HAIL AND FAREWELL—Brig. Gen. Robert J. Straub, former Marine Corps Base chief of staff, receives bright new stars of rank at a ceremony. Maj. Gen. Henry D. Gen. Straub Bids Farewell To Corps After 31 Years

A colorful Marine Corps career which included banditchasing in South America and the fierce battle for Saipan, was brought to a close at the Camp parade ground Tuesday morning when Brig. Gen. Robert J. Straub was honored upon his retirement after 31 years of service.

The twin guns in front of Bldg. 1 boomed out a farewell salute and Marine Corps Base and 2nd Division troops passed in review.

General Straub, who was Marine Corps Base chief of staff until relieved four weeks ago by Col. Paul Drake, was promoted to his one-star rank Tuesday by virtue of being specially commended for performance of duty in combat.

He was awarded the Legion of Merit twice for World II service with the 2nd Marine Brigade, Tactical Group I and the 2nd Di-

Sunday marks the end of the 1954 Navy Relief drive, making this payday the last opportunity for local marines to contribute to the fund.

The current drive, which already has featured one of the most successful Navy Relief carnivals ever held here, began May 4. Proceeds will go to the Camp Lejeune Auxiliary of the Navy Relief Society, a non-profit organization servicing naval personnel and their dependents.

Contributions may be made to unit representatives or the Navy Relief office, Bldg. 41.

Eleven Marine Reserve units from six Southeastern states will arrive this weekend as the vanguard of Reserves who will train here this summer.

Eighty-four units, including six Woman Marine platoons, will undergo rigorous work and schooling under the tutelage of Marine Corps Base, 2nd Division, and Force Troops outfits. The Reserve training program is expected to wind up in August.

Privates first class and corporals in all occupational fields with specified minimum composite scores now may be promoted to the next higher rank according to the following schedule:

Pfc's with minimum score 112 and corporals with minimum score 125 may be promoted between May 27 and June 10. Pfc's with scores of 100 or better and corporals with scores of at least 116 may be promoted between June 15 and June 30.

Dates of rank will be the first day of the appropriate month.

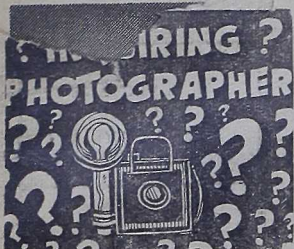

Marines appointed must be authorized the MOS appropriate to the next higher grade. Persons in service schools who have a basic MOS may be promoted if, in the opinion of the CO, they will be qualified for correct MOS after graduation.

VA REPRESENTATIVE

Ernest Elliott, Veterans Administration representative from New Bern will be in the Camp Education office for consultations June 8. Mr. David Pemberton, VA representative from Wilmington, will be available at the office June 22.

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT THE NEW RULING THAT GRADUATES WILL COME OUT AS PRIVATES INSTEAD OF PFC'S?

PFC MARCEL BOISSE, SER. CO., 8TH TANK BN. — I wouldn't want to come out of boot camp a private and I don't imagine anyone else would want to. No, I definitely don't think they should come out of boot camp a private. Let them have the stripe.

CPL. WILLIE UNDERWOOD, 2ND BN., 2ND MARINES — It's about the best idea I've heard in a long time. Privates should be in at least six months because they don't know enough about the Corps in the little time they spend in boot camp. A little more time in rank will teach them some of what they need to know.

PFC MARCEL ROUX, SER. CO., 8TH TANK BN. — I can't see why they change it at all. After all, men who get through boot camp deserve a stripe. What I mean is, if they can make it through boot camp and are squared away, then let them have the stripe.

If not, then another private should come out of boot camp.

CPL. JAMES MESSER, HQ. CO., H&S BN., MCB — I think it's a good idea. That's the way it should be, just like the old Corps. When a fellow is in grade for six months or more he learns to know the meaning of even one stripe. It will also make a private first class feel as though his stripe means something.

PFC ROBERT WHITE SER. CO., 8TH TANK BN. — Yes, I think they should come out of boot camp a private. If that is the case, they will work harder to make the grade of a private first class and it will mean something to them. Besides, they would try harder to make the rate than if they came out with a stripe and tried for two.

Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, for whom this base is named, was named Commandant of the Marine Corps on July 1, 1920. He served until 1929, when he retired and became superintendent of Virginia Military Institute.

New Re-Up Bonus Plan To Pay By Grade-Hitch Time

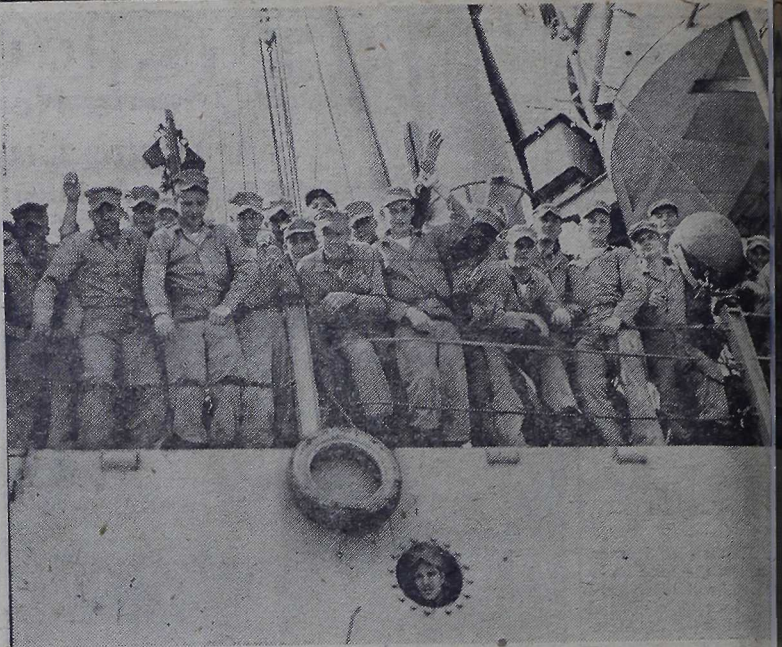

A new reenlistment bonus plan linking the allowance to grade as well as to the length of the new enlistment was sent to Congress last week.

Sole revision made by the Bureau of the Budget was to exclude payments to personnel who reenlist during recruit training—with the idea of eliminating from the plan draftees and Reservists who ship over soon after going on active duty.

The plan would pay the largest sums for first reenlistments for which a man would receive 30 days base pay for each year of the new term. E-1's would be limited to 20 days pay.

For a second reenlistment the bonus would be 20 days pay for each year for E-3's and above. Third reenlistees would get 10 days pay for E-4 and above. For subsequent reenlistments the bonus would be five days pay for each additional year.

Career men could choose between the new plan and the present one.

New Control System

Newly-Returned 1st Bn. Makes Med Cruise History

Members of the 1st Bn., Eighth Marines (Reinf.) returned last week from the Mediterranean, where they took part in European maneuvers under a new operational control system.

The semi-historic system for bringing marines into play during combat action was used in three amphibious landings in which the battalion took part: Turkish Sky I, Hellenic Sky I and Italic Sky I.

During the operations the battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. Vernon H. Broertjes, worked with Turkish, Greek and Italian troops, under the direction of European officers.

All orders for each operation were handed down from NATO's Paris headquarters and relayed through a JOC—Joint Operations Center—to the troops.

The procedure for the allied units was the same in each operation. The "enemy" was contacted before the marines were committed. The reinforced battalion was ordered to land on the beach in assault waves, then to work with friendly forces to overrun the aggressor units.

In addition to the many tried to landings, the battalion sailed with the Sixth Fleet's two all-Marine motor divisions in Mediterranean beaches.

More than 1,700 men of the battalion landed in the City and French crik from four ships of the command by New Cret (Basket Weaver) Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., commanding general, met the returning with Col. A. A. Van der Col. DeWolf Schaal, ment's former CO, and band.

19,000 To One Ratio Doesn't Shake Pfc Betty Murray, Divvy's Only Gal

Pfc Betty Murray of the WM Co., is sometimes accused of "snowing" people when she tells them she's "in the Division." They shake their heads and click their tongues.

But it's true. Betty is the pert miss who works in 2nd Division headquarters, Bldg. 2, and her arrival there tilted the statistical odds to approximately 19,000 to one in the division.

"No woman's land," doesn't bother Betty, but she admits that she was surprised at being assigned to the job of commanding general's stenographer.

"I've learned an awful lot about men on this job," she declares.

Betty is billeted in WM Co. with the rest of the women marines because there are no facilities for women in the Division. She rides to work via staff car or jeep.

She gets a lot of teasing about working with 19,000 men, but Betty says she's treated "just like a queen."

The Blue Ridge parkway and the Great Smoky Mountains National park, which converge in North Carolina, attracted more than 6,000,000 visitors in 1953.

