DRIVE CAREFULLY—Children are returning to school. The Labor Day weekend is upon us. The tragic picture depicted here could be you. With the start of school next week there will be a sharp increase in the number of children crossing the streets. Don't be the cause of some of those children becoming an accident statistic. Drive safely and watch for them. Although this picture was posed, it could happen to you or your child. Drive with care and on the Labor Day weekend, don't try to set a new record for distance and speed. Take it easy.

Lejeune MP's Set Up Coffee Stands Mon.

Camp Lejeune MP's will combine with the Base Safety Office in an effort to cut down on traffic accidents over the coming Labor Day weekend by passing out coffee and doughnuts to drivers Monday night.

Three stands will dispense free coffee and doughnuts to military and civilian drivers in the Camp Lejeune area.

Division Military Police will operate a stand at the junction of routes 258 and 41, while Base will be working on route 17 north at Maysville and on route 17 south at Hampstead will be the men from 1st ITR MP's.

The stands will operate from sundown Monday through the early morning hours.

Last Labor Day, there were no traffic fatalities of marines from Camp Lejeune, and the Base Safety office feels "that this program is responsible to a large degree for that death-free holiday weekend."

In the past year, all of the long weekends have been highlighted by the refreshment stands.

Last year, 420 fatalities were predicted by the National Safety Council, but the actual number exceeded this by 15. During the first six months of this year, however, the accident rate has gone down seven percent. During the period from January 1 through June 30 there were 16,240 deaths due to automobiles in the United States. If this pace keeps up it is expected that 1,500 more people will be alive at the end of the year.

The Base Safety office has estimated that the number of deaths in the nation will be 415 over the three-day holiday.

In line with the Base safety program, 2nd Marine Division is operating several visual perception and judgment machines until 4 p.m. today, and tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. behind the Eighth Marines headquarters, just off River rd. The demonstration is open to marines and civilians.

2nd Division Band To Participate In Mullet Festivities

The Sixth Annual Mullet Festival will be held at Swansboro September 27.

The Mullet Festival originated in 1952 as a good will program for the local citizens and neighboring areas. The first festival drew 300 townspeople and guests. Over 3,500 are expected this year.

Beginning the day's events will be a parade at 1 p.m. with floats representing various civic and business organizations and three marching bands: the 2nd Division band, Jacksonville High school's band, and the band from Swansboro High.

Highlighting the parade will be a float bearing the Mullet Festival Queen and her court.

Other activities will include a "pirate show" on the waterfront (2:30), refreshments (3:30), a mullet and shrimp dinner at the high school (5:30), a fireworks display (7:30), and a "sock dance" in the school gymnasium (8 p.m.).

Sealed Bids Opened On Eight Autos To Be Disposed Of At Building 1116

Opening of sealed bids for eight salvaged and unclaimed automobiles will take place at the Redistribution and Disposal unit Wednesday.

Bidding is open to the general public, including members of the armed forces and government employees.

The vehicles may be inspected daily, except Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at open storage lot No. 201. The inspection will be closed at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and bid openings will begin at 1 p.m. that day, at Bldg. 1116.

Unit officials urge careful inspection as the cars are in "very poor condition."

Invitations with complete information regarding the sale, are available at the inspection site.

Bids must be either mailed or hand delivered with the invitation and full amount of the bid to the disposal unit. Telegrams will not be accepted.

According to sale officials, bids must be enclosed in sealed envelopes with the bidders name and address, the invitation number, and bid opening date (Sept. 3) on the front. Ink, indelible pencil, or type must be used.

Col. T. J. Colley New Assistant MCB Comdr.

Col. Thomas J. Colley has reported to Marine Corps Base and assumed the duties of Assistant Base Commander, Colonel Colley reported from the 2nd Division where he was the Chief of Staff.

This was the second time that Colonel Colley had been chief of staff of Division within a very short period of time. He was originally assigned this duty on September 1, 1957. On July 1, 1958, he was transferred to Marine Corps Base and became the commanding officer.

Cash, postal or express money orders, cashier's or certified checks will be accepted as payment of a bid. Bid bonds, personal or company checks are not acceptable.

The cars will be sold "as is" and "where is." Purchasers must make their own removal, furnishing gas, oil, batteries or towing equipment, which are not available at the removal site. Bills of sale, however, will be furnished.

Although minor repairs can be made prior to removal, purchasers will not be allowed to start or try-out the vehicles during inspection.

No information on awards or any other results will be given until 26 hours after the bid opening. A list of high bidders will be mailed to all bidders, and refunds will be made to the unsuccessful buyers.

In the event of tie bids, lots will be drawn the following day. No late bids will be accepted unless it is determined that the delay was in the mail.

Including in the sale are: a 1948 Pontiac, 1946 Chevrolet, 1949 Henry J., 1950 Packard, 1941 Chevrolet, 1949 Ford, 1950 Chevrolet, and 1951 Mercury.

