

WHAT IS THE BIGGEST INCENTIVE FOR WOMEN JOINING THE MARINES?

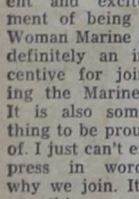

PFC BARBARA DAVIS, WM CO., MCB — The Marines have a smart looking uniform.

Not only that, but the publicity is tremendous. The educational advantages and GI Bill have a lot to do with women joining the service. The experience, I believe, will do most girls a lot of good.

PFC BILLIE KIMMERLY, WM CO., MCB — Need for something different and excitement of being a Woman Marine is definitely an incentive for joining the Marines.

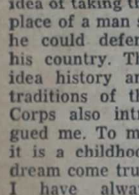

It is also something to be proud of. I just can't express in words why we join. It's something you can feel but just can't put your finger on.

PFC CATALINA R. FLORES, WM CO., MCB — Some reasons might be adventure, opportunity for travel and education. I also think most girls want to try something different and get away from the daily routine of civilian life. They believe the service will give them these opportunities.

PFC MARY L. WILHELM, WM CO., MCB — A snappy uniform and the idea of taking the place of a man so he could defend his country. The idea history and traditions of the Corps also intrigued me. To me, it is a childhood dream come true. I have always wanted to be a Marine.

PFC MARY E. BARRETT, WM CO., MCB — I believe that most girls join the Marine Corps because they feel that this is something different, new and exciting. The Corps has such a wide advertising program, it sets more girls to thinking about joining than any other branch of service.

PFC ALICE HUBBS, WM CO., MCB — Sometimes a girl wants a career where she feels she is needed and this is just the place. In the Marines you have a very good chance to have a career and to be a help to your country at the same time. The Marine uniform would appeal to any girl who wants to look sharp.

CSG's Maintenance Platoon Thrives On Salvage Work

Flighty Grandma Wins Marine Wings After 'Copter Spin

SANTA ANA MCAF, Calif. (AFPS)—Ordinarily little old ladies don't choose to go for helicopter rides with the Marines—but there weren't many young ladies in 1902 who chose to go for balloon ascents either.

Rose Spencer Pearson, (98-pounds, 73-years), has done both. At her request, Maj. Walter Scarborough, USMC, took her for a 10-minute helicopter spin the other day.

"When can I fly with the Marines again?" was her leading question as Col. James L. Neefus, USMC, pinned to her coveralls the "wings" making her an honorary Marine Corps pilot.

On hand for her maiden flight in the whirlybird were two sons, two grandsons, a great-grandson, and her husband, Mr. Carl Pearson.

The family sendoff could only be called appropriate. For it was her first husband, Stanley Spencer, a noted English aeronaut, who encouraged her to make the 1902 balloon flight that earned her the title of the first feminine "airship skipper."

There was another time, she recalls, when she went up in the clouds with a Marine. That was bandleader John Philip Sousa, a balloon enthusiast, who later wrote a melody in her honor.

Her parting words to the Marines after her latest flight: "You are all wonderful boys."

Tucked away in a corner of Camp Geiger and almost engulfed by surrounding buildings is a tiny but efficient unit of 2nd Combat Service Group. It is doing a man-size job in reclaiming and salvaging military items. Their work ranges from the replacement of grommets to opening a 400-pound safe.

The unit, which labors under the imposing title of Shoe and Textile Maintenance Platoon, 8th General Supply Field Maintenance Co., is now chopping away at a mountain of 4,000 field cots. They are reconditioning and sending them back into service at a rate of 50 per day.

The textile section is presently modifying and repairing 1200 life jackets. During the past four months the seven men which make up the section have found time to clean and repair some 600 tents and tarpaulins of all sizes.

The four-man typewriter section which provides cleaning facilities for the hundreds of typewriters in Force Troops, is a beehive of activity. During the past half year they have processed some 400 typewriters of all makes and models.

Set up as a Fleet Marine Force mobile unit, the platoon's primary mission is the reclaiming and repairing of shoes and canvas tents in the field. At the present time the shoe repair section is on a stand-by basis and are repairing just enough shoes to keep the men in training. But Lt. Joseph H. White, officer in charge of the shop, claims the section is capable of repairing 400 pairs of field shoes per day.

In addition to three shoe repair machines, each trailer carries two heavy duty sewing machines, carpentry tools and numerous spare parts and materials.

Identical Twins Start, Follow, End Careers Together

Force Troops lost a twin-brother communications combination to civilian life when Pfc's John and Edwin McEntee of the 8th Signal Bn., were discharged last week.

