CHIEF OF ARMOR & USAARMS CSM COMMENTS The Armor Force Fundamentals

“Fundamentals” are a specific list of tasks/actions that allow formations to fight effectively. While we may often talk about mastering the fundamentals, we might not always have shared understanding of what these fundamentals are. The Armor Training Standardization Initiative has leveraged the judgment and experience of commanders at echelon to reach consensus on Armor Force Fundamentals that are organized by three categories:

Common Fundamentals – The Daily Dozen. These are twelve actions that units do every day during operations.

The Daily Dozen is common to all unit types and all echelons.

Common Fundamentals – Critical Tactical Tasks. These twelve tasks enable formations to fight effectively. Critical Tactical Tasks are common to all unit types and are applicable to the company, platoon, section, squad echelons.

Formation-Specific Fundamentals. These are the tasks – tailored to specific formation types – that enable good fighting. Formation types include the Tank Platoon, the Scout Platoon, the Tank Company, and the Cavalry Troop.

Here are the Armor Force fundamentals:

So, what might we do with the Armor Force Fundamentals? They should assist commanders in prioritizing training. Commanders might also feature them in their training guidance. Leaders would do well to anchor their training strategies and design on these fundamentals. And for sure, we will publish them in our doctrine. For example, the Armor Force Fundamentals will have a prominent place in the soon-to-be published update of ATP 3-20.15 (Tank Platoon).

Still, and as we discussed in the last Hatch Article, it is what you choose to do that matters most here. As you drive readiness in an environment of high operational tempo and personnel turbulence – with a future lethal battlefield in mind – you can focus on the Armor Force Fundamentals. We challenge you to use your initiative, creativity, and all available time to make your formations better every day. We hope you find the Armor Force Fundamentals to be valuable to your efforts.

Armor Week 2025

The 2025 Gainey Cup competition will be held from 28 April to 1 May 2025 as part of this year's Armor Week. This competition will host Soldiers from across the United States Army as well as international partner forces to test reconnaissance and security skills. The Gainey Cup competition will recognize the Best Scout Squad during an award ceremony to be held on 1 May 2025. Armor Week will culminate with the Armor Ball held at the Columbus Convention and Trade Center on 2 May 2025. Additional information on the Gainey Cup and Armor Ball are available at the links below.

Armor Magazine

Article submissions are needed for ARMOR, the professional development magazine published quarterly by the U.S. Army Amor School. ARMOR provides a forum for Soldiers and leaders to explain, digest, or debate Army and Armor branch doctrine, policy, or other career-related issues and information. ARMOR focuses on Armor and Cavalry Soldiers up to the brigade level, as well as on Army-wide issues that affect Armor and Cavalry formations. Article topics include unclassified subjects such as Armor officer and enlisted Soldier training and lessons learned at the platoon level and above. For additional information on submitting your article, please visit the following link:

<https://www.benning.army.mil/armor/earmor/>.

19U Armor Recruit

Training Accessions Reporting Code (TARC) 19U become effective on 20 December 2024 for Armor Recruit enlistment contracts. New 19U recruits in the Armor branch will be assigned as a 19C, 19D, or 19K based on available Army opportunities assessed upon arrival to Fort Benning for One Station Unit Training (OSUT). There is currently a Tier 4 initial entry enlistment bonus of up to $25,000 for 19U. For additional information, visit the GoArmy website below:
