

New Missile Launched By HUS 'Copter

The Navy announced last week that Bullpup air-to-surface missiles have been successfully launched from helicopters, a new concept that could provide Marine assault troops with additional offensive and defensive firepower.

The missile-helicopter combination has been undergoing tests at the Naval Air Test Center, Patuxent River, Md., using a Marine Corps Sikorsky HUS-1 helicopter.

The Bullpup, being produced for the Navy and Air Force at the Martin Company's guided missiles and electronics facility in Orlando, Fla., is a radio-controlled missile. It had previously been fired only from such fast planes as the Navy's Douglas A4D and the North American FJ4B. It is effective against such ground targets as tanks, pillboxes, airfield installations and bridges.

In recent tests Bullpup was fired while the Marine helicopter hovered at 1,500 feet. Seconds after the fiery-tailed missile left the craft's side it splashed within inches of a target disk 10,000 yards out in Chesapeake Bay.

The Marine pilots report no stability problems with the helicopter and that control of the missile is no more difficult than from a fixed-wing aircraft.

Once Bullpup is launched, the pilot guides it to the target by a switch on his control stick. The missile can be steered up, down or to either side during its flight. Flares in the aft section help the pilot keep the missile clearly in sight as it streaks toward the target.

"RADIO VIEQUES CALLING . . ."—High on a hill overlooking the Vieques, P. R., Marine training area, the Vieques Amateur Radio Station transmits calls three times daily from Marines in training there to their loved ones at home.

'Compact History' Named Marine Book Of The Year

"The Compact History of the United States Marine Corps" has been designated "Marine Book of the Year." The award sponsored by the Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and Cameramen Association, is given yearly at the association's annual national reunion. Presentation was made at the group's banquet Saturday evening, June 18, at the Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel.

The combat correspondents award committee cited the book as "an extremely readable and enjoyable history of the Marines . . . the first complete history of the Corps undertaken since World War II. The concise appraisal of events, including the geo-political situation which called the Corps to action so many times over nearly two centuries, are available to Marines and men in mufti as well."

Lt. Col. Philip Pierce, who collected the history and trimmed it to one volume, is currently serving with Marine Corps Headquarters in Washington, D. C. This fact does not alter Pierce's treatment of the Corps. If the Marines goofed, he says so. An example: on the first battle of Bull Run, he says, "It would be a pleasure to record that the performance of the Marines stood as the one redeeming feature of an otherwise disgraceful military action, as it had at Bladensburg. But it would not be true. The fact is that the Marines ran just as fast as everyone else . . ."

The correspondent's award, a large silver cup, will be presented Colonel Pierce by Mr. Hal Watkins, who is presiding over the 15th annual meeting and president of the local chapter.

Pierce is a veteran of more than 18 years in the Corps. Co-author of the 100,000-word volume is the late Lt. Col. Frank Hough, who did much of the research before his death in 1958.

Compact History of the U. S. Marines is published by Hawthorn Books, Inc., and illustrated by Gil Walker. There are 308 pages in the volume, plus index and bibliography. The cost is $4.95.

Research Lab Makes Report On Snakebite

Snakebite studies conducted at the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory during the past eight months were discussed at the Military Medicine Session of the American Medical Association meeting in Miami, Fla., on June 16. Lt. Thornton W. Merriam Jr., MC, USNR, and Cmdr. Robert S. Leopold, MSC, USN, presented the report.

The report concerned an evaluation of incision and suction first-aid therapy of snakebite. The conclusion reached was this therapy must be started as soon as possible and that after 30 minutes, it is valueless. In some cases, it will be of no value at any time.

The present first-aid for snakebite is being reviewed and revised for the Armed Forces by the National Research Council. The experiments at the NMFRL are being considered by this group in reaching their decision.

Vieques-Camp Lejeune Ham Radio Patches Are Increased

The Vieques-Camp Lejeune "Love and Affection" phone patch circuit is growing. Between 200 and 300 calls went through the network during the last Vieques maneuver, and facilities have been improved to provide more efficient service than ever. The station in Vieques is located on a high hill

Nine Marines Selected For Auto School

A school in automotive testing equipment began this week in Chicago for nine Marines from 2nd Division, Force Troops and Marine Corps Base. Conducted annually by the Sun Electric Corporation, the school teaches the Camp Lejeune mechanics to become more proficient in the use of the equipment.

The electronic test gear in which special instruction will be given includes apparatus for testing regulators, generators, distributors, starters and magnetos. Twenty-one pieces of equipment usually common only to the military have been shipped to the Chicago corporation to aid in the instruction.

Special emphasis will be placed on the use of small portable electronic testers which are used by second echelon units of the 2nd Division. There will be some training in the handling of larger pieces of testing equipment, about the size of a portable typewriter, which are used by third and fourth echelon units.

Sun Electric testing equipment is used throughout the Marine Corps, including the Air Wings. The schools are conducted by the corporation as a manufacturers public relations function and are held by special request by the Marine Corps.

The men attending the school are: Act. GySgt. P. Hallam and Act. SSgt. O. C. Ellison, 2nd Service Bn., 2nd Division; SSgt. R. D. Snow, Force Troops; Act. GySgt. E. L. Cooper and Act. Sgt. J. S. Mason Jr., 2nd Force Service Regiment; Act. SSgt. P. N. Pamos, Act. SSgt. A. Solomon and Act. Sgt. P. E. Spratt, Marine Corps Supply Schools; and Act. SSgt. M. L. Schippers, Marine Corps Engineer Schools.

mile and a half from the main encampment area. Its tall antenna attracted a direct hit by a bolt of lightning recently, temporarily putting the station operator off the air, but the station and radioman are again in full operation.

In order to perform its service effectively, the program must be strictly followed. The calls will be limited to six minutes. An individual may make only one call every two weeks. No questions may be asked about military movements or training activities, and money matters may not be discussed.

There are some helpful suggestions for use of the circuit. Know exactly what you want to say, and go on as far as jotting notes down on a piece of paper before making the call. Speak loudly and distinctly into the telephone, say "over" clearly when you have finished each part of the conversation, and do not rush.

Call are made three times daily Monday through Friday. The exact times may be learned by calling Amateur Radio Station W4LEV-7-5312 or 7-5886. Calls of an urgent nature may be arranged on Saturday and Sunday by calling the station.

Because of the distance which the men in Vieques have to travel to get to the radio station, it is best for the call to originate from the husband in Vieques at a time suitable to him.

The phone patch system is used to relay calls to dependents who have gone to their home state while the husband is in Vieques. The husband may call from Vieques to the Camp Lejeune amateur station, give the number of the phone where the dependent may be reached, and the dependent may have to pay only the cost of the call from Camp Lejeune to the location at which she received the call.

Plans are being laid to furnish phone patch service for all organizations operating out of Camp Lejeune who are training in area away from the base.

Sneads Ferry Acceleration Lane Opened

An acceleration lane is now open on Sneads Ferry Road at the intersection of Holcomb Blvd. The Base Safety Director has outlined the following methods for proper use of the lane.

When entering the acceleration lane, do not stop. Do not slow down to a creeping speed. Enter the lane with a little speed since the traffic must not be stopped while looking for a gap to merge.

Keep moving down to or near the end of the lane if not able to merge. A merging gap can be found if kept moving. Make sure the traffic gap is sufficiently long so merging can be made without causing a collision. It is important to take a quick look to the front to make sure a car is not ahead.

Traffic on Holcomb Blvd. has the right-of-way.

