Service Battalion last week continued to perch atop the National League of the 2nd Division's Softball Conference with a 16-1 victory over the 2nd Bn., Eighth Marines, squad. Lynn Larrick held the 2nd Bn., Eighth Marines, team down by pitching a one-hitter with 11 strike-outs. Bob Collier proved to be the big gun at the plate for the league leaders by batting three for four with a home run to help their 16-1 win.

The 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines, moved up into the second place slot when they bested the 2nd Reconnaissance Battalion in a 4-0 win and the 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, ball club with a 20-2 count.

In their first encounter of the week, Bill Lawrence, Gene Stout and Clint Parsons backed up Jim Miloni, the winner hurler, with doubles, and Gene Darling belted a home run to help their conquest. Jim Miloni posted his second win of the week for the 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines, squad when he limited 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, to two runs compared to the 2nd Battalion's 20. Bill Rogalski proved to be a potent scoring punch for the team when he blasted a home run with one man on.

Bulletin

Act-SSgt. Billy Howard of MCB, Camp Lejeune, who earlier shot his way to a new Eastern Division rifle record with an aggregate score of 585x600, picked up fifth place during the All-Marine Pistol Matches held at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. Howard fired a 564 and was seven points from the leader, Act. Sgt. L. M. Hunt, of Marksmanship Training Unit, San Diego, with a 571.

Too Late For Track Team, Olympian Turns To Boxing

Last month, Ray Phillips of Spt. Co. "A," MCB, Camp Lejeune, battled his way onto the Olympic squad during the trials held in the Cow Palace at San Francisco, Calif., along with teammate Percy Price, as the Marines became the only servicemen picked for the team. Although selected as the middleweight entry for the United States to the 1960 Olympics, Phillips looks to the cinder track as his first choice.

Swim Meet

Headquarters Bn., MCB, has proposed a swim meet to be held at 1 p.m., June 28. The meet will be held in Area 2 Pool and will feature the breaststroke, free style, backstroke and butterfly stroke, in both individual and relay races. All interested battalion personnel are encouraged to contact the Special Services Officer at Bldg. 64 or call 7-3165.

Headquarters Battalion Cops Third Straight Softball Title

Headquarters Battalion clinched the American League title for the third consecutive season last week on the strength of a 21-1 victory over 3rd Bn., Second Marines, followed by a 7-0 forfeit victory over Pioneer Battalion. The double victory gave the championship contingent an unblemished 7-0 seasonal log with one game remaining.

to be played. Brian McNaughton captured his sixth victory of the campaign when he set 3rd Bn., Second Marines, down on a two-hitter in last Thursday's encounter. The front-running Headquarters team blasted out 23 hits including a four-for-four performance by Roy Olson, hard-hitting first sacker. Art Andreoli also contributed four hits in six trips to the plate. In their only other scheduled contest of the week, Headquarters Battalion was awarded a forfeit decision over Pioneer Bn. for the failure on the part of the Pioneer team to field an entire ball club.

Service Battalion continued to set the pace in the National League with a 12-3 victory over 2nd Bn., Eighth Marines, and a 3-0 squeaker over 2nd Recon Bn. The pair of victories gave the Service Bn. team a perfect 6-0 record and enabled them to maintain their full game margin over the second place 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines.

Ron Underwood hurled the league-leaders to their first triumph over 2nd Bn., Eighth Marines, on a six-hitter. Underwood helped his cause along in the seventh when he poked a home run with two mates aboard.

Lynn Larrick, ace Service Battalion hurler, turned in another outstanding performance Tuesday when he tossed a one-hit shutout at Recon Battalion. The game, one of the shortest on record in the Division loop, was reeled off in less than one hour. Service Battalion pushed across all three runs in the opening inning and then turned in a sparkling defensive performance for the remainder of the contest.

Sparked by the two-hit hurling of Joe Miloni, 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines, moved past the Recon Bn. entrant with a 4-0 triumph Monday. Miloni struck out seven in posting his third consecutive triumph, and helped his cause effectively with a run-scoring triple in the fifth frame.

The 22-year-old All-Marine champion and Interservice runner-up was a standout thincat at Central High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as an all-around athlete in football, swimming and gymnastics, and would like to get back on the track and prove himself.