Staff NCO Symposium Submits Recommendations For HQ's Approval

Members of the 1958 Staff Noncommissioned Officers Symposium, held at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., August 10-16, have submitted 41 recommendations to the Commandant of Marine Corps Schools. The symposium, held annually since 1956, was composed of 32 staff NCO's from major commands in the United States. Wives of 27 symposium members also joined the group.

The recommendations submitted cover a wide range of subjects, with emphasis on Marine Corps enlisted matters. Topics discussed include promotion, special assignments, and "light" cruise procedures. Special consideration was also given to wearing of certain uniform accessories, uniform allowances, dependent care, pay allotments, and Corps-wide automobile registration procedures.

The recommendations of this year's symposium again will be handled in the same manner as those made by other boards and study groups appointed by the Commandant. Action taken will be reflected in directives and changes to directories as appropriate. Implementation of a number of the recommendations will be of a long-range nature.

Headquarters Marine Corps does not plan to publish a composite list of actions taken on all suggestions.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Richard Jackson and Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps Wilbur Bestwick were guest speakers at the symposium. Sgt. Maj. Ray Schum, Plans Branch, G-1, Headquarters Marine Corps, was the symposium moderator for the third consecutive year.

Poverty Big Factor In Arabian Tension

Of all the causes of unrest and revolt in the Middle East, the most serious and deep-rooted is the poverty of the great majority of Arabs.

An important factor in the poverty of the Arab peasant is the feudal system of land ownership, which keeps the sharecropping farmers in constant debt to the landlords. Few Arab peasants have as much as $100 a year in income.

At the other end of the scale is a small but very wealthy upper class and, in between, a thin but rapidly expanding segment of middle class Arabs.

Much of the current unrest and instability in the Middle East is rooted in the lower class' bitter discontent with its lot and its demands for a better life. Because of this discontent, the class tends to rally to any leader who promises it better conditions.

Another contributing factor to tension in the area is oil. Although the Middle East is rich in oil, not all of the Arab states have oil. Only Saudi Arabia, the sheikdoms of the Arabian Peninsula, and Iraq produce oil in quantity.

With Western help, the former Iraq government had started to carry out an ambitious, progressive program for the development of the country to which it was devoting 70 per cent of the oil revenue. In time the mass of Iraqis would be likely to see the benefits from the long-range program.

The Middle East supplies three-fourths of Western European oil needs. Egypt, Syria and Lebanon, while not oil producers, are countries through which Middle East oil passes on its way to the Mediterranean.

The Suez Canal in Egypt and the pipelines from Saudi Arabia and Iraq to the coasts of Lebanon and Syria are the arteries for the oil that is the lifeblood of Europe.

Col. Crockett Reviews Old Reserve Unit

Ten years after serving as the first inspector-instructor for the 1st 105mm Howitzer Bn., Richmond, Va., Col. Richard H. Crockett, MCB G-4 officer, reviewed his old outfit as it marched by with three other Organized Marine Corps Reserve units in a formal parade Saturday.

In 1948, Colonel Crockett was assigned to the Richmond unit and helped it through its growing pains during its early years.

"The unit is larger than it was when I was with it 10 years ago, of course, but the men have the same high spirits and an eager attitude that was apparent when we started," he said after the review.

"I really don't see how they manage to accomplish as much as they do in two weeks," Colonel Crockett added. "Their training schedule is filled from the time they arrive here until they leave and they make use of every minute."

Lt. Col. James M. Slay, commanding officer of the 1st 105mm How. Bn., was commanding officer of troops during the review which honored Colonel Crockett. After the parade and review, Colonel Crockett, Colonel Slay and Lt. Col. Maurice L. Appleton Jr., present inspector-instructor for the battalion, discussed the unit's progress through the past few years.

Also participating in the parade were the 1st 105mm How. Btry., Chattanooga, Tenn.; the 4th 155mm How. Btry., Raleigh, N. C.; and the 2nd Engr. Bn., Portland, Maine.

Veterans of the Third may obtain additional information about the upcoming reunions by contacting Tom Stowe at Red Cross national headquarters, or at his home, 3427 Valley Drive, Parkfairfax, Alexandria.

LYMAN ROAD CLOSED

Motorists who normally use the Lyman Road should note that due to training exercises of the Tenth Marines and the 1st 105mm How. Bn., Lyman Road will be closed at the listed times:

From 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. today; from 6 p.m. today until 6 a.m. tomorrow, and from 8 a.m. until noon tomorrow.

In case of emergency all roads and highways will be opened to permit emergency vehicles to accomplish their mission.

Rushed To Hospital, Snake-Bitten 1st ITR Marine Rests Easy

A snake-bitten marine, airlifted within minutes of the time he was bitten by a copperhead in a wooded training area here yesterday, is resting comfortably in the base Naval hospital.