Drivers using Holcomb Blvd. are urged to assist those using the Sneads Ferry Road acceleration lane to merge into traffic. Move over into the center outgoing lane prior to reaching the acceleration lane.

If properly used, the acceleration lane will improve traffic flow and safety. Practice courtesy in letting the other car merge.

GENERAL'S INSPECTION—Motor Transport Company troops are inspected by Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade during the commanding general's annual inspection of Headquarters Battalion held last Thursday. The inspection also included detailed checks on administration, operations, training and logistics. The annual CG inspections of Marine Corps Base activities will be concluded with Field Medical Service School in July, and an inspection of Second Force Service Regiment at a date to be announced. Think Of Your Retirement Now, Make It Planned And Pleasant

It has been said that one of the big differences between man and animal is that man has the power to reason. And, the power to reason is the power to survive. In the long run, the power to survive, for those who are carving out Marine Corps careers is the power to plan toward retirement.

We have only to reflect on the age-old analogy of the hard-working ant and the happy-go-lucky grasshopper to drive home the need to save for the rainy day.

Yet many of us are "human grasshoppers of the same carefree, day-to-day living. We feel sorry for ourselves because net retired pay is not enough to support our families. We seek additional employment as the answer to our financial "crisis."

What has happened to that $100,000 or so you will have earned by the time you get out? Did some of it buy savings bonds or go into a savings account? Perhaps you have a home that will be paid for and so will not worry about the rent. Even a higher education itself is an investment if you want to better your standard of living.

Don't pity the grasshopper. He wasn't supposed to know any better. You have been trained to make decisions and, as a good Marine, have made them throughout your career. Now is the time to make one or more for yourself. You have been given the tools . . . money is one . . . with which to carve a comfortable retirement for yourself.

Do yourself a favor and prove that men do have reasoning power.

Reunions Renew Spirit Of Corps

Upwards of 5,000 Marines are expected to attend the three-day reunion of the six Marine Corps World War II combat divisions beginning tomorrow at Washington, D. C.

There were only about 5,000 Marines in the Fleet Marine Force at the outbreak of the Second World War. Yet from this nucleus was created the six great combat divisions which will re-unite this week.

Many of the veterans coming to the convention are Marine Corps Reservists—the type who formed the greater part of these six Marine divisions during World War II and the two in service during the Korean conflict. Others will be regular and former wartime or peacetime veterans of the six divisions.

These veterans are uniting primarily for the purpose of perpetuating war and peacetime memories and re-emphasizing that the Marine Corps is a force in readiness to defend our nation at a moment's notice.

The gallant men whose accomplishments in both World War II and the Korean conflict are written indelibly into our country's fight for freedom of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness are ready to fight again, if necessary, to protect our nation's honor, as are their successors who once guarded and/or are still guarding the peace today.

Is Life Really Worth Living?

I wonder how often the question has come to our minds, "Is life really worth living?" How often have you said, "I'm fed up, and there is nothing worth living for?" Yes, truly, the greatest problem of life is life itself.

Have you heard of Solomon, who tried everything that life appeared to offer? He had plenty of money so he was able to get most anything he wanted. He lived a life which we now would describe as one of "Wine, Women, and Song." Yes, he got everything he wanted regardless of whom it hurt or what it did to others.

Here is a man who let himself go, and yet as a result he declared, "Behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit, and there is no profit under the sun." By this statement we can clearly see that he hated life. Even with all his heart desired, he still asked, "Is life really worth living?"

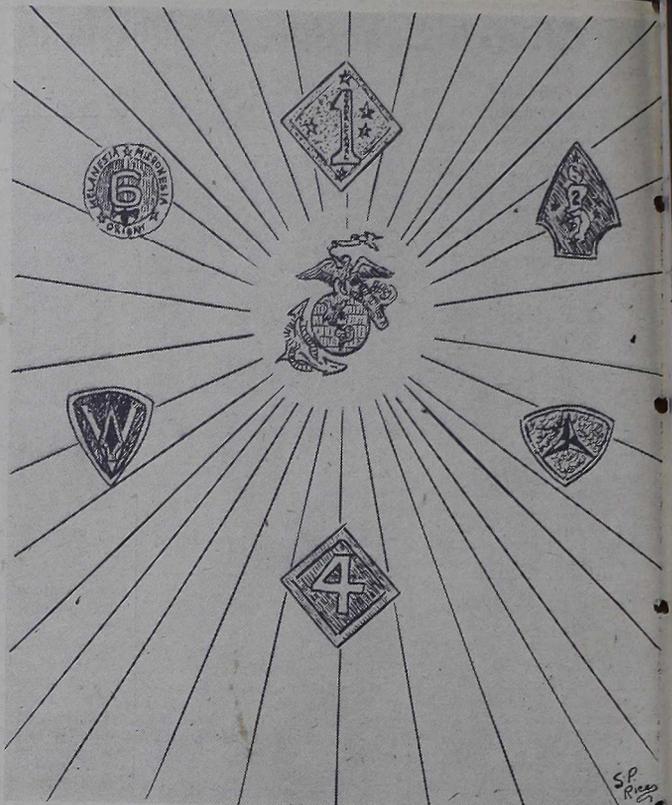

Today, with all man has to face, restrictions of all kinds, high taxes, a country sweating as it never has before, just for the right to exist, man is brilliant enough to discover the secrets of the universe and yet is not able to find enough bread to feed his body.

The Bible says, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

It is true that animals must have air to live, and that fish must have water to live, but the big thing that man needs in order to live is God.

God sent Jesus to us to die for our sins, but after dying He arose and is still living among us and in us. If we accept Him and keep Him in our hearts, then we no longer have a yearning for something else in life, for we are content. When we have Christ within us, then our question is answered for we know that any life with Christ is well worth living.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT PHASE OF SUMMER TRAINING DO YOU PREFER?

(Asked of Organized Marine Corps Reservists who arrived during the past weekend for their two weeks of annual summer field training at Camp Lejeune.)

ACT. SGT. HERBERT W. STEADMAN, 4th 105mm Howitzer Bn., Akron, Ohio.—

I've been in the Active Reserves for five years and so far I've enjoyed all of my summer training. Our unit has just been redesignated an artillery battalion, so this year's training is going to be new to me. Added to the fact that this is the first time we've been to Lejeune, it should make for an interesting two weeks.

PFC HARRY L. McLENDON, 2nd Amphibian Tractor Co., Jacksonville, Fla.—I like the training in mechanics. My civilian job is that of a mechanic and I have worked with engines for a long time. To take something mechanically out of order and restore it to working condition is a thrilling accomplishment for me, and I enjoy every minute of it.

CSGT. WILLIAM G. PAGE, 2nd Amphibian Tractor Co., Jacksonville, Fla.—Since

I'm a platoon sergeant and tractor commander, I would have to say the land and sea problems with the amphibious tractor. To me this is the most important part of our summer training with the am-tracs, and in turn, the most enjoyable.

LCPL. PIERRE A. LARMOYEUX, 99th Rifle Co., Riviera Beach, Fla.—The

infantry training we receive while on two week's annual summer field training has proven most interesting to me. I especially like to fire the 3.5 rocket launcher, the mortars and grenades. I am a fire team leader and this training keeps me up to date on these weapons and the infantry tactics needed to use them.

PFC GLEN C. GRAY, 97th Rifle Co., Newport News, Va.—I look forward to reconnaissance training and night patrols. I find, however, most of the training informative and at times exciting. I was on active duty under the six-month program and am familiar with most of the training here, but it should be interesting to apply that individual training to teamwork with my reserve unit.