General Gets New Post On Birthday

Maj. Gen. James P. Riseley arrived at Camp Giftu on his birthday, May 7, to take command of Provisional Corps, Japan and the 3rd Division.

The General inspected a Headquarters Bn. honor guard after a welcome from his predecessor, Maj. Gen. Robert H. Pepper, now commander of the 1st Division in Korea, and a committee including Assistant 3rd Division Commander Brig. Gen. Thomas G. McFarland and Division and Provisional Corps staff officers.

Since July, 1951, General Riseley has been chief of staff, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico; commander of the 1st Provisional Marine Air-Ground Task Force, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii, and deputy commander, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton.

pays to read the GLOBE! Capt. Ray W. Settle ran across an old friend that way. He was reading the March 25th issue when he saw a picture of several Korean Marines. One of them was Pfc Khang Koo Yoel, who was in Chinhae, Korea, when Captain Settle saw him last. Captain Settle and Pfc Khang became friends while both of them were serving at the Korean Marine Corps Schools at Chinhae. In Settle was an advisor to the commanding officer of the school, while Pfc Khang was an interpreter for the U. S. Advisory Group. When Pfc "Johnny" Khang came to the Advisory Group he was used as a house-boy. Capt. Settle became acquainted with him. Johnny tried to learn more English. During the 11 months he worked at the school they became close friends. When Captain Settle returned to the States in December, 1953, he came Division Recruiting officer. Pfc Khang followed him in January. Johnny is one of the group of Korean Marines serving the Engineer School Bn. at Courthouse Bay. When he finishes his training he will return to Chinhae and the Korean Marine Corps Schools.

Lejeune CWO Drowns Near Upstate City

A Camp Lejeune warrant officer was drowned Saturday when a canoe in which he was riding overturned in Deep river near Carthage, N. C.

CWO John Daniel Hamilton, 34, a supply officer at Peterfield Point, the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, lost his life when he was unable to swim to shore after the craft went over, according to his brother, Sam, of Guilford, N. C., who was with him at the time.

Hamilton said his brother, an “expert” swimmer, struck out for the river bank leaving him clinging to the boat. He said the officer must have been seized with cramps or a heart attack.

The water, he added, was “very cold,” and Hamilton was wearing heavy marine boots.

Coroner Ralph G. Steed rendered a verdict of accidental drowning and said no inquest would be held.

A veteran of 16 years as a marine, Warrant Officer Hamilton saw service in the Pacific during World War II and served in Korea. He is survived by his wife, three brothers and four sisters.

Gen. Pate Leaves 1st Divvy Command

Maj. Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, leader of the 1st Division for the past 11 months, has turned over his command to Maj. Gen. R. H. Pepper, former commander of the 3rd Division in Japan. Change-of-command ceremonies were held before a provisional regimental parade and review at the Division's new athletic field.

On hand for the ceremony, along with representatives of every unit in the Division, were the commanding general and color guard of the Korean Marine Corps Brigade.

Gen. Pate, in his farewell address, paid tribute to his troops, citing their accomplishments during the time he served with them—from the final bitter days of fighting to the present intensive spring training schedule. “Through it all,” he said, “you’ve been magnificent.”

General Pepper is slated to take command of the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, in August.

2nd AmTrac Sgt. Awarded Silver Star By IG; Bronze Star Goes To Captain

Brig. Gen. Gregon A. Williams, to present a Silver Star and a Bronze Star medal to two members of the 2nd AmTrac Bn.

Honored at a formal parade and review were Sgt. Edmund N. Marx and Capt. Robert E. Delaney.

Sgt. Marx got the Silver Star medal for action against the enemy in Korea last July, while serving as a tank commander. During an enemy assault he volunteered to assist in the recovery of two disabled tanks. After the tanks were towed to safety he used his own tank to inflict heavy damage on the attacking enemy.

When enemy infantry attempted to overrun his tank Sgt. Marx opened the hatch and “fearlessly exposed himself to enemy fire as he accurately threw hand grenades which completely routed the attackers.”

A native of Savannah, Ga., Sgt. Marx enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1950. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Marx of Savannah, were on hand to witness the ceremony.

Captain Delaney got the Bronze Star medal for his part in the evacuation of nine abandoned gasoline-laden trucks from an area being shelled by enemy fire in Korea.

He led the drivers back to the trucks and “fearlessly remained in an exposed position directing the evacuation of the trucks from the endangered area.”

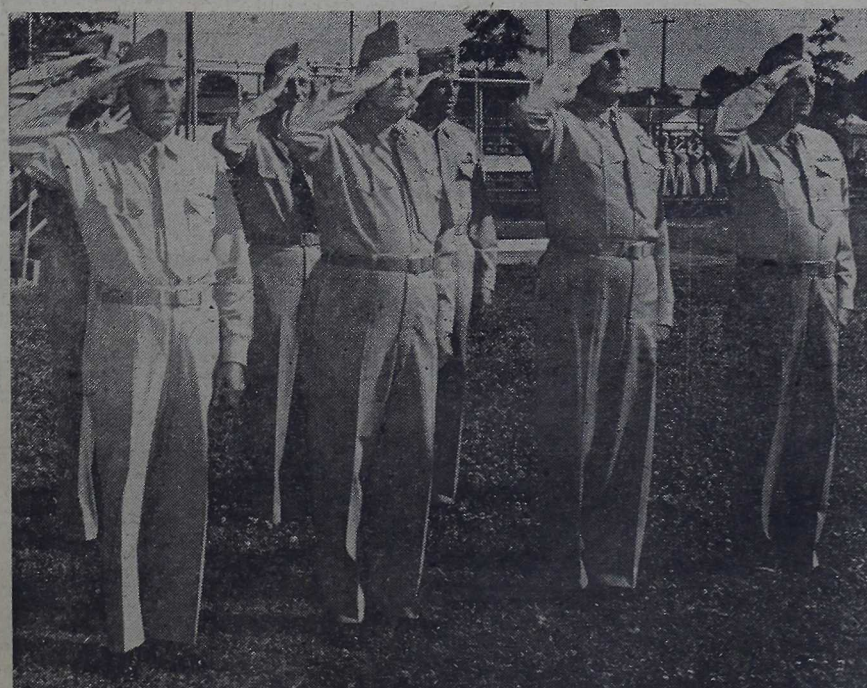

As the last truck was driven to safety the enemy barrage was stepped up and the captain was forced to remain in an exposed position until the rain of shells lifted.

A native of Sherburne Falls, Mass., and a graduate of Holy Cross, Captain Delaney presently serves as adjutant of “A” Co., of the AmTrac Bn.

Five Local Marines Finish MCI Study

The Marine Corps Institute has announced successful completion of MCI courses by the following local marines: 1st Lt. Kenneth R. Dunnivan, 2nd Motor Transport Bn., Practical Automotive Mechanics, and Sgt. Raymell J. Murphy, 1st Bn., Tenth Marines, Topographical Geology.

REVIEW—Brig. Gen. Robert J. Straub, left, salutes during an 11-gun salute rendered in his honor during ceremonies at the Camp parade ground last Tuesday morning. Gen. Fellers Retires July 1 After 36 Yrs.

Brig. Gen. William S. Fellers, director of the Staff of the Inter-American Defense Board, will retire July 1 after more than 36 years of service with the Corps. He will be promoted to the rank of major general upon retirement.

General Fellers was the first Marine officer to serve in Washington as director of that board. He will be relieved June 15 by Brig. Gen. Leonard B. Cresswell, who is stationed at Little Creek, Va., as commanding general of the Troop Training Unit, Atlantic.

General Cresswell will be succeeded by Brig. Gen. Matthew C. Horner, deputy president of the Joint Landing Force Board, Camp Lejeune (See page 1).

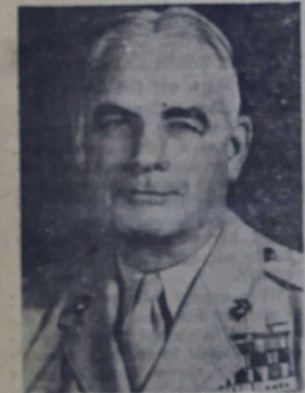

General Fellers enlisted as a private in December, 1917. He advanced to the rank of gunnery sergeant before he was commissioned a second lieutenant a year later.

After receiving his bars he served with the 1st Provisional Marine brigade at Haiti in January, 1919. He was promoted to first lieutenant while in the Caribbean.

From 1927 to 1930 he served in China as regimental operations officer with Sixth and Fourth Marines.

In 1930 he saw duty in Nicaragua with the Nicaraguan National Guard Detachment.

During World War II General Fellers won the Legion of Merit and Gold Star in lieu of a second.

GENERAL FELLERS

and Legion of Merit. The first award came while he was assistant chief of staff for Supply and Evacuation with the 1st Division during the Guadalcanal campaign. The second came while he was serving in the same capacity during the Cape Gloucester operation.