Thanks to a closely coordinated helicopter evacuation, Pvt. John W. Cunningham, 18, of "K" Co., 2nd Bn., 1st ITR, was spared a 20-mile ambulance ride from the Verona Loop area to the Naval hospital.

The young Long Island marine was participating in combat maneuvers when he unknowingly brushed against the near-camouflaged reptile. His buddies killed the snake and began first aid treatment.

Immediately a phone call was placed over field phones to the operations office of Marine Aircraft Group 26, Squadron 263 was contacted and an HRS helicopter piloted by 1st Lt. R. M. Clark sped to the training area where Private Cunningham and the copperhead were loaded aboard, and minutes later, landed at the Naval hospital.

Private Cunningham—and friend—were admitted, Cunningham to the emergency room and the snake to the laboratory for dissection.

Over 90 per cent of the male officer personnel of the Marine Corps served overseas during World War II.

Vote Wisely

With elections in the offing, it behooves all of us who are eligible to make use of the privileges a citizen of the United States has and vote.

But without being well informed you can't properly choose the right person to vote for. The "right" man might be a Republican or a Democrat, that's up to you. You must have some basis for making that choice, however, and only by doing a little "research" can you learn who rates your vote. Find out what the men are like who are seeking office. Find out what they stand for, what issues are before the public. Don't just decide on a man because you like the suit he wears or the way he parts his hair.

The vote is a powerful weapon for good if it is used properly. But it can be just as strong a weapon for evil if you allow your judgment to be swayed.

Make use of your right to vote. It won't cost you anything and since you are serving your country you should say something about the way it is run.

The Base Voting officer has applications for an absentee ballot. It won't even cost you three cents for the stamp to mail the card. See the voting officer or call 7-5121 or 7-5572.

Tragic Waste

Long after the crashing sound of the auto collision and the wail of the ambulance siren have died away there remains the suffering of the victim, the anxiety of loved ones, long and expensive months of hospitalization and physical disabilities to be borne for the remainder of life.

The tragic loss of servicemen killed and invalided from service because of motor vehicle accidents is a tremendous expense to the Marine Corps and government in terms of lost training investments, burial costs, and survivor and retirement benefits.

How much the naval service loses in terms of training investments can be more fully realized from the statement that the total years in service accumulated by those killed in 1957 were equivalent to almost two and a half centuries of time, or 30-year naval careers for approximately 800 men. In terms of monetary figures it is estimated that the 1957 motor vehicle accidents represent a cost of 25.6 million to the government.

WASHINGTON REPORT

The committee of Economic Development said the country could "stand the strain" of spending $65 billion a year or more for defense without breaking itself, according to Navy Times.

The risk that such annual budgets would "ruin the American way of life," the committee said, "is slight indeed."

The committee said high-level defense expenditures "will not cause inflationary pressures" if Americans are willing to let themselves be "taxed sufficiently."

"We believe, above all, that we must cast off any notion that there is some one most probable form that the threat to our security will take and therefore one best way of dealing with it that will permit us to dispense with the cost of preparations for alternative threats," the committee further stated.

They cautioned against "confusion of the degree of efficiency in defense management with the amount of defense expenditures and against a tendency to suppose that merely cutting appropriations will eliminate waste rather than impair our defense posture."

The committee warned against excesses and too heavy reliance on the "Big Deterrent." In doing so, if the "Big Deterrent" fails to deter, the committee stated, may cause "the death of millions who might have survived."

What is needed to deter a "mutilating blow" against America is "military forces in being and the capacity to quickly restore a broken economy," the committee added.

A major part of American action to deter aggression, the committee said, must presuppose "a local will to resist Communist attack."

LEADERSHIP AT ITS BEST

Perhaps most of us give way at times to action and attitudes and utterances which we would not obviously approve in ourselves or in others. But, whenever we depart from our most acceptable selves, we must remember that there are at least two things for which we are constantly accountable: One is the effect our attitudes and actions have on others. Especially should we be mindful of the effect of our actions and utterances on young and impressionable people — those who look to you as a leader.

By the time we have arrived at maturity, we ourselves may have acquired a solid set of standards from which we may not feel there is much danger of departing very far, and to which it may seem rather easy to return—and we may think that occasional small departures don't matter much. But while our less acceptable performances made for us the only passing departures, the impressions we imprint in others may be permanent.

Many a man who has said and done things that didn't seem to him to change his own well-settled standards has found that the example of his words and his ways has changed those whom he leads, and may have led them to permanent departures.

Of course, we may presume the privilege of temporary departure from principle. We may presume that it is alright for us who are older to say and to do things that those who are younger shouldn't say and do.

But what an adult does — what anyone does — had better be good for those who look up to him and who depend on him to set the pace, because others are influenced as much by us when we are at our worst as they are when we are at our best. For this reason, if for no other, it is important to always be at our best.