PFC JAMES R. CORBETT, 97th Rifle Co., Newport News, Va.—I like the unit level training we receive, applying what we learned at 1st ITR while on active duty. Live hand grenades and the infiltration course are two of my favorite phases of training. Like most Marines, I think the gas chamber exercise is one phase no one looks forward to.

The Marine Corps is adopting a new quick-release device for parachutes which was pioneered by the Army. The new release assembly separates the parachute harness from the canopy when the jumper hits the ground to prevent him from being dragged. Navy Times said that the new device is expected to be in the Marine Corps supply system by July 1.

The 15-month non-dependent tour of duty now served by Marine Corps personnel in the Far East may be reduced as much as two months. A Marine Corps spokesman said that Headquarters has been working on just such a program for at least six months. Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine Corps Commandant, is known to favor the move. Soon after taking over the reins of the Corps last January he indicated 15 months was too long a tour and said he would try to reduce it. Headquarters could offer no time table for such a plan to go into effect, but said the program is actively under study.

Thousands Cheer Marines In New Bern Anniversary Parade

As thousands of viewers lined the streets of New Bern, some 2,000 members of the Armed Forces, including 1,200 Marines from Camp Lejeune marched in celebration of "United States Day" and the 250th anniversary of the historic city.

Citizens of New Bern had selected Saturday, June 18, as the day to honor the servicemen of the United States during the city's two-week celebration.

Marching units from the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, the 2nd Marine Division Band and Force Troops Drum and Bugle Corps were supplemented with troops from the Second Marine Air Wing and Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point; Ft. Bragg, the Fifth Naval District; the Ninth Air Force and the Civil Air Patrol.

Also in the parade and on display at the conclusion of the hour-long march, were mechanical mules, mighty mites, an Ontos, an Honest John rocket and 155mm howitzers, all from Camp Lejeune.

Particularly pleasing to the spectators was a float prepared by the men of Cherry Point, carrying Marines wearing historical uniforms of the Corps from its inception until 1918.

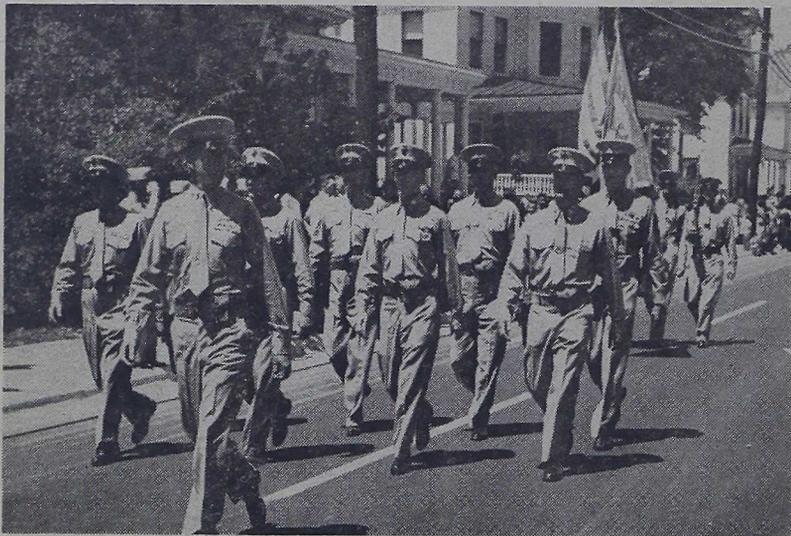

Col. G. H. West, commanding officer, 1st Infantry Training Regiment, was grand marshal of the parade. Col. R. J. Batterton Jr., commanding officer, Headquarters Bn., Marine Corps Base, commanded the Marine contingent.

The marching units representing the Marine Corps were 2nd Bn., 1st Infantry Training Regiment, commanded by Lt. Col. J. H. Papurca; Materiel Supply and Maintenance Bn., commanded by Lt. Col. A. L. Sherbondy; a composite honor company from the Second Marine Air Wing and MCAS, Cherry Point; and a platoon

Sharing the rest stand along with West were Maj. Gen. Mrs. James P. B. Brig. Gen. and Mrs. S. Wade, Brig. Gen. Leonard F. Chapman, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. C. Conoley, and Brig. Gen. K. Rottet and Frank C. in. of Cherry Point. Dignitaries included Congressman and Mrs. A. Barden and New Mayor and Mrs. R. I. lings Jr.

With showings being sent tonight, tomorrow and Saturday nights, an attraction of the anniversary celebration is the presentation of the "Third From a new historical drama the story of New first century. Ten-Game Road Trip On Tap; Parris Island Invades Lejeune

After a two-game home stand against the Travelers of Ft. Lee, Monday and Wednesday nights, the locals departed this morning to begin the longest road trip of the season. The trip will take the Marines to Virginia, Washington, D. C., and Maryland during which time the locals are scheduled for 10 games. Making their first stop in the Nation's Capital, the locals meet the Army Chemical Center for a two-game series, followed by single games with Lejeune's Athletic Club and Greater Washington Athletic Club. Traveling south to Virginia the Marines meet Andrews Air Force Base for a solo game and the Soldiers of Fort Eustis for a three game series. Winding up the current road trip the locals face Fort Meade, Md., in a two-game set before returning to Camp Lejeune for an all important three game series with Parris Island, which could decide the East Coast Area Marine Championships.

Squeezing one victory out of the three games during their recent series at Parris Island, the Camp Lejeune nine took a 4-2 lead in the coast title race with six games remaining to be played. To win the title and host the All-Marine at Camp Lejeune in August the Marines must win three more games or a total of seven out of 12.

Trailing 5-4 in the sixth inning, the Marines exploded for three runs in the sixth and again in the eighth innings to defeat the Travelers of Fort Lee, 10-6 with Wayne Taylor picking up his third victory in relief of Ron Beimel. Beimel had earlier relieved starter Bill Haywood.

It was the locals' seventh straight win over the Virginians and raised their season record to 43 wins against 14 losses.

The Marines took a first inning lead, 4-0 with Hal Norton, slaming a two run home run over the left field fence, his fourth of the season. Third baseman Jim Green currently leading the locals in the batting department with an even .400 average, raised his average with two hits in two official trips to the plate.

Travelers Lead

Battling back in the third inning, the Travelers tied the game and moved into a two-run lead, 6-4, after adding a run in both the fourth and fifth innings. The four-run rally in the third was led by a three-run home run by Lee's first baseman George Young.

Unable to score in four innings, the Marines exploded in the sixth frame to take the lead, scoring three runs, aided by a booming bases-loaded double by shortstop Charlie Armstrong.

A five-minute rubarb interrupted the contest in the seventh as Jim Green led off the inning with a three-base drive to deep center field, but was called out at first for failing to touch the bag.

Locals Even Away Series At Ft. Gordon

Picking up five runs on five extra base hits in the seventh inning, the Camp Lejeune Marines downed Ft. Gordon, 9-1, last Friday night to even their road trip at four wins and four losses before returning home for a two-game series against Ft. Lee.

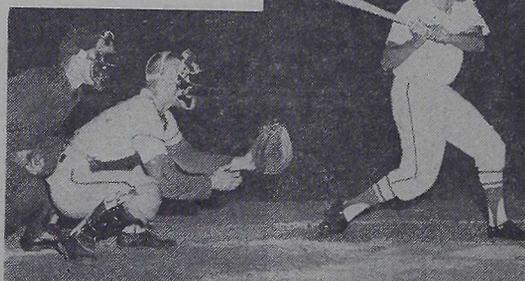

Charlie Bryan, earlier acquired from Quantico, picked up his first victory with the locals after hurling a nifty two-hitter at the Signalers, while teammates got two Gordon hurlers for 10 hits.

