

Kevin Farley Press Release

Comedians Kevin Farley and Bret Raybould will be touring with Armed Forces Entertainment (AFE) as part of their AFE Brings the Laughs stand-up comedy series. The tour, which runs from July 15-28, will feature six performances at bases throughout the Western Hemisphere.

Kevin Farley is an actor and comedian with over 100 television and film appearances during his three-decade career, including award-winning shows, like “Curb Your Enthusiasm” and “It’s Always Sunny in Philadelphia.” For the past 11 years, he has been touring the country headlining as a stand-up comedian. He splits his time between New York and Florida with his wife and menagerie of small dogs.

Bret Raybiould is a New York City comedian and writer with an ever-expanding BCU (Bret Cinematic Universe). In 2023, he wrote and starred in the hit off-Broadway show called “Race: The Movie: The Play,” for which he was named Best Actor and won Best Script at the NY Theater Festival. Critics called it “Mel Brooks for the modern era.” He was the co-host of Better Halves, a show on SiriusXM Raw Comedy, along with adult film legend Lisa Ann. He’s released a one-hour special, “Bret Raybould Retires from Comedy,” which garnered tens of millions of views on social media and debuted at #1 on the comedy charts. Currently, he has a film project in development with Dane Cook and Dean Edwards, for a script he co-wrote with his mom.

He’s also launched his own cryptocurrency, BretCoin, making him the World’s First Publicly-Traded Comedian. Bret recently sold an animation pilot to Tubi featuring Ron Funches, Michelle Wolf, and Dan Soder.