—Benjamin F. Hughes,
Chaplain, Second Marines.

Short Rounds

The telephone company would like to meet at least Lieutenant at Quantico. The lieutenant was so bent on his orders were that he called Navy Times and kept up for 119 minutes. He paid only 40 cents. The long said later that the lieutenant should have paid $12 call. But what obviously happened was that the lieutenant gave it over to another after finding out his order to another, who gave it to another, and so on, and on.

"I was a little overweight," said Phelps, explaining why he only scored 296 on his first test. He weighed 160 pounds at the time. Until Phelps scored his "possible," the highest score recorded at San Diego was 489.

The Marine Corps will take over the present Vincent Air Force Base in Yuma, Ariz., on January 1. The activity will be designated as a Marine Corps Auxiliary Air Station. It will have a station complement of about 400 personnel. It will be used for tactical training for squadrons of the 3rd Marine Air Wing and those at El Toro, Calif.

Little Theatre Group Begins Casting For Production Of 'I Found April'

Preliminary casting began early this week for the Camp Lejeune Little Theatre group's coming production of George Batson's three-act comedy, "I Found April."

The first casting and business meeting was held in the Goettge Memorial field house Monday evening. Tryouts will then continue through tonight for the six parts that are available in the play.

The play previously showed on Broadway and starred Constance Bennett under the title of "A Date With April." Upon completing the Broadway stay, the show toured for over a year.

The comedy is the story of a romance between Elsa Ashley, a brilliant young pianist-composer, and Val Corbett, successful novelist. The idea in Elsa's mind is matrimony, but her plans are delayed by the fact that Val, a gallant gentleman in his late thirties, enjoys his bachelorhood.

Other parts in the small cast include Tony Poole, a handsome young movie star and ex-football player, anxious to have Elsa compose the music for his next picture. He complicates matters by making a triangle out of the love affair; and then a quadrangle is completed when Val's old flame, Phyllis Lundgren, steps in and informs all that she is just "a widow on the loose."

The characters are completed by Mrs. Ashley, Elsa's mother, who sits on the sidelines uttering shrewd observations before finally pulling the strings to straighten out her daughter's life. And then, Bella, Elsa's flippant young maid-secretary-companion.

"I Found April" will be the second production of the year presented by the theater group, replacing the originally scheduled "Ondine," which had started casting in July. "Ondine" was cancelled due to large troop movements that took several members of the cast.

Their first production of the year, entitled "You Can't Take It With You," presented in May, was deemed a success by all who saw it.

Under the direction of Capt. Ben V. McLane Jr., scheduled performances for the play will be October 1, 2 and 3.

NOW, TRY IT AGAIN—Mrs. R. H. Makowski and Capt. Leon K. Wildermuth listen intently to instructions given them by director, Capt. Ben McLane, as the two read parts for the coming production of "I Found April." Casting for the parts will continue through tonight.

Other business on the agenda included the announcement that the Staff bowling league will begin in September. There will be six lanes available for the league. They also voted to continue their bingo games for the Orthopedic ward at the Naval Hospital.

Volunteer Navy Relief Classes

Many Fields Of Work

VOLUNTEER CLERICAL WORKER—Mrs. Thelma Penland, a woman with a husband and small children, finds time to donate three half-days a week to the Navy Relief Society. Doing clerical and administrative work in the office, she has been with the Society since last June. Mrs. Penland herself was aided by the Society at one time, and in turn, realizes her chance to help others. Many such volunteers are needed to maintain a high level of assistance.

OVER 600 HOURS—Mrs. W. F. Queen, an interviewer at the auxiliary office, has worked with the Navy Relief Society for over two years. She recently passed the 600-hour mark for volunteer work and received a pin designating the achievement from the Society. She is the wife of a Naval doctor and also finds satisfaction in helping others who come to the office for aid.

ating the achievement from the Society. She is the wife of a Naval doctor and also finds satisfaction in helping others who come to the office for aid.

VICE-PRESIDENT—Overseer of the Camp Lejeune Navy Relief Auxiliary is Cdr. R. A. Vaughan, executive vice-president. He is responsible for the proper application of Navy Relief policies and coordinating their activities with the headquarters office. Chaplain Vaughan holds high regard for the service wives who volunteer their time away from home and families to assist in helping their community.

Volunteers for work with the Camp Lejeune auxiliary of the Navy Relief Society are needed to maintain the high efficiency of work that the office renders to the community.

These workers are needed by the society so that a minimum of expense is incurred in its operations. Navy Relief functions as a helping hand to the community on contributions and desires to use these funds for direct aid to those who need temporary assistance.

This end is met through the work of service wives who donate their time in the interest of helping their community and their fellow serviceman.

Training classes will be conducted at Marston Pavilion from September 2 through 25. Those who attend are assured of thorough instruction in the society's policies and the work of volunteers. They will also gain increased knowledge of the Navy and the field of social work.

