His Excellency, Manuel L. Quezon,
President of the Commonwealth of the Philippines,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

The War Department has received indirectly a message sent by radio purporting to be from a station in the Philippines established by Philippine-American forces which have not surrendered. The message, addressed to you, informs you of the continued resistance in the Visayas of troops on Panay, Negros, and Cebu and their organization into the 4th Philippine Corps. They claim to have contacted a similar force on Luzon.

They claim to have inflicted 2,000 casualties by guerrilla activity and state that they have the whole-hearted cooperation of the civil populace. They claim to have installed Governor Confessor, who escaped from Manila, as governor of the whole island of Panay. They request that you send them a message of cheer, and pledge their "loyalty to the President, and determination" to do their share for an Allied victory. The message is signed by Lieutenat Colonel Macario Peralta, Jr., Infantry, Commanding.

We are attempting to arrange a secure means of communication with them and will be happy to transmit a message to them for you, if the means be found.

Faithfully yours,

Chief of Staff.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DEPUTY A. C. OF S. G-2 FOR INTELLIGENCE:

Subject: Philippine Radio Traffic.

1. Since the first radio contacts with the Philippines last October, this branch in collaboration with the Special Branch has developed them, established cryptographic systems and turned the stations over to the Southwest Pacific Theater commander to control, since which time there has been no direct contact with them by the War Department. All the traffic has been intercepted and read, however, and all the intelligence of the enemy in the Philippines has been derived from that source.

2. The War Department has continued to assist by intercepting all traffic from the Philippines, repeating to Brisbane, traffic between local stations, and assisting in Brisbane's contacts with Philippine stations.

3. Extraordinary security measures have been practised to safeguard this information and the knowledge that the traffic exists has been restricted to a very limited number.

4. Recently convertors M209 were sent to the two principal stations. The one in Mindanao has been using the machine for about a month. The Panay station has not yet received its machine. None of the Mindanao traffic has been read by the War Department since the convertor was installed, and repeated requests for the keys to be sent to SPSIS have been ignored.

5. An inquiry by the Special Branch, of its representative in Brisbane indicates that if any reply at all is forthcoming it will probably be a refusal to furnish the new keys unless directed to do so.

6. Alternatives would appear to be issuing such a directive or foregoing that source of information which has been hitherto available.

Colonel, General Staff Corps,
Chief, Southwest Pacific Branch.

THE PHILIPPINES - 15 February 1944

Military Organization (Guerilla).--The guerilla forces in the 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th Districts (see map) are loosely organized along the lines of the USAFFE forces that existed in the Islands prior to the surrender. The weapons are cheifly rifles and pistols with a few machine guns. Lately several hundred tons of sub-machine guns, carbines, rocket projectors, grenades, ammunition, radio supplies, medicine and cigarettes have been received from Australia via submarine, and distributed. Each district is commanded by an officer of recognized standing who, along with his subordinate officers, is tentatively recognized by Headquarters, Brisbane. The guerillas, most of whom are Filipinos, are officered largely by Americans in the 10th District (Mindanao and Sulu). A Moro militia of 2,000 work with the guerillas of Mindanao. Except for Cebu, the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th Districts are officered by Filipinos. Many of the officers in the districts are former officers of the USAFFE forces who refused to surrender when the general surrender took place May 10, 1942. Other guerilla forces outside of these districts arenot organized and are at present functioning as independent units, mainly because of difficulty in maintaining contact with the organized groups because of geographic isolation or heavy Japanese pressure (Luzon.) These units are small in number and poorly armed.

Numbers.-- The guerilla strength in the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th Districts is presently 35,400 men. 20,000 volunteers have not been accepted because of the lack of arms. The strength in the 10th District is presently 28,000.

Activities and Objectives of Guerillas.-- The guerillas' principal functions in the organized areas are: 1) to keep large areas policed and civil government running smoothly and to hold such areas in readiness for friendly invasion forces; 2) to secure intelligence concerning enemy dispositions and activities and to maintain the security of guerilla occupied areas by avoiding pitched battles and operations against the enemy, and never ceasing to maintain contact so that the enemy's intentions are readily learned.

Communications.-- Extensive radio nets have been established in the organized districts. The net traffic, principally intelligence, is channeled to Headquarters, Brisbane, through several principal stations. There is no station in Luzon. Much of the radio traffic consists of information brought by observers via foot or by sailboat from the various Japanese occupied areas, including Luzon, to the various relaying stations in the organized districts.