The McEntee brothers, identical twins, served all but seven months of their four-year enlistment together. They enlisted in 1950 and finished boot camp at Parris Island before being transferred here for a short stay.

From Lejeune, the brothers went to Camp Pendleton to join the Re-training and Replacement Command there. They went overseas in December 1950.

Although they left on the same draft the twins were separated in Japan for the first time. Edwin went to Korea to join the 1st Marine Division while John stayed at the Naval Base at Kobe. Edwin returned to Japan three months later and assumed John's job at the

JOHN (above) AND EDWIN MCENTEE

Naval base. Brother John, the oldest boy by three minutes, then went to Korea. The separation didn't last long as Edwin requested, and was granted further duty with his brother's unit in Korea.

The boys were rotated back to the States a few months apart but both ended up in the 8th at Camp Geiger.

They were sent to the Naval Teletype School at Norfolk, Va., and both finished among the top six in their class. To wind up their parallel careers the look-alikes participated in two TRAEX maneuvers during the past year.

Bronze Star Award Presented To Frost At Geiger Parade

A Bronze Star Medal for "heroic achievement against the enemy in Korea" was presented to 1st Lt. Jay C. Frost during an 8th Motor Transport Bn. parade held at Camp Geiger recently.

Also honored were 1st Lt. George F. Bruton, battalion adjutant, and Pfc Joseph J. Weingrad. Lt. Bruton received a Letter of Appreciation for his services as an "outstanding officer with a Marine Motor Transport Bn. attached to the Marine Division in Korea," while Weingrad was cited by Leatherneck magazine for rifle marksmanship in the third quarter of the 2nd Annual Competition.

Lt. Frost's citation detailed how he and an enlisted man had repaired a damaged ammunition truck that had been ordered abandoned in an extremely hazardous area. While tanks drew enemy fire, Frost and his companion made necessary repairs and then drove vehicle to its essential load.

Some Military Bills Ready For Congress Others Sidetracked

The Pentagon's 1954 legislative program is just about ready for Congress, but certain bills considered "most important to individuals" are held up in the Bureau of the Budget for further study according to the "Navy Times."

These include:

1. A proposed pay increase would more than 500 million to the combined services.

2. Proposals designed to make the services more attractive to potential career personnel, including increased enlistment bonuses and certain hazardous duty pay.

3. Extension of the Wherry Housing Act which allows the service to permit private contractors to build dependent housing on government land.

4. The "equalization of benefits" bill.

5. Extension of the enlisted man's deposit bill.

Expected to meet Budget bureau opposition is a bill to increase active duty survivors' benefits.

The Navy Department expects to ask passage of the Navy-Marine Corps Integration bill. This would restore to these services the authority they had until December 31, 1953, to take selected officers into the regular military establishment.

Up for extension is the Missing Persons act without which benefits to families of missing persons would end February 1.

Other bills include a Navy request for authority to confirm certain temporary appointments under 1947 Officer Personnel act, and Marine Corps request for a second major general for its Supply Corps.

TANKMAN HONORED—Pvt. Carl B. Lang receives a Bronze Star and congratulations from Lt. Col. Leo R. Case, commanding officer, 8th Tank Bn., Force Troops, for his action against the enemy in Korea last summer. Lang, who was a member of a tank crew which voluntarily went to the rescue of two disabled tanks, dismounted from his tank to attach towing cables to the disabled vehicles in the face of "murderous hostile artillery and mortar fire." Later Lang employed one of the tank's machine guns to such an extent that he personally accounted for an estimated seventy-five enemy dead or wounded (Official USMC Photo).

ANOTHER MARINE FIRST — Marine Cpl. Raymond Schubert, the first American ever married in the historic Tower of London chapel, is congratulated by Chief Yeoman Warder A. C. Griffiths. Bride Rosemary Reece is the daughter of a former warder of the tower.

Star Award Presented To Frost At Tiger Parade

Star Medal for "heroism against the enemy" is presented to 1st Lt. Frost during an 8th Motor Bn. parade held at Camp Lejeune.

Presented were 1st Lt. George E. Weingard, Lt. Brutto, Letter of Appreciation as an "outstanding Marine Motor Bn. attached to the 11th Division in Korea," who was cited by Leatherneck for rifle marksmanship third quarter of the 2nd competition.

"His citation detailed his enlisted man had repaired damaged ammunition truck, been ordered abandoned in extremely hazardous area, drew enemy fire, and his companion was killed and then drove his essential load."

