Marine Veterans To Meet In Washington June 24-26

The largest number of Marine Corps veterans ever to assemble in one place will meet in Washington, D. C., June 24-26 for the Fleet Marine Force Concurrent Reunions. The 2nd Division Association will have headquarters for its 11th annual reunion in the Hotel Washington. The associations of the 1st, 3rd, 4th, and 5th Marine Divisions will be meeting in the Nation's Capital at the same time. During the three-day meeting the associations will be holding separate reunions but will have joint meetings each day for banquets, witnessing modern Marine Corps tactics demonstration, and memorial services at the Marine Corps Monument.

Accommodations have been arranged at the Hotel Washington for the 2nd Division Association's members and guests. No room charges will be made for children under 15 years of age, making it possible for Marine veterans to make the reunion a family affair.

Maj. J. M. Terry Jr., the 2nd Division Association liaison officer at Camp Lejeune, asks all personnel interested in joining the Association to contact him at Division G-4, Bldg. 2, during normal working hours.

Major Terry emphasized that membership in the Association is not a requirement for attending the reunion. Anyone who has ever served with the 2nd Division or attached units may attend. The Division reunions give Marines and Marine veterans throughout the nation an opportunity to meet friends they served with in the "Old Corps." If you wish to attend, contact Major Terry now to assure reservation.

Main PX Will Present New Display Today

Central Marine Corps Exchange Bldg. 84, will present today the first in a series of window displays commemorating special events in the history and present day activities of the Marine Corps. Equipment dummy figures in appropriate dress, and other suitable items will highlight each display.

The scene which appears today is presented as a prelude to the Concurrent Reunion of the Marine Corps Division Associations. The Reunion, scheduled to be held in Washington, D. C., June 24-26, is for veterans of all the Divisions which fought in World War II. Symbols of each of the Divisions will appear in the display.

The first display will remain in the window for a week. The exhibit will be lighted at night for those who cannot visit the exchange during the day. Other displays will be in the window for varying lengths of time, depending on the frequency of events to be depicted.

Applications for recruiting duty from former recruiters are desired. Those who have completed a tour of recruiting duty within the preceding five years will not normally be required to attend recruiting school.

Male volunteers for recruiting duty must be in pay grade E-5 or above although outstanding Marines in pay grade E-4 will be considered. Woman Marines must be in pay grade E-3 or above.

Applicants must have 24 months obligated service or agree to extend for that period. A GCT score of 100 or more is required. The minimum age requirement is 21.

Non-volunteers selected by commanding officers will be in pay grades E-6 or E-7 and must have 24 months' obligated service.

Personnel who decline nomination to recruiting duty will not be permitted to extend their present enlistment. In the event that they reenlist, they will not be reappointed to a rank above pay grade E-4 for male Marines or E-3 for Woman Marines.

Complete information regarding assignment to recruiters school may be found in Marine Corps Order 1300.9C.

Proper Military Courtesy Can Turn Resignation Into Positive Outlook

When is a Marine at his best? As we go about our duties day after day, we sometimes fail to be aware of our finest talents. We tend to take things for granted. We may not realize that we are capable of better effort.

If our efforts do not meet with success, we easily attribute it to a fault that is not our own. But with a bit of determined effort, and a check of our incentive, we could turn a resigned attitude into a positive outlook.

At times an enlisted man will render an officer a poor salute. When speaking to a senior member of the service, we occasionally overlook the status of his rank, or take no account of his age and experience. Then we wonder why he, in turn, shows us no respect.

A simple thing like putting an extra sharp press into our uniform can often do wonders for our attitude. Giving and receiving a snappy salute, with the accompanying "Good morning, Sir!" heightens that glow of pride so well associated with our Corps.

Some men and women in uniform are at their best during a parade or ceremony. They feel the elation of the marching music and the importance of participation.

Others excel when performing their specific assignments, always striving for improvement in their way of doing things. Certain Marines sparkle the most when they go home on leave. They feel that special importance of their uniform and their unit, and enjoy relating their experiences to their families and friends first-hand.

No matter what part of your military service brings out the best in you, remember to enlarge upon that quality. Let your best characteristics influence everything you do. Let others see that you know how to be a good Marine.

Insect Spraying Calls For Caution

With the arrival of summer, insects become more prevalent than ever. This means that heavy doses of insecticides must be used to keep these pests under control.

The operators of the spray trucks try to avoid tying up traffic along their assigned spraying routes by keeping their trucks as far over on their side of the roadways as possible.

Sometimes, however, these drivers are unavoidably obliged to block traffic or otherwise hinder the view of motor car operators by reason of the insect spray.

This is hazardous enough, but not nearly as hazardous as children carrying on their play activities in the immediate vicinity of the spraying.

Aside from possible harmful effects as a result of breathing the fumes, the spray constitutes a definite traffic hazard when the children run onto the street into the path of on-coming motorists whose vision is quite often hampered by the spray clouds.

Parents are, therefore, urged to restrain their children from playing near the spray trucks when the latter are in their vicinity. In doing so they may help to prevent a serious accident from occurring to any one of them.