After joining the Marine Corps in October, 1957, Phillips was transferred to Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, in Hawaii, upon completion of his recruit training.

Finding out he was too late for the track team try-outs, Phillips reluctantly joined the boxing stable, just to keep in shape. During his three-year stint the scrapper compiled a 39-8 record, including the All-Marine title and runner-up Interservice finish in 1960, before competing in the annual Olympic Trials.

Taking part in the Council International Du-Sports, Military, at Frankfurt, Germany, where the Olympic hopeful saw several of his future opponents, Phillips fought his way to the semi-finals with a one-and-one record.

"As far as those opponents go," says Phillips, "they are really rough fighters, but you can bet I'll be in there scrapping the best I know how."

Both proud and surprised, the fighter left Camp Lejeune yesterday and will travel to Ft. Dix, N. J., where he and his Olympic teammates will begin training for the August event to be held in Rome.

At present, Phillips is undecided as to college or a Marine Corps career after his enlistment has ended, and although no definite remarks were passed, he considers a professional ring career a possibility.

While talking of a ring career, Phillips stated, "There's a lot to learn in this business and it's impossible to learn it all in a few years."

Phillips is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudie Phillips Sr., who reside at 1929 Kinney Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Chilean Relief Funds Sought By President

The President of the United States has appealed to the people of the United States to help the stricken people of Chile. The recent serious earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, followed by tidal waves and floods, have caused a major catastrophe in that country.

The appeal for funds is strictly on a volunteer basis. Military and civilian personnel desiring to contribute to this cause may do so by using a sealed envelope and forwarding it to the local Red Cross chapter. Donor's name, organization and the amount of contribution should be recorded on the inside flap of the envelope.

The Camp Lejeune chapter of the American Red Cross will welcome donations. Donations should be made as soon as possible before July 15.

Division Associations Award Scholarships To Dependents

More than a dozen dependency and merit scholarships costing nearly $15,000 have been awarded by the Marine division associations that will hold their combined reunions in the nation's capital, June 24-26. Most of these have been granted by the 1st Marine Division Association—oldest and largest of the six divisions that figured so prominently in the defeat of Japan during World War II. Most of the other associations have given one or more scholarships.

Funds for this purpose have come from membership dues, special donations, reunion program advertising profits and other sources. The by-laws of each association establish the granting of such scholarships as a basic purpose for existence. Other reasons are the preservation of Marine Corps traditions, honoring their war dead, and preserving the bond of comradeship between persons in the service and those in civil life.

Primarily, the scholarship awards have been made to widows and orphans of Marines who gave their lives fighting for their country. Individual awards have ranged from $200 to $3,750, depending on individual circumstances. Included have been four-year college tuition grants.

Among the recipients of Marine scholarships have been: Patrick C.

Henry, Baton Rouge, La.; Michael R. Wilson, Indio, Calif.; Bettie Lou Wheaton, Dayton, Ohio; Jack C. Selvey, Sacramento, Calif.; Roland L. Jackson, Newark, Del.; Mrs. Verma Maye Rice, Memphis, Tenn.; Donald C. Lee, Oceanside, Calif.; Darla C. Bard, Milwaukee, Wis.; John T. Stittzel, Havelock, N. C.; Judith Porter, Thomasville, N. C.; Mrs. Elizabeth G. Todd, Salem, Ore., and Barbara P. Johnson, Philadelphia, Pa.

Most division associations have scholarship committees which carefully investigate each application before an award is made. Additional scholarships may be announced during the forthcoming reunions, or at any time throughout the year.

More information about each association's scholarship program, and about the reunions can be obtained by writing the individual division representatives as follows: 1st, Edwin C. Clarke, Box 84, Alexandria, Va.; 2nd, J. E. Howarth Jr., 4116 Lorcom Lane, Arlington, Va.; 3rd and 6th, Tom Kelly, 1418 Valley Crest Blvd., Annandale, Va.; 4th, Mortimer Doyle, 1319 18th St. N.W., Washington, D. C.; 5th, Joseph R. Fisher, 2316 N. Kensington, Arlington, Va.

Division Units Participate In TRAMID - 60

A 2nd Division battalion landing team left here Friday to participate in TRAMID-60 in the Norfolk, Va. area. TRAMID-60 involves the training of second class midshipmen from the Naval Academy in the fundamentals of amphibious assault.