Returning to the Pacific in 1946, he became commanding officer, Marine Barracks, Naval Operating Base, Okinawa, a tour which lasted until May, 1947, when he assumed command of the Marine Barracks, U. S. Fleet Activities, Yokosuka, Japan.

General Fellers served as chief of staff, Troop Training Unit, Amphibious Training Command, Pacific, at Coronado, Calif., from July, 1948 to July, 1949.

At that time he was named to the rank of brigadier general and became commanding general of the Troop Training Unit.

He reported to Lejeune in 1951 as deputy Camp commander and remained in that position until May, 1953, when he was assigned to his present post.

House Committee Ups Works Funds

The Marine Corps Supply Depot at Albany, Ga., would be authorized $800,000 for the construction of security and maintenance facilities under the new Military Public Works bill approved last week by the House Armed Services committee.

At the same time, the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, was authorized $1,025,000 for utilities and cold storage facilities.

OPEN WIDE—"Reckless," a red-haired six-year-old filly, the mascot, pet and senior member of the Fifth Marines' Anti-Tank Co., receives her daily gum wash of saline solution administered by a Corpsman using a hydrometer borrowed from Motor Transport. 'Horse Marine'

Mascot 'Reckless' Bites Off More Than She Can Chew

BY SSGT. RICHARD R. SIMS

WITH THE 1ST DIVISION IN KOREA—"Reckless" lived up to her name—but her horsin' around gained her nothing but a loose denture.

Reckless is a red-haired, six-year-old-filly, the mascot, pet and senior member of the Fifth Marine's Anti-Tank Co.

The denture difficulty occurred when the mare attempted to vary her usual diet of unusual delicacies such as laundered undershirts, talcum powder (seasoned with the metal can, and a tasty brand of shaving cream (with the tube).

She tried sinking her molars into a clip of .30 caliber rifle ammo.

The resulting loose teeth was cause for great concern among Company leathernecks who called on their Navy doctor and hospital corpsman for prompt treatment to alleviate their pet's suffering.

Reckless now gets a gum wash of saline solution several times a day—administered by a corpsman using a hydrometer borrowed from motor transport. The syringe-type instrument is normally used to determine the alcohol content in vehicle radiators.

A real old-timer in the outfit, Reckless was purchased in 1950 during fierce fighting around Seoul. She was used to haul 75 mm ammunition by pack-saddle up to gun positions under heavy enemy fire. She demonstrated her versatility by navigating terrain impassable to jeeps and trucks.

The sleek, red-coated filly has since become the pride of the Anti-Tankers. She roams the company area like a large dog, poking her head into tents to see what's going on. Her constant "shadows" are a couple of dogs. She frequently tries to imitate her canine companions by sprawling in the sunshine on the parade ground with them—sound asleep.

"This horse has the strangest appetite I've ever seen," observed Capt. Andrew W. Kovach, the company commander, as he fed her an apple and a slice of bread and jelly. "I believe the men must be spoiling her" by feeding her candy and other junk.

"I agree," said another company officer coming out of the mess hall with a container of breakfast food and several doughnuts for the horse. "The troops sure spoil this nag."

"Oh, I don't know," demurred the unit supply sergeant. "I wouldn't say she ate anything unusual,"—as he fed her a handful of caramels still in their wrappings.

"And then there was the under-shirt incident," the company first sergeant recalled with a chuckle. "Reckless found it drying on a clothesline and decided to digest it. Caught in the act by the owner, she galloped around the parade ground in high gear, the shirt flapping from her mouth and an irate sergeant right on her heels!"

"But seriously," he concluded—as he fed her a box of corn flakes, "she's getting too fat. These people feed her too much."

CHECK BASE TAGS

Base tags faded? Are they unreadable at a distance? Are they securely fastened where they may be seen?

Save yourself an extra trip to Bldg. 58, and check your tags. It takes time to get new ones after one has been lost.

- Short Rounds -

The Navy Times this week verified reports that the 2nd Wing will be moved from Miami to Beaufort, S. C., early in 1954. The House Armed Services committee has authorized $11,000,000 a five-year buildup of the Beaufort base. The word is that the base won't be abandoned but will be maintained for Navy flight training. Miami has been one of the best liberty towns ever had. Beaufort is just across the river from Parris Island.

You can tell school is about to let out. Kids ran a car G.I. cans up on the flag pole at the Camp school last week, it told. . . . The marker on the grave of Sir Dusty of Dreadnought front of Goettge Memorial field house is broken loose. The base and is leaning at a 45-degree angle. Sir Dusty, a bulldog Camp mascot for several years until his death in 1952, was finally caught up with the "Phantom of the Camp" these some time members of the staff heard a strange bumping echoing through the building. Nobody could discover from it came. Crews were called in from Camp maintenance to the structure, all to no avail. Then somebody discovered the door bumping in the wind and echoing up through the organ.

Speaking of movies, John Wayne will be here in "Sands Of Two Jims" from June 14 to June 29. The movie is being shown in connection with the National Marine Memorial drive here. . . . How many Marine movies can you think of? There was "Wake Island," "Shores Of Tripoli," "Fride Of The Marines," "What Price Glory," "Flying Leathernecks," "Guadalcanal Diary," and probably many more. Next to come will be "Battle Cry." Still on movies: The Navy's policy on Cinemascope is to wait and make sure the wide screen process is the one that will last. Even now Paramount is bringing out a new gimmick it calls Vista-Vision.

Military Men

"What eye chair"

Have you noticed that "Debra" is becoming one of the popular names for girl babies? There's only one in the Marine Club but the editors have noticed that the name has been coming ahead of Sally, Jean, Betty and Ann for many months. Nice name, too. . . . Father's Day is June 20. Don't forget. 3rd Division men in Japan are being fitted for M9A1 gas masks. To insure a good fit, all hands will enter the gas chamber.

Bob Parker, a corpsman at Bldg. 15, stopped in at the mess hall last week to show us the big snapping turtle he picked up at Wagram Island, Colombia. . . . One of our favorite people is the little blonde waitress in the Hadnot Point Hostess house dining room at night. . . . Mrs. A. might try. Cherry Point had a casting contest a couple of weeks ago. The idea is to drop your plug on a floating target. Some of the boys did it as accurately as with a rifle. . . . Col. Paul A. The Central library here has been adding a record section for music lovers. . . . Part of the money from the sale of "Platter Parade," the Officers' Wives' fund-raising party will go to purchase playground equipment for the Camp. . . . A bill introduced in Congress last week would force military posts to charge at least 80 per cent of the local price for the price in civilian shops. Since the average for a haircut is $1.50, the bill, if passed, will mean you'll be paying a buck for a haircut. CWO Vincent E. Boyle left the 3rd Division last month after more than 30 years in the Corps. He plans to go to college.

Defense Chiefs Plan Meet For Quantico

More than 150 high-level civilian and military personnel of the Defense Department will begin a three-day conference June 17 at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, the deputy secretary and the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force will host the meeting.

The informal meeting is designed to promote discussion and the exchange of ideas. A similar conference was held at Quantico in July, 1952.

Schedule Episcopal Confirmation Class

Episcopal Confirmation classes are being held at 7 p.m., EST, each Thursday at 11 New Bridge st., Jacksonville.

For information contact the Rev. A. Webster Horstman, 100 Keller st., Jacksonville, phone 3880.

The Rev. Mr. Horstman, who is acting as Base Episcopal chaplain in the absence of a Naval chaplain, said a Confirmation class will be formed on base if enough persons express interest.

Marine Corps Takes Army's New T-40

"A certain number" of Army's new 60-ton T-40s have been purchased by the Marine Corps for study, production development center, Quantico, Va.

The medium tank and the M-47 also are being studied for the Corps by the Quantico center.

Clothes Allowed For EM's

A 60 per cent increase in monthly cash clothing allowance for enlisted marines will be authorized, according to Navy Times. . . . In addition, Headquarters announced certain green items of green clothing for enlisted marines, as well as a price increase for clothing of female marines.

The fiscal 1955 clothing allowances also will require enlisted marines to retain their uniforms in case of release in case of release.

WM Maneuvers

By CPL. BECKY CARPER

Eighteen men charged aboard Barracks 60 last week after lights out. They were firemen. The hissing, spluttering defective wiring was acting up again and the top-side lounge was filled with smoke. Luckily the firemen weren't forced to use their hose or axes.

Pfc Irene Dionne will head the WM diamonders when they play their first game. Irene, the team's shortstop, was elected captain last week.

Orders for El Toro were received by Pfc Laverne Hayne Nichols, who'll join her husband there. Both are staying in the Marine Corps.

One member of the softball team received orders before she could even play the first contest. Pfc Carol "Muff" Watson will report to D. C. for duty.

Jackie Ward Ridoni and Charlotte Madar Scholz were discharged Saturday. They'll be joined this week by Cecilia Rand Laird and Phyllis Cecil.