Christians Must Not Be Average

Our fast changing world leaves most of us dizzy as we try to keep up with everything that is happening around us. Each day new gadgets are invented to make life easier; pills are perfected to add years to our life span, and tensions build up and others relax on the world scene. This causes the average person to find his place with everyone else in these changing times.

When this principle is applied to our Christian heritage and faith the question is automatically asked, is there such a thing as a normal Christian? Being normal or average tends to make us mentally and spiritually lazy and our daily changing world has no place for this. Every great invention that has changed our way of living has come about because someone wasn't satisfied with the normal conditions of his day.

When Christ came into the world He saw very quickly that the faith and spiritual attitudes of the average man were not sufficient to satisfy the spiritual needs of his generation. Jesus therefore called for a faith and a devotion which would require more than the normal spiritual insight. If necessary, men were to walk the second mile, turn the other cheek, pray for their enemies, and even choose Him above the other desires of this life. This was so different and challenging to men that he was called a revolutionary by His contemporaries, but still they could not doubt the truth of His words.

The teachings of Christianity call for men and women who dare to be different for Christ's sake. Let us, as our forefathers, dare to be as Daniel, firm, and above what is normally expected of us.

—Jeff P. Cheatham Jr.,
Division Chaplain.

If You Ask Me:

WHO IN YOUR OPINION WAS THE GREATEST BASEBALL PLAYER OF ALL TIME?

ACT. SGT. HAL NORTON, Spt. Co. "B," Hq. Bn., MCB — I would say Lou Gehrig.

He played ball in the shadow of a great man, Babe Ruth, and he never complained about it. He set a record for the most consecutive games played and it still stands today. Gehrig was a great hitter, a great first baseman and a great competitor.

ASSISTANT FIRE CHIEF GEORGE L. SHAFFER, Camp Lejeune Fire Department — To my mind, Joe Di Maggio was the greatest. He was always a good ball player and one of the best drawing cards the Yankees ever had. He was always a gentleman. He never got into any trouble with the umpires. His all-around ability as a ball player —his sportsmanlike conduct never involved him in a scandal of any kind. He will always be remembered for his 56-game hitting streak while with the Yankees, which will probably hold up as long as Ruth's 60 homers.

PFC JACK ANDERSON, Hq. Co., Force Troops — The greatest ball player of all time, in my opinion, was Ty Cobb. He has held almost every record in baseball and was considered the greatest all-around player in baseball by many. He could run, hit, throw and play many positions, making him an immortal to many of his cheering fans.

PFC JAMES L. APPLEN, Spt. Co. "B," Hq. Bn., MCB — I would nominate Babe Ruth as the greatest ball player of all time. He could play any position on the field and play it well. He set records that have yet to be equaled, such as the most home runs of any player in the Major Leagues, runs batted in during one season and he was a great promoter of Little League baseball.

LCPL JAMES L. LIVERGOOD, Spt. Co. "B," Hq. Bn., MCB — My choice is Ty Cobb. He was the greatest hitter that ever played Major League ball. His base hits totaled more than any other player, and his record will never be beaten. He holds the record for the most stolen bases in one season—96—and the highest composite lifetime batting average in the history of Major League baseball.

The Commandant of the Marine Corps has authorized the Recruit Depots at San Diego and Parris Island to increase by five points the composite score of those drill instructors in pay grade E-4 who demonstrate outstanding effectiveness in the performance of their duties. Purpose of the plan is to make more equitable the promotion possibility of the lower-ranking drill instructor with that of his senior brother, who receives a notation of his duty effectiveness on his semi-annual fitness reports.

The Marine Corps has formally asked Congress to end the Supply Duty Only category for officers, according to Navy Times. Under the proposed bill, 401 SDO officers would be reassigned as unrestricted officers. Present supply functions require officers with a broad background of command and staff experience, Navy Times said. But SDO officers can't get the line type of assignment needed to integrate supply function within the combat structure of the Marine Corps. The bill assures fair promotion opportunities through the first promotion after redesignation for all present SDO's.

Locals On 10-Game Road Trip, Face Travelers Here June 20

"It'll be a long road trip and we'll play a lot of good teams," said Lejeune's baseball coach Hal Glasgow as the team loaded their bus Monday, heading to Parris Island to begin a two-week road skein. A three-game series at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot starts off a 10-game trip during which time the Marines will face such teams as Parris Island, Georgia Federal Penitentiary, Ft. McPherson and Ft. Gordon before returning home for a two-game set with the Ft. Lee Travelers on June 20 and 21. Carrying a 38-10 record with them, the most important series will be that with Parris Island for the East Coast Area Title. Lejeune currently holds a three-game edge in the race with three victories over the Islanders, last April. With nine games remaining in the race, the locals must win at least four to win the Area title and gain the right to host the All-Marine Championships here in August. During last week's action, the Signalers of Fort Gordon, behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Angel, handed the Camp Lejeune Marines their tenth loss of the season, as against 37 wins, snapping a 12-game win skien, here, Thursday night, 4-1.

The visitors picked up two runs in the second inning off of starting and losing pitcher Wayne Taylor and added two more with a two-out, two-run home run off of reliever Thad McCollum.