Supply.--The guerilla forces in the organized areas supervise farm projects on which civilians are employed. Ten percent of all crops go tbe the guerillas So far as food is concerned, they are self-suffiecient. Surpluses are shipped by Diesel launches, native sailboats, native carriers or, if feasible, by truck to those areas in which there are crop deficiencies. The Diesel launches are run on oil pressed from cocomuts. Alcohol distilled from palms is used as fuel for motorized transport.

Philippine Economy.-- At present the Japanese are securing, principally, copper (about 25% of their requirements), iron, manganese, chromite, lumber, copra, and hemp from the Philippines. The export of the aforementioned commodities, other than depleting natural resources, has little influence on Philippine home economy. The Japanese have issued several hundred million pesos of occupation currency, principally in Luzon. The people spend this money as fast as it is received as they have no faith in it. As many as twenty occupational pesos are sold for one pre-war peso by money changers. There is considerable inflation in the densely populated Japanese-occupied areas, principally Manila. Processed foodstuffs and textiles, when available, command fantastic prices. Some food shortage exists principally in the cities, especially Manila. Elsewhere, in the provinces, there is little food shortage since most of the Filipinos marry on subsistence farming.

Japanese Propaganda.--Japanese propaganda has little effect on 95% of the Filipinos. They are more aware of the real intentions of the Japanese than most other people in Asia. The enemy propaganda is limited mostly to trying to stir up race prejudice among the Filipinos against the Americans, and to trying to get the Filipinos to wholeheartedly cooperate in establishing the Greater East Asia Sphere.

Political.-- Only a very few of the Filipino officials who occupy positions of responsibility in the Philippine puppet Republic are pro-Japanese. Jose Laurel, the puppet President, Benigno Aquino, Speaker of the National Assembly, and Leon Guinto, Mayor of Greater Manila, are the most important of the few avowedly pro-Japanese officials. The Japanese Military Administration has moved to Cebu, probably to make it appear that full authority has been turned over the puppet government.

Manpower.-- Very few Filipinos are willingly working for the Japanese. Only in the occupied cities such as Manila, Cebu and Iloilo can the Japanese force the Filipino to work for him. The Filipinos working for the Japanese in Manila, Cebu and Iloilo are principally engaged in maintenance and construction work((airports, wooden boats, and barges, public utility plants.) Some Filipino miners have been pressed into service at the copper and iron mines. There is a report that 20,000 laborers are needed by the Japanese for naval construction at Davao. According to reports, Filipinos are being recruited in the Visayas for the work at Davao. This labor supply does little to favorably affect. Japanese economy.

CONDITIONS In Concentration Camps.-- Conditions in civilian internment camps are fairly good. On the other hand, conditions in prisoner-of-war camps are deplorable, although much less so today than they were.

GUERILLA LEADERS

6th Distrtict - Colonel Macario Peralta, Jr. (Regular PA)
Before the war Commandant of an R.O.T.C. unit in Cebu.
Said by those who know him to be young, able but overly ambitious, egotistic, bombastic and given to gros exaggeration. (About 32 years old) (Permanent 1st Lt.)

7th District - Lt Col Salvador Abcede (Regular PA)
A classmate of Peralta. Said to be capable but given to rash judgments which he is quick to admit and correct. Junior to but probably a better soldier than Peralta. (About 32 years old) Permanent 1st Lt.)

8th Distrtict - No District Commander

a. Cebu - Jim M. Cushing, Mexican-American
Mine master mechanic and mine superintendent in the Philippines for 5 years. About 35 years old. Hot headed but courageous. Cold blooded yet sentimental. Liked by Filipinos and hated by Japs.

b. Bohol - Major Ismael P. Ingeniero (Regular PA)
Politician type. Well liked in Bohol.

9th District - No District Commander

15 May 1944.

PHILIPPINES

Jap strength is now estimated at 120,000, an increase of 22,000 over strengths reported for March and April . The largest increases are reported from Leyte, Samar and Mindanao. The Japs have begun in earnest toimprove their defenses in the Philippines after two years of relative inactivity. They are establishing an elaborate system of air defense zones.* A large number of troops have been reported arriving at key ports and infiltrating to inland areas. Mopping up campaigns against the guerillas have been intensified with brutal atrocities being perpetrated against civilians in the guerilla areas, particularly Panay and Negros. Isolated, neglected areas have been occupied and strengthened against outside attack. All factors indicate the Japanese are taking steps to prepare for any eventuality.

* There are also indications thatthe Japanese are developing the Bongao-Tawi Tawi, Jolo, Zamboanga and Sarangani Bay areas as interlinks of their air defense scheme for the southern fringes of the Philippines.

