Christmas Message From Maj. Gen. Robinson

With the recurrence of the Christmas season, the whole world is drawn as if by a magnetic force to the consciousness of peace. The full significance of that thought is evident to every Marine, for since by his entry into the Corps, he has dedicated his life to the purveyance of peace. Wherever he has taken up his stand, whether in the steaming jungle or on the frozen ridge, in the intense heat of summer or the cold dead of winter, peace has risen in the wake of his footsteps, in the hearts of those who were reduced to poverty and misery because of tyranny. As a result of his experience, he is forcefully cognizant that there is no permanent victory in armies, in shells, in fleets, in armadas, whether in the air or on the sea.

Such a shifting unsettled foundation will never support a permanent peace. For enduring peace we must go to the real root of things, sink our shaft to bed rock and build on moral rights and obligations. Our foundation will be the individual man himself. In his respective obligations to his Maker, his fellow men and to himself.

We live today in a society which has the highest standard of living and marked progress in every field. Yet withal it wavers on the threshold of indecision, because of a pessimism engendered by uncertainty. An uncertain future is the

Holiday Greetings From Maj. Gen. Pollock

"To the officers and men of the Second Marine Division and their families, I wish to extend my sincerest best wishes for a most joyous Christmas and a very happy New Year. May the New Year also find a new and lasting peace for all of us in this great land of ours."

Camp At Xmas Parade Rest, Awaiting Santa

A helicopter visit by Santa Claus for over 1500 small fry, sumptuous Christmas dinners, and parties and big-name dance bands for personnel here over the holidays highlight the most lavish Christmas ever to be celebrated by the Marines of Camp Lejeune.

Major General Ray A. Robinson, base commanding general, in a 400-word Christmas message, renewed hopes for an early peace among men, to which Marines are dedicated. Major General E. A. Pollock, commanding general of the Second Marine Division, reiterated hopes for peace during the coming year in his holiday message.

Parties of all sorts, including dances with such name bands as Sully Mason and Freddie King, will occupy thousands of other camp personnel. Regular entertainment facilities, including base movies with first-run shows, have accelerated schedules to provide full holiday programs.

Special Religious Services Tonight, Christmas Day

Pausing on the Eve of the world's greatest anniversary date, Catholic and Protestant Camp Chapels plan extensive religious services tonight and tomorrow for all personnel wishing to attend.

This evening, Solemn High Midnight Mass will be broadcast over Station WJNC and will be celebrated by Chaplain Godfrey Reilly and assisted by Chaplain R. E. Brengartner, Chaplain J. T. Calahan and Chaplain R. F. Barlik as master of ceremonies. There will also be midnight masses at Tent Camp and at Area 6 Theatre. The Christmas Day masses will be at the Main Chapel at 0730, 0830, 0930 and 1030; at the Naval Hospital 0615; Camp Brig at 0730; Tent Camp at 0745; Courthouse Bay at 0900; Trailer Park at 0900; Montford Point at 0900; and Rifle Range at 1030.

Also scheduled for tonight, following a special Lutheran Communion Service at 1930, the traditional Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held at 2230, including the Christmas Choir Cantata, "Chimes of the Holy Night." Following this, at 2330, the Midnight Holy Communion (Episcopal) will be celebrated.

At 2200 Christmas Eve, Holy Communion will be celebrated at the Tent Camp Chapel and at 2230 a Candlelight Service will be held at the Montford Point Chapel.

On Christmas Day, Tuesday, 25 December, in the Camp Chapel, Holy Communion will be celebrated at 0900 and at 1030 the Christmas Service of Morning Worship will be held. The Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be broadcast from 2230 to 2330 over Station WJNC and will be conducted by Chaplain Abbot Peterson, Jr., Camp Chaplain, and Chaplain Robert W. Coe, Jr., Division Chaplain.

A Watch Night service at 11:30 p.m., New Year's Eve and two services the following day are scheduled.

Yuletide Parcelling Experts Have Business 'Under Wraps'

Having wrapped some 6000 Christmas packages, using more than a mile of wrapping paper since the beginning of the seasonal buying spree, the Central Exchange gift wrapping shop offers six-days-a-week service while you wait.

Located in the south end of the Camp Cleaning and Pressing Shop, Mrs. Wanda Wescott, chief gift wrapper, and her assistant, Mrs. Lois Ripley, have wrapped most everything from dainty lingerie to electric mix-masters. Anything larger or more cumbersome is usually decorated with an array of bows and ribbon.