Commanded by Lt. Col. R. C. Peck, the battalion landing team is composed of the 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, and elements of the Tenth Marines; 2nd AT Battalion; 2nd Pioneer Battalion; 2nd Service Battalion; 2nd Motor Transport Battalion, and the 2nd AmTrac Battalion.

The force embarked on the LST's Grant City and Waldo County at Morehead City.

The highlight of the exercise will be an amphibious assault demonstration staged at Pendleton Beach, near Virginia Beach. Midshipmen and Landing Force Training elements will then integrate with the BLT for a week of joint training as a Provisional Landing Force. The Force will then participate in a joint exercise landing.

The battalion landing team is scheduled to return to Morehead City and Camp Lejeune on June 24.

NELM Troops Return Home From Mediterranean Cruise

Eighteen hundred Marines of the reinforced 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, returned to Camp Lejeune Sunday after a five-month tour of duty in the Mediterranean. Over 300 dependents were on hand in the Battalion area to greet the Marines returning from their deployment with the Sixth Fleet. The battalion commanded by Lt. Col. George Codrea, assumed duties as the landing force of the Sixth Fleet at Rota, Spain, in late January.

First port of call for the touring Marines was Toulon and Hyeres, France where many of the men took tours to the French Alps, Nice and Paris.

Settling down to the task of the landing force of the Fleet, the Marines next made a combined amphibious and heli-lift landing in Sardinia. Main objective of the landing was to test the off-loading plans of the battalion.

Following the four-day problem, the Camp Lejeune-based Marines visited Palermo, Sicily, with its many ancient cathedrals. After reaching Naples, many men of the battalion took advantage of a three-day tour to Rome. Also popular with the Marines was a one-day tour which took in the ancient city of Pompeii and the resort city of Sorrento.

Next came a training problem on the island of Crete. Bad weather caused a change in plans and the operation was canceled a three days of rain and rough seas.

The island of Rhodes, fast becoming a top attraction in the Mediterranean, was next for the Marines. Following a week's stay at the picturesque island, the battalion visited the historic city of Athens. Top feature in the Greek city was a trip to the world famous Acropolis.

Another combined amphibious heli-lift landing on the South shore of the Mediterranean in Bomba, Lybia, followed. Object of the problem was to form an armored column and advance the heli-lifted troops inland in shortest time possible.

For the next two weeks the battalion was split with one group spending liberty at Genoa, Italy, and the other at Leghorn. During their stay in the Italian ports the Med-Marines were offered tours of Paris, Rome, Venice, Florence, a ski tour to the Italian Alps.

For the last training exercise the cruise the battalion returned to Sardinia for a NATO exercise. Participating with the Marines were ships of the Italian Navy and elements of the Sixth Fleet. The cruiser Des Moines, flagship of the Sixth Fleet, was called for supporting fire during the problem.

Last port of call for the Marines was Barcelona, Spain. The first interest of most Marines upon entering port was obtaining a good seat for the Sunday bull fight.

GLOBE Salutes Hospital Corpsmen on 62nd Anniversary

Highly Trained Medical Men Save Lives Of Marines In Wartime And In Peace

Of every 100 men of the United States Navy and Marine Corps who were wounded in World War II, 97 recovered. That is a record unequaled anywhere, anytime. Every individual who was thus saved from death owes an everlasting debt to the Navy's Hospital Corps as they celebrate tomorrow, June 17, the 62nd anniversary of their Corps.

That others might live, corpsmen have given their lives. Eight hundred and eighty-nine were killed or mortally wounded in the Second World War. Others died as heroically from diseases they were trying to combat. The Corps' casualty list contains many hundreds of names, an honor roll of distinction because none among them bore arms.

The Hospital Corpsmen saved lives on all the beaches that the Marines stormed. Corpsmen were at the forefront of every invasion, in all the actions at sea, on all carrier decks. They were on their own in submarines and smaller ships of the fleet, performing emergency surgery at times when they had to take the fearsome responsibility of trying to save a life by heroic means or see the patient die.

On Iwo Jima, the percentage of casualties among the corpsmen was greater than the proportion of losses among the Marines. Two corpsmen who gave their lives in that battle and were posthumously cited for the Medal of Honor.

