Reins To Gen. Puller Monday

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, Camp commanding general since August 1952, will be relieved Monday by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Puller.

General Puller, who succeeded Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr. as 2nd Division commander last Thursday, will serve as interim commander for MCB until Maj. Gen. Alfred H. Noble arrives about September 1.

The change of command ceremonies will take place at 9 a.m. by Bldg. 1.

General Linscott is expected to remain at Lejeune for several days after he is relieved. He will then report to San Francisco to assume new duties as command-

Holiday Weekend

Injuries Low Here

Camp Lejeune followed the nationwide trend with a safer than expected holiday weekend with no local fatalities reported here by presstime and injuries far below expected figures.

Only three local marines were reported injured in Fourth of July accidents by Tuesday night. Two civilians also were reported injured in the eight accidents involving Lejeune marines.

Camp Traffic Officer 2nd Lt. Edward J. Chapman had predicted one fatality and 19 injuries for the three-day weekend.

Second Division Takes Lead

In Marine Memorial Drive

The 2nd Division has taken the lead in the fund campaign for the National Marine Memorial, scheduled to end Saturday, with more than $14,000 in contributions and more than 80 per cent participation.

The total includes the 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, now on maneuvers in the Mediterranean, and the Eighth Marines, now in Vieques.

Div. Chief Of Staff

Col. Donald M. Weller, 2nd Division chief of staff, will be relieved this month by Col. David W. Stonecliffe, commanding officer of the Second Marines.

Colonel Weller will report to Quantico where he will serve with the Advanced Research Group, Marine Corps Schools, a planning and development group for all the armed services.

Colonel Weller, a 1930 graduate of the Naval Academy and a veteran of three World War II campaigns, reported to Lejeune and the 2nd Division in July, 1952. He served as commanding officer of the Tenth Marines until June 5, 1953.

The colonel graduated from the Naval War college, Newport, R. I., in 1950 and assumed duties as chief of the Strategic Planning Section at Headquarters Marines Corps, Washington, D. C.

Colonel Weller won the Legion of Merit with Combat "V" for service as Naval Gunfire officer, FMF, Pacific during the Iwo Jima campaign. He won the Bronze Star with Combat "V" at Bougainville and another one at Guam while serving as commander of the 2nd Bn., Twelfth Marines, 3rd Division.

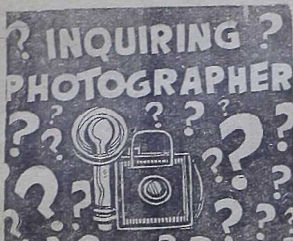

Colonel Weller's other decorations include the Presidential Unit Citation, the Navy Unit Commendation, American Defense Service medal with base clasp; the American Area Campaign medal, the Asiatic-Pacific Area Campaign medal with three Bronze Stars and the World War II Victory medal.

The colonel and his wife, Frances, have two children, Donald M. Jr., and Mary. Colonel Stonecliffe is a graduate of Michigan State college and a (See COL. WELLER, Page 2)

DOES THE PRETTY GIRL IN THE ADVERTISEMENT HELP TO SELL YOU THE PRODUCT?

MSGT. LOUIS REINER, MP BN., MCB — You bet she does. Any normal male is attracted to a pretty girl. Being attracted to her picture he would naturally see what product she is advertising, the next thing would be to buy and try the product. After this, the article is strictly on its own.

MSGT. GEORGE HARTMAN, MP BN., MCB — No. A pretty girl in an advertisement doesn't phase me in the least. When I go to buy anything I look for the best value. I believe in getting my money's worth. Letting a girl sway my decision wouldn't be shopping for the best bargain. Being a Scotchman from 'way back, I naturally go for the bargains.

SGT. WALTER MITCHUM, MP BN., MCB — I don't think so. Well, it might depend on product that is being advertised. Since I am a married man, I naturally would like to know what I am buying. So, I guess that an attractive girl would catch my eye, but I don't see that it would catch my business.

SGT. ANGUS J. JOHNSON, PHOTO LAB, MCB — A pretty girl would definitely help to sell the product to me. It would make the ad very noticeable if she were pretty enough and would catch many eyes and that is the purpose of the ad, to catch eyes.

PFC JOSEPH LEE KICKLIGHTER, PHOTO LAB, MCB — First of all, I would look at the product that she is trying to sell. After that, I think that the picture might influence me some what. I think that if the picture were pretty enough I wouldn't even look at the product first, I'd just buy it and worry about it later.

RIFLE RANGE

Force Troops took individual honors at the Rifle Range again last week as Sgt. Donald E. Hurd, 2nd Combat Service Group, fired high on the M1 with 229 of 250, and 1st Lt. James F. Conlon, 2nd AmTrac Bn., fired high on the .45 with 358 of 400.

Force Troops also led pistol qualifications for the second straight week with 88.3. Marine Corps Base qualified 83.5 per cent, a 1.4 drop, and the 2nd Division qualified 74.4.

Pistol qualifications were 83.1 per cent for MCB, with Force Troops and 2nd Division tied at 80.4.

Unrestricted MCR Lieutenants Eligible For Flight Training

Unrestricted Reserve officers who hold permanent commissions are eligible for flight training if they meet these qualifications:

1. Rank of lieutenant.
2. Less than 26 years of age at time of applications.
3. Must not have been previously separated from any service flight training program by reason of flight failure or at own request.
4. Must have completed a minimum of 14 weeks of a Basic course at time of application and must successfully complete the course.
5. Must meet physical qualifications.
6. Must agree to serve two years active duty after graduation from flight training and must agree to have training time added to contract period if flight training is failed.

A reserve officer who has applied for a regular commission while in Basic school still may apply for flight training.

Two 8th Tankers Top Demo Course At Engineer School

Two 8th Tank Bn. marines finished first and second in their class of 25 to win top honors in the Demolition Specialist course at the Engineer School Bn., Court-house Bay.

The two are Pfc Richard W. Howes, who led the class with a 91 per cent average, and Pfc Chester Martin.

The eight-week course included lectures, demonstrations and practical work on all phases of land explosives and their use. Booby trap preparation and road-block destruction were included in the course.

The colonel served in the Pacific in World War II. He joined the 2nd Division in October 1952 and has served as Division Intelligence officer, provisional regimental commander for the Weld Fast operation and at his present post.