There are many vocations available to the volunteer worker in the Navy Relief field. Interviewing, clerical, layette and reception work are all a part of the activities that are afforded in the area's social work.

Miss Barbara Blair, Navy Relief field representative, will conduct the classes that will be held twice a week. Times are from 9 a.m. till noon and 1-4 p.m. Volunteers have the choice of attending either the morning or the afternoon class.

Miss Blair has been a representative of the Navy Relief Society since 1953. Since beginning her field work, she has conduct-right, Carolyn Mitchell, Sandy Stocke and Kathleen Southerland. Mrs. Penland puts in three half-days a week in the auxiliary office besides doing her full-time job as a mother.

VOLUNTEER RECEPTIONISTS—Mrs. Meriel Rutherford and Mrs. Martha Stevenson are two of the receptionists who serve the Society. Signing check-out slips for departing marines is just one of their many jobs that they fulfill sitting in the lobby in Bldg. 41. Their main function is to log in applicants who come to the Society for help.

LAYETTES FOR THE NEWLY-BORN—One of the Society's largest projects is the assembling and distribution of layettes that will go to any service family that requests one. Mrs. Alice Webb, left, in charge of the layette section, is helped by Mrs.

Stevenson in the completion of one of the units. Diapers, crib sheets, underclothing, sweaters, bibs and blankets are some of the items included in the completed layette.

SLAMI—Two of Camp Lejeune's linemen slam into a sleigh during practice Monday. The local coaches will put their charges through a scrimmage Friday afternoon commencing 1:45 p.m. Left to right, tackle Dave Six and guard Jim Schwarz energetically use their brawn as if it were their opening day opponent, Little Creek. The coaches seemed pleased with the team as a result of Saturday's scrimmage, when they had a chance to see their club under fire for the first time.

Marine Brain Trust Satisfied With Saturday's Scrimmage

Camp Lejeune's football coaches saw their charges under fire Saturday time when two separate scrimmages were held on Liversedge field. The first prised elements of screenages who the coaches wanted to observe before making a cut.

A half-hour later, and with the squad trimmed to 44 men, the varsity was in for a fast, tough hour-long scrimmage.

In an interview with skipper Wil "E" Overgaard immediately after the activities, the head Marine mentor seemed well pleased with the overall results of his charges. Several weak points were observed, mostly in the pass defense phase of the game. Strong points centered around the running defense and offensive passing.

Outstanding performances highlighted the scrimmage with newcomers Ron Botchan and Dave Six singled out for their stellar interior line play. The former was a Little All-American at Occidental College and has been rated as one of the finest service ball players in action today. Six played one year at the U. of Cincinnati and is one of the best hustlers on the club.

Also showing well were Ron Beagle, Joe Fowlkes, Conrad Hitchler and Jim Mora. Beagle is one of the finest prospects to don the scarlet and gold of Lejeune in many years. He was an All-American at the Naval Academy and an excellent 60-minute a holdover and was named manager of the team last year.

Hitchler, another remembered for his prowess in the weight room, was named a member of the team. Mora was Botchan's roommate at Occidental and was an All-American selection.

In the backfield, wide open for the future, Willis Fjeld is expected to be a star.

Devilpups Looking Good As Opener Draws Near

Camp Lejeune's Devilpups, seemingly unconcerned that they are rated a 14-point underdog in their home opener against Havelock on September 5, methodically go about the chores of conditioning and readying for what may be one of the finest seasons in quite some time.

Both head coach Tom McGhee and his assistant, Bob Ward, are quite optimistic as to what may unfold this fall when the Pups take to the field in nine encounters on an independent schedule.

The local high school eleven has been practicing twice a day for the last two weeks with the rudiments of the game gone over in the morning sessions and concentration on hitting in the afternoons.

In a move to strengthen the backfield, Coach McGhee has moved Paul Anthony to the fullback slot. Anthony seems to be fully recovered from an ailment that sidelined him for the basketball and baseball seasons. The converted guard made the Seashore Conference eleven two straight years in holding down the line position.

Back again, and singled out by the coaches, is veteran Bucky Mugford at the quarterback slot. Mugford, only a junior, has looked exceptionally good in practice. Joe Bernier is expected to go at one of the halfback posts.

On the line, Charley Stafford, a newcomer, has been commended by the coaches for his blocking and tackling. Also impressive are Bob Curren, John Vadnais, Jim Cross, Phil Wicks, Dick Vertefville and Jerry Rowe. Art Potts is back again at one of the end positions with Larry Carson expected to open at the other end.

Mrs. Sophie Jones Wins WGA Weekly Tourney

In a tournament "Against Pro Ducky Miller" last Tuesday, Mrs. Sophie Jones won "A" flight with a 32½ in WGA weekly play at the Paradise Point golf course. Runner-up was Mrs. Flo Rodweller.