Pfc Janet Levanduski was married May 21 to Donald Mathews of Hartford, Conn. Attendants were Sgt. Lewis Dispenza of the 2nd Shore Party Bn., and Pfc Carline Polly of WM Co.

The bride wore a white eyelet dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. Pfc Polly chose pale blue with pink and a rose corsage.

Returning from a 20-day leave, Pfc Rena Swayne announced that she was married to Arthur Warner of Orting, Wash., in a double-ring ceremony May 14 in the First Christian church of Orting.

An informal wedding reception was held Saturday in the lower lounge of Barracks 60 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns.

Cub Pack 90 Holds May Camporee In Paradise Point Area

Cub Pack 90 held a May Camporee last Saturday. Cubs and their dads took part in the event, held in the area adjoining the Paradise Point tennis courts.

The Camporee's three-fold purpose was to give the Cubs and dads a chance to enjoy outdoor life together, to offer the Cubs an opportunity to pass tests for promotion and to stimulate Pack spirit.

Each Den received a hundred points at the Camporee's beginning. The amount of points lost depended on the number of times and the importance of the offense committed against camping regulations.

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, Camp commanding general, arrived during preparations for the evening meal. The schedule for the evening consisted of games, colors, vespers, pack meeting and taps at 9:30 p.m.

Camp High School Will Graduate 28 Tomorrow Night

Twenty-eight graduates of the Camp Lejeune High school will receive their diplomas at 8 p.m. tomorrow during commencement exercises in the Camp school auditorium.

Following the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," Chaplain R. J. Schneck, acting Camp Chaplain, will give the invocation and Thomas Fleming Herndon will sing "The Lord's Prayer."

William Walter Hewett will give the salutatory and Class Valedictorian Donald Pope Rahiser will speak.

Radio Station WJNC will broadcast the graduation ceremonies beginning at 8 p.m.

"My Task" will be sung by the Senior Glee club and Col. S. T. Clark, chairman of the Camp Lejeune school board will present Dr. B. Frank Hall, pastor of the Persall Memorial Presbyterian church of Wrightsville Beach, who will be guest speaker.

Superintendent of Schools W. H. Tuck will make the class presentation, and Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, Camp commanding general, will award diplomas and scholarships.

The entire audience will join the glee club in singing "God of Our Fathers" after which Chaplain R. A. Beane will give the benediction.

Corporal Gibson, Robert Burns Wed At Catholic Chapel

The Camp Catholic chapel formed the setting for the wedding of Cpl. Margaret Jean Gibson, of WM Co. and Robert Burns of Chicago at 2 p.m. Saturday. Chaplain R. A. Beane performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride's gown of ivory satin was accented with panels of lace and ended in a full length train. A shirred net cap embroidered with lace held her fingertip veil and she carried a prayerbook topped with an orchid and roses. She was given in marriage by the groom's father, William C. Burns, of Chicago.

Attending the bride were Cpl. Dorothy Sellers of WM Co., and Mrs. George Rayburn, of Camp Knox trailer park. They wore gowns of rose and mint-green satin and net, white nylon picture hats and carried cascade arrangements of white carnations.

Jack Burns of Chicago, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Pfc George E. Rayburn, Motor Transport Co., Service Bn. MCB, served as usher.

The couple was feted at an informal reception in the lower lounge of Barracks 60 and at another at a restaurant off base.

Following Mrs. Burns' release from service, they will reside in Chicago.

"Always Faithful"

In Korea a couple of weeks ago, a freckle-faced Pfc named Donald H. King, of "Dog" Co., Seventh Marines, walked up to the desk where they were taking contributions for the National Marine Memorial.

He plunked down $112.

The sergeant behind the desk was startled. "Why such a large donation?" he asked.

"I had a brother," Pfc King said. "He was killed on Iwo Jima."

A couple of minutes later, apparently inspired by King's donation, Pfc John Happe of "Fox" Co. walked up to the same table. He gave $150.

We call that the kind of spirit that made the Marine Corps great.

Next week the same drive begins at Lejeune. Nobody will be expected to give as much as the two Pfc's. Just $1 from every marine will do the trick.

That $1 donation will entitle you to say, on the Marine Corps birthday in November when the giant statue is unveiled, "I helped to build it."

And in the years to come the sightseers who come from all the world to see our nation's capital will see, along with the Washington Monument, the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials and the other magnificent structures that grace the skyline, this dramatic bronze tribute to the proudest of all fighting forces—the United States Marine Corps.

Maybe you will stand before it one day with your son by your side.

And maybe he will ask, "What is this for, Daddy? What does it mean?"

Looking up you will see the dynamic figures straining to their task of planting Old Glory so that the whole world can see that the flag still waves and that liberty and justice still live. And you will know that long before Iwo Jima marines fought and died for that very reason.

They died fighting with John Paul Jones. They died to end the tyranny of the pirates of Tripoli. They died at Chapultepec. They died at Guantanamo Bay. And at Belleau Wood, and Wake Island, and Tarawa and at dozens of other storied places.

And this statue, perhaps the most dramatic and stirring in the District of Columbia, stands for all that.

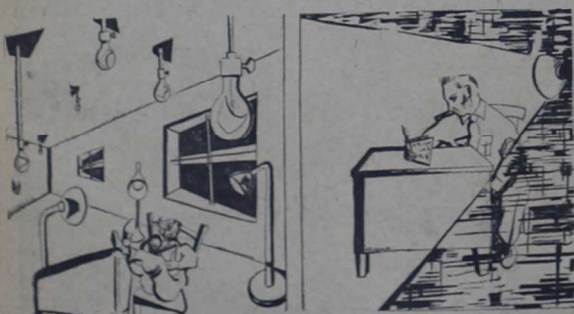

But how can you say it all to your son. And how can you tell him of the pride you feel because you are or were a marine and because you helped build this.

"Well, Son," you might say, "It's to remind me and you and everybody in the country of a lot of great men and of all that we owe them."

"And it's to remind us that we must never forget them, nor the things they gave their lives to preserve."

And, although your son might not understand it, you might add, "For these men showed the world that 'Semper Fidelis' was not just an empty motto."

HEARTBREAK

"Heartbreak Ridge" has real significance to the men who gave their all to maintain this peculiar position in Korea. It seems that there are many "Heartbreak Ridges" in life just as real and personal.

Even a chaplain has such heartbreaks. How would you feel if you had men coming through your office with real potential and real ability only to see them a few months later with their lives overshadowed by a black mark that will go with them all through their service careers and perhaps even to the inner circle back home.

The problem is deep-rooted. It can be traced to a man's disregard of the spiritual and an over-emphasis of the material or physical. Call the spiritual whatever you may, but recognition must be made of something inherent that directs one's attention to God. Such inner feeling cannot be disregarded any more than hunger pains. See what will happen if hunger symptoms are ignored. A lengthy discussion need not be presented. Man knows the inner drive toward God, prayer, devotion and worship. If they go unheeded, mishap and misfortune are a direct result.

Remember the words of the Master: "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."—C. G. Gardner, chaplain, 2nd Ordinance Bn.

The Old Corps

Ten years ago this week: Margaret Chase Smith, Republican congresswoman from Maine and the only woman member of the House Naval Affairs committee, inspected Woman Reserve activities here.

Gene and Jo, magicians slated to appear at the Camp theater June 9 this year, were appearing at Lejeune theaters with their tricks.

Lejeune's War Dog detachment held a review in honor of returned Bougainville veterans—dogs that is. The dogs sat at attention on a table and took the salute of human marines as they passed in review.

Top-ranking Coast Guard officers inspected Lejeune's Coast Guard detachment and a GLOBE reporter noted that the occasion was a great day for the Irish. Members of the inspection team were named Donohue, O'Neill, Callahan and McCaffery.

Movies playing at Camp Theaters included "Young In Heart" with Paulette Goddard; "Somewhere I'll Find You," with Lana Turner, Clark Gable; "Riding High," with Bing Crosby, Fred Astaire; "The Sullivans," with Ann Baxter, Thomas Mitchell.

"All the accidents seem to have occurred during the rush back to Camp after the weekend," Lieutenant Chapman said, pointing out the two most frequent causes of local accidents—speed and the attempt to travel too far in too short a time.

WASHINGTON REPORT

A Defense Department would make home-buying for career service personnel week won the approval of the Banking committee.

Called an out-and-out building effort, the program would make government insurance available to career men and women who have felt "continued military service denies them a substantial fit with which they would be entitled."

More than 300,000 of 640,000 enlisted men eligible under the program.

The bill would make benefits for home-buying veterans' benefits for the purpose. A man accepting while in service would be as a veteran, however.

Mortgages up to 90% of the appraised value of the property could be guaranteed. It would not be necessary for a man to live in a home purchasing under the program.

Eligibility certificate for gage insurance would be persons on active duty housing, have served two years, are not on training only and have previously been issued a certificate unless justified by the military command.