In Mindanao the Davao areastands out as the center of Japanese development. It is being improved defensively to a great extent. The municipalities on the east coast of Mindanao were occupied during April for the first time since 1942. Numerous northeast coastal towns were also occupied. Mopping up operations have been taking place in areas which had not recently witnessed any activity, such as the Agusan Valley and the east coast of Surigao.

The Japs have recently seized many important food producing areas on the east coast of Surigao and the lower Agusan River just before harvest time. A substantial reduction in local guerilla food reserves is indicated. The guerillas are now attempting to establish food producing centers further inland but difficulties are being encountered in keeping people in the more remote areas. With the Japanese control of the coastal roads, difficulties have arisen over transportation of supplies in and out of these areas.

For the present the Japanese are apparently limiting ground activity against the guerillas of northeast Mindanao, relying more on the aerial bombing of the guerilla headquarters and communications centers in the central Agusan Valley.

All reports indicate that the Japanese have very good Intelligence coverage of the guerilla situation in the Islands, particularly on the islands of Panay, Negros, Cebu, Mindanao and Sulu Archipelago. They have in several instances captured military supplies a few days after they were delivered by our submarines from Australia. Captured documents indicate that Japanese Intelligence is apparently content to act only when things point to the guerilla situation getting out of control. In late October 1943, Colonel Wendell Fertig, commanding the guerillas in the 10th Military District, moved his headquarters to Esperanza in the Agusan River valley, northeastern Mindanao, for reasons of security. A large proportion of the military supplies shipped to the guerillas from Australia since Nov 1943 by submarine have been delivered to the port of Nasipit, Agusan. These supplies, judging from interviews with people who have left the areas as recently as March 1944, were stored in the vicinity of the road below Butuan.

A report received on March 21st states that 300 Japs occupied Butuan and the coast from Nasipit to the west bank of the Agusan River. The guerilla defense position was reported as below Amparo. Coast watcher reports recently received state that on April 22nd a Japanese transport docked at Nasipit, three transports at Lianga Bay, April 28th, and three vessels at Hinatuan, April 27th. Through May there was reported unusual heavy transport naval vessel and convoy traffic off the east coast of Leyte and Mindanao, particularly in the vicinity of Bakulin Point on Lianga Bay. It appears from the foregoing that the enemy is alerted to a possible Allied thrust at the east coast of Leyte (Tacloban) and the northeast coast of Surigao, and that strong steps are now being taken by Japanese ground forces to close in on the Agusan Valley headquarters of the guerillas, and to capture military supplies and occupy the five airfields in the area; in general, to neutralize any potential value the guerilla forces in northeast Mindanao may have to assist an Allied occupation in force.

About 80 Americans hold key positions in the guerilla force and operate the radio net. The experience and vision of the guerillas and their leaders are limited. They have been on the defensive too long. Assistance will be necessary if the latent power of the guerilla units is to be fully developed.

The Japanese puppet troops or Bureau of Constabulary, now has an actual strength of 12/15,000 and a planned strength of about 40,000. It is a force whose existing and projected numbers make it worthy of notice. Theh are distributed approximately as follows: Mindanao, 5,000; Visayas or central Islands, 5,000; Luzon 2/5,000. The B.C. troops are confined to areas of little military importance, policing occupied towns, and patrolling in areas not well organized by guerillas. Theh are also used as guides and interpreters.

The B.C. go so far as to assist, actively, our forces against the Japs, particularly in providing Intelligence. Several instances are on record where groups have surrendered en masse to the guerillas and joined their forces.

The reaction of the Filipino B.C. commanders in the event of our invasion should leave little to be desire, judging from their statements in interviews with our agents.

It appears that the Japanese probably intend to reexamine the whole question of a native armed force. Reports received as of April and May are the effect that the Manila B.C. Officers School and the Davao Constabulary Academy will receive no new candidates or classes.

All evidence confirms the likelihood that the B.C. will not oppose our forces with power comparable to its strength. Under the worst conditions they will merely disperse on our arrival. Under the best conditions they will join our forces.

PHILIPPINE GROUND SITUATION
15 June 1944

General Enemy Situation: From 15 May to 15 June Japs have been massing troops, bolstering dispositions and shifting units. Present Jap strength estimated at 170,000, an increase of 50,000 over 15 May. Manila appears to be slated for the HQ Southern Expeditionary Forces. Its Commander, Field Marshal Count Terauchi, was observed in Manila 26 May. Parts of veteran 16th Inf Div moved from Luzon to Leyte-Negros area. Independent Mixed Brigades, located in Manila, Batangas, Cebu and Davao areas, will be augmented to divisional units as indicated by current evidence. Principal points of Jap reinforcement - Davao Gulf, Zamboanga and Surigao areas. Estimated strength in Davao Province - 25,000. Indications are that Cagayan on the N coast of Mindanao is being used as a staging base for troops moving S to Davao via the Sayre Highway.

