COLONEL ELLIS

River Yields Body Of Ellis After 8 Days

The eight-day search for Lt. Col. Henry A. Ellis Jr., division Air officer, missing since March 21, ended Monday when his body was sighted in New river, several hundred yards off Hadnot Point, by an alert helicopter pilot. Colonel Ellis, who survived five days at sea in a rubber raft after being shot down off Guadalcanal during World War II, was last seen alive about 2 p.m. Sunday, March 21, fishing in the vicinity of Southwest creek. When Colonel Ellis failed to return home a combined air, sea and ground search for the missing officer was immediately ordered. (See BODY FOUND, Page 7)

Stories about General Puller, some fact, some fiction, have created an almost legendary aureola about the general. Of most significance to the men he will command here is his reputation for marching ability, his insistence on combat readiness and conditioning at all times and his belief that his NCO's are the backbone of his outfit.

The 55-year-old general served as an enlisted marine in World War I, was commissioned a Reserve second lieutenant June 16, 1919, was placed on inactive duty ten days later, but reenlisted four days afterwards for service in Haiti. He finally got to keep his bars when he received a regular commission in March, 1924.

FLEET RESERVE TRANSFER
Officers and enlisted personnel desiring transfer to the Fleet Marine Corps Reserve should submit written request, together with Standard Form 88 two months prior to desired date.

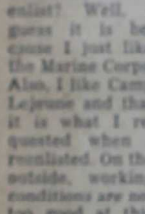

WHY DID YOU REENLIST?

SGT. JOHN R. GRESHAM, CASUAL CO., MCB — I reenlisted because it's rough on the outside. If you didn't have a job when you first came into the Corps you're out of luck. In my opinion, life on the outside is harder than living in the Corps. I like my work in the Corps and I don't know what I would do if I got out.

PFC JOHN H. McDOWELL, CASUAL CO., MCB — Why did I re-enlist? Well, I guess it is because I just like the Marine Corps. Also, I like Camp Lejeune and that is what I requested when I reenlisted. On the outside, working conditions are not too good at this time so it seems the best bet to stay in the Corps.

PFC WOODROW OWENS, CASUAL CO., MCB — I have been out of the service for eight years. I reenlisted because things are rough on the outside. I served three and a half years in the Corps before and I liked it. The Corps is a good place to be right now. This time I think I'll stay in.

PFC JAMES P. DYE, CASUAL CO., MCB — I like the Marine Corps

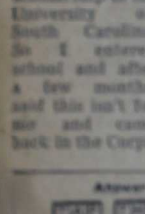

and everything that it stands for. I don't mind the military life or taking orders. Then, too, times seem to be pretty rough on the outside, so I'll just stay right where I am. I'm going to be a 30-year man.

SGT. EARL D. HICKAM, CASUAL CO., MCB — It's cold outside! No work for the average man. I was in the Corps three and a half years and after I got out I worked a while and got laid off, so I decided to come back in the Corps. This is really the life.

SGT. LEWIS C. ROBERTS, CASUAL CO., MCB — I had planned to play in the Marine Corps, but I was offered a scholarship to the University of South Carolina. So I entered school and after a few months, said this isn't for me and came back in the Corps.

Force Troops' 2nd Air Delivery Platoon Shows Air Drops Have Come Of Age

BY CAPT. MARTIN BOYLE

Getting there "firstest with the mostest" might well be the motto of Force Troops' 2nd Air Delivery platoon, the only fully equipped operational unit of its kind in the Marine Corps today.

Knowing that "drop it by air" is fast becoming the byword of hard-pressed combat commanders in need of critical supplies or equipment, the Force Troops' platoon has been forged into a highly specialized unit brimming with confidence that it can air-deliver almost anything at anytime regardless of terrain or the enemy situation.

Attached to 2nd Combat Service Group for administration, supply and operational control, the Air Delivery platoon is based at Camp Geiger and has its shops and parachute left in the old parachute training school at Camp Lejeune.

The platoon, two officers and 60 enlisted men, is commanded by 1st Lt. R. A. Hudman, one of the first marine paratroopers.

The Guadalcanal detachment was baptized under fire. During the first two months of operation, the detachment flew 29 combat supply missions in the face of heavy anti-aircraft fire while dropping more than 170,000 pounds of badly needed supplies to Allied forces in the Solomons.