The victory was the 42nd for the locals against only 14 losses for the season, with 32 season games remaining to be played.

The big seventh inning saw rightfielder Howie Heiden hit a two-run homer to drive in shortstop Charlie Armstrong ahead of himself. Centerfielder Cliff Simpson, second sacker Barry Fullerton and left fielder Dave Petros doubled in succession to account for two more runs, and first baseman Hal Norton tripled home Petros for the fifth and final run of the frame.

Bryan held the Signalers scoreless until the eighth inning, while the locals took an early lead with three runs in the first inning, added five in the seventh and a lone tally in the ninth.

Norton led the hitters against the Georgians with two hits in four official trips to the plate.

IT LOOKS GOOD—And it was, as first baseman Hal Norton slammed his fourth home run of the year over the leftfield fence, pushing the Marines into a 4-0 lead against the Ft. Lee Travelers. (Photo by Cpl. P. W. Freeland)

Marines Drop Rubber Game With Soldiers

After defeating the soldiers of Ft. McPherson, 6-2, in the opener of a three-game series, the Marines dropped the following two games, 7-5 and 9-8, suffering their 13th and 14th loss of the 1960 campaign.

The McPherson squad pushed across a run in the 11th inning to break an 8-8 deadlock and managed to hold the locals scoreless for the final victory of the series.

Righthander Bob Rumer started for the Marines and suffered his third loss against eight victories for the season while Schroeder picked up the win although needing help in the eighth inning from Carter, after the locals staged a four-run scoring effort.

After trailing 7-1, the Marines began their rally with centerfielder Cliff Simpson collecting a single and shortstop Charlie Armstrong reaching first on an error. First baseman Hal Norton then singled to drive in Simpson and second baseman Barry Fullerton smashed his ninth homer of the year, scoring Armstrong and Norton ahead of himself.

The Marines out hit the victors 10-6 with Simpson, third baseman Jim Green and catcher Hank Nichols each collecting two hits in four official trips to the plate, and teammates Armstrong, Norton, Fullerton and rightfielder Howie Heiden each adding one safety each.

Coach Hal Glasgow utilized four pitchers in an effort to pull the contest out of the fire, as Wayne Taylor relieved by Bob Cosner in the fifth. Bob Williams came on in relief in the seventh to finish the game.

Javelin King Upset During Interservice Championships

MARINE CORPS SCHOOLS, QUANTICO, VA., June 13—Young Jan Sikorsky made good on his vow to beat world record holder Al Cantello in the javelin and Bob Gutowski staged a tense duel with the Army's Don Bragg in the pole vault to highlight the Interservice Track and Field Championships held here last weekend. Outstanding performances were registered in almost every event in the two-day carnival which saw the Army garner 11 first, the Marines and the Air Force four each, and the Navy one.

Sikorsky, who was unhappy with the decision of a judge which gave the win to Cantello in the All-Marine meet, had promised to beat Cantello in the Interservice competition. He fulfilled this promise by throwing the spear 257'6 1/2" to beat by more than 15 feet Cantello's best effort of 241'9 1/2".

It was the best heave of Sikorsky's career, his top previous performance being a 257'4" throw at the Easter Relays in Santa Barbara, Calif., earlier this season.

A trio of pole vaulters cleared 15', but Bragg, the world's indoor titlist, and Gutowski, the outdoor champion, were all alone when the bar went to 15'6". Both missed all three tries at that height, and verdict went to Bragg as Gutowski had missed his first try at 15'3". Marine Mel Schwarz went out at the 15'3" level.

The Marines' Mike Fleming and the Army's Tom Rodda left the rest of the field far behind as they raced to identical 3-45.5 timings in the 1,500-meter run. The win went to Rodda by a literal nose at the wire.

Bob Gardner gave one of his best performances before a Quantico crowd when he won the high jump with a 6'8" leap.

UPSET KING—The Marines' young Jan Sikorsky gets set to heave the javelin 257'6 1/2", good for first place in the event in the Interservice Championships. Sikorsky upset teammate Al Cantello, world record holder in the javelin, who had a best toss of 241'9 1/2".

Vasko Leads Falstaff Team Into Top Spot

Falstaff keglers moved into first place aided by the fine bowling of stalwart Paul Vasko who compiled a 239-650 last Wednesday evening during Staff bowling action, as the leaders shut out Rock and Roll Drive-In, 4-0.

Tied for first place last week, D&E Car Exchange dropped to second place after splitting with Herb Sunshine 2-2. In other keg action Stiles Van & Storage downed the Brown Baggers, 4-0; National Boh defeated New River Pharmacy, 3-1; Gulfpride Service scored a 3-1 victory over Budweiser, and Courthouse Bay Staff Club upset Pioneer American Insurance Co., 3-1.

Individual highs went to Falstaff—Paul Vasko, 239-650; Rock & Roll Drive-In—El Lockett, 193 and Bill Mobley, 502; Stiles Van & Storage—Worth Hinnant, and Ken Threl; Brown Baggers—Paul Curtiss, 191-505; National Bohemian—P. A. Davis, 194-520; New River Pharmacy—Tony Santoni, 157-425; Gulfpride Service—John Bowen, 201-591; Budweiser—Bob Lippman, 216-578; Courthouse Bay Staff Club—Bill Sutton, 193 and Hoppy Hopper, 451; Pioneer American Insurance Co.—Bill Myers, 194-514; D&E Car Exchange—Jake Pugh, 192 and Regis Ferrie, 511; Herb Sunshine—Lew Nicoletta, 224-574.

Troop 490 Completes Days' Pisgah Camping

The entire membership of Camp Lejeune's E Troop 490, totaling 32 Scouts, ventured on a nine-day trip June 4 to June 12 to the Pisgah National Forest. With money earned through their own efforts, the group was able to secure a camp site near Mt. Mitchell where they given a unique camping experience.

The main purpose of the trip was to teach the boys methods and procedures of outdoor living by providing only the necessary facilities to take care of themselves with few benefits of civilization.

The group operated in patrols, working together in setting up camp, planning a non-supervised recreational schedule, and, basically, putting all Scout training to use. Located near South Toe Creek, the camp site was largely dependent upon the waters for bathing, laundering, and cooking. While the group maneuvered in the nearby area, one patrol was left at the camp each day to take charge of maintenance details. Details included preparation, and serving of the food, cleaning-up, and general caring and guarding of all equipment.

Among the precautions stressed at the forest, the boys, with previous help from Scout leaders and guides, displayed excellent knowledge of proper care of the feet. This involved procedures concerning correct wearing of boots and socks. With satisfying and rewarding results it was reported that the majority were able to avoid usual hiking impediments expected during such long and tiring trips.

Also included in the troop's assignments and duties was the advancement in Scouting. All tenderfoot Scouts in the group were able to pass the requirements for Second Class. During this expedition, the majority went from Second Class to First Class.

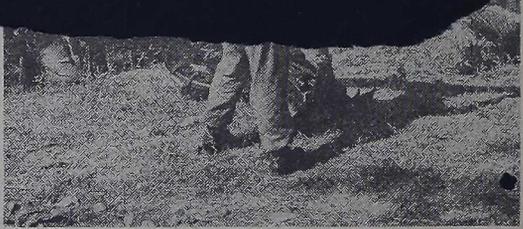

The climax of the journey came with the long-awaited hike to the summit of Mt. Mitchell. Distance was approximately 10 miles to the destination. Twenty-one of the 32 boys made the trip, climbing to the summit one day and returning to camp the following morning.