Military Bills For Congress Sidetracked

agon's 1954 legislative program is just about ready for certain bills considered important to individual members of the Bureau for further study of the "Navy Times."

clude:

- Proposed pay increase of $500 million to the Congress.
- Designs to make military more attractive to young personnel, including payment bonuses and increased duty pay.
- Extension of the Wherry House which allows the services to hire private contractors to do housing on government property.
- Equalization of benefits of the enlisted man.
- to meet Budget Bureau's bill to increase survivors' benefits.
- Army Department expects passage of the Navy-Marine Integration bill. This bill would give the services the right to use their own property they had until December 1953, to take selected to the regular military command.
- extension is the Mission without which benefits of missing persons is denied.
- include a Navy bill to confirm temporary appointments under military rather than the Personnel act, and to request for a second general for its Supply.

Camp Geiger Troops Take Lessons in Sherman's 'Defendo' Techniques

Bill Sherman, nationally known hand-to-hand and knife fighting instructor, has returned to Camp Lejeune and is currently conducting training periods for Force Troops units at Camp Geiger.

Sherman, who taught his favorite subjects to thousands of Division Marines last summer, recently returned from the Panama Canal Zone where he trained special Army troops in single survival and hand-to-hand fighting.

The mild and rather disarming life expert is recognized as one of the outstanding exponents of individual fighting in the country today. He studied under Col. Anthony Drexel Biddle, the fabulous individual combat instructor, whose issues are still remembered and talked about by old-time Marines. Sherman utilizes the Biddle techniques in the relatively new "Defendo," a combination of jujitsu, boxing, wrestling, and other forms of individual combat. At his Camp Geiger classes, however, Sherman concentrates on knife fighting in close-in combat.

Sherman's theory, and one that is expressed to his Force Troops audience, is that "hand-to-hand fighting is a grim game in which there is no referee, no judge and no rules . . . and no prize for second place. You bring home all the marbles or you don't come home."

The genial Philadelphian, who is sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans, has appeared at many major military installations throughout the country. Shortly after the Korean war began, he went to Camp Pendleton where he served for several months as an instructor in the Training and Replacement Command.

During his present tour he is being accompanied by Mr. Irving Sadow, a DAV service officer.

Recruiter Planning Visit Here Monday

Sgt. C. A. Jackson of the Washington, N. C., recruiting office will be at Bldg. 205 Monday to aid all men in this area who wish to enlist in the Marine Corps.

For further information, call the Division Recruiting Office, phone 3693.

Camp Disbursing Starts New Year With New O In C

The Camp Disbursing Office started the New Year with a new chief as well as a new page in the ledger.

Lt. Col. Alvin S. Sanders relieved Lt. Col. H. O. Buzhardt here January 1, starting the New Year with a new job.

Now undergoing on-the-job training at the Supply Branch, Supply Depot, Colonel Buzhardt will receive further assignment in the depot.

Prior to reporting here Colonel Sanders was Disbursing Officer of the 1st Division in Korea.

During World War II he served with the 4th Division in the Roi-Namur operations in the Marshall Islands.

Later, he saw action on Peleliu under the now Brig. Gen. H. R. Paige, current assistant Division commander, 2nd Marine Division here.

Eight Navy Crosses Okayed For Marine Veterans Of Korea

The Secretary of the Navy has approved the award of eight Navy Crosses, three of them posthumously, to members of the Marine Corps. Seven of them were with the 1st Marine Division.

The awards will be presented to the following:

Capt. Clarence G. Moody Jr., for heroism as a company commander with the 1st Marines in Korea on August 12-13, 1952.

SSgt. Joseph J. Louder, for his action as a platoon sergeant with the 5th Marines in Korea on August 17, 1952.

Pfc Enrique Romero-Nieves, for his gallantry as a squad leader with the 7th Marines in Korea on October 26, 1952.

Pfc Raymond C. Smith, for heroism while serving with the 7th Marines in Korea on the night of October 6, 1952.

Pfc Adolfo Benavides, a reservist, for his gallantry on October 6, 1952, while serving as a rifleman with the 1st Marines in Korea.

Posthumous award of the Navy Cross was announced for:

2nd Lt. Donald L. Parks, killed in Korea on May 6, 1952, while serving as a pilot in Marine Attack Squadron 121.

2nd Lt. Martin L. Givot, a reservist, for heroism which cost him his life in October, 1952, while serving as a platoon commander with the 7th Marines in Korea.

SSgt. Will A. Thompson, who lost his life in Korea on October 6, 1952, while serving as a platoon sergeant with the 7th Marines.

A Navy hospital corpsman who refused treatment for his own wounds while caring for Marine wounded has also been awarded the Navy Cross for his valor.

