

Wednesday, May 21, 2025

RIA-JMTC leads the charge in 3D printed drone production

ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Ill. – The future battlefield will be defined by the innovative and widespread use of unmanned aerial systems, and the ability to rapidly produce and deploy these systems at scale will be crucial to maintaining a tactical advantage in future conflicts. Through initiatives like Transforming in Contact, the Army is fielding new technologies and transforming how it develops, tests and integrates those technologies onto the battlefield.

SIAD Fly Away Team deploys under Rapid Removal of Excess

FORT KNOX, Ky. – The 10th Mountain Division at Fort Drum, New York, sanctioned Sierra Army Depot's Fly Away Team to assist in clearing their excess equipment on location to support the Army's Rapid Removal of Excess program.

Related: SIAD supports DEVCOM's Ground Vehicle Systems Center

Fort Knox wins Chief's Award for Installation Excellence

WASHINGTON – Secretary of Defense Pete Hegseth announced the 2025 recipients of the Commander in Chief's Annual Award for Installation Excellence. The Commander in Chief's Annual Award for Installation Excellence recognizes the outstanding and innovative efforts of the people who operate and maintain U.S. military installations. Fort Knox was among the six selectees.

Fort Carson unveils new homes for Soldiers, families

FORT CARSON, Colo. – Maj. Gen. David Doyle, commanding general of 4th Infantry Division and Fort Carson, and other installation leaders came together to celebrate the unveiling of 16 new townhomes during a May 13 ribbon-cutting ceremony. The homes feature open-concept designs, energy-efficient appliances, attached garages, EV charging infrastructure, three- and four-bedroom layouts and an ADA compliant home.

AMC announces Best Squad

FORT NOVOSEL, Ala. – Soldiers from across Army Materiel Command competed May 5-9, to earn AMC's Soldier, Non-Commissioned Officer of the Year and a spot on the AMC Best Squad. The NCO is Sgt. 1st Class Gary Skillestad and the Soldier is Spc. Cedrick Brooks.

Related: Skillestad's skills, endurance earn AMC NCO of the Year honors

Fort Stewart Soldier earns DOD law enforcement award

FORT STEWART, Ga. – Staff Sgt. Brett Figueroa never saw herself as a military police investigator until Command Sgt. Maj. David Astorga, 385th Military Police Battalion command sergeant major, put her up for the Fort Stewart-Hunter Army Airfield MPI non-commissioned officer in charge position. Now, Figueroa is being recognized by Department of Defense law enforcement with the John Awtrey Annual Military Police Officer Award.

FOCUS ON THE FORCE

Picatinny Arsenal receives
Army Community Partnership Award

Fort Carson, Colorado Springs Utilities receive Army partnership award

JBLM wins commuter award

Redstone recognized by TVA for energy savings

Army makes new adjustments to retention rules amid high demand for reenlistment

Global Army audit begins at Fort Belvoir to verify real assets

Sustainment leaders gather to discuss transformation

Warfighter-focused tool strengthens leader development