There will always be the sick and the injured, and there will always be need for trained personnel to help restore them. The Navy's busy laboratories are forever engaging in research to combat disease, to speed the healing of torn flesh and broken bones, to devise new aids for the maimed to lead a normal life.

It is no easy profession, even in peacetime. There is danger in the test tubes and culture racks as menacing as in the guns of an unvanquished enemy. The Hospital Corps is never at peace. It is forever on the firing line in the ceaseless war against disease and premature death.

From the beginning of the Navy, it was found necessary to make provisions for the care of the sick and injured. An act of Congress in 1799 provided: "A convenient place shall be set apart for the sick and hurt men, to which they are to be removed, and some of the crew shall be appointed to attend them."

That portion of the ship assigned for the care of the sick was designated as the cockpit. It was usually located in the forward part of the vessel, below the water line as a protection from shot and shell. The cockpit was referred to as the

"sick birth" and later years it became known as the "sickbay."

In 1814, Navy Regulations referred to the "loblolly boy" who was to serve the surgeon and the surgeon's mate. The loblolly boy was, before the battle, to provide the cockpit with water, containers for amputated limbs, braziers of charcoal for heating the irons to sear the stumps caused by amputations, and for heating tar with which to stop hemorrhage.

So far as can be determined, the surgeon's steward suspended the loblolly boy. The pay of the surgeon's steward is first listed as being $18 per month and one ration.

In 1863 an order of the Navy Department allowed male nurses on receiving ships in number proportionate to the necessities of the case. An order of the Navy Department dated December 8, 1866, reads: "The designation of persons serving as surgeon's stewards is changed to that of Apothecary."

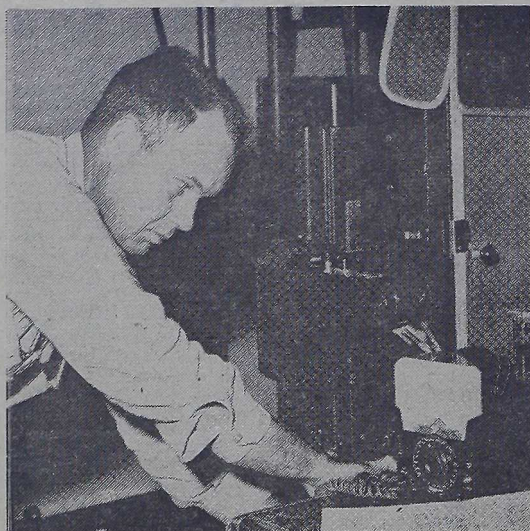

About the year 1873, the title was changed to that of bayman.

The Secretary of the Navy appointed 25 senior apothecaries of the Navy as pharmacists. These original 25 are rightfully referred to the charter members of the Hospital Corps.

In the course of World War women were first brought into the Hospital Corps. On January 1, 1944, the first Hospital Corpsman for WAVES was commissioned the U. S. Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md. A law of the 80th Congress approved June 12, 1948, made WAVES an integral part of the Navy.

A total of 15 enlisted sailors were awarded the Medal of Honor during World War II. Of this number seven were Hospital Corpsmen. The mission of the Hospital Corps is to give on land, at sea and in the air, intelligent, capable and efficient assistance to Medical Officers in the eternal war against disease, injury and death.

Wherever you find the Navy wherever you find the Marines, there you will find the Hospital Corps.

MASTER MECHANIC—HMT J. H. Swann, medical repair technician, is one of the most highly trained corpsmen at the Camp Lejeune Naval Hospital. Formerly an X-ray technician, Swann finished, a few months ago, a 50-week school in which he learned to repair efficiently any equipment used in the hospital, from a simple stethoscope to the most complicated electronic and X-ray machines. ## Used-Car Dealer Tricks Tempt Unwary Buyers

The Glove Compartment Trick: This Virginia car purchaser read the original contract but did not read the six or seven papers which he was told were duplicates. After car repairs had been made, he returned to the office and asked for his copy of the contract. He was told that he would find it in the glove compartment. When he saw a sealed envelope there, he didn't open it because it was now after dark and he couldn't read it without returning to the office. He opened it as soon as he got home. He found the price of the car changed from $2,295 to $2,595. His monthly payments had been increased from $63 to $78.64 a month. He found he had been charged $254.41 for credit life insurance which he had specifically told the dealer he didn't want. The final straw was a $400 pick-up payment, payable four days after he bought the car.