Camp Lejeune PTA Hears Experts On Problems Of Youth

"Keeping Faith With Youth" was the theme at the meeting of the Camp Lejeune Parent-Teachers Association Monday night in the Camp School auditorium. Three panels were formed to give the parents an opportunity to express opinions on the subject of their choice.

Special Agent in Charge of the FBI, in Charlotte, N. C., William A. Murphy, spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency." Mr. Murphy attended the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit, and was a member of the Michigan State Bar Association.

Mrs. James A. Allgood, of the Onslow County Child Welfare Agency, presented the subject "Service To Service Personnel."

The third panel, "Mental Hygiene" was conducted by Chaplain Frank R. Morton of the U. S. Naval Hospital at Camp Lejeune.

Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria after the meeting.

Military Income Is Taxable In State Of Legal Residence

Yes, you have to pay income tax.

In addition to the Federal income tax, certain states, territories and possessions have their own income tax laws. Some have exempted members of the Armed Forces while others have not.

This series of articles is designed to help you find out what your state tax obligations are while serving as a member of the Armed Forces. Since tax laws vary, the GLOBE will furnish a state-by-state breakdown of these laws as they apply to servicemen.

1)—The following states do not have any state income tax: Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Maine, Michigan, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, and Wyoming. If your legal residence is in one of those states, you don't have to worry. But if you are picking up some extra cash in the state in which you are stationed—money besides your regular Service pay—you may be liable to taxes. For example: A sailor from Rhode Island stationed in New York has a job during off-duty hours. Rhode Island has no income tax. But New York has.

Ohio and Pennsylvania have no personal income taxes, but residents of certain cities and municipalities may be liable for taxes.

2)—The Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act is still in force. It says you don't have to pay income tax on Service pay in a state in which you are living solely by reason of Naval or military orders. However, that does not exempt retired and retainer pay, the separate income of a spouse or family of a service person, or income gained from business, investments, rents, and sources other than Service pay.

3)—Generally, if you are a legal resident of a state on the last day of a taxable year you are liable to the income tax laws of that state. For other than Service pay, you may be liable for income taxes to the state in which you are deriving an income as well as to your home state (AFPS).

(ED. NOTE: Further tax information next week.)

VA REPRESENTATIVE
Mr. David Temberton, a representative of the VA from Wilmington, N. C., will be present at the Camp Education Office from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday.

AWARD MOMENT—Lt. Col. Charles H. Cowles (left), Deputy Executive Officer, Second Marines, awards a Bronze Star to SSgt. James S. Forcier of sub-unit No. 1, H&S Co., Second Marines. Chaplain's Corner

In an Arabian legend, a description is given of eternity. The narrator tells that eternity is like a bird rubbing his beak against the rock of a huge mountain. When the mountain has been worn away by the rubbing, we have but a moment in eternity.

But we live here in a world of time. We do things by the minute, by the hour, by the day. We divide up the motion of the earth around the sun into twenty-four parts which we call hours. We could just as easily divide that motion into twenty parts, or four parts. Thus it is well for us to remember that time is actually only something artificial, an arbitrary measurement of motion.

In the light of this knowledge, would not many of the problems that beset us every day diminish in importance? The loss of money or property or friends would assume its proper stature if we realized the loss meant little in the light of eternity. A lifetime of eight or eighty years—only a moment's difference in eternity. When life and time ends for us on this earth, and there is only eternity, what difference will all the wealth in the world mean? What difference a great reputation? What people think of us? Money, fame or public opinion mean nothing when we are dead. Rockefeller is just as dead as John Doe, a pauper. The well known hero is just as dead as the man whose name never entered a newspaper. Only one thing matters and that is eternity and your place in it. "What does it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul?"—Chaplain Kevin J. Keaney.

Kansas, the 34th state, was admitted to the Union on January 29, 1861.

HONORED BY BISHOP—Col. J. C. McHaney, commanding officer of the 10th Marines is presented a lay leaders license by the Rt. Rev. Thomas Henry Wright, bishop of the Diocese of Eastern North Carolina at a recent ceremony in the Camp Protestant Chapel. The license gives Colonel McHaney the authority to conduct divine services under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The colonel was recommended for the honor by Chaplain A. Neumann Barranger of the 10th Marines (Official USMC Photo).

Globe Loses Editor Dullea After 29 Months On Staff

A name familiar to all readers of the Camp Lejeune GLOBE will be missing from the masthead this week as SSgt. Charley Dullea returns to civilian life Monday.