The Federal Housing Administration would insure the mortgage, provided the man has a certificate and owns the property, and provided he is in it or certifies that he is to live in it is due to assignment.

In addition, the plan would be eligible for home-buying classes of persons not normally for veterans' benefits.

1. Enlisted men serving in the military, having a charge indicating completion of term of service;

2. Reserve officers without a break in service, regardless of whether they have been given a discharge or a certificate of completion in another branch;

3. Officers integrated into military departments with a break in service;

4. Reserve officers and officers who have remained in continuous active duty.

Project To Widen Highway 17, South To Begin In August

C. Heide Trask, Third District state highway commissioner, announced last week that a contract for the widening of Highway 17 between Folkstone and Jacksonville is expected to be awarded in August.

Nearly $600,000 has been allocated by the highway department for the widening and the purchase of rights-of-way, plus the removal of structures.

The highway will be widened from 20 to 24 feet, with 10-foot shoulders.

Surveys now are being made to prepare plans on which bids will be based.

We Are Proud...

... To Claim The Title' Earned In Famed Iwo Fight

Iwo Jima, revisited.
Iwo Jima, where 5,563 United States Marines died to capture a strategic island radar listening post and airfield that was later to save the lives of more than double that number of crewmen of aircraft returning crippled from raids on the Japanese mainland.

Iwo Jima, where nine years later elements of the mock-attacking 3rd Division engaged in "Operation Flag Hoist" uncovered the pillbox, bunker and tunnel-way graves of thousands of the crack Japanese troops who died to defend what their leaders had assured them was an "impregnable" fortress.

Iwo Jima, scene of the memorable flag-raising on killer Mount Suribachi that gave the Marine Corps its long-dreamed-of symbol for its long-dreamed-of National Marine memorial.

To complete that memorial, scheduled for dedication November 10, the 179th anniversary of the founding of the Marine Corps, an additional $250,000 is needed to complete the statue's base and to landscape the seven-and-a-half acre plot on which it will stand.

More than $500,000 already has been raised—mostly from marines and former marines—and the additional sum is expected to come from one dollar contributions from each of the marines currently on active duty.

The local drive for MCB will be held June 7 through July 10, under the direction of Col. Thomas A. Culhane Jr., commanding officer of the First Infantry Trng. Regt.

To coincide with the local drives the movie "Sands of Iwo Jima" will be featured at theaters here from June 14 through June 27.

Dates of the drive will be the same for the three major commands, Marine Corps Base, 2nd Division and Force Troops. Marines will have the opportunity to contribute through unit representatives.

The flag-raising scene was a natural. Taken by Associated Press Photographer Joe Rosenthal, who followed a patrol from Easy Co. of the 28th Marines up the slopes of Suribachi, the photo was reprinted in thousands of magazines and newspapers throughout the country. Chosen as the symbol of the Seventh War Bond drive in 1945, the scene also was chosen for a stamp later issued by the Post Office department.

Of the five men in the picture, Pfc Franklin R. Sousley, Cpl. Ira H. Hayes, Sgt. Michael Strank, PM2 John H. Bradley, Cpl. Rene

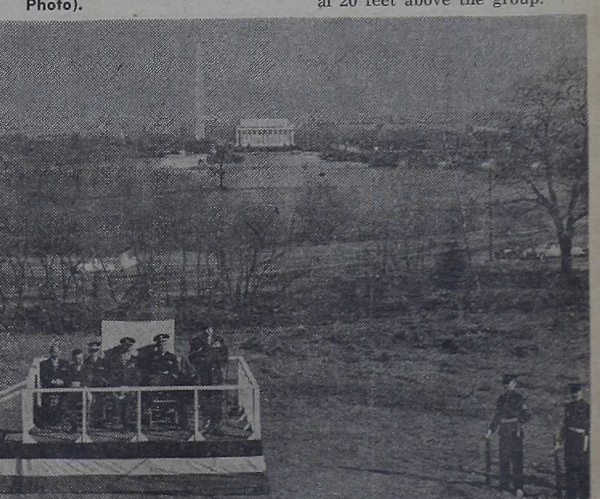

Personnel of the 2nd Division contributing a dollar to the drive will be eligible for a list of prizes to be given away as part of the Division campaign for the Memorial. The Division drive also will begin June 7.

Gagnon and Cpl. Harlan H. Block, Strank, Block and Sousley were later killed in the fighting.

After the war plans for the memorial went forward. Construction of the statue was authorized by Congress on July 1, 1947. Ground was broken last February 19 by Maj. Gen. Merritt A. Edson (Ret.), chairman of the Marine Corps War Memorial Foundation, Inc., and Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps.

The 58-foot bronze statue, the largest of its kind in the world, will rest on a base of Swedish black granite adjacent to Arlington National cemetery across the Potomac river from Washington, D. C.

A cloth flag will fly from the flag pole that will rise an additional 20 feet above the group.

OR FELIX DE WELDON is shown as he shaping touches on the statue group for the National Marine memorial depicting the flag-raising on Mount Suribachi during the Iwo Jima in 1945. Erection of the 58-foot statue the raising of $250,000 for the completion of the Swedish black granite base, and the landscaping of the seven and a half acre plot on which the statue and its base will rest. Around the base will be listed the date and place of every engagement in which marines have fought since the founding of the Corps in 1775 (Official USMC Photo).

Today, Different From Fortification-Studded Island Cost 3rd, 4th, 5th Divisions 5,563 Killed In 1945

Iwo Jima has changed since 1945.

an island literally honey-combed with fortifications and half-finished above-ground before the invasion began on February 19, 1945, the island has become a red reminder of the wreckage war leaves in its wake.

covered pillboxes and blasted bunkers dot the island. The rocky coral is littered remains of shattered war material used by the Japanese defenders and the marine attacking 3rd, 4th divisions. Mount Suribachi, in the Japanese observation that hindered the conquest of the island for days, memorial to the flag-raising on Mount Suribachi, built next to Arlington cemetery in Washington, D. C.

with the care of the are the 300 men of the Air Force detachment, there to maintain the three runways built by the Japanese and now used for emergency fueling stops for planes flying to and from the Far East.

The island's only other occupants are a Coast Guard team manning a Loran navigation station and a salvage crew on the island to salvage the war scrap for a Japanese firm.

The pre-invasion Naval bombardment—called "Halsey's Hair-cut"—left the island a barren rock. Today the island again is covered with palms and shrubs. "Cushman's Pocket," a gully that gave stiff resistance to the men of the unit for whose commander it is named, is now overgrown with foliage.

"The change Iwo Jima has undergone in the past nine years has amazed me, no end," said MSgt. Joseph E. Roberts, on returning to the island where he landed in 1945 with the 5th Engineers of the 5th Division.

Others felt the same way.

But most surprising was the discovery of thousands of well-preserved Japanese dead in the island's tunnels. A grim reminder of the bitter fighting that occurred nine years ago.

Annual Corps Matches Start At Quantico

Lejeune's crack Tenth Marine Rifle team began defending its Elliott trophy championship title in the annual Marine Corps Rifle and Pistol matches on Calvin Lloyd rifle range at Quantico, Va., last Thursday.

None of the Tenth Marines shooters competing this year were members of the 1952 championship team.

The team is captained by 2nd Lt. C. W. Brewer who replaced Capt. Frederick M. Humphrey. Captain Humphrey led his '52 team to victory with a 2216x2400. His pending transfer from Lejeune prevented his shooting in this year's matches.

Other members of the team are Sgt. P. R. Gupton, SSgt. B. M. Plant, Cpl. J. E. Todd and MSgt. L. A. Choicel, alternate.

Two other teams from Lejeune are taking part in the matches.

The Marine Corps Base team is composed of Capt. R. E. DeLaHunt, team captain, Capt. G. B. McPherson, SSgt. H. M. Hucks, Sgt. W. C. Rose and TSgt. M. H. Peak, alternate.

Members of the Eighth Marines team are, 2nd Lt. R. H. Leahy, team captain, TSgt. H. E. Abbott, SSgt. S. Koroly and Pfc J. D. Dinem.

The final stage of the rifle team match will be fired today and presentation of awards will be made this afternoon.

5 Hurlers Mowed Down As Navy Wins Easily 20-0

Three touchdowns and two conversions gave Service Forces Atlantic Fleet a one-sided decision over Lejeune's diamondmen here Saturday.

Ridiculous, you say. Well, the 20 runs that Servant poured across the plate was just as inconceivable, as Lejeune, shutout for the fifth time this year, suffered its worst beating in years.

Lejeune used six pitchers in an attempt to stop the parade the "white hat" batters were putting on. Marvin Mick, Jim Lockhart, Harold Brittain, Stan Horvatin and Dick Breighner all tried, but Freeman Rooth who came in in the ninth was the only man able to master Servant's bats.