The Switched Car Trick: A visitor made a $400 down payment on a 1956 Ford. The salesman told him that he could not get the insurance on the Ford that night and did not have a spare tire or jack available for it at that time. He said he would take care of those things the next day. Meanwhile, he suggested that the visitor take a 1951 Buick for transportation overnight. The salesman wrote out a car order and a bill of sale for the Buick for the visitor to sign "in case he was picked up by the police." The next day, the visitor drove the Buick back to the lot and asked for the Ford. He was told, "You didn't buy a Ford, you bought this Buick."

The Verbal Assurances Trick: A man paid $300 on what he thought was an all-cash deal. He noticed on the contract a provision for eight payments of $50 each. When he asked about them he was told that some earlier customer had owed that but he wasn't to pay any attention to it. He didn't until he found he couldn't get the title to the car until he paid another $400.

The tricks are endless. There's the one about the stenographer being out to lunch. The purchaser in a hurry is told to sign his name to the contract and the stenographer will type it up when she comes back. The terms of the completed contract bear little resemblance to what the purchaser bargained for, but his signature is on it.

One contract in the complaint files featured a scrawl so tiny you couldn't read it without a magnifying glass. It was further obscured by the fact that it was written across a dark line separating one set of provisions from another. Under a magnifying glass, it showed up as "pick-up payment, $600." The customer didn't even know it until his car was repossessed for failure to pay it.

The Broken Pencil Trick: If the arithmetic on the contract looks odd and you take out a pencil to figure it up for yourself, the salesman will borrow the pencil and break the point before you get to the final addition.

The most frequently reported gimmick is the practice of folding over the contract or obscuring it with another piece of paper so that all the purchaser sees is the line for his signature.

Most often covered is this warning that the District requires every dealer to put on his conditional sales agreement above the customer's signature:

"Notice to Purchaser: It is against the law for the seller to permit or request you to sign this document before all blanks above have been filled in by the seller and he has signed this paper certifying that the above information is correct."

"Baymen (formerly called nurses) are personal attendants on the sick. Baymen shall be given a course of instruction on board the receiving ship or at a naval hospital before being drafted for service on a seagoing ship."

The Hospital Corps as it exists today came into being as an organized unit of the Medical Department under the provisions of an act of Congress, approved June 17, 1893. In accordance with this act, hospital Corpsman. In time of peace he toils unceasingly, day and night, often in routine monotonous duties. In time of war, he is on the beaches with the Marines, on the front battle lines, and on all types of ships, submarines and landing craft. Wherever medical service may be required, the Hospital Corpsman is there, prepared to serve his country and his fellow man above and beyond the call of duty.

SURGEON'S THIRD HAND—Assistance in surgery is one of the more specialized duties of Hospital Corpsmen. To qualify as a "scrub corpsman"—one who scrubs his hands for 10 minutes before entering the operating room—the man must complete six months of training in operating room technique and be above average in emotional stability. (Photo by LCpl. G. H. McIntyre)

'Mess Night' Held By Bravo Battery Staffs
The staff non-commissioned officers of Bravo Btry., 1st Bn., Tenth Marines, conducted a "mess night" June 5 in the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club with Col. C. A. Youngdale, regimental commander, as guest of honor.
The "mess night," first of its kind to be held on a battery level in the Tenth Marines, met with such success that it has been decided to include the practice as a part of the battery tradition. Mess night, an old English military custom, was designed to promote camaraderie and fellowship among the troops of the command.
GySgt. J. T. Michel, acting as president of the affair, led the 25 staff NCOs and guests in toasting country and Corps. Assisting in the planning and programming of the mess night and acting as vice-president of the evening's proceedings was SSgt. E. P. Bond.

on Gallons Of Water Daily, Never Runs Dry

to the water. Lime raises the alkalinity of the water by adding dissolved calcium and iron deposits to become insoluble. These solid calcium and iron deposits stick to the grains of sand when swirling water brings them in contact with each other.

With this precipitation process, iron and calcium cling to the grains of sand the same way a pearl grows in an oyster by collecting foreign bodies.

At the top of the spiractor cones, the water now flows out to a settling basin, and then into five rapid sand and gravity type filters. These filters remove turbidity, lime and iron remaining after the softening process.

