CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1963

NO. 28

Today Marks 46th Year Of 6th Regiment's History

Officers and men of the 6th Marine Regiment commemorate their unit's 46th anniversary today at three separate locations on two continents more than 3200 miles apart.

Col. R. W. L. Bross, commanding officer, 6th Marines, is commanding the 1st Marine Expeditionary Unit, deployed to the Caribbean for extensive training maneuvers. The MEU's ground force is composed of Battalion Landing Team 6, commanded by Maj. R. Humphreys.

The 1st Battalion, 6th, commanded by Lt. Col. M. W. Smith, left Camp Lejeune May and has been conducting joint amphibious exercises with TO forces in the Mediterranean as the landing force of the 6th Fleet.

Meanwhile, the 3d Battalion, 6th, commanded by Lt. Col. B. W. Alford, is spending its anniversary engaged in field training here.

Capt. Endebrock Is New Base Public Works Officer

Captain Frank L. Endebrock, C, USN, Camp Lejeune's Public Works Officer, succeeded Captain W. W. Moore, C, USN, who climaxed 21 years of military service at this post June 30.

Captain Endebrock, whose sons are civil engineers, is one of them serving in the Navy with Mobile Construction Battalions at Guantanamo and Guam, entered the Navy in October 1937, and was appointed a Lieutenant (jg).

Before beginning military service, the Carrollton, Missouri Naval officer attended the University of Missouri in Columbia, graduating in 1929 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Civil Engineering.

Serving as officer-in-charge of the 89th Naval Construction Battalion and the 76th Naval Construction Battalion in the Pacific area during World War II, Captain Endebrock participated in the struggle for Guam in August of 1944.

In Korea, he served as Staff Civil Engineer, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific for two years, then returned to the States to assume duties as Deputy District Public Works Officer, 8th Naval District, New Orleans.

Captain Endebrock was Public Works Officer, Naval Station Argentia, Newfoundland, prior to his assignment here.

1/2 Departs For Caribbean Area To Participate In PHIBULEX 3-63

Marines of the 2d Battalion (Inf), 2d Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. R. T. Bey, embarked aboard ships of the 1st Fleet Amphibious Force at Morehead City, July to take part in a three-month training exercise in the Caribbean.

Designated the 24th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), the 100-man landing force is comprised of BLT 2/2, Provisional Marine Air Group 60 (PMAG-60), Tactical Air Control Squadron 22, Underwater Demolition Team 22, Assault Craft Unit Two, Beachmaster Unit Two, and Amphibious Construction Battalion Two.

Capt. J. W. Reed, USN, Commander Amphibious Squadron Eight, will direct the training from his flagship, the amphibious assault ship Okinawa. Col. J. E. Johnson will head the embarked Marine landing force, and Lt. Col. O. D. Hunter will command ProvMAG-60.

BULLETIN

Marines of the 2d Bn., 6th Marines, (6th MEU) are scheduled to conduct an over-the-beach landing at Onslow Beach, beginning 4:45 a.m., July 17, following a three-month training exercise in the Caribbean.

No plans have been made at this time for a dependent reception center.

Base Maintenance has announced that there will be a power outage on Sunday, July 14, beginning at 5 a.m. and lasting until 10 a.m.

Areas affected will be Hadnot Point (East of Holcombe Blvd. Not including Industrial Area), French Creek, Gun Parks, Engineer Stockade, Triangle Outpost, AT Range, Onslow Beach, Courthouse Bay, Sneads Ferry Gate and the Rifle Range.

Promotion GMST Nears For E-4, 5, 6

The ALPHA-64 testing period is just around the corner so it is time for those in pay grades E-4, E-5, and E-6 to begin digging into the books.

Marines in the pay grades mentioned, who either meet or exceed the established minimum time in grade will be administered the ALPHA-64 GMST Aug. 2.

The minimum time in grade requirements are:

PAY GRADE E-6--30 months in grade on or before Dec. 31, 1963 with cutoff date of rank set as June 30, 1961.

PAY GRADE E-5--29 months in grade on or before Dec. 31, 1963 with date of rank cutoff of July 31, 1961.

PAY GRADE E-4--19 months in grade on or before July 31, 1963 with cutoff date of rank established as Dec. 31, 1961.

1st Sgt. Bowen Presented Navy-Marine Corps Medal

First Sergeant Dewey Bowen, a 23-year veteran, was presented the Navy-Marine Corps Medal today during a Field Artillery Group parade at the Onslow Beach Static Display area.

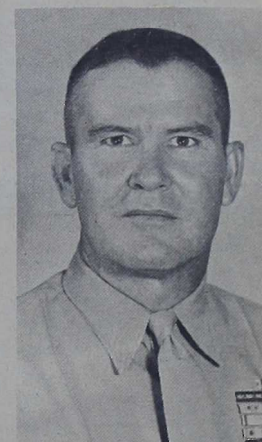

Sergeant Bowen, a member of the 2d 155 Gun Battery, 2d FAG, was presented the award by Col. F. R. Schlesinger, group commander. The presentation was witnessed by hundreds of Marines and their dependents.

The Navy-Marine Corps Medal, presented for acts of heroism not involving actual combat with an enemy was awarded to 1st Sgt. Bowen for his heroic actions at Vieques Island last March.