Servant picked up 15 hits off five Lejeune pitchers while the Marines were able to pick up only two off the servings of Mike Warnitsky, Steve Reich and Bill Garrett got them both in the second

Lejeune Golfers To Play Against Ben Hogan Saturday

Hostesses from Jacksonville's USO's will welcome and register Lejeune golfers to their 18-hole fracas with Ben Hogan on National Golf day, Saturday.

BEN HOGAN

This makes the third annual Golf day co-sponsored by Life magazine and the Professional Golfers' Association.

Lejeune golfers will have a choice of playing on two 18-hole courses at Paradise Point.

Hogan will play his 18 holes at the Baltusrol club in Springfield, N. J., scene of the forthcoming U. S. Open.

Anyone beating Bantam Ben will receive from Life and the Professional Golfers' Association a bronze medal inscribed "I beat Ben Hogan."

Golfers will pay a $1 entry fee to the pro or starter on the course and play as many rounds as they like with the payment of an additional fee for each 18-hole round.

Results of Hogan's round will be published at the end of the day.

As in the last two tournaments, half the proceeds will go to the USO, the other to the National Golf Fund, Inc., a non-profit corporation founded for the purpose of distributing money collected on National Golf day for worthy causes in golf.

Golfers have contributed almost $200,000 to the USO and the National Golf Fund through National Golf day.

The USO earmarked its 1953 share for a new recreation center for U. S. servicemen in Tokyo. The center will be built and supported by National Golf day proceeds.

CL Boxing Clinic To Start June 14

A three-month boxing clinic for Lejeune personnel will begin June 14 at Goettge Memorial field house.

Conducted by Lejeune's boxing coach, 2nd Lt. Mike Capriano, the clinic is being organized for those marines who desire to learn the art of self-defense. Classes will be held from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Personnel interested in taking part in the program should register with the Camp Athletic officer at the field house before June 14.

Gloves and head gear will be provided by Camp Special Services. Sneakers and sweat clothes must be brought by the participants.

Fort Lee 'Travellers' To Play Locals Here Friday, Saturday

A strong Fort Lee team will invade Lejeune for single encounters Friday night and Saturday after the first appearance of an Army team here this season.

The "Travellers" from Virginia, who took three of the four games between the two teams last year, are Bandage, tape and time will heal the players but nothing can be done to change the 1-4 record the baseball team brought home with them Friday after their five-game stand in the Norfolk area.

Travel hasn't done the team much good this year as they now have a 3-11 road record.

Hurt tremendously by injuries to key players Lejeune dropped four games before getting up enough steam for a hard-fought 11-inning decision over Little Creek.

Lejeune committed 19 miscues in five games.

The Norfolk Naval Air Station Flyers banged sore-armed Charlie Chronopoulos for 10 hits and 8-5 victory a week ago Saturday to run their series record over the Marines this year to 2-1.

Monday the Langley Air Force Base "Jets" got eight hits off Stan Horvatin and Jim Lockhart while Lejeune got only one in losing 8-3. Catcher Steve Reich spoiled Bob Egbert's bid for a no-hitter in the fourth inning when he singled to center.

Thirteen hits and 11 runs off Freeman Rooth were enough to scuttle the Marines Tuesday. Langley won 11-7.

With Pope, Russo and Chronopoulos out with injuries it was a downcast team that met Little Creek Wednesday night. The Gators didn't bolster their spirit any by winning 8-1 in seven innings.

Five errors in the first three innings cost Lejeune the game as Little Creek built up a six-run advantage. Lejeune got its single tally in the fourth on a single by Chronopoulos, a walk by Dave Petros and an RBI by Bill Garrett.

Coach Arthur Weddell rallied the team Thursday night as the Marines downed the Little Creek nine 6-4 in 11 innings.

Gene and Ed Gilbert allowed the Marines only six hits while the combined efforts of Frank Wall and Chronopoulos limited the Gators to one run.

Skeet Team Goes For 8th In D.C. Open

Lejeune's National champion skeet team will place a streak of seven wins on the line this week-end when they compete in one of the top shoots on the East coast, the North-South Open in Washington, D. C.

Led by Capt. Hank Slowers, CWO J. A. Martin, MSgt. C. R. Wingard and MSgt. Vern Mull, Lejeune will be at top strength for the open when Capt. Billie Loos returns to action after missing the team's last two events.

Gunning for a repeat as National champions, this week's Open presents a formidable hurdle for Lejeune's shooters as they meet the best teams on the eastern seaboard. Lejeune has met and defeated the best southern teams, both service and civilian.

Notre Dame-Tech Football Movies To Feature Clinic Here

Offering service, high school and college coaches a chance to view the Yellow Jacket grid magic, Coach Bobby Dodd, athletic director and head coach of Georgia Tech, will open Lejeune's 1954 Invitational Football Coaches Clinic Monday showing the 1952 Notre Dame-Tech game.

Other than getting first-hand information from Georgia Tech's Coaches Bobby Dodd, Ray Graves, Frank Broyles and Arthur "Tonto" Coleman, inexperienced coaches will get a chance to discuss football with top coaches of this area.

Broyles, considered one of the best backfield coaches in the country, will cover passing and running offense in every detail and highlight his instructions with a film and talk on Tech's famed "belly" series.

The controversial 5-4-2 defense of the "T" will be handled by Coleman, who will also discuss end play and the kicking game.

All phases of line play will be tutored by Graves, Tech line coach, former star center for the University of Tennessee and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Coaches attending the clinic will participate in field demonstrations covering all phases of the game after the lectures.

A banquet at 7 p.m. Wednesday night will feature film highlights of Tech's '53 season with Coach Dodd as speaker.

Registration for the clinic will be from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday and continue from 8 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Persons wishing to attend the banquet and not take part in the clinic should make reservations by calling 7-5528. The banquet cost is $3 per person.

Triple And Squeeze Beat 2nd Amphibs

Frank Wall's 365-foot lead-off triple and Bill Dollard's squeeze bunt in the last of the seventh made the big difference last Thursday as Combat Service Group tumbled 2d Armored Amphibian Bn., from among the ranks of the undefeated, 5-4, in the Force Troops' baseball league.

Wall's big hit enabled CSG to move into a tie with the Amphibs for first place in the league. The Combatmen took advantage of several Amphib miscues to score two runs in the third and two in the fifth.

Naval Hospital Softball Team Wins 12th Straight

ANGLICO Suffers FT Baseball Loss

Second Combat Service Group handed ANGLICO its first defeat in the Force Troops Baseball league, 8-3, last Wednesday.

The five runs CSG scored in the first inning were too much for ANGLICO. CSG out-hit ANGLICO, 8-3, and both teams played errorless ball.

Prov. Bn. Holds 1st In 8th Regt. B'ball

The Provisional Bn. held its first place slot in the Eighth Marines baseball league last Thursday with a 7 to 1 win over the 3rd Bn.

Don Egan chalked up his third of the season against one loss, pitching five-hit ball for the winners.

With the score tied at one and one in the third inning, Bob Helfers, Provisional Bn.'s stocky catcher, drove a long liner to deep center field for a home run with one aboard.

Boats and bait can be had just across the bridge at Snead's Ferry and Capt. M. F. Mehlinger, Supply school student, believes the place to fish is right under the bridge. He caught a 10-pound red drum (channel bass?) there last weekend.

Witnesses to the event were the Jack C. Smiths, who were tied up to the next stanchion. Smitty, also a student at Supply school, was teaching his family how to fish. Smitty's instructions, although they weren't followed too closely, netted one son 13 croakers even though he always "jerked the line too hard." Dad? Oh, he got three or four little pin fish.

This column is in receipt of the following letter:
Dear "Crook,"

I read your column every week and think your stories and notes about Lejeune wildlife are very interesting as well as educational. It's a great column and I look forward to reading it. However, I am forced to disagree with your recent report about the eagles nesting along Wallace creek. These birds have not been identified correctly. I have seen the nest and both adult birds. The nest is occupied by a pair of ospreys, commonly called "fish hawks," and not by bald eagles.

One could mistake the osprey for an eagle inasmuch as they have somewhat similar markings, but the eagle is by far the larger of the two birds. The eagle has an all-white head and tail, whereas the osprey's white head is masked with black. The greatest distinction between the birds, other than size, is the osprey's all-white breast feathers as opposed to the eagle's which are all black.

Sincerely,
Russell N. Neiger, Pfc,
Supply School Bn.

Thank you for your flattering remarks and informative letter, Pfc Neiger. I cannot dispute your statements.

A TRUE BULL STORY

It's no bull. A bull caught a fish. A rural mail carrier, Mark Dunbar, of Crossville, Tenn., related that while driving past a pond he saw a big fish thrashing about on the end of a line. Stopping to congratulate the lucky fisherman he noticed a bull stalking out of the water with a line tangled on one foot, pulling a two-pound bass up on dry land.