The water, now ready for consumption, goes into two underground reservoirs with a combined capacity to hold almost three million gallons, where it is distributed by high lift service pumps as needed. The average consumption rate at Camp Lejeune is 3,500 gallons per minute. Of course, the consumer needle jumps higher about 6:30 a.m. when folks start taking showers and perking coffee, and drops after bedtime.

Sturdy fences surround each water plant, and rigid security regulations are enforced now, and would be intensified during a national emergency or war. It doesn't take a valedictorian to figure out the havoc that would be created if a handful of capsules, containing live cholera germs, were thrown into a filter tank.

Mr. Barker says the only thing that ever fell into his tanks was a Woman Marine who zigged when she should have zagged. It was in 1945 and she was assigned there to take water samples for lab analysis.

"I looked out the window," Barker recalls, "and there she was in one of the settling basins, holding on for life. She couldn't swim, and the basins are 15 feet deep. After we pulled her out, I don't think she took samples there any more."

Several years ago, after a hurricane had knocked out all electrical power and washed out a section of an 18-inch raw water main, gasoline powered auxiliary pumps kept the water flowing.

When the damaged main was fixed and power finally restored, all reserve water in the five checker-board tower tanks had vanished, and scarcely two feet remained in the fresh water reservoir.

Chemist Justice said the water here is as good as a highly regarded mineral water now being sold to health cults at substantial prices. One difference is that the popular mineral water flows through underground deposits of magnesium sulfate heptahydrate.

In every-day language, that's Epsom salts.

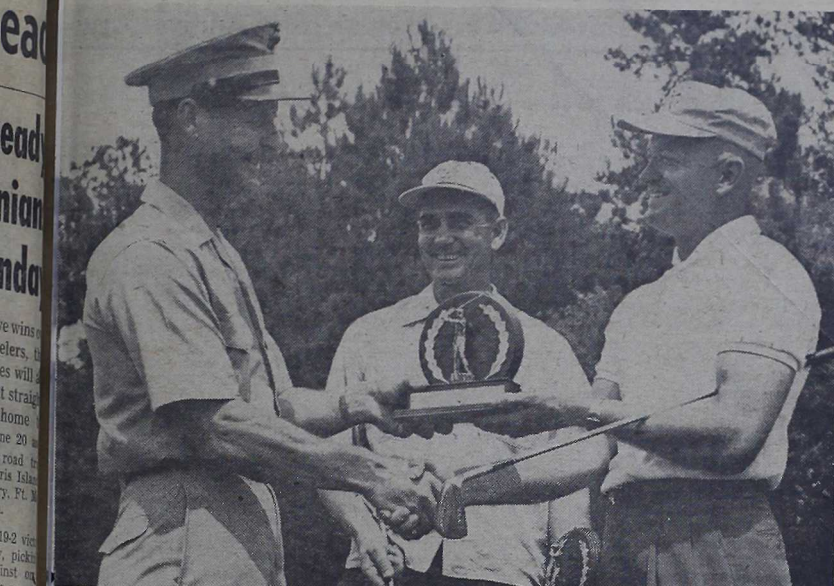

IMMACULATE — Final phase of water treatment occurs in this spotless room where five rapid sand and gravity type filters remove turbidity, lime and iron remaining after the softening process in the spiractors. After water completes this cycle, it is stored in fresh water tanks to be consumed at the rate of 3,500 gallons per minute. (Photo by Act. Sgt. P. F. Vandergriff)

Monthly Contest Winners From Riseley Pier Named

King mackerel have been showing up in good numbers off the end of Riseley Pier during the past weeks. A total of eight were landed and over twice that number were hooked and kept. Cpl. Tom Ebey tops this month's contest with his king mackerel that tipped the scales at 30 pounds, 14 ounces. Corporal Ebey landed this beauty using live blue fish for bait. Later the same day a 19-pounder was hooked and landed.

The blues have been around in fair numbers all last week hitting both shrimp, on a glow ball rig, and plugs.

Headquarters Force Troops Get First Win

Fast action on the Force Troops baseball diamond has brought Headquarters Company out of its losing streak.

Headquarters nine routed the Marine Air Group 26 team 7-5 for its first win of the season and then went on to triumph over the 8th Communications Battalion 5-2.