The citation read:

"For heroic conduct in attempting to save the life of a fellow Marine who was accidentally electrocuted on the morning of March 7, 1963 during a field exercise at Vieques Island, Puerto Rico. Arriving at the scene of an electrical accident seconds after its occurrence, 1st Sgt. Bowen grasped the clothing of the stricken victim, pulled him clear of a live, 1500-volt power cable, and then administered artificial respiration until the arrival of the unit corpsman. By this quick initiative and courageous attempt to save the life of another, at the risk of his own, 1st Sgt. Bowen upheld the finest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Short Sleeve Shirts

A change has been made in the Uniform Regulations pertaining to the wearing of the short sleeve shirt aboard the Base.

Short sleeve shirts may be worn with the summer service uniform by officers and enlisted personnel aboard the Base regardless of the hour, EXCEPT that when the summer service uniform is worn at clubs and messes, the regular liberty uniform will be worn after 1800.

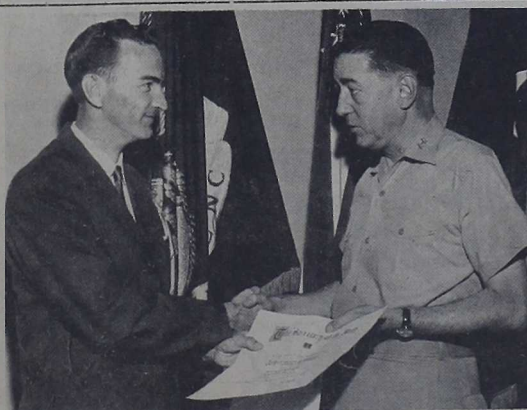

No Safe Method To View Eclipse Reports NSPB

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has warned that there is no safe method of looking directly into the July 20 solar eclipse without risking incurable burns of the eye retina from infra-red rays of the sun.

Permanent eye damage may result to persons who stare at the darkened sun through sunglasses, smoked glass, or exposed photographic film according to the health agency.

The Society called on parents, school personnel and doctors to help alert the public, especially children, to the eclipse dangers.

Widespread reports of damaged vision in Western states, after a partial eclipse of the sun three years ago, prompted the warning by the NSPB.

DOUBLE HONORS—were given William E. Carper, Base Safety Director during an informal awards ceremony held in the office of Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, right, last week. Carper accepted a special "Achievement in Safety" award from the Secretary of the Navy, citing Camp Lejeune for an "outstanding program of safety" aboard the base for the past year. The second honor came from the Commandant of the Marine Corps which lauded Carper's recent appointment as Director for the Federal Safety Council (South Eastern North Carolina Area) for 1963.

Anti-Tank's Field Meet

Troop, Dependent Get - Together Led By Ontos Efficiency Races

Efficiency races between top-notch Ontos crews of the 2d Antitank Battalion, highlighted Friday's battalion field meet and open house, attended by dependents and friends of unit members.

The crews, performing in a style similar to yesteryear firemen at a volunteer muster, sped from the starting line, to top speed, to their waiting Ontos, took up positions in the vehicles, hoisted green signal flags, then roared down a 121-yard measured course to the finish line.

Company "A", operating with the precision of a New York Yankee infield, topped the victory over a hearty contingent from H&S Company.

The race was designed to test crew's ability to "move out" and deliver a strike on an enemy-held position in the shortest period of time.

Other competition of "trade skills" included rifle-pistol assembly-disassembly, pitching tents, and the hand grenade throw.

An outing favorite, the tug-o-war, ended the day's activities when the "Heavenly" from H&S Company out-pulled Company "C's" "Terrible Tuggers".

Overall winner of the meet was H&S Company, whose representative teams won the rifle assembly-disassembly, tug-of-war, and finished second in the Ontos race, tent pitching, and the hand grenade throw. Second place honors were taken by Company "C".

Myrtle Beach Regulations

A number of Camp Lejeune personnel have recently been charged with violating the civil laws of Myrtle Beach, S. C. The laws printed below are in general applicable to any public beach. Use your head and enjoy your liberty rather than regret it. Laws are to be obeyed.

1. The drinking of alcoholic beverages is unauthorized in public.
2. Sleeping on the beach or in automobiles is also against civil regulations.
3. The changing of clothes in automobiles or in public (on the beach in view of the public) is not authorized.

Railroads Set Up 1-Way Half-Fares

Railroads across the nation are offering one-way reduced rates to military personnel traveling in uniform at their own expense when on official leave or liberty. These one-way furlough coach fares, established July 1, are on the basis of 50 percent of the current round-trip furlough coach fares.

This new one-way fare system may save personnel nearly $30 when traveling to the West Coast by train. Permanent change of station orders also make a man eligible for the reduced rates.

Other advantages under this new system are that personnel may now buy a half-fare one-way ticket to their home and then another to their next duty station; personnel may travel at half-fare one route home and return to Camp Lejeune or other stations via a different route half-fare, and personnel who purchase a round-trip ticket but use only one half of it, will be refunded one half of the amount which he originally paid.

Further information concerning these one-way half-fare rates may be obtained by contacting the Railroad Transportation Office, Hadnot Point Bus Terminal, 7-5654, or the Camp Geiger Rail Transportation Representative, Bldg. TC930, 0-1503.

Corporal Knows Ups And Downs Here, At Home

Disproving the age-old cliché "If you're a truck driver in civilian life, you'll be a corporal in the armed service" is Marine Reserve LCpl. William Gruening, of Cincinnati.

Not a truck driver, or even the Ohio Citizen Marine climbing poles in both his civilian and military professions.

Gruening, a member Cincinnati's Comm. Co., H. Bn., is at Camp Lejeune for two weeks annual summer field training. His job as wireman in the unit, necessitates climbing of utility poles and pine trees in the installation and maintenance of telephone and telegraph lines.