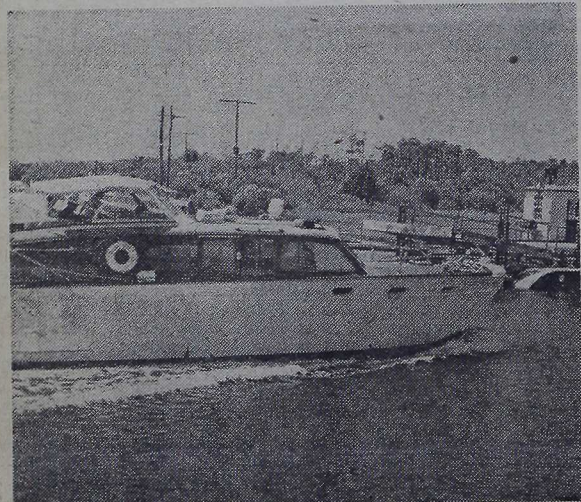

SLICK TRICK

If you need a fish scaler one can be easily made from a couple of bottle caps nailed bottom-side-up to a piece of wood of your design. Fashion one end into a handle and you'll have a scaler that'll do the work of a store bought item.

(You can write "Crook" in care of the GLOBE, or call him at 9-8258 during the day or 6-6610 at night.)

BY THE SEA, BY THE SEA, BY THE BEAUTIFUL SEA—On the finest stretches of oceanfront on the Atlantic Seaboard is Lejeune's own Onslow beach. Facilities for "sun-fun" enjoyment and safety there are unexcelled. The Enlisted Beach house provides ample dressing rooms, check rooms and showers, there's a veranda equipped with beach chairs and a well-stocked refreshment stand. Lifeguards on duty during bathing hours eye on everyone's safety in the surf while an amphibious right, stands by ready to churn to the rescue should any get in trouble (Official USMC Photo).

Final Meet Cancelled

Locals Drill For All-Marine, Inter-Service Track Meets

Lejeune's cindermen brought their track season to a semi-close last week when their last scheduled meet of the season with Fort Jackson's Golden Arrows, was cancelled.

Coach Jack Warner is taking his charges through daily light training drills, keeping them sharp for the All-Marine and Inter-Service Championships here June 17-26.

Worried about how the three-week lay-off will affect his tracksters, Coach Warner is trying to get another meet with "any" service or college team.

In reviewing Lejeune's track season, Coach Warner's pre-season prediction that his "neophyte" tracksters would be turning in sharp performances and gain scoring depth by mid-season held relatively true.

The Leathernecks lost three of five dual-meets this season.

Virginia Military Institute dropped the Leathernecks in their season's opener 69 1/3-63 2/3. Lejeune rebounded back to defeat a strong Quantico team 69-62. Duke's Blue Devils swamped the Leathernecks 81-50. Lejeune topped Fort Jackson 109-22 and Quantico revenged their first loss by nailing the Leathernecks a stinging 73 5/6-57 1/6 defeat in their last meet.

Coach Warner's team has shown fine spirit throughout the season and their first upset of Quantico's college star-loaded team was accomplished mostly by sheer determination.

The four highest scorers for Lejeune are Don "Rones" Walker, 67; Charles Washington, 53 1/2; Chet Franz, 35 and Ray Scott, 31.

Twenty-six species of wild orchids are found in the Great Smoky Mountain National park.

Seaside Vacation Right On Tap For Lejeune Personnel

Want a tan that would make the folks at home envious? Like to pit your wits against the great Atlantic? Love to eat your chow amid the blowing sand? Here's how you can do all three.

Hop aboard a military bus at the transportation building. Twenty-five minutes later, you'll disembark at the Inland Waterway bridge, and, after showing your ID card to the sentry, can enter the Onslow Beach area.

Faced with a sign that tells where all facilities are located, you can proceed either straight ahead to the enlisted men's beach, which all military personnel, their families and guests may use, turn north to the Officer's pavilion, or south to the newly-opened Staff NCO club.

After changing to your bathing suit in the beach house, you can check out a beach umbrella or purchase beach apparel at the counter. If you're hungry before you head for the water, sandwiches, beverages, and ice cream may be purchased.

A dip in the Atlantic is fine, but be careful. Don't leave the area guarded by life guards, and don't swim outside the point where the surf breaks. You may find a shark or barracuda for a companion.

Watch out for the undertow and strong current. It can knock you for a loop if you're not cautious, or it can pull you out to sea.

Children under 12 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

Life guards are on duty from 10 a.m. til sunset, Tuesday through Friday, and 8 a.m. til sunset on Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The beach is closed Mondays and other days that military purposes make it necessary. Swimming during this time is prohibited. No one is allowed on the beach after 9 p.m.

Part-Time Painter Real Artist Despite Little Formal Study

BY CAPT. MARTIN BOYLE

Years ago, while idling away his spare time sketching on drawings, Sgt. Broadus F. Johnson suddenly became an artist.

Johnson has progressed from water colors, to oil, to landscapes, while being proclaimed by art connoisseurs in Chicago and New York, D. C., who believe the amateur has great potential who have encouraged him in an art school when it expires.

Johnson, a steward at the officers mess, has been doing just that. Lejeune artist, Mrs. Weston, wife of Capt. W. A.

Weston, who studied art at Peabody college in Nashville, Tenn., said Johnson's work "has a quality which reveals a definite artistic personality who has something to say in his paintings and says it in his sincere expression of his work."

Mrs. Weston, who has visited art galleries all over the country, also noted that, "Although Sgt. Johnson is still in the early stages of becoming a professional artist, he works quickly and behind every stroke of the brush is a very talented approach to art."

This is high praise for any amateur painter—especially Johnson whose single experience with formal training came in 1950 when a commercial school conducted classes at Quantico, Va. His landscapes and pencil sketches earned him an "A" average during the four-month course.

Johnson's only art contest entry, a fire prevention poster in 1948, won him a first prize and he credited it with providing him with the incentive to become an artist.

Tenth Marines Hold Buffet Supper Party For Col. McHaney

Col. Joe C. McHaney, commanding officer of the Tenth Marines, who leaves Lejeune June 5 to take command of Marine Corps Base, Pearl Harbor, was given a farewell buffet-supper by the officers and men of the regiment last Thursday.

While a combo from the Division band played, Colonel McHaney, his wife, Elizabeth, and their four-year-old daughter, Elizabeth May, mingled with the guests at the buffet tables. Wives and children of other members of the regiment were also present.

Mrs. McHaney, who lists Honolulu as her home, said she was particularly pleased with her husband's new assignment. "It will be in the nature of a homecoming for me," she said.

Col. McHaney has served with Marine artillery since he accepted his commission in 1935 following his graduation as an honor student from Texas A&M. His first assignment after completing Basic school was with "A" Btry, 1st Bn., Tenth Marines, then at Quantico.

He took the helm of the Tenth here in May, 1953.

BON VOYAGE—Col. Joe C. McHaney, left, retiring commanding officer of the Tenth Marines, stands by as his family and two of his outfit share a buffet lunch at the lawn party given in his honor last week by the regiment. The colonel has been assigned

CAPTAIN LAWLER

Chief Of Surgery At Naval Hospital Assigned Sea Duty

Capt. William S. Lawler, MC, USN, chief of surgery at the Naval hospital here since June 1952, has received orders to the hospital ship USS Consolation, now in Long Beach, Calif., awaiting her return to the Far East.

The Consolation saw duty in Korean waters during that conflict.

A native of Lowell, Mass., Captain Lawler took his MD degree from Tufts Medical college in 1926. He was in private practice in Lowell until he volunteered for active duty with the Navy on December 10, 1941, three days after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Captain Lawler had 36 months of sea duty during World War II, including visits to Iceland, Africa and the Red sea area and saw duty in the Mediterranean, taking part in the Sicily landings in the summer of 1943.

After six months at the Naval hospital, Chelsea, Mass., he was ordered to the Pacific where he took part in two landings in the Philippine islands and the invasion of Okinawa. He returned to the states in 1945 to become chief of surgery at the Portsmouth, N. H., Naval hospital.

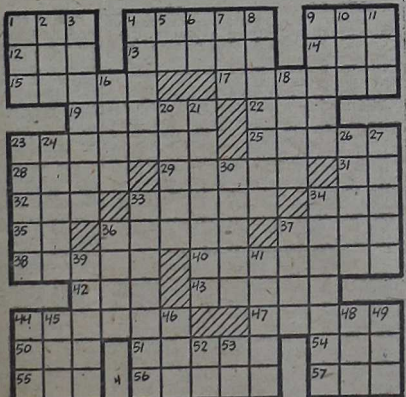

From May, 1946, until April, 1949, Captain Lawler was again in private practice in Lowell. Returning to duty in May, 1949, he was Chief surgeon at the Naval hospital, Memphis, Tenn., until June, 1952.