Sergeant Dullea, who had been editor of the GLOBE since July, 1952, and a member of the GLOBE's staff since August '51, is returning to continue his studies at the University of Notre Dame. He had two and a half years at Notre Dame before his enlistment in the Marine Corps in January, 1951.

Taking over from Sergeant Dullea is Sgt. Wallace Davis, former public information man for the 10th Marines. Davis is a 1951 journalism graduate of the University of Georgia. He enlisted in the Marine Corps upon his graduation.

Receiving his recruit training at Parris Island, Dullea was sent here after his completion of "boot" camp. His first duty spot was with the 2nd Amphibious Reconnaissance Bn., Force Troops.

Transferred to the GLOBE office in August, '51, he served as a staff writer until April, 1952 when he was made assistant editor.

From May until July of 1952, Dullea was TAD to the Armed Forces Information School at Fort Slocum, N. Y. Sergeant Dullea graduated fourth in a class of 67.

In July he put out his first issue as editor of the GLOBE. Under his editorship the GLOBE won a Department of Defense Newspaper Award for the second quarter of 1953.

10th Marines Mark 35th Anniversary In Church Service

In commemoration of the thirty-fifth anniversary the 10th Marines held a regimental church service in the Protestant Chapel, January 10, at nine o'clock.

A procession in which the Regiment's colors were carried marked the beginning of the service. Scripture readings were given by Joe C. McHaney, commanding officer of the Tenth Marines and Col. H. M. Wellman, executive officer of the Tenth Marines.

Chaplain A. N. Barranger spoke briefly of some of the most famous operations in which the Tenth Marines have distinguished themselves. As these historic places were named the men who had served in them stood up. Among the mentioned were Guadalcanal, Pan, Tinian, Tarawa, Okinawa and Agrihan Island.

The sermon was delivered by Regimental Chaplain Stephen Reynolds.

The Tenth Marine Regiment created by an order of the Department on January 15, 1911, became the artillery regiment of the Second Marine Division in 1917 and set up its headquarters at Camp Lejeune in July of 1946.

Infant of Prague Auditorium Drive Nets $5,000 Pledged

The Infant of Prague Council of the Catholic Daughters of America voted to pledge $5,000 toward construction of the Infant of Prague auditorium at its monthly meeting last week.

Construction of the auditorium which will cost an estimated $50,000 and hold 1000 seats, is expected to get under way within a few months, according to Mrs. R. E. Smith, of Jacksonville, Georgia, regent of the local court.

When the auditorium is completed it will be used to serve the social needs of the community as well as for school purposes and will be available every night of the week.

Quantico Smothers Lejeune Cagers, 92-68

Jackson Five Tangle With Locals Sat.

The Camp Lejeune cagers play host to the Golden Arrows of Fort Jackson from Columbia, S. C., Saturday night in the Goettge Memorial Field House at 8 p. m.

The Army cagers will be making their first appearance here at Lejeune this season with the Lejeune cagers playing a return game there later this month. The Arrows were the Third Army champion during the 1952-53 season and are considered a good bet to repeat this year.

The Army five boasts of a team consisting only of college players from all parts of the country. It includes players from the University of Oregon, Xavier, Purdue, Georgia, Western Kentucky, and North Carolina State to name a few.

Hartman, Terrill Coaches

The Arrows team is under the tutelage of player-coach Bob Hartman, 6', 170, hailing from South Bend, Ind., who played at Purdue. Assisting Hartman is player-coach Lee Terrill, 6', 180, from South Orange, N. J., who played his college ball under Everett Case at North Carolina State.

Other members of the squad include Curt Barclay, 6'3", from the University of Oregon; Ken Robbins, 6'2½", from the University of Mississippi; Hugh Shuttleworth, 6'3", from Muskingum; Sam Lucas, 6'5½", from Alcorn; Gene Smith, 6'4", from Xavier; Zippy Morocco, 5'10", from the University of Georgia; and Bill Scott, 5'10", from Western Kentucky.

Women Basketeers Top Cherry Point, Pope Air Force Base

Camp Lejeune's walloping Women's Marine basketeers won two rousing battles over the weekend. They beat the Cherry Point Jets, 48-35, and clipped the wings of Pope Air Force Base, 57-47.

Sparked by Dale Mease, who scored 16 points in the first game, Pat Burbage with 14, and Ruth Decker, who hit 12, the Lejeune sextet easily won over the Jets, despite the accurate fire of Sarah Thornton, who scored 13 points, Shirley Moulton who hit nine, and Janet Mellin with six for losers.