Lt. Col. H. I. Dunlap, camp commander, was in charge of the trip. He was assisted by Lt. Col. J. E. Sundholm and Capt. K. L. Knight, USN. GySgt. D. O. Davis is troop Scoutmaster.

was cited for heroism on Saipan, today's artillerymen not only undergo intensive artillery training, but are kept up to date on all military subjects ranging from individual marksmanship to first aid in atomic warfare. This training attained results recently when Foxtrot Battery personnel made up the nucleus of the first group to attain 100 per cent requalification at the rifle range.

The 2nd Bn. is composed of three letter batteries—Delta, Echo and Foxtrot. These batteries, plus a headquarters battery, are charged with the mission of providing artillery support for an infantry battalion.

The basic weapon of the 2nd Bn. is the 105mm howitzer. Each battery within the Battalion also has the 4.2" mortar capability which is utilized at the discretion of the infantry battalion commander. The 4.2" mortar section for each bat-

Hit-And-Run Driving, The Cardinal Sin Of Motorists

Hit-and-run is considered to be the cardinal sin of driving by most motorists. Many drivers commit dozens of infractions of the law every week, especially the laws of speeding. But for a man to hit someone and run from the scene of the accident is a sin comparable to that of stealing from another. The traffic investigators of the Base Provost Marshal's Office know well the meaning of hit-and-run. These highly trained protectors of our laws have a better term for the crime—"evading responsibility." In truth, the term hit-and-run never appears in laws and ordinances.

The broader term, evading responsibility, is a better one because it is possible for a man to hit someone, stop, then let panic get the best of him and drive him into fleeing from the scene of the accident before he renders first aid or identifies himself.

Hit-and-run or evading responsibility is legally defined as flight from the scene of an accident by a driver who wants to keep people from knowing he had anything to do with the mishap. The term is commonly applied to any traffic accident in which a driver fails to comply with the laws regarding stopping after an accident, giving aid to victims, and revealing his identity.

There are degrees of seriousness in hit-and-run violations. For example, should a driver hit and damage a traffic sign, and run from the scene without saying anything about the accident, the crime is usually judged a misdemeanor.

But if a motorist drives on when he knows or suspects he has injured or killed someone, he is usually considered to have committed a major crime, a felony.

No one knows exactly how many hit-and-run accidents occur. It has been estimated approximately six per cent of all traffic accidents involve some element of evading responsibility. Some of these evasions of responsibility have grave consequences; some are relatively minor. All are crimes, punishable by law.

REUNIONS DAY—Robert E. McLaughlin, President of the Board of Commissioners for the District of Columbia, presents Gen. David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps with a special proclamation designating June 25 as "Fleet Marine Force Concurrent Reunions Day" in the Washington, D. C., area. The day was set aside in honor of World War II and Korea veterans of all six Marine Divisions who will hold joint reunions in Washington June 24-26.

Claire Sweeney Appointed Field Director At Hospital

Miss Claire Sweeney has been appointed the new Red Cross Field Director at the U. S. Naval Hospital. A graduate of Misericordia College in Dallas, Pa., and a recipient of a master's degree in social work from the University of Washington in Seattle, Miss Sweeney entered the Red Cross hospital service during World War II, spending the war years in England and France with the 68th General Hospital.

She served in the Far East from 1946 to 1948, as hospital director and as assistant hospital supervisor with military installations in the Philippines, Okinawa and Japan.

After an assignment at Ft. Lewis, Washington, Miss Sweeney joined the American National Red Cross disaster staff. Later she was assigned to the disaster force of the Southeastern area office in Atlanta until returning to the Far East in 1953, where she served at the Tokyo Army Hospital until September 1957.

Miss Sweeney was next assigned as American Red Cross Director, at Ft. Benning, Ga., Martin Army Hospital. She replaces Miss Elizabeth Hobbs, who was promoted to

Assistant to the Director, Hospital Service, Area Headquarters, Atlanta, Ga.

First Joint Reunion Of All Marine Divisions Begins

Four Marine Corps Commandants and many highly-decorated officers and enlisted men who helped defeat Japan, World War II, are among nearly 5,000 persons expected to attend the first joint reunion of all six wartime Marine divisions opening in Washington, D. C., today. In addition to Gen. David M. Shoup, present Commandant who will participate in most of the major events, three of the five living former commandants will attend. They are Generals Thomas Holcomb, Clifton B. Cates, and Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr. General Shoup will speak at the combined dinner dance for all except 4th Division veterans at the Sheraton Park Hotel, Saturday night. Another famous general, Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States, will address the 4th's separate banquet at the Shoreham the same evening.

Among the many war heroes coming to the reunions are Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller, outspoken Marine officer now retired and living in Saluda, Va., and Col. Raymond G. Davis, Alexandria, Va., winner of the Medal of Honor and 17 Navy awards. Other Medal of Honor men attending will be Lt. Col. Lewis H. Wilson Jr., Quantico, Va.; Joseph McCarthy, Chicago, Ill.; Justice M. Chambers, Rockville, Md.; and Luther Skaggs Jr., Washington, D. C., secretary-treasurer of the Medal of Honor Society of America. General Shoup also received this honor for bravery during the 2nd Marine Division's capture of Tarawa. Since the Marine Corps was founded in Philadelphia's Tun Tavern in 1776, 242 Marines have been awarded the Medal of Honor, many posthumously.

Although the convention proper does not begin until Friday, advance "patrols" of veterans from several divisions will arrive a day earlier. Each division association will be headquartered at a different hotel—1st, Sheraton Park; 2nd, Washington; 3rd, Mayflower; 4th, Shoreham; 5th, Willard. The 6th Division, last to be formed in the war, has no association but its members have been invited to join with the 3rd at the Mayflower.

Lt. Gen. Julian C. Smith, USMC, (Ret.), general reunion chairman, members of his committee, and the individual division reunion planning the combined reunions. Well-chairmen, have spent months planning over 1,000 hotel advance reservations have been received and more are pouring in daily. Several thousand other veterans, their families and friends, are expected to attend one or more of the main events.

The schedule highlights follow: Friday—1:30 p.m., military demonstration, Marine Corps School Quantico, Va. 9 p.m., evening parade, Marine Barracks, 8th and streets, S.E.

Saturday—9:30 a.m., annual business meetings; 12 noon, association luncheons; 3 p.m., ceremony honoring the 26,819 Marines who died as a result of battles since the Corps was founded, Iwo Jima Memorial, Arlington, Va.; 8 p.m., dinner dances at Sheraton Park and Shoreham, the latter only for 4th Division veterans.

Primary purposes of the Marine associations are to preserve traditions and commemorate battle honors, pay tribute to war dead, and sponsor memorial scholarship funds. The five associations have granted more than a dozen dependency and merit scholarships totaling a cash value of near $15,000. Most of these individual awards ranging from $200 to $3,750, have been made by the 1st Division, oldest and largest in the Corps. Three of the divisions, 1st, 2nd and 3rd, are still trained and ready to defend the nation's honor.

To Avoid Car Swindle, Read Contracts Fully

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by Miriam Otenberg of the Washington Star to expose the used car racket and to help prospective buyers of used cars protect themselves.)