"Least putts" was taken by Mrs. Letty Weeker.

VETERAN QUARTERBACK—Bucky Mugford, Camp Lejeune Devilpup's versatile field general, dies some unlimbering at a practice session Friday afternoon in back of the high school. Mugford, already a two-year veteran and only a junior, is expected to open at the quarterback slot in the Pups' first home game on September 5 against Havelock. Mugford's center is Abe Stroud.

Paradise Points' No. 1 course will undoubtedly be one of the finest courses in the state when the new greens hit their peak.

The greens have been made comparatively larger and several of them have been given a completely new personality with various shapes and rolls.

Beginning the first of the next month, many tourneys will resume that golfers look forward to every year. First scheduled is the Club Championship comprised of match-play.

Last year, Mel Fleischer nosed out Bill Becker for the title. A new champion will be crowned this year as Mel was released in February.

Also in September will be the Annual Staff NCO tourney and "Sergeants and Below" event. John Lattanzio was last year's winner among the staffs, while Bill Stevens was the victor in the sergeants and below competition.

Ed Ross Ties For Sixth At Inter-Service Tourney

Camp Lejeune's Ed Ross ended up in a tie for sixth place with the Air Force's Hillman Robbins in the Inter-Service Golf Tournament held last week at the Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, golf course.

Ross, fresh from his sudden-death All-Marine victory, fired a 72-hole total of 297.

Retaining possession of the Forrester Trophy was a strong Army team lead by individual open titleist Mason Randolph who fired a sub-par 288.

NEW GREENS COMPLETED—Pro Ducky Miller, instructor, Gene Maples, try out the new fourth green at the Paradise Point golf course. Whelan won a third game with a three-hitter. Whelan tossed a three-hitter in the finals last Monday. SubLant gained for them the title for the sixth consecutive

SubLant Wins Atlantic Fleet For Sixth Consecutive Time

For the sixth consecutive year, Submarine Force, Atlantic, from New London, Conn., has captured the U. S. Atlantic Fleet Softball Tournament crown. Monday afternoon, at the Woman Marines' field, SubLant defeated MineLant in the finals, 1-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Gene Ramsey.

Although Ramsey hurled a brilliant three-hitter, the best pitching performance of the afternoon came from MineLant's Don Rogers, who allowed only one hit, and what's more, only that one man got on the basepaths during the seven-inning tilt, and ironically, scored the winning tally.

With two out in the bottom of the first inning, SubLant second baseman Ray Downen tripled over rightfielder Larry Kruse's head. In an attempt to nail Downen at third, Kruse threw wildly down the left field line for the game's only error, and Downen came right on in with the lone tally. From this point on, Rogers set 16 SubLant batters down in order, striking out two. Ramsey, on the other hand, fanned nine and walked two Minemen.

SubLant's excellent pitching and clutch hitting in the tourney enabled them to walk off with their second three-year rotating team trophy in the past six years.

Cheeseman came back Sunday afternoon to four-hit DesLant, 2-1, and put the champs into the finals Monday. DesLant's run was the only tally off the Big Three, who gave up only 12 hits over the course of their four wins. It was an unearned run, at that.

Rightfielder Dick Schroeder was, without a doubt, the hitting hero for the SubLant nine. With Tony Ortega on the mound and DesLant leading the champs, 1-0, in the top of the final inning, Schroeder, with a 3-2 count, hit a one-out pinch-hit homer to deep right center field with teammate Whelan aboard. At the time, DesLant was a serious contender, being the only team besides SubLant who was undefeated, both clubs posting 2-0 records.

Saturday afternoon, PhilLant's Boyd Walraven and ServLant's Bob Ratley were locked up in what turned out to be the best pitching duel of the entire tourney. Ratley held PhilLant hitless for 10 complete innings before giving up two singles and a double in the top of the eleventh inning, and lost the heartbreaker, 2-0.

Walraven tossed five-hit ball for 10 innings, but in the eleventh gave way to pinch hitter George Ridling, who drove in the two runs with his double. Ridling then came on to pitch the bottom of the eleventh to save the game for Walraven.

The second place MineLant team, who drew a bye in the seven-team tourney, fought their way to the finals from the losers' bracket, dropping their opening game to DesLant Saturday, 4-3. Tony Ortega, DesLant pitcher, limited the

Twenty-Five Pros Entered In PP Pro-Am Tournament

With prize money totaling $500-plus, approximately 125 players competed yesterday at the Paradise Point golf course in the 18 hole Pro-Am Tournament. Results were not available at GLOBE press time.