Open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., the shop will gift wrap your packages and or wrap them for mailing, at a charge ranging from a dime to two dollars, depending on the size of package and desired wrapping. The average charge is about 20 cents, according to Mrs. Wescott, who rings up charges for more than 250 packages a day.

Proving that women, or interest therein, are still the compelling forces back of Christmas buying, lingerie, jewelry and mix-masters head the individual list of items brought to the shop for wrapping and mailing home.

STRESSING A POINT to secretary Mrs. Jane Crispin is Lt. Col. Alexander Stevenson, Officer in Charge of the O'Club. The Colonel was recalled to duty in July of last year and will be released right after Xmas. He'll go back into a partnership with his dad in Fall River, Mass. His business? Managing a couple of restaurants.

PI Band To Play At Orange Bowl

Parris Island's 110-piece band will be one of the main attractions on New Year's Day at the King Orange Jamboree in Miami.

During their busy schedule while in Miami, the band will lead the Jamboree Parade, be featured at halftime of the Georgia Tech and Baylor University football game on New Year's Day, and give several concerts.

A Christmas Retold

By MSGT. J. N.

A scrawny Christmas tree hung slowly in a steel helmet of hot air in the frozen earth of North Korea. That was Christmas, 1950, for the 1st Marine Division. This year, hundreds of them went home to celebrate a Christmas close to warm brick barracks and a traditional turkey dinner in gaily decorated homes. Their December withdrawal from that evacuated them to South Korea which they spent last Christmas was it was a dream of Christmas at the Chinese armies closed in for the kill. Most of the veterans spent last Christmas in Musan. There was a turkey dinner to do except sleep and write letters. A 21-year-old Bronze Star winner mind that day. Word that his mother operated on for cancer reached him was day he waited anxiously for a "It didn't come that day." Book still in the clothes I wore at the re Staff Sergeant William T. Stroud, at Ellenboro, N. C. Last year. CONT.

BACKFIELD LINEUP—The Camp Lejeune defensive platoon will see a lot of this Brooke Army Medical Center foursome Saturday night in Tampa's Cigar Bowl extravaganza. ## Grunt-And-Groan Season Opens; 5 Veterans Back

The grunt-and groan season is underway at Camp Lejeune.

Five holdovers from the squad that swept all 10 championships in Atlantic Fleet competition last spring greet Lt. Russell Skougaard, back at the helm for his second year as varsity wrestling coach.

The holdovers, all Atlantic Fleet titleholders, are Charles Barnhart (123 lbs.), Bob Hess (147 lbs.), Ned Hartman (157 lbs.), John Leese (191 lbs.) and Bill Norris (unlimited).

Norris was undefeated in 13 meets last year against college and service opponents, pinning 12 opposing grapplers and decisioning the other. Barnhart and Norris were both district AAU champs, and Hartman a runnerup.

Seven wrestling teams on the base—one each from the 2d, 6th, 8th, and 10th Marines, Division special and service troops, Force Troops, and Marine Barracks, will compete in a gigantic grappling smoker at Goettge Memorial Field House.

Pugilists Prep For Boxing Meet

A lack of small fellows, particularly flyweights, shapes up as one of boxing coach MSgt. Rex Williams' problems as pugilists around the camp began training for the base-wide tournament Jan. 15, from which the varsity boxing team will be chosen.

Tournament entry blanks are available at the Special Services office in the field house.

A recent National Boxing Association revision provides for 10-man teams in ten weights, instead of the former eight.

Last winter's boxing team was acclaimed one of the nation's best after a 5-3 victory over Philadelphia's National AAU champs. Those who show well in the tournament—win or lose—will form the nucleus for this year's squad.

Top two placers in the smoker will comprise the varsity team, which will meet collegiate and service teams all along the Eastern Seaboard before participating in Atlantic Fleet championships and Olympic eliminations.

Interested grapplers can learn exact tryout times and other information from their unit Special Services office.

Cage Team Takes Holiday 'Break'

Varsity basketball workouts resume later this week after a brief Christmas respite. Five games are scheduled for the first week after resumption of the schedule.

Thursday evening, January 3, Mitchell Air Force Base from New York City's environs plays here. The Bombers lost to CCNY, 85-74, in one recent outing—indicating storm signals ahead for Coach Phil Cohen's charges, although the City College lads were weakened somewhat by the purge of bribe-takers.