Today's air deliverymen are a far cry from their predecessors. Every member of the platoon is a school-trained and qualified parachutist and a graduate of the Airborne Quartermaster course at Ft. Lee, Va. Their formal instruction is supplemented by a strenuous training schedule that includes practice drops at least once a week.

With the rapid development of air delivery, the Marine Corps has branched out into specialized tactics. By using modern fighter-type aircraft, the Corps has added the effective high-speed delivery to its repertoire. This technique, combined with the already developed light and heavy deliveries, has made the air delivery cycle complete.

Whatever the ground commander may request, whether it's small arms, heavy weapons, rations, medical supplies, jeeps, or three-quarter ton trucks, air delivery can utilize one or more of the three techniques to get it to him in a matter of hours.

Although considerable experimenting had been done, the true value of air delivery as a support agency didn't become fully recognized until Korea. Thousands of tons of supplies and equipment were air dropped during those bitter months when support of front line troops became a critical problem.

The records show that in one sustained operation Marine and Army air delivery sections dropped more than 1,200 tons of supplies to the 1st Division during its march from the Chosin reservoir to the sea.

BIG DROP—Capt. N. D. Lapointe, Sgt. A. S. Umphrey, and Capt. J. N. Daley, of Force Troops' 2nd Air Delivery platoon, make final adjustments on the suspension sling and tie-arm straps that will play an important part in safely air dropping a three-quarter ton truck during the air delivery demonstration at Camp Geiger (Official USMC Photo).

Snapping-In For Big Matches No Sn Say Southeastern Division Contend

Training for football may be rougher, but getting in for the Southeastern Division rifle and pistol matches for Lejeune at the end of this month is no snap either.

You can take the word of dozens of entrants who are now warming up for the big event at the Lejeune rifle range.

All shooters have to undergo six weeks of preliminary firing. During this time they also get 30 hours of instruction from top coaches.

They memorize match rules and regulations.

And they spend back-breaking hours getting down into position and snapping in. If you think you have it rough snapping in for qualification, you should take a gander at what these guys do.

Match positions are specifically defined and demonstrated. If a marksman fires a round in the sitting position and the referee notices that his ankles are touching the ground, he is automatically awarded a zero for that round.

So shooters work for hours at getting the proper position and holding it.

Then comes study of the use and proper analysis of the competition scorebook, effect of the wind and wind estimation, effect of light and temperature and duties of the coach in the coach and pupil.

As one master sergeant said, "The 30 hours of instruction are invaluable because they contain the information, the that up to now were kept in the ammo boxes of snipers and experts."

1st Lt. John W. Russell, commanding officer, Rifle Battalion, has been designated executive officer for the matches this year.

Colonel Russell is responsible for the coordination and conduct of the matches and for the 18 teams participating—including Sgt. D. Alley, the one-man team from Marine Barracks, Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn.

Rifleman fire the first of the matches April 27. The second round will be fired the following day. Match scores will be the total for both days.

Pistol shooters bang away at the preliminary round April 28 at the national match course for record April 29.

Awards will be presented at 30.

LIMBERING UP—These three deadeyes loosen up their muscles in preparation for the Southeastern Division Rifle and Pistol matches at Camp Lejeune April 27-30. Marines from throughout the Southeast are now for six weeks of preliminary firing and a 30-hour course of instruction. Above are, l-r, Sgt. David W. Alley, Marine Barracks, Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn.; TSGT. Talmadge B. Matson, Marine Air Reserve Training Center, Atlanta, Ga.; and Cpl. Frank H. T. Williams, U. S. Naval base, Key West, Fla. New Edition Of Sherrod's Tarawa Book To Benefit Children Of Division War Dead

Supply School Bn. To Commission 19 New Officers Apr. 6

Nineteen officer candidates, graduates of the 4th Special Supply Officers' course, will receive commissions as second lieutenants during formal ceremonies at Supply School Bn. April 6.

Brig. Gen. Henry R. Paige, assistant commanding general, 2nd Division, is scheduled to speak to the graduates and guests at the Montford Point theater at 11 a.m.

The 16-week special officers course provides instruction in all phases of Marine Corps supply for selected enlisted men.

Nils Callesen, a former marine technical sergeant, has been picked as honorman for the class, which began with 30 students.

A Tenth Anniversary edition of Robert Sherrod's book, "Tarawa—The Story of a Battle" will be published this month as a tribute to marines who lost their lives in the battle for the island.

Profits from the edition will lay the foundation for a fund which the 2nd Division association will use to award scholarships to deserving sons and daughters of the Division's dead.