Diminutive Pope Cager Kay Roberts scored 40 of the team's 47 points and made it hot for Lejeune. An upset appeared to be in the making until the Marines took the lead in the early part of the fourth quarter for the first time and went on to win the game.

Shore Party Leads Group II Basketball With 7-1 Record; Jim Cunningham Stars

Shore Party Bn., with seven wins and one loss, leads the Group II league in the race for a berth in the Division Intramural Basketball Championships to be played next month.

Closely pressed in the standings by Medical Bn. five, which has a six and two record, Shore Party has beaten Ordnance Bn. three times and Motor Transport Bn. twice with a small but fast, hard-driving club.

Shore Party defeated the Medical quintet in their first meeting, 57-54, but were turned back in the return match, 45-44, for their only loss thus far. They won the third battle with Medical, 57-41, and close the regular season against them a week from tonight in a game which could decide the Group II championship, depending on the outcome of the other games on this week's slate.

Leading the Shore Party onslaught is Jim Cunningham, a speedster who is averaging 24 points a game, scoring equally well inside and out. He is deadly with a one-handed push shot from almost anywhere on the court.

Cunningham, who played at Georgetown University, hit the nets for 32 points, his single game high, while Shore Party broke 100 in handling Ordnance a setback.

Fortunate Second

The second high scorer, averaging slightly under 16 points, is Joe Fortunato, a 5'11" jumping-jack under the boards who also played for the Group II grid team. Joe played for the Camp Fisher Marines in Japan last season.

Rounding out the first five are Lennell Johnson, a good ball handler and floor man who stands 5'10", Lawrence "Doc" Trumble, 5'11", a defensive ballhawk who has a good one-hander, and Charles Bryant, also 5'11", who plays a steady all-around game.

Trumble, who is being discharged next week, played frosh ball at Kent State (Ohio) University, before joining the Marine Corps. Bryant played at the State University of New York for one season.

Shore Party loses Trumble, Bob Gamache, Jim Maloney, and Jim Russell via discharge or release within the next few days but have four replacements they hope will take up the slack.

John Negron, at 6'6", will add the much-needed height but John is just back from Korea and will need a couple of games under his belt to round into form. Herb Lewis, a six-footer just out of boot camp, has been rebounding well in practice sessions. Denis O'Brien, a 5-9'er who played at Salisbury State Teachers College, shows promise, as does Bob Bohr at 6'2".

The Shore Party five is coached by Capt. Stan Cluggish, who played four years with the University of Kentucky under Adolph Rupp. His assistant coach, Bill Clark, who has played and coached at Shore Party for several seasons, is being discharged this week.

The Philippine Republic was founded January 23, 1899, but the United States controlled the islands until July 4, 1946.

New Marine Corps Record For Consecutive Wins Set

The undefeated Quantico Marines took their 20th win of the season to set a new Marine Corps record for consecutive victories by defeating a fired up Camp Lejeune quintet Monday night in Goettge Memorial Field House.

The old mark of 19 was set by Quantico's All-Americans, champions of last year's season, who equalled by this year's win over Fort Jackson.

Cherry Point Meets Camp Team Tonight

The Lejeune cagers will play the second of three Marine teams they face this season when they meet the Cherry Point Flyers tonight at Cherry Point.

Winning seven of their last ten games, the Cherry Point cagers have brought their 1953 record to 11 victories and eight defeats, with 39 percent of the season in the record books. The victories were evenly divided between college and service teams; the Flyers lost to four colleges, three service teams, and one independent team.

Getting off to a rousing start, they took four of their first six contests, but then fell to three service fives on the road. They then beat their next four opponents.

After Belmont Abbey upset them by two points, the Flyers went on to rout High Point, 101-74. In the last two games before the holidays, the Flyers defeated Springfield College and then lost to the Duke freshmen. They also lost to the Wilmington Colonials.

One of the big reasons for Cherry Point's impressive record this season has been John Spanbauer, an outstanding competitor who was named on the All-Marine team last season. He has scored 323 points for a 17.7 point game average.

Another outstanding performer returning from last year is Larry Thompson, who is currently leading in the scoring department with 353 points and a 19.6 average in 19 games.

The only other hoopster with a double-digit average is Heywood Buffaloe, a speedy 6'1" forward who played last season also.

Over half of the Flyers' points have been acquired by Spanbauer, Thompson, and Buffaloe.

Other regular performers of the hardwood who have been constant pointgetters are Don Cramer, Ben Myers, Sid Lambert, Frank Kerker, and Claude McGuire.

Hunters To Lock Horns In Contest

Need a hatrack?

You may be able to pick one up cheap next Wednesday night when the contest is over.

What contest?