The colonel and his wife, Dorothy, have two children, Leslie and David W. Jr.

Col. C. W. Hayes will be new commanding officer of the Second Marines.

Memorial

$250,000 expected is earmarked for the completion of the National Marine Memorial, first in the history of the Corps.

The 58-foot high six-figure bronze group, modeled after the historical flag-raising on Iwo Jima's Mount Suribachi in 1945, will have the name and date of every engagement in which United States Marines have ever taken part carved into its Swedish black granite base.

The statue-group, for which ground was broken last February by Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps, and Maj. Gen. Merritt A. Edson (ret.), president of the Memorial Association, will stand in a seven and a half acre plot next to Arlington National cemetery, across the Potomac river from Washington, D. C.

GMST DATES

The primary General Military Subjects test for promotion to corporal and sergeant will be given here Thursday, July 15.

An alternate examination will administered August 13. Both men and women's exams will be given the same dates.

NIGHT INTO DAY—Flaming rockets light up the firing area as the 2nd 4.5" Rocket Btry. of Force Troops gives its six new M-21 launchers a night workout at Fort Bragg, N. C. during week firing exercise (Official US SSGT. P. A. Berger).

Force Troops' Hardhitting 4.5 Rocket 8-Inch Howitzers Back From Man

BY CPL. DON W. SHARPE

Two Force Troops units, with a combined time on target firepower equal to that of more than nine light field artillery battalions have returned from two weeks in the field at Fort Bragg, N. C.

The units, the 2nd 4.5" Rocket Btry. and the 2nd 8" Howitzer Btry., supported the 2nd Division's Tenth Marines in artillery exercises designed to test training readiness and improve firing techniques in the general support mission of Fleet Marine Force units.

Battle conditions were closely simulated. Camouflage nettings covered the howitzer emplacements while the rocket men set up their launchers under the trees. Vehicles were "decorated" with brush, and fire direction control posts were blended into the surrounding woods.

Safety was emphasized during the operation. Heavily sandbagged pits 75 feet from the launchers protected the rocket men, while safety officers constantly checked every detail. The safety officers supervised the handling, loading and firing of the four 16 ton artillery pieces, the largest in use by the Marine Corps.

The 2nd 8" Howitzer Btry. is the only such activated unit in the Corps. Their weapons are unsurpassed when it comes to heavy concentrations of fire over large areas. The 18,500-yard effective range makes the guns particularly effective against large enemy troop formations, convoys, equipment or buildings.

The 8" howitzer also is known for its precision placement of shells at long range. During the exercise the third round aimed at a pine tree some 5,000 yards away completely severed the tree. The battery is commanded by Capt. T. L. Cobb, a veteran artilleryman who saw combat during World War II and in Korea.

Six new M-21 rocket launchers were given their initial workout during the maneuvers. The launchers, with a heavier firepower than older models, were received just before the exercises.

Six launchers, each holding 25 42-pound rockets, can fire 150 rounds, or a "ripple," in just 12 seconds. It takes but four minutes for the five-man crews to load, aim and fire the three-quarter ton launchers. Commanded by Capt. E. A. Bushe, who won the Silver Star at Iwo Jima and the Bronze Star in Korea, the battery is one of two in the Corps.

A highlight of the exercise was a lecture and demonstration of the Army's new atomic cannon. The 85-ton gun was dropped by its carrying trucks at nine minutes by The 280mm gun an "atomic project at 35 miles per faced roads.

Reservist Needed Into Changey-Changey

Reservist Norman E. Heltzel, USMCR, is needed for the bandages on both arms following a Jacksonville tattoo emporium last who is at Lejeune with the 1st Group Co., from South Bend, Ind., is a possessor of two "USMC" tattoos but it ry goes back 10 years, when he was a mate in the Navy. Like so many Heltzel wandered into a tattoo parlor, acquired two large "USN" designs. During four years in the Navy, he resided in South Bend. He enlisted in the Marine Reserve in February, 1950. Since that time he has requested extended active duty, and is now a member of the 1st staff, serving as a construction foreman.

Arriving here for two weeks of training on June 28, Heltzel was subjected to a lot of ribbing by fellow Reservists who noticed the "USN" on both arms.

"Where do you get that Navy stuff?" they demanded.

After several days of this mental torture, our hero wended his way toward the tattoo parlor, had the "USN" removed and the "USMC" substituted.

Kindergarten Registration Scheduled Here Friday And Saturday This Week

Kindergarten registration for children who will have reached five years of age by January 1, will be held from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, July 8 and 9, at Bldg. 2624, Paradise Point.

A similar registration also will be held September 2 and 3.

Eligible are dependents of military personnel living on or off base, and of civilian personnel living on base.

Requirements include a birth certificate, immunization record, serviceman's organizational address and phone and an emergency phone number where the mother may be reached during the day.

A $2 registration fee will be required, but will be returned if registration is cancelled before September 7.

Choice of morning—8:45 to 11:15—or afternoon—1 to 3:30—sessions will be based on priority of registration. Sessions will be held at the Midway Park Community building, in addition to the Paradise Point building.

Bus transportation will be provided "as available," with priority going to students of the Children's school. Parents will be responsible for transporting children from Jacksonville and New River.

Fees will be: Seaguard and below: $6.50 per child. Staff NCO's: $8.50 per child. Company grade officers: $9.50 per child. Field grade officers and civilians: $11.50 per child.

A second child from the same family will be admitted for half tuition.

Tuition fees are payable in advance and must be received by the treasurer before the 10th of each month. Payments must be by check or money order, payable to the "Camp Lejeune Kindergarten Fund," and addressed to the fund in care of Capt. Robert N. Vance, H&S Co., Supply School Bn.

Physical examinations are given at the beginning of each school year.

Col. Shuford Appointed CO Of Service Bn.

Col. McDonald I. Shuford, who directed the change-over of the Marine Corps Supply into the Service Bn. July 1, has been named to command the new unit.

The colonel assumed command of the Depot June 24, relieving Lt. Col. Nicholas A. Sisak, who remained as executive officer to assist in the change-over.

The Service Bn., composed of five companies and a headquarters company, combines all Marine Corps Base service elements into a Service Co., Supply Co., Maintenance Co., Food Service Co. and Motor Transport Co.

Colonel Shuford was assigned from the 2nd Division, where he had been supply officer since 1952.