Brig. Gen. David M. Shoup, who won the medal of honor on Tarawa, heads the Division's fund committee.

A feature of the new edition will be a foreword by famed correspondent Sherrod in which he sums up his reactions after a decade.

Another feature will be the thoughts "after ten years," of Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Lt. Gen. Julian C. Smith, Maj. Gen. Merritt A. Edson, General Shoup and others.

Copies are being offered for sale through 2nd Division battalion representatives.

Speeder Warned; Dies 4 Days Later In NY Auto Crash

A Camp Lejeune marine who was given a second chance on a speeding ticket last month was killed four days later in a head-on auto collision near Rhinebeck, N. Y.

Pfc Paul E. Spertzel, Hq. Co., H&S Bn., MCB, who got a warning on his first offense when he appeared in Traffic court here March 17, was killed and his companion, Pfc Robert L. McMaster, also of Hq. Co., seriously injured in the March 21 collision.

The civilian driver of the other auto was killed and his wife and child seriously injured.

Camp Traffic Officer 2nd Lt. Edward J. Chapman said the Spertzel auto was traveling on the wrong side of the highway when the crash came. He said the car "probably" was speeding because Spertzel was on his way back to the base after a long weekend.

Spertzel left here Friday, March 19, two days after his appearance in Traffic court. The accident came at 1 p.m. Sunday. Spertzel was due here at 7:30 a.m. Monday, March 22.

TRAFFIC PREDICTION

There was only one traffic fatality for March as against the three predicted by the Camp Provost Marshal's office.

- Short Rounds -

Dots And Dashes

U. S. Post Office mail trucks throughout the country will carry Marine recruiting posters during May . . . These recruiters will stop at nothing. Houston, Texas, citizens who phoned the town's special number for the correct time last month got, instead, a short commercial beginning: "Enlist in the Marine Corps" . . . Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has been quoted as saying reenlistment bonuses may be as high as $2,000 . . . A Cherry Point "Fury" jet broke through the sound barrier last week causing people there to rush outside to see what had exploded.

The Navy Relief Society is 50 years old this year . . . Brig. Gen. A. W. Kreiser Jr., commanding general of the 2nd Marine Air Wing has been awarded the Legion of Merit . . . This year's Parris Island "boot" rifle range record is 238. Pvt. James Harnett of Toledo, O., fired it last week. Previous high this year was 230 . . . A survivor of the accidental explosion of a Red Mortar shell in a 1st Division classroom says he's alive because he bent over to pick up a dropped pencil just as the blast came, killing six and injuring 30. The man sitting next to him was killed instantly. The survivor, Pfc Phillip F. Norris, was unscratched.

The ROK Marine Corps is the youngest, but second largest Marine Corps in the world. U.S.M.C. is largest, of course . . . Final Corps-wide drives for funds to complete the National Marine Corps memorial are slated this spring. Around $250,000 is needed for completion of the Iwo Jima statue which will be dedicated next Nov. 10 . . . Maj. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller has an article on amphibious operations on the front page of the Army Navy Air Force Journal for March 27 . . .

New Twist

Pfc Charles E. Sifuentes was released to inactive duty at Cherry Point almost three weeks ago, but he won't go home. He keeps hanging around.

In fact, he still retains his home in the married men's quarters at the air station.

Charley decided to stick around and give his buddies in Training Group 20 a hand with art work. Right now he's painting a sign marking the location of the training aids building.

How does he manage on no income?

His wife supports him.

He's married to Pfc Lorraine S. Sifuentes of Cherry Point's WM detachment. Since he was released, he has been his wife's legal dependent.

Mrs. Sifuentes will be released in a few days. Then both plan to head for their home in San Benito, Texas.

Pow Wow!

Maj. Gen. R. McC. Pate, commander of the 1st Division in Korea, recently sent for the sergeants major of all battalions and regiments in the division.

When the 30 top enlisted men were assembled, General Pate said:

"It has come to my attention that too many unfounded rumors and gripes are circulating within this command. I hope these briefings will create a closer harmony and broader understanding of policy."

Then he said he wanted the men to air their views.

They did.

More briefings are planned for the future.

CAMP GEIGER SERVICES
Protestant church services will be held at the Camp Geiger Trailer Park Community Bldg. at 10 a.m. Sunday. Chaplain Malcolm W. Graham will be in charge of services.

A loaf o' bread, a jug of wine,
For Omar Khayyam they were fine.
Today the squeal of screaming brakes
Would make him quake and jug forsake.