Members of the Fish and Wildlife Club will hold a judging to see which member nailed the buck with the biggest set of antlers this past season. Prizes will be awarded. The meeting begins at 7 o'clock in Bldg. 1404.

Needless to say, the man with the most "points" wins.

Ouch!

The bulging crowd of approximately 3500 saw Lejeune ed by the fancy shooting of Philadelphia Warrior great Arizin who got 29 points in these two games.

Held to only two field goals in three free throws in the first half, Arizin surged back in the second half to hit the nets for 23 to put the game on ice.

At one point, three minutes into the second quarter, the locals came within one point of tying the running Quantico bunch, but baskets by Arizin and Mooney brought the visitor's lead to 55-48. Lejeune never threatened again with Quantico lengthening their lead as each minute passed.

The game was a rough tumble affair with two men and one Lejeune man fouling the game on personal foul.

Lejeune's ace scorer Leroy paced the locals by scoring field goals and sinking 10 of 10 from the free throw line. Also scoring in the double column was Whitaker with 12 points.

Other high scorers for Lejeune were Richie Regan, former Hall All-American, with 11 and John Silk with 10 points.

Belmont Nips Cherry Point Hoopsters At W Smith Buckets

Despite phenomenal shooting by Lejeune's Leroy, the local cagers went down in season's third defeat at the Belmont Abbey College night before a hepped-up approximately 1500 at Goettge Memorial Field House.

Little Belmont Abbey, consisting of all freshmen, held the locals scoreless for the first quarter and the first ten points themselves.

Smith, Lejeune's scorer, sparked the Leathernecks, behind as much as 16 points, scored 30 points to take point honors for the night. He missed only four field goals, two in the first half, two in the second half, and in six of eight attempts in the free-throw line.

Smith, Whitaker, and Jones were the Marines in a drive that netted them from a third-quarter deficit of 16 points to tie up the game with five minutes and 45 seconds left.

See-Saw Battle

Lejeune went ahead by scoring on a charity toss by Smith. Belmont's 6'10" center, Jones, tossed in a jump shot to tie the lead. Buckets by Smith, Jones, and Jones put the locals in the second and last ten seconds remaining.

Jack Underwood, of Belmont, tied up the score again, with only seconds left, then ped in a jump shot to tie the team a 74-72 victory.

Pacing the college quintet, 21 points was their hookshot. Jim Gaetano.

Other high scorers for the team were Skip Whitaker with 15 and Newt Jones with 14.

There has been said in the past about our women athletes, so part of the column will be devoted to them this week.

When the call was sounded early in September for women to try out for the basketball team, some 30 girls turned out. Alan Perl, starting his second year as head coach for the women's team, had only four returnees from last year's squad. Perl had a tough job ahead of him as he was to match his 1953 record. The 1953 team won the East Coast basketball championship and the El Toro Women in two straight games to cop the First Women's basketball championship. The WM's lost only one game in a service sextet. Their record was 16-2.

1954 aggregation has a 4-5 record to date with the defeats at the hands of two AAU teams—Hanes Hosier from Winston-Salem defeated the locals three times, and the Snow White Demon from Virginia Beach, Va., who beat them twice. It was no disgrace these two teams as Hanes had won the National AAU Women's 11 championship three straight years and carried four All-Americans on their team. The Snow White club was the 1953 AAU champion. This was women's basketball at its greatest.

1954 Lejeune sextet is currently undefeated in service competition. Their only serious challenger for East Coast supremacy and marine championship is Parris Island. The two clubs clash in RANDOM . . . A new ensenflor boxing mat has just arrived and is being put to use. This new padding was especially designed to protect the boxer from the danger of brain concussion. Ensenflor is a combination of a new material designed by the U. S. Rubber Co. and celotex. It is now mandatory for professional boxing rings in New York and other states.

Boxing, while I was at Cherry Point last week, the match between Cherry Point and Lejeune, it came to a close. One of the boxers on the card had reported for the first time that afternoon. The Flyers' coaches had him with one of our better boxers and he was soundly and legally beaten in the first round.

Boxers Collect Fourth Straight Win, Beating Point Pugs For Second Time

The Camp Lejeune boxing team collected its fourth consecutive win of the season at the expense of the Cherry Point Flyers Wednesday night last week by trouncing them five out of six bouts there.

The most colorful fight was between Lejeune's light-welterweight Pat McDonough and the Flyers' Steve Euteneier.

This was McDonough's first fight for the locals and he took control in the first round and pounded out an unanimous decision. He bloodied his opponent's nose in the first round with a terrific right hand that shook Euteneier up considerably. In the third, McDonough pounded Euteneier time and time again with rights and lefts to the head but was unable to knock him out.