MAG-26, after reuniting its forces, came back at Headquarters 9-0 and defeated them 8-0 for their third win over the Headquarters nine. Scores in their other two wins were 6-3 and 2-1.

Communications Battalion took two games from MAG-26, 5-3 and 4-0, and also stole one from Headquarters 11-5.

Present league standings put the diamond nine from 8th Communications Battalion in the lead with three wins and one loss. Second-place MAG-26 has a record of three and three, while Headquarters Co. is last with a season record of two and four.

Second Force Regiment Remains On Top In 1960 Intramural Baseball Action Here

Breaking a 3-3 deadlock in the eighth inning, the Servicemen of 2nd Force Service Regiment scored four runs to win over Infantry Training Regiment 7-4 for their sixth win of the season against only two setbacks. In other games of the week's action, 2nd Force Service Regiment edged Marine Corps Supply School for their seventh victory, and Headquarters Battalion insured their second place spot with an 8-3 victory over Infantry Training Regiment.

Servicemen's Don Fenton picked up his fourth victory during the ITR win, allowing seven hits, two walks and struck out two, while working on one and one-third innings in relief of starter Dick Albany.

Catcher Joe Dunn and first baseman Jim Riley continued to be the big men at the plate, each collecting two hits and teammates center-fielder Dave Snyder, second sacker Ken Carroll and shortstop Bud Cuppett each adding a hit to the cause.

Don Slade went the distance for the Training Regiment, allowing

Two-Game Exhibition Series Set For Base Boys League

After an earlier loss, the Orioles of the Pony League finished up the first half of the Camp Lejeune's Boys League in good fashion with a 12-6 victory over the Athletics.

West Aurin pitched a seven-hitter in picking up the win, while Willie Pollack smashed a three-run homer for the birds in the 12-run route. Martin Baker gave up only five hits, suffering the loss.

The earlier loss for the birds came at the hands of the Indians. Steve Mahilack hurled a three-hitter as his teammates scalped the Orioles, 4-2. The Indians collected 10 hits during the contest and took advantage of two miscues.

In other Pony League action, the Tigers edged the Indians, 1-0, moving into a tie for second place as the first half ended. McKeon gave up only one hit, going the route for the win as Fox suffered the loss after throwing six-hit ball.

Recruit Depot Marines Join Tennis Team

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 20 — Jack Douglas and John Cranston, the Marine Corps Recruit Depot's two Davis Cup hopefuls and the newly-crowned California State Champions, will represent the Marine Corps in the 1960 World Tennis Championship in Wimbledon, England, next month.

The two Marine netters, the backbone of a San Diego Marine team that may very well be the single strongest military tennis unit ever assembled, will leave next week for the mid-June Wimbledon tournament and the scattering of warm-up tourneys that precede it.

The Leatherneck pair, neither of whom are strangers to Wimbledon, were granted permission to attend the World Championships by Headquarters Marine Corps following their impressive California championship last weekend.

Perry T. Jones, president of the Southern California Lawn Tennis Association and the 1958-59 captain of the United States Davis Cup squad, previously requested the presence of the pair at Wimbledon—one of the world's three major championships.

Lady Golfers Hold Tourney

Remaining in her winning ways, Phyl Anderson of the Women's Golf Association of Camp Lejeune copped the "A" flight honors during a Blind Poker Hand Tournament played at the Paradise Point Golf Course June 7.

Anderson carded a full house while Lil Landrigan picked up three fours for first place finish in "B" Flight. "C" Flight went to Maxine Switzer with three fives, and Betty Bellamy scored three sixes for "D" Flight honors.

Betty Lawson took least putts when she shot 14 for nine holes.

Sunday, June 19, four teams representing Swansboro's and Camp Lejeune Boys Leagues will play an exhibition double header, beginning at 1 p.m. All boys registered in the Major League desiring to play, are requested to report to the field Saturday, June 18, at 9 a.m. for practice and selection.

With a 1-0 victory over the Dodgers, Sunday, the Braves moved into a first place tie with the Pirates to conclude the first half. Jackson picked up the win, allowing only one hit, with Wander, throwing a four-hitter, suffering the defeat.

Exhibition Game

Sunday the Pirates journeyed to the Little League diamond in Jacksonville for an exhibition game with the Jacksonville League leading Chamber of Commerce team. The Jacksonville boys got to M. Baker for five runs in the first and second innings as Rex Woolbridge was called to the mound with the bases loaded and none out. Woolbridge struck out the side and went on to hurl no-hit, no-run ball for the remaining six innings.