HOW TO BUILD AND NOT DESTROY

That which requires long to build can be destroyed in a moment. This is a sobering thought and ought to teach us caution. A young man is brought up by his parents at great expense, the state spends money and of dollars educating him and protecting him from fire and the federal government pays him while spending more money training him to defend his country. After all this is spent, he drinks some beer, becomes intoxicated and steps in front of an automobile, or perhaps he rides with a drunken driver. The result is a crash and he is killed.

The Commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," includes only one meaning that we should not kill ourselves by acts of foolishness.

One should not hear of the terrible carnage on our high seas, death toll of which is higher than on our battle fields, without thinking of the wicked carelessness that brings much of it about. For human life is strong in the heart of every man that truly loves life. Man is made in the image of God and we dare not profane that image by stupid slaughter even though it is unintentional and even though ourselves should be the only direct victims of our carelessness.

A child might practically as well be killed as to be brought up by people who hate and despise him. To be treated with contempt by others kills all ambition in a man and practically destroys his life. Unless he can rise above it to trust in God as the Psalm says, "My father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will be my father." Christ taught that the life, including the whole personality and soul, of even a little child is infinitely precious in the sight of God.

When a whole family is destroyed by one drunken driver, the case of a man who is a murderer at heart. When on the other hand a life is saved by one man who dies protecting another, we can see the case of a person in whom the likeness to God shines forth.

studied color technique and m- bined it with a three-year mercial art course.

When her family moved to Los Angeles in 1948, Jean, little realiz- ing that photography could be more than a hobby for her, went to work at a bank.

It was her brother, John Artman, a marine stationed at Camp Pendle- ton, who talked Jean into enlisting in the Marine Corps in 1952. She left the West Coast for Parris Is- land, and, after boot training, was astonished to find herself assigned to the field of photography.

She reported to Lejeune and the Camp Photo lab in November, 1952, where she worked in the processing room. She developed films, printed them and made ID cards.

When more male photographers were transferred away or discharg- ed, Jean emerged from the dark room into the job of news photog- rapher.

The shot of the victorious Women Marine cagers after the last Cherry Point basketball game here was taken by Jean, as well as most of the WM basket- ball pictures this season.

She says her biggest assignment of the year was the beauty contest at Wilmington, where she photo- graphed lovelies chosen to reign in the Azalea Festival.

Although she plans to enter nursing following her discharge, it's a safe bet that this "shutterbug" will never really desert the photo fold.

Chronopoulos Hurls 3-Hitter To Defeat N. Carolina 6-0

Camp Lejeune handed the University of North Carolina a 6-0 baseball defeat here Saturday.

Sparked by the brilliant three-hit pitching of right-hander Charles Chronopoulos, the Marines bombed Carolina pitcher Maultsby for seven hits.

The Marines started the ball rolling in the second inning. Bill Pope walked, Dave Petros singled and after Ralph Russo walked, Pope scurried home with Lejeune's first run on Ed Vetten's infield out.

The Leathernecks also got a run in the fifth, sixth and seventh, and twice in the eighth to wrap up the game.

With his teammates scoring consistently and playing errorless ball, Chronopoulos was untouchable. Despite the high wind and unseasonable chill, Lejeune's ace struck out nine while only walking four.

North Carolina got one hit in the second inning and two in the third, but in the next six innings were only able to get two men to first base via bases on balls.

Thomas Perez, Lejeune centerfielder, made the play of the season when he performed a tumbling shoestring catch of a low liner off the bat of Carolina's rightfielder Keller.

Kenneth Ranier, Lejeune shortstop, and Dave Petros, leftfielder, swung the big bats for Lejeune. Both collected two hits and combined to drive in four runs.

Camp Lejeune's diamondmen now have a three and two record. Last week the Marines split a four-game series with Springfield college.

Too Old To Play? Never! Says SSgt. With League Plans

Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself has said—"What a beautiful day for a ball game?"

Probably many have said it but few have done anything about it because they couldn't tear themselves away from that soft-cushion chair.

Now someone has decided to take action. He is SSgt. James J. Oggerino of the Camp Information section. He wants to start an "old man's athletic league."

The only requirement for joining is that you must be over 40 years young. If you like baseball and think you don't have enough steam for a run to first base, wheel chairs will be available, says Sgt. Oggerino. And crutches will be placed along the base paths in case of dire emergency.