The colonel graduated from Clemson college in 1937 and later received his bars as a second lieutenant. He launched his career in the Corps with a tour of sea duty aboard the USS Pennsylvania, then traveled with the 4th Defense Bn. to Cuba and Pearl Harbor, where he witnessed the Japanese attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

During World War II, the colonel served with the battalion in the Solomon Islands, where he was awarded the Bronze Star for action on Vella Lavella. He later commanded the 16th Anti-Aircraft Bn. on Okinawa and served on occupation duty in Japan.

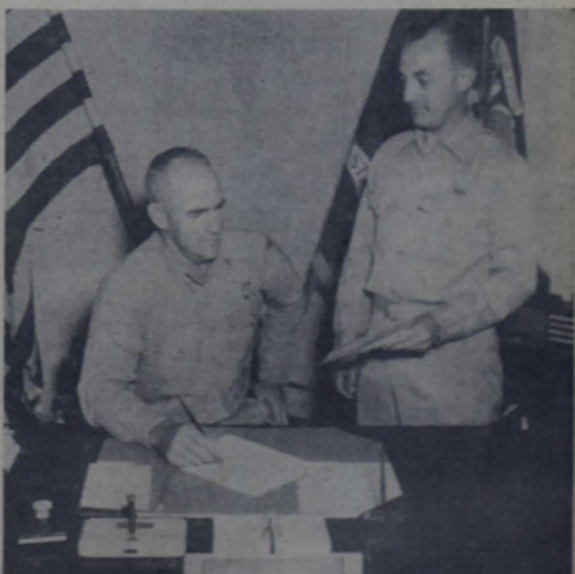

MSgt. Stanley Roth Elected President Of Staff T'masters

MSgt. Stanley L. Roth of the Supply School Bn. was elected president of the Staff NCO Toastmasters club last week at interim elections held to fill vacancies left by discharge and transfer of former officers.

Sgt. Roth replaced MSgt. John B. Cole of the Reserve Trng. Bn., who was discharged. Elected vice-president was TSgt. Robert Talmadge, also of the Supply School Bn.

TSgt. Maurice L. Lamar, former group secretary-treasurer, now transferred to the West coast, has been replaced by MSgt. Burlin W. Gifford, elected treasurer, and TSgt. Edward B. MacRoberts, elected secretary.

Newly-elected sergeant-at-arms to replace TSgt. James S. Merrill, also transferred to the West coast, is TSgt. Thomas Kennedy.

CHANGE-OVER CONFERENCE—Col. McDonald I. Shuford, new CO of the newly-organized Service Bn. here, confers with Lt. Col. Nicholas A. Sisak, former Marine Corps Supply commander, who remained as executive officer of the battalion. The two were instrumental in the change-over, which combined all the service elements of Marine Corps Base into one unit.

5,000 Marines March As General Cates Bids Adieu To Corps After Long Career

Five thousand marines took part in retirement ceremonies honoring Lt. Gen. Clifton B. Cates at Quantico June 30.

Several thousand additional marines and guests witnessed the review, which was highlighted by the promotion of General Cates to his permanent rank of general (retired), the rank he held as 19th Commandant of the Marine Corps.

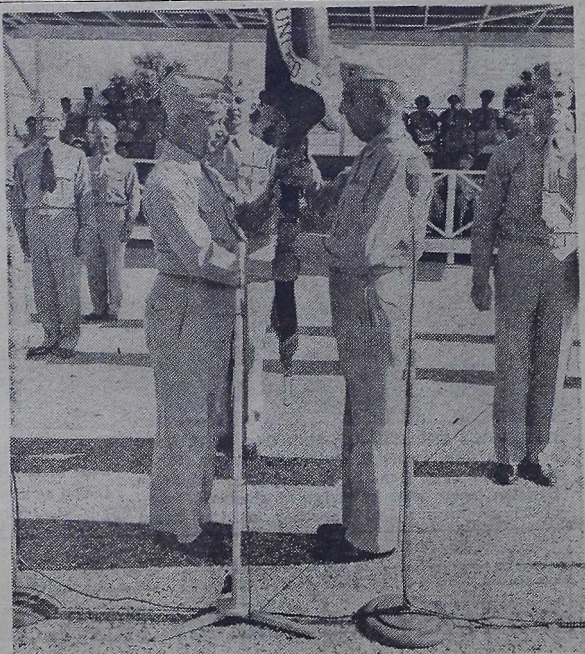

The present Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., made the presentation.

Following honors for General Cates, a formal change of command ceremony took place in which Lt. Gen. Gerald C. Thomas, former assistant commandant of the Marine Corps, relieved General Cates as commandant of the Marine Corps Schools.

The retirement ceremony culminated a military career which began more than 37 years ago. On graduation from the University of Tennessee in 1916, 2nd Lt. Cates reported to Marine Barracks, Parris Island, S. C. This was the first step in the service career of a man who was to become one of the few officers of the Marine Corps to command a platoon, company, battalion, regiment, a division in combat and finally the entire Marine Corps.

Following the change of command ceremony, two regiments of infantry passed in review followed by an aerial salute of Marine Corsairs and Sikorsky helicopters.

Among General Cates' 29 decorations are the Navy Cross, Distinguished Service Cross with Oak Leaf Cluster, Distinguished Service Medal with Gold Star, the Legion of Merit, Croix de Guerre with two Palms and Gold Star, the Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster and the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster.

Retires After 37 Years

Gen. Silverthorn Turns Pl Post Over To Gen. Pollock

PARRIS ISLAND—Lt. Gen. Merwin H. Silverthorn, commanding general here for the past two years, ended 37 years of Marine Corps service June 30 when he was retired and given his third star. Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, former director of the Marine Corps Educational Center, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., relieved him.

Military and civilian dignitaries as well as many of General Silverthorn's close friends were on hand for the occasion. General Silverthorn's three sons, all Marine officers, stood next to their father as he reviewed his last parade.

With the closing strains of the national anthem, General Silverthorn presented the Depot national colors to his successor, General Pollock, signifying the change in command.

The retirement of the general brought to a close a career that began when he enlisted as a private in 1917. He was commissioned while serving in France in World War I.

General Silverthorn served in all corners of the globe. Among his decorations are the Navy Cross, Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Purple Heart, the French Croix de Guerre with Silver Star. He is also entitled to wear the French Fourragere and was cited three times in general orders of the 2nd Division AEF.

