MP Company conducts training at LA County Central Jail

STORY AND PHOTOS BY GUSTAVO BAHENA
Warrior Staff Writer

Unless you've run the Los Angeles marathon, chances are you haven't had traffic in L.A. temporarily halted so you can get your morning jog in.

But that's just how Fort Irwin Military Police Company noncommissioned officers began their day April 28, when they ran three miles through the streets of downtown Los Angeles.

Sheriffs' patrol cars from the L.A. County Central Jail paused vehicular traffic as the formation of Soldiers and a few sheriffs made their way past L.A. City Hall and freeway overpasses.

The run kicked off a day of NCO professional development for the military police officers. They had the opportunity to conduct their training with Los Angeles County Sheriffs at the jail facility they oversee in downtown L.A. The opportunity did not come about by luck, however. During the past year, the MPs have formed partnerships with Los Angeles area police agencies, which have been able to provide officers as trainers, advisers, role players and evaluators. During several training events, MPs have received guidance that augments their military police expertise with civilian law enforcement skills.

During the training at the jail, MPs focused on four areas that are requirements of NCO

The following are a sampling of ICE submissions at Fort Irwin in the past three weeks. If the customer requests a response, Service providers are expected to respond to the customer within three business days and post follow-up notes in ICE.

Freedom Fitness Center

Customer Comment: The gym was placed here for Soldiers and dependents. The civilian contractors are taking up all the weights and space during military lunch period. One of the gyms should be off limits to non-military personel during lunch. as Soldiers, we do not have a lot of time on our hands; lunch time is very valuable. Agency Response: I checked with the manager from Freedom Fitness Center regarding your concerns today, and this is his response: If the customer is a Soldier or military, they always have the right to go to the front of the line, and if they talk to me or our staff, we will displace any contractor for these military customers. The key is we must know about their plight, and we will come to their aid. I pulled the hourly count for the 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. hours and we had a total of 32 people from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, and 21 people from 12 to 1 p.m. We had quite a few of those in the basketball court — at least 16 customers. We are not sure if you are talking about today or another day, but please know that

MEMORANDUM FOR All Soldiers, Civilians and Family Members of United States Army Forces Command

SUBJECT: Armed Forces Day Message for 15 May 2010

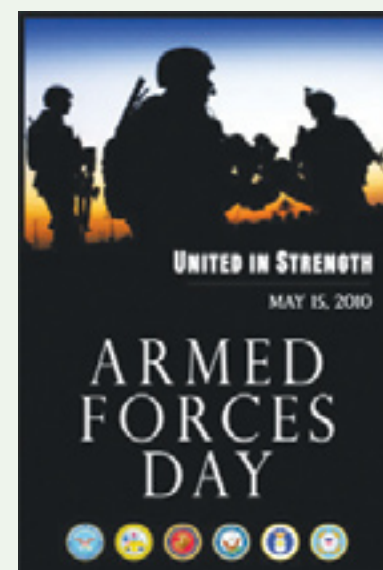

1. "United in Strength" is the theme for the 61st anniversary of Armed Forces Day planned for 15 May 2010. Each year since 1949, Americans pause on the third Saturday in May to show gratitude for the commitment, dedication, and sacrifice of the men and women in our nation's military.
2. The national significance of this annual observation perhaps was best summed up by President John F. Kennedy during his message to the nation in 1962: "Guard zealously your right to serve in the Armed Forces, for without them, there will be no other rights to guard." Those profound words ring true today for each Soldier, Active or Reserve Component. Each of you volunteered to defend the way of life we cherish. Joined by your brothers and sisters in arms from the Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and Coast Guard, you are vital to our continued national security.
3. During the past year, America's Army demonstrated courage and compassion time and again in Iraq, Afghanistan, and over 100 other nations. But, it was not just in battle that you proved your mettle. When the devastating earthquake hit Haiti in January 2010, American Soldiers and Army Civilians rushed to aid the people of the small island nation. There are countless other examples of this ethos, bravery, and selfless service.
4. Your service makes U.S. Army Forces Command and the citizens of this great country proud and grateful that you choose to live your life by your oath to "support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic." Thank you for your service and sacrifice. Army Strong!

Armed Forces Day "United in Strength" Saturday, May 15, 2010

President Harry S. Truman led the effort to establish a single holiday for citizens to come together and thank our military members for their patriotic service in support of our country.

On August 31, 1949, Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson announced the creation of an Armed Forces Day to replace separate Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force Days. The single-day celebration stemmed from the unification of the Armed Forces under one department — the Department of Defense

Armed Forces Day — America's Patriotic Day for Celebration

BY BOB LUCAS

Commentator

May 15 is a Saturday and is the day to fire up the barbeque, kick back with a brew or two (cool-aide), cherish our families, invite relatives and our soldiers to join us and to thank our Armed Forces for their service to our country. Armed Forces day is always on the third Saturday of May each year and started in August 1949 as a means to replace separate Army, Navy Marine Corps and Air Force Days. The single-day celebration stemmed from the unification of the Armed Forces under the Department of Defense.

The actual first day of celebration was May 20, 1950. Armed Forces Day is the one day we pay special tribute to the men and women of all services throughout the world...to honor and acknowledge the people of the Armed Forces of the United States. The Armed Forces Day honors are bestowed upon all five services; the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, and Coast Guard.

It is a day for the military services to show state of the art equipment to Americans. Parades, open houses, air shows, and receptions were standard practices at many of the Armed Forces Day celebrations. One of the closest and largest celebrations is in Torrance, California. The city will celebrate the 51st Annual Armed Forces Day the weekend of May 14-16. The City of Torrance is one of the few cities in the nation designated by the U.S. Department of Defense to host an Armed Forces Day celebration. The parade has the distinction of being the nation's longest running military parade sponsored by any city.

Attendees are comprised of senior commanders of major military installations (to include Brig. Gen. Robert Abrams, Commanding General of the National Training Center at Fort Irwin), Congressional Medal of Honor recipients, state-elected officials, and many other dignitaries.

This is a very worthwhile extravaganza to attend and to enjoy. Recommend you secure a computer and log on to <http://www.torrnet.com> for more information.

May 14 (Friday) from 10 am-7 p.m. is the military exhibits which include aircraft, vehicles and support equipment.

May 15 (Saturday) from 1 pm-3:30 p.m. is the parade honoring the men and women of our Armed Forces.

May 16 (Sunday) is more exhibits in the parking lot west of the lifestyle Wing Parking structure.

The exhibits end at 3 p.m. this day. As a last note, did I forget to thank the readership of this newspaper? "Thank you for serving."

If not, I do indeed thank each of you for your continued service to our country. It is a big deal!

Fort Irwin community supports Bone Marrow Drive

BY GUSTAVO BAHENA
Warrior Staff Writer

Seven hundred seventy.
That is the number of people on Fort Irwin who were registered on Monday into the Department of Defense Marrow Donor Program.

They all provided a swab sample taken from the inside of the mouth that will be processed into a database. That's all it takes to be part of the National Marrow Donor Registry. Once you're inputted into the registry, you will become part of the 6 million people in the registry, including 400,000 service members. Your information in the registry can be compared to patients who require a bone marrow transplant. There are thousands of people who await transplants each day, and you can potentially help reduce those numbers by joining the registry. If you are determined to be a match, more tests are conducted before you donate — and remember, more than 90 percent of bone marrow donations involved just donating blood.

Service members, spouses, and DoD employees, who are in good health and of ages 18-60, can register today and tomorrow. Register today at the 24-hour Shoppettes and Class Six Stores, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. You can also register tomorrow at the Post Exchange and Commissary, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Bring the kids out tomorrow, so they can check out the fire truck display by the Fort Irwin Fire Department.

Michelle Murphy, a military spouse here, spoke on radio station KNTC from the Public Affairs Office to inform Fort Irwin about the opportunity the community has to be part of the donor program. Murphy also spoke about her personal connection to this cause. Her sister-in-law, Jennifer, had been waiting for a marrow transplant to combat her disease, acute lymphoblastic leukemia. By coincidence, Murphy and her family received a call on the morning of the radio interview that Jennifer had received her transplant.

Murphy was inspired by Jennifer's plight to initiate and coordinate the donor registration drive on Fort Irwin. Because DoD subsidizes the cost of processing, participants are able to register for free.

"There's no cost to anybody military, which is a gift," Murphy said. "For a person to register their marrow, out in the civilian community, it's upwards of $55 to $100 per person. This program, this DoD marrow program, its truly a gift for military individuals."

Soldiers and spouses can also register with a number of units on post. Units conducting registrations include 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, 916th Support Brigade, Operations Group, U.S. Army Medical Department Activity, Dental Activity and U.S. Army Garrison.

Smog Check Station opens for business

Warrior Staff Writer

For the first time, the community on Fort Irwin will be able to have their vehicles smog inspected on post. Following a ribbon cutting ceremony on April 26, led by Col. James Chevallier, garrison commander, and Command Sgt. Maj. Mark Harvey, garrison command sergeant major, the Firestone tire shop put into operation a Smog Check Station inside one of its service bays. Prior to the new service, Fort Irwin's California vehicle owners had to go exclusively off-post to have their cars inspected. Now with an appointment, drivers can have their vehicles inspected and passed. If a vehicle does not pass, drivers can be referred to off-post locations for repairs.

Army and Air Force Exchange Service on Fort Irwin was instrumental in establishing the service, making it an AAFES concession, said Chester Hires, director of AAFES here.

"For the community, it's going to be an excellent benefit," Hires said. "It's the first ever smog station for AAFES, so this is good, and a learning experience for us as well."

To make a reservation, call Firestone at 386-3399 or stop by the tire shop on Langford Lake Road.

Garrison commander, Col. James Chevallier, cuts ceremonial ribbon that officially opens Smog Check Station.

Sgt. Fuzzbuddy's

Customer comment: My family recently had to go on emergency leave due to the death of a family member. We boarded our dog with Sgt. Fuzzbuddy's here on post. During our leave, our dog ran out of his medication. The staff took it upon themselves to have his medication refilled and even picked it up at the pharmacy. When we returned to Fort Irwin and went in to pick our dog up, we were told there would be no charge for the boarding, and to please accept their condolences for the loss of our brother. What an unexpected blessing! It goes to show that there are good people on this installation, and to some service providers, service really does matter! I will definitely recommend Sgt. Fuzzbuddy's to everyone. Words cannot adequately express the gratitude that we feel for their kindness. Agency Response: Thank you very much for this lovely ICE comment about our contractor Sgt. Fuzzbuddy's. We are very pleased to have them with us servicing our Fort Irwin Community.

They are wonderful people and I would give them my dogs to care for anytime. Thank you again — MWR director.

Customer Comment: I am very unsatisfied with our pharmacy. Two hours to get your script is way too long. When they call your number, they should be filling your meds, not having you sit back down for another 30 minutes to fill. This has happened to me several times in the last few weeks. VERY IR-RATATING! Agency Response: Comment was reviewed by MEDDAC leadership, but customer was not responded to as no contact information was left by customer.

Customer Comment: On Easter weekend, we had to take our daughter to the urgent care facility. The staff did an awesome job. Everyone (the person who signed us in, the medic, the nurse, the doctors) had a great attitude and worked quickly to get my little one back to 100 percent. I feel very fortunate that I have such great resources available when I need them. Agency Response: Comment was reviewed by MEDDAC leadership, but customer was not responded to as no contact information was left by customer.

Professional Development (NCOPD) events, said 1st Sgt. Bobby Estrada, first sergeant, MP Company. The NCOs, ranging from corporal to sergeant first class, were required to: conduct physical training together; perform leadership development by identifying key areas for advancement; gain knowledge in the field of taking care of Soldiers; and eat a meal together.

The law enforcement training that day centered on several areas, which were practiced by way of situations with role players. The MPs responded to scenarios involving the following: an active shooter in a public place; a domestic disturbance call; and responding to a drunk in public. They also received instruction on procedures for searching, controlling, and arresting a suspect.

"Today, they will be learning from a leader aspect," Estrada said. "So, when they respond to an incident, they know how to manage that incident. They're thinking like leaders instead of thinking like initial responders. That's the two-in-one – they learning how to be a leader at incident management and how to take care of your people at an incident."

Instrumental with coordinating the training event was Sheriff Lt. Edward Godfrey, a watch commander at the Men's Central Jail, with approximately more than 30 years of service with the L.A. County Sheriff's Department. Godfrey also serves in the Army National Guard out of Los Alamitos, Calif., as a sergeant whose duties include providing training to military police units in California. Godfrey said the purpose of the scenarios presented to the MPs that day was geared towards creating a mindset of leadership and success.

"Law enforcement is universal throughout the United States, but we're at the cutting edge here," said Godfrey, who works for the largest Sheriff's department in the free world. "[The MPs] are getting the best training available, that's cutting edge, from the L.A. Sheriff's Department."

One of the scenarios the NCOs practiced included responding to a domestic disturbance call. Two sheriffs portrayed a couple involved in a dispute at home, and as MPs arrived to the scene, the woman became more agitated and confrontational. Sheriff's Sgt. Jennifer Barsh, playing the woman, threw a chair and shouted at her "spouse" before an MP restrained her and snapped on handcuffs. She was not searched thoroughly, and once the scenario concluded, Barsh revealed she had been hiding a dummy 8-inch knife in her waistband. The handling of the woman during the scenarios became one focus of the After Action Review.

Barsh stressed to the MPs that women have to be approached, restrained, and searched in a manner similar to male suspects.

"The women ... will sometimes be your primary aggressor," Barsh said. "Put the handcuffs on them and separate [the couple]."

Sgt. Stephen Westfall, an MP in the traffic accident investigation section, said the training provided was outstanding and one of the better NCOPD events he's participated in. He commented that typical NCOPD events are not that interactive and can be relegated to prolonged discussions about improvements. He appreciated and understood the feedback from Barsh regarding the approach to women suspects. We can't be hesitant in dealing with female suspects, said Westfall.

"An NCOPD like this one allows us a first-hand look at civilian law enforcement, which we can pass on to our Soldiers," Westfall said. "If you can pass this level of training to Soldiers ... whether you're a day-one private or a seasoned [sergeant first class], you're going to benefit. This is the practical. This is what's going to happen out in the streets. By learning it now, here, it can benefit not only us, but the community of Fort Irwin as well."

The MP Company on Fort Irwin is the only active duty MP company in California, and having a training relationship with the Sheriffs in L.A. has proven to be a huge benefit, said Capt. Jason Kim, commander of the MP unit. Kim appreciated the group of sheriffs for sharing their expertise and facilities for the training.

"Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department is full of patriots who want to help us out," Kim said. "In the end, the benefit is for the Fort Irwin community. Our Soldiers are that much better in whatever tasks they're doing today, whether it's domestic violence, active shooter - any of those skills. The partnership makes them better, too. We happen to be in Southern California, which is the knowledge bed of law enforcement. This is where the larger departments are located, so we have to tap into that resource."

Battalion Mass Casualty Exercise

Testing unit medical responsiveness, crisis incident ability

BY TIMOTHY GORMAN

General Support Aviation Battalion
Battalion Operations Chief

On April 8, the General Support Aviation Battalion (GSAB) flexed its aviation muscle by conducting a Battalion Mass Casualty (MASCAL) exercise in order to test the battalion's medical responsiveness and ability to handle a crisis incident should one take place in or around the Fort Irwin community.

The MASCAL simulated a traffic accident taking place in the box between a Mine Resistant Ambush Protected (MRAP) vehicle, several Humvee vehicles, and approximately 14 injured Soldiers. Soldiers from the Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, GSAB and Aviation Company (AVCO) simulated casualties. Two simulated man dummies were used to replicate two pinned passengers inside a vehicle.

Immediately upon receiving notification of the accident, the Air Ambulance Detachment (AAD) launched their 1st UP helicopter, arriving onsite within 15 minutes of the accident. After conducting an initial assessment of the scene, a radio call was sent back to AAD's Operations Center alerting the unit that a MASCAL situation had taken place. With the knowledge that time is vital, and thoughts that "if you lose time, you lose lives," in the back of their minds, the air crew and medics on shift immediately sprang into action, rushing with medical supplies and aid-bags in hand in order to get to the site of the accident, so they could assess and treat the casualties.

After arriving on site, the medics worked to calm shocked Soldiers while creating a casualty collection point in order to begin treating injured Soldiers. At the casualty collection point, medics, along with members of the Fort Irwin Fire Department who had now arrived at the location, worked diligently to stabilize the casualties in order to prepare them for air evacuation.

For more information go to www.irwin.army.mil tion to the next level of medical treatment. Fire Department personnel jumped into action with the 'Jaws of Life' and extracted the two simulated casualties trapped in the vehicle.

Based on the number of casualties, helicopters from AVCO at Barstow-Daggett were called to reinforce the effort and arrived within an hour. Eventually, there were seven General Support Aviation Battalion (GSAB) helicopters involved in the exercise and one Eagle Flight Detachment OH-58 A/C replicating a civilian Mercy Air helicopter.

Months of planning had led up to this battalion-level exercise in order to assess the competence and response time of GSAB's Medical Evacuation (MEDEVAC) and Casualty Evacuation (CASEVAC) capabilities.

Coordination was made with several of Fort Irwin's tenant organizations to include Weed Army Hospital Staff, NTC Fire Department and Operations Group Eagle Team.

"Hopefully something like this will never happen, but just in case, this exercise allowed us to identify any chokepoints that we may have had allowing us to be better prepared to serve the Fort Irwin community should a real-world MASCAL incident take place," said Lt. Col. Greg Peterson, battalion commander, GSAB.

This exercise served as a tool to bring aviators and emergency responders at Fort Irwin together in order to understand what it would be like to conduct an air evacuation for a real life medical emergency. By providing a stressful sense of realism, it enhanced emergency response preparedness for all participants at the National Training Center.

Community benefits at Family Resiliency Training

The goal of the Family Resiliency Training is to strengthen the bond on families and draws many of its pillars from the Army's Comprehensive Soldier Fitness program. The focus of this 916th Support Brigade-hosted FRT was 'Affair-proofing Marriages' and occurred at the Sandy Basin Community Center, April 21.

Riding gear for ATV, dirt bike safety tips

BY DALE DOMEK

Garrison Safety Office
Deputy Garrison Safety Officer

The nature of ATV and dirt bike riding demands that you wear protective clothing. Although complete protection is not possible, knowing what to wear and how to wear it can make you feel more comfortable when you ride and reduce the chance of injury.

Never operate an ATV or dirt bike without an approved helmet, eye protection, boots, gloves, long pants, and a long-sleeved shirt or jacket.

It is important to protect your skin from scratches. A long-sleeved shirt or jersey and long pants are minimum requirements for rider protection. Off-highway riding gear such as off-highway pants with kneepads, jersey, and chest/shoulder protectors provides better protection. You can look stylish and ready for action, and still be well protected.

For more information please call the Garrison Safety Office at 380-7708. Bella the Garrison Safety Bee says "Words to live by: I'm S.A.F.E — Staying Accident Free Everyday!"