The main purpose of the league is fun and to show the young 'uns they're not the only ones with red blood in their veins.

Rules for the various games will be established when the "wheel chair brigade" gets together.

If interested, you can contact Sgt. Oggerino at 7-5821.

Local WM's Lose In Cage Tourney

Camp Lejeune's Women Marines lost the All-Marine Basketball championship to Camp Pendleton in a two out of three tournament last week at Ocean-side, Calif.

The locals scored a near-win in the initial game with the Westerners, and led by a good margin at the end of the half, but the opponents poured on the steam to win the clash 46-42.

Hoping to even the match, Lejeune entered the second game, only to again meet defeat at the hands of Camp Pendleton's WM's 36-30 Thursday.

The de-throned cagers, who still hold the East Coast crown, returned here Monday.

Lejeune, Cherry Pt. Pugs Defend Fleet Title In Norfolk

The Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, boxing squad leaves tomorrow for Norfolk, Va., where they will defend their Atlantic Fleet title in bouts starting Monday night.

The 19-man squad is composed of 15 boxers from Camp Lejeune and four from Cherry Point.

The team, coached by Lejeune's 2nd Lt. Mike Capriano Jr., is one of the strongest representatives FMF has had in recent years for this always-tough Fleet tourney. The Marines will be led into battle by Heavyweight Bud House, Light Heavyweight Richie Hill, Light Middleweight Joe Davis, and Light Welterweight Nick LaRosa, all of whom won titles in the recent MAISAC (Middle Atlantic Inter-Service Athletic Conference) championships.

Hill also won the Eastern Golden Gloves crown in New York's Madison Square Garden last month and Davis went to the finals in the same tournament before being defeated.

The Cherry Point members are Harold Jackson, Howard Gosser, Ernest Dawson and Leonard Baynard.

The complete roster lists: heavyweights—Bud House, Lewis Morgan; light heavyweights—Richie Hill, Duke Belton; middleweights—Joe Davis; welterweights—Nick LaRosa, Ernest Dawson, Walt Byars; lightweights—Dave Gonsalves, Howard Gosser; featherweights—Bob Rigby, Harold Jackson, Johnny Garcia, Basil Blackson; bantamweight—Danny Daniels; flyweight—Whitey Brockley.

Lejeune Drops Heartbreaker To Conn. 8-6 In 10 Innings

Camp Lejeune's diamondmen blew a two-run seventh inning to drop a heart-breaking 10-inning game to the University of Connecticut.

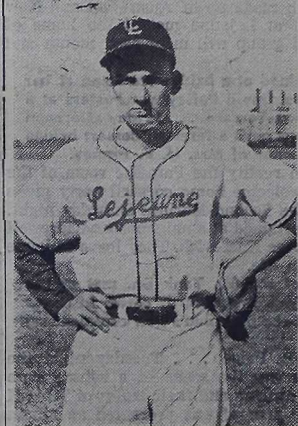

The wet ground caused an hour's delay in the ball game and both managers agreed to terminate after seven innings.

Diamondmen Elect Infielder Mitchell Captain Of Squad

Second Baseman Farrell J. Mitchell Thursday was elected captain of the 1954 Camp Baseball team.

The 21-year-old second lieutenant makes his home in Jacksonville, Ill., and before entering the Corps graduated from Western Illinois college.

This is Mitchell's first year in service ball. While at college he played infield positions and held a respectable four-year batting average of .326.

Before entering Officers' Basic school at Quantico in March, 1953, Mitchell played professional ball in Baton Rouge, La., and Ozark, Ark.

The lieutenant is attached to Weapons Co., 8th Bn., Eighth Marines.

On a questionnaire asking "What is the principal contribution of the automobile age?" the following answer was given by a college student: "It has practically stopped horse stealing."

CHAMP—"Duke," a rugged two-year-old boxer poses politely with his owner, Capt. C. Ward, of MCAF, New River, after winning a pair of prize ribbons at his debut last week at Wilmington's Hano-ver Kennel club show. "Duke," who copped a blue ribbon for "Best Winner" in the novice class, was handled by MSgt. A. W. Faby, of Force Troop's 8th Eng. Bn. (Official USMC Photo).

Lejeune led going into the eighth after the Huskies had failed to tallies across in their seventh, but the Leathernecks had right back to the bottom of the eighth and tie the ball game.

In the ninth both teams were down in order, but the Marines handled the game.

