How ASC's resource management directorate manages billions of dollars

ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Ill. – When it comes to accomplishing U.S. Army Sustainment Command's mission of getting Soldiers what they need, when and where they need it, cash is king. ASC's G8 (Resource Management) directorate's job is to operate within the fiscal environment to adequately resource ASC's missions. (Click to read more)

ASC prepares for Christmas dinner, decorations, and esprit de corps

ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Ill. – With the holiday season now in motion, the Army's traditional Christmas dinner is about to be unleashed as it has for so many years before.

But unlike Santa Claus, who has elves to help him prepare for his annual aerial trek around the world in one night, the Army has no elves to prepare its biggest meal of the year, with Thanksgiving dinner coming in a close second. Perhaps the difference is the difference in spirit between the holidays. (Click to read more)

Redstone Arsenal employee helps stand up new LRC and battalion as AECW deployer

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany – Adrienne Miller lives a pretty normal life. She has a home she shares with her husband of 37 years in a small town not far from Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, and the Logistics Data Analysis Center where she works. And she has a 33-year-old son who is a school principal and lives close by. Everything is pretty normal for her. Except one thing. She's currently deployed to Europe.

National Guard Celebrates 387 years of Being 'Always Ready, Always There'

ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Ill. – The history of citizen-Soldiers fighting and winning wars for the United States began long before it was even a country. Citizen-Soldiers won the War of Independence, and citizen-Soldiers are responsible for every U.S. military victory in war, both before and since the Revolution.

But who were these first citizen-Soldiers? Why were they formed? \(Click to read more\)