Picking up one run in the third inning the locals were held hitless for four innings before second sacker Barry Fullerton slapped a two-out double in the seventh with first baseman Hal Norton, who had previously walked, scampering to third. The Marines failed to take advantage of the situation as right-fielder Howie Heiden, lifted what looked to be the sacrifice fly which would tie the game, but a perfect throw to the plate from the Signalers' rightfielder cut down Norton attempting to score.

Trailing 4-1, with two out in the ninth, Catcher Hank Nichols walked and moved to second on a single by pinch-hitter Dave Petros, but the rally was squelched as Angel forced pinch-hitter Bruce Forst into an infield pop-up to retire the side and secure the win.

The locals bounced back and trounced the Georgians 14-0 with Haywood picking up his 12th win against three losses. The locals picked up three in the second and exploded for six in the sixth, four in the seventh and one in the eighth, to coast to their 38th victory.

No Contest

A 15-minute dispute ended with the final game of the series being declared "no contest" by the chief umpire in the fifth inning.

Trailing 6-0 in the fifth, Jim Green, pinch-hitting for Alex Bright, who relieved starting hurler Bob Rumer, walked to lead off the inning. Green moved to second when centerfielder Cliff Simpson also drew a base on balls. Short-stop Charlie Armstrong doubled into right-centerfield to send Green home.

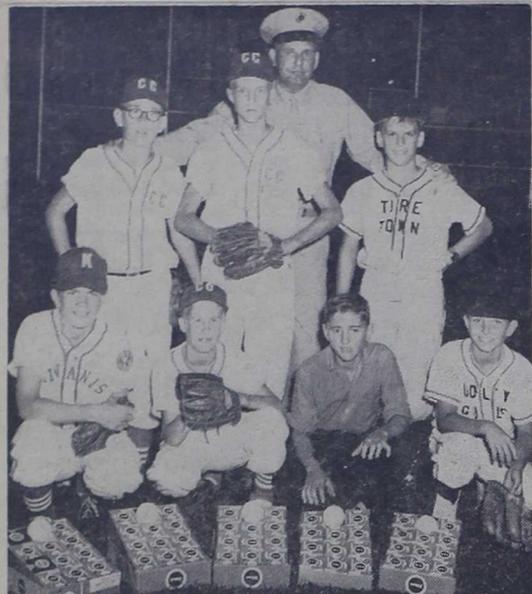

A regular pier-six donnybrook started when base umpire Jim Malloy called Simpson safe at third on the throw-in from centerfield. Every member of the Ft. Gordon team was instantly on the field in hot protest. When the argument seemed to be getting out of hand, the chief umpire called the game "no contest" and ended further play.

Vasko Loses Perfect Game

Behind ace kegler Paul Vasko, Falstaff pulled into a first place tie with Herb Sunshine in the Staff Bowling League, after their 3-1 victory over last week's leaders. Vasko who missed a strike in the initial frame returned with 11 in a row for a 279 to take the lead in High Individual Scratch game. Although suffering a 3-1 defeat from Stiles Van & Storage, D&E Car Exchange remained in undisputed second place. In other action, the Brown Bagger downed Rock and Roll Drive-In, 3-1; Gulfpride Service took three from National Boh; Budweiser scored 3-1 over Courthouse Bay Staff Club and Pioneer American Insurance Company shut out New River Pharmacy, 4-0.

Individual Highs

Individual High: Falstaff—Paul Vasko, 279-697; Herb Sunshine—Lew Nicoletta, 212-623; Stiles Van & Storage—Walt Jones, 194-552; D&E Car Exchange—Regis Ferrie, 195 and Al Eisenhower, 530; Brown Bagger Bar—Pat Rafferty, 191-517; Rock and Roll Drive-In—El Lockett, 208-525; Gulfpride Service—John Bowen, 216-534; National Bohemian—Mike Sirota, 174 and Walt Waldo, 476; Pioneer American Insurance—Bill Myers, 187-541; New River Pharmacy—Bill Forster, 173 and Tony Santoni, 436; Budweiser—Jim MacDonald, 236-538, and Courthouse Bay Staff Club—Ro Roland, 192 and Marv Cook, 503.

Lejeune Takes Sixth Game From Travelers Of Ft. Lee

Sweeping a two-game series on the road against Ft. Lee made it six in a row over the Travelers for the Marines and upped their season record to 37-9. The locals picked up the first victory, 12-2, with righthander Bob Rumer going the route to notch his eighth win of the season against only one defeat. The big righthander gave up five hits, walked six and struck out 11, while scoring two runs himself in the 12-run route.

Centerfielder Cliff Simpson led a 14-hit attack going three for five at the plate including a triple in the seventh inning, as the Marines put together two big innings. The fourth inning saw six locals cross the plate and in the seventh aided by Simpson's three bagger and one by first baseman Hal Norton the Lejeune nine added four more. Lone runs were scored in the third and sixth to round out the scoring.

A bases-loaded walk in the ninth inning by third baseman Earl Williams forced across the winning run as the locals edged the Travelers 9-8 for their 37th victory of the season.

Bill Haywood chalked up his 11th victory in relief of Ron Beime who in turn had relieved starter Charlie Bryan, while Barry Fullerton socked a solo homer in the seventh, his sixth of the year.