Singles by Bob Fiorita coupled with a few uncooked pitches uncorked by Lejeune's pitcher.

After today's loss, the Huskies will be in the bottom of the ninth from Saturday through Sunday.

er Clyde Monroe gave the boys the winning run in the ninth. Until the disaster, Lejeune had led by the big bats of all.

Freeman Roof, who started pitcher Lejeune up six hits and eight runs, was relieved in the ninth.

Mike Ben started on for Connecticut, but hammered for eighth to Shelly Cantor, who credited with the win.

Val Fiorita was the day for the Huskies. Full leftfielders drove in and went four for four to the plate.

This game was the series of four for the and gives Lejeune a record of three wins and losses.

Thursday the teams played a morning-afternoon double header to make up the contest that was rained out Tuesday.

In the seven-inning morning tilt the big bats of Springfield were too much for three Lejeune pitchers. The college boys pounded out 11 hits and 11 runs to swamp Lejeune 11-5.

Lejeune collected nine hits including an inside the park homerun by Second Baseman Farrell Mitchell, but their inability to hit with men on base gave Springfield the edge.

The afternoon contest looked like a duplication of the morning game, for when the dust cleared after three innings of play Springfield led 9-0. That looked like a very respectable lead to everybody but the Lejeune team.

Spurred on by the hitting and three-hit relief pitching of Stan Horvatin the team began to peck away at the lead.

They picked up a run in the fourth; sent two pitchers to the showers, 12 men to bat and six runs across in the sixth, and then wrapped up the game in the seventh with four more runs.

On the pitching front Chuck Chronopoulos and Stan Horvatin shows signs of brilliancy, and Clyde Monroe may be the team's fireman. Monroe and Horvatin were winning pitchers.

The colonel's fishing boat was found capsized at approximately 7 a.m. the next morning.

While dragging crews combed the river, helicopters from the Peterfield Point air facility made constant reconnaissance runs over the broad reaches of New river and infantrymen made a search of the beach areas.

Born September 29, 1914, Colonel Ellis graduated from Sacramento High school in 1932, and was an economics major in the 1937 graduating class of the University of California.

Colonel Ellis entered the Marine Corps in 1938 as a naval aviation cadet. He received his commission as a Marine pilot after completing flight training at Pensacola, Fla.

During World War II Colonel Ellis saw air action in the battles of Midway, Guadalcanal and the Russell islands. After 22 months overseas, he was returned to the Marine Corps Air Station at Mojave, Calif., where he trained Fighter Squadron 451 as its commanding officer. He returned to the war in the Pacific aboard the USS Bunker Hill, and led the first air raid on Japanese soil from that carrier.

Colonel Ellis was awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross and a gold star in lieu of a second for his distinguished services during that period. He also received the Air Medal with a gold star in lieu of a second.

He is survived by his wife, Retha Christy Ellis, MOQ 2111, Camp Lejeune, and his two children, Christy Grau, seven, and Susan Ann, five.

Colonel Ellis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Ellis, live in Sacramento, Calif.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. on April 6 at the Fort Myer chapel, Arlington, Va., followed by interment at Arlington National cemetery.

You forgot to renew your Leatherneck subscription. (April Fool!)

Ladies, ladies, please—that insect with the pincers on its tail-end mentioned last week is not a scorpion or an eardigger! Legend says they crawl in your ears, but expert "buggers" have absolved them of all guilt. The right name for these little cricket-like fellows must have something to do with the legend. They are properly called "Earwigs." They never get larger than three-fourths of an inch and are quite harmless. The pincers are apparently of no other use than to assist in folding their wings.

Not entirely unexpected, but several days ahead of schedule, comes the news that catches of channel bass off Cape Hatteras and Atlantic have been made. At Hatteras, a retired Coast Guardsman, Lafayette Midgett, assisted a 43-and-a-half pounder in scaling the beach. A dozen little bass in the eight-to 10-pound range were taken at Atlantic. All this was 10 days ago. They must be in Onslow waters by now . . .

The trout should be back in school(s) again too . . . The sea-hawk plug will fool trout and puppy drum. While you bait-cast for trout in the waterway at Snead's Ferry, the family can enjoy themselves catching a variety of shrimp-biting fish. At Snead's Ferry the crabbing is excellent too.

Fly Fishing?

Let's not put away those fly rods while you're stationed here. There's a lot of fish that will take a streamer fly. Get out and enjoy the fun. However, better back that fly line with an extra 100 yards of line—even the big channels will take a fly.