LCPL. W. E. GRUENING

In civilian life, Gruening simply changes uniforms, ascends poles daily as a lineman for the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company. An occupation he gained while on active duty with the Marine Corps, 1956.

Colorful Years Behind 6th Marines of the Marine Corps' decorated regiments, history dates back to 11, 1917, when it was organized at Quantico, Va. In seven months, the regiment had joined the forces on the front lines.

its participation in World War I, the French government awarded the 6th Marines the French Four-leaf clover, which is worn today as part of the uniform.

In 1927, the 6th Marines were sent to Shanghai, China, to defend the International Settlement.

For years prior to World War II the "6th" was recalled to China to protect Americans during the Japanese War.

or to World War II, the regiment was stationed in Iceland to guard against Nazi aggression. Their presence, however, was soon needed in the Pacific. They left Iceland in time to assist the 2d Marine Division in the Guadalcanal campaign.

The route taken to Japan in subsequent action prior to beginning nine months occupation duty included the battles of; Solomons, February 8-19, 1943; Gilbert Islands, November 20-December 8, 1943; Marianas, June 15-July 26, 1944; Tinian, July 26-August 8, 1944; Okinawa, April 1-10, 1945. The regiment returned to Camp Lejeune at the end of occupation duty.

When the call for help was issued by the Lebanese government in 1958, elements of the "6th" answered the call along with other 2d Division units. A 6th Marines Regimental Landing Team remained in the Mediterranean until early 1959, when it returned to Camp Lejeune.

Since 1959, the regiment has conducted, and participated in, numerous amphibious training exercises throughout the Mediterranean and Caribbean area, and at Camp Lejeune.

Sgt. Maj. Pays Homage Medal Of Honor Winner

Sgt. Maj. Ott C. Farris, H&S 2d FSR, paused in the lobby of Headquarters Marine Corps last week to pay tribute to a fellow Marine, the Pfc. William R. Caddy of Weymouth, Mass., who was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor for the heroic deed which he had saved the Sgt. on Iwo Jima two decades forward with his platoon leader and another Marine during the determined advance of his company through an isolated sector and, gaining comparative safety of a shell hole, took temporary cover with his comrades. Immediately pinned down by deadly sniper fire a Japanese grenade fell beyond reach in the shell hole. Disregarding all personal danger, Caddy instantly dove on the deadly missile, absorbing the exploding charge in his own body, protecting the others from serious injury...

Caddy's citation reads: "Private First Class Caddy boldly defied shattering machine-gun and mortar fire to move

4th Dental's Helm Has New Control

Capt. Clarence G. Veno, Dental Corps, USN, yesterday assumed command of 4th Dental Co., Force Troops, replacing Capt. H. H. Fridley, Dental Corps, USN.

Capt. Fridley will take the post of executive officer at the U. S. Naval Dental Clinic, Naval Station, Washington, D. C. Capt. Veno's last duty station was the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Soufley Field, Pensacola, Fla. The company, totaling 11 officers and 23 enlisted men, is unique in that it is a Marine Corps unit entirely staffed by Naval personnel.

High School Level Military Academy

Plans for a high school level military school, incorporating training and discipline traditional to the Marine Corps, have recently been announced by a corporation composed of a number of retired Marine officers. Gen. E. A. Pollock, USMC (Ret), is president of the Marine Military Academy, Inc., which plans to start operation in 1965.

Additional information about the proposed Academy may be obtained by writing the Marine Military Academy, Incorporated, P. O. Box 2039, Prescott, Arizona.

Litter Bug

The Citizenry of America is organizing an all-out elimination of a two-footed, two-armed, two-eyed, too careless bug known as the litter bug.

To the military man or woman the fight against the litter-bug isn't new. From basic training and "boot" camp to the decks of proud and mighty aircraft carriers, clean-up and pick-up details are regular duty. The war against the litter-bug on some military establishments usually costs a littering officer or enlisted man much mental pain and anguish despite the fact that military littering in most cases is accidental. It doesn't pay the serviceman or woman to be forgetful.

A national anti-littering organization is marking its tenth anniversary this year with a slogan "KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL."

President John F. Kennedy has said in connection with this, "I don't think there is anything that could occupy our attention with more distinction than trying to preserve for those who come after us this beautiful country which we have inherited."

The United States Department of Commerce is cooperating with the National Conference to Keep America Beautiful; to preserve and improve America's scenic and man-made beauty through a continuing program of public education; and to instill in every citizen a feeling of pride and responsibility for the appearance of his country.

The military man knows the value of cleanliness and, knowing that the United States is very much his country, also adopts the anti-littering slogan; in fact takes the next step and is "KEEPING AMERICA FREE AND CLEAN."

Filth

There is never a time for filth. This statement is pointedly emphasized by Comedian Joe E. Brown's answer to the question as to his most remembered round of applause.

The veteran entertainer said the incident occurred during one of his trips to the South Pacific during WWII. He said, "I was told that 2,500 troops had to be entertained and they were 500 miles away. We flew over."

This trip took place after Brown had returned from a 3 a.m. bombing run that General McArthur had allowed him to accompany as an observer.

"After two hours on a make-shift stage deep in the jungle I begged off. I was tired," he said, "I explained that they had seen everything I had perfected in a lifetime. Still they clamored for more. But I just couldn't go on."

Finally, a guy sitting alone called out: 'Joe, can't you tell us some dirty stories!'