In Lejeune's only defeat, Cherry Point's Harold Jackson won a unanimous decision over Johnny Garcia in the featherweight division.

The shortest bout of the match, Lejeune's lightweight Sammy Branch TKO'd George Wolfe in 2:53 of the first round with a terrific barrage of lefts and rights to the head.

Another bout pitted lightweight Nick LaRosa of Lejeune against Howard Gosser. LaRosa got the nod in an unanimous decision.

Welterweight Don Davis of Lejeune continued his winning ways by defeating Bob Stauffer for the second time this season.

After being badly tagged in the opening minutes of the first round,

SNOWED UNDER

The current blast of winter brought snow, cold, and sleet, but will not bring the Fort Monmouth boxing team to Lejeune tonight.

The Monmouth team has cancelled the match because the snow in their area hampered travel.

Lejeune's middleweight Joe Davis, surged back to win an unanimous decision over Al McQueen. McQueen came out in the first and opened up a blistering barrage of lefts and rights to the head of Davis and staggered him. Davis held on for the remainder of the round and recovered sufficiently to jab and punch his way to the decision and his third straight win of the season.

Cagers To Battle Two Service Clubs At Home Next Week

The Varsity basketball team will meet two service opponents here next week.

ComServLant, a strong Navy aggregation from Norfolk, will make a strong bid to avenge the defeat that the locals hung on them earlier in the season, 90-71. This game is scheduled for Monday night at Goettge Memorial Fieldhouse at 8 p.m.

Wednesday night the locals will be out to even the series with the Naval Air Station Flyers from Norfolk. The Flyers gave the locals their second loss of the season, 79-76.

Coach Charles Moore, taking his first swing around the basketball circuit, leading the White Hats of ServLant on their gruelling 35-game schedule.

The White Hats will be paced by Ken Rosemond, guard, 5'11", from Hallsboro, N. C.; guard Joe Fennell, 6'4", from Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; center Jerry Schroeder, 6'4", hailing from Granite City, Ill.; forward Dick Otis, 6'2", from Battle Creek, Mich.; and forward Dick Spredean, 6'2", from Milwaukee, Wis.

The Leatherneck lineup will consist of forwards Newt Jones and Joe Prater; center Lorrie Alexander; guards Leroy Smith and Skip Whitaker.

Over 60 Hopefuls Answer First Call For Track, Baseball

Pre-season baseball and track workouts for the Camp Lejeune Marines got underway last Friday afternoon when more than 60 applicants reported for their first session.

Coaches Harry Hill and Ralph Russo are faced with a complete rebuilding job on the camp nine. Not a single man returns from the 1953 aggregation.

The Lejeune nine has scheduled 60 games. They open with the University of North Carolina here at home, March 19.

Only 25 candidates reported for varsity track workouts. The team, under newly-appointed Coach John Warner, tentatively will open the season with a dual meet against Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va., April 7.

Camp High Girls Cop First Victory; Pups Top Quantico

In a tilt that went into two overtime periods, and had the fans on their feet, the girls squad of Camp High School won their first game of the season from Quantico Saturday, 37-35, at Goettge Memorial Fieldhouse.

Nip and tuck all the way, the score read 33-31 with seconds to go when Lejeune's Dixie Hardick's bucket tied the score as the buzzer sounded for the end of the game.

Ruth Dietz, scoreless up to now, matched Quantico's Barbara Kohl's tally in the first overtime period, and in the second one layed one up like an old-timer to win the game.

Dixie Hardick was high scorer for Lejeune, racking up 25 points.

The Lejeune Devilpups made it a clean sweep as they ran wild over a hapless Quantico team, 69-27, to take their half of the twin bill.

High scorers for Lejeune were Johnny Mugford, 15; Bobby Peele, 12; Bob Royster, 11; and Charlie Sells, 10. Best defensive players for the Pups were Charlie Sells, with Royster and Mugford sharing the honors on rebounds. The Pups take on Jones Central in a home game tomorrow night.

MID-AIR SKIRMISH—Jim Meade (21), Belmont Abbey substitute center, knocks the ball away from the hoop as Newt Jones (38) attempts to lay in an easy two-pointer while Moe Teberge (33), Leroy Smith (26), Jim Gaetano (14), Roger Marcil (32), and Jack Underwood (12) await to see which way the ball bounces. Belmont Abbey College won the game in the final seconds of play with a jump shot by Jack Underwood, 74-72 (Official USMC Photo).