Here's a clue for you Sunday fishermen who cancel a fishing trip for lack of bait. Most old salts don't know it, but a piece of Swiss cheese trimmed to minnow shape will catch catfish and carp where other baits fail.

If you really want to attract birds and need plans to build a bird house or feeder, drop a short note to the Government Printing office, Division of Public Documents, Washington 25, D. C. Enclose 20 cents and a request for "Homes for Birds," catalog no. 11.72:14 and "Attracting Birds," Catalog no. 11.72:1/2.

Sea Food Cooking

Crabs don't have to be alive when you cook them. However, you can be assured of their freshness if they are alive. Sea food spoils quickly, but crabs of an afternoon's catch that die on the way home will be as good as those boiled to death.

Gen. Puller

eral Puller won his first Navy Cross. Five years later, also in Nicaragua, he won a second Navy Cross for heroism against the bandits.

Lejeune will not be new to General Puller. When Camp Geiger was just "Tent Camp" he took command in September, 1941, of the 1st Bn., Seventh Marines, of the then fledgling 1st Division.

Three World War II campaigns, Guadalcanal, Cape Gloucester and Peleliu, and two Navy Crosses later (for heroism on the 'Canal and Gloucester), General Puller returned to Lejeune in January, 1945, as executive officer, and then commanding officer of the Infantry Training regiment here. His battle record gained new luster in Korea where, he won an unprecedented fifth Navy Cross and the stars of a brigadier general.

His citation reads: "For extraordinary heroism as commanding officer of the 1st Marine Division, in action against enemy aggressor forces in the vicinity of Koto-ri, Korea, from 5 to 10 December, 1950. Fighting continuously in sub-zero weather against a vastly outnumbering hostile force, Colonel Puller drove off repeated and fanatical enemy attacks upon his Regimental defense sector . . .

Although the area was covered by grazing machine gun fire and intense artillery and mortar fire, he coolly moved among his troops . . .

After his promotion to brigadier, General Puller served as assistant commander of the 1st Division. While Lt. Gen. O. P. Smith assumed temporary command of the Ninth Army Corps, General Puller acted as commanding general of the division.

In May, 1951, General Puller returned to the States and took command of the newly-activated Third Marine Brigade. When the Brigade was redesignated the 3rd Division, General Puller became assistant division commander. He assumed his present command in June, 1952, and was promoted to the two-star rank of major general last fall.

A native of West Point, Va., General Puller is married to Mrs. Virginia Evans Puller. They have a son, Lewis B. Jr., and two daughters, Virginia and Martha.

Hillbillies Coming To Camp Theater

Lovers of foot-stomping music, stand by! Dempsey Watts and his Carolina Hillbillies are coming to the Camp theater April 7 for two shows.

They will play the first one from 6 to 8 p.m. and the second from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Watts, formerly a member of the cast of the "Grand Ole Opry," will bring a big troupe of entertainers with him to provide comedy and plenty of "folk" music.

Now starring daily on radio station WMFD, Wilmington, the group features solo numbers, duets and trios and will do many of the current hillbilly favorites.

"Africa Screams," with Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, slated for the theater that night, will not be shown.

MIDWAY MOVIE

Tony Pastor is the latest addition to the list of big name bands playing at Marston Pavilion this year.

Pastor brings his group here April 15. He will play the usual schedule, a show at the Camp theater from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and a dance at the Pavilion from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Tony is noted as a singer and as an expert saxman. He got his first chance to sing with the Vincent Lopez band. However, it was

TONY PASTOR

Artie Shaw who gave him a chance to arrange, the first step on the road toward organizing a band of his own. One of Pastor's arrangements for Shaw was "Indian Love Call," the record of which sold over a million copies.

At present the band has been appearing on TV with the Perry Como show, and the Cavalcade of Bands.

Posthumous Dependents' Care Available Through New Servicemen's Annuity Plan

(This is the first in a series of three articles explaining the benefits of the Serviceman's Annuity Plan.)

Members of the Armed Forces and reserve units on active duty or in a retired status now can obtain a Service insurance plan which will provide a steady income for their dependents after retirement and death.

The insurance plan—known as the Serviceman's Annuity Plan—becomes effective Nov. 1, 1953, and is open to all members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and their Reserves, the National Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Public Health Service. Members may be of any rank—commissioned or enlisted.

Many servicemen will have to apply before April 30, 1954, to be eligible.