The dealer's reputation and honesty, says the Better Business Bureau, are your best protection in buying a used car. But how can you tell who is honest? How can you protect yourself against unscrupulous dealers? The majority of used car dealers are free of complaints; only a handful are swindling the public.

For that handful, however, business is booming. They lure car buyers with the biggest bargains. They wind up with the biggest profits—not from the sale of the car alone, but from forfeited down payments and a happy arrangement with the finance company with which they are closely associated.

The Better Business Bureau, the license enforcement branch, bankers and executives of nationally recognized finance companies were asked how used car buyers can best protect themselves. These are the answers:

Pick a reliable dealer. New car dealers who take used cars in trade and sell them are franchised or authorized dealers. Their franchise is too valued to lose through shoddy dealings. Many used car dealers have been in business for many years and have a reputation for honest dealing.

If in doubt, ask the license enforcement branch. Investigators can tell you the type and number of complaints against certain dealers.

Watch their advertising. As the Better Business Bureau says, "A dealer who exaggerates or misstates in his advertising is likely to exaggerate or mislead in his selling." Unethical dealers use "bait" advertising to get you on their lot. They advertise a car at less than prevailing rates to attract customers, but that car has always been sold before you get there. Then, they switch you to another car. This is called "bait and switch" advertising.

Avoid dealers who give the impression of offering "repossessed" cars at bargain prices. The fact that a car is repossessed doesn't make it better or cheaper than any other used car. In fact, legitimate used car dealers say they do not advertise repossessed cars because they are no bargain at any price.

Be wary of $1-down promises. If you plan to get your car financed, you can't do it for $1 down. One way or another you're going to have to raise about one-third of the car's value before it can be financed.

Free All-Night Coffee Bar To Open July 4

The 2nd Division Military Police, in conjunction with the Base Safety Office, will again set up an all-night coffee bar, for those returning to Camp Lejeune after the Fourth of July weekend.

The coffee bar will be free to all motorists, both civilian and military. It will be located on route 253 at the junction of state route 41 approximately 19 miles south of Kinston and 10 miles north of Richlands.

Another coffee bar is being considered and if approved will be set up on Highway 17 south.

Operations at the coffee bar will get under way at 5 p.m. on Monday and will continue until 6 a.m. Tuesday. The haven for weary drivers is identifiable by a sign located about one mile ahead of the site reading: "Free Coffee Ahead," and by a six-foot sign depicting "Safety Sam."

THE BOMBS BURSTING . . . Camp Lejeune will celebrate the 184th anniversary of the birth of our nation July 4th with a gigantic fireworks display, an outdoor buffet supper, a magician show and a block dance. Everyone who remains on board the Base for the holiday will find it far from dull. The 45-minute fireworks show will begin at 8:30 p.m. on the Camp Parade Ground.

Camp Lejeune Day - Homers to See Big 4th

Camp Lejeune's gala 4th of July celebration will get underway at 1 p.m. with a magic show at the Camp Theater. Activities this year are scheduled to run all day concluding with a block dance.

Gene and Jo, heralded as one of the "best purveyors of legendry in this side of the Suez" present an unusual and entertaining magic show and novelty act. With their troupe are a number of Mexican chihuahuas making their appearance through a magic castle. These magicians have been in a business of fooling people for any years and for a time, were assistants to the renowned Howard Thurston, who ranks along with Houdini. They have toured this country and overseas and have just started their 16th year of entertaining for the Armed Forces exclusively.

Following this show, the regular movie for that day, "The Tarnished Angels," starring Rock Hudson, Dorothy Malone and Robert Stack, will be shown.

At 5 p.m., an outdoor buffet, served by the Camp Cafeteria, will be held on the Camp Parade Ground. The buffet will last until 7 p.m. and is an excellent opportunity for the wife to enjoy a day away from the kitchen. Prices will range from $1 to $1.50.

From 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., the 2nd Division Drum and Bugle Team will perform as a prelude to the fireworks.

Forty-five minutes of fireworks, everything from sparklers to giant rockets, will be set off at 8:30 p.m.

The day will be concluded with a block dance on the Field House parking Lot at 10 p.m. Dick (See BIG 4TH PROGRAM, Page 10).

Winner Annual Journalism Award, Marine Corps Publications 1955, 1956, 1959

VOL. 16

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1960

NO. 25

Congressional Winner Leads Reserve Unit

The second contingent of Organized Reserves, which reported to Camp Lejeune last weekend, includes a unique organization. The only officer in the 49-man 83rd Rifle Co. of Huntington, W. Va., is a commissioned warrant officer and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

A veteran of 17 years' service, both active and inactive, CWO Hershel W. Williams was promoted to warrant officer from sergeant in 1956. He earned the CMH on Iwo Jima as a member of the Twenty-first Marines, 3rd Division. He was then a corporal and a section leader of a demolition-flamethrower team when he was cited for outstanding bravery during action against the enemy.

Gunner Williams has been with the 83rd since 1957. Before that he was one of the group that helped form the 98th Rifle Co., Clarksburg, W. Va.

He has a positive perspective regarding training facilities and instruction available here this year. He is confident his men will learn more this year from active duty than in previous years.

CWO Williams is a native of West Virginia and in civilian life is assistant contact officer for the Veterans Administration, supervising over 51 counties in the state.

Col. Murphy Is New Base Legal Officer

Lt. Col. William A. Murphy became the Marine Corps Base Legal Officer Monday, relieving Lt. Col. R. S. Stubbs II. Colonel Stubbs will be temporarily assigned as assistant Base Legal Officer, and in September will become one of two East Coast Marine Law Officers.

Colonel Murphy came to Camp Lejeune from the U. S. Army's Judge Advocate General's School, Charlottesville, Va., where he was a student of the advanced course from September, 1959, to May, 1960. His last duty before attending the school was that of Wing Legal Officer, 3rd Marine Air Wing, El Toro, Calif.

Enlisting in the Marine Corps April 16, 1941, the colonel saw action with the 1st Division on Guadalcanal and at New Britain. From October, 1944, to November, 1945, he was a company commander at the Marine Corps Base, San Diego.

In 1946, Colonel Murphy was CO of the Marine detachment aboard the USS Wilkes Barre. He served as an instructor at the Naval School of Justice, Port Hueneme, Calif., from February, 1948, to March, 1950. Upon completion of his tour there, he went to Headquarters Marine Corps for legal duties.

From July, 1952, to September, 1955, Colonel Murphy was Depot (See BASE LEGAL OFFICER, Page 2)

Vieques Units Return Home

The reinforced 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. R. L. Autry, staged an amphibious landing at Onslow Beach yesterday as PHIBTRAC-EX 3-60 came to a close. The landing was followed by a one-day field problem expected to end by noon today.

Dependents of the returning Marines were not allowed in the vicinity of Onslow Beach yesterday nor will they be allowed there today.

The battalion left Camp Lejeune early last month aboard the USS Mt. McKinley, USS Freemont, USS Muliphan, USS Fort Manden and USS Tallahassee County. The battalion made its initial landing at Vieques, P. R.

Inter-Service Photography Contest Soon

The U. S. Army will host the 9th Inter-Service Photography contest, relieving the Marine Corps, which has held that role for the past year.

The Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif., has been designated to conduct the All-Marine finals.

All Marine Corps commands will hold local level elimination contests to select photos for entry in the All-Marine finals.

A Base Bulletin, setting forth details of the local contest, is now being prepared and will be issued soon.

Winners of the first three places, in each category, will be forwarded to MCB, Camp Pendleton to represent Camp Lejeune in the All-Marine contest.