His plans for the future include travel and some writing.

Korea Duty Medals To End July 27

July 27 has been set as the final date for the awarding of the Korean Service, United Nations Service and National Service medals, as released by the Army with final Navy approval pending.

The date marks the first anniversary of the ending of the fighting in Korea.

The accolade, the certificate sent to next-of-kin of persons killed in Korea, also will end July 27.

A proposal for a new service medal for Korean service after July 27 is under study.

Miss Horner, Lt. Glidden Speak Vows Saturday In Double-Ring Chapel Rites

Marriage vows were spoken Saturday by Miss Margaret Horner, daughter of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Matthew C. Horner, and 2nd Lt. Thomas T. Glidden of the 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, at 5 p.m. in the Camp Protestant chapel.

The Rev. A. Webster Horstman, of St. Anne's Episcopal church in Jacksonville, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white geraniums and lighted tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a full-length gown of chantilly lace and nylon net over white satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline and the skirt ended in a chapel-length train.

Miss Margaret Boyd of Charleston, S. C., was maid of honor and chose a waltz-length gown of dusk rose lace over taffeta trimmed with sequins.

Eight maids attended the bride in powder blue lace gowns fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor. They were: Misses Laura Burnett of Seattle, Wash.; Helen Gordon and Patricia Monroe of Long Island, N. Y.; Miss Carolyn Shoup, of Washington, D. C.; Mary Tom Cross, cousin of the bride, of Norfolk, Va.; Kattina Beaty of Parris Island, S. C., and Clare Carruther of London, England.

Misses Jane and Mary Jo Horner, sisters of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore matching gowns of pink organdy over taffeta and carried nosegays of delphinium and baby's breath.

The mother of the bride wore a mauve linen lace dress with a plum-colored hat and a corsage of orchids.

Serving as best man was 1st Lt. Harry Glidden, U. S. Army, and ushers were Richardson Glidden, Burt R. Glidden Jr., Harry S. Allen, all of Lancaster, Pa.; 1st Lt. Richard A. Clough, Cherry Point; 2nd Lt. David Holles of Quantico; 2nd Lt. Robert A. Monford of 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, 1st Lt. Clayton Herbert, "G" Co., 2nd Marines, and 1st Lt. Evan Parker, aide to General Horner.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the River room of the Officers mess. A four-tiered cake centered the bridal table decorated with white satin bows and lilies.

WM Maneuvers

By CPL. BECKY CARPER

Girl Scouts who killed a deadly copperhead in their camp had nothing on a couple of WM's who were sunning themselves in the park area and were joined by a curious rattler.

Pfc Fran Faller kept the reptile fascinated by a dangling foot while Pfc Leialoha Aguiar pinned its neck down with a stick. The girls finished the job with a tree limb and tossed the "body" in the dumpster.

Pfc Aguair, whose home is Hawaii, is being transferred there along with Cpl. Betty Purdy, who'll be seeing the islands for the first time.

Cpl. Helen Smith will report soon to her new duty at Headquarters, Marine Corps.

TAD to the Naval School of Justice at Newport, R. I., are Pfc Shirley Eldridge and Pfc Helen Kutcherak.

Sgt. Olive Dolin and Pfc Nancy Corneil left Thursday to begin their long trek to the West Coast and on to Hawaii for an extended leave.

Elaine LeCour Rayburn was discharged Monday and will divide most of her civilian time between Massachusetts and Illinois.

The new Mrs. Arthur Michelin Jr. writes us that she wore a white, organdy over pink cotton dress, with pink slippers and a matching tiara from which fell her fingertip veil. She carried an orchid with stephanotis. She's the former Cpl. Irene Tettoni and the wedding was June 19.

Typical summer sight: Girls from Squadbay "B" munching wedges of ice cold watermelon and spittin' the seeds in the backyard. Pfc's Kathy Simmons, Shirley Bass, Fran DeCoito and a few others were enjoying the melons.

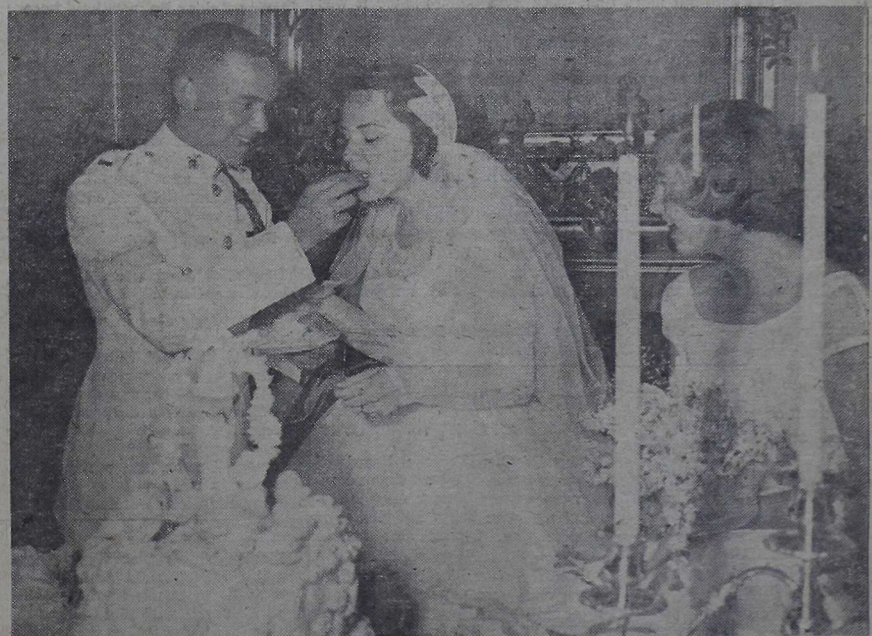

Remember Lynn Bailey, who was stationed at Lejeune in 1952? She's planning a visit here this month.

Title Goes To PI As Lejeune Tops Quantico

PI Hands Women's Softball Team First Defeat Of Season

Camp Lejeune's Women Marine softballers felt the sting of defeat for the first time this season when they bowed to Parris Island twice last week 6-5 and 6-3 at the Recruit Depot.

In the first game Tuesday last week the teams played five innings of scoreless ball, then the game was called because of darkness.