The captain won five battle stars while serving on the transports, USS Chateau Thierry and Catskill. The Catskill was one of the first attack transports built and was designed chiefly to handle casualties.

CAMERA LOST

Mrs. Barbara Prychodnik lost her Argoflex camera and its leather case around 8 p.m. Sunday in the auto of a sergeant who gave her and her husband a ride from the Holcomb blvd. circle to Midway Park. She may be reached via 7-5537 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. during the week.

Ted Weems Band Booked For June 23 Pavilion Date

Ted Weems is the latest addition to the list of bands booked for Marston Pavilion, Camp Special Services announced last week.

TED WEEMS

'Bunny Hop' Man, Ray Anthony, Due At Point June 10th

The man behind the "Bunny Hop", Bandleader Ray Anthony, is a week away.

He's due at the Paradise Point Officers mess June 10 and will play for dancing from 9 p.m. til 1 a.m. Reservations are $1 per person.

"The Young Man With the Horn" discovered the popular "Bunny Hop" when he heard of a new dance the crowd at San Francisco's Balboa High school had worked up.

The versatile orchestra leader took up the new step, refined it, wrote the music and started the craze that shows no signs of dying out, according to critics.

Known among fellow musicians as one of America's most talented and most brilliant young artists, Anthony is a musical purist and a strict disciplinarian with his band.

Featured with the band will be Vocalists Tommy Mercer, Marcie Miller and the Skyliners quintet.

MIDWAY MOVIE

tors to four.

With the help of a wild pitch and an error, Lejeune took the lead in the fourth inning with three runs.

In the bottom of the fifth Little Creek picked up two and in the seventh they scored twice to take the lead.

It looked like another loss for Lejeune as they came to bat in their half of the ninth, but a walk to Bunk Ranier, an Amphib error and a single by Chronopoulos knotted the game.

The score stayed at 4-4 until the top of the eleventh. Wall reached first base on an error. Jim Given sacrificed him to second and Ed Velten singled Wall scored the winning run on a balk by Ed Gilbert. Lejeune added an insurance run when Dave Petros tripled to left center to score Velten.

The veteran of the popular music world will be aboard June 23. He'll do a show at the Camp theater from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and will play for the Pavilion dance from 9 p.m. until midnight. The show is open to all hands; the dance is for sergeants and below and their guests. Hostesses will be present.

Weems has written and recorded many top tunes. One of the ones he wrote was the popular hillbilly favorite, "The Martins and the Coys."

His notation "swing it" on the arrangement sheet of "Jig Time" many years ago was the first time the phrase had been used. It introduced a new style of music to the entertainment world.

His arrangement of "Heartaches" was revived in 1947 by a Charlotte, N. C., disc jockey and it went on to become the nation's No. 1 record.

Among the artists Weems helped to succeed were Perry Como and Marilyn Maxwell.

Here's Your Fun Fare For Week

Time on your hands?

Well, don't let it get you down — let it get you to the Camp theater and Marston Pavilion tonight to catch the all-girl rhythms of Joy Cayler and her orchestra.

The girls will play the theater at 7:30 p.m. and the Pavilion dance from 9 p.m. to midnight.

For next week, pull a happy-hour out of your cover by seeing Magicians Gene and Jo at the Camp theater in two shows — at 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Wednesday.

This Week's Movie Review

FIREMAN SAVE MY CHILD (1 Bell)

Besides a few humorous high flying renditions by Spike Jones and his City Slickers this picture goes over like a lead balloon. The story not only deals with the ridiculous but is ridiculous. The plot, chuckle, is centered on a 1910 fire company that is to be modernized plus an extraordinary fluid that should have been invented before the picture.

DRUMS ACROSS THE RIVER (2 Bells)

This is another Technicolor western with villainous white men, peaceful white men, peaceful Indians, and more fistplay than gunplay. Audie Murphy, lightweight champ of the prairie league, dust off several varmints, while Gary Cooper, a couple of distracting fillies, provide the feminine interest. Lyle Bettger and Hugh O'Brien are convincing as vicious killers. Last and far from least, Walter Brennan turns in his usual fine performance.

SARACEN BLADE

Ricardo Montalban and Betta St. John star in what appears to be another Arabian smashbucker. No further information is available.

A GIRL FOR JOE

Formerly titled "Force of Arms". It stars William Holden and Nancy Olson. No further information available.

HELL BELOW ZERO (2 Bells)

This adventure story runs hot and cold. Alan Ladd en route to sultry South Africa meets Joan Tetzel who's destination is the frigid Antarctic. The ice is soon melted between the two, and Ladd, having nothing better to do, joins Joan in the investigation of her father's death.

The story see-saws between warm romance and cold-blooded brawls against the background of the whaling industry. A whale of a job is done on the Technicolor photography, but, blubber, what a plot.

JUNGLE MAN EATERS (Tinkle)

Johnny Weissmuller and Karin Booth star in one of those short pictures that just seem long. Jungle stuff.

MEN OF THE FIGHTING LADY (4 Bells)

A war drama starring Van Johnson, Walter Pidgeon, Louis Calhern, Dewey Martin, Keenan Wynn and Frank Lovejoy. The story is a down-to-earth presentation of the lives of fliers aboard an aircraft carrier during the Korean War. Besides the picture's frank approach, there are many scenes of actual air combat. The plot is based on James Michener's "The Forgotten Heroes of Korea" and Com. Harry A. Burns, "The Case of the Blind Pilot," both true stories. The cast excels in honest character interpretations. Ansco Color — Print by Technicolor.

THE CRUEL SEA (4 Bells)

The picture is adapted from Nicholas Monsarrat's famous book of the same name. The story is about the crew of a British corvette operating in the Atlantic during World War II. Jack Hawkins, Donald Sinden, John Stratton and Denholm Elliott give excellent performances. Each character portrayed has a distinct personality and all are unified in their fight not only against the enemy but the sea itself. The movie is a British production.

INDISCRETION OF AN AMERICAN WIFE (2 Bells)

This is an Italian production starring Jennifer Jones and Montgomery Clift. The movie is about the wind-up of a tragic love affair between Miss Jones, a married woman from Philadelphia, and Clift, an Italo-American professor. The picture begins with end. Since the outcome is evident to the audience, any problem that remains is to convince the actors. Jennifer and Montgomery give excellent performances.

KNOCK ON WOOD (4 Bells)

Danny Kaye plays a ventriloquist in what may turn out to be the funniest comedy of the year. The story concerns Kaye's dual personality and a plot to recover some plans hidden inside the two dummies used in his act. Mai Zetterling plays the pretty psychiatrist who solves Kaye's personal problems. The script is a perfect fit for his private brand of comedy. Kaye's mastery of both serious and humorous entertainment creates com-trasts which add an air of burlesque.

BOWERY BOYS (1 Bell)

The Bowery boys meet but the audience has a store for them.

BADMAN'S TERRITORY

This is an oldie starring legend, Randolph Scott, marshal, "Plenty of extras and a cast representing famous rogues in a stampede across Lejeune's western saga.

YELLOW TOMAHAWK

Once again Hollywood's perilous journey through the country. The Indians are treated by vicious white Calhoun a heroic scout, band back to the fort. Or finds time to romance.

TURN THE KEY SOFTLY

This is an English production starring Yvonne Mitchell, Terence Collins and Kathleen Hays. It is about what happens to jailbirds who are released on parole. The picture is unified into the masterpiece, the plot does not matter.

THREE STEPS TO ALIBI

Just off hand, we'd murder mystery. It stars Milla Parley. No further information is available.

KISS ME KATE

"Kiss Me Kate" is an musical. Kathryn Grayson, Keenan Wynn, and two divorcing the lead roles in a Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

The antics of Keenan Wynn and Grayson vocalizing Cole Porter plus the dancer makes for top musical color by Ansco.

JOHNNY DARK

Automobile designer loses his employer's support. He is designing a new car for his grandfather, Piper.

In Tony and helps his car's construction. Tony's a cross-country race from Mexico, Miss Laurie and congratulations. Color by Technicolor.

ISLE OF THE DEAD

It's an old picture about a group of people stranded on a gloomy little island. The story added does a fine job of capturing the horror and the picture attempts to create a drama. It accomplishes its aim.

The movie will be appreciated by those who get their kicks out of seeing the dead.

THE SEA AROUND US

For those who enjoy nature's wonders. This will offer excellent entertainment based on Rachel Carson's same name. The book is the lists of non-fiction.

This is well organized capturing visually the facts found in the book.

MISS ROBIN

This movie stars Anne George Nader. No further information is available.

HIS MAJESTY O'KEEFE

The South Sea island story when Burt Lancaster and Jennifer Jones are in conflict between different corners the copra trade along on a treadmill of feasts, wild gestures and

Although the picture is in turbulent and climatic interest and atmosphere of the adventure by Technicolor.

Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly are excellent performers. The film is so good making a fortune in the box office.