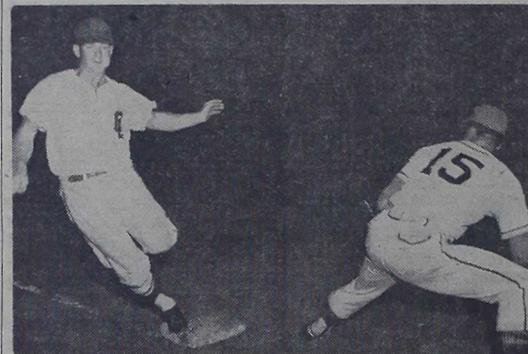

The locals will meet the Travelers at Harry Agganis Field upon their return from the current road trip, for a two-game series on June 20 and 21.

Bulletin

Parris Island pushed across an unearned run in the tenth inning to pick up their first win in four games during the East Coast Area Title race. The Islander defeated the locals Tuesday night 5-4 at Parris Island, with righthander Bill Haywood suffering his fourth loss of the campaign.

Although a low scoring contest, the game was loaded with home runs as the Islanders out-slugged Lejeune 3-2. Second baseman Curt Salyer, catcher George Uremovich and Baycock homered for the victors while Centerfielder Cliff Simpson and second baseman Barry Fullerton collected one homer each for Lejeune. Now with one win the Islanders trail the Marines 3-1 in the best seven out of 12 games for the East Coast Crown.

TAKING THE TURN—Second baseman Barry Fullerton takes the turn at first base and later came in to score as the Marines routed the Signalers of Ft. Gordon, 14-0, after suffering a 4-1 defeat the night before. Righthander Bill Haywood went the distance, giving up only three hits as the Marines, holding a three-run lead in the sixth, exploded for six runs, adding four more in the seventh and one in the eighth, scoring their 38th victory against 10 defeats. Quantico Cindermen Sweep '60 All-Marine Track Meet MCS, QUANTICO, Va., June 4—Quantico's talented thin-clads dominated the 13th Annual All-Marine Track and Field Championships held here this weekend, taking first in 16 of 19 events and accounting for five new All-Marine marks. World record holders Bob Gutowski, pole vault, and Al Cantello, javelin, were both pushed to the limit before they triumphed in their specialties.

Gutowski cleared the bar at 15' to break his own record of 14'7 3/4" which he set last year.

Camp Pendleton's young Jan Sikorsky came within seven inches of upsetting Cantello when he hurled the spear 248'11".

Walt Fillman, former William and Mary star, raced to a 10.3 min in the 100-meter dash to break the old mark of 10.5 set by Herman Thompson of Camp Pendleton in 1956.

Burly Jim Allen, who also won the discus throw, set a new standard in the shot put, hurling the steel ball 54'8" to better by 4 1/2" the old mark set by San Diego's Bob Whitlow.

Middle-distance runner Mike Fleming of Quantico was a record setter and a double winner as well. He won the 800-meter run on the first day of the meet and came back the next day to set a new record for the 1,500-meter distance. His time of 3:48.5 in the 1,500 broke the four-year-old mark of 3:48.9 set by former Kansas great Wes Santee.

Former Villanova star Ed Collymore, now running for Quantico, was another twin-winner and record smasher. The former ICAA sprint champ raced to a 47.7 timing in the 400-meter dash to snap the old mark of 47.8 and also won the 200-meter dash.

Diminutive distance runner Vic Zwolak covered the 5,000-meter distance in 14:24.4 to break by 50 seconds the old mark of 15:15.1 set by little Johnny Kopil in 1959. Zwolak added another first in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, negotiating the distance in 9:31.1.

Camp Pendleton's "Grand Old Man" of All-Marine track, 41-year-old Bill Knuppel, won the Triathlon (pistol shooting, 200-meter swim, two-mile run) for the sixth straight year.

LOADED FOR TROPHIES—Members of the 2nd Marine Division's Rifle and Pistol Team brought trophies galore back to Camp Lejeune when they returned from the Virginia State Rifle Matches held at Quantico May 28-29. The team of, left to right, Act. Sgt. M. G. Gibbs, Act. SSGt. D. G. Barker, Act. GySgt. C. B. Williams, GySgt. B. A. Pekala, LCpl. D. E. Gouge and Act. Sgt. V. J. Anthony annexed 29 trophies at the matches, including the Virginia State Rifle Matches First Place Team Cup.

Triangle Outpost Sentries Combine Dull Nights, Routine Days With High Drama

Lonely is the word for a handful of alert Marines who man Camp Lejeune's Triangle Outpost Gate.

Here on the isolated northeastern rim of Lejeune's 111,000-acre amphibious training base, six Leathernecks enforce security regulations, check military and civilian traffic, and keep their house in order.

Their living quarters and sentry booth is located at the intersection of N. C. Highway 172, Lyman Road and Bear Creek Road. Cpl. Randall K. Tickle, Outpost NCO in Charge, says about 2,000 vehicles pass through the gate daily, but he can remember nights when he saw only six vehicles during a four-hour watch.