January 4, the cagers head North on the first road jaunt of the season—this one through the Dominion State of Virginia.

Saturday night, January 5, Quantico opposes the Lejeune array. Two evenings later, the Leatherneck troupe visits Fort Belvoir, on Tuesday night invades Camp Pickett, and closes out the tour the next evening by meeting Fort Lee.

The second home game of the new year will find the renewal of the Cherry Point rivalry a January 15 feature. Lejeune took a 51-48 decision in the first meeting this season between the teams.

SPECIAL BANK HOURS

The First-Citizens Bank & Trust Company of Jacksonville is now observing late afternoon check-cashing hours every Friday for convenience of civilians and service personnel. Hours are from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

MASTADONIC Stan Marczyk, it can safely be said, "fills" a defensive tackle position for Lejeune's Cigar Bowl opponent, Brooke Medical Center. The former North Carolina University player's weight is a modest, trim 305 pounds.

Devil Pups Idle Until Jan. 4

The Camp Lejeune High Devil Pups are idle, game-wise, until January 4, when they travel to Wallace to meet the Bulldogs. Four days later, a home attraction with Magnolia High is carded for the field house.

The Pups lost a 56-42 decision to their alumni Wednesday night at the field house, with Floyd Propst, last year's high scorer and currently a frosh sensation at North Carolina, topping scorers with 24 points.

LATER COVERAGE

Deadlines for this special holiday issue of the GLOBE were too early to permit coverage of Saturday's sports events, details of which will be covered in the special New Year's issue, out next Monday.

These events included the Camp Lejeune varsity vs. Force Troops All-Stars football game and the basketball tilt between the camp cagers and Hazel Waker's Arkansas Travelers.

Camp At Rest

Service clubs have stocked everything that will make their contribution to Christmas the best ever in the camp's 10-year history.

Commissary and food supply personnel are straining supply sources to provide commodities that will be turned into the most lavish Christmas dinner possible anywhere for base personnel.

Half of Lejeune's personnel have been granted Christmas leave and the other half will get New Year's furloughs—of 10 days duration. In addition, many others remaining to keep key functions in operation will be granted 72-hour passes, enabling nearby residents to be home for Christmas Day.

Lights are burning late in the post offices. Mail orderlies' trucks and backs are burdened with the deluge of mail cascading over the base. Postal personnel are busy

Camp Underdog For Cigar Bowl Game At Tampa, Fla.

Traditional Marine esprit de corps on the football field will receive a grueling test in Tampa, Florida's charity Bowl game Saturday night, when the Lejeune eleven, top-heavy favorite Brooke Army Medical Center from Sam Houston, Texas.

Two reasons for the top-heavy sentiment favoring "the fighting pill-rollers" are the plentitude of gridiron greats in the Brooke lineup and Brooks has a record of one loss—that one by 27-13 to Carswell Air Force Base's national service football champions.

Coach Joe Donahoe's Leathernecks have been at their best in meetings with name stars and teams this year. The sentiment of a large part of the expected crowd of 15,000 will be with the underdog Marines, and that will be a tremendous help to the hard-working gridders.

In the Brooke lineup are big-name men to make an ailing coach shudder. Claytor, Minnesota University American and Green Bay All-Pro center, plays on offense and defense.

Randy Clay, the Texas who won rookie honors New York Giants last fall heads the Comet offense average gain of eight yards and is the leading scorer points on eight TD's and kick conversions. In addition is a defensive ace.

Close to Clay as co-ground-gainers are Bubba of Texas (7.6-yard average Barry of the New York (7.4 yards a try), and Rogers of Midwestern (6.9 yards attempt). In addition to the who are the offensive work there are a number of ad pro performers in the b such as Joe Tidwell of the York Yankees and Carl D of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Top-notch linemen include Joe Ethridge of the Gre Packers and SMU, tackle James of the Los Angeles guard Bobby Beale of the Francisco 49'ers, and 305-p defensive tackle Stan Marczyk University of North Carolina.

Lejeune will be missing John Schuetzner, who took serve release to inactive duty the PI game. Otherwise, the up will have a familiar look.

Bob Goodfellow and Jim will probably man the o end positions, Frank Lette Dave McConnell at tackles Combs and Wit Bacaus guards, Ken Schoff at center Pictor or Bill Minahan at back, George Greco and Jim at halfbacks, and Gene Wisn at full.

The defensive platoon, which includes such dependable seasons as Carl Planholt, Yahn, Jack Kroll, Bill M Jim Ruehl, Ed Johnson, and Gigli, can be counted on for of trouble. The often-unsung of the defensive platoon have distinguished themselves in a n of crises throughout the season.

Although the Brooke record seven victories in eight games far superior to Lejeune's, Medics played only three foes could be classed with nearly 12 opponents met by the Lejeune. It's this tough schedule and the Marine tradition of retreating—on which localers rest their hopes for an up, the Marines' biggest bowl since Marine Island went to the Bowl in 1918.

NURSERY OPEN

Midway Park's Nursery will open from 1930 to 0100 for New Years Eve Dance, to be at the Staff NCO Club.

Mrs. R. Phillips announces charges as follows: $1.15 for first and 35c for each additional in each family. Overtime charges in effect at 0100.

Special Train Leaves Camp Tomorrow Night For Tampa

A special train carrying the football team, band, and a small delegation of fans will leave Camp Lejeune for Tampa Christmas night.

The 46-man football squad will be dwarfed by bhand members and others on the train, which will pull into the camp's industrial area to pick up the entourage. They are expected to arrive in Tampa Wednesday, following which practice drills through Friday will prep the gridders for the Saturday night tilt.

Heavy work for the footballers carried through this morning, when a recess was called so that the athletes who are married and have their wives living on or near the post could spend Christmas eve and Christmas day with their families. The Brooke football team will precede Lejeune to the site of Cigar Bowl tussle, leaving Tampa by train Saturday and arriving in the Florida east coast metropolis Sunday.

The Cigar Bowl will mark the final appearance of many Lejeune gridders under Marine auspices since several of them are due for release. At least three National Professional football league team cognizant of this, have been watering and in some cases telephoning the boys here.

The Green Bay Packers, Washington Redskins, and New York Giants have professed an interest in such Lejeunemen as Aug Yahn, Paul Sweezy, Jack Kroll, Frank Lettner, and the recently released John Schuetzner.

ROUND THE TREE—This Xmas tree adorns the "living" home of the Women Marines away from home. Unlike last year's, the girls have gifts laid out ten days before Christmas. Lt. Betty Preston has words of praise for the decorations. Pfc Esther Rengers, behind the lieutenant; Pfc Esther standing; and Cpl. Mary Moran, seated, right. Pfc "Buster" is obviously comfortable, is more concerned with the camera (USMC Photo).

Youngsters Enjoy Christmas Party

Youngsters from the Odd-Orphanage in Goldsboro, N.C., a taste of Marine Corps life yesterday when they camp Lejeune for a Christmas party given for them by the Staff Non-Commissioned Officer's Club.

The fry, ranging in age from 6 to 18, were brought here by a day-trip program of activity.

Following church services in the chapel, the guests were taken to Mess Hall Nine for a day dinner. Afterwards, the youngsters with skits, and show routines at their room. An afternoon movie up the entertainment of the affair.

At the Xmas party got underway last Wednesday, when a Corps vehicle stopped in the orphanage to deliver gifts, worth of ham, fruit, rice, corn, etc., purchased by the Camp Commissary. There they were Mr. J. H. Caulperintendent of the Orphan-

UN Service Medal OK'd for Americans

Presidential approval has been given eligible United States military personnel to wear the United Nations Service Medal, awarded by the UN General Assembly, the "Army Navy Air Force Register" reports.

Those eligible to receive the medal include members of land, sea, and air forces dispatched to Korea or adjacent areas for service on behalf of the UN. Service must have been performed between June 27, 1950 and a terminal date to be announced by the Secretary-General of the United Nations.

The medal, suspended from a ribbon of alternating white and blue stripes, is of bronze alloy, bearing on one side the United Nations emblem and on the other an inscription, "For Service in Defense of the Principles of the Charter of the United Nations."

Burns To Death In Car Crash Here

Cpl. Julius Hilton Fulp, Jr., was burned to death Thursday morning when the vehicle in which he was riding crashed into another and then burst into flames in the Industrial Area here.

The driver of the death car, S/Sergeant Nicholas Bosco escaped with slight burns. The motorist of the other vehicle, Cpl. Robert Szymanski received slight injuries. Cause of the accident is under investigation.

MERCURY STAYS LOW

Partly cloudy throughout the week. Low temperatures hovering between 30-35 with highest temp in the low 50. Possibly clearing over Sunday and Monday.

Corps' Chief Extends Best Wishes

Commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. Clifton B. Cates, expresses his personal yuletide greetings to Marine Corps and associated personnel, in the following statement.

"At this yuletide season, my warm personal greetings go out to all ranks of the Marine Corps and their families, and to the loyal civil service personnel at Marine Corps posts and stations throughout the world. It is my earnest hope that all will enjoy a most pleasant Christmas holiday and a New Year's full of promise.

I join in the fervent prayer of freedom-loving people everywhere that the coming year will find the nations of the world closer to a full realization of the peace and good will of which the angels sang on the first Christmas night."

Korea Parody

Lt. Col. Darrell T. Rathbun, of St. Petersburg, Fla., has written this version of "The Night Before Christmas":

A KOREAN CHRISTMAS CAROL
'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the tent
Was the odor of fuel oil (the stovepipe was bent)

The shoe packs were hung by the oil stove with care;
In the hope that they'd issue each man a new pair.

The weary GIs were sacked-out in their beds,
And visions of sugar-babes danced through their heads.

When up on the ridge-line there rose such a clatter
(A Chinese machine gun had started to chatter).

I rushed to my rifle and threw back the bolt.
The rest of my tent-mates awoke with a jolt.

Outside we could hear our platoon Sergeant Kelly
A hard little man with a little pot belly.

"Come Yancey, come Clancey, come Connors and Watson,
Up Miller, up Shiller, up Baker and Dodson!"

We tumbled outside in a swirl of confusion
So cold that each man could have used a transfusion.

"Get up on that hill-top and silence that Red."
"And don't you come back 'til you're sure that he's dead."

Then, putting his thumb up in front of his nose,
Sergeant Kelly took leave of us shivering Jones.

But we all heard him say in a voice soft and light:
"Merry Christmas to all—may you live through the night!"

Hobby Shop Opens

The Hobby Shop announces its initial opening on January 7, at 1800, in the Industrial Arts Department of Camp Lejeune's High School.

Work hours are scheduled on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesdays from 1800 to 2100; Saturdays from 1300 to 1700.

Instruction in ceramics will be offered on Tuesday and Wednesdays; woodcraft on Monday and Saturdays. You are instructed to bring your own lumber.

OUTSTANDING LEADERSHIP seven years and six ranks ago wins the Bronze Star Medal for Second Lieutenant Thomas F. Maney as he is decorated by Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, commanding general of the Second Marine Division. Manley won the award for his exploits as a private first class at Saipan.

BRIGHTEN THE CORNER—Every ward in the U. S. Naval Hospital is dressed up for the holidays; each vying with the others for the most attractive display. This one was chosen at random to represent the hospital. Mary Grant, HMC, admires the Xmas tree decorated by Pvt. Verne K. Snyder, a patient. Ensign Susan Shamshoian, Navy Nurse Corps, straightens a bit of tangled tinsel.

Special 'Scoop' On Movies

Hollywood is sending Camp Lejeune bigger and better movies, as the following list will attest.

None of these features have been booked in the base theatres as yet. However, Camp Lejeune theatres are fortunate in obtaining almost all top productions, and pre-release (before civilian theatre pictures).

The following is intended only as a "preview of coming attractions":

"I'll See You in My Dreams," life-story of Gus Kahn, starring Doris Day and Danny Thomas.

"Wild Blue Yonder," story of the B-29's in WW II, with Wendell Corey and Vera Ralston.

"Red Mountain," a Civil War epic, starring Alan Ladd and Elizabeth Scott.

"I Want You," with Dana Andrews, Dorothy McGuire and Farley Granger in a story dealing with a returning soldier to war.

"Lone Star," a technicolor western, starring Clark Gable and Ava Gardner.

"Belle of New York," a technicolor musical, with Fred Astaire and Vera Ellen.

"Singin' in the Rain," another technicolor musical, starring Gene Kelly and Debbie Reynolds.

"Sailor Beware," new Dean-Martin-Jerry Lewis comedy.

"Son of Paleface," a technicolor comedy, with Bob Hope and Jane Russell.

"Something to Live For," a comedy, starring Joan Fontaine and Ray Milland.

"Quiet Man," starring John (out of uniform) Wayne and Maureen O'Hara.