Each of the four services is authorized to submit up to 50 color transparencies for entry in the interservice finals.

Detailed information concerning the 1960 photo competition, including contest rules, was published earlier this month in Marine Corps Order 1710.15.

Glenn Miller Orchestra Plays Marston Pavilion, Staff NCO Club, Officers Club

Ray McKinley and the Glenn Miller orchestra, featuring the Lenny Hambro Quintet, will make their second appearance at Camp Lejeune tonight when they play for a dance at Marston Pavilion from 8 p.m. until midnight. All sergeants and below, their dependents and guests are invited.

Ray McKinley, who filled the Camp Theater last night with his inspiring, pounding drums, infectious rhythmic singing and imaginative ideas, will also appear at the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club Friday night at 8 p.m. and then at the Paradise Point Officers Club Saturday evening from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Shortly after Glenn Miller left the Dorseys, brother Tommy Dorsey had a difference of opinion with Jimmy and left also. Ray McSolid drumming and beaming personality.

But the leader's bug bit him, just Kinley stayed with Jimmy and became the band's backbone with his as it had bitten Glenn, and soon he and another great trombonist, Will Bradley, formed their own band. It was a big hit, emphasizing boogie-woogie along with Will's trombone and Ray's drums and songs.

Eventually, though, as many co-leaders have done, each decided he wanted his own band. The McKinley unit was just beginning to score a big hit with its recordings when Uncle Sam called Ray.

Glenn Miller heard about the call, put in a requisition for his buddy, and the two friends became united in their biggest common cause of all. Sergeant McKinley became Captain Miller's right-hand man, serving the band and his country with great distinction.

After the war, with the issuance of the Glenn Miller Army Air Corps Band album, listeners were either reminded of, or introduced to the enthusiastic and talented drumming and singing of Ray McKinley.

Biographer Of General Puller Seeks Stories

Burke Davis, North Carolina author, historian and journalist, is writing the biography of Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chestny" Puller, USMC (Ret.). He is seeking information, stories and photos of the general and would appreciate hearing from those who knew him.

Anyone having information regarding the general may write Mr. Davis in care of the Camp Lejeune Central Library.

A writer for the Greensboro Daily News, Mr. Davis has also written "Gray Fox: Robert E. Lee and the Civil War," "Jeb Stuart The Last Cavalier," "They Called Him Stonewall," "To Appomattox: Nine April Days, 1865," "I Rode With Jeb Stuart" and "Yorktown."

Col. Walter L. J. Baylor, the last man off Wake Island before it fell in December, 1941, was the first man to step ashore on Sept. 4, 1945, when Marines accepted the surrender of the Japanese garrison at Wake Island.

Keglers Meeting

The Jacksonville Bowling Association will meet Monday, June 27, in the Mirror Room at the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club to elect annual officers and make preparations for the Fifth Annual Bowling Tournament.

Conformance Is Encouraged To President's Proclamation

Boating is America's fastest growing sport. There were close to 40 million boating enthusiasts in the nation last year, and millions more are expected on the waterways again this year. During 1959, 7,000 people died in boating accidents, many of whom were among millions of boaters. President Eisenhower has proclaimed the week, July 3 through 9, 1960, as National Safe Boating Week.

In the proclamation designating National Safe Boating Week, the President has invited all those of the nation interested in boating, including boating organizations, the boating industry, government agencies and other groups, to observe the week, and urged them during this week and throughout the entire year, to follow safe boating practices and to exercise courtesy on the nation's waterways.

Full Cooperation Pledged

Many organizations are represented on the National Safe Boating Week committee and have pledged their full cooperation toward making this the most successful observance of the event.

Among the 14 organizations named on the committee are: The American Red Cross, National Council Boy Scouts of America and the Girl Scouts of America. The plan for a national recognition of the need for safety on the waterways came in 1957, from the United States Coast Guard, and Coast Guard Auxiliary.

This year, well over 600 Coast Guard Auxiliary flotillas throughout the country will join with 285 U. S. Power Squadrons, 325 clubs affiliated with the Outboard Boating Club of America, marine dealers, and other interested groups in celebration of National Safe Boating Week.

Better Boating

In an effort to eliminate some of the 7,000 drownings and almost 300,000 near-drownings, that take place in the nation annually, Base Special Services financed the expense of training Lt. Col. Edward Wojtowich and Pfc Clarence R. Coker, members of the Wallace Creek Boathouse crew at the National Small Craft School.

According to L. M. Sherriff, American Red Cross Field Director and member of the Boathouse Safety Subcommittee, graduates of the school, sponsored by the ARC at Camp Green Cove, Tuxedo, N. C., will be certified as Red Cross boating, canoeing and/or sailing instructors and will be qualified to instruct classes in small boat safety.

"As a result," said Sherriff, "personnel of Camp Lejeune who enroll in the boating classes offered by Special Services and by the Youth Activities Program may be assured of having well-trained instructors in these skills."

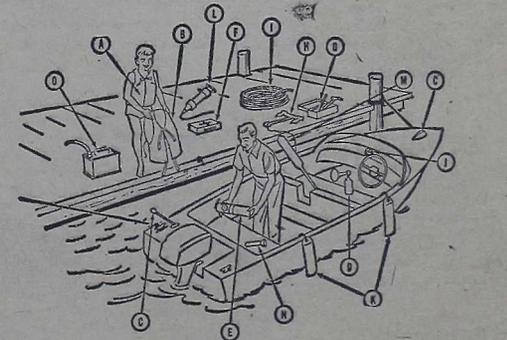

All courses of instruction were under direction of Red Cross first aid and water safety leaders and specialists in these fields from various schools, colleges and safety organizations.

BOAT SAFETY

Don't "over-power" your boat. Outboard motors are designed for certain sizes of boats. Check with an expert before buying a motor to be sure you get the right horsepower for your craft.

Your Checklist for Boating Safety

Millions of Americans have discovered a new world of fun on the nation's waterways. Boating is even more fun if the skipper, his mate and the whole crew know their craft is properly equipped. Here's a checklist on the items of boating equipment recommended by marine safety experts. How does your boat check out?

- (a) & (b) life preserving device for every passenger
- (c) proper lighting
- (d) horn or whistle
- (e) fire extinguisher
- (f) first aid kit
- (g) tool kit
- (h) anchor
- (i) line
- (j) compass
- (k) fenders
- (l) bilge pump
- (m) paddle
- (n) flashlight
- (o) gas can

Story, Reading Time Planned At Library

The Montford Point Branch of the Central Library is well on its way to another regular summer feature success, the Story Hour and Reading Program, held every Wednesday morning from 9:30 to 11:30. Started last year by Troop 81 of the Tarawa Terrace Neighborhood of Scouts, the program is designed to invite and encourage children in the Camp Lejeune area to visit the libraries and take advantage of the various types of books available for summer reading. Schedule for the two hours at the library includes games, checking-out of books, outdoor recreation, reading period, and checking-out for the morning.

With the full-time help of Mr. Aaron H. Farnell, Montford Point librarian, and a number of volunteers interested in the importance of the program, the children also learn to use the library correctly. Neighborhood Girl Scouts from Tarawa Terrace and Northwoods work actively in this phase of the program. Miss Louise Rowe, Central Librarian, assists in the managing, planning, and presenting of the story-telling and selection of reading at the library.

Several highlights are on the agenda for the children this summer, one of which is Mrs. Richard Pescia's talk to the new group. Mrs. Pescia is qualified to instruct library science particularly to children. She spoke to four Scout troops from Thompson and Northwoods last year.