On hand were about 25 pros from the North Carolina area. Play began at 9:30 a. m. with the pros yesterday afternoon picking up the checks and the amateurs collecting their prizes in merchandise.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT—FMFLant's centerfielder George O'Brien is tagged out by PhilLant catcher Bill Lanning in the fourth inning of an Atlantic Fleet Softball game Friday afternoon. Calling the play is umpire Kaylor. FMFLant took this game, 11-8, but SubLant, defending champs, edged MineLant, 1-0, in the finals Monday for the championship.

runners-up to just five hits while picking up his second win in two days, the other being a three-hit, 11-0 victory over ServLant in the tourney's opener Friday.

From this tourney loss, the Minemen from Charleston, S. C., won three consecutive games to enter the finals against SubLant on Monday.

They eliminated FMFLant from the play-offs Saturday afternoon with a 6-2 win. Gene Hopper hurled three-hit ball in this encounter. First baseman Frank Dunn and centerfielder Bill Griner each contributed circuit clouts for the winners. Dunn's was with nobody on in the fourth while Griner's came in the fifth with one mate aboard.

MineLant then eliminated PhilLant by a 3-1 score on Sunday afternoon.

ernon. Gus Gullekson, who relieved starter Don Rogers in the third frame, was credited with the win.

Their third and final victory came on Monday morning when they bested Tony Ortega, 4-2, and eliminated DesLant in the semifinals. Gene Hopper went the route for MineLant, giving up just one hit, a single to third baseman Jim Mabe in the sixth. DesLant tallied their two runs with two out in the final inning on three MineLant miscues. MineLant catcher Floyd Husk had a two-run homer in the sixth for the winners.

Rogers then came back that afternoon for MineLant, but lost his one-hit effort to the defending champion SubLant aggregation, thus dropping out of contention.

Tournament Highlights

The final game, which was scheduled on the Second Marines' field, had to be switched to the Woman Marines' field after the heavy rains came down at the start of the game. The Fire Dept. from Camp Lejeune was on hand when the infield dirt was sprayed with gasoline and set on fire in order to dry out the field. Original game time was 2 p.m., but the game finally began at 5 p.m.

After a three-day stay in New London, the SubLant team will travel to San Diego for the All-Navy tourney which commences September 4. If they are successful there, they will go to the World Championship held at Minneapolis, September 18.

The three SubLant pitchers who hurled in the Atlantic Fleet tourney had outstanding records in the Connecticut Industrial League this season—Jim Cheeseman (32-1), "Bo" Whelan (18-0), and Gene Ramsey (22-2). The only game Cheeseman lost was to the Ray Besto Cardinals, World Champions in '55 and Connecticut champs this year.

Tony Ortega's comment after throwing gopher ball to Dick Schroeder which changed the complexion of the tourney: "I wasn't afraid of him because he hadn't hit the ball too well thus far in the tourney." It wound far in that this was Schroeder's only hit in the whole tourney. The big left-handed swinger went one for eight.

Ortega showed greatest stamina in tourney, pitching all four games in four days for DesLant, posting a 2-2 record.

FMFLant's ace chucker Lynn Larrick was unable to participate in the tourney because of a torn ligament in his pitching arm.

After the final game Monday afternoon, Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger presented the various individual and team trophies to the winners and runners-up.

Pre-game ceremonies on Friday afternoon included: 2nd Division Band played "Anchors Aweigh"; Maj. W. C. Allison, Tournament Director, introduced General Burger, who welcomed the visiting Navy teams; an invocation by Chaplain Michael Frimken, Hq. Bn. chaplain; after General Burger threw out the first ball, the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

On Friday morning at 10:30, the drawing for the bye took place on the steps of Bldg. 2, with all team captains and officers-in-charge on hand. MineLant drew the bye.

A fine job was done by the umpire from the Wilmington Officials Association. Robert D. Shipp presided as chief umpire.

Babe Ruth hit his first home run in professional baseball in 1914 at Fayetteville, North Carolina, where an official State historical marker commemorates this famous sports "first".

EAST COAST PLAY-OFFS—Competing in the East Coast play-offs being held at Parris Island are the Red Raiders from Camp Lejeune. Winner of the tourney will represent the East at the All-Marine scheduled for that base commencing Wednesday. The local club will rely heavily on the arm of hurler Lorenda Shelson, left, and the hitting of Mary Guest.

Red Raiders Competing At PI Play-Offs

Camp Lejeune's Red Raiders are currently participating in the East Coast softball play-offs at Parris Island with the winner of the double elimination tourney set to go against the West Coast titleists beginning Wednesday at that base.

By virtue of their so-so season record, the locals are rated as the dark horse, finishing regular season play with a 9-10 mark.

Other teams competing include Quantico, HQMC, FMFLant and Cherry Point. Against these clubs the Raiders have dropped three straight to Quantico, have split with the Island, hold the edge on FMFLant 3-1, and have divided with the Jets. Lejeune has yet to meet HQMC.