In other action in the Major League, the Pirates downed the Braves, 8-2; the Cardinals defeated the Dodgers, 7-1; the Giants swamped the Cardinals, 13-1; the Cubs downed the Cardinals, 7-2; the Braves beat the Dodgers, 10-2; and the Cubs picked up their fourth straight win with a 13-5 victory over the Pirates.

Troop No. 90 Completes Summer Camping Sites

The summer camp sites for Boy Scout Troop 90 have been set up at the camping area near the Camp High School. Using the natural resources of the area and their Scout equipment, the three patrols chose their areas and went to work setting up the tents, lean-tos and fire circles for their outdoor homes. Arctic Fox Patrol, con-ting of Carl Grussendorf, assistant patrol leader, and Doug Turney, Troop Scribe, built lean-tos for sleeping purposes, and a special grate for their outdoor cooking. The leader of the patrol, Richard Funk, an expert on snakes in this area, has captured over 200 snakes, including black, and king snakes in the past two years.

The Blue Shark Patrol set up individual tents for its boys. Buck Pearson, the patrol leader, and James "03" DeGrotte, set up hammocks, while Brian Allen, the patrol's quartermaster, helped collect the canoes for the class held here.

Toby Tyler, mascot for the troop, enjoyed lounging in the second story of the most unusual of the shelters, a two-story tepee. Jolly Jager's patrol leader, David Turney, and the boys of the patrol, Budbar and Bruce and Doug Ettenborough, used young trees, camouflage canvas, and rope to build the biggest of the troop's summer homes.

Although many of the troop's active members were on leave for this trip, the 14 boys who did not won't forget it in a hurry. One of the highlights of the outing was the class in water safety and canoeing. After learning how to handle the canoes, the boys were allowed to check them out, and soon were racing along the shoreline.

Maj. J. D. Spaulding, Scoutmaster of the troop, Tom Pearson, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, and Troop Scribe, John Pollack, acted as advisors to the boys.

This was one of many camping trips made by the troop. They try to have at least one overnight trip each month. The trips are a fine opportunity for the boys to learn to live off the land. They are taught to recognize edible plants, and set snares to catch small game. These trips are part of the Scouting program for boys from Cub Scouts to Eagles.

Camp School Begins Its Summer Sessions

The Camp Summer Schools are now in session. These summer sessions afford an excellent opportunity for all students to strengthen subjects which were poor or unsatisfactory during the regular school year.

The schedules for the summer sessions are not as demanding, and smaller classes make it possible for the teachers to give more attention to the students. Summer School began on Monday, June 13, and will continue until July 22.

Classes are being held at the Camp High School, the Tarawa Terrace School, and the Midway Park School. The Stone Street and Montford Point schools will be closed this summer.

At the High School the courses taught are English 1, 2 and 3, Biology, Health Education, Algebra, and General Mathematics for the ninth through 12th grades. English, Science, Mathematics, Social Studies for the 7th and 8th grades, and a general academic course for the fifth and sixth grade students are being taught.

The Tarawa Terrace School is also handling a general academic course for the first through sixth grades. These general academic courses consist of Reading, Writing, Spelling and Arithmetic.

Midway Park's Summer School program covers the first through fourth grades.

Children from Paradise Point, Tarawa Terrace I, Midway Park, Camp Geiger, and the Air Facility are attending Summer School at the Midway Park School.

The classes begin at 8:30 in the morning and are dismissed at 12:30 or 1:45, depending on the number of classes.

Further information can be obtained from the Camp High School at 2-2144.

Terrace Staff Wives Hold Square Dance

The Tarawa Terrace Staff Wives Club will hold a square dance and covered dish dinner at the Community Center tonight at 8:15 p.m. All wives and their husbands are invited.

Western attire is the dress for the evening and all participants are requested to dress accordingly. Wives should bring a covered dish for the occasion.

If in doubt as to what to bring, call Mrs. Robert Kristof at JAX 241 for information.

Mrs. Dominick Anzilotti, club treasurer, has announced that all dues must be paid by the first meeting in July. Only those members with their dues paid will be permitted to vote in the annual election of officers to be held at a later date.