The idea behind the plan is to permit a retired serviceman to provide for his dependents after his death by setting aside a percentage of his retirement pay.

Since the issue is of importance to anyone who intends to draw retirement pay from the services, AFPS has obtained a list of the most asked questions and answers:

1)—What is the Serviceman's Annuity Plan?

A)—It is a plan which allows a member of the uniformed services to give up voluntarily and under certain conditions a part of his monthly retired pay in order to provide a steady income—an annuity—for certain dependents after his death. It is not compulsory.

2)—Who will benefit if I join the plan?

A)—You can arrange for payments to continue in the event you retire before your death. They can go to:

Your wife or husband at the time of your death, if that person is your lawful widow or widower when you die.

Your children (including stepchildren and adopted children) if they are living, under 18 years old and not married at the time of your retirement. (You also can provide for children over 18 if they cannot support themselves because of some physical or mental defect that began prior to their 18th birthday.)

You cannot arrange for payments to other persons such as parents, relatives besides your wife and children, friends, or children born or adopted after you retire. If you have no dependents now, but think you may have when you retire, you can join under a special arrangement (AFPS).

Open Air Movies To Open Tonight

Check this before dashing out to the cinema.

You can see movies under the stars at the Officers Mess outdoor movie and the one adjacent to Goettge Memorial field house commencing at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

The one at the field house takes the place of the Fifth Area movie in Bldg. 500 which ended operations last night. It will be open during the summer only when inclement weather drowns out the field house show.

The outdoor movies will remain open until chilly weather returns next fall, except for a 15-day break from April 15 to April 30. During that time the field house movie will be closed because of TAGLEX maneuvers here.

This Week's Movie Review

TENNESSEE CHAMP (2 Bells)

Dewey Martin is a deacon's son who believes he's murdered a man. For some reason he decides to become a boxer. Keenan Wynn shows him how. Martin runs into the man he thinks he's killed, in the ring. Coincidental, huh? Shelley Winters does a capable job as Wynn's wife.

RAILS INTO LARAMIE (2 Bells)

John Payne, Mari Blanchard and Dan Durvey star in a newly-released Technicolor western about railroad construction. No further information available.

FIGHTING MAN OF THE PLAINS (2 Bells)

Guess who? Yes, it's the man of the plains, Randolph Scott, appearing on the screen for the third time this week. Need we say more? One short: "Fox and Hounds."

CEASE FIRE (4 Bells)

This is an excellent war film that uses real soldiers chosen from a film company and doing their specialized jobs in the actual areas of combat. The story is about a patrol sent out to investigate the stretch of Red forces on a certain mountain top in Korea. The complete naturalness of the players adds to the picture's realistic approach. News and one short: "Bugs and Thugs."

BELLE OF NEW YORK (3 Bells)

Fred Astaire and Elaine DeKooning their way through another Technicolor musical. No further information is available on the plot of the story. However, entertainment is first in a musical, and Fred and Elaine are veteran performers. One short: "They Were Champions."

MOGAMBO (3 Bells)

Clark Gable plays a handsome wild animal hunter who captures the heart of two beautiful women. He is attracted to Grace Kelly who is attracted to him. The problem is how to explain the situation to Grace's naive husband, Ava. In the meantime is battling to regain the picture. The picture is not noted for dramatic quality, but it combines the excitement and colorful pageantry of previous African movies with an excellent cast. One short: "Beeline Frameup."

WITHOUT RESERVATION (2 Bells)

This is an oldie. It is comedy starring Claudette Colbert. You should find it worth seeing, considering the past performances of Miss Colbert. News, or short "Arabian In The Rockies."

DRAGONFLY SQUADRON (2 Bells)

This is a war drama starring John Hodiak and Barbara Britton. Hodiak, an Air Force major, is sent to South Korea to speed up Dragonfly Squadron's flight training program. The players gives convincing performances, but the action scenes, some of which are taken from actual combat, outshine the story. One short: "Child."

CORONER CREEK (2 Bells)

This is a hard bitten little horse opera about revenge and counter revenge. It stars Randolph Scott at his best. In the course of events old Randy is held down and his gun hand is methodically smashed until all bones are broken. But don't get shook. A little later Scott catches up with the guy that did it and gives him the same treatment. In spite of all this, this re-release is better than average. It's in color.

AFRICA SCREAMS (1 Bell)

Africa screams while the audience snores. The usual Bud Abbott and Lou Costello slapstick comedy. One short: "Fight Day 12th."