Mrs. Robert Foran, wife of Act. MSgt. Robert Foran and leader of Troop 81, was among the first organizers of the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Wallace Boudrow and Mrs. W. I. Paul. Mrs. Paul is chairman of the Terrace Scout Neighborhood.

Family Picnic

Families of members of the Camp Lejeune Staff NCO Wives Club who would like to attend a family picnic on July 4 are asked to contact Mrs. Arnold Kailer at Jax 7577.

In connection with the picnic and for the purpose of electing new officers for the group, a business meeting will be held July 7, 8:15 p.m., at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center.

Rates, Hours Given For Paradise Point Baby-Sitting Service

Personnel just reporting in to Camp Lejeune who are living in the Paradise Point area are reminded that the Paradise Point Sitting Service is available daily to those in need of their facilities.

Last year, the service accommodated approximately 14,800 children of members and associated members of the Officers Wives Club. Associated members refers to parents of children living in another branch of the base such as the Marine Corps Air Facility. A separate newsletter is now being compiled and mailed to those to whom the service applies.

The Sitting Service is actively supported by one-third of the club members dues. Competent personnel are working on its staff with Mrs. W. E. Anthley Jr., as chairman. It is located in Bldg. 2624 next to the Paradise Point Firehouse and in the same building as the Base Kindergarten.

Children from four months of age to 10 years are accepted and are covered by insurance as soon as they are registered. Maximum enrollment for the service is 60.

Hours are as follows: Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.; Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 a.m.; Saturday, 12 noon to 1:00 a.m.; and Sunday, 12 noon to 11:00 p.m.

Rates are 30 cents per hour for the first child, 15 cents per hour for the second child, and 10 cents per hour for the third child. Special Day Rates are $2.50 per eight-hour day regardless of the number of children in one family. Check-out no later than 6 p.m.

Telephone base extension 6-6723 for information concerning special events, special rates, services offered and reservations.

Camp Lejeune Staff Wives Club Enjoy Old West At 'Bar SWC' Square Dance

A colorful Western Hoe-Down sponsored by the Camp Lejeune Staff Wives Club was the big event of the month last Thursday evening when the women and their husbands of approximately 30 couples turned out at the "Bar SWC" for an old-fashioned cowboy and Indian square dance and covered dish dinner. Held in the Tarawa Terrace Community Center, the ladies decorated the main hall with reprints of cowboy boots, cactus plants, steer heads and closely arranged star streamers suspended from the ceiling. To add even more atmosphere to the dance, a huge picture of a covered wagon in detail was placed in the center of the hall.

A miniature covered wagon was used as the centerpiece for the table bracketed by two antique candlesticks around which were placed the covered dishes of western style home cooking.

After the dinner, the group joined in for a typical old time square dance. Caller was Mrs. Peggy Vegass. Anyone who was not appropriately attired for the festivities was forced to spend time in the "hoosegaw."

Serving on the decorating committee were Peggy Vegass, Dorothy Pamento, Mary Cowart, Bernice Eisenhower, Sally Kristof, Dorothy Behrends, Maurine Emmons, Lorraine Furushet and Katherine Pearson. Special thanks for the artistic work is given to GySgt. John Vegass.

MAGIC THROUGH BOOKS—Christopher Huebsch, son of Capt. and Mrs. R. F. Huebsch, USN, catches few attentive eyes as he performs feats of magic the Montford Point Story Hour and Reading Program held every Wednesday morning at the Montford Point library. Through these organized programs, Chris became interested in magic and often entertains at parties and group meetings. Assisting him at his magical table are Kathleen Foran, daughter of MSgt. and Mrs. Robert Foran, center, and Martha Lovell, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. J. T. Lovell. (Photo by Act. Sgt. J. D. Weaver)

Officers Wives Extend Membership Invitation

Present members of the Officers Wives Club of Camp Lejeune would like to extend an invitation to wives of all officers who have recently reported aboard to become active members of the OWC. The club was founded by Mrs. F. A. Hart on Sept. 17, 1948, to give the wives an opportunity to become acquainted with each other as well as to participate in social and cultural activities. It is governed by a board which is presided over by Mrs. Sidney S. Wade, honorary chairman, and Mrs. R. D. Wright, president.

Because of the large number of wives, the OWC is divided into eight groups. Each group has its own board headed by a chairman. A wife is eligible to become a member of the group including the organization or outfit to which her husband belongs. Each of the eight groups has a meeting or luncheon every month which is limited to its paid members and their guests.

The Officers Wives Club last year sponsored such large events as the Welcoming Tea, the Christmas Party, and the Annual Sweethearts Ball. These and many others are designed primarily to include the husband.

Besides the main Officers Wives Club, two additional groups have recently been organized. They are the International Wives Group and the Junior Wives Coffee 'n' Confusion Group.

New arrivals and those wives desiring to join this year should contact the Officers Wives Club Hospitality chairman, Mrs. W. W. Wander, at Base extension 6-6337. Mrs. Wander can, in turn, further direct these wives to each group hospitality chairman.

Working with the OWC and in direct contact with the wives' activities, the Paradise Point Sitting Service is available for a fee of 30 cents an hour for the first child in a family. A nominal 15 cents an hour is charged for each additional child. Reservations can be made by calling 6-6723 at least 24 hours in advance.

Midway Park Wives Plan Officer Election

Members of the newly organized Midway Park Wives Club are urged to attend next week's meeting to be held at 11 a.m. Thursday, June 30, at the Midway Park Community Center. This meeting will be of general importance as the wives expect to conduct the formal election and installation of officers to the club.

Upon organization of the group, officers were selected on a three-month term since the women were not yet acquainted with each other to conduct a secret ballot. With the assistance of the Jacksonville USO and the Midway Park Council, the club has worked toward a closer relationship.

Terms for the coming election will last one full year.

The reason for 100 per cent attendance is the impossibility of holding the election and installation without more than the majority of members present. Members are cordially invited to bring friends and neighbors to the meeting. Free nursery facilities will be provided and refreshments will be served.

It was announced that there is no longer a membership fee for club members. As of June 13, the Midway Park Council began sponsoring the club taking care of refreshments and paying for the nursery.

The Jacksonville USO continues to supervise and assist the ladies in the arranging of various activities with special help from Miss Jane Geagan. Out-going officers of the club are Mrs. J. H. Henderson, president; Mrs. C. J. Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. R. A. Lloyd, secretary; and Mrs. R. H. Yeilding, treasurer.

Geiger Wives News

Women of the Geiger Trailer Park Wives Club planned a covered dish luncheon for this week's meeting. Held at the Trailer Park Community Building Tuesday morning, the ladies brought their own casseroles, while canned hams and soft drinks were furnished at the center.

During the business meeting, plans were discussed as to the theme for July at Marston Pavilion. Arrangements are still being made for the procedure the various wives' clubs will use for individual sponsoring of a monthly activity at the Pavilion.

Plans were also discussed for the coming officers election in September.

Exercise Classes

Exercise classes are now being held each Wednesday morning in Bldg. D-38 at 10:30. The classes are under direction of the Park's social director, Mrs. Carr. Special records are used to conduct the exercises. Follow-up instructions for home use are also given. All women in the park are invited to participate.

PIONEERS?—Camp Lejeune Staff Wives and their husbands enjoy relieving the "old pioneer days" as they engage in antics usual of the time at the wives club's Western Hoe-Down held last Thursday evening at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center.