The comic said, "When this kid shouted, the whole jungle must have heard it. There was cor-silence. When I recovered the jolt, I spoke directly to him and I said, 'Kid, I want you to please.

"A comedian lives on applause and laughter, I want laughs more than you want me to make you laugh."

"But if telling a dirty story is the price I have to pay for laughter, I don't want it. I've never done an act I couldn't do in front of my mother and I will."

Brown was too big a comedian to say more of the question. He did say this however. "I made my answer, these tainment starved GI Joes the jungle with applause, m-please than I've received where. That's one bit of ap- I'll never forget."

This experience of Joe E. Brown's, the old pro, should be some of the amateur war and barrack comic to take a look at their material, perhaps evaluate it and KEEP IT CLEAN.

Chaplain's Corner

One of the most significant findings of modern psychology is that people cannot love others unless they have a healthy self-love. A person who always striking out at other people in criticism, snobbishness, foul words, bitterness, or gossip, is a person who does not feel right toward himself.

This is the very heart of it all, our moral and spiritual problem. If a person does not have a healthy self-love, his religion will not work. He cannot love his neighbors, he cannot believe that either they or God loves him. The depressed person is angry at himself.

We judge others exactly as we judge ourselves. If we cannot love ourselves, we cannot love our neighbors. We do not feel secure, and work at the very core of our beings, we will not respect other people as they are. The person who hates himself will pretend to be different from what he is; the hypocrite belongs to his kind. Or, if he hates himself, he will have an abnormal emphasis on money, culture, or personal attainment. Superficial belong here. Or, if he hates himself, he will demand to strangle others if things do not go his way. Selfish people are starved for love because they do not love themselves.

The healthy self-love grows from being loved. If someone loves us, we accept us with all of our qualities and weakness, we learn to love to others. If we are even comfortable, valuable, self-reliant, self-directing — under God — individuals, we must make peace with ourselves. This is where love of God comes effective.

Engineer

By Cpl. T. D.

Today's combat has come a long way. The first axe-wielding man laid a crude f across a gorge to the engineer's benefit to leave a structure for the enemy, if he can employ "booby traps." He learns to utilize a series of detonator devices which may be coupled with mines, blocks of TNT, grenades, and a number of high explosive substances to kill or maim an unsuspecting enemy.

In this phase, he also learns the placing and arming of both anti-personnel and anti-tank mines. He must know how to plant a single mine or an entire mine field. Along the same lines, he must learn to clear mines, using probes and detectors.

For Use In Authorized Circles

The 19th Hole

BY BOB SPENCER

Have you ever noticed the care the better golfers give to the course as they are playing? It seems they always find time to replace divots, repair ball scars or rake the sand traps so that the next player doesn't have an unfair situation with which to contend. It's good to know that you and I do these things. Don't you wish everyone would?

TIP OF THE WEEK

The tip for this week concerns the right arm, its action, and position through the swing.

At ADDRESS--The right arm is "at ease" ready to hinge on the back swing. The right elbow is close to the body. AT THE TOP--The right forearm is more perpendicular than parallel to the ground. ON DOWN-SWING--The right elbow returns close to the body early on the downswing, as the left arm and side pull the hands toward the ball.

AT IMPACT--The right arm is more extended at impact than address. It remains extended well beyond impact.

Three Marines On U. S. Boxing Team

MSgt. Freddie Lenn, Camp Pendleton Boxing Coach has been selected to coach the United States boxing team in the 1963 Consell International du Sports Militaire (CISM).

The popular mentor will be joined in Frankfurt, Germany, by two Camp Pendleton perennial All-Marine and current Inter-Service champs, Maurice Frilot, welter-weight, and Charlie Brown, featherweight.

Brown and Frilot will be the only two fighters sporting Marine colors in the boxing competition. This marks the second straight year that both Leathernecks have competed in CISM. Last year both won third place bronze medals.

The three Pendleton Marines will be joined in Frankfurt by the other eight Inter-Service weight class champs as well as seven alternates.

Seventeen separate sports championships are sponsored yearly by the 32-Nation CISM Council. These separate championships have been recognized--for U. S. military personnel--by the Department of Defense as on a par with the Olympics and the Pan American Games.

Coach Lenn and his two hopeful winners are scheduled to return to Camp Pendleton in early August.

Quantico Marines Win ECIC Meet; Two Records Fall To Leathernecks

The Quantico Marines track squad, competing as a unit for the last time this season, ran off with the team title in the inaugural East Coast Interservice Conference Meet at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., June 29.

The 102 points amassed by the Virginia-based Marines surpassed the combined total of 81 points by Ft. Eustis, Ft. Lee, Ft. Belvoir and Ft. Dix. The win was a fitting climax for the 1963 MCS squad that rewrote track record books up and down the Eastern Seaboard and sent eight men to the National AAU championships in St. Louis, Mo.

Quantico took first place honors in 13 of the service meets 17 events. In the process, Leathernecks Jim Heath and Winston Cooper established ECIC marks that will be hard to break.

Heath, the former Colorado University star scheduled for transfer to Camp Pendleton, Calif., won the 440-yard dash in 47.4. His clocking not only made a dent in the ECIC record book but, more important, topped the Butler Stadium record of 47.6 set by teammate Dick Edmunds earlier in the season. Heath capped his brilliant final performance for Quantico by running a sizzling 46.4 anchor leg on the Marine mile relay team.