"On Dangerous Ground," a melodrama, starring Ida Lupino and Robert Ryan.

"Jet Pilot," starring John (in uniform) Wayne and Janet Leigh.

"Pride of St. Louis," a sports drama, starring Dan Dailey and Joanne Dru.

"Red Skies of Montana," with Richard Widmark, in an adventure western drama.

"African Queen," a technicolor African drama, starring Humphrey Bogart and Katherine Hepburn.

"Bend of the River," a western, with Jimmy Stewart.

"Battle of Apache Pass," western, with Jeff Chandler.

Two "Francis, the Clown" pictures, "Ma and Pa Kettle" featuring "Room for One More," a comic drama, starring Cary Grant and Betsy Drake.

"Retreat Hell!," story of Marine Division in Korea, starring Frank Lovejoy and Richard Widmark.

"Where's Charley?" a starring Ray Bolger.

"Crimson Pirate," in technicolor, with Burt Lancaster.

"Okinawa," starring Paul and Richard Denning. (Pick in this one either!)

Xmas Eve Was At J'ville USO

All Lejeune servicemen, particularly their families, invited to join in merriment on the tree tonight at the J'ville USO-NCCS Christmas Eve party.

Carols, games, and treasure hunt were just a few of the entertainment features on deck.

The strains of "Auld Lang Syne" will echo in the USO's ballroom Wednesday night with the Year Dance helping to raise the old year. Woman Marine local hostesses, plus girls from the fund-raising drive, will be on hand.

A special movie and entertainment is planned for Christmas. Extra help will also be on hand throughout the holiday season at the attended telephone to facilitate those calls.

The club will be open from 11 p.m. every day as usual.

Pfc 'On Report' By Army MPs

Most Marines could think of at least several better ways to spend their time than being "on report"—but Pfc Donald K. Turner of H & S Bn., Marine Barracks, not at all disturbed about being in a state.

Turner was recently put "on report" to his headquarters by the Colorado Military Police Detachment while on leave in December. Referring to the member of the Transport Co., the "indictment" states he was clean shaven and hair neatly trimmed.

"His uniform," it continues, "is clean and neatly pressed, and highly polished," and "he was courteous and cooperative toward the Military Police when he checked his orders."

Summing up, the Army post stated "Both his appearance and manner were a credit to his organization and the service, exemplary of high military standards."

Screen Stars Visit Troops Overseas

A gala array of Hollywood stars will pay Christmas visits to troops in the Far East, Europe, Africa and the Caribbean. Among those going to the Far East are Pfc Douglas, Gary Cooper, Jan Sterling and Mala Powers. Keenan Wynn, Walter Pidgeon, Debbie Reynolds and Audrey Totter are included in the European contingent.

Ray Milland heads the Alaskan bound array. Aiming for the Caribbean will be such luminaries as Burt Hawk, Richard Arlen, Marjorie Johnson, and Forrest Tucker.

"You never notice the resemblance until this time of year!"

"That noise on the roof had better be Santa Claus! — I'm out of ammunition!"

A Christmas Story Retold

Japan, with two frozen feet to remind him of a rearguard stand on a bleak hilltop. To others, like Sgt. Jerome D. Tuttle of Delhi, N. Y., the day brought the first mail in weeks, including Christmas packages from his family.

"In a way, it was a pretty good Christmas," Tuttle insists. "I was so darned happy to get out of that reservoir alive that I didn't mind a little frostbite in my feet."

"I just sat there soaking my toes and admiring our Christmas tree decorated with beer cans. Empty ones, of course," he added.

Master Sgt. Arthur C. Larson calls Camp Lejeune home this year and will celebrate the day here with his wife, Sarah, and their daughter, Rhonda. Last Christmas the 31-year-old veteran of six World War II campaigns was in Kobe, Japan, rounding up fire direction equipment to replace that lost in combat. That was their Christmas last year, short days after bursting the Red ring of steel at the Chosin Reservoir. To reach the Allied beachhead at Hungnam, they had fought back 56 miles through sub-zero cold and hills swarming with enemy troops.

The men of the First left blood behind on the snow, but their dead and wounded they brought out with them. Bearded, battered, and stubbornly unbeaten, the survivors came down from the hills and went south to fight again.

The bare brown hills of the old Pusan perimeter would gladden no eyes this year, but few veterans of the First will ever spend a Christmas in more welcome surroundings. They had literally come out of the Valley of Death.
