Commander's Commentary

Col. James Matthey, 513th Air Control Group commander

Why?

Welcome to the April 2023 UTA weekend! I titled this article “Why?” to solicit your response about why you serve. Of course, we all have our reasons for putting on this uniform. For some, it’s about retirement or educational benefits. For others, it’s about travel, saving money, adventure, or job security. But, for most of us, it’s about purpose, being part of something larger than ourselves, serving fellow Americans, and defending our nation. For me, it’s the service to this nation and paying it forward. And as fourth-generation military, it’s almost a family business.

I’ve enjoyed a 29-year career and have seen our world transition from a polarized cold-war nuclear world to a mono-polar world led by the U.S. Today, the world is in arguably the most dangerous era I can remember. As a result, the need to defend our homes is greater now than at any other time in our history. Threats from China, Russia, North Korea, and Iran, combined with threats from other non-state and terrorist groups at home and abroad, pose a clear and present danger to our families and our way of life.

As recently as last week, Iranian-backed groups targeted and killed an American civilian and injured five American service members in Syria. During our joint exercise with South Korea, North Korea fired multiple ICBMs, SRBMs and strategic cruise missiles from submarines. Earlier, China sent a spy balloon over the U.S., and the U.S. is constantly bombarded by cyber-attacks focused on intellectual property, critical infrastructure, and espionage against national security networks.

Our ability to project power and secure sea lines of communication in the western Pacific is being aggressively challenged. Russia is committing genocide and is committed to invading other countries if it succeeds in Ukraine.

If we are to deter aggression and win should conflict occur, we must have the best technical and military hardware and, more importantly, the best educated, talented, and dedicated Americans to protect, defend the U.S., and, when necessary, destroy our adversaries. This is our purpose, and this is why I continue to serve.

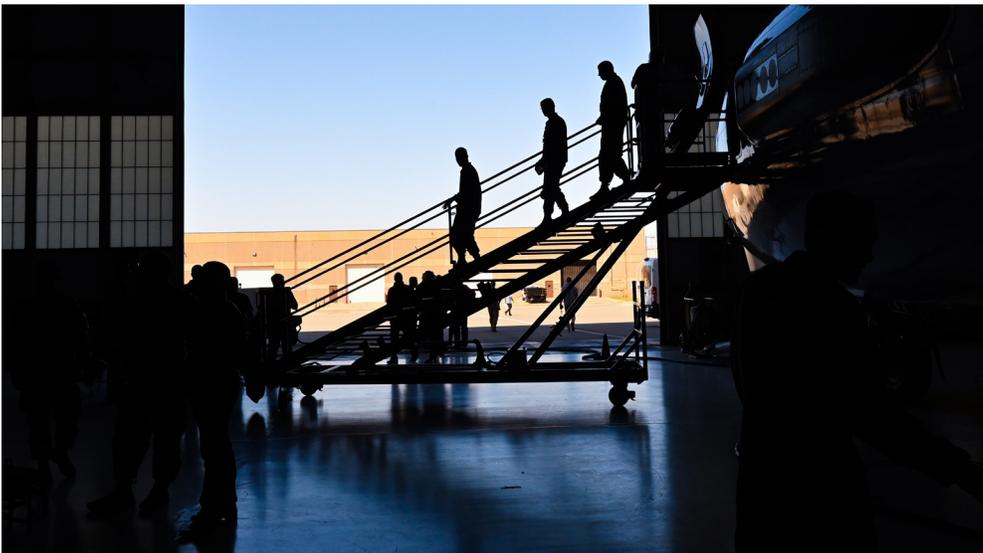

YOU and your families are critical to our national defense. Your leadership team is committed to you and your families as we execute our mission to employ AWACS anywhere, anytime.

So, when you think about your “Why?,” I hope you feel the same sense of pride and accomplishment as I do. You and I are part of the best Air Force in the world, and we are charged with a sacred duty, ensuring our national interests around the globe and, most importantly, protecting all Americans’ freedoms. And the best part of my job is knowing I stand shoulder-to-shoulder with you.

Serving is tough, BUT IT’S WORTH IT!
Push it up!!

507th MXS welcomes new SEL

Master Sgt. Lauren Kelly, 513th Air Control Group Public Affairs

Let's give a warm welcome (back) to Chief Master Sgt. (select) Wiley Warner, our new 513th Maintenance Squadron SEL.

Warner hails from the small town of Montpelier, Louisiana, and began his military career in the U.S. Army as a supply troop in 1999.

In 2012, he made the switch to the U.S. Air Force where he served as C-130 mechanic at the 403rd Wing at Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi.

In 2013, he was assigned to the 513th AMXS and deployed in 2015.

As a civilian, he has worked in the KC-135 post dock in the 564th AMXS here at Tinker.

In 2017, Warner became a first sgt. at Little Rock Air Force Base. Warner then served in the 507th Air Refueling Wing at the MX ISO Dock Coordinator, the Maintenance Flight Chief, and then the 507th Aircraft Maintenance Squadron AMU superintendent.

"I'm very excited to be back in the 513th," Warner said. "The MXS side of the house has good integration with our active-duty counterparts in the 552nd Air Control Wing, but I'm excited to help foster a stronger relationship with them in the future."

Secretary of the Air Force Public Affairs

The Chief of Staff of the Air Force approved several initiatives submitted to the November 2022 Air Force Uniform Board for implementation in Department of the Air Force Instruction 36-2903, Dress and Personal Appearance of United States Air Force and United States Space Force Personnel. Authorized changes are effective April 1, 2023.

This expands the current cold weather accessories to Authorizes olive drab green authorized backpack color: This expands the current regulation to allow olive drab green in addition to black, brown, gray, and dark blue, as an authorized color for backpacks to wear with any uniform combination.

Authorizes any size logo on gym bags:

This expands the current regulation to allow cold weather parkas to be commercially purchased, with certain exceptions. Parkas must be OCP pattern or Coyote Brown and have name tapes, service tape, rank and patches worn in the same authorized configuration.

add a headband in addition to scarves, earmuffs, watch cap and gloves.

Authorizes wear of a total of four badges on the Operational Camouflage Pattern (OCP) uniform above the USAF tape. This expands the current regulation which allows a maximum of two badges to four.

Authorizes the wear of additional headgear for the Flight Duty Uniform (FDU): This expands the current regulation to add OCP patrol cap and tactical OCP cap in addition to the flight cap.

Authorizes a "small logo" on purses and handbags:

The logo must not exceed one inch in diameter. USSF only: When wearing civilian attire or in uniform while carrying a backpack by hand, there are no color or logo restrictions.

Authorizes Friday morale shirts with logo on the front and back:

This expands the current morale shirt regulation by allowing logos to be worn at a larger diameter on the back of the shirt in addition to having a logo on the left side of the chest not to exceed five inches in diameter. Regardless of the logo, the shirt must be coyote brown.

Authorizes the wear of "heritage-like" morale patches on the FDU:

This removes the verbiage from the DAFI limiting current or past official organizational emblem or any variation for the FDU, like the OCPs and two-piece flight duty uniform.