High Drama

With the dull nights and routine days, there are also moments of high drama, and outpost personnel have been equal to them. When a loaded gasoline tanker-truck went out of control and crashed into a utility pole near Bear Creek bridge last April 6, an outpost sentry helped remove unconscious Marines from the wreckage as lethal high tension wires cracked and spewed about the gasoline tank.

Stranded motorists who need a push, and Marines or civilian employees desiring to make emergency telephone calls to the base, seek aid here every day. Numerous residents of Swansboro and Hubert who use this "back gate" have complimented the outpost sentries on their outstanding military bearing and courteous manners.

Wildlife Refuge

The sentries are willing to help people, but are not enthusiastic about certain creatures who insist Triangle Outpost is a wildlife refuge. Skunks sneak into the gate booth at night, and go to sleep in the short time it takes a sentry to walk across the road and stretch his legs. Raccoons raid garbage cans, and a copperhead or rattlesnake is killed here about once a week.

Since sentries are some seven or eight miles from a messhall, food is hauled in by truck. Their noon and evening meals are prepared by cooks at messhall 54, and reaches them piping hot in insulated containers. Breakfast is a do-it-yourself enterprise in a kitchen stocked with bacon, eggs, jam, milk, cornflakes, coffee and other tasty items to soothe early morning appetites.

Raid

Dander was up and nostrils flared when members of an aggressor army raided their kitchen during an amphibious operation last February. The aggressors took some prize goodies and scattered bread wrappers across the close-cropped outpost lawn.

Other than a traffic violation or criminal offense, about the best way to arouse outpost sentries' wrath is to litter with trash, or otherwise deface their well-kept grounds. Lawn mowers are brought from home, clippers are borrowed from neighbors, and rakes come from the police shed to keep Triangle Outpost well groomed and inspection-ready.

Recreation

Local recreation includes fishing, throwing horseshoes and archery. Cpl. Edmund J. Kelly, who holds the brown belt in judo and can talk tobacco crops with local farmers, digs clams which he sells to a nearby oyster bar, where off-duty sentries listen to the juke box and shoot the breeze with neighbors.

Under the overall supervision of SSgt. Clarence F. Peterson, who runs all gates at Camp Lejeune, Triangle Outpost personnel attend guard school at the main gate; go to Military Police Company drill and training, and stand Headquarters Battalion monthly inspections.

This is the lot of the Triangle Outpost sentry: long duty hours, frequently short-changed on liberty, and relying on his own cooking for breakfast. The pounding surf can be heard at night, but there is no damper on morale. Out here on a wilderness fringe of the Atlantic Ocean, life is what you make it, and nobody seems to recall a request for transfer.

IN THE STICKS—Cpl. Larry M. McGrath, Triangle Outpost sentry, drives a vehicle through the remote "back gate" on N. C. Highway 172, which skirts the Atlantic coastline for 14 miles on the Lejeune reservation. The large quonset hut in the background includes lounge, living quarters, and a kitchen equipped with stove and refrigerator. Water is provided by an independent well and pump house, and a regularly filled 200-gallon tank holds fuel for winter heat. Electricity comes from Camp power lines. (Photo by Cpl. L. Boyd)

Spilled Ink, Broken Pencil Help In Switching Contract

1960 PULITZER PRIZE WINNING SERIES

Ink spilled on a contract . . . a broken pencil . . . a sealed envelope in the glove compartment—these are some of the gimmicks tried by a dozen used car dealers to trick the trusting.

If a used car buyer reads every word of every page he is asked to sign, he is less likely to be duped into exorbitant payments.

So the goal of the unscrupulous dealer is to keep him from reading.

These complaints—taken from the files of enforcement agencies—show the methods and the measure of the success of the handful of unscrupulous dealers here:

The spilled ink trick—An Air Force staff sergeant gave a used car dealer a down payment of $1,000 on a $2,550 car. Then he signed a contract for the balance, including bank financing and a 90-day free guarantee. As the sergeant walked out of the office, the dealer said he had spilled ink on the contract. He pulled out some blanks, told the sergeant to sign them and promised to fill them in while the sergeant was checking over his car.

When the sergeant returned, the dealer put the new contract into an envelope and stuck it in the sergeant's pocket because the sergeant's hands were dirty from examining his car. When the sergeant opened the envelope later, he found that $175 had been added for "delivery and handling," that $95 was added for a warranty, that a bank was to handle the financing, that his debt had been increased by a total of $630.95.

The desk drawer trick—A Roanoke (Va.) man bought a car on what he thought was an all-cash deal. He was allowed $400 on a trade-in, paid $200 in cash and $500 in a cashier's check. When he offered a personal check for the $395 balance, he was told the dealer did not accept personal checks. He agreed to mail a certified check for the $395 as soon as he got back to Roanoke. He was asked to sign a form, which appeared to carry some "extras" on it, but he was assured that this was merely insurance protection, would not obligate him in any way and would be kept in a desk drawer till his certified check was received. He sent his certified check on schedule, but it was returned. The next day, he received a notice from a finance company saying he had to make 12 monthly payments of $62.70. The paper he had signed did not stay in the dealer's desk drawer.

agreed to pay $800 down and $200 balance within two months. Before he signed the contract, the dealer wrote out on a sheet of paper the terms of payment—$50 one month and $144.60 the next. When he tried to read the contract itself, the dealer told him: "As long as you make the payment stated on this sheet of paper, you don't have to worry about the contents of this contract." He made the payments as they appeared on the sheet of paper. The dealer demanded what appeared on the contract. The cash price of the car had been upped from $1,000 to $1,395.