The Sulu Archipelago is being bolstered. Extensive defensive installations installed around Zamboanga City. Japs have become increasingly interested in strategic area of Surigao Strait and are developing a defense bastion jutting into it. Jap strength there has been raised to between 4,000 and 6,000 troops. Jap dispositions indicate the defense of the coastal area of eastern Samar, southern Leyte, the small islands of Surigao Strait and northern Surigao Province. Cebu City and Iloilo are the principal supply depots for the Visayas.

Japanese arrivals in Manila Hbr indicate that many troops are being funneled into Manila and subsequently shifted to other areas in the Islands. Since 15 May no civilians permitted to use the Luzon RR, suggesting large troop movements. Cav and Inf units were observed being moved N from Manila on 26 May. Present Jap strength on Luzon estimated at 70,000, concentrated principally on Pampanga Plain between Manila and Lingayen Gulf and the Laguna-Batangas area S of Manila, both areas suitable for mobile defense. Units may be moved quickly into SE Luzon or across the water into Mindoro if threatened. The good road nets of Luzon lend flexibility to Jap defense.

S Philippine Sec. 370.64

Mindanao: No change in situation. Jap patrols active from Lianga Bay to Los Arcos along the pass leading westward to guerilla hq at Esperanza. These patrols were ambushed with losses and have for the present withdrawn. Dispersal of troops along E coast constitutes threat to guerilla organization in the area. Jap forces also in control of the N coast region of Agusan Province. In short, it appears guerillas of NE Mindanao are contained by pressure in a heavily forested area with no communication with other guerilla areas except by forest trail and radio. Greatest troop increase for month - Davao, Zamboanga, Cagayan, and Surigao. As of 15 June ground dispositions were 50,000, an increase of over 20,000. It has been reported that 39 truckloads of American POW's have been moved from Davao Penal Colony on transports. Jap guards remarked that they were being taken to Japan.

Panay: Jap patrols have inflicted little damage on guerillas.

Negros: Heavy Jap penetration in the area of guerilla hq in southern Negros first two weeks in June. Hq and towns burned and civilians killed. Jap patrols heavy in N and NE Samar areas, burning villages, etc., indicating Japs are clearing coastal areas to prevent assistance to any possible Allied landings.

Negros: (Cont'd.)

In the Visayan Islands the estimated strength as of 15 June is 43,270, an increase of about 18,000. Estimates from Leyte alone indicate that Jap strength in June rose to 20,000, an increase of 14,000 over the previous month's estimate.

Luzon: Over 25 guerilla bands reported, dispersed throughout the Island. As much as 50% of some groups are armed and strengths vary from several hundred to several thousand. Some degree of liaison exists. Attempts to coordinate have led to jealousies and betrayals. Several groups are little more than bandits.

PHILIPPINE AIR AND NAVAL SITUATION
15 June 1944

AIR

The Japs have organized the Philippine Islands into seven Air Defense Zones. Each zone contains one or more developed air centers, the system affording an all around defense regardless from which direction the attack is made. Emphasis is being placed on preparations against attacks from the southeast. The zones are so well dispersed that the likelihood of more than two zones being under attack at any one time is remote. It will take a very heavy attack to render nonoperational all the enemy air centers of the most important zones.

NAVAL

A strong task force was assembled in the central Philippine Islands, 13-14 June. This force was reported as complete with five battleships, 9 carriers, 11 cruisers, 27 destroyers and a number of merchant vessels. Portions of the task force were first observed in the Tawitawi area on 5 and 6 June. They rendezvoused with other Jap units in the Visayan Sea on 13 June. This force was observed 15 June from Mindanao coast of Agusan Province moving north. It passed through San Bernardino Strait into the Pacific the same day.

MERCHANT SHIPPING

During the month a total of 721 ships, aggregating 1,450,200 tons of merchant shipping were observed in Philippine waters. It is possible that coast watcher figures have been duplicated.

Mine Fields

Reports on mine fields indicate that the Japs are attempting to block Surigao Strait and Hinatuan Passage one of the two east entrances to the Philippine waters from the east. Strong currents and whirlpools, however, will root out such mined areas in a very short time, expecially at full and new moon.

Approaches to Davao Gulf (in the vicinity of Samal Island), Albay Gulf, and pro portions of Lamon Bay are also mined. Other mined areas are located at strategic points along the western portion of the Philippine Islands such as Manila Bay entrance, Cebu, Iloilo, and Zamboanga.