Parris Island has been picked as the nine to beat with Quantico right behind them. Last year, the

LOSE FIRST

Parris Island dumped Camp Lejeune's Red Raiders, 4-0, in the opener of the East Coast play-offs. The locals and HQMC were scheduled to face-off Tuesday afternoon. Results were not available at GLOBE press time. HQMC lost to Cherry Point, 11-7, in the second tilt.

Islanders defeated Quantico in the tourney finals to cop the coveted crown.

Lejeune will rely on the pitching of Lorenda Shelson and Vivian Pranger. Ann Wiggins is pacing the sluggers on the team with five homers, and will be backed by Mary Guest, Betty Lieser, Shirley Bray and Maureen O'Connell.

Little Creek has won the tourney for the past two years. However, they have fallen victim to the Marines five times this season while the locals have lost only one encounter, that by a homer in the last of the ninth in a 4-3 verdict.

If the Marines come out on top in this tourney, it will be the first time that this has been accomplished since 1955.

Donnelly, Smith Notch Wins In Atlantic Fleet

Camp Lejeune's two ace hurlers brought the Marines back into the win column over the weekend as Jim Donnelly and Gerry Smith each posted wins in the Atlantic Fleet Tournament at Norfolk, Va. Complete results were not available at GLOBE press time.

Donnelly racked up his 15th victory, spinning a two-hitter over DesLant Saturday with the locals registering a 6-3 score and the following day Smith notched his 25th over PhibLant, 7-0, and his eighth shutout of the season.

Lejeune collected nine hits in their initial appearance while erroring twice. The losers committed three miscues. In the second tilt, the Marines banged out 10 smashes and played errorless ball.

The local's record now stands at 77-23. They have yet to lose in their last tourney appearance of the year.

Activities have been curtailed at Norfolk for the last few days because of inclement weather. Lejeune was scheduled to play yesterday, weather permitting.

Local Softball Nine Splits With Airmen

The FMFLant softball team split an exhibition doubleheader with Seymour Johnson Air Force Base last Wednesday afternoon at the Woman Marines' field, taking the opener, 10, and dropping the night cap, 6-0.

The Marines took the first game from the visitors in extra innings. Catcher Joe Kubiak tallied the winning run in the last of the ninth frame on two Air Force miscues.

In the nightcap, Al Bessol turned the table by zipping the Marines, 6-0, giving up one scratch single while sending 12 men down on strikes. Tom Bierwiler's bunt single in the last of the seventh frame spoiled Bessol's bid for the no-hitter. Bierwiler was the only man to reach first base on the righthander, receiving a free pass in the first and the single in the seventh. Both times he was erased attempting to steal.

Bessol, besides retiring 17 men in order in the course of the seven-inning tilt, ran a streak of seven successive strikeouts.

Coaches Quinn, Campbell Join Local Football Staff

Two new faces have appeared on Camp Lejeune's coaching staff with Capt. James W. Quinn and 1st Lt. Frederick M. Campbell added to the football rosters.

Skipper Quinn began his fifth year of coaching when he took over the reins of the backfield chores. He started his playing career at Englewood H. S., Englewood, N. J., continued at Englewood's Boys' Prep and finished at Fordham U.

His coaching phase was inaugurated at Fordham Prep and continued in 1952 at Parris Island. Two years later, coach Quinn served in the same capacity at Quantico and again in 1955 as backfield tutor.

Coach Campbell played his high school ball at the end position but was switched to tackle at Duke U. His college career was climaxed by a 1955 appearance in the Orange Bowl and selection to the first string All-Conference eleven.

The 210-pound line mentor coached the Lejeune varsity wrestling team to a successful season this past year.

Along with the two new faces on the staff, returnees from last season include Capt. Wil "E" Overgaard and TSgt. George I. Cordle.

Coach Overgaard has been designated as the head of the brain trust for the second straight year and his third in service competition. As a frosh head coach with Little Creek in 1956, he led his club to a 9-1-1 ledger. Last year at Lejeune, his team compiled a 4-4-1 record. He began his playing days at Boise High, Boise, Idaho, and was named to the All-Conference team in his senior year. At the U. of Idaho, coach Overgaard earned four varsity letters and was Honorable Mention All-Pacific Coast three years.

Besides coaching high school football, he was line coach at Parris Island and Little Creek prior to becoming head mentor. Coach Overgaard also played with the 1951 Quantico eleven.

A 16-year veteran of the football wars in which he has played, scouted and coached, Gunny Cordle returns to Lejeune for his second year directing the ends. His first year of service ball was ironically started right here, when in 1946, he held down one of the end slots.

Consequent tours followed at Camp Pendleton; NAS, Pensacola, and Quantico where his service ball was climaxed on a berth as an outstanding end on the All-Marine squad.

As a player-coach, mentor Cordle began his coaching with Pearl Harbor in '53. Prior to joining the local staff, he scouted for the Lejeune eleven during the 1955-56 seasons and was instrumental in aiding the Marines to the East Coast title in '56.