Cooper, one of the few Americans to have cleared 50 feet in the triple jump, did so for the fourth time of his career. His winning effort of 50-2 easily earned him first place honors but was short of the Butler Stadium record of 50-6 3/4 held by Bill Sharpe. Sharpe of the Philadelphia Pioneer Club is reputedly America's best triple jumper.

Cooper also won the broad jump to score an impressive double victory in the meet. His 24-6 1/4 effort was a career best, exceeding the 24-4 mark he attained at St. John's University in 1961.

Although the Marines had still another double winner in Ron Ablowich, who won both the 120 and 440 yard hurdles, Ft. Lee's John Moon walked off with the outstanding athlete award.

Moon nipped Quantico's Paul Winder at the wire in 100 yard dash and edged out George Metzgar in the 220 yard dash. Lee was clocked at 9.5 in the century dash and 20.6 in the 220 on a straightaway. His 20.6 clocking bettered the Butler Stadium record of 21.1 and justified his membership on the United States track team headed for Moscow in two weeks. Camp Pendleton's Cary Welsiger and Dave Davis will be on the same team.

Metzgar, Winder, Edmunds, Wayne McDonnell (winner of the Javelin), and Ed Kohler (winner of the shotput), are also expected to don Camp Pendleton jerseys next track season.

Water Sports

BY C. C. THOMAS

A better fourth of July there has never been! The sun shone as if trying to make up for all the previous inclement holidays.

Sixteen sailboats circled under a brisk breeze until Tom Hadley fired the starting gun promptly at 9:30 a.m. Larry Prickett never gave them a chance. He took the lead on the first leg and kept it to the finish buoy. To the spectators on the beach his rapid return was thought to be a disqualified boat. To insure the first place trophy he soundly beat them again in the afternoon race. Norm Fertsch did an outstanding job of crewing for Prickett.

The competition for second and third places was the more heavily fought. John Stram, with crewman Jim Crigger, took second. However, John's wife, Sally, and her crew, Bob Searles, gave a close race to win the third place trophy.

On the other side of the creek at Marston Pavilion many other battles were being fought and won. There were enough entries in each of the canoe, rowboat, and jousting events to run three relays each.

While a good sized crowd yelled for their individual favorites, the canoe racers struggled with the wind, current, and their brooms. In his enthusiasm Frank LaVopa literally ploughed around the bays to win first place. Ray "Spots" Avans proved what determination could do when he placed second. John Lovell made a close third. Larry White attempted to run the race stern for'd but wound up in the water. He was joined by others.

After a fine performance in the Water Safety Demonstration on Canoe Skills, Phillip Magdirillas went on to show that he was equally good at row boating by winning first place in this event. Frank LaVopa earned his second trophy of the day by placing second. John Lane took the third spot. In the exciting canoe jousting Magdirilla again won first place with his crew, Vern Daugherty. Carol Scott made an excellent showing as paddler for her second-place-winning spearsman, "Spots" Avans.

Our enthusiastic Camp Lejeune Sailors were at it again on Saturday. Dale Dutenhoffer, her T. A. D. for the Navy, gave John Stram a very close race. He led until John's boat pulled in front just before the second buoy. Stram held his position to take first with Dutenhoffer in second place. Chris O'Donnell brought his boat in on a different course than the rest of the pack and finished third.

FISHING

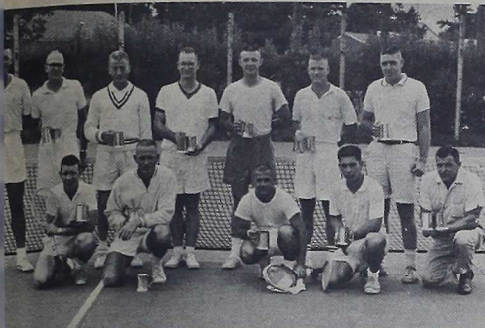

Morehead City sends in glowing reports for the fishing over this past week.

Marlin are still going strong off shore. The largest billfish of the week tipped the scales at 354 lbs.

King mackerel fishing outside is rated excellent, and is considered to be the best in several seasons. Dolphin are equally plentiful; 36 were caught in a single day from one charter boat.

Spanish mackerel is the leading inshore fish around Morehead City, with bluefish running second. Flounder, pampano, and trout are also being caught.

Large schools of tarpon have been sighted recently, although there haven't been many landed yet this season. The spectacular runs, tremendous leaps, and frenzied aerial battle of this giant member of the herring family mark the tarpon as one of the most sporting game fish in salt water. However he isn't generally accepted as table fare, so the true sportsman lucky enough to land a tarpon releases the fish unless he is to be mounted.

Thompson Wins Singles Division Tennis Action

The 2d Marine Division tennis tournament was held to a close June 29, ending a week of spirited play hampered by persistent rain.

Capt. Jack Thompson was the tournament's top player, winning his way to the open singles trophy, and teaming with Bill Leftwich for the doubles championship.

Runner-up in the open singles was Pfc. T. E. Gher, while HMI J. R. Bianco and LCpl. L. Burke edged second in the open doubles.

In the senior singles class, LtCol. C. T. McLean smashed out a victory over Col. F. C. Bacon. Col. McLean then joined BrigGen. R. McC. Tompkins, and unsuccessfully engaged Col. J. M. Platt and Col. Bacon in the senior open doubles.

Maj. R. H. Barnard won the novice singles, defeating SSgt. Anthony Tucci. Maj. Barnard then came back in the doubles, teamed with 1stLt. C. G. Bryan to down SSgt. Tucci and 1st Lt. Moyer.

