

Eye On AMC

Wednesday, February 11, 2026

JMC's mission keeps warfighters ready

ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Ill. – Joint Munitions Command plays a critical, often unseen role in sustaining joint warfighters' ability to fight, train and respond. At the heart of that mission is a responsibility that is both fundamental and complex. The safe storage and reliable shipment of ammunition ensures warfighters have what they need at the right place and time.

The 597th Transportation Brigade's milestones

FORT EUSTIS, Va. – As 2025 drew to a close, 597th Transportation Brigade at Joint Base Langley-Eustis, reflected on a year of remarkable achievements. Their "Rapid Support" team continued to lead the way in providing world-class surface deployment and distribution for the joint force, ensuring the efficient global movement of military personnel, equipment and supplies.

CASCOM's data-informed decision-making tools

FORT LEE, Va. – The Combined Arms Support Command and Combat Capabilities Development Command rolled out the Expeditionary Ammunition Site Planning-Software Jan. 30. This application will assist the ammunition community in designing safe tactical ammunition supply points. The software ensures ASPs adhere to all regulatory safety and handling policies and best practices.

Army eyes expansion for medical maintenance

FORT DETRICK, Md. – Army Medical Logistics Command is continuing to boost medical equipment readiness, reduce downtime and increase overall enterprise visibility through its Forward Repair Activity-Medical, or FRA-M, program. Over the first 12 months of operation, technicians at the first FRA-M site completed over 1,600 maintenance service requirements for units on or near Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Freedom Center IV barracks nearing completion

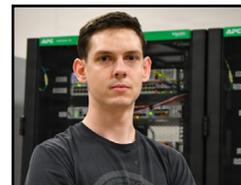

FORT MEADE, Md. – Nearly 380 enlisted service members will soon have new quarters to call home as construction on the Freedom Center IV Barracks nears completion here. Construction on the Freedom Center IV Barracks officially began when leaders here broke ground in November 2023, following years of planning, development and coordination.

AMLC showcases medical readiness

PHOENIX – In the crucial moments between injury and treatment on the battlefield, the reliability of medical equipment is paramount. At the 2025 Department of War Maintenance and Logistics Exhibition, Army Medical Logistics Command offered a look into how it is ensuring every medical device is a lifeline Soldiers can count on. This year's event, drew over 2,300 professionals.

FOCUS ON THE FORCE

ANAD welcomes first Soldier intern through SkillBridge Program

Engineering chief earns honor for installation excellence

Public works improves Soldier quality of life

Fort Stewart Public Affairs team recognized for excellence

NEWS AROUND THE ARMY

Leveraging digital engineering to modernize munition production

Army inaugurates new artillery container facility Indiana

How the Army Reserve advances Transformation in Contact

2026 AER to kick off March 1