MAG-26 Unit Returns From Air Missions

Fourteen officers and enlisted men from Marine Observation Squadron-1, who supported the Tenth Marines on a 10-day live firing problem recently, returned to the Marine Corps Air Facility from Simmons Air Force Base, Ft. Bragg, N. C.

The missions flown by VMO-1 aircraft and men consisted primarily of aerial artillery spotting, personnel transportation and reconnaissance of new gun sights. Other types of missions flown were those of evacuation, photo-reconnaissance and range clearance.

Reports indicate that an excellent job of artillery spotting was done by both the pilots and observers.

The five pilots of the group flew a total of 264 hours, with 163 sorties. This was an average of 56.8 hours per pilot for the 16-day operation.

Maintaining the VMO-1's aircraft to a 100 per cent availability during the entire period were nine maintenance personnel. High caliber maintenance such as this from key personnel assures that the mission requirements can be adequately fulfilled.

Aircraft used during the 16-day operation were three OE's and three HOK's.

250 Raleigh Orphans Tour Quad - Command Facilities

Two hundred fifty orphans from Methodist and Catholic Homes in Raleigh, N. C., were guests of Marine Corps Base Tuesday, June 7. For the past 10 years, the Kiwanis Club of Raleigh has sponsored an annual bus cavalcade for the youngsters, a trip to points of interest in North Carolina. This is the third year Camp Lejeune has hosted the orphans. The cavalcade of buses arrived at the Marine Corps Air Facility at 10 a.m. They were met by 20 Marines of Headquarters Bn., Marine Corps Base, including 10 Woman Marines, who acted as escorts for the children throughout the tour. Pilots and crewmen of the Air Facility entertained the young people with static displays and flying demonstrations of their helicopters.

The second stop of the tour was the training area of the First Infantry Training Regiment, Camp Geiger. ITR personnel staged for the visitors a realistic simulated combat firing demonstration. Following the firing, an outdoor lunch was prepared for the orphans at the ITR field mess.

After noon chow, the party boarded the buses for a 30-minute ride over the Rifle Range Road to Onslow Beach. The children swam in the waters and played on the beaches of the Atlantic for an hour and a half, under the watchful eyes of their escorts and Onslow lifeguards. The swim finished, the youngsters were treated to refreshments prepared by the personnel of the Courthouse Bay mess. The cooks gave of their own hands to bake cookies and drinks for the orphans.

The last phase of the children's visit was a bus tour of the main area of the Base. The cavalcade drove down River Road to the Hospital, through the Parade Point area, and along Holcomb Blvd. to the main gate. At the gate the escorts left the party and the children began their return trip to Raleigh.

The tour was financed by Underprivileged Child Commission of the Kiwanis Club of Raleigh. Base Informational Services Office was in charge of the arrangements for the Camp Lejeune visit.

Proper Method For Transfer Of Automobile Titles Given

Cpl. John Williams, Eighth Marines, owns a blue '55 Ford convertible. Williams has just received orders to the 3rd Division, and learns of a man from the Tenth Marines who is interested in buying his automobile. Williams has never sold a car before, and Pfc Richard Callison of the Division cannonneers has never bought one. Neither knows how to go about transferring the title of the car from the old owner to the new owner.

Assuming that similar cases happen almost every day at Camp Lejeune, and that many car sellers and buyers get themselves into legal tangles because they don't know proper procedures, a brief summarization of the laws of North Carolina pertaining to car buying and selling will be outlined. The motor vehicle title transfer laws of most other states are similar to those of North Carolina.

On the back of the car title, the "Certificate of Title of a Motor Vehicle," there are two sections, "A" and "B," which would concern the two men in the situation above. In section "A," it is the responsibility of the seller of the automobile to enter the name of the car buyer, his address, and other pertinent information. The seller must sign his name in this section just as it appears on the front of the title.

Section "B" is for the purchaser. In order to get a clear title to the car in his name from the Department of Motor Vehicles, he must enter his name and other pertinent information, basically the same information which the seller entered in section "A." He must sign his name in the appropriate blank and mail the old title to the Dept. of Motor Vehicles. The department will return a new title to him, showing his ownership of the car.

Servicemen, because they often change duty stations, get themselves into frequent jams in title transfers. Williams filled out section "A" on the back of the title and gave it to Callison. But Callison unexpectedly received orders to Naples and had to get rid of his car in a hurry. He had intended to send the old title to the Motor Vehicle Department, but somehow had not gotten around to it.

Rather than find out the proper steps to take in transferring the title through him to his friend Johnson, who agreed to take the car off his hands, Callison made a false move. He had Johnson to put his name and address in section "B" of the old title, which Callison had not yet filled out, and mail it to the Motor Vehicles Department.