2, 2d Service Bn. Lead Division Softball Leagues

Following a week of inaction in the American League, National Circuit's three top teams continue to be Lynn, 2d Service Bn., and Cantara's 4th Bn., 10th Regt., and Bernie Smith's quarters Bn.

Service Bn. crew extended their record to 13-2, as they beat 2d Anti-Tank Bn. last 11-2. Larrick pitched a 10 game, striking out 10 enroute. The two runs for Tank's came on a walk, a double, and a wild throw by ck. Bert Knox helped the 2d Bn. cause offensively by cashing a home run.

In the 4/10's game, Cantara's 4th Bn. crew blasted Hdqtrs.

Lejeune To Host Senior Golf Meet

Camp Lejeune will host the Jaycee's Golf Tournament this year. This marks the first time the tourney has been held here.

Registration is set at 9 a. m., and contestants must be at Paradise Point Golf Course 10 a. m. for a pre-tournament briefing.

Boys under 18 years-old to August 15 living in the Country or Camp Lejeune area who is a student is eligible to compete in the event.

Winning players and runners-up of the open and novice divisions of the local tournament will compete in the state tourney held at Wilmington, N. C., July 22-24. They will be awarded trophies for achievement in the local officials for the tournament are Mr. Don Sroufe, director of the tourney, and Mr. Charles who will be starter and keeper. Both men live in onville.

In addition to the tournament, a clinic will be held for players at the Paradise Point Golf Course, with Ducky, the course pro.

Twenty-Five Terminate Tractor/Trailer Training

Graduation ceremonies were recently held for two classes, totaling 25 Marines, which completed Base Motor Transport Company's Operation and Maintenance of the Tractor/Trailer Course.

The honor student of the two classes was Pvt. John H. Heck, a member of the second class, who topped all others with a 97 percent average for the course. Tying for the top spot with an average of 92 percent within the first class were PFC James W. Maynard and LCpl. I. D.

Mayhew.

The 40-hour course, conducted by the company's training and licensing section, is designed to reduce the number of accidents and lower the operational costs of the vehicles.

Performing Double Duty Nets Citation For GyS

Gy. Sgt. Hazen E. MacDonald, of "B" Co., 2d AmTrac Bn., Force Troops, was congratulated at Meritorious Mast for his outstanding performance of duty by Lt. Col. R. L. Shuford, acting battalion commander.

The Mast read in part: "During the period March 1, 1963 to June 14, 1963 you performed your assigned duties as Platoon Leader and Platoon Sergeant of the 4th Platoon of Company "B" in a highly commendable manner above and beyond the normal require

2d FSR Chooses 'Marine' For June

Cpl. Norman M. Krause, of Communication Support Co., H&S Bn., 2d FSR was congratulated by Lt. Col. E. L. Roberts, battalion commander, on June 19, after being named 2d FSR's "Marine of the Month" for the month of June.

Cpl. Krause received the honors due to his leadership abilities and good military appearance. He has an operational knowledge of all field communications centers and is now the NCOIC of the Message Center and carries out the job with proficiency over the above that of other Marines of his rank. He successfully completed the MCI Course, "Basic Message Center Man". He also finished first in a class of 25 attending the Teletype Operators Course, at MCRD, San Diego, Calif.

of a Marine of your rank effective and efficient in which he assumed command and successfully guided the platoon through a series of tactical exercises, Commanding Officer and Inspector General's inspections clearly demonstrated the high caliber of the NCO. In addition this has participated in numerous field exercises and demonstrations during the tour. The manner in which you performed your duties directly resulted in the Company "B" receiving for their contributions to these highly successful operations.

Can You Be Critical

(Editor's Note: This is the third of six parts of an article concerning retraining of personnel for a critical MOS reprinted through the courtesy of LEATHERNECK magazine.)

The Marine who can combine the qualities of aptitude and enthusiasm, or a natural ability in a certain skill with a strong personal liking, has reached the threshold of what could best be described as the ideal occupational state. Work then becomes a matter of pride in personal accomplishment rather than a drudgery.

Another significant factor frequently overlooked in an applicant for a reassignment is the proven sincerity of purpose—his honest desire to see given occupational field.

Assuming that the candidate meets the prerequisites for the MOS, that a vacancy exists in the MOS, that he has adequate aptitude for the sufficient obligated through to serve in the Corps, in his case, he should be given proof of his sincerity. The Corps wants to be sure that he isn't governed by monetary or professional considerations.

Since the burden rests upon the individual, can best demonstrate sincerity by taking study courses in subjects related to the desired MOS. There will be correspondence with each course should be referred to the subordinate.

While enrollment in the Marine Corps Institute is not a hard and fast rule, it is one way of demonstrating "willingness" to the interested people designated.

Once all hurdles are cleared and your letter comes approved...assuming you does...don't pack your bags in anticipation of a furlough. Better read Marine Corps Order 1200.8 of 3 Aug 61.

This order establishes Enlisted Personnel Classification Testing for all enlisted and testing is also administered to personnel seeking promotion. And here is the Marine Corps separate "would-be's" from the "be's." A series of 10 tests (eight for word and two for math) reveals "talent" or "ability" and settles the issue of whether you'll go radar-ing or radar occupation.

Kerosene The Killer

On an average day in the United States eight people die from poisoning. For each death several hundred non-fatal poisonings are recorded. A vast majority of these poisonings occur in the 1 to 3 year old age group and take place in that most menacing place, the home. At Camp Lejeune over 1% of our children in 1962 were treated at the hospital for ingestion of toxic matter. Well over 300 children swallowed significantly noxious substances while untold numbers were advised via telephone in less dangerous ingestions. Thus, ruefully, we double the national average.