Continuing the game the next day Foo Cotrufo hit a homer with three on base in the top half of the sixth to put Lejeune ahead, but PI countered by scoring four runs in the seventh causing extra innings. The game ended in the ninth with PI the victor 6-5.

Lejeune scored first in the second game when Carol Lau hit a sizzling grounder through the infield to bring Irene Dionne home.

Parris Island bounded back by pounding in four runs in their first time at bat.

Dot Lofquist and Cotrufo homered for Lejeune, but the Islanders won.

Parris Island will play the locals here Saturday.

2nd Marines Cop Divvy Track Laurels As Turknett, Kimbrough Lead Scoring

The Second Marines placed first in the Division track and field meet Tuesday last week on Liversedge field.

They took five first places to two for the runner-up Tenth Marines, but the Tenth kept the competition exciting by capturing several second places.

Sgt. William I. Turknett of the Tenth Marines and Benjamin Kimbrough of Service Bn. tied for individual honors. Both took two firsts.

With only two events to go the Second led the Tenth by eight points and Service Bn. by 17. But

Locals Vanquish Virginians 9-2, Avenging '53 Defeat

BY CPL. JACK HAVER

Lejeune's diamondmen ended their 1954 Eastern Marine league competition on a happy note Friday when they Quantico 9-2 after losing 10-6 Thursday.

Lejeune's victory knocked Quantico out of the run for the East Coast championship and gave the title to Parris Island.

Horvatin Gets Number 3 As Lejeune Splits

Stan Horvatin picked up his third consecutive win Tuesday night when Lejeune divided their two-game series with Port Lee.

Lee took the Monday night contest 7-0, but Lejeune came from behind three times to win Tuesday 8-6.

Anything written about the Tuesday night game would be anti-climatic with all the players he roes as Lejeune beat the top team on the East Coast. The Marines

One of the major innovations in inning when Jim Given homered after San Rago had singled. Lee picked up one run in the first and then went ahead in the second with two tallies.

Camp Lejeune regained the lead in their half of the third when they scored twice on singles by Given, Petros and Chronopoulos.

In the fourth hits by Rago, Given and Russo combined to give the Marines another run, but in the fifth Lee broke loose for three runs on two singles and a two-run out of the park blast by Catcher Bill Boak. Petros drove in Russo in the seventh to tie the score and then in the ninth singles by Given, Chronopoulos and Garrett provided the winning margin.

Mrs. J. P. Jones Tops Class A Golf

Mrs. J. P. Jones took Class A honors in the Full Handicaps tournament Tuesday at the Paradise Point golf course. The winning score was 43 with nine handicaps.

Class B was won by Mrs. A. G. Goare, who had a 47 with twelve handicaps, and Mrs. E. C. Dresbach, who scored 45 with seventeen and a half handicaps.

Quantico seemed determined to make good on their mathem chance of catching Parris when they swept by Lejeune day night.

The Virginia Marines were over three Lejeune pitcher 15 walks, five hits and six errors.

Charlie Chronopoulos started the mound for Lejeune, but in favor of Freeman Rooth attempting up five runs in five innings Rooth coasted along until eighth when Quantico exploded five runs. Bob Williams came finish the game.

Lejeune picked up three runs in the sixth inning on a three-homer by Dave Petros and more in the seventh to chase Inning Pitcher Jim McDowell.

In the ninth the locals made a valiant effort to get back in game when they scored two off Reliever Jim Lonergan.

It was a determined Lejeune team that took the field at night. Quantico knocked Lejeune out of the championship and Lejeune was hot to pay back this year.

After a first-inning home run Art Mossman put Quantico 1-0 Horvatin and company in charge. The stocky right scattered seven hits over the while his teammates committed one error.

Lejeune chased Starter Ramer in the third inning when he opened with a single and was followed by Sam who singled. A Quantico and a single by Chronopoulos gave the locals four runs.

The locals picked up another seventh on one of Quantico's seven errors and then reliever Roger Osenbaugh finished in the eighth and ninth.

Ralph Russo, Rago, a new to the club, and Charlie Chronopoulos sparked the team with apiece.

Pfc Jimmy Gregor Wins 5th In Divvy Group II Baseball

Pfc Jimmy Gregor pitched his fifth straight win and the sixth straight victory for his Division Headquarters team in Group II baseball Tuesday last week as the team won 28-1 over 2nd Motor Transport.

The game was called after five hitless innings due to the "obvious victory."

Gregor, who has averaged 10 strike-outs a game, has allowed an average of but two hits in each contest. A former semi-pro player, he broke into baseball at age 12 and later played four years of high school ball for Mapletown, Pa., where he pitched his team to a Class B championship with a 9-1 record in his senior year.

Last year he pitched in the independent Greater Vineland league in Pennsylvania.

natural sports are moving back into the spotlight now that track meets are over and baseball is dying a merciful death. Sports are worth much more than sports on a Camp level. The reason that more people get to play. And intramural Lejeune bring a bigger turnout of fans. The largest crowd at the Liversedge field bleachers, we are told, was not for a pigskin battle between the Tenth Marines and Weapons of Force Troops. The Tenth won the Camp championship at day in 1952.

Lejeune fans may not think much of their baseball team. Personnel at Parris Island love our team second to their own. Even a rumor afloat that some people there want to give us a trophy. The reason? Lejeune beat Quantico last week, finally throwing the championship to Pl. See the story on inside page.

Of the more colorful summer sports seen here is sailboating. In from the Wallace creek boat house every Sunday afternoon and cover a four and a half mile circular course on New river. You would like to learn how to handle a sailboat, instructors at the boat house. Give them a try.

The latest dispatch from Sports Editor Haver: Lejeune baseball will lose two valuable assets if Ralph Russo and Fos keep their pledge to retire from athletics after this season.

has played every outfield spot while Russo has handled left position except catcher. He started out as a third baseman, second when Farrell Mitchell got hurt, went to short when he wasn't hitting. He also filled in at first and third and ros' biggest thrill must have come with his three-run homer Quantico. By the way, he was a star on Quantico's 1950 which went to the National Baseball Congress tournament that year.

Lejeune's national championship skeet team had its undefeated streak of a couple of weeks ago by the Naval Air Station of e, Fla., but the 28 straight victories they racked up will be challenged in Lejeune's sports history. Second Combat Service Group lost its first game in the second half of the Force Troops intramural baseball league to 8th Engineer Bn, last week 4-3.