The title was rejected as invalid, Callison and Williams were both on their way overseas, and Johnson was left facing an involved legal tangle. Had Callison mailed the title to the Motor Vehicles Department when he first got it, received his new title from them, and gone through the proper process of title transfer with the new owner, Johnson, there would have been no problem.

Should prospective car sellers and buyers be faced with this problem or similar ones, they are advised to contact either the Traffic Investigation Section of the Base Provost Marshal's Office, 7-3635, or the Carolina Motor Club, Jax 7847. Either office will willingly work with the individual to solve or prevent legal misunderstandings.

Chile Disaster Victims Aided By Red Cross

Saturday, May 21, will go down as the beginning of one of the worst disasters in modern history. A series of severe earthquakes in Chile immediately followed by enormous tidal waves has brought death, destruction and an aftermath of indescribable misery and terror not only to Chile but to places as far away as California, Hawaii, Okinawa and Japan.

The full extent of casualties and property loss will not be known for a long time, if ever. But unnumbered thousands of hurt and hungry victims face the threat of epidemic and cold, for in Chile the winter season is approaching.

The American Red Cross moved swiftly to aid the people of Chile. It has allocated $175,000, including $25,000 from the Children's Fund, and has sent four of its veteran disaster specialists to work with the United States Ambassador to Chile, Walter Howe.

MCAF Flyers Instruct Pilots At Fort Bragg

Two Marine pilots in MAG-26, New River, are training Army helicopter pilots at Ft. Bragg to operate from carriers.

They are Maj. Harry G. Heister, Group Aviation Safety Officer, and 1st Lt. Bruce Driscoll, assistant group adjutant.

The training will cover a week period, three of which will be spent at Ft. Bragg, and the week will be aboard the USS Intrepid, Pensacola, Fla.

The first week's instruction consisted of both classroom and field work in formation flying and proved precision flying team formation flying is mandatory for helicopter pilots so that they are able to rendezvous and join quickly to avoid interfering with other aircraft in the immediate area.

In subsequent weeks they practice, on the carrier deck paved on the runway, approaches, reconnaissance and formation flying, using the four-plane division made up of two-plane sections considered the best tactical formation for flying.

Med Marines Scheduled To Return Home

The 1st Bn. (reinf.), Sixth Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. George E. Codrea, is scheduled to arrive at Morehead City the week of June 12 after completing five months' duty with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Dependents of the returning Marines will not be permitted aboard ship or in the immediate docking area at Morehead City. They are encouraged not to go to the port city as tentative plans are being made to greet the returning battalion at Camp Lejeune.

Further information as to the exact day, time of arrival, and plans for a "welcome home" by dependents will be announced.

The battalion has served as the amphibious striking arm of the Sixth Fleet staging landings throughout the Mediterranean and spreading good will at liberty ports in France, Spain and other area countries.

Division Units Now Testing Mighty Mites

The remarkable "Mighty Mite," a new vehicle expected to eventually replace the Jeep, is currently being tested by units of the 2nd Division. This compact and lightweight ¼-ton truck has been developed over the past few years as a vehicle capable of being transported by helicopter to forward combat zones.

Able to climb a 60 per cent grade with ease and to push through deep mud without hesitation, the vehicle is an amphibious craft which can ford up to 60 inches of water.

The Mighty Mite has a cruising range of 225 miles and a maximum speed of 62 miles per hour. It has an air-cooled engine, eliminating the need for a conventional radiator.

Instructors from the U. S. Army Ordnance New Vehicle School, Detroit Arsenal, are conducting a special school on the Mighty Mite at the Marine Corps Supply Schools, Montford Point. Courses have been taught in Organizational Maintenance, and instruction in Field Maintenance is currently in progress.

"EASY, BOY"—The Mighty Mite, undergoing tests by units of the 2nd Division, proves its worth as it bounds up a steep, mud-covered slope. L. Cpl. Arvin M. HMI Aguirre Is Corpsman Of The Month

The U. S. Naval Hospital, in order to recognize hospital corpsmen who are doing an outstanding job in their day to day work, has established a "Hospital Corpsman of the Month" program. The first winner of the award, corpsman for the month of June, is HMI Henry W. Aguirre, of the Operational Services Division of the hospital.

Aguirre, a veteran of 18 years of Naval service, can be seen hard at work almost any hour of the day at the desk of the Officer of the Day. Although he is supposed to be an administrator, he fills well the ageless title of jack-of-all-trades.

HMI AGUIRRE
 The nature of the work required of most corpsmen at the hospital is such that they are not afforded an opportunity to perform deeds or acts sufficiently outstanding to merit special commendation at mast. Yet these men continue month after month to perform their duties in a most creditable manner.

The Hospital corpsman of the month program will be a continuing means of affording recognition to these men. Any hospital corpsman of any pay grade on duty at the hospital is eligible to be nominated for the award.

A committee of five hospital officials, headed by Capt. C. S. Stroud Jr., has been appointed to choose the outstanding corpsman. Names of nominees for the honor are submitted to the committee by the 15th of each month prior to the date of selection.