In recent months a distressing increase in the number of kerosene drinkers has been noted. Kerosene, or coal oil as it is often called, attacks two vital systems: (1) It depresses the nervous system, acting like an extremely dangerous anesthetic. Thus, children may be found drowsy, confused, or even comatose. (In a smaller percentage it has the opposite effect and may cause convulsions.) (2) As many as 50% of those who drink kerosene develop some degree of pneumonia or bronchitis. Many authorities feel that the vapors of kerosene are readily aspirated into the lungs causing pneumonia. Thus, it is most important, in this instance, that the child not be made to vomit. Indeed, only where dangerous amounts have been consumed is "washing the stomach" indicated and then with great care.

Kerosene is a killer and even with treatment 10% of these children die. Thus, prevention is imperative. A few important precautions that can be taken in the home are: (1) Do not catch drippings from a leaky oil heater in a can or jar.

Policy Spelled Out For Dependent Teachers By Navy

The Navy has stated its policy regarding hiring of Navy and Marine Corps wives as teachers in Navy-operated dependent schools at overseas locations where their husbands are stationed.

BUPERS Instructions 1755.16 lists detailed qualifications for these teaching positions and instructions for applying for such employment.

Among the qualifications listed are: American citizens with a Bachelor's degree; at least 18 semester hours of course work in the field of professional teacher education; certain teaching experiences and good physical condition.

Such objects have much eye appeal for the "crawling and toddling" set. (2) Don't put kerosene in unlabeled bottles, especially pop bottles. (3) If it is absolutely necessary to have kerosene around, keep it under lock and key.

In the sad event that kerosene should be swallowed, act quickly: (1) Make a reasonable estimate of the amount consumed. (2) Do not make the child vomit (thus, it is safest not to offer anything by mouth.) (3) Bring the child at once to Ward 2 of the hospital and make your presence known. (4) Keep the child awake while en route to the hospital. (5) If a kerosene containing product (and there are many) bring the container so an estimate of the concentration can be made. Remember, kerosene kills kids!

NOTICE

A Senior Life Saving Instruction class will be conducted at the Area 2 Swimming Pool, for the purpose of furthering the knowledge of Assistant Instructors working in the Youth Community Activities Program.

Also, any dependent wife, son or daughter, 16 years of age and older, interested in Water Safety are invited to attend these classes.

Training will commence on Tuesday, July 23, from 1 to 4 p.m. Dates for further training classes will be the 25th and 30th of July, and the 1st, 6th, and the 8th of August, also from 1 to 4 p.m. Each class will have a limit to the people attending, in accordance to the instructors available.

Recipe Of The Week

CHESTNUT CHICKEN STEW

- 1 Spring Chicken, cut into 1 1/2" pieces including bones.
- 2 Slices of ginger
- 1 stalk spring onion cut into small sections
- 1 lb. Chestnuts, boiled and shelled
- 1 tsp. salt
- 3 T. Soy Sauce
- 2 T. Cooking Wine
- 1 tsp. Sugar
- 3 T. Cooking Oil

Heat oil in fry pan, fry ginger and onion. Add chicken. When chicken changes color, add salt, sugar, soy sauce and wine.

Cover and simmer for 10 minutes. Add 1/2 cup of water, simmer for 30 minutes. Add chestnuts and again simmer for 15 minutes. Goes well over rice, potatoes, or alone. Serves 6.

Ceremonies Held In 10th, 2d Marines Establishing Two New Commanders

Col. Henry H. Reichner, Jr., relieved Col. William P. Oliver, Jr., as Commanding Officer, 10th Marines, in ceremonies held at the Static Display Area, Hurlst Beach Road, Wednesday, June 26.

Col. Oliver was transferred to Headquarters, 2d Marine Division to assume duties as Assistant Chief of Staff G-1, Brig. Gen. R. McC. Tompkins, commanding general, 2d Marine Division, attended the Change of Command ceremonies which included a regimental parade and a pass-in-review of mounted troops with vehicles and guns.

A six-gun salvo of 155-mm. howitzers saluted the outgoing and incoming commanders. The guns, using live ammunition, were fired at two-second intervals.

Col. Reichner—holder of two Bronze Star Medals—is no stranger to the artillery field having served with artillery units many times previously during his career.

He commanded Battery "A", 155 Gun Group, 9th Defense Battalion from February 1942 until November 1944. He saw action on Guadalcanal and New Georgia with the unit.

Returning from overseas in December 1944 he assumed command of Headquarters Battery, Base Artillery Battalion, Camp Lejeune. He held this command until April 1945.

Continuing uninterrupted service with artillery, he returned overseas in May 1945 where he served with the 10th Marines on Saipan and in Japan.

While with the 10th Marines he held billets of Battalion S-3, Regimental S-3, and Battalion Executive Officer.

In May 1946 he was transferred to Pagan Island in the Marianas where he became Commanding Officer of the Marine Shore Bombardment Training Detachment.

During the Korean War he served with the 1st Marine Division, first as Division Naval Gunfire Officer and later as Commanding Officer, 4th Battalion, 11th Marines.

2d Marines

Lt. Col. J. B. Bristow relieved Col. R. M. Richards as commanding officer, 2d Marines, July 3, during change of command ceremonies here.

Col. Richards is temporarily assigned to Headquarters Battalion, 2d Marine Division, while awaiting further transfer to Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C., where he will work on the Commandant's Staff.