Jack Manning pitched and batted the Engineers to the win. He tripped with two men on to drive in the tying and winning runs.

Wednesday the Amphibian Tractor Bn. rolled over Hq. Co. 13-0. It was Headquarters Co.'s third loss in as many games in second-half play.

CSG downed Armored Amphibian Bn. 13-0 Thursday behind the three-hit pitching of Likins. CSG Third Baseman Stodghill got the game's only homerun with a man on base.

Engineer School Bn. Tips Service School To Win MCB V'ball

Engineer School Bn. defeated Service School Bn. in the Marine Corps Base volleyball play-offs 15-5, 3-15 and 10-15 Thursday at Goettge Memorial field house to become the first winner in General's Cup competition.

After the play-offs, Lt. Col. Sidney J. Altman, Camp Special Services officer, presented Engineer school's team captain, Donald Dowlearn, the team trophy. Members of both teams were awarded individual trophies.

The two teams will represent Marine Corps Base in the Camp volleyball championships being held July 12 through 17 at the field house. Games will begin daily at 5 p.m.

Division's entries will be chosen in a tournament which began yesterday and will run through Monday.

Amphibs, Hq. In Tie For First Place

2nd Amphibian Tractor Bn. and Hq. Co. remained in a tie for first place as each won one game in Force Troops intramural softball league play last week.

AmTracs held first place briefly as they defeated 2nd ANGLICO 9-7 Tuesday, but Hq. Co., behind the three-hit pitching of "Tank" Creamer, matched the AmTrac win as they beat 2nd Combat Service Group 12-2 Wednesday. Gene Darling hit a homerun for CSG with none aboard. Creamer notched his third win of the season.

In another game, 8-Inch Howitzer Btry. beat the 8th Engineer Bn.

Final Month's Play Begins As Camp Nine Tackles Army

Games against Army teams occupy the remainder of Lejeune's baseball schedule.

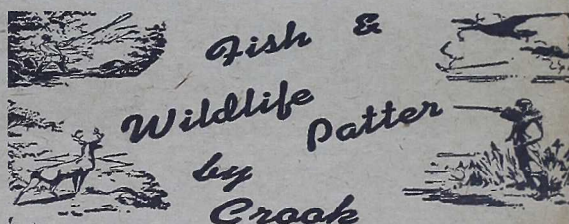

The local diamondmen invade Fort Belvoir for the first time this season Saturday and Sunday and then move to Fort Meade Monday and Tuesday.

Lejeune was scheduled to play Belvoir at home last month, but the two-game series was rained out.

This week's games will find the two teams about evenly matched. Belvoir, like Lejeune, lost most of the men from the hustling '53 squad.

The games with Fort Meade may be rougher. Meade is making a strong bid for the 2nd Army championship. At the midway mark of their season they had a 25-7 record including wins over Quantico, Fort Dix, ServLant and Belvoir. With practically all their players from minor leagues, Mead's power is supplied by Catcher Jimmy Wilkinson, a .400 hitter and Vern Barkstal who has a .423 average. Herb Shankam is their ace moundman. The lean righthander has a total of 51 strikeouts for the season, an average of almost 13 per game. The season ends for the locals July 30 when they meet Fort Eustis in a home game.

ATTENTION FISHERMEN

To those of you who are so enthusiastic about a fishing pier at Onslow Beach, who haven't called me: Please be advised that this reporter can only agree that such a pier would be a wonderful addition to the Camp recreation program. It is true, too, that there are hundreds of men, women and children who would willingly pay to use such a pier. But I cannot answer your questions.

However, we have at Camp Lejeune a Fish and Wildlife club that can get the answers and should sponsor any such request. This club has been sanctioned by the commanding general and authorized by the Commandant of the Marine Corps. To date, there are over 300 members. You, as a sportsman, may join the club at the next meeting—Wednesday, July 14 at 7:30 p. m. Members meet in a large clubhouse erected by volunteers, that overlooks part of French's creek. Just turn at the sign along Marines Rd. on the way to Courthouse Bay.

FAR FETCHED????

Cpl. Fisher (further identity undisclosed) claims he hooked four fish in 30 minutes the other night in Southwest creek. Fisher's story: "I hardly know how to cast and caught four fish and a few tree tops in less than 30 minutes. A Pfc who said he lived on the fish he caught there, told me they were bass. All I can say is there seemed to be plenty of them and they are good eating."

WILDLIFE MAGAZINE

"Wildlife in North Carolina" is the official publication of the State Wildlife Resources commission. This monthly magazine is devoted to the protection and restoration of our wildlife resources and to the improvement of hunting and fishing in North Carolina. You should add it to your reading material. The cost of a year's subscription is a mere fifty cents—less than five cents per copy. Just put fifty cents in an envelope addressed to Wildlife in North Carolina, P. O. Box 2919, Raleigh, N. C.—include your mailing address, of course.

LOCAL PICKEREL

SSgt. Butler of Supply School Bn. hooked and landed four pickerel in the last two weeks with the larger of the four running over 18 inches. Where? A couple miles off Route 24 on Piney Green rd. "No, it's not Cole's Lake," said Butler when questioned. "It's a little creek that the road crosses. You'll find fishing holes on both sides of the road, but one side is better than the other. . . It's difficult for me to remember which side is best." Secretive, eh? "I prize a lure called a Heddon Vamp, for the pickerel," he said. "There are bass there too, but they don't rise to my lures." Incidentally, I might add that the $1.10 that it costs for an Onslow county fishing license is a good investment. It's a small amount to donate to the State Wildlife Resources Commission and it'll cost much more than that if you are caught without one. I speak from experience."

OUTSIDE FISHING

Reports from Nags Head, N. C., indicate that a series of winds from all points of the compass have curtailed the fishing recently. However, gulf stream fishing for dolphin and amberjack has been unusually good. The colorful dolphin has been especially plentiful. Some of these courageous fighters have been caught and topped 30 pounds and one specimen scaled 34½ pounds. Just one blue marlin has been caught this year but it's likely to be a prize winner. It weighed 442 pounds.

LITTLE KNOWN FACT

There are two streams in western North Carolina where Muskellunge may be caught. This may be a surprising fact to Northerners, but you might try your luck in the French Broad and Little Tennessee rivers. No doubt the muskie was here long before the white man and found its way down the Ohio river and into the Tennessee river.

BLUE FISH ROYAL

Try this with those blue fish: Combine a fourth of a cup of creamed butter, two egg yolks, three tablespoons chopped onions, three tablespoons chopped pickles, three tablespoons chopped parsley, three tablespoons chopped capers, one tablespoon lemon juice, one tablespoon vinegar, half tablespoon salt and one-eighth tablespoon paprika. Clean and bake a large blue fish for 20 minutes (400-degree oven) and then spread the above concoction over it. Continue to bake for another 20 minutes or until the fish is done. It's tops!

LEJEUNE NIGHT LIFE—Lejeune motorists used to seeing deer grazing on the grassy fields of Holcomb Blvd. and sometimes they did to do a fancy bit of driving to avoid one that strolls out on the pavement. Last c Ellis Hopper of the Camp Photo lab was on his way to an assignment when he spotted this group. He stuck his camera out of the window of the moving car, fired away and this is the shot he got. Their eyes reflecting the flashlight, five young deer peer back at the photographer (Official USMC Photo).

Lone Point Costs Skeet Team Win In International Shoot

Camp Lejeune's National Champion Skeet team lost its first bid for an International championship berth by one point two weeks ago when they were edged by the Los Angeles, Calif., Rams 495 to 494 for 500 targets.

Both teams submitted their scores to the new International Telegraphic shoot conducted along with the Grea Eastern Skeet championships held at Lordship, Conn., on June 20.

Eighty-four teams were entered in the contest.

Los Angeles had a 495x500 score with a 152 long team run for 500 targets and Lejeune had a 494x500 score with a 160 long team run for 500 targets.

Having a better long run team for 500 targets, a tie score would have given Lejeune the championship.

Under the Lewis class system for rating skeet teams, Lejeune was declared winner of Group One and the team was awarded $68.61 in lieu of individual trophies.

Lejeune lost to Jacksonville Naval Air Station 495 to 494 for 500 targets in the Georgia State championships at Savannah on June 26, spoiling a 28 match meet win streak.

Lejeune has one more scheduled meet, the Spartanburg Open July 31 before defending their National title in the National Open at Pontiac, Mich., August 30 through September 5.

AWARDS FOR TWO—Lt. Col. Richard Belyea, executive officer, 8th Engineer Bn., pins a Letter of Commendation medal on Capt. Virgil M. OPERATION BLONDE

First Half Victory In Sail Series Goes To Major Cornwell

Winners of the first half of Lejeune's sailing race series were named last week by Camp Special Services Sailing committee.

First place went to Maj. Charles Cornwell, 48 1/2 points; second, 2nd Lt. Newell Bentsen, 45 1/2, and third, DN3 Charles H. Kudema, 44.

The three winners will be awarded trophies topped with miniature sailboats.

To allow more persons to take part in the sailing program the racing series were set up in brackets of six races each.

The next series will start Sunday. Fourteen "lightning" sailboats are available at the Wallace creek boat house.

Gen. Puller

Corps Base, Camp Pendleton.

Also on hand for the formal change-of-command were Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, and Brig. Gen. Edward W. Snedeker, new assistant commander of the 2nd Division, relieving Brig. Gen. Henry R. Paige, assigned in the same capacity with the 1st Division in Korea.

Several hundred military and civilian spectators saw one of the Corps' most decorated heroes take command of one of its most famous combat units. The only marine ever to hold five Navy Crosses, the 55-year-old General Puller began his tour with the Marines in World War I as an enlisted man.

He was commissioned in 1919, was inactivated, then granted a regular commission in 1924. He served in the "Banana wars" of Central America and was for a time commander of the Horse Marines in China.

General Puller first served at Camp Lejeune with the newly-activated 1st Division in 1941. He returned here in 1945, first as executive officer, then as commander of the infantry training regiment.

The general's fifth Navy Cross was awarded for his service with the 1st Division in Korea, where he took part in the breakout from Chosin reservoir as a colonel. He later was promoted to brigadier general and served as assistant Division commander.

He came here from the post of commander of the Troop Training Unit, Pacific.

General Snedeker, recently relieved as deputy director of the Educational Center, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, is serving his second tour of duty here. In 1942 he sailed from Lejeune—then called New River—for New Zealand as signal officer for the 1st Division.

He won the Navy Cross three years later while commanding the Seventh Marines on Okinawa. He left for Korea in July, 1950, as chief of staff of the 1st Provisional Marine Brigade, the first marine unit to fight in Korea, and later was assigned as deputy chief of staff, 1st Division.

A 1926 graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, General Snedeker was named a brigadier in December, 1951, a few months after leaving Korea. He was then serving as chief of staff of the 3rd Marine Brigade at Camp Pendleton.

Underwater Spearfishing Makes Amphibs Out Of These Division

By PFC JOHN GREEN

A part of Neptune's domain off Onslow Beach last week by two amphibious marines of the 2nd Division with their own versions of "underwater M1's" and gear. The "underwater M1's" were spear-guns and the "combat gear" were swim masks and fins.

These amphibious marines were Pfc Jimmy Smith of Clearwater, Fla., and Pfc Robert Marx of Hollywood, Calif. Both men have fought the strong tides off Onslow Beach and in the Intracoastal Waterway in the search for marine game.

The undersea invasion off Onslow Beach by these two spearfishermen proved fruitless, but this didn't injure their ego. In the ocean waters off the New River inlet, the men had to wade and swim about 1,000 feet offshore before the water was deep enough for fishing. The inlet is surrounded by sand bar reefs which makes this spot unfavorable for feeding fish. Then they tried a few spots along the Intracoastal waterway, but this also resulted in an empty string.

Pfc Smith said the waters in the waterway are too swift and muddy for good underwater fishing. The best fishing waters are found around old piers in clear water. Large fish feed on the debris embedded upon the piers.

Eventually the pair waded the New River off with several large fish. There is an abundance of grass on which the

Smith explained that spearfishing is a great sport. "Everytime I dive into the water's surface it is into an entirely cold. All the fish stare at me and they will come to examine you and then swim off."

"This new underwater sport is worth all the trouble go through to see it even if you don't. The sport has grown everywhere anyone can fishing I am ready. Smith, who works in the Marine Regimental has been seeking the deep with home equipment since he was old. During his years fishing experiences his share of good-sized fish he has caught off the coast of Florida.