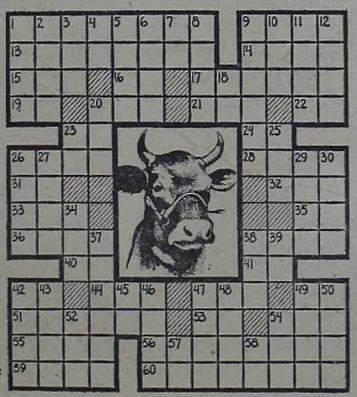

TOP AWARD PRESENTATION—Act. Sgt. J. B. Lavasseur, "B" Co., 2nd Recon. Bn., receives a desk stand from Col. R. D. Wright, commanding officer, 8th Engr. Bn., Force Troops, at graduation ceremonies held by the Division's NCO Leadership School, May 28. Lavasseur finished the month-long course with a 96.74 average, the third highest mark attained this year. Colonel Wright was guest speaker for the graduation ceremony. (Photo by Act. GySgt. W. V. Operation 'Sun And Sand' Gets Off To Sodden Start In First Day's Training

"Sun and Sand" got off to a sodden start last Friday when a cloudburst drenched the troops opening the program. Alfa Co., 1st Bn., Second Marines, hiked out from Camp Lejeune to the Onslow Beach area, marching the last 30 minutes in a driving rain.

The program is designed to make more use of barracks for training and recreation. The Division commander, Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley, toured the area and talked with Alfa Company Marines Monday during the first full day of training and relaxation.

The training is concentrated around physical conditioning, water safety, rubber boat handling, beach landing and obstacle clearance.

LVT's are being used for training in landing operations. Recon and Pioneer instructors handle rubber boat and beach-obstacle training.

On Monday, the Pioneer instructors showed beach obstacle identification and breaching and minefield clearance.

Recon experts gave rubber boat training Tuesday which included scout swimming. Regular military subjects and water safety were handled by company NCO's and corporals.

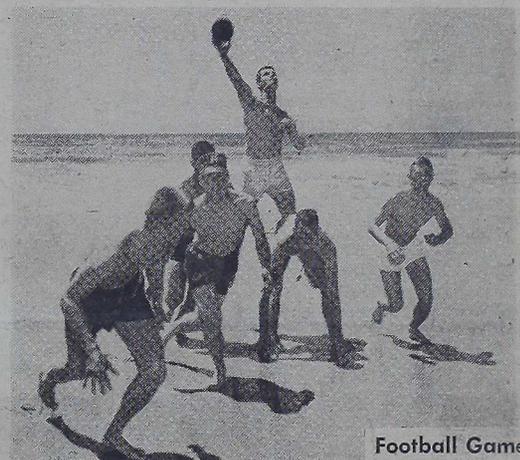

While the driving rain dampened a few spirits during the last part of the march, hot chow revived them.

The mess sergeant, Act. MSgt. Drexel G. Burleson, Hq. Bn., said he wasn't surprised. He expects the men to eat a third more than usual. Whether it is the sea air, more exercise or change of scene that increases the appetite is not known, but the normal allowance of 3,600 to 4,000 calories a day take a beating.

In addition to the units training at the beach, the barracks will be opened to single Marines who want to take a beach leave. Division Special Services is handling this part of the program which includes billeting and feeding Marines on leave. A regular bus schedule will give the liberty bound Marines transportation to and from the beach.

Leftfielder John Corrigan slammed the big hit of the game, a bases-loaded double off the left field fence in the third inning, while catcher Joe Dunn had a perfect day at the plate, collecting three hits in three official trips. Player-coach Jim Riley had a double and a single in two trips to the plate and Fenton aided his own cause with a booming triple and a single in two official at-bats.

The loss was the second of the week for the corpsmen as they were blasted earlier by Marine Corps Supply School, 11-4, behind the fine two-hit pitching of Aaron Taylor. Taylor had a no hitter going until the sixth inning when...

Gray Lady Worker, Mrs. P. R. Colmer, Bids Farewell To Camp Lejeune Service

When Mrs. Parker R. Colmer leaves Camp Lejeune later this month, the Officers Wives Club and the Red Cross will lose one of their most tireless workers. In the past two years, Mrs. Colmer has contributed more than 500 hours of voluntary service for the Red Cross Gray Ladies and for the past 14 months has acted as chairman of the group. She has been the leader in two service projects now carried out by the Officers Wives. There are now 29 drivers in the Volunteer Motor Pool which Mrs. Colmer started as a way for out-patients of the Naval Hospital to get to the Central Area.

MRS. P. R. COLMER

She also planned the "Crafts Cart" for the Hospital. This cart carries an assortment of handwork, and other items for the enjoyment of the patients. It has proven to be a fine morale booster.

Mrs. Colmer has served as chairman of Group VIII of the Officers Wives Club this past year. As a member of the Executive Board, she headed both the Scholarship and Nominating Committees.

On May 29, the Gray Ladies made the entire meeting a tribute to her unselfish service to the Red Cross.

Colonel and Mrs. Colmer have two sons, Kenneth Parker, 18, a freshman at The Citadel in Charleston, and Robert Charles, nine. They leave Camp Lejeune later this month for Headquarters Marine Corps, where Colonel Colmer will attend the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.