Lt. Col. Bristow served as executive officer, 2d Marines, prior to assuming his new duties.

Army Magazine Writing Contest Open to Marines

Infantrymen the world over have been invited to enter INFANTRY Magazine's recently announced short story contest.

First prize winner will receive a $100 savings bond and second place winner will be awarded a $50 savings bond.

Entries may be fiction, serious or humorous, but must be related to the Infantry in some way. Stories should not exceed 3,000 words and must be typed or printed in ink and double-spaced using only one side of the paper. Authors may draw on personal experiences for writing.

Entries should be in good taste and not reflect adversely upon any person or upon any agency of any government. Non-U. S. contestants have been requested by INFANTRY's editors to write in English, since the magazine has no translators.

Authors should identify themselves to include rank and military address. A short biographical sketch, suitable for publication, should accompany each manuscript. Entries must be accompanied by a self-addressed return envelope and postage if contestants desire return of manuscripts.

Entries must be postmarked not later than August 1. All entries will be acknowledged. Winners will be announced in the November-December issue, along with publication of the first prize article. Other winners will be printed in subsequent issues.

Manuscript entries should be addressed to: Writing Contest, INFANTRY Magazine, OAS, USA, Fort Benning, Georgia, USA.

Judges for the contest will be selected personnel of the U. S. Army Infantry School and Center.

Pistol Score Of 254 Wins 2d Division's Intramurals

1st Sgt. A. Q. Perry of the 1st Battalion, 8th Marines, was the top individual winner with a score of 254 (service pistol class) in the second quarter of the 2d Marine Division's Intramural Marksmanship Program held June 10-14.

Other individual winners were Capt. J. A. Thomas, 3d Battalion, 10th Marines, with a 371 in the small bore rifle class, and 1st Sgt. J. H. Goodfellow, 2d AntiTank Battalion, who shot a 276 in the small bore rifle division.

The 1st Battalion, 8th Marines, won the top unit award in the service pistol matches with an overall 893. The 3d Battalion, 8th Marines, followed closely with a 864, and the 4th Battalion, 10th Marines, took third spot with 858.

In the inter-battalion small bore pistol matches, 2d Anti-tank Battalion placed first with a 974, while 1st Battalion, 8th Marines, with a 938, were second. Third place was won by the 3d Battalion, 2d Marines with an 808.

In the small-bore rifle matches, the 2d Anti-tank men again took top spot with a 1363 total, followed by 3d Battalion, 10th Marines, (1334), and 2d Engineer Battalion (1296).

Gen. Litzenberg Vet Of 37 Years Victim Of Cancer

Retired Marine Lt. Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg died of cancer at the Bethesda Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md., Thursday evening, June 27, and was buried in Arlington National Cemetery July 2.

A veteran of 37 years of Marine Corps service as enlisted and officer, Gen. Litzenberg retired from active duty in May 1959. Since his enlistment in the Marine Corps in 1922, Gen. Litzenberg served in Haiti, was commissioned, served in Nicaragua, and during WW II, he participated in amphibious assaults in both the European and Pacific Theaters.

With the outbreak of the Korean Conflict, he formed and assumed command of the 7th Marine Regimental Combat Team which sailed for Korea in Sept. 1950.

Gen. Litzenberg returned to Korea in 1957 as the Senior Member of the United Nations Command component of the Armistice Commission. On his return to the States, he was assigned his last tour of duty in Dec. 1957, as Inspector-General of the Marine Corps. He remained in this post until his retirement in 1959.

BLT 1/6 Adds Good To Mediterranean Diet

WITH THE U. S. SIXTH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN (Delayed)—A pair of crutches, a Navy doctor, the labor of 40 Marines and a bulldozer from Battalion Landing Team 1-6 has left upon the people of Nea Peramos, Greece an impression of friendship and good will that will long be remembered.

It all began shortly after BLT 1-6, under the command of Lt. Col. M. W. Schmidt, landed at Nea Peramos harbor in a small room in a village city hall. Navy physician examined the Greek doctor, who had been struck by a car. The doctor was in some cases treated by the Greek physician, who had traveled 30 miles to utilize the services of the medical team.

Normally, the people of Nea Peramos and the few villages situated in the mountains south of the village rely on the services of a Greek physician who continually travels to the village.

Meanwhile, at the Nea Peramos Church of St. George, the priest, who had been struck by a car, was being treated by the medical team. The priest's condition was improving.

Additional ceremonies to lay a walkway to the church were left with the medical team. The priest was the prohibition for the battalion had been to keep.

A few hours before the Nea Peramos Engineers graded a road to pick up the medical team. The road was continuously by the medical team to transport their cargo.

One 19-year-old man, who was struck by a car, was being treated by the medical team. The man was in some cases treated by the Greek physician, who had traveled 30 miles to utilize the services of the medical team.

Doctor Quinn

on June 14. The next day, as the battalion's infantry units trained in the mountains and valleys of the surrounding area, back in the village of Nea Peramos, Marine and Navy personnel were conducting a People to People program.

The battalion's medical detachment, under the command of Lt. James J. Quinn, (MC), USNR with the aid of six Navy corpsmen, established a two day medical examination center

COL. GLENN R. LONG assumed duties as Chief of Staff, Headquarters, 2d Marine Division, June 26. He was formerly 2d Division Deputy Chief of Staff Inspector.

COL. WILLIAM P. OLIVER, JR., assumed duties as Assistant Chief of Staff G-1, Headquarters, 2d Marine Division, June 26, after being relieved as commanding officer, 10th Marines.