Marx, of the Division Services, has been around the sea for past five years. He is to date also is weighing in at pounds. While living prior to coming in the Corps he engaged in underwater fishing along the California coast. He was a tester of underwater equipment for Sealarge manufacturing company.

Smith and Marx, spearfishing sport and such underwater as the Los Angeles New Florida Coral King forward to outstanding here at Camp Lejeune. "It is a great place," Marx said.

'Unified' Field Ration Adopted; Canned Meats, Fancy Desserts

WASHINGTON (AFPS)—The first unified field ration has officially adopted by the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.

Jointly by the four services, the Armed Forces Standardization consists of 111 canned and other types of edible food items. It is for field kitchen facilities where refrigeration is not available. It covers three meals a day.

It replaces the present B-type ration of the Army and Air Force and the B-type rations of the Navy and Marine Corps. Refrigeration is available, each service will continue to serve its present A-type rations, which include fresh foods.

One of the major innovations in the new ration is the use of canned solid meats, instead of combination meat and vegetable items. Another new feature is the desserts, which include pastries, cakes and cookies.

The new ration will be issued as stocks of the present rations are exhausted. Following is a typical day's menu selected from the menu guide accompanying the ration:

- BREAKFAST
Citrus juice
Grilled sausage
Corn-meal griddle cakes
Maple syrup
Bread
Margarine
Jam
- DINNER
Vegetable soup
Crackers
Tomato chile meat sauce and macaroni
Buttered green lima beans

Interested in what a practicing psychiatrist thinks of comic books? Read what Dr. Frederic Wertham has to say in the Central Library's Numbah One offering this week:

NON-FICTION

Seduction of the Innocent, by Frederic Wertham. Rinehart, 397 pp.

A study of the effects of crime comic book reading on the minds and behavior of children. The author, a psychiatrist, presents case histories to emphasize his points. The book is certain to attract attention, and should help to make many parents and educators more aware of the very real dangers of this type of book on our children and society.

A Soldier's Record, by Albert Kesselring; translated by Lynton Hudson. Morrow, 381 pp.

Field Marshal Kesselring served his country on every important front and in various capacities, with air and ground troops and all-over staff, and finally replacing von Rundstedt as commander-in-chief of the already-collapsing West command. This is a military rather than a personal record, but reveals the frame of mind of a German general, even today completely convinced of the rightness of his role, although acknowledging the weaknesses which contributed to defeat.

FICTION

Dawning of the Day, by Elizabeth Ogilvie. McGraw, 308 pp.

Philippa Marshall, an attractive war widow goes to rugged Bonnett's island off the coast of Maine to teach in the little school. She wants favor of the children, but finds herself caught between two factions in the "lobster war". She finally is forced to decide whether to leave or marry one of the island men.

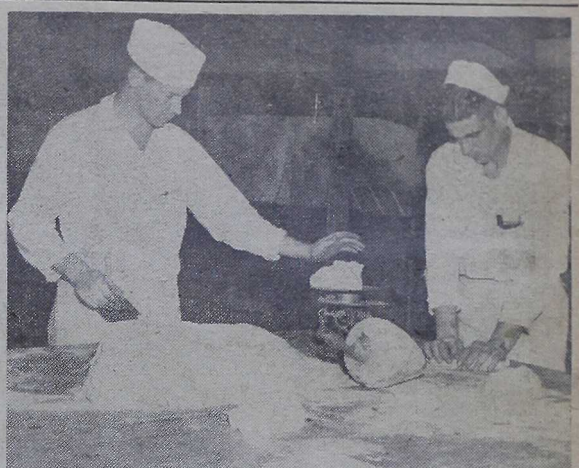

Heel, Rover Boy! Perk An Ear Here

"Here, Rover!"

The Provost Marshal has called your attention to Camp General Order 510-54 as a result of numerous complaints which have been received concerning four-legged trespassors in and around the Paradise Point golf courses and bird refuge.

According to paragraph 3, sub-paragraph (b), "Dogs which run at large and commit nuisances, including, but not restricted to, damage to private or government property, and about which two (2) or more complaints within any six-month (6) period are received by the Provost Marshal, will be considered a nuisance."

8th Bakery Co. In Field All Year Round; Can Provide Staff Of Life For Regiment

BY CPL. DON W. SHARPE

One of the few Force Troops units that operates year 'round under actual field conditions is the 8th Bakery Co. It furnishes the 2nd Combat Service Group with the staff of life three times a week.

The company, with facilities set up in the boondocks near Group headquarters, is on a rigid training schedule which provides for practical experience in all types of bread and pastry baking as well as large commercial baking methods.

Most members of the company are employed in making bread in the company's field bakery. A contingent of bakers is always employed in the Groups' mess hall where they provide all pastry, cakes and pies. A small group is sent with TRAEX maneuver forces to "augment bread rations in the field."

On the present stand-by basis, the company, under the direction of Lt. H. M. Eilks, is baking some 530 28-ounce loaves of bread every week.

Pride of the bakery is their "proof box," built entirely by hand by TSgts. G. W. Proffitt and B. J. Haddad. Usually, in a field bakery, "raising" of the dough before it can be baked depends almost entirely upon the weather. If it is warm, it rises rapidly. If it is cold, it takes quite a while. But the 8th's pride and joy, with the ingenious use of live steam, takes the uncertainty out of field baking.

At full strength the company can provide all the bread and pastry for Force Troops units. One section of 30 men can supply the bread ration—eight ounces of bread per man per day—for a regiment in the field.

Sgt. Orlando MSGT. ORLANDO was assigned to a Republic of Korea infantry division as a member of a Naval gunfire team.

He is a veteran of the World War II campaigns of North Africa, Saipan and Tinian.

CONGESTED AREA—This otherwise lonely stretch of Snead's Ferry road became a temporarily congested area Wednesday night last week when these three Lejeune autos staged a three-way squeeze. Here's the story, so they say: the Ford, left, and the Chrysler, right, sidwiped each other on a curve. The Ford stopped in the road with the door open, and the Chrysler backed up to "have words" with its driver. Around the curve came the Studebaker. It was dark. The driver claims he saw no tail light. The resulting tight fit left the scene above (Official USMC Photo).
